Berger, Alice F. Overstreet

Alice F. Overstreet Berger, 82, of Phoenix died September 27, 2003. Alice was born in Lamar, Colorado on September 9, 1921 and moved to Arizona in 1927. She was a devoted wife, mother, home maker, and artist. She was educated in many Arizona schools, graduating from Prescott High School in 1939. She attended Phoenix College and Arizona State Teachers College (now Northern Arizona University). She met her husband of 61 years, George C. Berger, on a blind date while a student at NAU in September 1940. They were married August 16, 1942. A member of the National Museum of Women in the Arts, Alice loved to study different techniques and felt the greatest thrill was to find new ways to share the talent and insight of master painters. Her expertise was in oils and throughout the years her paintings ranged from southwestern to impressionistic art. Her art life was very important to her and she was displayed in several shows and sold paintings all over the US. Alice always felt Arizona was a part of her spirit and would never have considered living anywhere else in the world. The family is grateful to have several pieces of written history. As a young girl she experienced Tombstone before it was a movie set and told the story of kids sneaking into the boarded up Birdcage Theater to create their own on-stage shows. She lived at the Steele Ranch in Oak Creek and was taught to bake sugar cookies by Sedona Schnebley (for whom the town of Sedona is named). She sang in NAU's Shrine of Ages Choir for Easter sunrise services at the Grand Canyon, and remembered riding the streetcars in Phoenix and standing in front of the downtown J.C. Penney store during the summer "because the air rushing out of the front doors made it the coolest place in town". During her 76 years in Arizona she was a charter member of Chandler's Junior League, served on the Phoenix Fine Arts Committee, Saguaro Lioness Club, Scottsdale Artist's League, numerous committees in the Episcopal church, numerous golf clubs, and Chapter AK, Phoenix, PEO Sisterhood. She is preceded in death by her parents, Mable and Cecil Overstreet, her brother, Paul Overstreet, and her granddaughter, Jennifer Balentine. Ashe, Susan Mary

Susan Mary Ashe, January 19, 1949-October 1, 2003 After a long and courageous battle with cancer, our beloved mother, wife, sister and aunt, Susan Ashe passed away peacefully with the same dignity, serenity and courage with which she lived her life. She will always be an inspiration to the family and friends who were blessed to share her life. A devoted wife and loving mother, she adored her husband Tom and son Christopher. They now have their own special angel watching over them. All who knew her enjoyed her infectious laugh, contagious smile and generous expressions of kindness and forgiveness. She is additionally remembered for her ability to "always be in your corner when the chips are down", "always getting to the heart of the matter", "showing her innate wisdom", and never being considered a "fair weather friend". Susan Mary Condon Ashe was born in Minneapolis, Minnesota on January 19, 1949, the third of eight children to Lowell Duane and Patricia Bredesen Condon. She grew up in the Minneapolis suburbs, graduating from Bemidji State College with a degree in Education and Business. She spent a year in Oxford, England pursuing her love of Shakespeare and Elizabethan literature and English history, frequenting the Shakespeare Theatre at Stratford on Avon. Sue loved traveling, especially through Europe. In 1989 for her fortieth birthday, she and Tom traveled through Europe on the Orient Express and she was able to share with him her special memories as they revisited England together. Christopher who is now thirteen was born at the end of that year. She was a Marketing Director in the early days of Illy Cafe Espresso coffee company and became a coffee expert. Always a beautiful woman inside and outside, she was featured in a television commercial and magazine advertisement for Jif peanut butter. In later years (1997-2001) with the assistance of her sister, Terry, she opened her own gift shop, WOW gifts, located at Alma School Road and Queen Creek Road in Chandler. WOW was MOM spelled upside down and she always felt the idea for the shop was inspired by her mother. A deeply spiritual woman, Susan was very involved in her church, Ocotillo Springs United Methodist Church. She was very appreciative of the kindness and fellowship of her fellow church members and those who ministered to her. Susan was preceded in death by her father, Lowell Condon, who died a month ago. She was also preceded in death by her mother, Patricia, her brother Jon Condon and her nephew Michael Martinez. She is survived by her devoted husband, Tom and beloved son, Christopher. She is also survived by her sisters and brothers: Dr. Cathleen Smith, Fountain Hills; Mrs. Carole Martinez (Michael), Fountain Hills; Ms. Terry Darnell, Phoenix; Mr. Jim Condon (Colleen), Scottsdale, Mr. Tim Condon (Loretta), Phoenix and Ms. Cynthia Bacso, Dunedin, Florida. Beloved Wife, Mother, Grandmother, Great-grandmother, Sister, Sister-in-Law, Aunt, Co-worker and Friend of many passed away suddenly Friday, September 26, 2003 in Amarillo, Texas. Born January 1930 in Rochester, New York to the late Thomas and Elizabeth Baker, she lived in that area until relocating to Phoenix, Arizona 25 years ago. There are so many of us that miss her dearly: her husband of 56 years, Raymond, Jr.; her children: Shirley Ann, Rosemary (Ronald), Cynthia (William), Linda, and Raymond III (Nadine); 15 grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; her siblings: Bernard, Dorothy, Nancy and Betty; and her family of co-workers at ConAir Corp. She was pre-deceased by her siblings: Sunny, Esther and Eugene. She was a loving, nurturing, giving woman. Shirley enjoyed so much: collecting Beanie Babies and dolls, shopping, traveling, and playing cards, crossword puzzles, bingo and, of course, slot machines! She was a great cook, seamstress, gardener, carpenter, and made many crocheted treasures. Christmas was her favorite Holiday, the 23rd Psalm her favorite Bible verse and she was a very patriotic woman. Her love, her sense of humor and keen wit will be missed by all. Ortega, Gilbert

Gilbert Ortega. Gilbert Ortega, legendary Indian art - dealer died Tuesday, September 30, at his Paradise Valley home, surrounded by his family. Though his long battle with the complications of diabetes had taken its toll, his willpower and inner strength defied medical expectations. He was 67. Born April 19, 1936 in Holbrook, Arizona, he was the fifth of seven children of Max and Amelia Ortega. His family heritage hails back to the 1600's in New Mexico, then on into the 1880's in Arizona, where his great grandfather, Santos Ortega, became one of the pioneering settlers of Concho, Arizona Territory-making him a fourth-generation Arizonan. Gilbert Ortega's personal history began while growing up in his father's Navajo reservation trading post along a stretch of Route 66 in Lupton, Arizona. There he learned the intricacies of the business, and a unique way of life. Though a shy young boy, he was fueled by quiet determination, his greatest asset. When he was 20, he and his bride Linda Vanderwagen moved to southern New Mexico. There, Gilbert trained at his brother Armand's trading post, where, Armand, his mentor and teacher taught him the next level of the business. After a couple of years when he ventured out on his own, he came face to face with misfortune and failure, and struggled for several years. He knew he couldn't quit, so with nothing but sheer guts, he kept trying. In the mid-60's when I-40 was paving the way to bypass Route 66, Ortega built a new store on a reservation interchange, and he began experiencing some success. Expansion soon followed, and his dreams began to be realized. Soon after, he opened a location in Gallup, New Mexico, where he established himself in the wholesale Indian jewelry business. This would also prove to be a huge success. In family tradition, he began training his four children in all facets of the business. By the mid 70's, Indian jewelry had gained such popularity, that the business boomed, and Ortega's wholesale operation soared. And like a turquoise tornado, Ortega took advantage of every business opportunity that arose. Working nonstop, he opened stores in other areas of New Mexico, Texas, and Arizona at whirlwind speed. By 1977 he had 16 stores. He sold that chain, and went on to Scottsdale, where by 1980, he started another chain-only his concept began to change, creating finer stores-soon 22 Gilbert Ortega stores spread across the Valley. Then he started buying commercial real estate in Scottsdale, a move that would enhance his growing wealth. His vision never faltered, always raising the bar, Ortega along with his four children developed his retail concept into the sophisticated galleries he built in Scottsdale to showcase the finest in Native American art. He was passionate about Native American art, and devoted to bringing it into the mainstream of business. Today Gilbert Ortega is the largest business of its kind in the country. During his lifetime and his career, Gilbert Ortega touched many lives. His family and friends have not only been inspired by his brilliance and business acumen, but have experienced his generosity and integrity, enjoyed his sparkling wit, and shared his belief that in love and dreams there are no impossibilities. Gilbert Ortega has left a lasting impression. He will be greatly missed. Gilbert Ortega is survived by his former wife Linda Vanderwagen Ortega, his friend and confidant of 45 years, their children, Gilbert Ortega, Jr., Gayle Dean Ortega, Desiree Lynn Ortega, Francine Renee Ortega Schmidt; seven grandchildren, D. J. Ortega-Stanford, Valinda Sarracino, Gilbert Ortega, III, Shalea Sarracino, Asia Ortega-Farrar, Cheyenne Ortega, Londen Ortega-Schmidt, and one great grandchild Taylor Ortega-Stanford. Ortega is also survived by two brothers, Armand Ortega, and Dennis Ortega, and a sister Esther Andre as well as large extended family. He is preceded in death by his parents and three brothers, Dewey, Aggie and Max Ortega. Visitation will be held Sunday October 5 from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. at Messinger Mortuary, 7601 E. Indian School Rd., Scottsdale. Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, 10815 N. 84th St., Scottsdale at 10:30 Monday morning. Private burial services to follow. In lieu of

Pearsall, Keith Andrew "Bud"

Keith "Bud" Andrew Pearsall was born to Leona and Frank Pearsall in Nowata, Oklahoma on December 10, 1918. In the early 1930s, after the passing of his mother, Bud and his large family of three brothers and three sisters moved to Dalhart, Texas and then southern Colorado, before eventually settling with their cousins, the Edmundsons, in Prescott, Arizona. He graduated from Prescott High School in 1936. While a young man, Bud met Ila Huddleson and they eventually married on July 12, 1941. Bud served in the U.S. Army's 27th Infantry Regiment as a Technician-5th Grade from 1944-1946, assisting in the occupation and rebuilding of Japan. In the post-war years, Bud worked for North American Aviation's aircraft and aerospace divisions, a precursor to today's Boeing. Bud's expertise was utilized in the Apollo and Gemini spacecraft projects. While he and Ila raised their two sons, Bud worked for 20 years with North American until retiring in 1968. In June 1970, the family decided that Los Angeles was getting too hectic and moved back to their mountain hometown of Prescott. Bud and Ila built their retirement home while he owned a local service station in town. Sadly, not long after arriving, Ila became ill and later succumbed after a long and brave battle with cancer on December 12, 1972. Bud pressed on and managed a Chevron/Standard Oil distributorship until his retirement in 1983. For the next two decades, Bud, or "Gampy" as his grandchildren and family knew him, was a well-known fixture about town. From his brilliant sense of humor, vibrant interest in the local music scene, and his generous nature, to his role as an all-around Mr. Fix-it, everyone who knew Bud was touched by his bright personality. In 2000, he moved to Phoenix to reside with his son, Wayne, and daughter-in-law, Peri. Bud was the epitome of a Prescottonian... a genuine soul who will be missed by all. In 1951 Fannie and her family moved to Phoenix, where she resided until her death. She found employment as a domestic worker until her retirement in 1976. Fannie's favorite employer was Mrs. Georgia Kaplan. They had more than an employer/employee relationship. They were great friends. Fannie was into health foods as early as the 60's, way before it was fashionable. She had an arsenal of homemade medicinal remedies that really worked. The bad news was, the worse it tasted, the better it was for you. At least that's what she told the family. Literally, she was the family doctor. Fannie's favorite past time was fishing. This was an activity the entire family enjoyed together. She enjoyed fishing well into her later 70's-she and her band of senior cohorts. Fannie was very devoted to her family. While she ruled with an iron fist, her family had no doubt that they were loved everyday. A couple of favorite remembrances are the family trips to the local hamburger stand and Sunday dinners-awesome! She made biscuits, corn bread and gravy to die for. Fannie was affectionately known as "Doll Baby", but the name belies the tough Texan that she really was, with a heart of gold and love for her family and God. Services to be held Saturday, October 11, 2003, 11:00am at Tonto Church of Christ, 1101 West Tonto in Phoenix (Tonto is just south of Buckeye Road).
