Made his escape from Fannin's Battle, in March 1836, one of Hilleran's men with his company witnessed the massacre at Goliad. One of Hilleran's men who were present at the same time.

A. Fannin's massacre of Goliad and made his escape. The ends the list of 1836.

Endorsed on the back of the foregoing list.

Note. The principal part of the men on page nos. 172, up to 186, and some others were mostly discharged about June 15th, 1836, by Capt. Patton & Capt. Rhodes. The remainder were discharged by myself, & the Col. of the Regiment. They served out their time in the army, and in the fall of 1836, I discharged the last man, and returned home to my family. About the 5th of August Capt. Patton, aided by the Col. took command of the Company and proceeded to Columbia on Brazos, to take charge of President Santa Anna, which he did.
