Rules, Rules & More Rules

5 GOLDEN RULES OF GENEALOGY

- #1 Leave no stone unturned, unless it is a headstone.
- #2 Handwriting legibility is inversely proportional to a documents importance.
- #3 The further away a cemetery or library is, the more awkward the opening hours will be.
- #4 The relative you most need to talk with is the one whose funeral you are currently attending.
- #5 Wherever you find two or more siblings, there also will you find two or more surname spellings.

"SPELLING DUSN'T COWNT"
1 Back in the day folks couldn't spell and many could barely write, so how a name sounds is more important than how it's spelled. Use wild card or Soundex searches to help find variant spellings of names.

ASSUME NOTHING
2 Check all your facts, don't assume that any particular document is right or wrong, and always try to find other independent sources to corroborate your facts as much as possible. Verify, verify, verify. For instance, don't assume that:
- your ancestors were married
- census information is accurate
- vital (or other) records were correct
- your ancestor's life events were recorded
- ancestors had the same name as their enslaver

USE DISCRETION
3 Never lie in your genealogy reports, but use discretion when reporting family information, especially when it involves living relatives.

ALWAYS DOCUMENT YOUR SOURCES, NO MATTER HOW MUCH THEY CONTRADICT ONE ANOTHER
4 Over time, you will compile more data and those once seemingly contradictory pieces of evidence may prove to be just the pieces of the puzzle you need to prove or disprove your theory. Be consistent as you cite your sources. There are standard citation formats, but even if you just make up your own format for listing your sources, be consistent with it. You want your descendants to be able to retrace your steps, so you always cite your sources.

MOST DATES ARE APPROXIMATE
5 It's okay to state that someone was born "abt. 1845," or died "May 1915" if you don't have an exact date or where various documents have different dates. Which date is "correct?" They all are.

IF UNSURE, SAY SO
6 Future researchers will thank you for being honest if you simply say that you cannot prove a specific fact, yet you "suspect" such and such is true. Don't fudge the facts. Ever.

YOU CANNOT DO IT ALL ONLINE
7 Yes, we love doing research online and there's nothing better than using the computer to find new sources, view digital images of original documents and even connect with relatives. For genealogists, the internet will never replace the wonderful work of libraries, county courthouses, archives, and historical societies. Do as much as you can online, then turn off your computer and hit the bricks!

JUST BECAUSE IT'S ONLINE DOESN'T MEAN IT'S TRUE
8 The internet is a wonderful thing but it's filled with oodles of bad information. Don't make the mistake of believing anything you find online at face value. Verify against other sources, even if you paid for the information you found online. Consult the original source whenever possible.

PASS ALONG YOUR RESEARCH
9 No matter how many decades you spend researching your family, your research will never be done. Plan on passing along your research to the next generation's researchers. Leave excellent notes, cite all your sources, explain your shorthand ... in essence, leave your research the way you'd have liked to have found it.

DON'T DIE WITH YOUR STORIES STILL IN YOU
10 Giving credit to Dr. Wayne Dyer for his "Don't die with your music still in you," we want to remind you to tell the stories as completely and as accurately as possible. Genealogy isn't about just doing research. Genealogy is about telling the stories and ensuring that your ancestor's legacies live on for generations to come. Without the stories, the research won't do anyone much good. The legacy of your ancestors rests in your capable hands. Doing the research is fine, but always remember that you have been chosen to tell their stories.

DNA IS NOT A TRUMP CARD
11 DNA is just one of many possible sources of information you can use to verify or deny a relationship. Human error occurs when the results are transcribed, thereby providing false information. DNA results should always be used in concert with other sources.

ANYTHING YOU POST ONLINE WILL BE "BORROWED"
12 You need to accept the fact that any family information you post online will be "borrowed" or outright stolen, and you will probably not get credit for all your hard work. This is the nature of the beast... the internet. Get over it.

SPREAD THE WORD
You have our permission to use/publish these Golden Rules as much as you like. Just give us credit for them, okay?

27 Golden Rules of Genealogy

Posted on 15 December 2014 | 43 comments

Genealogy has rules. There are Do's and there are Don'ts. There are Rights and Wrongs. Commandments to follow. And it pays to know and follow these rules from the beginning of your research.

The Golden Rules of Genealogy

1. ALWAYS work backwards from the known (yourself) to the unknown (forebears)
2. NEVER believe everything on a Birth, Death or Marriage certificate
3. NEVER completely trust the spelling of surnames, place names etc
4. ALWAYS check surname variants when researching
5. ALWAYS aim to have at least 2 separate sources of proof for each event
6. REMEMBER that everything is only speculation until verified
7. ALWAYS photocopy certificates and important documents and leave the originals in a safe place
8. IF a document exists, read it!
9. Do join at least one Family History Group, Genealogical Society or Historical Society
10. SHARE your information and documentation – copies only – with others researching similar lines

The Seven Golden Rules #1

- Start with yourself and work backwards
 - Record everything you know about your recent ancestors
 - Fill in events and dates as completely as you can
 - Don't jump to 1066, work back to it...

The Seven Golden Rules #2

- Start with yourself and work backwards
- Be Organized
 - Use charts, memo books and index cards
 - Record your sources and where you found them
 - Create binders or file boxes for each group with dividers for surnames / locations
 - Organize your computer files the same way
 - Surnames
 - Events (birth, marriage, death, census, baptism, etc)
 - Locations

The Seven Golden Rules #3

- Start with yourself and work backwards
- Be Organized
- Interview your living relatives
 - Fill in the blanks on your tree as best you can
 - Don't overlook your cousins
 - Take a rough pedigree chart with you (or mail it before)
 - Try to identify new areas of research (i.e. war records)
 - Ask for copies of photographs and other documents
 - Always provide them with copies of your work

The Seven Golden Rules #4

- Start with yourself and work backwards
- Be Organized
- Interview your living relatives
- Stay focused on one family line at a time.
 - Don't “shotgun” your family history!
 - Break your research into family groups
 - Rotate surnames when you get road blocked

The Seven Golden Rules #5

- Start with yourself and work backwards
- Be Organized
- Interview your living relatives
- Stay focused on one family line at a time.
- Learn about surnames and their origins.
 - Use Google and local history sources
 - Understand how surnames change over time
 - Map your surname distribution

Where do you think you are?

The world family name mapping website uses many new and up to date sources to tell you where in the world people with your family name are found. Additionally, we provide lots of interesting facts and figures about the people who share your family name.

Welcome to publicprofiler

We are leaders in training and research in spatial analysis. We have also created a range of spatial information tools for profiling the public, the public sector and commerce.

Stand alone profiling software

Data services

Geographic web portals and on-line

We believe that the best practice arises out of the best research, and the primary goal of publicprofiler is to link world class spatial science research to cutting edge public sector applications. University College London hosts one of the world's leading clusters of spatial scientists with research interests across a range of application areas and sectors.

New approaches to area profiling

Our work has appeared throughout the international peer reviewed literature. We believe that openness to scrutiny is the best test of methods and applications that are robust and safe to use.

Nowhere is this more important than in public sector decision making, where it is key to stakeholder involvement. We believe we are creating an accessible and refreshingly open learning and knowledge transfer environment.

Research resources

Onomap name classification software

The Onomap software tool classifies any list of names into groups of common cultural ethnic and linguistic origin using surnames and forenames. It can be run in a standalone version that requires no installation or internet connectivity, making it a valuable name coding tool for secure operating environments.

Free OACoder

The Output Area Classification (OAC) is a free and open geodemographic profiler provided by the Office for National Statistics (ONS). To encourage the widest possible use of this classification, we have devised a software tool which appends OAC codes onto any CSV list of postcodes.

Funeral services will be at 11:30 a.m., Wednesday, at the Ira Kaufman Chapel, 18325 West Nine-Mile, Southfield. Burial will be in Machpelah Cemetery, Ferndale.

Club Stalled in Ferndale

Ferndale city commissioners Monday night put off for one week a decision on leasing a part of Harding Park to a private developer for construction of a $1 million indoor tennis club.

Three commissioners who approved the postponement said the week will provide time to work out unresolved problems concerning the amount of parkland needed for the eight tennis courts, locker rooms and handball courts.

The delay temporarily appeased the approximately 50 residents who attended the meeting to oppose the plan. But Mayor Robert J. Paczkowski and the developer said the postponement would do little to resolve the problems.

City Manager Ronald U. DeMaagd said specific terms of the lease can't be worked out until a final proposal is approved and construction financing is arranged.

Approximately 12 residents spoke out strongly against the

Ferndale's Enrollment Dips

Ferndale School enrollment is down 264 pupils during the first week of classes compared with the same period last year.

Supt. William G. Coyne of Ferndale told school board members Monday while the district only lost 42 pupils between last June and this September, during the year about 222 pupils left the district.

And Coyne said the district is still plagued with a large number of split sections, combined grade classrooms, in many elementary schools.

Coyne said elementary school principals will meet this week and discuss how to alleviate the problem either by realigning staff members or dividing classes differently within the first few weeks of school.

Not As Predicted—

There are 6,594 pupils attending Ferndale Schools today from the 6,636 figure compiled in June. But the decline is not as great as officials had projected last April.

While the figures quoted by Coyne to board members Monday are not official they are a measure of the youngsters who have already showed up in classrooms since school opened last Wednesday.

Coyne said there are indications the district may pick up a few more youngsters before the fourth Friday count is taken.

The count on the fourth Friday in September is the district's official enrollment count. It is on the basis of that count that the district receives state aid funds.

Special Education—

The figures quoted by Coyne also do not include special education students. When those are included the figures change and the district will probably be down even more — about 312 youngsters.

Using only figures dealing with non special education youngsters last September there were 6,858 pupils enrolled in Ferndale schools.

By June there were 6,636 pupils attending school in the district. Coyne said the loss of about 222 pupils during the year was due to families moving from the district, school dropouts and youngsters who were graduated from Ferndale High School in January under an early graduation program. An exact breakdown is not yet available.

Four Year Period—

Enrollment figures for the past four years, exclusive of special education pupils show:

In September of 1970 there were 7,948 pupils enrolled in Ferndale Schools. In September of 1971 there were 7,774 youngsters, a loss of 174 pupils.

By September of 1972 there were 7,316 pupils, a loss of 458. Enrollment on September of 1973 was 6,858, another 458 pupil drop.

Officials predicted last April that there would be 6,556 pupils enrolled this September, a loss of 302 pupils.

Accidents Claim 2 Six Others Injured

Accidents claimed the lives of two persons and injured six others in traffic accidents Monday and early today, in South Oakland and Pontiac Township.

Dead on arrival at Providence Hospital, Southfield, was EMANUELA (CINDY) CIAVARELLA, age 52, 29464 Brentwood.

Admitted to Providence Hospital were:

MICHAEL OSBORNE, age 26, Germanville, Penn., multiple cuts.

NANCY OSBORNE, age 25, Germanville, Penn., facial fracture.

Treated at Providence Hospital was:

JOHN JAY JUREWICZ, age 21, Mount Clemens, multiple cuts and a broken nose.

Harper was driving a motorcycle.

McAdams is being held in the Oakland County Jail pending issuance of a manslaughter warrant, said undersheriff Leo R. Hazen, Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Treated at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, were:

CLINTON FALKENBURY, age 80, 612 West Eleven-Mile, Royal Oak, facial lacerations.

SALENA MAURICE, age 7, 2900 North Main, Royal Oak, back and forearm injuries.

Falkenbury was injured by a car driven by Larry A. Smith, age 31, 1929 Vinnette.

Water Bd. Delays in Avon

Avon Township's Sewer Water Advisory Board Monday postponed election new officers for one month records of appointments a election procedures can checked.

Township Supervisor Harold Pepper asked to delay in a letter to the Sewer and Water Board Monday. Pepper said he wants to check if terms of any members are expiring.

Township officials also want to review election procedure. The Sewer and Water Board was re-vamped two or three years ago and officials say they are uncertain requirements.

The Sewer and Water Board accepted the resignation William J. Fognini, 639 Yale from his seat on the seven member board. The Township Board must name a successor. Charles W. Vigor currently is serving as chairman of the Sewer and Water Board; a apparently nobody fills the position of vice chairman. "We've got to check the records," said Marilyn Smith board secretary.

Library, Rocheste Stall Pac

The Avon Township Library Board Monday said it wants postpone negotiations on new contract to provide service to Rochester until nagging questions about library expansion are resolved.

The Library Board's contract with the Rochester City Council will expire in March and library officials are seeking an increase in payments from 60 to 65 cents per $1,000 of equalization. The library, run by the Township Board, located in the City of Rochester.

That would mean an increase from current payment of $24,512 to $41,130 next year. City officials were receptive to the proposal. meeting was tentative scheduled for Sept. 30.

That was before developments last week threaten further delay in obtaining state approval for a $1 million bond issue needed for library expansion.

Rochester has set aside funds for a 150-car parking lot for the library.

Welcome to OntarioGenWeb

The OntarioGenWeb was created in February 1997 as part of the CanadaGenWeb Project.

OntarioGenWeb specializes in the how and where - how to research Ontario and where to find research resources. This Project is a NOT a research service. OntarioGenWeb volunteers and hosts are here to provide information on the web to help you help yourself trace your family tree.

We understand that most visitors are specifically seeking actual genealogical records for free viewing but in order to accomplish this goal we need time and VOLUNTEERS! If you'd like to see free information available online volunteer to help either in your local area, or for your research area.

Consider becoming a volunteer, with all of us working together we can accomplish more in a shorter period of time.

Enjoy your visit!
