Introduction to Chapter 2

Descendants of FERDINAND HUBLEY
1761-1833

By James A. Hubley

I am a 7th generation Hubley and a direct descendant of Ulrich through his son Ferdinand and Anna Weinacht. My father was Frank Robert Hubley and my grandfather was Lewis Clarence Hubley. That was as much as I knew about my Hubley family roots. The only memory I had as a child was a very long trip we made by car around 1955 to New Germany in Lunenburg County to visit some relatives. Except for my close aunts, uncles and cousins around Halifax, I never really knew any other family.

My real interest in my family tree started when I retired in 2001 and had time to do the research. Growing up in Nova Scotia as a child I didn’t know that all the Hubleys were related. That fact was one huge surprise and started me on my journey to learn more about my entire family tree. At that time, I was living in Nanaimo, BC where I began the search for my family roots and it made me realize how much I missed being “down home” in Nova Scotia. After a trip to Nova Scotia to do research in 2002, my wife Marleen and I made the decision to move back to our native province.

Sometime in the 1970’s I had received a letter from a Paul Hubley who lived in California, USA requesting family information. After a couple of letters over many months nothing really connected us as related and we stopped communicating. In 2001 the computer age made family research much easier using e-mail and the internet. In 2003 I was in Lunenburg for the 250th Anniversary of the founding of Lunenburg and had a chance to meet many Hubley cousins also doing research. From that experience I have made contact and friendships with descendants from all the family lines of Ulrich Hubley.

Thanks to Robert C. Crowther’s book I, along with other cousins, had a very good starting point. The following is a continuation of Robert’s research, my own and that of many others who have contributed along the way. By no means is it a complete history or without errors. That is the joy of doing family history, finding new facts, correcting past errors and having a feeling that you now have connected and know something about a family member whom you have never met.

Appendix 2 contains extracts from "The Diary of Joseph Dimock" that tell first hand accounts of the Hubley Brothers involvement in establishing the Northwest United Baptist Church.

Appendix 3 contains a document prepared by the parishioners on the occasion of the 185th birthday of the founding of the church entitled "Celebrating Our Faith and Our Christian Heritage in Praise and Thanksgiving, North West United Baptist Church, 1809 – 1994”.

The following extracts have been taken from Appendix 2.

Ferdinand Hubley and his brother Jacob were the first seedlings of the Baptist Church in Lunenburg, according to The Diary of Joseph Dimock, page 160. Their initial encounters with the Baptist faith are described on pages 157-160. That text also tells us that Ferdinand was a relatively well educated man (pages 157-158), and was a Cordwainer at the time (page 160).

The Diary also gives some insight into the longevity of Ferdinand by mentioning "the Hublies 4 brothers" involved in the formation of the Baptist Church at Lunenburg, which was formalized on 3 November 1809 (page 169). Ferdinand was certainly one of the 4 brothers, because one of the original five, John Michael is believed to have died much earlier. The record also includes Ferdinand Hubley as the first Clerk of the Church (that could only have been either Ferdinand or his namesake nephew who was then age 25)

Earlier in the diary, Joseph Dimock wrote "I think about July 1793 two brothers By the Name of Hubly came over to Chester the Eldest of them well Read in the Bible & much better Education than was common for the country people in general among the Germans both reading & writing mostly German but could still understand English pretty well & read it & write it a little" (this quote includes original errors in spelling and grammar). The diary shows that Ferdinand was active in the church formation, from about July 1793 until at least 1809.

Many reports of the death of Ferdinand Hubley indicate 23 June 1833, and this is confirmed by his Will dated 1 January 1832 and proved 15 July 1833. His Will also establishes his parentage by mentioning his brother George, thus eliminating confusion with his namesake nephew Ferdinand who had no known brother with that name. Even an unconfirmed report that the nephew had a brother named George Ferdinand doesn't conflict because the brother George, who was named as an executor of the Will, later signed his name very clearly as George B. Hubly in a request to be excused from that duty (and that signature is clearly written by the same hand as is on his own Will dates 8 June 1847).

Ferdinand's Will also names his wife Catherine, sons Jonas and Benjamin, daughters Lucy and Hannah, and stepson Christopher Corkum. None of his children by Salome were mentioned, but that doesn't appear unusual in that they were all much older and living independently well before 1832.

Mention of stepson Christopher Corkum, coupled with the lack of mention of any other stepsons, serves to identify his last wife as Anna Catherine Weinacht who first married John Peter Gorkum. She then had John Christopher amid four daughters, but no other sons.

The only other widow Corkum then available was Anna Catherine Barbara Mossman who married John Christopher Adam Gorkum. She also had a son John Christopher, but he was among four other sons (two older and two younger) in addition to her five daughters. If she had been the Catherine in Ferdinand's Will, he would surely have mentioned additional stepsons. Thus the lack of mention of any additional stepsons indicates that she was not Ferdinand last wife.

It is, however, possible that Anna Catherine Barbara Mossman did marry Ferdinand earlier, as evidenced by a record of the Dutch Reform Church at Lunenburg wherein Ferdinand Hubley, widower, and Catherine Barbara Corkum, widow, married 15 Jul 1806. Support for this possibility lies in the fact that the only other available Ferdinand (his namesake Nephew), then age 22, was not a widower at the time, and the widow was surely too old for him, by at least 22 years. This additional marriage is reasonable with respect to one report of 1804 for the death of Ferdinand's first wife Salome, even though it seems contradicted by the generally accepted transcription of 1809 for her gravestone.

Investigators differ as to whether Ferdinand ever re-married. But the record of his second marriage can not be confused with his namesake nephew. And the children named in his Will serve to clearly identify the wife he married in 1815.
It is also nearly certain that Catherine's namesake daughter, by her first marriage, must have been the first wife of Ferdinand's namesake nephew, even though no written record of their marriage is yet at hand. These two marriages could have occurred at the same time, or the younger couple may have married soon after.

Notes taken by Earle Alexander Hubley from Canon E.A. Harris' Notes On Lunenburg Families:

Ferdinand, of John Ulrich married Salome Burn (?) or Born in 1782 died 1804 age 47.

Children:
- Elizabeth b. 1783
- John Ferdinand b. 1787, d. 1787
- Margaret Elizabeth b. 1792

Ferdinand, of Jacob, of John Ulrich b. 1784 m. 1806 to Anna Catherine Barbara Gorkum and married Catherine Corkum, a widow, in 1815.

Child
- Ann Mary b. 1808

But the elder Ferdinand's Will proves that it was he (not his namesake nephew) who married Catherine Corkum in 1815. However, this notation by Canon Harris, as well as the above mentioned church record of a marriage in 1806, may both be correct because Anna Catherine Barbara (Mossman) Gorkum gave her name to a daughter who was available at age 16 to marry the younger Ferdinand at that time. The daughter Ann Mary could have been born to either couple, but odds seem to favor the nephew and his wife.

Cannon Harris' notes are often very helpful, but generally require independent verification because errors, confusion, and omissions are fairly common.

Notes for MAGDALENA SALOME RAFUSE:

Available records provide a clear and convincing account of most of the major events in the life of Magdalene Salome Rafuse.

Her father's will, written May 12, 1786 states that she was wife to Ferdinand Hubley. In agreement with this is their record of marriage at the Dutch Reformed Church at Lunenburg on September 29, 1782 which identified her as the widow Born. That same church also records births for four children by Ferdinand Hubley during 1783 to 1792, wherein she is also recorded as Salome Vogler, the widow Born.

Her marriage on May 21, 1771 to Martin Born is recorded at the same church. It also identifies her as Magdalene Salome Vogler, thus confirming an earlier marriage. Her five children by Martin were born during 1774 to 1780, and his death is recorded as April 17, 1780 age 48, hence born 1731 or 1732.

Births during 1754 to 1766 are recorded for Salome's six brothers, and her sister at St John's Anglican Church in Lunenburg. Absence of her birth record indicates that she was born earlier, that is, 1753 or before. She could not have been born before about 1742, as indicated by both her mother's birth in 1722 and her father's birth in 1721.

Her first husband may have been Henry Vogler, the eldest son of Johann Henry who came to Nova Scotia on the ship Sally in 1752. No record has been found of this marriage; instead, it is only implied in records of later marriages. Two other Voglers also came in the early 1750's, but no record has been found that would indicate that either of them had a son of the right age.

Her earliest possible birth date is about 1750 because her last child in church records was born in 1792, and she may have had one more after that. A somewhat later date is indicated because father John was alone on the 1752 victualling list (victualled from October 30\textsuperscript{th} to December 24\textsuperscript{th}), and on the 1753 list at Halifax, while a family of four appeared on the 1756 victualling list at Lunenburg in 1756, that is: father John, mother Elizabeth, brother Frederick who was born 3 January 03, 1754 and Salome.

Her brother Johannes, who was born December 12, 1755, was not on the 1756 list, probably because he was still suckling at that time. And, Salome could have been missing from the 1752 and 1753 lists for the same reason, hence born about 1751 or 1752. This possibility agrees well with a note by Willa Kaizer (page 1 of her notes) stating that Salome was baptized September 12, 1751.

Her birth in 1751 is reasonable in relation to her marriages to both Ferdinand Hubley (born 1761) and Martin Born (born 1732).

A detailed record of her death could help clear up the question of her birth date. But, unfortunately, the only report now at hand is clearly in error in that her death is given as June 30, 1809, age 47 years 9 months, hence implying her birth was in September 1761. This would agree perfectly with other evidence if it had said age 57 (not 47) years 9 months. Actually it was Ferdinand who was then age 47, and who is also entered as husband in the same record.

Notes for ANNA CATHERINE BARBARA MOSSMAN:
Anna Catharine Barbara Mossman first married John Christopher Adam Corkum on 26 Apr 1780, and had ten children by him. Then, she was later recorded as Catharine Barbara Gorkum (aka Corkum), widow who married Ferdinand Hubley, widower on 15 Jul 1806.

Notes for ANNA CATHARINA WEINACHT:
Anna Catharine Weinacht first married John Peter Corkum on May 01, 1804, and had five children by him. Then she was later recorded as Catharine Weinacht Corkum (widow of Peter Corkum) who married Ferdinand Hubley on March 27, 1815.

Children of ELIZABETH HUBLEY and JEAN JOUDRY are:

i. MARIA CATHERINE JOUDRY, b. March 26, 1801, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN; m. GEORGE FREDERICK EISENHAUER, September 19, 1830; b. December 17, 1796; d. June 10, 1875.

x. THOMAS PETER JOUDRY, b. August 19, 1819, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN; d. December 26, 1895, Sweetland, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN.

3. JOHANN FREDERICK² HUBLEY (FERDINAND¹) was born May 09, 1789 in Lunenburg, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN, and died January 23, 1816 in Chester, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN. He married ANNA MARIA ELIZABETH BORGELT June 07, 1810 in Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN. She was born October 15, 1790 in Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN.

Notes for JOHANN FREDERICK HUBLEY:
Johann Frederick Hubley was a Tavern Keeper at St Margaret's Bay, East Side according to notes taken by Earl Alexander Hubley from records of St Stephen's Anglican Church in Chester, and Canon Harris' Notes.

Much confusion surrounds the parentage of Johann Frederick's children that are shown here. One common assumption has been that they were children of a second marriage of Ferdinand, even though the name Frederick appears in some records.

They have also been ascribed to Frederick's brother Ferdinand. But that is impossible, because he died as an infant.

Thus they are most surely the children of Johann Frederick who has not been shown to have had any other spouse or children, and who was contemporary with them all.

Another point of confusion is that his wife Mary Elizabeth Borgelt is sometimes given as Mary Elizabeth Boutilier. This difference might be an error or might reflect a previous marriage. It is surely an error because she married an entirely different man, Johannes Hubley, son of Jacob.

Still further confusion abounds concerning some children who have been reported variously as children of three entirely different sets of parents: (1) Johannes Hubley (of Ulrich) and Anna Mary Catherine Kaler, (2) Johannes Hubley (of Jacob) and Mary Elizabeth Boutilier, and (3) this Johann Frederick Hubley (of Ferdinand) and Mary Elizabeth Borgelt. At times they appear in one family, at times in another, and occasionally in two families at the same time without explanation! They are now believed to be correctly assigned to their proper parents, based largely on careful inspection of church records. Hence, contrary reports should now be either rejected, or considered with extreme caution.

Notes for ANNA MARIA ELIZABETH BORGELT:
Anna Maria Baergelt is also shown by some researchers as Maria Anna Borgelt.

Marriage notes for JOHANN HUBLEY and ANNA BORGELT:
Frederick's marriage is recorded unnumbered (between #56 and #57) in The Diary Of Joseph Dimock as follows:

John Frederick Hoblie was married to Mary Borgelt both of Lunenburg June 7th 1810 was published three several times by the Rev Reomcas Bruin Comingo  Kt/
(Note that flaws in grammar, spelling and punctuation are as in the original record.)

Children of JOHANN HUBLEY and ANNA BORGELT are:
8. i. JOHN HUBLEY, b. March 18, 1811, in the vicinity of Mahone Bay, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN; d. between 1892 - 1900, probably Blockhouse, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN.
   ii. MARY HUBLEY, b. April 18, 1813, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN.
   iii. CATHERINE HUBLEY, b. December 14, 1815, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN.

Notes for CATHERINE HUBLEY:
This Catherine Hubley may have been the one who was baptized August 29, 1820 at the Northwest Baptist Church, and was discharged September 09, 1832 (Willa Kaizer's notes, page 10).

4. JONAS (JAMES) Hubley (FERDINAND) was born February 23, 1816 in Lunenburg, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN, and died November 17, 1889 in Elgin, Albert Co, NB, CAN. He married MARY JONAH October 21, 1847 in Sussex Vale, Kings Co, NB, CAN. She was born November 17, 1821 in Portage Vale, Kings Co, NB, CAN, and died February 23, 1891 in Boyd Mountain, Albert Co, NB, CAN.

Notes for JONAS (JAMES) HUBLEY:
Bob Hegerich advises that Jonas (James H.) Hubley married Mary Jonah on October 21, 1847 in Sussex Vale, Kings Co, NB. He died November 17, 1889 and was buried in the Old Baptist Cemetery in Elgin, NB. The 1881 Census lists a James Hobley, age 66 and his wife Mary age 60. It would appear the name was spelt incorrectly, as also listed are three younger Hubleys. Jain Hubley, female age 30. Bengamin Hubley, Male age 27. Angeline Hubley, female age 22. It is possible that they are their children. Also listed is an Ida Jonah, female age 14. As Mary Hubley's maiden name was Jonah, it is possible they are related. Also listed are Lucy Joslan, female age 32 and Edith Joslan, female age 5. It is possible this could be a widowed daughter and her daughter of Jonas and Mary.
Notes from James A. Hubley:
Jonas who is known as James in New Brunswick was granted a 100 acres of land in Elgin, Albert Co, NB. New Brunswick registration date: August 09, 1854, Volume 43, page, Grant number 6364.

He was later granted another 100 acres of land in Elgin, Albert Co, NB. New Brunswick registration date: March 28, 1882, Volume: 107, page 0, Grant number 18617.

Following notes are provided by Robert H. Crowther:
Jonas Hubley and James Hubley are believed to be the same person because (1) they were both born on February 23, 1816 as established from primary sources, (2) one of James' family traditions describes his father's three wives in a convincing way, (3) he could have been given both names with Jonas appearing in his birth record and his father's Will, while he chose to use James, (4) no contrary evidence of any kind has yet been discovered, and (5) there is no other record of any James Hubley who could have been born on the same date.

Family notation by Eldon Babcock of Abbotsford, British Columbia:
James Hubley is believed to have come from Nova Scotia but the exact location or the direct line to early Hubley's has not yet been established. He received a grant of land at Boyd Mountain, Albert Co, NB near Elgin, probably about 1840-1845. The house foundation can still be seen today (1980's), although it is now in wooded territory. Directions: Turn up the Boyd Mountain Road at Elgin, continue past the microwave tower until the road takes a sharp turn to the left and downhill. Do not take this turn, but continue on the old trail for a short distance and look for a grove or row of cedars and many old apple trees in the woods. The old basement is hidden in a cedar thicket. This was the homestead with outbuildings and the orchards planted by James.

Mary (Hubley) Jonah came from Portage, Albert Co and is believed to be a daughter of George Jonah who is buried in the United Baptist Cemetery at Portage Vale (b 1785 d 1871). Her mother may have been Margaret (b 1795 d 1881) who is buried near George but has a separate stone and neither George nor Margaret's stones are cross-referenced to each other. Mary may also have been a sister of H. Nelson Jonah (b 1825 d 1903) also buried nearby and a sister of Maggie A. (Jonah) Crowell (b 1841 d 1897) whose names are both engraved on the stone of Margaret Jonah.

James Hubley and Mary (Jonah) Hubley are buried in the old cemetery at Elgin, Albert Co, NB.

Family tradition relayed by Shirley Hubley Kenney of Winthrop, Maine on September 21, 2000:
Ben [Shirley's brother] has talked with my father's half brother [that would be either Wilford Guy, Roy Constantine, or James Dimmock Hubley] (years ago) about the family records - he told Ben that Hubley's including James' father had settled in the area of Shepardy [sic, Shepody?] & Hillsborough for a time - probably some stayed there, and James had land near Elgin given to him so he came alone from the Shepardy [spelling?] area - also Ben was told that James' father was married three times, once to a French lady.

Burial: 1889, Old Baptist Cemetery, Elgin, NB, CAN

Notes for MARY JONAH:
Mary (Hubley) Jonah came from Portage Vale, Albert Co, New Brunswick and is believed to be the daughter of George Jonah and Margaret (Jonah)? who are buried in the United Baptist Cemetery at Portage Vale. They have separate stones and neither is cross-referenced to each other. His states he was born 1785 and died 1871. Hers says she was born 1795 and died 1881. Mary may also have had a sister
H. Nelson Jonah, born 1825 and died 1903. (The Nelson in Benjamin Nelson Hubley, son of Mary and James (Jonas) Hubley may be named after her. My suggestion, - James A. Hubley). She also may have had a sister Maggie A. (Jonah) Cromwell born 1841 and died 1897. Both names are on the stone of Margaret Jonah. James (Jonas) and Mary Hubley are buried in the old cemetery at Elgin, Albert Co, NB.

   Notes for JANE (JAIN) HUBLEY:
   Jane (Jain) (Hubley) Valentine and her husband John Valentine are believed to have lived for some years in Providence, RI, where they ran an upholstery shop. After John's death, she moved back to New Brunswick, where she operated a bake shop in Sussex and later in Saint John, NB. Her burial is unknown at this time. It is believed they had no children.

On the birth register in 1865 for his son Reuben, Benjamin's occupation is listed as miller. (James A. Hubley, March 2007)

On the birth register in 1870 for his son Joshua, Benjamin's occupation is listed as laborer. (James A. Hubley, March 2007)

Marriage notes for BENJAMIN HUBLEY and LAVINIA LOHNES:
In the Birth Register for Lunenburg Co for their son Reuben born in 1866, Benjamin and Lavinia are listed as being married on March 31, 1864. Then on the Birth Register for their son Joshua born in 1870, and Caleb (George C.) born in 1868 they are listed as being married on March 30, 1861. I have gone with the earlier date based the birth records of the two sons and on the fact that they had a daughter Sarah born about 1863 based on her age of 23 in 1886 when she married. (James A. Hubley, March 2007)

Notes for JAMES M. HUBLEY:
In 1886, a James M. HUBLEY born NS, s/o Benjamin and Elizabeth Hubley marries Annie Lawrence in Chelsea, MA and they reside in Chelsea until he apparently dies in 1904. We also know that the 1880 and 1900 Census of Boston has his mother's place of birth as Scotland.

However, we also know that the William Benjamin HUBLEY b. 1850 who marries Maria NORCROSS lives in Athol, MA in the 1900 Census. But the 1892 City Directory for Chelsea, MA, where James and wife Annie are known to reside, not only has a James M. HUBLEY but, for the same address has this entry "William HUBLEY, moved to Athol, MA".

Given that James' father is known to be named Benjamin and given that he has been living with a known son of Benjamin 1819, in 1891-1892, I believe that we can confidently place James M. HUBLEY in the family of Benjamin 1819. [Bob Hegerich]

8. JOHN\(^3\) HUBLEY (JOHANN FREDERICK\(^2\), FERDINAND\(^1\)) was born March 18, 1811 in the vicinity of Mahone Bay, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN\(^{65}\), and died between 1892 and 1900 probably in Blockhouse, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN. He married (1) ELIZABETH MADER December 07, 1839 in Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN\(^{66}\). She was born October 05, 1819, and died June 14, 1847. He married (2) AUGUSTA HORN November 28, 1867 in Blockhouse, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN\(^{67}\). She was born between January 03, 1826 and 1830 in Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN\(^{68}\), and died after 1901 in probably Blockhouse, Lunenburg Co, NS, CAN.

Notes for JOHN HUBLEY:
John Hubley, who was born 18 Mar 1811 is believed to be the same person as John Hubley who was enumerated at age 59 at Mahone Bay in 1871 and at age 70 at Block House in 1881 with wife Augusta. Thus the birth of the former and marriage of the latter are presented here as for one person.

John, b. 1811 was a Baptist, while John Hubley, son of Jacob and Anna Barbara (Hirtle) Hubley, born 1817 was Presbyterian / Dutch Reformed. Some researchers have the first John Hubley as the husband of Elizabeth Mader. Elizabeth Mader on the other hand, is Presbyterian / Dutch Reformed, yet she marries in a Baptist ceremony. A quick check of a few of her siblings shows that they did not marry as Baptists, so the family didn't become Baptist. This seems to indicate that she married a Baptist. Also, we know that she dies as a Baptist in 1847.

There is no doubt that it is John b.1811 who m. Augusta Horn since that "56" in the marriage record for John and Augusta exactly matches his age, as does the age of Augusta's husband in the 1881 Census. On top of that, his sister Catherine is living with John and Augusta in 1881.
So here we have John born 1811 who is a widower when he marries Augusta, and whom we know survives long enough to have married both women. On the other hand we don't know that about John b. 1817.

In addition Elizabeth Mader's daughter Sarah Ann is listed as a Baptist according to Don Shankle's data.

The bottom line is that given all the circumstantial evidence, I would at this time put John b. 1811 as the husband of Elizabeth Mader, but it's by no means a safe bet.

Augusta Hubley was widowed before 1901 and then became a Housekeeper for Edmund Jodrey at Blockhouse in Lunenburg Co.

Benjamin Nelson Hubley was born in Boyd Mountain, Albert Co, NB and lived with his parents, James (Jonas) and Mary (Jonah) Hubley. He continued to live with his mother after his father died in 1889 and after his first marriage in about 1897.
His mother died in 1891 and his second wife Anne (Shaffer) Hubley died in 1894. He married his third wife Bertha (Geldart) Hubley in 1897 and then abandoned the homestead and moved a short distance away to Hubley Mountain (or Hill). The field is now owned by Talmadge DeMille of Goshen Corner.

Notes for MRS. BENJAMIN NELSON (HUBLEY)?:
No record has been found for an early marriage of Benjamin Hubley. However, one is arbitrarily assumed in order to accommodate the birth of Alice Hubley in New Brunswick on April 28, 1882, as per the 1901 census of Halifax, Nova Scotia. (Robert H. Crowther)

I don't think that Benjamin was married more than twice. Yes, the 1901 census states Alice was born in NB, however; that could be an error on the part of Alice or the census taker. If she was born in Malagash, Cumberland Co as per Shirley (Hubley) Kenney, she wouldn't be related to Benjamin. There is no record of him ever living in that area. Also it is unlikely she would have been sent to Halifax from NB to work as a domestic. This will require much more research to solve who Alice really was and who her parents were. (James A. Hubley)

Notes for ALICE HUBLEY:
No parents have been proven for this Alice Huble who was born in New Brunswick on 28 April 1884. The only known possibility for her father is Benjamin Huble who was born there, and whose first known marriage took place in 1889, but who may possibly have also married earlier during 1874 to 1883.

She may also be the Alice Huble who has been reported by Shirley Huble Kenney as born about 1884 at Malagash in Cumberland Co, Nova Scotia (not far from New Brunswick) who married Archibald Huble about 1903 in Malagash. The only known Archibald Huble who might have married her was born 1873 to James William Huble and Sarah N. Naas in Lunenburg, Lunenburg Co, NS.

Notes for GEORGE C. HUBLEY:
IN THE CO OF LUNENBURG 1867 & 8 BIRTHS REGISTERED:
No. 590, Caleb Hubley, M, 25 August 1868, Benjamin Hubley / Lavinia Lohnas 30 March 1861, L. Hubley, 7 October 1868, W. Chestey
On the Marriage Slip, George and his father are both listed as Farmers. For a copy of the original marriage slip see Appendix VII – Marriage Slip for George C. Hubley and Abigail Ramey.

George C. Hubley was born August 25, 1868 according to Lunenburg Co Records and is listed as Caleb Hubley. When his name changed to "George Clarence" is unknown, but in 1886 he was listed on his sister's marriage record as a witness under this name. The 1901 census shows him as George C. and records his birth date as August 23, 1867. (It is possible he didn't remember his correct birth date. My comment - James A. Hubley) He is also listed on the census as a lumberman.

George C. Hubley moved with his family to Halifax, Nova Scotia. He and his wife Sadie at one time ran a corner store and he also worked for the City of Halifax. His job was to walk the streets each day with a large wrench and check the fire hydrants throughout the city. His grandson Aubrey remembered seeing him as a child on his rounds.

Source: Aubrey Wilfred Hubley as told to nephew James A. Hubley, July 2002.

It is rumored within the family that George remarried after the death of Sadie to a woman half his age. No record of such a marriage has been found to date, but it does add a bit of spice to his life. (James A. Hubley, great grandson, Oct. 2005)

Notes for SARAH "SADIE" ABIGAIL RAMEY:
After researching my great, great grandmother Sadie, I have not been able to pin down her correct age. I have her born May 14, 1866. On her grave stone at Camp Hill Cemetery, Halifax, NS, her age is recorded as 66 when she died in 1935. On her death certificate, her birth date is given as May 14, 1868. I have accepted this date. The marriage slip from the Nova Scotia Archives records that she was twenty four and her husband was twenty on their wedding day May 26, 1888. If that is true than she was born about 1864, which would have made her about seventy one when she died in 1935. On the marriage certificate she used her middle name Abigail when she signed. Sadie must have come into use later in her life. The wedding took place in the Baptist Church in Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, and the Officiating Clergyman was C.R.B. Dodge.

The death register gave the cause of death as cerebral hemorrhage and contributory factor, arterial sclerosis, or "hardening of the arteries". (James A. Hubley, April 2007)

The funeral will be held from her late residence, 64 Windsor Street, at a time to be announced later. Rev. George Gardiner will officiate

WEDDING:
Knox – Hubley, 1947
A quiet wedding was solemnized at the United Parsonage, New Germany, on April 4th, by the Rev. S.G. MacQueen, when Marjorie Edith, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rueben C. Hubley, of Kingston, Ontario, formerly of Halifax, was united in marriage to Norman Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Knox of New Germany.

The bride was attired in a green wool street length dress with brown accessories to match. She was attended by Miss Arleen Knox, sister of the groom. She wore a green wool suit with accessories to match. The groom was supported by Bruce Mader. After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served at the home of the groom. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Reuben C. Hubley and her daughter, Mrs. James Cuthbertson, Kingston, Ontario.

KNOX
Marjorie Edith, 1918-1969

That poor woman had one interesting life. Nelson Knox drank alcohol of any sort. He worked hard but had no clues. He used to borrow money from my father swearing it was for his family. He used to come to our house to visit, as people did years ago. He could smoke an unfiltered cigarette down to nothing. I used to watch to see if he would burn his fingers but he never did burn the yellowed tips.

They had two daughters:
Peggy who married Gordon Maloney
Gail Starr who married Max Corkum
Gail was born November 8, 1950.

Notes for NELSON KNOX:
Nelson Knox died March 6, 1982, and I am quite sure he was struck by a car while drunk in Halifax. It is likely the welfare had to bury him. He is not buried here.

Louis G. Hubley, a conductor and operator with the Nova Scotia Light and Power Company, Limited for 34 years, was honored yesterday on Louis G. Hubley, who has retired after serving with the Transit Department of Nova Scotia Light and Power Company, Limited, for 34 years, was honored by the firm and his fellow employees yesterday. In a brief ceremony at the Trolley Coach Terminal, Mr. Hubley was presented with a gift by Norman T. Smith, general manager of the company, on behalf of the Board of Directors. Mr. Hubley joined the staff of Nova Scotia Light and Power Company after his return home from overseas in 1919. At first he was a conductor on the old two-man cars and when the Birney trams were introduced in June of 1920, he became an operator. In 1949 he started driving a trolley coach, so that he has served the transit system of Halifax in three different types of vehicles. Born in Bridgewater in 1886, Mr. Hubley worked at various types of jobs - including hotel porter, truck driver, horse and team driver and merchant seaman. Finally he set up a bicycle repair shop in Halifax and remained in this business until he joined the Royal Canadian Artillery in 1914. Mr. Hubley was married in 1910 and is the father of six sons and three daughters. He is an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman. One of the best known operators Mr. Hubley is well-known to thousands of Haligonians who ride the trolley coaches. In paying tribute to Mr. Hubley yesterday, L. Currie Young, Superintendent of the Transit department said, "he is a thorough gentleman, loyal and faithful with others and a great booster for the N. S. Light and Power Company. During the many years that he has served the City of Halifax he has endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact, and the present high stand which we hold in the transit industry in this country is due in great part of gentlemen of his calibre.

The above newspaper article has his middle initial as "G." while in fact it was "C." for Clarence. Also his first name is spelled "Louis" but should be spelled "Lewis" as on his gravestone. Spelling his first name "Louis" may have come from his wife who was Acadian and may have used the French spelling.

Cecilia can trace her roots back to the first settlement of Port Royal, Annapolis Co, Nova Scotia. She is a direct descendant of Etienne Robichaux_Robicheau who came from La Chaussee, Poitou, Martaize, France in 1600's.

On the 1911 census Cecelia and her daughter Lillian Cecelia Hubley were living with her parents in Chezzetcook, Halifax Co, NS. It is possible that he was away at sea, as he was listed as being a merchant seaman at one time, in a newspaper story upon his retirement from Transit Department of Nova Scotia Light and Power Company, Limited.

(James A. Hubley)

One story I remember about my grandmother was in the early 1970's when she came to my home in Upper Tantallon for the first time. When she thought no one was watching she ran her finger along the top of a book shelf checking for dust. Marleen still smiles about this, because finding none meant that she passed my grandmothers test and was a good wife. The other thing that stands out was that she was hard of hearing and always asked for you to speak up. But if you whispered something you didn't want her to hear she never missed a word.

Notes for Aubrey Wilfred Hubbley:

WARTIME LOVE LETTERS FOUND.

We stare uncertainly into the shoe box. "You go first," I urge. Reluctantly, Yvette Swyer reaches in, removes one of the old envelopes and opens it. I do the same, pushing from my mind the fact that what we're embarked upon here is a blatant invasion of privacy. What we're about to sift through is a small mountain of love letters, written by three people, more than six decades ago. Unbeknownst to Yvette and her husband, Harold, the cache has lain hidden for years in the walls of their cozy home on Windsor Street in Halifax. It came to light this summer while the retirees were having their kitchen renovated. One morning, as a carpenter was making a hole in the wall, the letters came spilling out. Yvette remembers the moment. "If it's money, it's mine!" she exclaimed at the time. But it wasn't money, it was the hopes and dreams of three young people from the early years of the Second World War. There's someone named Edgar Walsh, serving with the RCAF in Dunnville, Ont. There's Howard Murdock, posted to HMCS Raccoon, a naval base in Gaspé, Que. And then there's the object of their affections, a young Halifax woman named Agnes Hubley (or "Nan", as both men call her). There are almost five dozen brittle letters, many still in their original envelopes. Yvette believes they were put in the attic for safekeeping but, somehow slipped down between the walls. "It was exciting," she says. But once that faded, the reality set in for her. "What was I going to do with them?" Harold had had a succinct suggestion: "Burn them!" Yvette couldn't do that. She felt obliged to return the letters to Agnes—but how? For one thing, there was no listing for any of them in the phone book. For another, was Agnes still alive? If she was in her 20s back then, she'd be in her 80s now. Yvette rummages in the box for... another envelope. "Look how dirty they are," she says sneezing. Decades of dust have impregnated everything. As well, some letters sport scorched marks, likely the result of a fire in the house many years ago. In addition to the crackly, old letters, the treasure trove includes postcards and small greeting cards. Most were written between 1939 and 1941 and sent to Agnes at an address on Creighton Street in Halifax. There are also old negatives and photos, including one of a pretty young woman sitting on her stoop, playing the guitar. Can this be Agnes? We stare at it, willing it to speak. "Why would a woman save all these letters?" I wonder aloud. Yvette laughs. "We always do!" she assures me. Harold nods. He tells me he used to be in the merchant navy. "When I was away," he says, "my first wife wrote to me and I'd keep them. I'd read them over and over." Yvette and I continue to open the envelopes. Quite a few of the wartime ones are emblazoned with a red circle containing a white V for victory. Others bear an official stamp announcing that the contents have been passed by the wartime censor. With me nudging on Yvette, we pick through them, reading aloud to each other. In one from Howard, dated 1941, he's telling Agnes about the hardships of life on the naval base in Quebec. "This is a Monday evening," he writes. "It's so lonely here, it's doing my mind." Here's another from him, sent the same year. "I will be speaking French by the time I get home," he notes caustically. And another that same year: "It's awful going to sea all the time."

Initially, Edgar seems to have had the inside track for the affections of Agnes. In 1939, for example, they seem to know each other well enough for him to write, "I would like to meet your mother." But alas, it isn't to be. It becomes obvious to us that it's Howard who has her heart. There's talk of marriage. We keep on reading until we come to one particularly poignant letter. It's from Edgar, dated April 1941. In it, he wishes Agnes well on her wedding day and bids her farewell. It's a sobering moment. Yvette and I exchange glances. Silently, she refolds the letters and starts putting everything back into the box. I leaf through the notes I've been making, deleting all but the most innocuous excerpts. Dear Agnes, I'm sorry we pried. Blame me. Please, if you're still out there, come get your letters. Come reclaim your past.

\textbf{Notes for ERVIN COOK:}
His birth year is based on his age 27 recorded on the Marriage register in 1912. He died between 1938 and 1942 based on May's father Joshua's obituary in 1936 where he is stated as being the husband of May and her brother Percy's obituary in 1942 where it is stated that May is married to Jack Barley. There is some confusion as she is still listed in the obituaries of two brothers who died later. It may be that she reverted back to her first husband's name after the death of her second husband.

\textbf{Notes for PERCY JOSHUA HUBLEY:}
The interesting thing about Percy is that he was like a lot of boys his age during the war of 1914-1918. He wanted to serve his country. Like many he was under age. His attestation papers, on joining the 112th. Battalion C.E.F., dated February 5, 1916 states that his date of birth was February 18, 1897. On his headstone at St. John in the Wilderness his birth date is listed as February 11, 1899. On July 11, 1916 the Medical Officer declared him fit for overseas duty. On July 14, 1916 the Officer of the Commanding Unit approved, inspected him and was satisfied to the correctness of his attestation paper. Percy at the time was 5" 4" tall, weighed 138 pounds, dark complexion, brown eyes and dark hair. He made it through the war like his brother Benjamin, married his wife Isabel and settled in New Germany. He died in 1942 at a very young age 43 in New Germany.

(James A. Hubley)
On the marriage register in 1920 it records his occupation as Barker. On his death certificate it records his death due to Pulmonary Tuberculosis. (James A. Hubley, April 2007)

(James A. Hubley, February 2004)

Notes: I (James A. Hubley) met Ford Hubley my 1st cousin for the first time on December 01, 2004. At the time he was 97 years old. His health was excellent but his memory was starting to fail him at times. He was living with his daughter Maxine Spear outside of St. John, NB. Ford has lived an interesting and varied life. He was born October 06, 1907 in New Germany, Lunenburg Co, Nova Scotia, the son of Stephen Morris and Emma (Tanner) Hubley.

He spent much of his early working years in the Lake George area of New Brunswick working in the woods. He related to me that one job he had was delivering meals to the workers in woods. He also spent a time working on a potato farm in the State of Maine and for a time worked in a restaurant in Boston. At one time he also owned a Fina Gas Station in Lunenburg Co. For many years he worked in the Shipyards in Halifax and when that ended he moved on to the Halifax Dockyards where he finished out his working years. He retired in 1972 from after years of staying in Halifax and going home to Lunenburg on weekends to be with his family.

One story he told me was about the night that his father's home in New Brunswick was set on fire by a drunken man around midnight. He remembers getting out in his underwear and going down into the swamp. They had to return to the house to get his brother Morris out because he went back to sleep. His father was able to save his barbering tools from his shop, but little from the house. He thinks it was after this that the family returned to New Germany. He said that his father was a barber, harness maker and shoe cobbler.
