Page 2:5 - We understand that during a thunder storm^{of} last Monday a dwelling house occupied by Mr. J.D. SCHOONMAKER in Woodburn in this County was struck by lightning and his wife killed. A child that stood by the side of Mrs. S. escaped uninjured together with persons in various parts of the house. The building was almost shattered, every pane of glass broken and the boards and small &c splintered and torn to pieces. It is truly wonderful that every person in the house was not killed (from the Sullivan Watchman)
