NOVEMBER 2, 1859

Page 2:2 - A WOMAN BURNED BY A FLUID LAMP - On Thursday evening at 15 minutes past six o'clock, a young woman named Helen CONNOR, employed in the family of Mr. Jonas H. CRANE, in Church St., Schenectady, while filling a lighted fluid lamp from a can, was horribly burned, the flames spreading instantly to her clothes. Enveloped in flames she ran to the street crying for aid. Some gentlemen coming along threw their shawls over her, and with several pails of water, the flames were quenched. She was taken into the house when it was found she was fearfuly and fataly injured.

- DEATH OF JUDGE CADY - This emminent jurist died at Johnstown yesterday afternoon, aged 87 years. His funeral will take place on Thursday at 10 o'clock.

Page 2:6 - MARRIED - At Albany on Sunday October 30th by Rev. B.O. MEEKER, Mr. George H. BATES & Miss Maggie TORMAY, both of Watervliet.

DIED - In this Village on Sat. morning Oct. 29th, Mary Matilda, wife of John CARY.

- At Rio, Columbia Co. WIS on the 19th inst. of consumption, Joseph S. SCRIBNER, formerly of Danbury, Conn. in the 31st year of his age.

NOVEMBER 9, 1859

Page 2:3 - E.D. BLANCHARD, former Captain of the Troy Citizens Corps, died on Thursday last, and was buried on Saturday with military and masonic honors.

- DEATH OF AN EDITOR William A. LAMB, Editor & Proprietory of the Lansingburgh Democrat, died at his residence in that Village Monday morning, of pulmonary consumption. Mr. L. was a gentleman who stood high in public estimation and his loss will be seriously felt in the community in which he lived.
- FATAL ACCIDENT Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, a lad about 8 years of age, named Louis KANE and residing in Troy, was istantly killed by being violently thrown from a wagon against a lumber pile, in rear of Washington St. Coroner WITBECK held an inquest last evening.
- ELOPEMENT A year or two ago the daughter of a well to do farmer named MUNSON, in Watervliet, married a man named OOTHOUT, and they lived together very comfortably until a few days since, when Mrs. OOTHOUT's sister, a young girl of 18 who had been living with them, went to visit some friends in Schenectady, and on Monday, the husband departed from home, pretending that he was going to Ballston to do some work. It has since appeared that the parties met in Schenectady, and proceeded West together over the Central Road. The affair has caused considerable excitement.