

LIST OF KILLED AND WOUNDED

The following is a list of the killed and wounded in Colonel Armstrong's official report of the expedition:

Lieutenant-Colonel John Armstrong's Company. – Killed – Thomas Power, John McCormick. Wounded – Lieutenant-Colonel Armstrong, James Caruthers, James Strickland, Thomas Foster.

Captain Hamilton's Company. – Killed – John Kelly.

Captain Mercer's Company. – Killed – John baker, John McCartney, Patrick Mullen, Cornelius McGinnis, Theophilus Thompson, Dennis Kilpatrick, Bryan Carrigan,. Wounded – Richard Fitzgibbons. Missing – Captain Hugh Mercer, Ensign John Scott, Emanuel Minskey, John Taylor, John Francis Phillips, Robert Morrow, Thomas Burk, Philip Pendegrass.

Captain Armstrong's Company. – Killed – Lieutenant James Hogg, James Anderson, Holdcraft Stringer, Edward Obrians, James Higgins, John Lasson. Wounded – William Findley, Robert Robinson, John Ferol, Thomas Camplin, Charles O'Neal. Missing – John Lewis, William Hunter, William Barker, George Appleby, Anthony Grissy, Thomas Swan.

Captain Ward's Company. – Killed – William Welch. Wounded – Ephraim Bratton. Missing – Patrick Myers, Lawrence Donnahow, Samuel Chambers.

Captain Potter's Company. – Wounded – Ensign James Potter, Andrew Douglas.

Captain Steel's Company. – Missing – Terence Cannaherry.

Total killed, 17; wounded, 13; Missing, 29. All the missing, with one or two exceptions, reached their homes and nearly all the wounded recovered.

The loss on the part of the colonists was severe, when we consider that they had three hundred and fifty men engaged in the action, while the Indian force did not consist of over one Hundred warriors. The ignorance of the pilot, and the great error of some of the officers in persisting in trying to dislodge the enemy from the houses by discharge of firearms, was no doubt the direct cause of the death of many of the brave men; for all must admit that the expedition was well planned and admirably carried out, as far as circumstance would permit.