

OCTOBER 22, 1851 CONTINUED FROM PAGE 155

the evening of the 14th inst. in the 50th year of his age.

Mr. M. had for some years past been more or less afflicted with disease of the lungs, which gradually increasing in intensity, finally proved fatal. In hope of invigorating his constitution, he, last fall, took a journey to the West Indies, Cuba &c, returning home early the following summer; and although on this tour he enjoyed the constant and kind attentions of his devoted wife, yet, unfortunately, no viable improvement in his health appeared to have been affected by the voyage; and from that time, his relatives & friends have watched with painful anxiety the gradual decay of his vitality.

Our citizens generally condole with his numerous family, in the loss of a kind husband, father & friend - who, while living, was sincerely loved and respected by all, whose death is universally lamented but we have the consoling hope that "our loss is his gain"; for if integrity, honor, upright and fair dealing with all mankind, added to humility of demeanor, in real and practical charity - "his heart & his purse were alike - expansive, and his bounty was bestowed with a liberal hand" - are features of Christianity, then indeed was he a true Christian, and death could have no terror for such a one.

Still in the decease of this good and great man - Aye, great, in all the kindlier acts of humanity, emanating from a full, free & generous soul - the Church has lost a devout and worthy member - the poor, a firm and reliable friend in the hour of their need - the Village, one of its most useful, valuable and enterprising citizens, - and "our Country, the noblest work of God an honest man."

But <sup>enough</sup> words fail to express our admiration of his sterling qualities; his "daily walk and conversation," while with us, constitute his perpetual eulogy, and will long be remembered by those he has left behind.

Followed by a large concourse of friends (we believe he had no living enemy) his remains were conveyed for interment to our Rural Cemetery last Friday Afternoon - Rest in Peace - (POEM).

Page 2:5 - MARRIED - On Wednesday October 15th by Rev. William M. CHIPPE, Stephen SWEET Esq. to Miss Sarah Elizabeth TINSLER, all of West Troy.

OCTOBER 20, 1851

Page 2:5 - MARRIED - By Rev. T.F. WYCKOFF on the 17th inst., Mr. Samuel CORNELL to Miss Eliza GLASS, all of West Troy.

- At the Empire Hotel in this Village, on the 19th ult by the Rev. Mr. HOUGHTALING, Mr. John W. DREW & Miss Elizabeth ABEAL, both of Mechanicville, Saratoga Co.

- At the same time by the same, Mr. Charles D. LAWRENCE & Miss Eunice ABELL, both of Cohoes, Albany Co.

- In this Village on the 23d inst. by the Rev. O.H. GREGORY, Mr. Thomas R. AUSTEN of Newark, NJ to Miss Margaret J. CRAWFORD, only daughter of Samuel CRAWFORD, Esq. of West Troy.