Members of the Harford County Genealogical Society:

Special Publication #39 is installment three of the transcriptions from the business records of the J. C. TAYLOR MARBLE CO. This installment covers a portion of the ledger marked "1906 – 1934". This SPECIAL PUBLICATION (SP) is the third of (probably) five, though not necessarily sequential, publications. If you read these data carefully, you will no doubt notice that the ledger marked 1906-1934 is regrettably missing years 1907-1925. Additionally, we have only included years 1927-1930.

The subsequent publications delineated above may be available for researchers at The Historical Society of Harford County headquarters at 143 North Main Street, Bel Air, Maryland, before actually being printed and distributed. SP-37 and SP-38 are available at the headquarters building in searchable electronic format (PDF).

Notations used (revised):

Each record in the ledger was transcribed as accurately as possible into the "Entry:" field. Any 'editorial comments' made are in braces "{...}." Records were typically for tombstones, grave markers, and monuments, but included corner posts, post and rails, and cornerstones, as well as other marble, slate, and granite products.

The "Surname:" field was usually completed with the ledger "record label," and was usually the surname inscribed on the tombstone. Often, other surnames were mentioned in the "Entry:" text, such as the buyer, the intended recipient, estate administrator, or other associates. Every surname listed in "Surname:" and "Entry:" fields has been included in the INDEX. Records for surnames found in the "Entry:" fields simply refer the reader to the record containing the associated surname, ex. "{see page ##, <surname>}. Lastly, "???" are used to indicate questionable spellings of the data.

To enhance the index, the transcriber completed the "Where:" field with the most likely delivery location, if mentioned. This determination was based upon the descriptive text in the "Entry:" field, plus other records in other Ledgers, and crosschecked against the Cemetery Records card file in the Family History Library of The Historical Society of Harford County, Inc.

This "Where:" field attempts to provide a specific reference to unique locations where products and services were delivered, while minimizing the use of aliases. Typically listed is the name of the church, followed by the name of a location or village, associated with the cemetery. For clarity, text after a dash "-" is the location, and may be the only determinable reference. In the case of private burial grounds, the phrase "FAMILY =" is used in place of the church name, and followed by the burial ground's Family surname.

If a surname appears more than once on the same publication page, the page number is listed multiple times in the index as an indication of such.

Your board hopes that you enjoy - - and, of course, find something useful.

INTRODUCTION

By Dr. J. Arch Phillips

Jesse C. Taylor Marble Works

Those who have been following our publications of the J. C. Taylor Records will be familiar with most of the information in this introductory note to Volume 3 of the Business Ledgers of the J.C. Taylor Marble Co., (Special Publication No. 39 of the Harford County Genealogical Society, dated 2009.) Volume 3 includes transcriptions of Mr. Taylor's records spanning the years 1927 thru 1930. Regrettably, records for the years 1907 – 1924 have been lost. It is remarkable that by a very circuitous and unexpected route, we were able to retrieve the large number of records we do have. Through the untiring dedication of Richard Appel and Douglas Washburn, members of the Harford County Genealogical Society, three volumes of records have thus far been transcribed and made readily available for current and future family historians.

Jesse and Ida Taylor at their 70th wedding anniversary.

Jesse Clinton Taylor was born in 1857 in New Market, York Co., Pennsylvania (1 mile north of Md. Line, MD.) He established his monument business in Jarrettsville in 1878, and remained active in the business until age 89, retiring in 1946. From about 1920 until 1976 the business was operated as J. C. Taylor and Son. C. Bland Taylor had joined with his father in the business and was the owner and operator from 1946 until 1965 when he sold the business to George P. Shelton who had worked for J. C. Taylor and Son for many years. Silbaugh Memorials of Shrewsbury, PA subsequently bought the business after Mr. Shelton's Death in 1976.

J. C. Taylor's records are of significance for genealogical research given that at one time or another he did business with virtually every family in Harford County. He also erected monuments for families in Cecil, Baltimore and Carroll Counties, and Baltimore City in Maryland, and York and Lancaster Counties in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Taylor was a skilled craftsman and was know for the many intricate designs he carved on tombstones. He lived a long and productive life in Jarrettsville. In 1880 he Ida Jarrett, a member of the family for whom the village was named. He was prominent in banking, business and civic affairs in the community until shortly before his death on the eve of his 98th birthday in 1955.

(For a more extensive background and history of J. C. Taylor and his business, see the Introduction to Volume I, Business Ledger of the J. C. Taylor Marble Co. , Harford County Genealogical Society Special Publication 37, 2007.

More about the family histories of Jesse C. and Ida Jarrett Taylor are reported in the publication, Jesse Clinton Taylor and Ida Virginia Jarrett: Their Ancestors and Descendants, a copy of which is available in the Historical Society of Harford County collection.
