A summer weekend in the hills of west Georgia! What could be better? Well, maybe a full week of vacationing coupled with the Fulgham-Fulghum Family Reunion at Callaway Gardens on the weekend of June 20-22. Registration forms are in this newsletter.

Callaway Gardens is a beautiful destination for family-friendly recreation and relaxation. There is something interesting to see and do for all ages in the Gardens and in the surrounding area. You will not want to miss the horticulture, the Birds of Prey show, the Cecil Day Butterfly Center, and the Discovery Center. The younger folks will like the zip lines through the pines, boating, and the beach activities on the lake. The Little White House and Warm Springs also are must-see locations and are close to the Gardens.

Our "headquarters" will be in Mountain Creek Inn, but larger family units might want to look into Mountain Creek Villas with spacious living and dining areas as well as up to four bedrooms. You can even drive a rented golf cart through a tunnel under the main highway and be on the fairway in minutes.

There is something special about coming together as a family. Certainly, we can keep in touch through Facebook® or Twitter®, but the smiles, the laughter, the touch are missing by means other than personal contact.

There is an anticipation of being with those we love. Sharing together reminds us of our common bond. When we come together, we support one another. Someone is expecting us.

Also, we draw on the strength of others when we are together. And, when we depart, we go back with more hope and with more joy.

I look forward to seeing you at Callaway Gardens.

Woodford.
