Page 2:3 - MAN KILLED ON THE RAILROAD - William RETALICK age 73 years, residing a short distance north of this Village, was ran against and killed ^{on} Friday last by the 7 o'clock A.M. train on the Albany, Vermont & Canada Railroad, near the Bridge and along the road which crosses the Canal just above this place. From the testimony taken at the inquest held by Coroner WITBECK, it appears that the deceased who was in the employ of Mr. OOTHOUT, farmer, was about commencing his day's work and was driving a team of horses attached to a 'stone boat,' (upon which he was conveying a harrow to the field). The horses were just crossing the track, when becoming frightened at the near approach of the train, ran away, leaving him upon the track. Before having time to escape, the engine struck him, throwing him 106 feet forward, breaking his ribs, arm & legs and otherwise terribly mutilating him. He died almost instantly.

- ANOTHER FATAL ACCIDENT - A man named KELLEY, residing at Cohoes, Sunday evening last, fell through the foot bridge at Lock No. 14 Erie Canal, a distance of 18 feet. The lock, which was empty at the time, breaking his jaw, arms, and one of his legs, besides otherwise injuring him..He lingered in great agony until 6 o'clock A. M. Monday at which time he died. Coroner WITBECK was summoned to hold an inquest when the above facts appearing, a verdict in accordance was rendered.
