Page 2:5 - FATAL ACCIDENT AT LANSINGBURGH - A terrible accident occurred about half past 9 o'clock, this morning, at the large oil cloth factory in course of erection by D. POWERS & Sons in the lower part of the Village of Lansingburgh. A mason named John McDONALD, at work on the high roof, near the cornice of the building, leaned too heavily against the woodwork, which gave way with him and the unfortunate man fell to the ground - a distance of four stories. In grasping with death-like tenacity at the cornice, about 30 feet of it was carried away. Two men were struck by fragments of the wood and were slightly injured. McDONALD was taken up in a senseless state, and lived only half an hour. He had been at work on the building but a day or two at the time of the accident - having come from New York last week. Coroner A.D. HULL was summoned to hold an inquest. (The Troy Times yesterday).
