[Note: The only lot containing 26 acres in the division is lot #6 that went William Powell. The above deed adds the middle initial "J." to the name
"William Powell" in the division of lands in the deed in FF 57-58. This allows us to tie the "Jackson Powell" in the will to the "William Powell" in the division in FF 57-58, and to the "William J. Powell" in this deed.

This gives us a full name "William Jackson Powell" and by implication this is also the full name of the William J. Powell who is the son of Mastin Powell and who is referred to as "William J. Powell Sr." in Halifax VA deeds (such as Halifax County Virginia Deeds, Book 56, page 61) with "William J.

VIRGINIA:

In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of the City of Norfolk, on the 5th day of March, in the year 1975.

B E F O R E:
 HUGH L. STOVALL, CLERK

RE: PROBATE OF THE WILL, WITH CODICIL ANNEXED, OF BEVERLEY HENRY HOLT, Deceased

The last will and testament, together with a codicil, dated 25th day of July 1966, annexed, of Beverley Henry Holt, deceased, late of the City of Norfolk, who departed this life on the 1st day of March, 1975, were this day produced in the Clerk's Office and offered for probate. Thereupon came Mary Jane Bockius, a competent witness, one of the subscribing witnesses to the said will, who having been first duly sworn, testified that the said testatrix signed, published and declared the same to be her last will and testament in her presence, and in the presence of Joan L. Cooke and J. Randolph Davis, competent witnesses, the other two subscribing witnesses to the said will, and that they, at the request of the said testatrix, and in her presence, and in the presence of each other, all four being present together at the same time, subscribed their names as witnesses to the said will and further testified that the said testatrix was of sound mind and over the age of eighteen years. Whereupon came again Mary Jane Bockius a competent witness, one of the subscribing witnesses to the codicil dated 25th day of July 1966, who having first been duly sworn, testified that the said testatrix signed, published and declared the same to be a codicil to her last will and testament in her presence, and in the presence of Joan L. Cooke and J. Randolph Davis, competent witnesses, the other two subscribing witnesses to the said codicil, and that they, at the request of the said testatrix and in her presence and in the presence of each other, all four being present together at the same time, subscribed their names as witnesses to the said codicil; and further testified that said testatrix was of sound mind and over the age of eighteen years. Whereupon it is considered by the Clerk that the said will and codicil have been duly and fully proven, and the same are ordered admitted to probate and recorded as the true last will and testament, together with the codicil thereto annexed, of Beverly Henry Holt, deceased, in due form.

Thereupon on motion of Leslie E. Holt, the Executor and Trustee named in the said codicil, the Clerk doth appoint Leslie E. Holt as the Executor and Trustee of the last will and testament of Beverly Henry Holt, deceased. Thereupon Leslie E. Holt qualified as such Executor and Trustee by taking and subscribing the oaths prescribed by law and entering into and acknowledging a bond in the penalty of $17,000.00, without surety, the codicil directing that none need be required of him as such, conditioned according to law.

A certificate is granted Leslie E. Holt for obtaining letters of probate and administration upon the Estate of Beverly Henry Holt, deceased, in due form.

And it is ordered that the said bond be recorded.

NOTE: "Her" and "testatrix" in the preceding document should be "his" and "testator." Perhaps the person who typed in the words relating to Beverly Henry Holt's last will and testament thought that the name "Beverly" signified a woman. Also, I have copied Beverly Henry Holt's name as it appeared in these documents; in some places it appears as Beverley Henry Holt.

Dr. Leonidas Holt wrote and delivered the eulogy below to honor his father, James Thomas Holt, at his funeral:

As I write this for Dad, I write it for every dad, for "Dad" and "Mom" are two of the dearest words in our language.

I want to relate a little perspective on the life of the man we memorialize today.

He was born January 14, 1899, to humble parents, Calvin Lea Holt and Lucy (Dodson) Holt, in Caswell County. He was their fourth child. This was during the administration of William McKinley. Childhood diseases, diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, and smallpox meant that reaching adulthood was questionable at best. No man had ever flown and the automobile was a rare motorized buggy. No public school system existed.

As time went along, more children were born to this couple. Calvin Lea struggled to exact a living from the soil in a county still economically devastated by the Civil War. The children joined the struggle at an early age. Though economically poor, the family was rich in love, camaraderie and religious faith. They knew how to work and how to have fun. They played various musical instruments (Dad was banjo and mandolin). These jam sessions were often joined into by neighboring families. The Wright brothers flew a powered airplane. Automobiles became more frequent.

Along in this time an event happened that so profoundly affected Dad's life that he could never talk about it. His mother, Lucy Dodson Holt, died following childbirth. "Papa Lea," as Granddaddy Holt was know, kept the family together. Aunt Mable, the oldest daughter, became the "Mom."

Dad spent a lot of time with his paternal grandparents, Henry and Sallie Powell Holt. Henry was a veteran of the Civil War. Their stories of this period of time doubtless started Dad's interest in history.

1914 found the family in another economic crisis. A severe drought devastated crops. So the three oldest boys, Mason, Greg, and Dad, went to work at a sawmill to help support the family. For several years, off and on, Dad worked in various sawmill camps. Here his education really began. Once he told us about becoming camp cook. "What did you cook?" Linda asked. "Beans and fatback!" Dad answered. "We got beans in 100 pound bags. When one ran out, we got some other kind of beans for variety."

His sawmill experiences led Dad to decide he wanted something other than a sawmill career. He moved to Milton to enter Milton Academy, the only high school in Caswell County. Completing this, he went on to Trinity Park Preparatory School in Durham. Completing this, he entered Trinity College. All during this time, he did various jobs to help pay for school. With family encouragement, especially from eldest brother Mason, he graduated in the second class of Duke University in 1926. While at Duke, he lettered in both track and wrestling. I asked Dad how in the world he ever got into wrestling. He said the track season was about over and one of the coaches also coached wrestling and invited him to watch a practice. Dad did watch, decided he was as tough as any of them, and joined the team. During his career he was pinned only once and that was at the U.S. Naval Academy in the third overtime.

In 1926, following college, he applied to the school board of Nathanael Greene School for a high school teaching position. He was hired. He and Mr. R. W. Utley (then school principal) boarded across the road from the school in the home of Aunt Blanch Bowman.

While teaching here, his eyes fell on a young lady, Dortha Elizabeth Causey, whom he married in this church in 1932. She was his spouse for 57 years until her death in 1989.

Dad's teaching career spanned 38 years until his retirement in 1964. The stories of pranks and jokes are endless. I know that he loved all his students and truly wished them well in life. One of his greatest joys was seeing them succeed.

After retirement he worked on the farm. He enjoyed his cows, tended his garden, and loved to share his produce with neighbors and friends.

The things that Dad gave us to carry on in our lives was a quiet demeanor, a sense of total honesty and fairness, and most of all a total devotion to our Christian faith. These were the solid rocks that were the foundation of his life. He loved life and his fellowman. He never wavered from knowing who he was and he never would compromise his principles for personal gain. He believed a man's word was his bond.

So please bear with us as we shed our tears. Time stooped his body, dimmed his sight, diminished his hearing. But nothing could ever diminish his spirit or squash his optimism. These memories will be with us forever.

Dad, you will always be my hero!

Dear Laura, Donald, Sarah and Judson,

I hope you are all having a good summer.

Laura & Sarah--It was real good of you to take time to come over for Dad's funeral and I especially appreciate the picture. We have a wall for family pictures and it's hung there. Uncle Judson, Uncle Harvey & Dad were always close. It's just hard to believe they're all gone now.

Laura, I've done a lot of reflecting in the past few weeks about the Holts. They were all quiet people who lived in harmony with our earth. In a way i think that they saw God in all of nature and they treated it with great respect. Everything that they did had the purpose of preserving or improving. They were honest and hard-working people. Ane we are all better because they were here. These three men all took land that was basically barren and made it productive. I know I personally watched them and I still can't even imagine the hard back-breaking work they did. But they did make their farms better. Time just caught up with them and they physically could not longer do the work. But they cared and they left us a lot to live up to.

We've been so hot and dry. What we haven't watered has all dried up. I keep hoping for some rain soon.

Barbara and I haven't gotten a lot done about the farm. She and Larry have pretty much decided they want the house with some surrounding property. They don't really want to live in the house but I don't know any plans. The house needs a lot of work but they haven't begun anything yet.

We're in the process of getting it all appraised and then maybe we can come to some more concrete conclusions.

Anyhow, thanks again for the picture and thanks again for coming. And please, come again soon.

Love, Barbara

Jimmy Kelley & Judson Holt

Caswell County lost a good man this month and another beloved citizen has been hospitalized in serious condition with a case of double pneumonia.

The life's work of Jimmy Kelley and Judson Holt will never be forgotten. We have much to gain from their gifts to Caswell County.

Passing men and women teach us about life, but in many cases, they go too soon for us to say thanks. The lessons they have shared lived on, but memories of their work sometimes make us regret. We wake up and they are gone. It's always too late.

After working all their lives to make life better for their family, friends and community, it's unfortunate the last wishes of the dying are not expressed fully so we might pick up where they left off. We could say, 'This is what they wanted. Let's work to make it happen.' But most go quietly and leave us wondering who is going to carry on their work. It hurts more in a small community like ours because everyone seems to know everyone else. . . .

Judson Holt, 91,...is pure Caswell County--a fighter and a gentleman.

Holt has been admitted to the hospital in Halifax County near South Boston, Virginia, for treatment of a double pneumonia. Holt said, 'My downfall was plowing my garden.' A few weeks ago, the weather was cold and wet. 'It ws a chilling cold, all day long,' he said from his hospital bed. 'It was my fault altogether. I knew better.'

But don't count Holt out. If anyone is going to beat a case of double pneumonia at the age of 91, it's Judson Holt. As a timber cruiser all his life, Holt remained strong into his eighties, walking large tracts of timber, all day long, leaving most men behind. He amazed everyone with his strength and knowledge.

Holt is a naturalist. The names of all of the plants and animals in Caswell County he knows by heart. He shares his knowledge with others and a trail is named for him by the Boy Scouts at Camp Cherokee. He cultivates wild ginseng and is able to locate the roots in the wild. Perhaps his long and happy life has something to do with that mysterious root. He also smokes tobacco all the time. 'I stopped smoking about a month ago,' he said this week. 'The doctors told me to quit until I get better,' he said with a chuckle. Holt said about five different doctors were working on him, coming in every 30 minutes giving him one thing or another. His wife, Bertha, is also in serious condition in the same hospital. 'I don't know if I'm going to make it,' Judson said on the telephone Monday night, almost as if he was angry he couldn't plant the row of beans he had planned for his early garden. His appreciation of Mother Nature's wonders is an inspiration to everyone.

'Tell the folks, Howdy,' he said, 'Wish them well for me.'"

"Judson Holt was my father. His father was Calvin Lea Holt. Calvin's father was Henry Holt. You are correct in stating that Henry Holt was Beverly Holt's father. This makes Beverly my father's uncle. Calvin Lea and Beverly were brothers. I knew Uncle Bev (my great uncle) well. He was a fine person who treated me (a snotty-nosed runt) really well. We were very poor and during the late 30s until after World War II, there was not much contact between our families. Both families were struggling to survive. When times were better, starting in the mid-40s, Uncle 'Bev' came to see us often and we visited him at his home in Norfolk once or twice a year. That was a long trip in those days. Uncle Bev's children, Edna and Leslie Holt, were older than me. I was born on July 3, 1929. Both of them had married and left home by the time I visited their home.

In the 50s Leslie (Les, we called him) got me a job driving a bakery delivery truck. I was destitute. I'll never forget his kindness. He was a prince of a man. He was very smart, hard working, and good looking--with a great personality. He was much larger than his father but had all his dad's good qualities. My father, Judson, lived with Uncle Bev for a while before he married my mom. Dad was a merchant seaman (cook) on a freighter running the east coast--New York, Baltimore, Miami, etc. He worked for the Chesapeake and Ohio Steamshipping Line on some of the first steamboats. He quit the seaman life, went back to Caswell County, married my mom, raised a family, farmed and worked in forestry the rest of his life.

I like the water like my dad did. I am a coast guard licensed captain with a 100 ton license. I learned to fly and flew for an airline for a period of time. I left the airline, went to work for Greyhound, drove a bus for 32 years, and raised a family. I served in the military during the Korean War."

Beverly (Beale) Lynch told her son, John Christopher Lynch, that when she was four to five years old, she rode with her Granddaddy Willis Beale, Sr. in a horse-drawn wagon to deliver milk on Willis's milk route. Before Willis had the milk route, he delivered laundry. When Willis, Sr. was a boy, he didn't have shoes or pants until he went to school; boys usually wore dresses until they started school. Willis Beale was district manager for Gordon Foods Division of Sunshine Biscuit Company.
