Dear Brother:

I have been thinking ever since before the election that I would write to you, but have allowed other things to make me neglect it.

I was very much interested in politics last year and was sorry Bryan was not elected. We got our Congress man, John S. Rhea, all right.

Julia wrote me some time ago that you had moved to Martin. Are you practising law for yourself? Are you all keeping house? I don't know that Hugh and I will

Dear brother John:

If you will excuse me for writing with a pencil I will try to write to you tonight while Leon Spivey is asleep. He has not been right well lately so I don't find much time to write. Every one says Leon is pretty and sweet. He has dark blue eyes, and is always ready to laugh and play. Mr. Harry Mayes, the young man who waited on us when we married, sent Leon a little ring last week. Leon says of course he would appreciate a go to housekeeping any time soon. We are so well satisfied here. I think so much of all his people, they are so good to me.

Glarry wrote me not long ago that he and cousin Will would try to rent out the farm for us. He said for us to ask you and brother Willie not to have the place sold now, as it would not bring anything like its worth. I do not suppose you are thinking of such a thing. I think our affairs out there will be in a better shape when times get better.

I guess you have heard of Julia's marriage. I am so thankful that she is married and settled at last.

Dugh and I are going to Nashville to the fair next year.

present from his Uncle Johnnie, but would much rather see and know him.

So we want you to save up your money and come to see us instead of sending presents. When I get short dresses on him and have his picture made
I will send you one.

Sister says she will write to you and send you her letter from cousin Will.

Who holds the notes on Mr. Brown and Mr. Godfrey?

Is there any danger of their running out and our losing them?

Much love to yourself and Madge.

Your loving sister

Think we will try to go about May. Wouldn't you and Madge take advantage of the excursion and make us a visit then? We would love so much to see you, and yet I have very little desire to visit Texas at present.

Give my love to Madge and ask her if she intends to quit writing to me entirely.

I have not had a letter from her since soon after I married. I would enjoy a letter from her so much.

And, by the way, I must ask you all for some more of your photos. I gave the ones I had to Julia when she left here, and had the presumption to think you all would give me some more. Please do not disappoint me. I will send you our pictures in the spring.

Sister and family are very well. I had them, a part of them at least, to spend the day with me recently and enjoyed it so much. It was the first time Sister had been out with the little baby.

Dugh joins me in much love, and in hoping that we may hear from you soon.

Your loving sister
Cornelia M. Price.
