

NOVEMBER 19, 1862 CONTINUED FROM PAGE 337-A

Page 2:5 - Coroner MADDEN has gone to Washington for the purpose of bringing home the body of a West Troy soldier named PORTER. The remains were interred beyond the lines of our Army and the friends were unable to obtain them but the Union limits now stretch far over the once disputed territory and the Officers of the Regiment send word to the friends of the deceased that his body was procurable. Coroner MADDEN is accompanied by John C. COLE from the Troy Times.

DIED - Richard GOODELL Esq. who some years since resided in this place and kept a bakery, we learn died on the passage from Vera Cruz to the City of Mexico about a month since.

MARRIED - In this Village November 18th by Rev. G.L. ROOF, Clinton H. MENEELY & Miss Josephine E. ROOF, only daughter of the officiating clergyman.
NO CARDS

DIED - Lisha skill Watervliet, November 6, Col. John V.A. LANSING in the 94th year of his age.

- In Troy on Thursday November 13th, Rev. Tobias SPICER, age 75 years & 5 days.

- In this Village on the 15th inst., Jennie Lester, only child of Elias & Louisa M. ROGERS, age 16 months & 17 days.

NOVEMBER 22, 1862

Page 2:3 - DEATH OF AN AGED COLORED WOMAN - Many of our citizens may have seen or heard of the infirm and decrepit colored woman living at the residence of Mrs. SCHUYLER - at the SCHUYLER homstead in Watervliet. She is now no more, death having closed her existance on Sunday night last. Her history is somewhat peculiar. She is supposed to have been born as a slave in Tarrytown Westchester Co. - her first "massa" being a man named STORMS, by whom she was held for several years when she was sold to a family named VANDENBURGH than residing in Schaghticoke, Rensselaer Co. She lived here several years, when, about 60 years since, she became the property of the late Philip S. SCHUYLER, and was brought to this town where she has ever since resided. When the act abolishing slavery in this State took effect, she, of course, became free but she preferred to remain with her former master. SABINA - 'SIBBY' as she was called was thought highly of by the descendants of her former master, and by them for the past 12 years (during which time she has been almost entirely helpless) she has been tenderly cared for. Her age was not positively known but could have been very little, if any, short of 90 years. Her funeral took place yesterday afternoon and was quite largely attended. Her remains were interred in the cemetery.