

NOVEMBER 2, 1853

Page 2:1 - DEATH OF MRS. BURDEN - Mrs. P. BURDEN who was so shockingly burned at her residence in Troy, some few nights since, died at her residence Wednesday last.

NOVEMBER 9, 1853

Page 2:1 - DEATH OF A PRINTER - We are pained to hear of the death of our respected friend and fellow craftsman, James P. MIX, son of the venerable editor of the Schoharie Co. Patriot. Our deceased friend served his apprenticeship upon the old Montgomery Johnstown Republican. He went to New York in 36 and soonafterward established and edited the Carvendale PA (Republican) and was also for a time connected with the Wilkesbarre Gazette, worked on the New Yorker and Log Cabin and has been engaged on the Tribune - part of the time - from its commencement until his decease. He died on Saturday last in the 37th year of his age lamented by all who knew his worth and appreciated his virtues. We deeply sympathize with his venerable father in this affliction of the deceased for the deceased was a son to be loved. (from Evening Journal)

Page 2:5 - MARRIED - On Oct 20th at Chatham, NY by Rev. John NEWMAN, Rev. N.G. SPALDING of the Troy Confederance to Miss Harriet D. DORR of Chatham Centre.

NOVEMBER 16, 1853

Page 2:2 - SAD ACCIDENT - As the week Torch Light Procession on Sunday evening last the 12th inst. was passing Rousseau & Easton Steam - Planing & Saw Mill on Broad Street James TENPENNY the Watchman of the establishment, fired two barrels of a revolver loaded with powder and ball. On firing the second time, the revolver was aimed so low that the ball hit a woman named Margaret COAKLEY who was passing on the opposite side of the Street, striking her in the left temple, passing through the skull and was found by a post-mortem examination held by Drs. VIELE, RUGGLES & WITBECK to have lodged in the right lobe of the brain causing instant death. An inquest was held by Coroner WITBECK and the jury returned the following verdict - "that Margaret COAKLEY came to her death Nov. 12, 1853 by a ball fired from a pistol in the hands of James TENPENNY through carelessness & neglect on his part and the jury recommends that he be held for further examination. The examination was held on Monday the 14th inst before Justice STEWART when TENPENNY was found guilty of manslaughter in the fourth degree, and held to bail in the sum of $1000, to await his trial before a higher tribunal.

Page 2:5 - MARRIED - On the 12th inst in this Village by the Rev. Father KYLE, Mr. Henry MCBRIDE of Canada East to Miss Maria HOLMES of West Troy.