FORWARD

The following abstracts from Harford County, Maryland Estate Distribution records are particularly exciting for the Harford County Genealogical Society to publish because they are rich in names of persons related or known to the deceased. These are not complete transcriptions listing the total estate property inventory, just the names of those persons involved. All names noted have been indexed, thereby making for a ready research reference.

Special Publication 41 extends by eight years, the indexed Harford County Estate Distribution Records. The HCGS Board of Advisors is continually grateful to members of the Society who give generously of their time to make our special publications possible. We hope you find this one a useful resource.

Your board hopes that you enjoy - - and, of course, find something useful.

J. Arch Phillips, President
Harford County Genealogical Society

INTRODUCTION

This special publication contains abstracts of estate distribution filings from 1846 through 1854 that were submitted to the Register of Wills Office in the Harford County Courthouse in Bel Air, MD. These handwritten ledger entries (official copies of the original filings) appear in Liber C.W.B. No. 2, 1846-1864, and may be viewed at the Register of Wills Office in the Court House, or on microfilm roll number CR 10960-2 at the Historical Society of Harford County, or the Maryland State Archives.

The date of a distribution should not be confused with the actual date-of-death for the Testator. At times, cases were filed years after the testator had passed away.

Estate Distribution files began in Harford County in 1774. Distributions for the period 1774-1846 have already been abstracted in two publications

Heirs & Legatees of Harford County, Maryland 1774-1802 -Peden, Henry C. Jr.; 2009; Distributions of estates naming takers. Indexed. ISBN: 1585491276

Heirs & Legatees of Harford County, Maryland 1802-1846; Peden, Henry C. Jr.; 1988, 2009; Distributions of estates naming takers. Indexed. ISBN: 1585491187

These estate distribution abstracts provide the name of the deceased, the date of distribution of the estate, the name of the Administrator (ADM) also known as the Personal Representative, or Executor, the names of the heirs and legatees (H&L) of a deceased person, plus the page number(s) where the entry appears in the original ledger (C.W.B. No. 2, 1846-1864).

Do not forget to check the decedent's will itself. Remember those names mentioned in a person's will, a legal statement of a person's wishes concerning the distribution of their real and tangible property after death, may not be the same names appearing in the actual distribution record. Some people die after a will is written and before it is probated, so Administrators, Heirs, and Legatees may not be around when the distribution occurs.

I wish to thank Henry C. Peden, Jr. for his guidance, advice, and help in proofreading the contents of this publication, and Richard A. Appel for preparing the final format for the printing. Hopefully, this information will help researchers in documenting the heirs and legatees of their Harford County ancestors.

GUIDE TO THESE ABSTRACTS

The main purpose of this publication is to provide an index to Surnames, with Given names that appear in Estate Distribution filings. Abstracting data can have varied purposes. Because of the excessive amount of non-name related information, it was decided to omit it, and to focus on name indexing, for this genealogical publication.

Below are three forms of this data. First, there is an image, taken from a positive microfilm, of a portion of one page from the original Register of Wills' estate distribution ledger used for this publication. The second is a transcription imitating the clerk's handwriting in that image. While the third, is a copy of the abstract used in this publication.

As you can see, the first image is difficult to read, while the second is somewhat lengthy, for a very small estate. The third image is the abstract of name related data as printed in this publication.

By using the Surname Index, researchers can quickly find distribution abstracts that may be of interest, then determine if the name of interest is for the Deceased, Spouse, Administrator, Heir, or Legatee. When a surname appears more than once on the same page herein, the page reference is only listed once in the Surname Index. If this record holds interest, then the Ledger page number will quickly guide a researcher to the image location on the microfilm roll.

Abstracted data:

The name of the decedent whose property is being distributed is listed at the beginning of the transcription in uppercase letters. This distribution of estate property could be under the terms of the Testator's Will, or by Maryland Law in the absence of a Will.

The date of distribution follows the testator's name.

An Administrator (ADM), also referred to as Personal Representative or Executor, is listed next. He is the person that filed the estate distribution document that states who got what property. This is the formal record of the administrator's efforts to settle the deceased estate.

Heirs and Legatees (H&L) are those persons who are "takers" of a decedent's property as distributed by law. Heirs are those persons entitled by law to receive property of an intestate decedent. Legatees are persons who are entitled under the terms of a Will to receive property of a decedent.

The last notation is a reference to the page number(s) in the original Ledger where the distribution is listed.

Creditors are those persons or businesses that loaned the decedent property (usually money) and received a distribution from the decedent's estate.
