A post-mortem examination was made in the presence of the jury, and a verdict rendered of "death from congestion of the lungs, super induced by intemperance."

Page 2:4 - DEATH FROM LOCK JAW - On the night of the 25th ult, a row took place at the saloon of John WALL, on the corner of Union & Water Sts. in this Village. During the melee, WALL drew a pistol; whereupon Edward CLARY, who had been a looker-on, rushed upon WALL and bore the pistol down, at which time the pistol was discharged, inflicting a slight flesh wound ^{on} CLARY's hand which was thought but little of at the time. Dr. WITBECK dressed the hand that night, and CLARY attended to his business as usual until Friday, when his hand became sore, his arm inflamed and Tuesday morning he died with the lock jaw. Coroner WITBECK took his dying deposition which exonerates WALL from all blame..
