

STURDY DOUGHBOYS FROM PITTSBURGH

These are all members of the Three Hundred and Twentieth Infantry. The photograph was made shortly after the signing of the armistice at one of the rest stations in an Argonne Forest village by the Signal Corps, A. E. F., United States Army, especially for Charles J. Doyle, special correspondent of The Gazette Times in France.