THE GENIE JULY 1980
We missed the majority of you at our Genealogical Congress held in June on the Centenary Campus. Though the attendance was small, it was still a great success. The campus was beautiful and nothing could surpass the love and friendship that materialized during those four days.

One of the examples of the joy and excitement which occurred during the period occurred in Mr. Manry's class between two women who had been attending the same classes. One of the ladies from Jacksonville, Tex. posed a question and brought forth a long pedigree chart of her ancestors in Arkansas. The lady sitting beside her, very excitedly exclaimed "That is my great grandmother", so they found they were working on the same lines. After a short conversation one said to the other that she had been passing her house twice daily for 38 years, never dreaming her relative lived there. "I knew I was supposed to come to this Congress for some reason -- now I know why."

If we did not help any but those two people, our efforts were worthwhile; however, I feel that the majority of those attending did receive benefits from the lectures and associations with others they would not have received otherwise. You, who did not attend, for whatever reason, really were the losers.

Another year has rolled around and it is time for our annual workshop. It will be held Saturday, Aug. 9, 1980 at our regular meeting place, 2617 Corbitt Street. Registration will commence at 8:30 AM with the program starting at 9:00 AM until --. The registration fee will be $8.00 and all persons are requested to bring a covered dish of their own choosing to share in an old fashioned luncheon spread together in the building. Speakers will be Beverly Hathaway and Joyce Wall. They will speak on five southern states, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina and Missouri. A question and answer session will follow for any other southern states on which information is desired. COME AND BRING A FRIEND!!!

For those who are not aware of it, the money donated in 1979 to the Shreve Memorial Library was used to purchase microfilm records. The Early Marriages of Mississippi have been received and are on Soundex. Four rolls of microfilm of letters received by the Office of Indian Affairs 1820-1870 have also been received. Several microfilm rolls of early tax lists from Mississippi, including Territorial lists are on order.

Our main source of revenue, the Open Markets, will be held Oct. 11-12 in the Mall St. Vincent and the South Park Mall. Any help and assistance on your part in the form of donations, labor and what-have-you will be greatly appreciated. Committee will be named and will be calling on you - please help!

We the willing, led by the unknowing
Are doing the impossible for the ungrateful
We have done so much for so long with so little
We are now qualified to do anything with nothing.

VEDA THORNHILL
RECORDS OF THE LEWIS FAMILY

The following item was submitted by Veda Lewis Thornhill. These records have been handed down through the family from around 1750. The information was abstracted by a Mrs. B. F. Lewis of Jackson, Mississippi around 1900 from records of her grandparents and great grandparents.

The name of LEWIS is one of the most familiar names in the country, probably next in frequency to Smith, Jones, and Johnson. It is pure Welsh. To this day it is said that one person out of every five inhabitants of Wales is named LEWIS. The beginning of many LEWIS families in this country are on record and a number of clippings are preserved in my LEWIS scrapbook. But so far as this immediate family is concerned, it will begin with a little boy named BENJAMINE LEWIS who was orphaned in Virginia or South Carolina before the Revolution. There were three brothers, one of whom died aged two years and the other two were separated in childhood and never heard of each other again.

The parents of Benjamin Lewis came from Wales to Virginia about 1750. There were three sons. One died at the age of two years and on the early death of his parents, the remaining two brothers were bound out as was the custom in those days and never saw each other again. Benjamin was bound out to a Mrs. Berry. He enlisted in the Continental Army at Kingston, N.C., under Captain Caswell and served at least three years. Clarke's North Carolina Records, page 1106, substantiates this. The statement reads: "Benjamin Lewis enlisted in Evans Co. 10th Regiment North Carolina infantry September 10, 1782.

The particulars about the war record of Benjamin Lewis, together with some other details were had from Cousin Benjamin B. Lewis who had them from his father, Judge Lemuel Lewis, who was a son of the first named Benjamin Lewis.

Just here I am inserting Judge Lemuel Lewis' letter——

Marion County, Miss

Rev. W. B. Lewis

Dear Nephew,

In conformity with your request and my promise, I will try to give you outline of all that I know of our ancestors. I have heard my father say that his father was a Welshman. They lived in South Carolina on Edisto River. My father's parents died when he was a child about two years old. There were two other brothers which were all relations that he knew anything about; all of them were puny, sickly children and bound out and he never saw or heard of his brother any more. He thought it likely he died also. Father was bound to an old Irish lade Mrs. Berry, who treated him pretty rough imposing heavy tasks on him and clothing him very scantily.

So tyrannical was her treatment of him that the neighbors laid a plan to get him away from her. There came a man named John Hill from Nuse River up in North Carolina into the neighborhood on business, who was induced by hearing of his situation to persuade him to leave his old mistress and go home with him and accordingly an arrangement was made and a time set for him to meet Hill and leave. So when the night came, he was told to do his night's task which was to go and feed the horses and then come back and pick out a large basket of cotton which was pulled off in the boll for that purpose. While out to see to the horses he started and met Mr. Hill at the appointed place which was some distance off. He said that he ran away sure enough, for he ran all the way and was frequently frightened at the white sand in the road. Mr. Hill meet him according to promise but had not adjusted his business and was not ready to start home, so he had to lie out a few days for him to get ready. Finally he went home with Hill, riding all the way behind on the same horse bareback three hundred miles and there he was in North Carolina when the war of the Revolution broke out.

He offered to enlist in the service of his country but on account of his sorrey growth and inability to bear arms, he was rejected until a British army or raid came through the country and camped about fourteen miles off and sent word that all who would come in and join them would be paroled. Mr. Hill proposed to him for them to go and take parole but he refused to go with him and went down to Kinston where there was a recruiting officer and again offered his services to Captain Samuel Caswell, an American officer who after hearing his tale how he would not go with his employer and join the British, received him into the army which he served the balance of the war, which I think was over three years. He was in several engagements but the one I have heard him talk the most about was the battle of Eutaw Springs in South Carolina under General Green: the British commander was, I think, Colonel Tarleton. My father came out unhurt but was whispered very close, one bullet passed through his clothes between the legs. I have often heard him relate an incident that occurred in regard to himself in that battle. I think he told it to his children the more to impress upon their minds that it was the best always to speak the truth.

In the time of the action the British retreated and the Americans pursued them I suppose in double quick, and my father being weakly could not keep up with his command, but was winding his way as best he could over the slain when he was halted by some calvary or officer on horse back whom at first he thought belonged to the enemy. They reined their horses up close to him and in fierce tones asked him—"Who are you for my little man?"

He hesitated and thought to himself "If I tell them that I belong to the British and they should be Americans, they will kill me and if I tell them that I am an American and they chance to be British, they will kill me." While he was musing panic struck, one of them raised... his sword and demanded a quick answer: He said that it occurred to him "If I have to die I will die with the truth in my mouth" and he said "I belong to General Green". They then encouraged him and showed him how to overtake and join the army by a higher route.

After the war was over he married Celia Martin, daughter of Highlty Martin of Lenoir County, North Carolina. My mother was two years older than my father. I have heard her say that her father was an Englishman and a weaver by trade. She could read and write a little but my father had no education, never having gone to school a day in his life and being raised as he was in time of war and having no one to care for him and was trained to no business. Yet he was industrious minded and learned to be a tolerable farmer for those days, considering his chances. He had no preparations to mechanical genius only to make his own hoe handles, axe helves, and mauls and gluts. He was an early riser and went to bed early. One of his maxims was "Push your business or your business will push you." He was a close observer of the signs. I remember that his neighbors would consult him about --

He avoided litigation - I never knew him to have a law suit. He had hirelings and would have settlements with them frequently and tell them "that often settings make long friends." It was customary in those days for people to have orchards and make brandy, consequently the old men were some of them in the habit of getting intoxicated occasionally, but fortunately for my father he never contracted the habit of getting drunk. After he became able to live without constant labor, he amused himself occasionally with his gun and dogs and was fond of hunting and killing deer. I have never known him to wear gloves nor use a walking stick, except from some cause he was lame. He was subject to a lameness in one of his ankles after a hard day plowing or walking. He said that it was first caused by heavy marches while in the army, having his knapsack and musket to carry and he quite a weakly man. He was a small man weighing nearly about a hundred and forty. Although he had no religious training and belonged to no church, yet he had a strict regard for moral honesty and tried to impress on the minds of his children the importance of being honest. I have often heard him repeat the adage that "honest is the best policy." He would ask blessing at meals. I well remember the words that he used in saying grace: "Lord, bless us our breakfast" or "Lord bless us and our dinner." He had a strict regard for the Sabbath and would not have any work done on that day unless he considered it work of necessity. He was a close observer of things.

I have heard him say that he conceived the idea that there must be something wrong about working on Sunday from experience: that soon after he commenced in the world there came a Negro to him one Sunday and prevailed on him to hire him to make rails which he did. And the next Sunday the fire broke and burned all the rails that the Negro had made, and as many more. He viewed it as a judgement on him for having work done on the Sabbath and never would do it anymore. Since I have learned Sir Matthew Hale's motto in regard to keeping the Sabbath, I have often thought of my father's notion in regard to same.

"A Sabbath well spent brings a week of content. And strength for the toils for the Morrow; "But a Sabbath profaned whatsoever be gained, Is a certain forerunner of sorrow."

All that he knew he learned from experience and observations. In lecturing his children he always tried to impress on their minds the importance of being honest and industrious. I have heard him say to his neighbors that he would rather see his servants idle than his children for the reason that his children would soon be beyond his control and if they were not learned to work while under him he could not force them to do it after they were grown. While his servants were still in his employ and power, but I could not understand the philosophy of his reasoning then as now. He did not like to see his children idle unless they were looking in a book; in that case he would let them rest if he could. He raised six children five sons and one daughter and strove hard to give them a little schooling and succeeded to have them all learn to read, write and cypher some. Three months at a time was about as much as we could get to go to one school as he was compelled to have the labor of his children to help make a support. If every day that I ever went to school were counted, the whole would not exceed eighteen months and yet I fared as well in that respect as any of the others, for we all went to school as much as he was able to send us. His discipline in family government was tolerably strict, did not use the rod often, but when he did he made it count. I have been told by his neighbors that he was harder on his first children than he was on the last ones, which I believe is a common thing. He was nearly always opposed to our going home with other children from school of evenings - did not think it prudent to let children visit much except on business.

He thought a good deal of his older brother soldiers, as he sometimes called the men who served in the war with him. I remember seeing some of them at his house who would visit him occasionally when I was a little boy. They would sit up late and talk over their ups and downs while in the army, and I would listen attentively while they were talking over the battles of the Revolutionary War as they termed it - after which I would go to bed and sometimes dread of being in a battle myself and perhaps wake in a fright and be glad that it was only a dream.
When I was an infant my father moved from Lenoir County down to Robeson County, N.C. where I had my raising. I was next to the youngest child. Your uncle William Bryant was four years younger than me. I have heard my father say that he had no relations living that he knew about except his children. My mother had some brothers and sisters on the Nuse River where we came from whom I never knew a great deal about, though I have seen one of her brothers and some of her sisters. My mother was a weakly suffering woman, was afflicted with a severe cough ever since I can remember. She was a tender and affectionate mother, a member of the Baptist Church, though liberal and charitable in her feelings toward all denominations. I have often heard her say that it mattered not what church so the heart was right. I am sorry that I know so little about our ancestors. I have not seen my father since I was about fifteen years old. I was away from home at the time of his death. I never can forget that he told me "Farewell - be a good child." He died November 1821 aged about fifty-seven. My mother died about a year after aged sixty.

Your affectionate Uncle,
LEMUEL LEWIS

Your own father wrote this story for the Sunday School paper years ago, changing the names somewhat.

"After the war was over Benjamin Lewis married in Lenoir County, N.C., Celia Martin, daughter of Highty Martin. Celia Martin was born 1762 and died 1822. The names of Martin and Celia have persisted in the family through all these years.

Benjamin Lewis married Celia Martin and had issue---
(1) Martin Lewis - buried near Columbia, Miss.
(2) James Lewis -- buried in Marion County. Had two children, one a Methodist minister named Alexander Lewis.
(3) Quinea Lewis -- born May 28, 1794 -- died January 13, 1881
(4) Rarity Lewis-- Married 1st Barfield, 2nd Dunn had no children
(5) Lemuel Lewis--married Mary Williams 1st, and 2nd Mary Winborn; died in Marion County aged 84
(6) William Bryant--married Tilitha Turnage--Died 1857--Buried at Holmesville, Miss.

There is but meagre data concerning some of the above named. Martin Lewis was the father of eighteen children. One daughter Levisa married Cullen Conerly of Pike County. One son was named Jabez who married Mary Jane Conerly. After Jabez Lewis' death his widow married Benjamin Lampton. In Conerly's History of Pike County, there is this paragraph:
"Martin Lewis, a brother of Quinea Lewis, came from North Carolina in 1820. His wife's name was Nancy. They first settled on Ten Mile Creek, near Waterhole's Church in Marion County, near the dividing line of Pike. He afterwards moved to Stovall Springs above Columbus where he died in 1857. He and his wife had several sons—Samuel, Josiah, Henry, Barney, Jabez, and Silas. Josiah married a Miss Smith; Henry's wife was Eliza Faulk.

We know little or nothing of James Lewis other than he died in Marion County aged about fifty-six years. He had two children, one of whom a son named Alexander, became a Methodist minister and in early young manhood moved out to Kansas. He was always called "Cousin Sandy."

Quinea Lewis, born May 28, 1794, died Jan. 13, 1881. Married Martha Spier, born October 10, 1801, died January 21, 1875. Here we are on familiar ground. This is Great Grandfather and Great Grandmother Lewis, still familiarly spoken of in Pike County as Uncle Quinea and Aunt Patty Lewis. They are buried in the Holmesville cemetery where in recent years Cousin Stephen Lewis has erected a monument in their memory. Grandfather Lewis has written a sketch of his parents which follows. Also the obituaries written at the time of their deaths is in my Lewis scrapbook.

Quinea Lewis was born in Lenoire County, N.C. May 28, 1794, was married to Martha Spear, September 22, 1816. Emigrated to Mississippi and settled on Pearl River in Marion County in 1820. Removed to Pike County where he now resides. His father was an orphan boy in Virginia when the Revolutionary War broke out. His parents came to this country from Wales, sometime previous to the war and died, leaving two sons, strangers and penniless. During the war Quinea Lewis' father was a soldier in the Federal Army under General Green. The war closed and left him in North Carolina where he married a Miss Martin, raised a large family and died in a good old age. Quinea Lewis was the third child.

"His mother was a worthy member of the Baptist Church and brought him up in that faith, but he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Union Chapel in Marion County, Mississippi under the ministry of Rev. Thos. Griffin, P. E. and Rev. Miles Harper, P. C. in Love Feast at a quarterly meeting on Sunday June 15th 1822.

"He had been for two years praying in secret and seeking religion; had taken up family prayers in the month of March of that year and was converted on the second Sabbath of the following September, alone in the woods at the private prayer late in the afternoon, the whole day having been spent in earnest religious exercises.

THE GENIE JULY 1980 160
"His conversion was sudden and powerful, the woods rang with the loud praises of his enraptured soul - and he has often said that for a time he knew not whether he was on the earth or in the air, and that he actually felt to see if he was on the ground when the first gush of excitement was passing away. His after life has been in keeping with the thoroughness of his conversion - a bright example of Christian piety. He has filled the offices of Trustee, Steward, Class Leader, and Exhorter, faithfully and efficiently.

"In his younger days he was a fine singer and lead the singing always in his own church, and often at protracted and camp meetings.

"He is now 79 years of age and has been a member of the church for 51 years, during which time there never has been the least suspicion nor whisper against his Christian character. Loved and revered by all who know him, he still lingers upon the shores of time, waiting his Master's call, and shedding a halo of light around him.

"I do not think I am partial when I say I have never known a purer man than my father."

(Signed) W. B. LEWIS

Foot note: "Father died at his home near Holmesville, Miss. Jan. 13, 1881. W. B. L.

"Mrs. Martha Lewis was born in Robeson County, N. C., October 10th 1801. Her maiden name was Speir.

"She was married to Quinea Lewis Sept. 22nd 1816 and with him emigrated to Mississippi and settled in Marion County in 1820; and in 1843 removed to Pike County where she still lives.

"She was raised by Baptist parents but in her girlhood became disgusted with inconsistencies of some of their members and turned her attention and her heart towards the Methodist Episcopal Church which she joined with her husband June 15th 1822.

"She had already been converted. The 3rd Sabbath in May of the same year after going eight miles to church and back home again, at private prayer, she found peace in believing.

"She was a woman of decision and firmness - full of emotion, and with force of character. When she became religious her devotion was intense her faith strong and her life uniformly consistent. A good singer, and able in prayer, she was imminently useful in prayer meetings and protracted and camp meetings. She was especially happy in praying for penitents at the alter. Perhaps hundreds have been converted while she was leading the prayers of the congregation."
"She always kept up family prayers in Father's absence and spared no pains mind and body - cheerful and happy, ready at a moment's warning to enter into the rest that remains for the people of God.

"Father and Mother have celebrated the 56th anniversary of their marriage. When they were converted they made three petitions to God which I will mention:

1. That if riches would be hindrance to their piety, they might be withheld from them.
2. That they might both live to raise all their children, and
3. That they might be taken from this world together, that one might not be left to grieve after the other.

"The first and second of these petitions have been answered and the third is likely to be for considering their age and the fact that they are so united in mind and sympathies, one of them could hardly survive the dissolution of the other."

"I have always regarded their union as the best possible example of connubial bliss."

(Signed) W. B. LEWIS

Foot Note - "Mother died at her home near Holmesville, Miss. Jan. 31, 1875."

W. B. LEWIS

The only sister, Raity, was twice married, first to Barfield, second to Dunn. She lived during her second marriage near Terry in Hinds County where she died and is buried. There were no children of either marriage.

Late in life, Uncle Henry married a second time, Mrs. Lou Gibson Langston, who survived him about ten years. Uncle Henry wrote a sketch of his life which is in the library, and many of the items about his family, marriages, births, deaths, etc. are in my scrapbook.

In 1907, Uncle Henry preached his fiftieth anniversary sermon in Galloway Memorial Church in Jackson, during the session of the Annual Conference. It was a happy occasion. His five preacher boys sat with him in the pulpit, and at the close of the sermon they sang, "And The Sun Shall Never Go Down".

At the occasion of his funeral, his body lay in state, and his last rites were held in the same place. Interment was in McComb, Miss. by the side of his first wife, and mother of all his children, Rebecca Ann Tillery Lewis.

The following family statistics pertain to the QUINEA LEWIS family, who is the son of Benjamin Lewis and brother to Martin Lewis.

Dr. John Tillery Lewis - Veteran of Methodist Ministry dies March 8, 1933.

Dr. John Tillery Lewis, super member of the North Mississippi Methodist Conference died at his home near Hazlehurst, Miss. March 8, 1933 at the age of 58 years. Funeral services for the veteran minister will be held at Galloway Memorial Methodist Church with the service in charge of and Dr. John R. Countiss of Grenada, Miss. Rev. Lloyd Decell, pastor of Galloway Church, Jackson, Miss. assisted by Rev. J. W. Felts, W. O. Sadler, and E. S. Lewis.

In addition to serving pastorates at Durant, Clarksdale, Cleveland, Greenville, Aberdeen, Charleston, Winona, Tupelo, Water Valley, and Drew, the Rev. Lewis was also presiding elder of several North Mississippi Conference District. He is survived by his widow and three children: Mrs. Alberta Meadors and John T. and Henry Barton.
John Tillery Lewis, son of Rev. W. P. Lewis, Sr.
Born January 2, 1874 at Holmesville, Miss.
Married April 26, 1901, Miss Alberta Addkinson of Jackson, Miss. To this union was born three children: Alberta, John T. and Henry Barton.
Died March 8, 1933, buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Jackson, Miss.

This heart was overjoyed when during his last illness, his youngest son, Henry Barton, surrendered to call to preach. He lived to hear his son preach for him and later to deliver his beloved congregation at Drew, Miss. his last written message.

Rev. John Tillery Lewis wrote:
I am thinking of mother, a photographic likeness of sweet angelic face is looking into my soul from the mantleboard of my study as I write this tribute to her. For years mother was the inspiration that checked my tendency toward sin and drove me to seek to make myself a worthwhile personality. In the days of youth, when passion runs riot in mind and body, it was thought of her sweet, pure and angelic life that enabled me to resist temptation. Time and again did I as a boy run in on my mother as she was kneeling in prayer in a side room imploring God to keep her children from sin and asking Him to make noble, godly men and women of them. The tempter tried every possible way to draw me into sin, but memory would immediately paint the sweet smiling face of mother on the walls of my recollection, and I do not have the heart to bring a tear to that heavenly face. The fact that I resisted many temptations to which adolescent youth often became addicted must be credited to mother's sweet, holy and godly influence over my life. Through her unselfish life of devotion to God, she inspired five of her sons to give themselves to the work of the ministry. She did not seek directly to influence any one of us to go into the ministry but the holy unconscious influence of her life helped us to make a surrender of our own lives to God to be used by Him in His own way. He led us into the Methodist itinery.

Dr. J. W. Weems wrote to Uncle Henry after Aunt Rebecca's death, and among other good things, Dr. Weems said:

Much of this day has been given to thought of the time spent in your home in the long ago, when Sister Lewis was as a mother to me. It was then that I received the impression of her pure and unselfish Christian life and character that has grown brighter and purer as the experience of years has come over her. Nobly and bravely she has fought the battles of life and her splendid achievements have been such as to make her and many others thankful that she lived in this world, not only in her own home but not a few outside of her home will rise up and call her blessed in that day.
Her son, Osmond, wrote her before she died this: My dear Mother, I love you more and more as I grow older and gain experience in the world. I am almost overwhelmed with the fact of God's great goodness to me in giving me such a mother. I am glad that you and papa taught me that I could be saved only through Christ and that in Him is all life, all light, all joy, and all peace. I thank God manifesting Himself in your life. My faith can never die when I contemplate your life.

Dr. W. B. Murrah wrote: My dear Bro. Lewis, I cannot possibly express in words the deep sympathy I feel for you in the sorrow through which you are now passing. Sister Lewis was, to me, one of the finest types of genuine Christian women.

These are only a few of the many expressions received from friends and brethren after she passed away. Her life was simply beautiful in that it was a life of simple faith and trust with good works. She lived her religion. She was good at home and away from home. Family prayer was observed night and morning, whether the head of the family was at home or not. Her children were never late at Sunday school and church. She saw that they knew their lesson before they left home. She usually greeted her husband with a smile, a kiss, and "God bless you". My earthly home is so dark and lonely now that she is gone. Heaven is so much nearer to me now she is there. How I miss her no human tongue can tell. I shall never be myself again in the "Paradise of God". My brethren do not understand me, my children do not, but God does. He is good, what He does is right, I do not dare to murmer or complain, I wait patiently until my time comes.

W. P. Lewis, Sr.
Vicksburg, Miss
August 26, 1905

Her husband said of her, not only was she a good church worker, she was a faithful good wife; when not convenient for her to accompany me to my appointments, she would spend a time in prayer in her room, praying God to help her husband preach. Then she was one of the best mothers. Her children, through her godly influence and in answer to her faithful, earnest prayer, were all converted in early life. She had a desire to live and see all her children grown, educated and saved from sin. Her prayer was answered. In less than three months after the last one got his diploma from Millsaps College, she passed quietly away. Her funeral was largely attended. There were nineteen preachers present; six took part in the services. The first words uttered by Bro. Burton, who led the service, were these, "No queen ever wore a brighter crown decked with more stars, than Sister Lewis".

THE GENIE JULY 1980 172
April 30, 1934, Jackson, Miss., Mrs. W. B. Lewis died here Sunday, widow of beloved Methodist minister buried at Brookhaven, Miss. Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Lane Lewis, one of the most beloved figures in Miss. Methodism who died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. W. Jones, 605 Broad St., were held Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Brookhaven Methodist Church. Dr. Joseph A. Smith, pastor of Capitol Street Methodist Church and Rev. O. S. Lewis, local pastor, officiated and internment was in Rose Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Lewis was the widow of the Rev. W. B. Lewis, long prominent in the Miss. Methodist Conference. She had attended the Paine College pageant Saturday night, apparently in her accustomed health. Shortly after awaking Sunday morning, she was stricken with a heart attack and passed away within a few minutes. She was a native of Jefferson Co. and was the mother of the late Rev. B. F. Lewis, for many years superintendent of the Methodist Orphange. She was a faithful and devoted church woman, and her life was filled in service for others. Three daughters, Mrs. D. W. Jones, Jackson, Miss., Mrs. Robert Ridgeway, Jackson, Mrs. L. L. Harrell, Norfolk, Va., two sons, Rev. W. W. Lewis, pastor of the Moss Point Methodist Church, Dr. W. Bryant Lewis, who is now in Jackson on leave as a missionary in the African Belgian Congo, two sisters, Mrs. Ida Edwards, Lorman, Miss Anna Jones, Lorman, and one brother, Dr. B. F. Jones, Robert Ridgeway and Frank Slocum.

Mrs. Celia Ann Lewis Alford, daughter of Quinera and Martha Lewis, wife of Warren J. Alford.

Grandma Alford

Another mother is Israel gone, another home is draped in mourning, another voice is hushed forever on earth, and another form once young and buoyant is cold and silent in death and another mound is raised in the cemetery to testify that death reigns over all nations. The victim of the death angel this time, Mrs. Celia Ann Alford, was full ripe in age and with honors and resignation having reached the advanced age in life of 77 years, 2 months and 24 days. Mrs. Alford, better known as "Grandma Alford"; departed this life Jan. 30, 1900 at the residence of her son, Rev. N. E. Alford in Pike Co., Miss., was born in Marion Co., Miss. Nov. 6, 1822. She was the daughter of Quinera and Martha Lewis and married Warren J. Alford about 1840 who died two months and nineteen days before she did. The fruits of this union was five sons and six daughters, nine of whom survive their parents. The deceased had seventy-five grandchildren and forty-two great grandchildren. She was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in early life, of which she lived a consistent member until death, having been as immediate communicant of Holmesville, Miss. Church for several years. Grandma had reached that stage in the Christian life when seemed to be enjoying that sweet peace, that Jesus her blessed Savior spoke of when he said: Peace I leave you, my peace I give unto you. That blessed assurance that cometh alone from God with resignation to His will was hers to possess. Though her suffering was intense during her last illness, yet she bore her afflictions with patience and fortitude. For two or three hours before she died her suffering subsided and she breathed life away peacefully and sweetly as though she had fallen asleep. Her sisters, Mesdames Reagen and Warner, and nearly if not all of her children were with her in her last illness.

She was buried in the family cemetery. Friends, relatives and loved ones weep no more. Grandma has only fallen asleep, that refreshing sleep from which she will awake in the resurrection morn with all yea more than the beauty and strength of youth. Prepare to meet her in that land of bliss and everlasting joy. May the Lord bless and comfort the bereaved in the earnest prayer of her pastor.

Mr. Alford was a member of one of Pike County's most prominent families. He served actively in the Methodist Church for 42 years, being superannuated a number of years ago. THE GENIE JULY 1980
SPJST AND CATHOLIC CEMETERY - Crosby, Texas

Submitted by Linda E. Bowen, 422 Irene, Highlands, Tex 77562

SPJST is the Czech abbreviation of the English translation of "The Slavic Benevolence Order of The State of Texas" and is an insurance company that, at one time, was only for the Czech people, but is now open to anyone.

The cemetery is located on FM RD 1942, 1/2 mi. east of intersection of FM RD 2100 & FM RD 1942. It is divided into three sections, SPJST members, Catholics of Sacred Heart Church, and the Negros of the all-Black parishes of St. Martin de Porres and Holy Family.

The Polish and Czechs were among the first settlers of Crosby, Tex. Czech is still the language spoken in many homes there today. The Sacred Heart Church in Crosby has a Czech Festival each year, featuring a live Polka Band, traditional costumes, homemade Polish dishes, recipes for which were brought over from Poland, Czechoslovakia and Moravia.

The majority of the older Negros from the two all-black parishes are light in color, speak French and are from La. They are very proud of their language and birthplace. St. Martin de Porres was established in 1936 and Holy Family in 1944.

QUAKERS IN NEWBERRY, S. C.

A Quaker settlement was on Bush River & the Beaver Dam. It was fairly large, extending 4 or 5 miles on each side of the river. There were three meeting places but the main are on the Bush River Monthly Meeting. At one time the meetings flourished and many Quakers came to this area, but there are none today as they migrated to free states to leave the slave holding states.

Early members were:

The Dutch Fork settlement (Newberry District S.C. on the Broad River between Enoree & Gyger) began in 1745, but very few Hollanders (Dutch proper) settled in Newberry. Many were Palatines (Germans) who were forced to leave their homes because of oppression by their own government in religious matters and the invasion of a foreign country. Queen Anne of England gave them refuge in that country, and, because of their great numbers who came, sent many to her colonies in America & elsewhere. Following is a list of some of the early German settlers:

Among the unique sources for research in early Louisiana are the rarely used petitions and grants for dispensations for marriages. Technically, such a dispensation is a relaxation of Church law in a particular case for the welfare of the petitioning parties. The Diocese of Louisiana and the Floridas stretched from the Upper Mississippi Valley to the Gulf of Mexico, from Texas to Florida, including all of the posts in present day Louisiana. Many Acadian families are included. Providing remarkable insights into the personal relations and social behavior of the early Louisiana, this book is necessary for any serious research on Colonial Louisiana. Charles Nolan has written a useful introduction. Approx 100 pages - Indexed.

203 South Gayle Blvd.
Bunkie, LA 71322

Price $13.00 Postpaid

This Volume 1 covers the years 1808 - 1855 and is a much needed reference for genealogists. The earliest marriage records were written in French and many were not very legible. Many of the French names found in this book were families migrating from the parishes of Point Coupée, Opelousas and Natchitoches, La. A group of them were coming directly from France and intermarrying with the larger Creole population and the sprinkling of Acadian settlers. Also one finds many American families that began moving in the area in early 1800's after the Louisiana Purchase in 1803.

Book B-1 of Marriages has been missing from the Courthouse for many years, and the author was able to obtain the information from the original contracts on file and include them in this book. They cover the years 1824 thru 1839, a period of 15 years. There is a bridegroom index at the end of the book.

The Irish have from earliest times cherished and maintained a strong tradition of family relationships. Long before Saint Patrick, Irish Kings had created lengthy genealogies of their families. By 1100 most leading families had connected themselves by written or oral tradition to their ancient kings, thereby creating a national record of family names. If you are a "wee bit Irish", you too may find your name among those in this book.

More than 800 family names appear in the index which, together with Irish and English variations, number more than 2,000. This volume deals with family relationships from earliest times down to 1600. Persons with surnames forming at a later date and immigrants to Ireland after 1600 will be the subject of a later work.

TITLE: HIGHLIGHTS IN THE EARLY HISTORY OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY, VA.

AUTHOR: Lula Porterfield Givens

ORDER FROM: The Author at 430 Turpin Walk
Christiansburg, Va. 24073

Price: $5.15
Plus 60¢ postage

Montgomery Co., Va. lies at the southwestern tip of the Valley of Virginia between the Allegheny and the Blue Ridge Mountains. It was originally a part of Auguste Co. that was divided in 1770 and Botetourt Co. was formed. In 1772 Botetourt was divided to form Fincastle. In 1776 Fincastle was abolished and three counties, Montgomery, Washington and Kentucky were formed. Montgomery was the easternmost of these three counties.

The early white settlers endured many hardships in the early years. Many were captured by the Indians. In many cases the Indians killed the men and took their families as captives. But they persevered, and this book really makes us appreciate all the hardships, trials and tribulations our ancestors endured to make this U. S. a wonderful country for us to live in.

The story of their lives in the early years continued through the Revolutionary War, and then on past the Civil War. At the end of the book there is an appendix with a Chronology of Early Montgomery Co. history through 1867. The book was published in observance of the American Bicentennial, the Virginia Bicentennial and the Bicentennial of Montgomery Co. and in remembrance of our forefathers.

North America readers may be unfamiliar with the complex system of the British peerage and baronetage. In the United Kingdom these honory titles have been passed along for generations since the Norman Conquest and many new titles have been created and conferred by England's ruling monarchs for centuries. Containing numerous articles on all aspects of Britain's Nobility, Debrett's Peerage and Baronetage serves the useful function of providing biographical information for every living male descended in the male line from the first Peer and all living females being issue of males so descended. Similar coverage is provided for the Barontage.

The bulk of the reference work comprises alphabetically arranged articles, illustrated with Coats of Arms, for the five grades of the Peerage; Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Viscounts and Barons. Included are biographical articles for the 44 living archbishops and Bishops of the Church of England. The Baronetage is covered in a separate section nearly as long as the Illustrated Peerage.

Additional biographical material is presented in the following sections: The Royal Family - The Privy Council - Scottish Lords of Session and Chiefs of Names and Clans in Scotland.
