"A Prayer For Genealogists"

Lord, help me dig into the past,
   And sift the sands of time;
That I might find the roots that made
   This family tree of mine.

Lord, help me trace the ancient roads,
   On which my fathers trod;
And led them through so many lands,
   To find our present sod.

Lord, help me find an ancient book
   Or dust manuscript,
That’s safely hidden now away
   In some forgotten crypt.

Lord, let it bridge the gaps that haunts
   My soul when I can’t find,
The missing link between some name
   That ends the same as mine.

Geraldine Hope Marshall

Geraldine Hope Marshall
November 26, 1922- May 22, 2011
Beloved wife, mother and grandmother, Geraldine Hope (Fulkerth) Marshall (Gerry) peacefully passed away at Panorama City in Lacey, Washington on May 22, 2011, surrounded by her loving family, at the age of 88. Gerry was born in Pullman, Washington on November 26, 1922. There, she attended high school, met her husband, G. Eldon Marshall, and graduated from Washington State College (University) in 1944 with a B.A. in English. She was a member of the Sigma Tau chapter of the Kappa Delta sorority.

Gerry and Eldon married on September 25, 1944. They moved to Seattle after Eldon finished his military service, eventually settling in Olympia in 1950. Gerry worked at the Washington Department of Social and Health Services for 10 years, and dedicated hours of volunteer service to a number of organizations including the YWCA and the UMW Methodist Church. She was also an active member of PEO.

Gerry most loved spending time with her family, saying "things are never as important as the people you love." She also enjoyed social activities including bridge and golfing, and displayed a creative side through quilting, knitting, sewing, gardening and collecting. Gerry kept her analytic mind sharp with a passion for genealogy, crossword puzzles and writing. Gerry leaves behind her husband of 67 years, Eldon Marshall, and four children, Steven Marshall (Mercer Island), Anne O’Rourke (Olympia), Susan Swenson (Tacoma) and Scott Marshall (Seattle), and their spouses and children. Gerry cherished her large family, including her 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Gerry said that being a Granny was "one of the best things that has happened to me in my life."

Gerry was preceded in death by her parents Frank and Clora Fulkerth, and by her sister Shirley (Fulkerth) Wastell. A memorial service will be held at 2:00 on June 4, 2011 at the United Methodist Church in Olympia, 1224 Legion Way Southeast. In her memory donations to the First United Methodist Church in Olympia and PEO Chapter DC local scholarship fund would be appreciated.

GREAT-GRANDFATHER WAS A LEAP-YEAR BABY
Submitted by Olympia Genealogical Society Member
Joyce Ogden
jto@alumni.albany.edu

When I first noticed that family records for my great-grandfather John M. Froebel gave a birthday of February 29, it took awhile to sink in— he was a Leap Year baby! Yes, in the last week of February 1876, another leap year, the local newspaper asked how many correspondents out there were having a quadrennial birthday. Among the dozen others who responded was great-grandfather: John M. Froebel, cor. Butternut and Townsend St, born February 29, 1836.

Immigration and Citizenship

According to the Ancestry.com passenger lists, he arrived in New York City on May 21, 1853 from Hamburg, Germany on the ship “Johanna Elise”. His occupation is given as farmer from Saxony, but what other occupation could be expected for a 17-year-old?

He wasted little time in applying for his naturalization papers. The minimum residence in U.S. to become a citizen is 5 years, and he got his official naturalization in just 6 years and 4 months on September 23, 1859.

By then he had settled into a German neighborhood in Syracuse, New York, taken a bride, “Barbara” who was born in Bavaria, and had a small daughter Anna.

Prosperous 1860’s

The 1860 Federal Census lists him in the 2nd Ward of Syracuse; occupation “Candy backer” [Candy maker?]; Valuation of Real property $0 and Personal property of $300; born Sax-Weimar, Germany. Wife and daughter Anna, age 1.

In civic affairs, he petitioned the Common Council in April 1863 for permission to build a wooden addition to his house and petitioned again in 1864 to build a wooden barn on his premises at No. 29 Butternut Street.

Around 1869 he went back to Europe! He already had a wife, and did not return with junior relatives. But according to Ancestry.com passenger lists there he is returning to New York from Hamburg, Germany on March 30, 1870. Looks like he was prosperous enough to afford the round-trip ticket. I checked their passport lists for clarification, but passports were not required until later in the century and he apparently didn’t bother to get one. Maybe it was a visit to aging parents?

Unhappy 1870’s

When the census-taker came around in June 1870 he’s listed still in 2nd Ward of Syracuse as “confectioner”. His valuation has gone up to Real, $2,000 and Personal, $800. There are also wife, Barbara, and three daughters, Anna, Bertha, and Catherine.

Sometime in the early 1870’s the two eldest daughters died in an epidemic (diphtheria?) The Utica NY newspaper story tells the next event succinctly:

Utica Morning Herald, 24 Jan 1876:

ONONDAGA COUNTY The dead body of Mrs. John M. Froebel was found in the Oswego Canal at Syracuse January 20. No adequate motive for suicide is known and the cause of her death is a mystery. It is believed, however, that she was temporarily insane.

The Syracuse newspaper tells more:

Syracuse Daily Standard, 22 Jan 1876:

SAD CASE OF SUICIDE Mrs. Froebel, who resided with her husband and family on the corner of Butternut and Townsend Streets. It seems that Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Froebel were seated in their sitting-room, Mr. Froebel reading the paper. All of a sudden, without a word of warning, Mrs. F. threw her shawl over her head and left the house by the back way. After she was gone a reasonable time, Mr. Froebel sent his little daughter out for her mother, but the girl reported that she could not find her. Mr. Froebel thereupon began a search... The search was continued all night, several friends of Mr. Froebel assisting... Yesterday morning they began dragging the canal, and continued to do so till the middle of the afternoon when the body was found in the canal near Ash Street. No cause is assigned for this rash act, though Mrs. Froebel had been quite ill for some time and had manifested signs of temporary insanity before...

It was just a month later that the news item about his quadrennial birthday appeared. A couple of years later he again petitioned the Common Council for a refund of $3.90 being amount erroneously assessed to him for the construction of the Burnet Street sewer. The first Syracuse city directory 1879-1880 lists him as “Froebel, John M. Grocer and confectioner, 33 Butternut, h do” [home at same location; store on lower floor with living quarters in the rear or above].

City Boy and Country Girl

I’ve always wondered just how and where John met and married Great-grandmother, Catherine M. Jacobs. She was born in Oneida County NY and lived most of her life on the farm in the Town of Amboy in far eastern Oswego County. Her parents had emigrated from Germany about a decade before John, but I’ve been unable to find the correct “John Jacob/Jacobs” in the multitude of men with that name in Ancestry’s passenger lists. Syracuse was a day’s horse-and-buggy ride away! Since John came from Saxe-Weimar and the Catherine’s parents from Wurttemberg, they wouldn’t have known each other in Germany. But there they both were in Amboy when the census-taker came around on June 14, 1880:

Census 1880, Town of Amboy, Oswego County, NY:

- Jacobs, John – Head
- Frobel, John – Son-in-law – White – Male – Age 44 – Farm laborer –
- Born (& both parents) Saxon-Weimar
- Frobel, Katie M. – Daughter – White – Female – Age 30 – Born N.Y. –
- Both parents born Wurtemburg

My grandmother, Flora Sophrona Froebel, was born just a month later on July 15, 1880. But the city boy/country girl marriage was not to last. On September 9, 1881, wife Catharine filed a Summons and Complaint and Motion for alimony. The final Stipulation and Order was filed in February 1883, but the County Historian informed me that the original records at Oswego County have been lost.

He Went Back to Syracuse

John Froebel and his confectioner business re-appeared in the Syracuse city directories by 1884, but this time he had a business partner named B.B. Perry. Something went wrong there, and the newspaper reported:

Syracuse Standard, 12 Oct 1885:

SHERIFF'S SALE ...delivered against the property of Bertha R. Perry and John M. Froebel and Frederick W. Perry, I have seized and taken all right, title and interest which the said John M. Froebel had on the 29th day of July, 1885...All that tract or parcel of land... formerly known as block no. 79 of the village of Syracuse NY...

So he moved to Utica, New York (Oneida County), and is listed in City directories there from 1889 to 1892 at 38 Stark Street.

Jumped Off the Bridge—Or Did He?

Utica Weekly Herald, 26 July 1892, p. 5:

ANOTHER MAN DROWNED A little after one o'clock Thursday afternoon, Coroner Cook was notified that John M. Froebel, who resided at No. 189 Columbia ST, Utica, had been drowned in the river about one-half a mile from the Schuyler Street bridge... Before leaving home Mr. Froebel told his wife he was going to do some work for a Marcy farmer. There is somewhat of a mystery hanging over the case with regard to how the man got into the water. His stepson said that he had become despondent over the fact that his regular pension, which was due this week, had not arrived. Others think there was foul play...

When someone drowns in a river, I’m not sure whether the death is registered in the town north of the river or the one to the south. I’ve tried for a death certificate on both sides with no luck. But the real mystery here is, Who was this guy? The only other “John Froebel/Probel” in the 1880 census was a man in Rochester NY who was still alive there in 1920. Utica has no marriage records for his name if the “wife” listed in the story had been a later marriage. There is only a sprinkling of “Froebel” names across the US, and none around Utica. There are no Civil War pension listings for his name, either. So, was this man an imposter?

Batchelor Quarters in Syracuse

After John’s Utica interlude he returned to Syracuse, and is listed along with four other men in City directories there at 418 Butternut Street. Maybe they assisted in his confectioner business? Unfortunately he succumbed to stomach cancer on November 22, 1896.

Syracuse Evening Herald, 29 Nov 1896:

FROEBEL, JOHN M.-- At No. 415 Butternut ST, last Sunday morning, John M. Froebel, aged 60 years, 8 months and 22 days. The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o’clock at the home of Charles F. Amos, No. 418 Butternut ST. The Rev. H.G. Dattan officiated. Burial was made in Rose Hill Cemetery.

With a disease like stomach cancer he would have had plenty of time to make a will, but there is none in the Syracuse Courthouse records. Apparently he died broke.

More Questions than Answers

Each new document about great-grandfather John M. Froebel answers one question, but leads to the next. Where did he get training as a confectioner? Why did he return to the Old Country in 1869? Where, How, and Why did he meet and marry Catherine (Katie) Jacobs? (She lived the rest of her life with family in Amboy and Parish, Oswego County NY and was remembered fondly by my mother.) Did she succeed in her suit for alimony? Who was the imposter who jumped off the bridge?

My mother wasn’t born until after his death, and her mother was just a baby when John left the family, so his life here has had to be re-created from the following documents:

- Family records (his birth and the death of his older daughters)
- U.S. Censuses, 1860, 1870 and 1880
- Naturalization certificate, Onondaga County NY “Johann M. Froebel, 23 September 1859”
- Newspaper articles from Syracuse and Utica, accessed through “Old Fulton Postcards” website
- New York Passenger Lists (Ancestry.com)
- Syracuse NY and Utica NY city directories
- Death certificate, State of New York, City of Syracuse

EXCHANGE NOTES
by
Jean Laws

The publications mentioned are sent to our society in exchange for our Quarterly. They are filed alphabetically by state and county in the vertical files in the genealogical section of the Olympia Timberland Library. Some of them are eventually bound and placed with bound periodicals in storage at the Montesano Library and Timberland Regional Library Service Center. Anything in storage can be ordered at the reference/information desk to be sent to your library for your use.

Chelan Valley Genealogical Society Vol. 21, Issue 1. Hamburg passenger lists online. Millions traveled at this time from Hamburg to New World. The lists are indexed in 2 parts--direct and indirect. Direct way directly to their destination and indirectly those who stopped at ports like England on their way.

Texarkana USA Journal Fall and Winter 2010. Old Bibles are always treasures. This issue has pages from a Bible of James Wilson Burnett. The owner is not related and is looking for someone who is connected to this family. He was born Oct 8, 1828 and died Mar 18 1862 and had 3 children. No places mentioned. If you find such a treasure try to find the descendants which is much easier now with the Internet.

Grays Harbor Genealogical Society April-June 2011. An interesting and very difficult test purported to have been given to 8th graders in 1896 in Salina County, Kansas. It may actually be a test given to teacher applicants. Lesson? Don't believe everything you read.

Dakota Homestead Historical Newsletter Mar 2011. Some little known Irish facts: 3-17-1776 Password for George Washington's troops at Boston this day was St. Patrick. Of the 1776 Declaration of Independence signers, 8 were Irish, and 3-17-1820 the 1st celebration of St. Pat's day was in St Louis Mo.

Oklahoma Genealogical Society Vol. 56, No. 1 2011. I know the year's half over but here is an article called 50 things you can do to make 2011 a Genealogically significant year. It comes from the Allen County Library in Fort Wayne Indiana and starts with the suggestion that you visit their research center or one near you. Many good suggestions follow so that should keep you busy until next year. One I liked was to take a young person on your next research outing and see if you can ignite a spark.

Minnesota Genealogical Society, Winter 2010. Besides much good information on Minnesota, there is an article called Kick Start your Research. I suggests that you locate long-lost living cousins to add to your family knowledge. The author gives a number of sources and strategies to find these relatives with many examples from her own research.

Northeast Washington Genealogical Society, April 2011. This being the sesquicentennial of the Civil War (150 years) there is an article on local and web sources for information to explore your ties to that war. Also, Susan Dechant is collecting names and info on anyone who died working on the Grand Coulee Dam project. If you know of anyone, let her know so she can add it to her list. This was in 1934-38. Contact her at sdechant@newgs.org. This issue has her current list.

Sno-Isle Genealogical Society, First Quarter 2011. Snohomish County is also having a sesquicentennial and on Friday, January 14, 2011 a celebration was held in downtown Everett. A time capsule was filled by many groups and dignitaries. It would be interesting to see the things thought to be of value 100 years from now. What would you put in a time capsule?

Puget Sound Genealogical Society, February 2011. An interesting article on researching a train wreck that killed the author's great grandfather. She found much info on www.gendisasters.com which comes from newspaper articles. Bad luck for your ancestors can be helpful for you in research.

Mason County Washington Genealogical Society, May 2011. Two general articles you may find useful. Are you guilty of genealogical clutter and don't know what to do about it? This article names 4 causes and discusses each. The are: It's a reminder, it's difficult to put away, lack of decision making and no place established. The other article is related and is on art of becoming organized.

Puget Sound Genealogical Society, April 2011. I keep coming on references to www.mocavo.com and how useful it is to genealogists. Has anyone used this?. Also some interesting family stories in this issue that may inspire you to try harder.

Tacoma-Pierce County Genealogical Society Newsletter, April 2011. This issue features three non-fiction books on genealogy that are of general interest. The Invisible Family by Daniel Sharfstein is about three families fading from black to white. Faces of America by Henry Louis Gates provides all the stories featured on TV last fall. It covers family histories of 12 well known and extraordinary citizens. Shaking the Family Tree: Blue Bloods, Black Sheep and Other Obsessions by Buzzy Jackson. A light hearted story of an historian’s search for her ancestors. Timber Regional Library has copies of all three titles.

Idaho Genealogical Society, Spring 2011. If you have family in Idaho these publications are excellent and full of information on that state.

Tama County, Louisiana Museum News, April 2011. This issue dedicated to the cemeteries of Tama County including pictures and some listings.

Crawford County, Kansas, November/May 2011. Many articles of this area including many about early families, places and events.
The following pages from the Olympia City Directory 1923-24 are continued from the April 2011 OGS Quarterly. This series started in July 2008. The original of this book is at the Olympia Timberland Library.
