Notes

Claimed born in Ohio

Story goes that the 5 children maybe more but the 5 kept intouch, were on a wagon train heading west and it was attacked byIndians and the parents killed (the parents may have been amarrriage of white and Indian) the children were taken in bydifferent families and seperated. They were supposedly too youngto remember who there parents were in later years or where theywere bornDied in Battle of Champion's Hill 1863

Notes

There is a Marriage reference Feb 1874 of a Mary Crandall to a George Cole Feb 1874 but our George would have been 12? so I do not think this was him There is also a div. for Mary E. and George E. June 1875 and a child a dau. of G. E. born 10 Nov.1878 All of the previous info is from St. Joseph Co. IN. newspaper index.1900 Census St. Joseph Co. Indiana Portage township Geo. is 37yrs married for 12 yrs. he lists being born in IN. He listed his occupation as a Machinist, and both his parents being born in Vermont. His mother was still living at this time so did she have an idea of where his father was born or not? The Cole orphan's mystery continues.
