Take a tour of the local Family History Center. CALL the Center to arrange for a tour. This can be an "informational" tour to learn about the Center and the resources that are available, or it can be a "working" tour where you actually go to work on your family history. Perhaps this could be called "A Family History Date Night" and the group could return to the church for refreshments.

Questions/Answers

Question: In the Sept. 24 issue I read that Lynda Garn taught how to trace priesthood lineage and type it in so the youth could pass it on to any one he ordained in the future. I was very interested in that, can you tell me how to do that?

Answer: Be careful to trace the priesthood authority line of the person who ordained the youth, and the person who ordained him, and so on back, using the office he held at the time of the ordination (which is not always his current office). When you have traced the priesthood lineage to a General Authority see: "General Authorities' Priesthood Line of Authority" Deseret News 1976 Church Almanac. Salt Lake City: Deseret News, 1976. (FHL book 289.305 D457) See page B51 to B54 for General Authorities ordained before 1976. This table shows all General Authorities up to 1976 and who ordained them. Use it to help trace a priesthood lineage back to Jesus Christ. For the line of authority of an Apostle ordained after 1976, see the current edition of the Church Almanac. For more details and help tracing back to a General Authority, click here or pick up a copy of the Tracing LDS Families research guide at the Family History Center and study the section on Priesthood Line of Authority.
