

PHYSICIANS

A directory of short character sketches about physicians from the Belleville area (roughly 45 mile radius) in Ontario who graduated before 1940.

Dr. Donald Brearley

Updated April 2017

Published by the Quinte Branch, Ontario Genealogical Society, 2010-2017

About the Physicians Directory

This directory was first published on the Quinte Branch website in August 2010 with more than 400 short character sketches of local doctors (roughly a forty-five-mile radius from Belleville) who graduated before 1900. These character sketches are updated with new information as it becomes available.

An additional 100 character sketches of local doctors who graduated 1900-1909 were added in July 2012. During 2013, an additional 100 doctors who graduated 1910-1919 were included and further research produced another 200 graduating physicians from the pre-1900 period who have also been included. Additional text will follow and will detail each decade, presenting biographical and genealogical information. In March 2015, 100 physicians who graduated from 1920-1929 and 100 who graduated from 1930-1939 were added. An additional 51 physicians who graduated prior to 1900 were added in January 2016. In February 2017, 65 physicians who were from the area but moved elsewhere to practice were added; they all graduated prior to 1900. An additional 50 physicians who graduated from 1900-1909 were added in March 2017.

The directory is in alphabetical order. Additions since the previous update are marked (new); those entries that have been changed since the previous update are marked (updated).

Dr. Brearley encourages readers to contact him with pertinent information to be included in future editions. He may be reached at: don.brearley@bellnet.ca

Copyright

© 2010-2017, Quinte Branch, The Ontario Genealogical Society. All rights reserved.

This directory may be used for personal reference and private study and freely linked to from other websites. No part of this directory may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted, in any form or by any means—electronic, mechanical, photocopying, microreproduction, recording or otherwise—without permission from the publisher. Any requests for other uses should be directed to quintebranch@ogs.on.ca.

INTRODUCTION

Dr. Donald Brearley

Donald Brearley is a native of Belleville, son of Dr. and Mrs. Guy Gage Brearley and a graduate of Queen's University Medical School in 1970. He soon established himself in the practice of his life's work in his home town where he has practiced his profession for 40 years. This text was initiated in 1985 as a centenary project celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Belleville General Hospital built in 1886. It has been updated several times.

Physicians

It was thought that a doctor had an immense advantage with regard to his health over ordinary men, in spite of his greater liability to contract contagious and infectious diseases; an advantage favourable to longevity.

First among the 'facts' was that a doctor never took his own medicine. Men who were not physicians took large quantities of medicine; it was estimated that the average person took seven quarts of liquid medicine, three pounds of powders and two hundred pills annually from the time of birth until death. About a third of this quantity of medicine was taken without the advice of a doctor, and the remainder was given by medical advisors. Also it was thought that not only did he never take his own medicines, but he seldom called in another physician to prescribe for him, knowing that medicines were only to be taken when their use could not be avoided. Thus it was a popular notion that members of the medical profession lived to a great age whilst their patients seldom rivaled their longevity.

The average duration of life among doctors in England in the sixteenth century was 36 years and five months; in the seventeenth century it had risen to 45 years and eight months. The average duration of life for the original 400 doctors in this text, who graduated before 1900, was 64 years, 10½ months.

Belleville General Hospital

The dream of a few ladies who put their heads together in 1879 as the Women's Christian Association was realized July 20th, 1886 when the Hospital on Dundas Street, which had been erected through the efforts of, and under the auspices of, the Women's Christian Association, was dedicated. The hospital had 29 beds; the rooms were light, airy and cheerful. An experienced administrator was secured in the person of Miss Lincke who had been recommended by the Ontario Government. The management was in the hands of the Women's Christian Association and medical attendance was given by local physicians who served a month in turn, the first to act being Dr. D.E. Burdett. Other physicians at the opening ceremonies included Drs. Eakins, Wilson, Farley, Curlett, Gibson and Stewart.

The Physicians

Abbott, Samuel Anson Dr.
-1887

Samuel Abbott was born on Wolfe Island, near Kingston, and was a graduate of Queen's University and a Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Kingston, in 1868. Dr. Abbott soon established himself in Belleville where he built up a large practice. On the evening prior to his demise, he slipped and fell heavily, near the upper bridge. He was found dead in his room the next morning. Dr. Abbott died on January 29, 1887, aged 45.

Acheson, George Dr.
1859-1929

George Acheson was born at Galt, Ontario on August 23, 1859, the son of Reverend Robert Acheson and Selena Shain. He attended the University of Toronto where he graduated with his B.A. (1880), M.A. (1883) and his medical degree in 1887. Dr. Acheson soon established himself at Trenton, Ontario and married Louisa Mary Phymister on December 3, 1890 at Westmount, Quebec. While at Trenton he served as a member of the Board of Examiners for the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario in the subjects of Chemistry and Toxicology and was a lecturer in Pathology and Histology at the Women's Medical College in Toronto. Dr. Acheson was a veteran of World War 1 and attained the rank of Brigadier-General. He practised some time at St. Martins, New Brunswick, but suffered from pernicious anaemia and was forced to retire. Dr. George Acheson returned to Ontario where he died at Hamilton on November 26, 1929, aged 70 years, 3 months and 3 days.

Adams, Joseph Dr.
-1942

Joseph Adams was born at Kingston and attended Queen's Medical School, graduating in 1892. He soon established himself at Plevna where he followed the practice of his profession for over 50 years. This country doctor attended to the residents of the Townships of Denbigh, Abinger, Ashby, Griffith, Matawatcha and Raglan. He served as Clerk of the Township and was Medical Health Officer for the community. Dr. Adams died at Plevna on December 8, 1942, aged 75 years 7 months 23 days.

Adams, Richard Charles
Dr.
1906-1956

Richard Charles Adams was born at Wooler, Ontario on August 7, 1906 son of Fred Adams and Annie Blakeley. He was a graduate of medicine from Queen's University in 1931, interned at the Ottawa General Hospital and then practised general surgery in Belleville. Dr. Adams was married to Elma Finkle on May 11, 1935 and in October of that year went to Rochester, Minnesota as a fellow in anaesthesiology in the Mayo Foundation where he subsequently held various senior posts. He was known for his interest in music and produced and directed the Mayo Clinic Christmas show and directed the Mayo Clinic orchestra known as the Clinic Cavaliers; he was the author of medical texts. Dr. Richard Charles Adams died in Rochester, Minnesota on January 21, 1956 aged 49 years 5 months 14 days.

Adams, William Anderson
Dr.
1850-1940

William Anderson Adams was born at Tweed, Ontario on July 17, 1850, the son of John Adams and Ann Newton. He was educated in the public school and collegiate institute at Cobourg and graduated from the medical school at Toronto in 1876. He practiced at Seaforth, Huron County and Chapman, Hastings County, near Tweed. He married Sarah Barker and in February 1888 removed to Sault Ste. Marie where he was a pioneer among the medical fraternity. He served as physician to the jail for twelve years before his appointment as Post Master in 1903. He established himself in the drug business, was active in the local politics as a Liberal and was a member of the Oddfellow's Lodge. Dr. William Anderson Adams died at Guelph on June 4, 1940, aged 89 years, 10 months and 17 days.

Aishton, Thomas Dr.
-1877

Thomas Aishton was born in Plymouth, England and came to Canada after the sudden loss of his wife and child. He soon settled at Bath where he practiced his profession for the rest of his life. He was a well-known Physician throughout the County of Lennox and Addington having lived there for half a century, during which time he observed the growth and development of the county. Dr. Aishton died in Bath on December 4, 1877, aged 69 years 2 months 13 days.

Alexander, Frederick
Archibald Duncan Dr.
1908-1983

Frederick Archibald Duncan Alexander was born at Arden, Ontario on September 8, 1908 son of Samuel Alexander and Emma Osborne. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1933 and was united in marriage to Helen Sowards on September 5, 1933. Dr. Alexander worked at Belleville for a short time and then took specialist training in anaesthesia at the University of Wisconsin in Madison and at Bellevue Hospital in New York. He went on to become associate professor of anaesthesiology, physiology and pharmacology at Albany Medical College in Albany, New York while serving as director of anaesthesiology, gas therapy, blood banks and physiological services at Albany Hospital. He invented the Alexander Mouth-to-Mouth Insufflator which provided sanitary ventilation to patients of all ages. Dr. Alexander lectured widely, was a pioneer in pain medicine, and was chief of anaesthesia in the U.S. Air Force during World War II. After military service he practised and taught in Texas, Iowa and New York. Dr. Frederick Archibald Duncan Alexander died in Oakland, California on May 7, 1983 aged 74 years 7 months 29 days.

Alexander, Walter Pennington John Dr.

Walter Pennington John Alexander was born at Cannington, Ontario on August 9, 1878, son of John Alexander and Phoebe Ann Wilson. He graduated from the collegiate institute of his native town and was a Pharmacist at Madoc for several years. Here he married Blanche O'Hara on April 14, 1908; and after some years entered into the study of Medicine at the University of Toronto where he graduated in 1919. He returned to Madoc, where he hung his shingle, removed to Bancroft and then settled at Bloomfield, Ontario; he was well known throughout the counties of Hastings and Prince Edward. Dr. Walter Pennington John Alexander died at Bloomfield on May 1, 1931, aged 52 years, 8 months and 22 days.

1878-1931

Alger, Harry Herbert Dr.
-1938

Harry Herbert Alger was born near Colborne and, after his elementary education, he entered Trinity College, Toronto graduating with degree of Medicinæ Doctoræ, Chirurgiæ Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery), in 1893. After practicing for four years in Frankford, he went to Stirling and opened an office in 1900. Dr. Alger was Medical Officer of Health, a Coroner of the County of Hastings, and a Canadian National Railway Doctor during the whole time he lived in Stirling. For nearly 40 years, he was interested in military life, having been associated with the old 49th Regiment, Hastings Rifles. At the outbreak of W.W.I, in the service of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, he became Medical Officer of the 80th Battalion, with which unit he went overseas. He was gazetted as Lieutenant Colonel in 1915 and served with other units, including the 124th Battalion, as Medical Officer of Health. He was present at Vimy Ridge, Lens, and Passchendaele in 1917. He returned from overseas in January of 1919. For many years, he was connected with the School Board, of which he was Chairman for some time. Dr. Alger died on September 4, 1938, aged 71 years 10 months 12 days.

Allen, Alfred George Dr.
-1956

Alfred George Allen was born in Kingston and graduated from Queen's University Medical School in 1887. He practiced in Deseronto and Gananoque, moving in 1892 to the Black Hills region of South Dakota, establishing himself at Deadwood, where he remained until 1932, removing to Denver, Colorado, then Harper Washington in 1941. He was a member of the American Medical Association and a Fellow in the American College of Surgeons. Dr. Allen was an honorary member of the Harrison Memorial Hospital and was a life member of the South Kitsap Shrine Club. Dr. Allen died at Harper, Washington on January 26, 1956, aged 89 years 9 months 16 days.

Allen, James Dr.
-1870

James Allen was a graduate of Edinburgh University and came to Canada shortly after graduation and settled in South Fredericksburgh about 1839. He moved to Napanee in 1841 where he followed his profession for three years and operated a drug store. He decided to give up his profession to farm instead, and was succeeded by Dr.

Shirley. He purchased a farm at Little Lake and is recognized as the founder of Marlbank, which was originally called Allen's Mills. Here he constructed the mill, opened his house as a preaching place and set part aside as a school. A sawmill and gristmill were constructed. Marlbank had immense deposits of marl soil which was ideal for the making of cement. This, and the availability of ample water power attracted the establishment of the Portland Cement Company in 1891. The community had the advantages of a skilled physician and an enterprising businessman. Dr. Allen died on August 30, 1870, aged 75.

Allen, James Ross Dr.
1869-1935

James Ross Allen was born at Kingston, Ontario on August 31, 1869, son of Reverend Hiram Allen and Anna Smith. He was a graduate of Queen's University in 1894 and was married on October 14, 1896 to Bertha May Greenwood. After graduation, Dr. Allen was soon established at Napanee where he remained a few years before removing to Olean N.Y. Here Dr. Allen served as a member of the Cattaraugus County Board of Supervisors and was captain in the Medical Corps in the New York National Guard from 1900 to 1913. He was a member of the American Medical Association, trustee of the Church in Olean, a director of the First National Bank and former president of the Higgins Memorial Hospital Board. Dr. James Ross Allen died at Buffalo on August 11, 1935, aged 65 years, 11 months and 10 days.

Allen, James Young Dr.
-1892

James Young Allen was born at Cookstown, Ireland. He began his apprenticeship in 1829 in Dublin and graduated from the Faculte de Medecine de Paris in 1833. He returned to Dublin and studied at the University of Glasgow, graduating in 1835. He engaged in practice at Cookstown until 1841 when he came to Canada. He commenced practice at Kingston, having obtained license from the Governor-General, Sir Charles Bagot, January 21, 1842 and continued to practice at Kingston; he was commissioned Assistant-Surgeon 2nd Battalion Lennox Militia on July 1, 1847. In 1852, he removed to Demorestville, then Bradford, and to Toronto in 1886. Dr. Allen was a personal friend of Sir John A. MacDonald, and was one of the promoters that first brought him out as a candidate. Dr. Allen died at Toronto on January 31, 1892, aged 77 years 9 months 19 days.

Allen, Joseph Dr.
-1881

Joseph Allen, a native of Adolphustown, started his studies at Queen's College, Kingston and graduated from medical school at Bellevue Hospital, New York. He established himself in East New York until health forced him to return home. Dr. Allen died of consumption on December 18, 1881, aged 34 years 1 month 29 days.

Allen, Thomas Elijah Dr.
1843-1922

Thomas Elijah Allen was born at London, Ontario on March 7, 1843, son of Hugh Allen and Martha Billings. He was a certificant of the Homeopathic Medical College of Ohio in 1867 and was licensed in Ontario on June 4, 1869, and established in St. Catherines, Ontario;. about a decade later he was following the practice of his profession in Belleville. Dr. Thomas E. Allen was charged with having on the 31st of January, 1879, in the Township of Sidney, by the administration of some deadly drug, or by the use of some instrument, with the intent to procure an abortion, feloniously killed a female child. The charges arose when on February 11, the body of a female infant wrapped in a piece of factory cotton and tied with a cord was found in the river. Information obtained by the police led to the belief that the body was that of an illegitimate child delivered by Dr. Allen. At trial, after all the facts became known, the doctor was found guilty of concealing the birth of a child. Dr. Allen married Emma Rowe on January 26, 1881 in Sidney Twownship and was soon gone from the area. Dr. Thomas Elijah Allen died at St. Louis, Missouri on April 6, 1922, aged 79 years and 29 days.

Allingham, Arthur Wellesley Dr.
-1940

Arthur Allingham was born in Warkworth. He attended school at Peterborough and then went to Normal School in Toronto. He went west to teach school in 1888, near Broadview, Saskatchewan. Later, he went to Trinity College where he graduated in medicine in 1891. He practiced initially in Bishop, California for some time and there returned to Broadview. He was Indian doctor for one of the reservations north of Broadview for many years and served as Surgeon to the Canadian Pacific Railway. He was active in municipal affairs and was elected town Mayor for several terms. Dr. Allingham died on May 12, 1940, aged 75 years 8 months.

Allison, David Membery
Dr.
1879-1956

David Membery Allison was born at Adolphustown on March 20, 1879, son of David Wright Allison and Amelia Elizabeth Membery; his father was a Member of Parliament for Lennox and Addington in the 1890s. He received his early education at Adolphustown and Picton High School. Dr. Allison graduated in Medicine from Queen's in 1900, was one of the youngest graduates in the history of Queen's, and did post-graduate study in England. He practiced for a year at Mountain Grove before moving to the United States in 1902. Dr. Allison married Florence Isabel Roberts on July 27, 1905. Dr. Allison settled at Camden, New York, where he followed the practice of his profession until he retired eight years before his death. Dr. D. M. Allison died on March 29, 1956, aged 77 years and 9 days.

Allison, Gerald Dr.
1892-1971

Gerald Allison was born at Picton, Ontario on March 3, 1892, son of Charles Benjamin Allison and Erma Frances Crandall. He obtained his Medical Degree from the University of Toronto in 1915 and soon enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps in World War I. He served with a Casualty Clearing Station, was transferred to the Royal Army Medical Corps, was posted to Number 17 Stationary Hospital in Gallipoli in 1915; and later stationed at a seaport along the Suez Canal. Later, he served at the Khyber Pass and at a station hospital in India. Upon his return to France, he became Medical Officer of the London Irish Rifles and served as Adjutant and Instructor at the Royal Army Medical Corps Officers' School at Blackpool, England. After the War, he established a Medical Practice at Picton, where he married Verna Bernice Branscombe on October 17, 1923. He was involved in community affairs, was Past Master of the Bay of Quinte Masonic Lodge, was Past President of the United Empire Loyalist Association and a supporter of local sports clubs. In World War II, he served as Medical Officer in command of Picton's Medical Board and served as Medical Officer at Barriefield, Kingston; he worked as Director of Ambulance and Commanding Commissioner of the St. John's Ambulance. He was in active practice for more than fifty years, earned a distinguished record of military service and retired with the rank of Colonel; he was wounded and gassed at the Dardanelles. Dr. Gerald Allison died at Kingston on April 3, 1971, aged 79 years and 1 month.

Ames, James Addison Dr.
1865-1926

James Addison Ames was born at Codrington, Ontario on March 24, 1865 son of George Ames and Catherine Maybee. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1895 and immigrated to New York State in May of that year; Dr. Ames was united in marriage to Lillian Stark on Aug 14, 1895. For nearly 20 years he practised medicine in Rush and West Henrietta, N.Y. and during W.W. 1 he volunteered for service and was sent to Camps Johnson and Greenleaf during the influenza epidemic. Receiving the rank of Captain upon discharge he went to Rochester where he practised for the duration. During his career he served as Monroe County Coroner and Health Officer for Henrietta. Dr. James Addison Ames died at Rochester on Jan 21, 1926 aged 60 years 9 months 27 days.

Amos, William Wilson Dr.
1879-1960

William Wilson Amos was born at Shannonville, Ontario on Jan 24, 1879 son of Alexander Amos and Elizabeth Mayell. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1902 following which he served as house surgeon in Montreal. Dr Amos was united in marriage to Hinda Fowler on Sept 25, 1907. He soon established himself at Lloydminster, Sk where, in addition to his practice, he was Justice of the Peace and physician to the Onion Lake Reserve. Later Dr Amos was Deputy Provincial Secretary, Registrar of Joint Stock Companies and Commissioner of the Saskatchewan Liquor Board. Dr William Wilson

Amos died at Vancouver, B.C. on Apr 8, 1960 aged 81 years 2 months 14 days.

Anderson, John Stewart
Dr.
1881-1951

John Stewart Anderson was born at Wooler, Ontario, on November 17, 1881, son of William Anderson and Mary MacPherson. He was educated at Wooler Public School, Trenton High School and the University of Toronto, from which he graduated in Medicine in 1907. Dr. Anderson married Mary Halliday Barnes on October 27, 1907; he practiced his profession and spent his entire life in his native town. Dr. J. S. Anderson died at the Belleville General Hospital on October 7, 1951, aged 69 years, 10 months and 20 days.

Anderson, Oswald
Watson Dr.
1897-1982

Oswald Watson Anderson was born at Sundridge, Ontario on May 26, 1897 son of Albert Anderson and Annie Scott. He was initially a school teacher and left this profession to enlist in the Canadian Infantry during the First World War; he was shot in the throat by a German sniper and after his recovery he studied medicine with the class of 1924 at the University of Toronto. Dr. Anderson was united in marriage to Sadie Brookbank on June 1, 1926 and established himself in his life's work in Hastings County, working at Whitney, Maynooth, Coe Hill and Bancroft. He made his calls by foot, horseback or on occasion by railcar. His specialty was anaesthesia but he maintained a private practice, acted as coroner and was the centre of widespread attention when he delivered triplets in Lake St. Peter; the deliveries began on December 31, 1941 and finished up the next day, in 1942. Dr. Oswald Watson Anderson died at Haliburton on August 30, 1982 age 85 years 3 months and 4 days.

Anderson, Reginald Moore Dr.
1910-1958

Reginald Moore Anderson was born at Montreal, Quebec on April 15, 1910 son of Arnold Anderson and Anna Moore. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at McGill University in 1936 and established himself at Belleville; he was united in marriage to Alice McIntosh on July 6, 1938. Dr. Anderson served with the medical services in the Royal Canadian Air Force during World War 11 ending as senior Medical Officer in command of the 250 bed hospital at the Trenton Airbase. Following the War he returned to practice, served on the boards of the Ontario Medical Association, Physician Services Incorporated and the Canadian Medical Association; he played a central role in the development of Ontario's first major prepaid medical care plan. Dr. Anderson became vice president and medical director of Mead Johnson, Canada in 1958; in 1967 he joined the Queen's Medical Faculty to work on community medicine and in 1971 became medical director of the Belleville General Hospital; afterwards he maintained a family practice and allergy clinic for 10 years. Dr.

Reginald Moore Anderson died at Belleville on April 5, 1998 aged 87 years 11 months 20 days.

Anderson, William Arnold
Douglas Dr.
1910-1986

William Arnold Douglas Anderson was born at Hampton, Ontario on August 27, 1910 son of Reverend Thomas Anderson and Charlotte Cook. As the son of a minister, he received his primary education at various locales as his father had several charges including Bancroft, Hallowell, Hampton, Hastings, Napanee, Selby and Newburgh; he was the brother of Judge J.C. Anderson of Belleville. A graduate of the medical school at the University of Toronto in 1934, Dr. Anderson interned at St. Michaels Hospital in Toronto, was a fellow in pathology at the University of Toronto and a pathology assistant at Duke University in North Carolina. He was united in marriage to Harriot Gates on September 3, 1934. Dr. Anderson was professor of pathology at the University of Miami School of Medicine and author of several medical texts on pathology. Dr. William Arnold Douglas Anderson died at Miami, Florida on January 20, 1986 aged 75 years 4 months 23 days.

Andrews, Arnold John Dr.
1913-1974

Arnold John Andrews was born at Haarlem, the Netherlands on August 15, 1913. He attended the University of Lausanne, Switzerland and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1939. After interning at the Toronto General Hospital he joined the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and in December 1942 went overseas as second in command of the No. 6 Canadian General Hospital with the rank of Major. He obtained his fellowship in radiology with both the Canadian and American College and entered general practice in Brighton, Ontario; he was a radiological consultant to the Royal Canadian Air Force Base at Trenton. Dr. Andrews took further studies in his specialty in Boston and joined the medical staff of North York Branson Hospital in 1957 where he inaugurated the school of X-Ray technology and served as the chief of staff. Survived by his wife, the former Catherine Corson, Dr. Arnold John Andrews died in the Channel Islands, England on November 3, 1974 aged 61 years 2 months 18 days.

Appleby, Henry Lyon Dr.
1895-1970

Henry Lyon Appleby was born at Deseronto, Ontario on June 25, 1895, son of Thomas Earl Appleby and Mary Maxwell. He was an Undergraduate in Medicine at Queen's University when he left to serve with Number 7 Canadian General Hospital in World War I. Returning to Queen's, he graduated in 1919 as Gold Medalist of his class and married Margaret Patricia Lawler on March 1, 1920. He spent the next several years in post-graduate Surgical Training in Canada and Europe, earning his Fellowship of the Royal College of Surgeons (England) in 1921, and was, at the time, the thirteenth Canadian so qualified and the youngest in the British Empire. Dr. Appleby established a Surgical Practice in Vancouver, British Columbia in 1924, and served as a member of the Medical Staff of St. Paul's Hospital, latterly as Surgeon In Chief, until his retirement in 1968. He was a prolific writer on surgical topics, served as President of the International College of Surgeons, was the owner and breeder of thoroughbred race horses and was a familiar and respected figure at the track. Dr. Lyon Henry Appleby died on April 10, 1970, aged 74 years, 9 months and 15 days.

Archer, Albert Ernest Dr.
1879-1949

Albert Ernest Archer was born at Campbellford on December 14, 1879, son of Reverend Joseph Archer and Martha Hardy. As his father was a Methodist minister, he did not live there very long; he attended High School in Port Rowan and Hamilton before entering the Arts Faculty at Toronto University, switching to Medicine from which he graduated in 1902. He, then, joined the staff of the Hamilton City Hospital before removing to Alberta in 1903, and settled in the village of Star in the Lamont area. He became a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons in 1921 and of the Royal College of Surgeons of Canada in 1931. In 1942, he was made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire and served as President of the Canadian Medical Association. During the war years, he was a member of the Committee of Seven and the Procurement and Assignment Board. Dr. A. E. Archer died on May 23, 1949 in Lamont, Alberta, at the hospital he founded, aged 69 years, 5 months and 9 days.

Archer, Cyril Douglas Dr.
1892-1948

Cyril Douglas Archer was born at Cobourg, Ontario on June 15, 1892 son of George Archer and Norah Ann Clarke. He was educated there in the public and secondary schools, graduated from Queen's University in 1920, married Louise Smith on October 30, 1920 and established himself at Fort William, Ontario. He was a member of the McKellar Hospital and in 1936 he was elected president of the McKellar staff; in 1939 he was president of the Thunder Bay Medical Society. Dr. Archer was an active Mason and served as Major in the Forth Field Ambulance Reserve being one of the original officers in the Unit. Dr. Cyril Douglas Archer died on October 5, 1948 aged 56 years 3 months and 20 days.

Archer, George Barnes Dr.
1880-1944

George Barnes Archer was born at Campbellford on November 16, 1880, son of William Archer and Margarite Bastow. He attended the University of Toronto and graduated in Medicine in 1904. Since his graduation, Dr. Archer served continuously in the mission field, except for three years as an Army Medical Officer in the war. He married Edwina Ethel Dickson on September 1, 1914; she died a year later in India. Dr. Archer was Superintendent of a leper colony at Perulia, India, and had been decorated by King George V with the Kaiser Hind Gold Medal for outstanding service to the people of India. Dr. G. B. Archer was brutally shot by fanatics or robbers and died on July 12, 1944 at Perulia, India, aged 63 years, 7 months and 26 days.

Armour, Donald John Dr.
-1933

Donald John Armour was born at Cobourg, received his education at Upper Canada College, the University of Toronto and University College, London, England. He became one of Britain's noted brain and nerve specialists. He was the Arris and Gale Lecturer in 1904-1905 at the Royal College of Surgeons and was the Jacksonian Prize Essayist at that noted institution in 1906; he was Hunterian Professor of Surgery and Pathology at the Royal College of Surgeons (1908), and Lettsomian Lecturer at the Medical Society of London (1927); he was elected President of the Medical Society of London for 1929-1930. Dr. Armour was Surgeon to the National Hospital for Nervous Diseases, an honorary Lieutenant Colonel and Consulting Surgeon to the West London Hospital and Surgeon Specialist to numerous military hospitals during the Great War. He was a noted lecturer and author. Dr. Armour died at London on October 23, 1933, aged 64 years 4 months 10 days.

Armour, John Philip Dr.
1854-1927

John Philip Armour was born at Hastings, Ontario on August 16, 1854, son of George Armour and Elizabeth Pickens. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1877 and, for a time, practiced at Hastings and Lakefield; he married Fanny Maria Cotton of Lakefield on May 4, 1881. He soon established himself at St. Catherines, Ontario where he practised for forty years. Dr. John Philip Armour died at St. Catherines on June 22, 1927, aged 72 years, 10 months and 6 days.

Armour, Robert Stanley
Dr.
1888-1918

Robert Stanley Armour was born at Campbellford, Ontario on July 8, 1888, son of Robert Samuel Armour and Margaret Johnston. He attended the local high school and was a graduate of the Toronto University Medical School in 1915; he enlisted for duty in World War I that same year. He was first appointed as Lieutenant to Number 4 General Hospital, but in July 1915, transferred to the Royal Army Medical Corps in which he was promoted to Captain in March 1916. For a year he served on a hospital ship to the Dardanelles and in the Mediterranean. After working, also, at Salonica and Alexandria, he joined the East African Expeditionary Force and served as Officer Commanding the First Field Ambulance in German and Portuguese East Africa. In March 1918, he was mentioned in dispatches; at the close of the War he succumbed to the Influenza and is buried at Dar Es Salaam Cemetery in Tanzania, Africa. He attained the rank of Major. Dr. Robert Stanley Armour died on December 1, 1918, aged 30 years, 4 months and 23 days.

Armstrong, Arthur
Gordon Dr.
1897-1968

Arthur Gordon Armstrong was born at the farmhouse near Codrington, Brighton Township, Ontario on January 9, 1897 son of James Armstrong and Effie Black. He was a Veteran of World War 1 and studied medicine at the University of Toronto, graduating in 1921; he was united in marriage to Adeline Knox on November 2, 1921. Dr. Armstrong removed to Detroit, Michigan where he was a staff member of the Hutzel Hospital; this was the second oldest hospital in the city of Detroit and was established in 1868 to provide care for unwed mothers and their infants. Dr. Arthur Gordon Armstrong died at the Hutzel Hospital of cholestatic hepatitis on August 21, 1968 aged 71 years 7 months and 12 days.

Armstrong, Claude C. Dr.
-1948

Claude Armstrong was a native of Deseronto and graduated from Queen's University in 1898. He practiced for a while in his hometown before establishing himself in Warkworth, where he followed his profession for 40 years. He was a member of the Board of Stewards at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. He died of a heart attack, in church while attending services, on February 8, 1948, aged 75 years 5 months 24 days.

Armstrong, Edmund
Westropp Dr.
-1877

Edmund Westropp Armstrong was born in Fredericksburgh, on the Bay of Quinte. He received his medical education at Dartmouth College, New York and moved to Hallowell in 1817, where he practiced for 3 years before moving to Kingston. He was elected Clerk of Hallowell in 1818. Dr. Armstrong was granted his license as a Practitioner of Physic and Surgery in 1819. While in Kingston, he was active in municipal affairs; in 1833 he was Chairman of the Temperance Society, in 1834 was on the Board of Health and in 1835 he was a member of a committee to discuss the incorporation of Kingston. He left Upper Canada in 1838, as he was a reformer and disliked the existing government. Dr. Armstrong located in Rochester, New York where he followed the practice of his profession and died there in 1877, aged 87 years 11 months 15 days.

Arnott, Raymond Dr.
1906-1948

Raymond Arnott was born at Belleville, Ontario on August 25, 1906 son of Richard Arnott and Ida Duke. He was educated at the local schools, attended Queen's University during the 1926-27 session as a member of the class of medicine 1932 and later went to the University of Western Ontario. For some time he represented the Manufacturers Life Assurance Company, was active in community affairs and a strong Progressive Conservative Party supporter. During the War he offered for active service overseas but was rejected on medical grounds; he then joined the Royal Canadian 34th Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery. Dr. Arnott was united in marriage to Eileen Ash on July 22, 1942. Three days after the city council appointed him to the position of assistant city assessor, Dr. Raymond Arnott died at Belleville on January 29, 1948 aged 41 years 5 months 4 days.

Arnott, William Joshua
Dr.
1862-1905

William Joshua Arnott was born on Dec 6, 1862 at Campbellford, Ontario son of Stephen Arnott and Eleanor Kines. He started his professional career as a teacher in Selkirk, Manitoba, was a graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School in 1893 and was united in marriage to Ellen Krug on June 7, 1899. Soon after graduation, Dr. Arnott established himself at Berlin, Ontario where he built up a large practice and opened the Arnott Institute for Stammerers. He was active in community affairs, served as a public school trustee, president of the Berlin Musical Society and the Berlin Conservative Association. Dr. William Joshua Arnott contracted cerebral meningitis and, after a short illness, died on Dec 12, 1905 aged 43 years 6 days.

Arthur, Edward Charles
Dr.
-1932

Edward Charles Arthur was born in the Bay of Quinte District. He obtained his Bachelor of Arts & Masters degrees at Victoria College and for some years, he was a school teacher; in 1883 he graduated in medicine from Trinity College. He was a Surgeon on the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway north of Lake Superior and, in 1890, followed the railway construction into the Kootenays. He followed the mining trails along Kootenay Lake and arrived on foot at what later became Nelson, British Columbia. He acquired an interest in mining, which was to last throughout his life. With the completion of the railway he established a practice at Nelson, being Physician, Druggist, Coroner and Proprietor of various mining ventures in the vicinity. A school was a necessity and the first classes were held in the Doctor's dining room. Following the organization of a public school, he was, for 20 years, a member of the School Board. His deep interest in education was reflected in later years when he organized and led an agitation for the establishment of a provincial university. In those early days his practice took him miles away, to mining camps and lonely cabins, the only conveyance a horse or in winter, his own snowshoes. He was active in municipal affairs and served on the Board of Trade, being especially interested in fostering mining ventures. He served in England during the Great War and after his return became City Health Officer. Dr. Arthur died at Nelson on July 6, 1932, aged 75 years 7 months 7 days.

Arthur, Robert Hugh Dr.
-1941

Robert Hugh Arthur was born in Bloomfield. He attended grammar school in Brighton; taught school for a few years and then studied medicine at McGill University, graduating in 1885; he took post-graduate studies in midwifery in Dublin. On his return he went to Chapleau, Algoma Mills, and in 1892, to Sudbury. Here, he helped establish the first hospital, a 30-bed general facility. He was the Canadian Pacific Railway Surgeon through all his active years of practice. In 1922, he was Mayor of the city, by acclamation. He was one of the original ranking officers of the Algonquin Rifles and in W.W.I went overseas as Medical Doctor with the 159th Battalion. He served in France with the 8th Canadian Stationary Hospital and No.11 Field Ambulance. He retired from Army life in 1926 as Lieutenant Colonel. From 1914-1936, he served on the Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, and was President in 1925-26. For several years, he represented the College on the Medical Council of Canada, and, in 1933-34, was President. For many years, he was the Examiner in Obstetrics & Gynecology for the College. Dr. Arthur died on December 19, 1941, aged 80 years 8 months 8 days.

Ash, Ephraim Dr.
-1873

Ephraim Ash was a native of Herkimer, New York State and attended the medical school at Utica College, New York. He followed the practice of his profession in his native land, came to Canada about 1849 and settled at Newburgh, and continued his work throughout Ernestown Township. Dr. Ash retired in his later years and died at Newburgh in 1873, aged 78.

Ash, John Rice Dr.
-1879

John Rice Ash was the son of Ephraim Ash by his first wife. John was born in New York and presumably obtained his medical training in New York State. He came to Canada with the family and practiced in Enterprise and Centreville, Ontario. Dr. J. R. Ash died in Roblin on December 29, 1879, aged 65 years 1 month 27 days.

Ashton, Llewellyn Buxton
Dr.
1868-1919

Llewellyn Buxton Ashton was born at Thomasburg, Ontario on May 24, 1868 son of Harry Ashton and Margaret McKenna. He matriculated from the Brighton high school, graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1900 and did post graduate work at St Mary's Hospital in Quincy, Illinois. Dr Ashton established himself at Sedro-Woolley, Washington and there served as coroner for Pierce County. In May 1915 he enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps and upon hearing the harrowing description of the War from returning soldiers suffered a nervous breakdown; he was committed to the Washington State Hospital for the Insane. Dr Llewellyn Buxton Ashton died at Sedro-Woolley on May 16, 1919 aged 50 years 11 months 22 days.

Asselstine, Stanley
Matthew Dr.
1892-1990

Stanley Matthew Asselstine was born at Marlbank, Ontario on June 4, 1892, son of Oscar Asselstine and Marion Lohead. He studied Medicine at Queen's University with the Class of 1914 and upon graduation, served as Lecturer in Pharmacology and Therapeutics for two years before becoming the Chair of the Department at Queen's University. He married Mary Ilda Smallridge on April 12, 1916. He took post-graduate work in England, trained as a Specialist in Internal Medicine and in 1921, established himself at Windsor, Ontario, where he gained respect as a gifted Pathologist, Teacher and Practitioner. He worked at all the Windsor hospitals, ran his own practice, did anaesthetics and delivered babies. He was a medical pioneer in Windsor, one of the first to use insulin and an electrocardiogram. Dr. Asselstine taught medical students, worked with substance abusers in New York City, tended to wounded soldiers from World War I and served as President of the Medical Staff at Grace Hospital. He was Past President of the Essex County Medical Society and served his community for sixty years. Dr. Stanley Matthew Asselstine died on November 4, 1990, aged 98 years and 5 months.

Asselstine, James Albert
Dr.
1877-1945

James Albert Asselstine was born at Ernestown, Ontario on Oct 2, 1877 son of Nicholas Asselstine, a public school teacher, and Grace Smith. He entered into the study of his life's work at Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1907. Dr Asselstine established himself at Fernie, B.C. in 1907 and was united in marriage to Beulah Penney on Aug 3, 1909. For 35 years Dr Asselstine followed the practice of his profession at Fernie and retired to Vancouver in Sept 1942. Dr James Albert Asselstine died at Vancouver on May 11, 1945 aged 67 years 7 months 9 days.

Atkinson, Anson Robert
Dr.
1909-1978

Anson Robert Atkinson was born at Embro, Ontario on November 8, 1909 son of Dr. Howard Atkinson and Annie Rutherford. The father of our subject was a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College at Guelph in 1906. Anson Atkinson was a graduate of the medical faculty at McGill University in 1935, was married at London, Ontario in 1936 and soon established himself at Collingwood in general practice. Later he removed to Norwood where he remained for the duration and was for several years the only physician for the town. Dr. Anson Robert Atkinson died at Norwood on October 2, 1978 aged 68 years 10 months 24 days.

Aull, Erastus Dr.
-1944

Erastus Aull was born in Belleville where he received his education before entering Trinity College from which institution he graduated in medicine in 1899. He practiced in Toronto for a year and then took post-graduate work overseas becoming a Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery of Edinburgh. Following this, he spent a year as House Surgeon at the Winnipeg General Hospital in 1903, before going to Calgary, North West Territories in 1904. Dr. Aull was one of Calgary's oldest practicing physicians when he died on July 2, 1944, aged 77 years 1 month 22 days.

Austin, Andrew Dr.
-1849

Andrew Austin was a native of Vermont and studied medicine at Middleburg College, Vermont and the University of New York, graduating in 1822. He was one of the first settlers at Hallowell, Prince Edward County. He was a successful candidate when he appeared before the Upper Canada Medical Board, becoming a Licentiate on January 7, 1823. He followed the practice of his profession in the County; he also served as Assistant Secretary for the Prince Edward Agricultural Society and Vice-President of the Temperance Society. Dr. Austin died in the County on October 15, 1849, aged 61.

Auston, James Burrell Dr.
1879-1919

James Burrell Auston was born at Brighton on December 20, 1879, son of Frederick Auston and Triphena Burrell. He was educated locally and entered into the study of medicine at McGill University, from which institution he graduated in 1906. He established himself in practice at Coboconk and on September 23, 1914 married Bertha Richman. Dr. J. B. Auston had been working overtime caring for his influenza patients when he had a bad fall on his own doorstep; pneumonia soon developed and he died on January 11, 1919, aged 39 years and 21 days.

Aylesworth, Albert
Carman Dr.
1863-1935

Albert Carman Aylesworth was born at Belleville, Ontario on Aug 23, 1863 son of Rev. Isaac Brock Aylesworth and Phoebe Orser. The father of our subject was educated at Albert College, Belleville and had several charges in Hastings, Lennox & Addington and Prince Edward Counties; he probably named his son after Rev Albert Carman, Professor and President of Albert College. Dr. Aylesworth graduated from Victoria College with the class of 1890, immigrated to the United States in 1895 and was united in marriage to Isa Hovater on Aug 17, 1898. Dr. Albert Carman Aylesworth followed the practice of his profession in Michigan and died at Eloise, Mi. on Apr 2, 1935 aged 71 years 7 months 9 days.

Aylesworth, Archibald
King Dr.
-1886

Archibald King Aylesworth was a native of Ernestown Township and one of the early graduates of Queen's University, receiving his Medical Degree and License in 1863. Dr. Aylesworth followed the practice of his profession at Newburgh where he died on May 8, 1886 aged 47 years 5 months 19 days.

Aylesworth, Frederick Allan Dr.
1882-1951

Frederick Allan Aylesworth was born at Bath on February 27, 1882, son of James Hogle Aylesworth and Helen Mary Armstrong. He graduated in Medicine from Queen's University in 1903 and took post-graduate work in Boston and England. He was married to Marie Thelma Bansley on October 23, 1907. During World War I, he served overseas with a Harvard University Unit and was, at one time, on the staff of Christie Street Military Hospital. He served as an Associate Consultant in Ophthalmology at the Toronto General Hospital and was active on the board of the Canadian Institute for the Blind. Dr. F. A. Aylesworth died at Toronto on December 22, 1951, aged 69 years, 9 months and 25 days.

Aylesworth, George Miller Dr.
1847-1925

George Miller Aylesworth was born at Newburgh, Ontario on Oct 29, 1847 son of Dr. Isaac Brock Aylesworth and Julia Miller. He was a graduate of medicine at Victoria College in 1869 and was united in marriage to Elizabeth Bradley on Sept 14, 1870. He was soon to establish himself at Collingwood, Ontario where he was in the practice of his profession for 50 years; he was well known in the profession and was much interested in civic and educational matters. Dr. George Miller Aylesworth died in Trenton, Ontario at his son's, Dr. R.B. Aylesworth, on Apr 14, 1925 aged 77 years 5 months 15 days.

Aylesworth, Isaac Brock
Dr.
-1888

Isaac Brock Aylesworth was named after Sir Isaac Brock who had fallen at Niagara in October of 1812, the birth year of our subject. He began his studies for a profession in the Bath Academy, and later took up the study of medicine with Dr. Van Dyck, a graduate of the University of New York, then residing in Bath, but formerly from Kinderhook, New York. In 1834-1835, he continued his studies in medicine at the Medical College in New York City and, in 1835, commenced the practice of his profession at Bath, moving to Newburgh in 1836. During the troubled years of 1837 and 1838 he practiced in Napanee, but returned to Newburgh in 1839. After 1854 and for the next 20 years, he devoted his time to the ministry and the work of the Wesleyan Methodist Church traveling a circuit including Mitchell, Bond Head, Kleinburg, Colborne, Newcastle, Cobourg, Bradford, Owen Sound, Collingwood, and Stayner. In 1874, Dr. Aylesworth located in Collingwood as a retired physician and minister and died on September 24, 1888 aged 75 years 9 months 20 days.

Aylesworth, Robert
Bowen Dr.
1842-1921

Robert Bowen Aylesworth was born at Ernestown, Ontario on Oct 12, 1842 son of Benjamin Aylesworth and Maria Detlor. He received his early education at Newburgh and was a graduate of Victoria College Medical School in 1867; his medical license was registered on Aug 24, 1868. Dr. Aylesworth was united in marriage to Alice Thompson and he soon established himself at Lansdowne, Leeds County where he remained for a decade before removing to Morpeth, Kent County and then to Toronto where he remained for the duration. Dr. Robert Bowen Aylesworth died at Toronto on Apr 22, 1921 aged 78 years 6 months 10 days.

Babbitt, Oliver Miller Dr.
1878-1961

Oliver Miller Babbitt was born at the farm in Hillier Township, Prince Edward County, on Sept 7, 1878 son of Albert Babbitt and Juliette Miller. He was a graduate B.P.E. from the Y.M.C.A. College in Chicago, Illinois and received his medical training from the University of Oregon where he graduated in 1906. Dr Babbitt established himself at Portland, Oregon as a general practitioner and took post graduate work in London, Paris and Vienna in 1912 as an eye, ear nose and throat specialist. Dr Babbitt was united in marriage in 1905 to Constance Carter, was the owner of the second automobile brought to Portland and he participated in the first Rose Parade. Dr Oliver Miller Babbitt died at Portland on July 14, 1961 aged 82 years 10 months 7 days.

Baker, William Ward Dr.
1907-1992

William Ward Baker was born at Warkworth, Ontario on December 16, 1907 son of Thomas Baker and Samueletta Dunk. He graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1932, interned at the Syracuse Memorial Hospital and the Montreal Children's Hospital. After working in Montreal and Timmins, Dr. Baker returned to the local area and set up a general medical practice in Campbellford. He removed to Peterborough in 1969 and worked at the hospital as a surgical assistant for 20 years before returning to Campbellford. Predeceased by his wife, the former Dorothy Cook, Dr. William Ward Baker died on March 11, 1992 aged 84 years 2 months 25 days.

Baker, Herbert William
Dr.
1884-1965

Herbert William Baker was born at Madoc, Ontario on May 6, 1884 son of Rev. Edward Baker and Rachael Meek. He matriculated from Stratford high school, Victoria College and graduated from the University of Toronto medical school in 1909. Dr Baker was united in marriage to Alma Gammage on June 26, 1912 and, a widower, to Lavina Ford on Aug 3, 1921. He established his practice in Toronto removing later to Woodstock with the only break in service when he served as Captain with the Army Medical Corps in W.W. 1. Dr Baker held the posts of president, chief of surgery and for many years chief of staff at the Woodstock General Hospital. He was an original member of the board of the Associated Medical Services, the first non-profit medical plan in Canada, and served as its president since inception in 1937. He was president of the Y.M.C.A. and helped organize the Woodstock Music Festival. Dr Herbert William Baker died at Woodstock on June 8, 1965 aged 81 years 1 month 2 days.

Baragar, Charles Arthur
Dr.
1885-1936

Charles Arthur Baragar was born at Stirling, Ontario on February 22, 1885, son of Charles Inkerman Baragar and Emily Sophia Bell. He was educated at the University of Manitoba and earned his Arts Degree in 1910, and his Medical Degree in 1914, before taking post-graduate work in England, Manhattan State and Vanderbilt Hospitals in New York. During World War I, Dr. Baragar enlisted as a Lieutenant with the Canadian Army Medical Corps and served as Captain and Medical Officer with the 29th Battalion. He was attached to the Headquarters staff in London, served as Medical Officer in Number 3 Canadian Casualty Clearing Station in the Ypres Salient and rose to the rank of Major. Dr. Baragar worked at the Nannette Sanatorium in Winnipeg, the Duchess of Connaught Red Cross Hospital and the Canadian Special Hospital in Kent, England. He was married to Blanche Eugenia Ledoux in 1918. Dr. Baragar had special training in Neurology and Psychiatry and was a recognized authority on mental diseases. On his return from the War, he was appointed Superintendent of the Mental Hospital at Brandon, Manitoba in 1920, and, in 1930, he removed to Ponoka, Alberta in a similar capacity. He was a Lecturer of Psychiatry at the University of Alberta for four years and served as Commissioner of Mental Institutions and Director of Health for the province of Alberta. Dr. Charles Arthur Baragar died on March 8, 1936, aged 51 years and 16 days.

Barber, Herbert Leslie Dr.
1866-1937

Herbert Leslie Barber was born at Keswick, Ontario on May 5, 1866, son of Albert Barber and Ida Richardson. He was a graduate of Trinity College Medical School in 1892 and for a short time practiced in Cobourg, however soon removed to Emsdale and then in 1900 to Burk's Falls, Ontario. Dr. Barber and his wife, the former Zena Sherwood, were early pioneers in the area; he served as coroner for Parry Sound, chairman of the school board and Deputy Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge. He was director of the Knight Brothers Company and, in 1920, founded the Wildwood golf course. Upon his retirement in 1927, his medical practice, his home and auto were purchased for the sum of ten thousand dollars. Dr. Herbert Leslie Barber died Burk's Falls on August 21, 1937, aged 71 years, 3 months and 16 days.

Barringer, Walter S. Dr.
-1878

Walter S. Barringer was a native of the United States and was established in Hiller, Prince Edward County. He was a Thompsonian Doctor, following the principals of practice as established by Dr. Samuel Thompson. Thompson acquired a broad knowledge of herbs, both European and Native American; in 1822, his book on herbal remedies became a best seller and, with a copy, followers could apply the successful herbal techniques. Dr. Barringer died, accidentally drowning, while on a call to a patient, on January 24, 1878, aged 65.

Bateman, James Henry
Dr.
1908-1992

James Henry Bateman was born at Thomasburg, Ontario on December 14, 1908 son of James Bateman and Laura Mouck. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at Queen's University in 1935 and was united in marriage to Helen Leslie at the Chapel at Queen's on October 8, 1937. Dr. Bateman was a fellow of the Royal College of Canada with a surgical specialty and initially settled in Georgetown, Ontario. He later removed to Belleville where he followed the practice of his profession until his retirement. He maintained a century old, log, two story hunting camp at Matechewan, north of Denby, Ontario and a cottage at Oak Lake. In retirement, Dr. James Henry Bateman moved to White Rock, British Columbia where he died on April 4, 1992 aged 83 years 3 months 20 days.

Battell, Joseph George Dr.
1873-1904

Joseph George Battell was born at Cobden, Ontario on Jan 18, 1873 son of Thomas Battell and Elizabeth Morton. He followed the pursuit of his life's work at Trinity Medical School and graduated with the class of 1895. He soon established himself at Cobourg, Ontario where the Battell name was prominent, with a Street and former Mayor by that name. After a short stay he removed to East St. Louis, Illinois however, here, he contracted Typhoid Fever and was admitted to the Henrietta Hospital. The local Masonic Lodge carried out the funeral arrangements for Dr. Joseph George Battell who died on Feb 29, 1904 aged 31 years 1 month 11 days.

Bean, John Arthur Dr.
1879-1917

John Arthur Bean was born at Clinton, Ontario on October 3, 1879, son of John Bean and Mary Ann Trewartha. He studied his medical courses at the University of Toronto and graduated in 1915; he was united in marriage to Katrina Payne Ford on August 25, 1915, and soon established himself at Consecon. Here, he bought the house of Dr. F. B. Thornton, who had moved from the locality, and set about building up a considerable practice. Tragedy struck when the home was consumed by fire; Dr. Bean was awakened by the fire and had escaped from the house, but in his attempt to re-enter and rescue his wife and child, the building collapsed and burned to ashes. His wife and child escaped the inferno, but Mrs Bean suffered the effects of lung damage and died of a pulmonary abscess two years later. Although a resident for only a short time, Dr. Bean had many friends and was well on his way to becoming a successful family doctor. Dr. John Arthur Bean died on August 9, 1917, aged 37 years, 10 months and 6 days.

Beattie, John Heath Dr.
1910-1970

John Heath Beattie was born at Cobourg, Ontario on February 8, 1910 son of William Beattie and Alice Heath. He graduated in medicine from the University of Western Ontario in 1935, took 2 years of post graduate training at the Ottawa General Hospital and St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver and a further year in London, England. During World War 11, Dr. Beattie served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps with the rank of Captain; he was united in marriage to Edna Waugh on May 10, 1945. He served on the staff of the Beck Memorial Sanatorium and tuberculosis clinics in South-western Ontario. Dr. John Heath Beattie died at London, Ontario on October 1, 1970 aged 60 years 7 months 23 days.

Beatty, John Dr.
-1898

John Beatty was a native of New York and a graduate of Wesleyan University. He presented his credentials to the Medical Board of Upper Canada on July 7, 1833, where upon he received his license and he established himself at Cobourg. He was a successful practitioner and took a prominent part in matters outside his profession, especially politics. He was Surgeon to the Jail in 1855 at a salary of 25 pounds sterling. He was, for many years, one of the most influential men in Eastern Ontario. He served on Town Council and was the Mayor of Cobourg for several terms. He was one of the founders of Victoria College and served as Professor of Chemistry at that institution. He lived at "The Poplars", a landmark structure in Cobourg, the oldest surviving house there, now a Heritage Ontario site. He was Secretary of the Trustee Board of Cobourg Methodist Church, where there remains a large stained glass window in his memory. Dr. Beatty lived the retired life in later years and died in Cobourg on July 17, 1898, aged 88 years 5 months 28 days.

Beatty, Samuel Robinson
Dr.
1892-1973

Samuel Robinson Beatty was born at Thomasburg, Ontario on May 20, 1892 son of James Beatty and Emma Robinson. He taught public school for several years, then during World War 1 served overseas with the Canadian Army in the Infantry. On his return he enrolled at the University of Toronto, graduating in medicine in 1925. He was united in marriage to Hazel McLeod on September 25, 1926. Dr. Beatty entered general practice in Dundas, Ontario and after two years removed to Madoc where he was still in active practice at the time of his death. He served as Hastings County coroner for many years and was medical officer of health for six area municipalities for over 20 years. He also served the community as a school trustee and hydro commission member. Dr. Samuel Robinson Beatty died on August 15, 1973 aged 81 years 2 months and 25 days.

Bedell, Thomas Casey
Dorland Col. Dr.
-1946

Thomas Casey Dorland Bedell was born in Hillier Township. From his early years, he was associated with the uniform of his King and Country. While attending high school in Picton, he joined the 16th Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment. He graduated from the University of Toronto in 1896 and began practice at Merrickville. He went overseas in W.W.I with the 48th Highlanders as a Combatant Officer. In England, he was President of the Pensions and Claims Board in the early days of the war, and later, served in the combat zone as Second-in-Command of the 48th. He was returned to Canada to aid in bringing the 156th Battalion up to strength and then returned overseas. In England, he was placed in charge of a large Canadian Military Hospital at Bexhill-on-the-Sea. When W.W.II broke out, he again offered his services. He was a member of the Medical Examining Board at Picton Armouries when recruits for Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment were accepted. He served on the District Medical Examining Board and was Medical Officer of Health for the Antiaircraft Battery Camp at Point Peter in 1945. He practiced for 20 years in Bloomfield and was Medical Officer of Health of that village. Dr. Bedell died on February 17, 1946, aged 71 years 9 months 27 days.

Beeman, Milton Ira Dr.
-1914

Milton Ira Beeman was born at Selby. In early life, he attended the school of his birthplace and later, the grammar schools at Newburgh and Napanee. In 1867, he obtained a First Class Certificate from the County Board of Trustees, and taught school for over two years. He graduated from the Toronto School of Medicine in 1873 as a silver medallist. He began the practice of medicine in Selby and, in 1874, opened an office in Centreville, remaining there until 1893 when he removed to Newburgh. He was Surgeon to the 47th Battalion, Frontenac Infantry and retired in 1899 after 15 years' service, with the rank of Major. He served two years as Reeve and for many years was on the Council Board and School Board. He was Vice-President of the Ontario Medical Association and a member of the Provincial Board of Health of Ontario from 1908-1912. Dr. Beeman died of a paralytic stroke on May 9, 1914 aged 62 years 7 months 16 days.

Beeman, Thomas William
Dr.
1859-1920

Thomas William Beeman was born at Selby, Ontario on Apr 12, 1859 son of William Beeman and Jerusha Hughes and brother of Milton and Truman. He was a graduate of medicine at Queen's University in 1878 and hung his shingle at Odessa until 1887 when he was bought out by Dr. J. E. Mabey. Dr. Beeman removed to Perth where, in addition to his medical career, he was considered an authority on historical and archaeological matters; he was united in marriage to Mary Shaw on Sept 12, 1898. Dr. Thomas William Beeman died at Perth on Sept 9, 1920 aged 61 years 4 months 27 days.

Beeman, Truman
Augustus Dr.
-1922

Truman Augustus Beeman was born at Selby, Ontario and would become one of a trio of brothers to practice medicine. He was a graduate of Queen's Medical School in 1887 and would follow a medical career at Bancroft, Mallorytown, New York City, Centreville and Perth. One of his hobbies was as an enthusiastic amateur archeologist. About ten days prior to his death, he became snowbound while responding to a call, and only after many hours of strenuous effort was he able to extricate his horse and buggy from snowdrifts. The exertion affected his heart causing death on February 9, 1922, aged 59 years 10 months 23 days.

Belch, John Andrew Dr.
1864-1945

John Andrew Belch was born at Tamworth, Ontario in Jan 1864 son of John Belch and Mary Douglas. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1889 and was united in marriage to Florena Reid on Sept 2, 1890. Dr. Belch established himself at Syracuse, N.Y. where he was associated with the Crouse Irving Hospital and, later, the Onondaga Hospital; he was in general practice and also did Obstetrics. He served as Physician to the Independent Order of Foresters and was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Dr. John Andrew Belch died at the Onondaga Hospital, Syracuse on Aug 18, 1945 aged 81 years 7 months.

Benson, James Gerald Dr.
1898-1951

James Gerald Benson was born near Wellington, Ontario on December 26, 1898 son of Henry Benson and Anna Wannamaker. He was the Gold Medalist at Picton Collegiate Institute and was a graduate of medicine at the University of Toronto in 1922; he was united in marriage to Lola Margaret Meek on June 18, 1921. He established himself at his life's work in Toronto where he practised medicine for over 25 years. Dr. James Gerald Benson died on February 17, 1951 aged 52 years 1 month and 21 days.

Berry, Earl Grant Dr.
1889-1961

Earl Grant Berry was born at Deseronto, Ontario on December 4, 1889, son of Robert James Berry and Ida Jean Grant. He was educated in Boston, Massachusetts, took his Medical Degree at the University of Toronto graduating in 1917; and spent time at the Toronto Sick Children's Hospital and the Toronto Isolation Hospital doing post-graduate work. He was a veteran of World War I, where he served at Solonica with the Number 4 General Hospital, served as the District Medical Officer for the Department of Public Health at Toronto for five years and then at Oshawa. He was united in marriage to Agnes Ellen Shether on September 1, 1922. At Oshawa, he was appointed as Medical Inspector of Health and dedicated three mornings a week to the work of vaccinations and immunization of children at the public schools. After several decades there, he was appointed as the Medical Health Officer for the county of Kent, Ontario. Dr. Earl Grant Berry died at Palmyra, Ontario, the result of a motor vehicle accident, on October 14, 1961, aged 71 years, 10 months and 10 days.

Berry, John Douglas Dr.
-1940

John Douglas Berry was born at Millbrook, Ontario and obtained his secondary education at Campbellford High School, matriculating in 1882. He then taught school at Hastings, Ontario for four years after which he attended Trinity College Medical School, graduating in 1890. He spent the balance of that year relieving doctors at various places, chiefly in Prince Edward County. In 1891, he hung out his shingle in Hastings and practiced there 14 years. From 1905, for two years he was in Cuba doing medical work for the Canada Cuba Land Company. In January 1908, he took over Dr. Proctor's practice at Port Perry and remained there ten years. Subsequently he moved to Willowdale where he died May 1, 1940, aged 77 years 8 months 7 days.

Berry, William Francis Dr.
1860-1945

William Francis Berry was born on Nov 28, 1860 at Napanee, Ontario son of Rev. Francis Berry and Ann Lawson. Dr. Berry established himself in the practice of his profession in Michigan and was united in marriage to Lou Alla Cady on July 13, 1882 at Macomb, Michigan. Divorced, he was remarried to Maggie Dahm on July 19, 1894; he served as Mayor of Mount Clemens, MI in 1901-1902. After a successful career as a physician in Michigan and Colorado, Dr. Berry removed to California and in 1921 established himself as a Druggist in Sanger, Ca.; he was active in the Masonic Lodge and Shrine Club. Dr. William Francis Berry died at Sanger on Oct 17, 1945 aged 84 years 10 months 19 days.

Bethune, Alexander
Norman Dr.
1831-1874

Alexander Norman Bethune was born at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario in 1831, son of Angus Norman Bethune and Louisa MacKenzie. The father of our subject joined the North West Company at an early age and traveled extensively throughout the north western territories, exploring and trading for furs. Dr. A. N. Bethune was the great uncle of Dr. Henry Norman Bethune, best known for his service in war time medical units during the Spanish Civil War. He married Sarah Campbell on March 24, 1874. Dr. Alexander Norman Bethune was a licentiate of the Medical Board in 1864 and established himself in the practice of his life's work at Colborne where he died on July 6, 1874 aged 43.

Bettes, Jerome Napoleon
Dr.
1832-1895

Jerome Napoleon Bettes was born on Nov 19, 1832 at Brighton, Ontario son of Joseph and Nancy Bettes. After completing the course of study in the public schools he entered the Eclectic Medical Institute at Cincinnati, Ohio from which he graduated in the class of 1857. United in marriage to Ruth Electa Loomis, also of Brighton, Dr. Bettes began the practice of his profession in his native town where he remained about three years. Subsequently he removed to Indiana and after practicing for a period of five years again removed to Iowa. From there he moved to Jacksonville, Florida in 1870 where he remained for the duration. Dr. Jerome Napoleon Bettes died at Jacksonville on Dec 20, 1895 aged 63 years 1 month 1 day.

Bibby, Frederick Thomas
Dr.
1865-1931

Frederick Thomas Bibby was a native of Michigan, U.S.A. born on September 4, 1865 son of Edwin Bibby and Jane Morris. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1888 and practiced in Port Hope and removed to Brighton just before the end of the century. He, also, had been at Kimberly and Clarksburg before he settled at Flesherton, Ontario. He was united in marriage to May Jane Kirby on October 1, 1913. Dr. Frederick Thomas Bibby died at Flesherton on May 17, 1931, aged 65 years, 8 months and 13 days.

Bicknell, Nathan Johnston
Dr.
1823-1899

Nathan Johnston Bicknell was born at Ernestown, Ontario on February 9, 1823 son of Nathan Bicknell and Phoebe Peters. He was a Licentiate of Lower Canada in 1843 and was soon established in Camden East where he remained for the duration. Dr. Bicknell was married to Hannah Lockwood on September 9, 1845. Buried at St. Luke's Anglican Church at Camden East, Dr. Nathan Bicknell died on May 13, 1899 aged 76 years 3 months 4 days.

Bird, Francis Wesley Dr.
1834-1877

Francis Wesley Bird was born in Belleville, Ontario on February 7, 1834. He was educated in the Normal School of Upper Canada from which institution he received first class qualification in 1854. After this time, he was engaged as a school teacher and had charge of a grammar school at Oshawa, Ontario. He commenced the study of medicine at Queen's University and graduated in 1859. In 1861, he was appointed Coroner for the united counties of Northumberland and Durham. Shortly after this, he went to the United States and was appointed Assistant Surgeon in the 51st Regiment, N.Y. Volunteers in November 1862. In 1865, at the close of the War, he moved to Brooklyn, N.Y., where he was a member of the Brooklyn Board of Health and the Medical Society of Kings County. Dr. Francis Wesley Bird died at Brooklyn, N.Y. on April 15, 1877, aged 43 years, 2 months and 8 days.

Bird, Grant Leslie Dr.
1895-1950

Grant Leslie Bird was born at Foxboro, Ontario on April 4, 1895 son of James Bird and Winifred Leslie. He received his early education at Marsh Hill Public School and Stirling High School, taught public school for several years and spent two years with the civil service before returning to school to study medicine. After graduating from the University of Toronto with the class of 1921 he practiced one year in Whitby and then in Oshawa where he was plant surgeon for General Motors of Canada. Dr. Bird married Evelyn Annie Sutton on September 17, 1924. He was a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and certified as a surgery specialist at the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in Canada. In public affairs he was a member of city council for two years and a Conservative candidate for the provincial legislature in the 1937 election. He was past president of the Ontario County Medical Association and of the Oshawa General Hospital's Staff Association; he served as president and district governor of the Rotary Club an area comprised of Western New York State, Ontario and Quebec. Dr. Grant Leslie Bird died at Chicago while attending a convention of Industrial Physicians and Surgeons on April 27, 1950 aged 55 years and 23 days.

Bird, Nelson John Dr.
1836-1904

Nelson John Bird was born in Belleville in 1836, son of Robert Bird and Hannah Perry. He attended Victoria College in Cobourg; was a graduate of Queen's University in 1860 and from there went to Brighton, Ontario, but after a short time, with his wife Augusta Maxwell, removed to Virginia City, Nevada, then in 1864, to San Francisco, California. In 1880, travel, adventure, and curiosity were among the reasons for a trip to Hawaii. However, his stated purpose was as a cure for mental derangement; he was "in professional charge of a patient whose impaired mind" he sought to cure. Dr. Bird was a charter member of the San Francisco Medical Society in 1868, and was in private practice until June of 1881 when he was appointed Medical Officer of San Quentin Prison. He served as general manager of California's World Fair Commission to oversee California's participation in the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893. He served as Physician to the Pacific Coast and Travelers' Insurance Company of Hartford. Dr. Nelson John Bird died at San Francisco on December 2, 1904, aged 68.

Bird, Ralph Lee Dr.
1905-1988

Ralph Lee Bird was born at Kingston, Ontario on December 9, 1905 son of Frank Bird and Rebecca Lee. He was a graduate of Queen's University with the medical class of 1931. Dr. Bird was united in marriage to Lina Haines on October 5, 1931. He was soon established in general practice in Belleville where he remained for some years before removing to Ottawa. Here he carried on a medical practice and served as a member of the medical advisory commission of the Canadian Pension Commission. Survived by his second wife, the former Marjorie Livingston, Dr. Ralph Lee Bird died at Ottawa on June 14, 1988 aged 82 years 6 months 5 days.

Bissonnette, Julien
Donald Dr.
-1921

Julien Bissonnette was a graduate of Queen's University in 1892. He began the practice of his profession in Napanee and was associated for a time there with Dr. John Grant. He was appointed Coroner for Lennox and Addington County in 1895. He later moved to Stirling, where he became one of Hastings County's best-known physicians. Dr. Bissonnette died following a brief illness on December 31, 1921, aged 65 years 6 months.

Black, Benjamin Franklin
Dr.
1863-1946

Benjamin Franklin Black was born at Trenton, Ontario on Sept 28, 1863 son of James Black and Jane Carlton. He started his professional career as a rural school teacher and was united in marriage to Elizabeth Sills on Apr 26, 1886. He later entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1893. A widower, Dr. Black immigrated to Holton, Michigan and was remarried to Lulu Wells on July 16, 1900. He was active in civic affairs serving his community for 40 years through the rigorous horse and buggy days and into the automobile era. He served as president of the high school board, was a director of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, owned a dairy farm and was an organizer and president of the Holton bank. In 1933 he removed to Detroit as supreme medical director for the Order of Maccabees. Dr. Benjamin Franklin Black retired in 1942, returned to Holton where he died on June 20, 1946 aged 82 years 8 months 22 days.

Black, George Isaac Dr.
1879-1917

George Isaac Black was born at his country home at Warkworth on July 29, 1879, son of Samuel Black and Mary Sherwin. His early environment made him industrious and he became one of the stars of Campbellford High School, obtaining his primary and junior standing in rapid succession. Pedagogy (teaching) then occupied his mind, where he spent three years, following which he entered into the study of medicine, graduating from the University of Toronto in 1904. He married Nellie Maud Peterson on June 28, 1905. Dr. Black established himself in practice at Warkworth, removing some years later to Brighton to succeed the late Dr. Webb. Dr. G. I. Black suffered from the effects of pernicious anaemia and in spite of the best medical treatment, he died on July 13, 1917, aged 37 years, 11 months and 14 days.

Blackwell, Frederick
Norman Dr.
1905-1979

Frederick Norman Blackwell was born at Lindsay, Ontario on September 3, 1905 son of George Blackwell and Cora Wiltsie. He attended the University of Toronto, graduated with the medical class of 1931 and was soon established at Athens, Ontario. Here he engaged in general practice and served on the Athens school board before removing to Cobourg; here he served as physician to the county home for the aged and was staff member of the Cobourg General Hospital. Dr. Frederick Norman Blackwell died at Cobourg on October 2, 1979 aged 74 years 29 days.

Blakely, Arthur
McAmmond Dr.
1885-1969

Arthur McAmmond Blakely was born at Madoc, Ontario on August 9, 1885, son of John Blakely and Lavina Broad. After obtaining his primary education in the local schools and the Chatham Collegiate Institute, he entered into the study of Medicine at the University of Toronto with the Class of 1916. He interned at the Hospital for Sick Children and then served as a Medical Officer in the Field Ambulance of the Canadian Expeditionary Force and was wounded at Bourlon in the Battle of Cambrai; he achieved the rank of Captain. He returned to Toronto, married Mabel Sandison on July 8, 1919; took post-graduate work at St. Michael's Hospital and established himself at Windsor, Ontario. Here, he was a member of the Essex County Medical Society, served as Chief of the Medical Staff of the Metropolitan Hospital, was a member and Past-Chairman of the Utilities commission. Dr. Arthur McAmmond Blakely died on September 13, 1969, aged 84 years, 1 month and 4 days.

Blakely, Elgin Adams Dr.
-1937

Elgin Adams Blakely was born at Cherry Valley, Prince Edward County, and received his education in the schools of Picton and Napanee. His early career was as a teacher and he served as principal of the Winnipeg Central School. He was the first student registered in the Manitoba Medical College, graduating in 1889. He was twice elected as a public School Trustee for the city of Winnipeg and was appointed as Deputy Minister of Education for Manitoba, serving in that capacity from 1889-1901. He was the first Secretary of the Children's Aid Society of Manitoba. Dr. Blakely belonged to several temperance organizations, served as Superintendent of the Church Sunday School and organized a Bible Class for teens. He practiced medicine for many years in the Western Provinces; his last office being at Crystal Springs, Saskatchewan. His chief hobby was philately and he had over 10,000 stamps, especially of the British Empire. Dr. Blakely died in Picton on September 8, 1937, aged 82 years 10 months 4 days.

Blakely, Harry William Dr.
1906-1945

Harry William Blakely was born at Thomasburg, Ontario on September 15, 1906 son of Henry Blakely and Lucy Adams. He received his education at the village school, Tweed High School and Queen's University from which institution he graduated in medicine in 1931; he later took a post graduate course in surgery at White Plains, New York. In 1935 he opened a practice in Foxboro, having taken over the practice of the late Dr. Ward remaining there until 1939 when he returned to Kingston to join the staff of the General Hospital as a radiologist. Dr. Blakely was united in marriage to Dorothy Boyle on July 17, 1940. At the outbreak of the War he served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in which he held the rank of Major and was stationed at the Military Hospital in Kingston. Dr. Harry William Blakely died at Kingston on April 1, 1945 aged 38 years 6 months 17 days.

Blakslee, Van Arsdale Dr.
1889-1971

Van Arsdale Blakslee was born at Sydenham, Ontario on September 22, 1889, son of Charles Albert Blakslee and Elizabeth Jane Ferguson. A graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University in 1917, Dr. Blakslee soon established himself in practice at Belleville, Ontario, where he served his community for over fifty years. He was a member of the Canadian Army Medical Corps in World War I, and in addition to his practice he was Physician to the Canadian National Railway, was the Doctor for Hastings Manor for twenty-seven years, and Physician for the Hastings County Jail. He was united in marriage to Margaret Caroline Newbold on November 17, 1927. He was a member of the Rotary Club and the Fish and Game Club and was active in the restocking of the local streams. He maintained a hunting and fishing camp at the Weslemkoon area. Dr. Van Arsdale Blakslee died on December 26, 1971, aged 82 years, 3 months and 4 days.

Blanchard, Frederick Norton Dr.
1876-1942

Frederick Norton Blanchard was born at Deseronto, Ontario on Dec 18, 1876 son of Charles Blanchard and Octavia Wickham. He graduated from the Windsor Collegiate Institute in 1895, was engaged in the insurance business in Detroit for 4 years and received his medical training at the Detroit College of Medicine with the class of 1903. Dr Blanchard was united in marriage to Alice Osgood on Apr 10, 1907. He followed the practice of his profession at Detroit, served as professor of anatomy at the University, was an active member of the Masons and the Detroit Motor Boat Club. Dr Frederick Norton Blanchard died at Detroit on Mar 3, 1942 aged 65 years 2 months 15 days.

Bleasdel, Charles Edward
Dr.
-1873

Charles Edward Bleasdel was born in Manchester, England and came to Canada in 1848. He was educated in Trenton by his father and graduated, with honours, as a Doctor of Medicine, at the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, in affiliation with Queen's College, Kingston, in 1868. He was a cadet of the Infantry and Gunnery Schools of the Province of Ontario. After practicing at the village of Hastings, he joined the Red River Expedition against Riel, and served his full time, previous to his appointment as Surgeon on the Allan Line Steamer, Nestorian. Dr. Bleasdel, as a result of being enfeebled from a former attack of sunstroke, died of congestion of the brain on June 20, 1873, aged 27.

Bleecker, George Harry
Dr.
1878-1927

George Harry Bleecker was born at Trenton on February 10, 1878, son of Thomas Howard Bleecker and Isabella Young. He was educated locally and graduated from Queen's Medical School in 1902. He soon established himself at Roblin's Mills in Prince Edward County, with his office at the west end of the village in the same house where Dr. Thwaites had been. He drove a horse and buggy and was always accompanied by his dalmation coach dog, which ran between the back wheels of the buggy. He married Wonita Maud Putman on February 23, 1912. Dr. Bleecker removed to the west, where he practiced his profession at Maple Creek, Saskatchewan and Prince Rupert, British Columbia. Dr. G. H. Bleecker died at Trenton on November 16, 1927, aged 49 years, 9 months and 6 days.

Blezard, John Albert Dr.
1888-1971

John Albert Blezard was born at Warkworth, Ontario on May 17, 1888, son of John Blezard and Elizabeth Jane Pearin. He received his Medical Degree from Queen's University in 1917 and undertook post-graduate work at St. John's Hospital in Brooklyn, New York. Dr. Blezard served overseas in the Canadian Army Medical Corps from 1916 to 1919 and was awarded the Efficiency Decoration by the Canadian Army. He was united in marriage to Mary Ethel Gertrude Wilder on December 17, 1919. He, then, became Instructor and Head of the department of Anaesthesia at the University of Alberta and was on Staff of the University, Royal Alexandra, General and Misericordia Hospitals in Edmonton. Later, he moved to London and became Professor and Head of the Department of Anaesthesia at the University of Western Ontario where he served at the Victoria, St. Joseph's and Beck Memorial Hospitals. Dr. Blezard was married a second time to Margaret Barr Russell on August 18, 1941. Dr. John Albert Blezard died on November 13, 1971, aged 83 years, 5 months and 26 days.

Blye, Ross Arthur Dr.
1885-1972

Ross Arthur Blye was born at Trenton, Ontario on August 3, 1885 son of Marshall Blye and Edith Parks. He entered his professional career as a druggist graduating from the Ontario College of Pharmacy in 1907. He left this occupation in Strathroy, Ontario to study medicine at the University of Toronto with the class of 1921. Thrice a widower, wife Mabel Ann O'Dell died on December 22, 1919 at Trenton, wife Dr. Anna Godfrey died on November 21, 1924, he married Queenie Kate Jevon on August 22, 1927 and was survived by wife Lila Govryluk Blye. He was active in the organization Sons of Canada where he served as sergeant at arms; its aims were to foster Canadian national spirit and the adoption of a distinctly Canadian flag. He was active in the pursuit of a treatment for cancer. Dr. Ross Arthur Blye died at Toronto on May 12, 1972 aged 86 years 9 months and 9 days.

Bogart, David Peterson
Dr.
-1910

David Bogart was born in Adolphustown, Lennox & Addington County. He studied medicine and took his degree of Medical Doctor in New York City. He practiced first in Brighton, then in Carleton Place, Ontario; later, he was Surgeon to the iron mines at Marmora. He moved to Whitby about 1872 where he continued his career; for many years he was Surgeon to the Grand Trunk Railway Company at Whitby. He was active in public service and in the early eighties was in the Town Council and Mayor of Whitby in 1884-1885. He was Surgeon of the 34th Regiment and was Medical Officer of Health for Whitby until failing health compelled him to resign. Dr. Bogart died at Whitby on January 16, 1910, aged 82 years 4 days.

Bogart, Irving Dorland Dr.
-1900

Irving Dorland Bogart was born at Belleville, educated locally and a graduate of McGill Medical School in 1859. He followed the practice of his profession at Campbellford where he was highly esteemed by all who knew him. Dr. Bogart died at Campbellford on May 30, 1900, aged 64.

Bonesteel, Samuel Aquila
Dr.
1842-1902

Samuel Aquila Bonesteel was born at Belleville, Ontario on Mar 22, 1842 son of Peter Bonesteel and Amelia Hess. He entered into the study of medicine at the University of Michigan where he graduated in 1867; he was committed to adding to his store of medical and surgical knowledge and took post graduate work in London, Edinburgh, Dublin, Paris, Vienna, Berlin and Rome and also was granted a medical degree from McGill in 1881. Dr. Bonesteel established himself at Columbus, Nebraska, was united in marriage to Louisa Weaver on July 4, 1870 and carried on a successful practice before removing to Denver, Colorado in 1883. He was one of the prominent physicians of the area but developed diabetes and was taken ill by pneumonia acquired in the line of duty. Dr. Samuel Aquila Bonesteel died at Denver on Jan 29, 1902 aged 59 years 10 months 7 days.

Bonney, Albert Franklin
Dr.
1853-1922

Albert Franklin Bonney was born on Aug 5, 1853 at Napanee, Ontario son of Charles Bonney and Mary Greenleaf. His early years were spent with his parents in New York State and Pennsylvania; as a young man he moved to Iowa and was united in marriage to Fannie O'Neill on June 7, 1880 at Dubuque. Dr. Bonney was a successful physician and bee keeper. He was president of the Iowa Beekeepers Association and was considered an authority on that industry, all over the world. In failing health, he retired and was devoted then to literary pursuits, both fiction and scientific articles. Dr. Albert Franklin Bonney died at Buck Grove, Iowa on June 30, 1922 aged 68 years 10 months 25 days.

Bonnycastle, Desmond
Davidson Dr.
1911-1970

Desmond Davidson Bonnycastle was born at Campbellford, Ontario on November 3, 1911 son of Dr. Richard Henry Bonnycastle and Winnifred Carlaw. The father of our subject was chronicled previously and after his death the family removed to Belleville. He attended the University of Toronto and graduated in medicine in 1936; he also attained his PhD in pharmacology. Following graduation he was appointed a Sir Frederick Banting Fellow in medical research and lecturer in pharmacology. During World War 11 Dr. Bonnycastle served with distinction as a medical corps officer in the Royal Canadian Navy in Halifax and at the Combined Services Experimental Station at Suffield, Alberta where he was a Surgeon Commander. In 1946 he removed to New Haven, Connecticut where he was associated with Yale University and in 1957 removed to the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry where he was dean of the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences and chairman of the department of pharmacology. Survived by his wife, the former Marion McLaurin, Dr. Desmond Davidson Bonnycastle died at Summit, New Jersey on December 19, 1970 aged 59 years 1 month 16 days.

Bonnycastle, Richard Henry Dr.
1881-1917

Richard Henry Bonnycastle was born at Campbellford on February 1, 1881, son of Francis Bonnycastle and Elizabeth Lennox. He was educated in the local schools and received his medical training at the University of Toronto, where he graduated in 1905. The following year, he began practice in his native town, and on December 25, 1907 married Winnifred Erelin Carlaw. In May 1915, he went to England and accepted a commission as Lieutenant in the Royal Army Medical Corps and, two months later, went to France with the 15th Scottish Division. He was subsequently transferred to the Canadian Army Medical Corps and in August was promoted to the rank of Major. He returned to Canada in charge of a party of invalided soldiers and was appointed Superintendent of Training and Hospital Work at Valcartier Camp. Dr. R. H. Bonnycastle returned to Campbellford to resume his medical duties, but succumbed to an attack of pneumonia and died on October 7, 1917, aged 36 years, 8 months and 6 days.

Booth, Donald Bethune
Dr.
-1896

Donald Bethune Booth was a native of Millhaven and graduated from Queen's Medical College in 1868. He established himself at Odessa where he followed his profession and operated a drug store in connection with his practice. Dr. Booth, while in the act of getting a pail of water from the tail race, which runs from the mill across his farm, was suddenly stricken with apoplexy and died on April 27, 1896, aged 66.

Boulter, George Henry Dr.
-1894

George Henry Boulter was born in Sophiasburgh, Prince Edward County. He was educated at Victoria and McGill Colleges and received his medical degree from the latter in 1852. He was a Physician, Surgeon and Druggist in the village of Stirling for many years. He was Warden of the County in 1867 and the first member for North Hastings in the Ontario Legislative Assembly after Confederation, a post he held for 16 years. He was associated with the educational interests of the village and county for 30 years. At his death, he held the position of Lieutenant Colonel of the 49th Battalion of the Hastings Rifles and had been associated with its interests for 27 years. Dr. Boulter died on January 18, 1894, aged 68 years 6 months 1 day.

Boulter, James Henry Dr.
1877-1959

James Henry Boulter was born at Demorestville on January 12, 1877, son of Wellington Boulter and Nancy Helen Sprague, both of United Empire Loyalist descent. He attended McGill University, where he graduated in medicine in 1903; he captained the McGill football team and was a member when it won the Intercollegiate title. Dr. Boulter married Evelyn Crawford on October 12, 1910. Following graduation, Dr. Boulter proceeded to a distinguished career as a Physician and Surgeon at the Grace Hospital in Detroit for 21 years and was a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a life member of the Surgeons' Club of Rochester, Minnesota. He served as Consulting Surgeon to the Detroit United Railway Company. Later he was on the staff of the Presbyterian Hospital at Hollywood, California, for seven years. In 1931, he retired to Picton, Ontario, where he conducted a practice for several years. Dr. J. H. Boulter died at Picton on June 21, 1959, aged 82 years, 5 months and 9 days.

Boulter, Leland
Wellington Keith, Dr.
1897-1978

Leland Wellington Keith Boulter was born on February 1, 1897 at Picton, Ontario son of George Boulter and Helen German. He was a graduate of Picton Collegiate Institute and served with the 48th Battery Canadian Field Artillery during World War 1. He attended the University of Toronto with the class of 1923 and here he was active in college sports including tennis, basketball, hockey and golf. Dr. Leland Wellington Keith Boulter died at Victoria, B.C. on June 27, 1978 aged 81 years 4 months and 26 days.

Bowerman, Albert Claude
Dr.
-1917

Albert Claude Bowerman was born at Bloomfield and was a graduate of the Toronto Medical School in 1876. He pursued the practice of his profession locally before moving to California after the turn of the century. He was an active and able genealogist who interviewed the older locals, consulted records and read widely; he collected genealogical information in the 1890s, which has benefited Quinte families in these subsequent years. Dr. Bowerman died in Lindsay, California on May 28, 1917, aged 66 years 11 months 6 days.

Bowers, Frederick William
Dr.
1905-1985

Frederick William Bowers was born at Capelton, Quebec on February 12, 1905 son of Frederick Bowers and Laura Burgoyne. He spent his formative years at Sulphide, Ontario which is about 5 miles east of Tweed. He entered into the study of his life's work at Queen's University and graduated in medicine in 1930. Dr. Bowers removed to New York State where he established himself at New Rochelle and served as the chief of anaesthesia at the New Rochelle General Hospital until his retirement in 1972. He was a Veteran of World War 11 and was discharged on September 28, 1945 with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Dr. Frederick William Bowers died at Pompano Beach, Florida on March 25, 1985 aged 80 years 1 month 13 days.

Bowyer, Mary Elizabeth
Maria Dr.
1898-1986

Mary Elizabeth Maria Bowyer was born at Strathcona, Ontario on January 23, 1898 daughter of William Bowyer and Emma Cooper. She received her preliminary education at Newburgh and Albert College and her medical degree from the University of Toronto in 1922. Dr. Bowyer was united in marriage with Dr. Edgerton Ross Laughlin of Marlbank, on July 13, 1922; he is also detailed in this review. Dr. Bowyer contracted scarlet fever from a patient with resultant loss of hearing in her right ear; this led to her research into the development of the hearing aid. The couple were active in the research and treatment of mental health issues. After retiring from practice in Minnesota, the couple lived in Catasauqua, Pennsylvania but maintained a summer home near Tamworth on the Salmon River. Dr.

Mary Elizabeth Maria Bowyer died at Catasauqua on April 11, 1986 aged 88 years 2 months and 18 days.

Boyce, Benjamin
Defurlong Dr.
1866-1945

Benjamin Defurlong Boyce was born at the farmhouse at Dartford, Ontario near Warkworth, on March 30, 1866, son of George Boyce and Eleanor De Furlong. He received his primary school education in the local classrooms, attended high school at Campbellford, studied at Albert College, Belleville and graduated from McGill Medical School in 1892. He went west to British Columbia as Company Physician to the Strathyre Mining Company operating at Fairview, near Oliver. He married Mary Sanborn on April 13, 1893 at Vernon. In 1894, he removed to Kelowna which was inhabited by a mere handful of people. His work involved long and arduous journeys on rough roads and mountain trails before the advent of motor cars. He engaged, at various times, in farm operations and the raising of cattle and horses; he was the owner of several farm properties in addition to extensive real estate interests. For a number of years he discharged the duties of City Police Magistrate and, in 1916, joined the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and was the Medical Officer of the Camp at Vernon, with the rank of Captain. He was, for a number of years, Chairman of the Okanagan Loan and Investment Trust Company and a prime mover in founding the original Kelowna Hospital. Dr. Benjamin Defurlong Bouce died at Kelowna on September 25, 1945, aged 79 years, 5 months and 25 days.

Boyce, Harold Austin Dr.
1894-1970

Harold Austin Boyce was born at Hartington, Ontario on October 30, 1894, son of Lewis Wilson Boyce and Lucy Reynolds. He graduated in Medicine from Queen's University in 1916 and was united in marriage to Ena Wilson on January 10, 1917. He began his career as Medical Officer of Health for the Canadian Pacific Railway and was stationed at Sudbury; he removed to Deseronto and remained in General Practice for forty years. Dr. Boyce was the Medical Officer for the Tyendinaga Indian Reserve, a member of the staff of the Belleville General Hospital and was devoted to the practice of medicine. He served as the Mayor of Deseronto, the Medical Officer of Health and Chairman of the Public Utilities Commission and the Board of Education. Dr. Harold Austin Boyce died on January 16, 1970, aged 75 years, 2 months and 16 days.

Boyce, Walter William Dr.
-1935

Walter Boyce was born in Warkworth, received his early education in Cobourg and graduated from Trinity University in 1880 with the degree of Medical Doctor. He began a practice in Wooler and in 1889 at Grafton. Dr. Boyce then spent three years in Albuquerque, New Mexico, going there for the benefit of his wife's health. He subsequently studied gynecology for eight months in Louisville, Kentucky, before establishing himself in Belleville in 1894. For 20 years he was Senior Coroner of Hastings County and for 25 years he filled the important and responsible position of Medical Officer at the Ontario School for the Deaf succeeding Dr. Goldsmith in that capacity. In his work in connection with the school he took great interest in the children and their welfare was of deep concern to him. Dr. Boyce was the oldest practicing physician in Belleville when he died on March 19, 1935, aged 76 years 7 months 3 days.

Boyd, Robert Miller Dr.
1877-1928

Robert Miller Boyd was born at Montreal on December 31, 1877, son of John Boyd and Elizabeth McCooeye. He received his elementary education in country schools and later matriculated from Albert College in Belleville and studied medicine at McGill University, where he graduated in 1904. He married Marjory Rebecca English on October 23, 1907. He practiced for a short time in Belleville and Little Current before settling at Fort William, where he built up a flourishing practice. He served as Coroner and Medical Officer of Health for the city, as well as Physician to the Great Lakes Pulp and Paper Company. Dr. R. M. Boyd died of pneumonia on December 1, 1928, aged 50 years and 11 months.

Bradd, Frederick John Dr.
-1907

Frederick Bradd was a native of Northumberland County and received his early education at Cobourg University and later took his Medical Doctor Degree at Toronto University, graduating in 1888. He practiced for some time in Campbellford before moving to Peterborough about 1898. Dr. Bradd died at Nicholl's Hospital December 23, 1907, aged 48 years 1 month 22 days.

Bradley, Baldwin Lorenzo
Dr.
1826-1897

Baldwin Lorenzo Bradley was born at the farmhouse at Eddystone, Ontario about 4 miles north of Grafton, on April 3, 1826, son of William Bradley and Deborah Tripp. He started his professional career as a blacksmith at Eddystone and was united in marriage to Emeline Hubbell on March 23, 1847. He entered into the study of Medicine and graduated from Victoria College with the class of 1863 and immediately established himself at Stirling, Ontario. On December 2, 1863 his home was partially destroyed by fire but he rebuilt and remained for 7 years. Here he gained a good following and was described "as a man of good moral character and temperate habits". Dr. Bradley removed to Woodstock, Ontario where he practiced and served as County Coroner. His son and grandson followed him in the medical profession. Dr. Baldwin Lorenzo Bradley was buried at the Eddystone Cemetery aged 71.

Bradshaw, Burton Clark
Dr.

Burton Clark Bradshaw was born on Mar 9, 1864 at Madoc, Ontario, son of Anson Bradshaw and Maryette Evans. When two years old he moved to Rosenburg, Michigan with his parents who settled on a farm there. His early education was in a one room school house. He taught school for a few years, studied later at Valparaiso, Indiana and graduated from the Medical School at the University of Michigan in 1891. Dr. Bradshaw established himself at Mayville, Michigan and on June 27, 1895 was united in marriage to Nora Southworth. In 1916 he removed to Royal Oak, Michigan where he remained for the duration. He was marked by a quiet but sincere devotion to his profession and was an earnest worker for the betterment of the community. Dr. Burton Clark Bradshaw died at Royal Oak on Dec 22, 1926 aged 62 years 9 months 13 days.

1864-1926

Brady, James Patrick Dr.
1864-1927

James Patrick Brady was born at Amherst Island on March 4, 1864. He was a graduate of the medical school at Queen's University in 1891; and in June of that year removed to Camden N.Y. After a few years he relocated to Rochester N.Y., where he remained for the duration. He married Grace Frazier at Camden on November 23, 1897. He was a member of the American Medical Association, the New York Medical Society, the Monroe County Medical Association, the Rochester Academy of Medicine and the Rochester Pathological Association. Dr. James Patrick Brady died at Rochester on December 27, 1927, aged 63 years, 9 months and 23 days.

Branscombe, Morley Elwood Dr.
1876-1950

Morley Elwood Branscombe was born at Picton on January 10, 1876, son of Reuben Branscombe and Sarah Peterson. He was educated locally and attended Albert College, then an Arts Degree at Queen's University and graduated in Medicine at that institution in 1904. He interned at the Ottawa General Hospital and soon established himself in practice in Picton. Dr. Branscombe married Annie Elizabeth Paterson on September 10, 1907. At the outbreak of the First Great War, he enlisted and went overseas and on his return, took up residence in Belleville and engaged in the practice of his profession. Dr. M. E. Branscombe died at Picton on September 18, 1950, aged 74 years, 8 months and 8 days.

Brearley, Guy Gage Dr.
1902-1967

Guy Gage Brearley was born at Wadina, Minnesota on July 25, 1902 son of Dr. Guy Thomas Brearley and Rose Gage; the father of our subject was a graduate of Chicago College of Dentistry in 1897. He received his education at the University of Alberta where he was awarded his medical degree in 1930, after which he lectured and carried out postgraduate studies at the University. Following this Dr. Brearley was on staff of the Oliver Mental Institute in Edmonton for a short period before joining the staff of the Royal Ottawa Sanatorium. He was united in marriage to Irene Thompson on March 31, 1932. In 1936 Dr. Brearley was appointed director of the Provincial Chest Clinic at Belleville and held that post until his retirement in 1964. Dr. Guy Gage Brearley died at Belleville on May 5, 1967 aged 64 years 9 months 10 days.

Brebner, Colin Nichol Dr.
1913-1995

Colin Nichol Brebner was born at Toronto, Ontario on April 27, 1913 son of David Brebner and Helen Rous. He was educated there and received his medical degree from the University of Toronto in 1938. Dr. Brebner spent a short time in Belleville, was united in marriage to Margaret Beck on April 30, 1940 and at the outbreak of the War enlisted as surgeon to 1st Canadian Parachute Battalion, 6th Airborne. He suffered serious fractures as the result of a jump at Juno Beach in 1944 and was a prisoner of War at the hands of the Germans. Afterwards, Dr. Brebner went to Kirkland Lake where he established a practice and was surgeon to some of the mines in the area; later he removed to Ottawa where he served as chief medical advisor to the Canada Pension Commission. Dr. Colin Nichol Brebner died at Ottawa on April 4, 1995 aged 81 years 11 months 7 days.

Bredin, William Hawtry
Dr.
-1909

William Hawtry Bredin was born near Perth, Ontario and was an early Prince Edward County Thompsonian Physician. He located in Milford where he practiced his profession for over 50 years. Dr. Bredin helped organize a drive to clear the Black River of logs, following, which, it was dredged. The church at Milford was built mainly by the energy of Dr. Bredin, between 1865-1867. He continued to practice medicine even after a spectacular run of tragedies struck the household including a fire, which destroyed the home office and the untimely death of several of his children. Dr. Bredin died in Toronto on November 11, 1909, aged 81 years 16 days.

Bright, Charles Arnott Dr.
1908-2009

Charles Arnott Bright was born at London, Ontario on August 28, 1908 son of Charles Bright and Ethel Ingram. He was a graduate of the medical faculty of the University of Western Ontario in 1937 and set up practice in Campbellford before taking specialty training in psychiatry. Dr. Bright was a professor at Queen's and Western University teaching medicine, pharmacology and psychiatry and during the War he worked with returning Veterans in psychiatric hospitals in London, Ontario. Later he removed to New York State where he provided active treatment in Ossington, Yonkers and Peekskill. Predeceased by his wife, the former Dr. Bertha Geraldine Loynes, Dr. Charles Arnott Bright died at Murfreesboro, Tennessee on September 22, 2009 aged 101 years 24 days.

Brintnell, Frederick Bruce
Dr.
1902-1964

Frederick Bruce Brintnell was born at Colborne, Ontario on February 16, 1902 son of Frederick Brintnell and Lillian Purdy. He entered into the study of his life's work at the University of Toronto and graduated in medicine in 1926; he was united in marriage to Freda McAlear on October 29, 1924. He soon established himself at Campbellford and was on the staff of the original Campbellford Hospital but removed to Warkworth where he remained for the duration. Dr. Frederick Bruce Brintnell died in Peterborough on July 8, 1964 aged 62 years 4 months and 22 days.

Brisco, Clarence Alfred Dr.
1892-1924

Clarence Alfred Brisco was born at Napanee, Ontario on May 6, 1892, son of Robert McIntyre Brisco and Mary Esther Ham; he was of United Empire Loyalist stock by way of all four grandparents. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1913 and went overseas in May 1915, being first a Sergeant Major, then Major, in the Queen's University Medical Unit and later with the Royal Army Medical Corps. He was twice mentioned in dispatches and was awarded the Military Cross in 1916; King George personally complimented him for his bravery at the front. After his return from overseas, his health badly shattered, he took up practice at Timmons where he was an outstanding and gifted member of his profession. Ill health forced him to give up his practice and he traveled to England in the search for treatment by the specialists there. It took four weeks to reach his destination, but medical therapy was of no avail. Dr. Clarence Alfred Brisco died on February 24, 1924, aged 31 years, 9 months and 18 days.

Bristol, Amos Samuel Dr.
-1887

Amos Samuel Bristol was born in Ernestown, Ontario. He was educated at Bath and graduated from McGill College in 1850, taking the highest class standing. He practiced for a few months in Bath and then in the County of Hastings, including Cannifton; in 1857 he located in Napanee. He was Surgeon to the 4th Regiment of the Provincial Cavalry and served at Kingston during the Fenian raid. He was a Municipal Councilor and a School Trustee for 20 years. Dr. Bristol died of apoplexy on March 8, 1887, aged 61 years 5 months 21 days.

Broad, John "James" Dr.
-1927

John "James" Broad was born in Brock Township and educated at Port Perry and Ottawa Normal School. He taught school in Victoria County and subsequently graduated in medicine from Victoria University in 1888. He soon established himself in Salt Coats, North West Territories and then for six years at Coboconk, Ontario. He then took a post-graduate course in New York and followed the practice of his profession in Wellington. Dr. Broad died in Wellington on May 27, 1927, aged 69 years 2 months 5 days.

Brown, James Archer Dr.
1883-1948

James Archer Brown was born at Colborne on January 10, 1883, son of Thomas Brown and Sarah Archer. He received his early education at Colborne and later entered Trinity Medical College, where he graduated as the Silver Medalist in 1904; he took post-graduate work at Edinburgh and London, England. Dr. Brown married Ruth Boyer on September 19, 1906. He commenced his practice at Todmorden, Yorkshire, England, and was, later, at Blackwood, Monmouthshire, England. Returning to Canada, he settled at Colborne then to Oshawa in 1929. Dr. J. A. Brown died at Oshawa on December 21, 1948, aged 65 years, 11 months and 11 days.

Brown, Marshall Jacob Dr.
-1915

Marshall Jacob Brown was born at Cataraqui, Kingston Township and received his primary education there. He attended the University of New York and, returning to Kingston, took up the study of medicine at Queen's Medical College where he graduated in 1856. He then went into practice at Cataraqui. In 1866, at the time of the Fenian Raid, Dr. Brown served as Surgeon in the Frontenac Cavalry. He removed to Napanee where he practiced for a few years around 1880. Dr. Brown died at Kingston on February 13, 1915, aged 80 years 5 months 10 days.

Brown, Milton Herbert
Dr.
1898-1985

Milton Herbert Brown was born on September 6, 1898, a native of Havelock, Ontario, son of Johnson Brown and Augusta Hicks. Following matriculation from the Trenton High School and service in World War 1 in the Flying Corps, he entered into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated with the class of 1924. He had a varied career which included service with the chest clinic at the Toronto Western Hospital, director of hygiene with the rank of Colonel during World War 11 and was awarded the Order of the British Empire in 1942. He was assistant director of Connaught Laboratories and professor and head of the department of public health and school of hygiene at the University of Toronto. Dr. Milton Herbert Brown died at Toronto on February 24, 1985 aged 86 years 5 months and 18 days.

Brown, Sanger Monroe
Dr.
1852-1928

Sanger Monroe Brown was born at Bloomfield on February 16, 1852, son of William Brown and Catherine Comer. He spent the early part of his life on a farm near that town and was graduated from Bellevue Medical College in New York in 1880. He spent his early years as a physician in New York where he was identified with many public hospitals. He was, at one time, Superintendent of the Massachusetts State Hospital for the Insane and the Bloomingdale Asylum in New York. Dr. Brown removed to Chicago and on July 9, 1885, married Bella Christie. He conducted a series of early vivisection experiments on monkeys in 1886-87 at the University College, London; he was at that time associated with the University of Illinois and was, from 1892 to 1897, Professor of Medical Jurisprudence and Hygiene at Rush Medical College. Later, he became professor of clinical neurology at the same institution. In 1905, he founded the Kenilworth Sanitarium in Chicago. He was active in numerous civic enterprises and was a subscriber to the Chicago Opera Company and a life member of the Chicago Art Institute. Dr. Sanger Monroe Brown died at Chicago on April 1, 1928, aged 76 years, 1 month and 15 days.

Brown, Sarah Amelia Dr.
1863-1937

Sarah Amelia Brown was born at Consecon, Ontario on Sept 3, 1863 daughter of Rev. George Brown and Mary Vivian. The father of our subject was a New Connection Methodist Minister who served at various charges throughout southern Ontario including Shannonville and Consecon. Widely known as Minnie Brown she received her early education in London, Ontario, was a graduate of the Women's Medical College in Kingston in 1890 and was licensed in Ontario on May 22, 1890. Dr. Brown began her professional career at Manhattan, New York and while there would often visit with the Drs. Gillen in Mt. Morris. She removed to Bethlehem, Pennsylvania and then established herself at Greenwich, Connecticut. Here she served as a live-in private physician to the Holmes family, a position she held for 32 years. Dr. Sarah Amelia "Minnie" Brown died at Greenwich, CT on Aug 19, 1937 aged 73 years 11 months 16 days.

Brown, Willet Stuart Dr.
1867-1927

Willet Stuart Brown was born at Bloomfield, Ontario on August 13, 1867, son of Stewart Brown and Lydia Noxon. He was educated at the public school and high school at Picton and was a graduate of Columbia University College in 1891. Dr. Brown was a Fellow of the American Medical Association and a member of the American Psychiatric Society. He married Henrietta Rempson on September 26, 1895. In 1897, he moved to Flushing N.Y., where he became the Assistant Physician at the Sanford Hall Sanitarium. Nathan Sanford (1777-1838) was a New York State politician and, in 1845, his residence in Flushing became a private insane asylum. In 1907, Dr. Brown took over the management of the institution and conducted it until the property was sold for development in 1925. Dr. Willet Stuart Brown retired to Manhattan where he died on April 4, 1927, aged 59 years, 7 months and 21 days.

Brown, William Ernest Dr.
1862-1915

William Ernest Brown was born at Roseneath on April 12, 1862, son of Robert Brown and Ellen Turner. He attended the local classrooms, proceeded to the Cobourg Collegiate and was a graduate of the medical school of Trinity College in Toronto in 1891. Before his medical career, he taught school in the classrooms at Codrington. He was married on May 16, 1889, to Annie Ames and they continued to live with their respective parents until he completed his medical studies. Dr. Brown soon established himself at Peterborough where he remained for the duration. His location and cause of death are unique in that he died at the local Police Station of strychnine poisoning, death occurring within ½ hour of ingestion. Dr. William Ernest Brown died at Peterborough on March 2, 1915, aged 52 years, 10 months and 20 days.

Brown, William Chapman
Dr.
1874-1950

William Chapman Brown was born at the farm at Bonarlaw, Hastings County, Ontario on May 23, 1874 son of Henry Brown and Catherine Clark. He attended the local schools and was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1904. Dr Brown was united in marriage to Wilhelmina Matheson on May 6, 1908 and established himself in his life's work in Toronto. He practiced for over 40 years, resided at 386 Bloor St. West and is interred at the Toronto Necropolis. Dr William Chapman Brown died on Nov 14, 1950 aged 76 years 5 months 21 days.

Brownson, Carl Alexander
Dr.
1899-1945

Carl Alexander Brownson was born at Stirling, Ontario on September 5, 1899 son of Charles Brownson and Margurite Gillen. He graduated from the University of Toronto in Arts and in 1928 attained his medical degree. This was followed with a practice in Belleville but after two years there he removed to New York City where he was associated with the Wall Street Board of Trade in physician's capacity. Returning to Canada, he practised in Bloomfield for a number of years then removed to Picton. Dr. Brownson was a member of the Rotary Club and being intensely interested in child welfare was chairman of the Crippled Children Committee of that service club. He was a Mason, a musician of note and his beautiful gardens and floral effects were the cynosure of flower-lovers' eyes. Dr. Carl Alexander Brownson died at Picton on February 12, 1945 aged 45 years 5 months and 7 days.

Buller, Frank Dr.
-1905

Frank Buller was born in Campbellford and received his early education at Peterborough High School. He graduated in medicine in 1869 from Victoria College. His post-graduate studies followed in England and Germany, specializing in diseases of the eye, ear and throat. During the Franco-Prussian War, he served as Surgeon in the German Military Hospitals. He became a member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of England, returning to practice in Montreal in 1876. Dr. Buller possessed great ability and excellent judgment, and was soon recognized as one of the greatest specialists in disease of the eye and ear in North America. He was one of the most active and energetic of McGill's professors for the next 30 years. He was a president of the Montreal Medico-Chirurgical Society and an intimate friend of Sir William Osler, Medicinae Doctorae, Chirurgiae Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery). Dr. Butler died in Montreal on October 11, 1905, aged 61.

Buller, Frederick James
Dr.
1876-1955

Frederick James Buller was born at Ossian, Iowa on Sept 6, 1876 to Canadian parents Edmund Buller and Sarah Levesconte; he was a nephew of the previously chronicled Dr Frank Buller. He grew up and received his primary education in Campbellford, Ontario, matriculated from Jarvis Collegiate and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1905. Dr Buller practiced in Latchford, Ontario for 3 years before removing to the Central Park area of Vancouver where he started a practice extending to scattered farms and forest homes, areas which could only be reached on horseback. Roads were bad, cars were few and as a token of the esteem in which he was held, his name was given to a street in the area. Dr Buller was united in marriage to Sarah Howard on Aug 24, 1910. In 1932 he was president of the Vancouver Medical Association and in 1953 he was named Prince of Good Fellows by this organization. Dr Frederick James Buller followed the practice of his profession for 49 years and died at Vancouver on Apr 23, 1955 aged 78 years 7 months 17 days.

Burdett, David Earl Dr.
-1895

David Burdett was born in Sophiasburg, Prince Edward County, graduated as Doctor of Medicine at Trinity College in 1855 and settled in Belleville. In 1870 he went to the old country and took degrees at the Royal College of Surgeons, London; became a Fellow of the Obstetrical Society, London and a graduate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh, Scotland. He was appointed a Coroner for Hastings County and was Surgeon Major of the 15th Battalion Argyle Light Infantry. He was a member of the Board of Examiners of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario; additionally, he was Honorary Secretary of the Obstetrical Society and a member of the Anthropological Society of London. He was an unusually well qualified doctor and was a skillful and successful physician, with a very large practice. Dr. D. E. Burdett was ill for some years with locomotor ataxia, the result of a fall in Boston; he died in Belleville on August 25, 1895, aged 67.

Burdett, Harry Earl Dr.
-1907

Harry Burdett was a native of Belleville, received his early education at Albert College and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1886. He established a practice at St. Paul, Minnesota, and held a prominent position at the University in that city. Dr. H. E. Burdett died at St. Paul on March 27, 1907, aged 45.

Burleigh, Herbert
Clarence Dr.
1893-1980

Herbert Clarence Burleigh was born at Hartington, Ontario on October 6, 1893 son of John Burleigh and Gertrude Percy. He attended Sydenham High School and studied medicine at Queen's University, graduating in 1926; he was united in marriage to Dorothy Howard on September 16, 1927 and was soon established in New York State but returned to Canada in 1935 and followed his life's work at Bath. In 1937 Dr. Burleigh became medical officer of health for Lennox and Addington County and in 1937 founded and served as president of the Bath Historical Society. During World War 11 he joined the Medical Corps and rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Dr. Burleigh was proud of his United Empire Loyalist connections and had a passion for both local history and genealogy. He was in demand as a public speaker and also published a large number of historical essays. Dr. Herbert Clarence Burleigh died at Kingston on September 13, 1980 aged 86 years 11 months and 7 days.

Burnett, David Dr.
1845-1885

David Burnett was born at Cobourg, Ontario in 1845, son of David Burnett and Elizabeth Richard, both natives of Scotland. The father of our subject was the building contractor on the construction of Victoria Hall in Cobourg. Dr. Burnett was a graduate of the medical school of Toronto in 1867, and proceeded to establish himself in his life's work at Cobourg, where he died on April 11, 1885, aged 40.

Burns, Edmund A. Dr.
1825-1910

Edmund A Burns was born at Holyoke, Ma. on July 11, 1825. Dr. Burns left his practice at Holyoke, was united in marriage on Jan 22, 1853 in Ogdensburg to Jane Miller and soon established himself at Tyendinaga, Ontario. After a few years he left and went west, and probably north. It appears that he was a member of the Arctic Brotherhood, a secret society formed by men on their way to the Gold Rush; membership was restricted to white men who resided in Alaska or the Yukon. Retired, Dr. Edmund A Burns died at Buckley, Wa. on Nov 15, 1910, aged 85 years 4 months 4 days.

Burns, James Douglas Dr.
1869-1908

James Douglas Burns was born at Belleville, Ontario on Mar 28, 1869 son of Joseph Burns and Elizabeth Kelley. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto, received his medical degree in 1902 and soon located at Paradise Valley, Nevada. This was a mecca for prospectors with gold, silver and copper outcroppings in area mines and Paradise was the town where supplies of all kinds were available at reasonable prices. Dr James Douglas Burns died of pneumonia, his grave marker erected by the community, death occurring on May 27, 1908 aged 39 years 1 month 29 days.

Burr, Ronald Clayton Dr.
1904-1999

Ronald Clayton Burr was born at Bloomfield, Ontario on August 1, 1904 son of Clayton Burr and Ethelwyn Thorn. He was a graduate of medicine from Queen's University with the class of 1932 and was united in marriage to Theodora Tamblyn in 1934. Dr. Burr took specialist training in radiology in Edinburgh, Scotland and served as chief of that department at both Kingston General and Hotel Dieu Hospitals. He was a pioneer in the development of radiographic diagnosis and therapy in Canada. During the War, Dr. Burr achieved the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and subsequently was made an officer of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. In 1966, Queen's University created a department of Therapeutic Radiology, the first of its kind in Canada, with Dr. Burr as professor and chairman; in 1977, the Ronald C. Burr Wing of the Kingston General Hospital was opened. Dr. Ronald Clayton Burr died on March 24, 1999 aged 94 years 7 months 23 days.

Burrows, John George Dr.
-1952

John Burrows was born in Bath. He entered the study of medicine at Queen's University where he obtained his Medical Doctor degree in 1891. He soon established himself in the practice of his profession at Marlbank until 1934, when he removed to Tweed and was in that village for 14 years. Dr. Burrows removed to Belleville about 1948 and died there on March 5, 1952, aged 85 years 3 months 8 days.

Butler, Billa Flint Dr.
-1934

Billa Flint Butler was born in Stirling and was a graduate of McGill Medical School in 1879. He soon established himself at London, Ontario, where he followed the practice of his profession. After 'retirement' from his office, he lectured on rhinology, ophthalmology, otology and laryngology at Western University. Dr. Butler died at London on March 1, 1934, aged 82 years 1 month 26 days.

Butler, George Coltman
Dr.
1838-1868.

George Coltman Butler was born at Brighton, Ontario on September 30, 1838, son of William Butler and Elizabeth Coltman. He was a graduate of the McGill College Medical School in 1865. He established himself in Brighton, but was cut short in his life expectancy. Dr. George Coltman Butler died at Brighton on September 19, 1868, aged 29 years, 11 months and 19 days.

Butler, Tobias John Dr.
1871-1903

Tobias John Butler was born at Deseronto in 1871, son of Tobias Butler and Elizabeth McVey. The father of our subject was a native of Ireland, immigrated to Canada about 1850 and settled at Deseronto, Ontario. Here he established himself in the employ of the Rathbun Company and rose steadily through the ranks. He valued the importance of educational institutions and provided his family with a liberal education. Young Tobias Butler attended the local schools and was a graduate of the medical college of Queen's University in 1895. He immediately settled in Chicago, Illinois where he followed the practice of his profession. Dr. Tobias John Butler died in Belleville of tuberculosis on January 18, 1903, aged 32.

Byam, John Wesley Dr.
1847-1886

John Wesley Byam was born at Hillier, Prince Edward County in September 1847, son of George and Maria Byam. He was educated locally and was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1875. Dr. John Wesley Byam established himself at Campbellford, where he remained for the duration. He died of 'ulceration of the larynx' on January 24, 1886, aged 38 years and 4 months.

Byrne, John Vincent Dr.
1909-1974

John Vincent Byrne was born at Stanleyville, Ontario on May 9, 1909 son of Bernard Byrne and Edith Donnally. He was educated in Perth and was a graduate of Queen's University, faculty of medicine, in 1935. Dr. Byrne practiced in Barry's Bay for 5 years, was united in marriage to Norah Murray on October 1, 1940 and established himself at Trenton where he remained for the duration. He had a family practice, was an anaesthetist, surgeon and county coroner; active in community affairs, he served as chairman of the school board. Dr. John Vincent Byrne died at Trenton on December 7, 1974 aged 65 years 6 months 28 days.

Cahoon, Frank G. Dr.
-1926

Frank G. Cahoon was born at Waring's Corners, Prince Edward County and in 1898 was a graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School. He soon established himself at Bloomfield where he practiced for over 25 years. Dr. Cahoon died at the Prince Edward County Hospital following an operation for appendicitis on June 14, 1926, aged 60 years 3 months 28 days.

Callahan, Thomas Henry
Dr.
1879-1946

Thomas Henry Callahan was born at Wooler on December 23, 1879, son of Thomas Callahan and Henrietta McKenna. He received his early education in the little red schoolhouse in Wooler, then attended the Trenton High School and graduated in Medicine from the University of Toronto in 1907. Dr. Callahan married Augusta Noll on August 15, 1912. He soon established himself at Kitchener, where he practiced until 1918 and was the staff Abdominal Surgeon for St. Mary's Hospital there; he removed to Toronto, where he was associated with St. Michael's Hospital. His special interests were weekend farming and breeding thoroughbred horses at his farm in Wooler. He was the breeder of the 1938 Canadian Champion, Mona Bell, who finished second in the King's Plate in 1938, losing to Bunty Lawless, later named Canada's horse of the half-century. Dr. T. H. Callahan died at Toronto on August 14, 1946, aged 66 years, 7 months and 21 days.

Callery, Albert Liddell Dr.
1865-1947

Albert Liddell Callery was born at Cannifton, Ontario on Jan 1, 1865 son of James Callery and Adeline Badgley. He entered into the study of his life's work at Trinity University from which institution he graduated in 1897. He was soon to hang his shingle at Port Huron, Michigan where he remained for the duration; Dr. Callery was united in marriage to Lillian Lauder on June 26, 1912. He acted as city Health Director in Port Huron and in June 1947 the St. Clair County Medical Society honoured him for 50 years of service to his community. Dr.

Albert Liddell Callery died in Port Huron on Dec 3, 1947 aged 82 years 11 months 2 days.

Cameron, Charles
McDonald Dr.
-1903

Charles McDonald Cameron was the son of John D. Cameron, who was a Hudson Bay Factor and retired to Grafton, Ontario. Presumably, Charles was born on the frontier of the trapping trade. What is known though, he was a graduate of Victoria College, receiving his Bachelor of Arts and a medical graduate of the University of the City of New York. He followed his profession at Cobourg in the 1850s and was appointed County Coroner in 1863. He removed to Rochester, where, for many years he was a Practitioner of Medicine. Dr. Cameron then lived the retired life at Cobourg where he died on February 27, 1903, aged 80 years 9 months 22 days.

Cameron, George Stewart
Dr.
1871-1965

George Stewart Cameron was born on Aug 7, 1871 at Omemee, Ontario son of George Cameron and Ann Stewart. He was a graduate of the Toronto Medical School in 1896 and was united in marriage on Sept 22, 1897 to Leonore West. Dr. Cameron followed the practice of his profession at Petrolia, Yarker and Omemee and finally at Peterborough. He was an Obstetrician and Gynaecologist of skill and experience, served as President of the Ontario Medical Association in 1918 and for the subsequent 20 years as its Honorary Treasurer. He served as the leader in the institution of improvements in nursing and nursing education and for this was elected as an Honorary Member of the Canadian Nurses' Association. Dr. George Stewart Cameron died at Peterborough on Feb 3, 1965 aged 93 years 5 months 26 days.

Campbell, Aaron Jesse Dr.
-1916

Aaron Campbell was a teacher at Whitby before he entered into the study of medicine at Toronto, where he graduated in 1874. Dr. Campbell established a practice at Frankford, but tragedy struck when his wife and child died there soon afterwards; he moved to Gravenhurst where he followed the practice of his profession. Dr. Campbell died at Etobicoke on August 19, 1916, aged 71 years 10 months 21 days.

Campbell, Albert La Du
Dr.
1865-1950

Albert La Du Campbell was born at Madoc, Ontario in July 1865 son of Rev. Amos Campbell and Elizabeth Sills and brother of previously chronicled Dr. Joseph Sills Campbell. He entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University, was united in marriage to Alla Maude Vermilyea on Mar 28, 1888 and graduated with the class of 1889. Dr. Campbell established himself at Mt Morris, N.Y. where he remained until 1895 when he relocated to Piqua, Ohio and was replaced at Mt. Morris by the Drs. Gillen, graduates of Queen's. He returned to New York, settling at Jamestown where he practiced his profession for another 35 years. Dr. Albert La Du Campbell lived the retired life at the National Elks Memorial Home in Bedord, Va where he died on Oct 22, 1950 age 85 years 3 months.

Campbell, Gordon
Eddington Dr.
1896-1967

Gordon Eddington Campbell was born at Picton, Ontario on November 21, 1896 the son of Willis Campbell and Cora Lazier. He was educated in Picton and Napanee and attended Queen's University. In World War 1 he enlisted at 18 and served overseas with the Queen's University Ambulance Corps. On his return he attended the University of Toronto from which institution he graduated in medicine in 1924; he was united in marriage to Lela Grange on October 2, 1926. Dr. Campbell interned at the Toronto Western Hospital and the Hospital for Sick Children. He was particularly interested in diseases of the ear, nose and throat and was an associate on the staff of the Toronto Western Hospital. Dr. Gordon Eddington Campbell died at Toronto on April 14, 1967 aged 70 years 4 months and 23 days.

Campbell, James Patrick
Dr.
1888-1959

James Patrick Campbell was born at Arthur, Ontario on September 12, 1888, son of Edward Campbell and Elizabeth Davis. He was a Graduate of the University of Toronto in 1910 and practised in Powassan, Blind River and Napanee, Ontario before the War. He was united in marriage on June 26, 1912, to Melissa Mary Fletcher. Dr. Campbell was living in Napanee when he enlisted as a Medical Officer in the Royal Canadian Engineers in World War I. After his discharge and return from overseas, he started practice in Toronto and for twenty-two years was a School Doctor for the Department of Public Health. Dr. James Patrick Campbell died on October 28, 1959, aged 71 years, 1 month and 16 days.

Campbell, Joseph Sills Dr.
-1908

Joseph Campbell was born in Sidney Township and received his early education at the Belleville High School and Albert College; he graduated from Queen's University Medical School in 1890 and established himself in practice at Rochester, New York. The Rochester Union and Advertiser and the Munro County Mail contain several accounts of serious accidents with which his name was connected as attending physician and in the treatment of which he was credited with gratifying results. Dr. Campbell died at Rochester on November 6, 1908, aged 38 years 6 months 7 days.

Campbell, William Charles
Dr.
1887-1948

William Charles Campbell was born at Tweed, Ontario on September 20, 1887, son of William Campbell and Symantha Lucinda Burleigh. He graduated in Medicine from the University of Toronto in 1911, went to England for a post-graduate course and on his return married Eva Maynes on July 16, 1913. He then joined the staff of the old Canadian Copper Company, later known as the International Nickel Company and served on the Medical Staff for 31 years. Dr. Campbell practised in Creighton, Crane Hill, Frood and Copper Cliff; he was associated with the Copper Cliff School Board for several years, was a member of the Algonquin Lodge and a Mason. Dr. William Charles Campbell died on September 11, 1948, aged 60 years, 11 months and 21 days.

Campbell, William Dr.
-1900

William Campbell was a native of Scotland where he received his medical education and also studied for the ministry. He came to Canada in 1842, and was one of the early settlers of the township of Madoc. Here, he acted as a Missionary for a number of years and from there, removed to Campbellford and, in 1881, to Port Huron, Michigan. Dr. Campbell successfully practiced his profession as a doctor at Port Huron where he died on February 21, 1900, aged 87 years 7 months 21 days.

Campbell, William Northcott Dr.
1891-1970

William Northcott Campbell was born in Glengarry County, Ontario on October 23, 1891, son of John Campbell and Jessie Sturrock. He entered into the study of medicine at McGill University from which institution he graduated in 1919. He established his practice at Hastings, Ontario in 1921 and on December 25, 1922 married Lillian Charlotte Cadwell. Dr. Campbell followed the practice of his profession at Hastings for forty-seven years, retiring in 1968. Dr. William Northcott Campbell died on April 22, 1970, aged 78 years, 5 months and 29 days.

Canniff, William Dr.
-1910

William Canniff was born in Thurlow Township, received his early education locally and attended Victoria University, the Toronto School of Medicine and the University of New York where he received his Medical Doctor diploma in 1854. For some time he was house surgeon in New York and then went to England where he studied and was admitted to the Royal College of Surgeons in 1855. He was connected to the Royal Artillery in 1856 during the Crimean War and then studied at hospitals in Edinburgh, Dublin and Paris. He commenced practice in Brighton in 1857 and then Belleville. He joined the faculty of Victoria College in 1858 and in 1863 became Sub-Dean, teaching Pathology and Surgery. During the American Civil War, he was associated with the Army of the Potomac. In 1863, he returned to Belleville to practice his profession for the next six years. In 1867, he was at the front during the Fenian raid. The following year he helped form the Canadian Medical Association and was the 2nd General Secretary in 1869 and the 13th President in 1880. Dr. Canniff published his book entitled History of the Settlement of Upper Canada in 1869, which was a most valued addition to the Canadian literature. He then returned to Toronto and was again Professor of Surgery at Victoria College; he was appointed Toronto's first Medical Officer of Health in 1883. He was a descendant of United Empire Loyalists and was the originator of the United Empire Loyalist Centennial celebrations in Toronto in 1884. Dr. Canniff died in Belleville on October 18, 1910, aged 80 years 3 months 28 days.

Cannon, William James
Dr.
1831-1905

William James Cannon was born at Cork, Ireland on February 13, 1831, son of Patrick Cannon and Rachel Patterson. He arrived in Ontario while still in his youth, attended the local schools and was united in marriage to Eliza Victoria Minaker on June 2, 1856. Cannon subsequently became a Licentiate of the Medical College of Pennsylvania in 1865. Dr. Cannon spent his early years in Peterborough County, was at Yarker, Ontario for about a decade before moving to Sharbot Lake in 1892 where he was the first resident physician for that community. This house was located on what is now called Cannon Road and is now referred to as the Whytock House after Dr. Carl James Whytock who practiced there for about 25 years. Dr. Cannon died at Sharbot Lake on September 3, 1905 aged 74 years 6 months 20 days.

Card, Lorne Campbell Dr.
1906-1969

Lorne Campbell Card was born at Wicklow, Haldimand Township, Ontario on October 11, 1906 son of Harry Card and Katherine Campbell. At an early age he moved to Saskatchewan where he completed his public and high school at Melville, then attended the University of Saskatchewan for 2 years before going to McGill where he obtained his medical degree in 1931. After interning and working on the staff at the Montreal General Hospital Dr. Card joined the Royal Army Medical Corps and served in various parts of the British Empire, particularly India, achieving the rank of Major. In 1947 he joined the staff of the Workmen's Compensation Board Hospital and then the Orthopaedic and Arthritic Hospital in Toronto. Dr. Lorne Campbell Card died at Toronto on April 11, 1969 aged 62 years 6 months.

Cardwell, William Arthur
Dr.
1890-1962

William Arthur Cardwell was born at Cobourg, Ontario on April 17, 1890, son of James Albert Cardwell and Elizabeth Lindsay. Following graduation from the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1914, he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, served overseas and was awarded the Order of the British Empire. After the War, he established his Practice in Toronto and in 1928, joined the Staff at the Ontario Hospital in Cobourg; he was a Specialist in Forensic Psychiatry. In 1932, he moved to the Ontario Hospital in Whitby where he remained fifteen years when he was appointed as Superintendent of the Hospital in Penetanguishene. In 1960, he was appointed as Consulting Psychiatrist to the Attorney-General's Department and served as a member of the Department of Reform Institutions' Advisory Council on Offenders. Dr. William Arthur Cardwell died on May 6, 1962, aged 72 years and days.

Carefoot, Ernest Melville,
Dr.
1889-1949

Ernest Melville Carefoot was born at Collingwood on July 28, 1889, son of John Carefoot and Mary Ann Duke. He received his primary education in the public and high schools in his native town and was one of a handful of Carefoot cousins who contemporaneously entered into the Study of Medicine. He was a Graduate of Queen's University in 1914 and spent two years as a Fellow in Physiology at Kingston, before removing west to Saskatchewan where he first established himself at the village of Abbey. He spent time at Milestone, two years in post-graduate work overseas and, in 1923, settled at Regina; he soon ran afoul of the College of Physicians and Surgeons for unprofessional and improper conduct in the use of the Abrams Machine. Dr. Albert Abrams of San Francisco earned a Medical Degree from the University of Heidelberg, became a Professor of Pathology at the Cooper Medical Institute (later the Stanford Medical School) and President of the San Francisco Medical Chirurgical Society. He went on to develop some novel and strange theories of disease, causality and treatment including the Abrams Machine. In 1916, he developed the Electronic Reactions of Abrams Theory that tissue gave off electronic vibrations and one could diagnose disease by measuring those vibrations. His Dynamiser was the machine for diagnosis and his Oscilloclast treated it. The machines leased for $200 up front for the plug-in version and $250 for the battery powered version and operators paid a further $5 a month in rent; they also had to swear never to open the handsome wooden boxes. Abrams leased out about 3,000 machines and when he died in 1924, left an estate of about four million dollars. In 1925, the discipline committee suspended Dr. Carefoot's license to practice in part because he claimed his machine was infallible, guaranteed a cure and told patients they had diseases they didn't have; his dismissal was overturned on appeal and he was allowed a restricted license. He continued to use his radio-electric therapy, and in 1934, was struck off the Medical Register and returned to Ontario. He moved to Belleville where he was soon in the public eye once again. In 1937, the media was full of reports of the curative value of water from an artesian well just four miles north of the city. The water was believed to contain iodine and gold in colloidal form, as well as calcium, silver, barium, magnesium, potassium, lithium, manganese and strontium. When mixed properly with portions of a popular brand of flour these waters, which sold at $1.25/gallon, were beneficial in the treatment of chronic cases of ulcerated and acid stomach disorders, skin conditions, bladder troubles, goitre, arthritis and neuritis. The Belleville Aqua Vita Company Ltd was established with Dr. Carefoot as president. Dr. Carefoot had lost his right to charge for his work although he was still permitted to see patients on the basis of receiving only voluntary payments. In 1946, he was charged with fraudulently claiming he had a machine which would diagnose and cure illness. The idea 'sold' to patients was that the apparatus had mysterious radioactive powers capable of amazing cures, but in actuality was assembled from automobile magneto coils, ordinary electric light bulbs and other odds and ends of every day use. Bolstered by defence witnesses who supported the doctor, loud applause from a crowded courtroom greeted the 'not guilty' verdict. Electrical apparatus built along the famed Rube Goldberg lines, flour and water miracle mixtures and pamphlets promising fantastic cures were part and parcel of Dr. Carefoot's medical business. His Belleville residence was recently renovated by a podiatrist where patients were seen and provided foot care. Dr. Ernest Carefoot died on September 26, 1949, aged 60 years, 1 month and 28 days.

Carey, Francis Vize Dr.
-1865

Francis Vize Carey was born in the Diocese of Dublin, Leinster Province, Ireland. He was a graduate of the University of Glasgow in 1839 and received the designate Doctor of Medicine, Master of Surgery; he trained as a Surgeon in the Royal Navy. On coming to this country, he practiced his profession at Amherst Island, Newburgh and Napanee. He presented his credentials to the Medical Board of Upper Canada and became a Licentiate on December 21, 1844. He was appointed as Surgeon to the 2nd Battalion of the Addington Militia. In 1864, he petitioned to be appointed as Physician at the new Lennox & Addington County Goal, an appointment, which he did not receive. The salary was $50 per annum. Dr. Carey died at Napanee on August 14, 1865, aged 51.

Carlaw, Thomas William
Dr.
-1909

Thomas William Carlaw was a native of Alnwick Township, Northumberland County. He entered the medical school of Trinity College, graduating Medical Doctor in 1893. He soon established himself in Campbellford where he practiced for the duration. Dr. Carlaw died in Campbellford on February 5, 1909, aged 45 years 5 months 26 days.

Carleton, Edmund Allan
Dr.
1893-1959

Edmund Allan Carleton was born at Moneymore, Ontario (1/2 way between Plainfield and Tweed) on March 9, 1893, son of John Carleton and Isabelle Dafoe. He received his education at the University of Toronto where he graduated in 1919; he married Florence Isabella McGillivray on August 24, 1921. He worked in partnership with Dr. Forbes at Mimico for five years after graduation before removing to Stirling, Ontario. Here he established himself in his life's work for the next thirty-five years. Dr. Edmund Allan Carleton died on October 22, 1959, aged 66 years, 7 months and 13 days.

Carleton, Harry Gordon
Dr.

Harry Gordon Carleton was born at Roslin, Ontario on October 15, 1899 son of John Carleton and Isabelle Dafoe; his brother, Dr. Edmund

1899-1958

Carleton was chronicled previously. He was educated locally and attained his medical degree from Queen's University in 1926. Dr. Carleton married first, Edith Walker on August 28, 1926 and after her death, Norah Crozier. He was soon established in his life's work at Peterborough and Norwood, for many years served as county coroner, was active in the Masonic and Orange lodges and served as school trustee in Peterborough; he served as president of the Peterborough Alumni branch. Dr. Harry Gordon Carleton died at Peterborough on August 26, 1958 aged 58 years 10 months and 11 days.

Carleton, William Hall Dr.
1855-1918

William Hall Carleton was born at Frankford, Ontario on Nov 8, 1855 son of William Carleton and Maria Sweep. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1883 and practiced first at Whitevale, Ontario, previously known as Majorville. Here he was a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters but after 3 years he removed to Thornhill where he remained for the duration. Dr. Carleton was united in marriage to Minnie Dundas on June 24, 1886 and followed the practice of his profession for 32 years before invalided with apoplexy and arteriosclerosis. Dr. William Hall Carleton died on Feb 14, 1918 aged 62 years 3 months 6 days.

Carscallen, Allen Briscoe
Dr.
-1913

Allen Briscoe Carscallen was born near Harrowsmith, at Petworth, Ontario and graduated from Queen's Medical College in 1875. He lived and practiced in Enterprise for 35 years. In addition to conducting his medical practice, he also operated the town's general store. He was active in politics and, in 1908, was District Grand Master of the Masons. Dr. Carscallen died on July 23, 1913, aged 64 years 7 months 1 day.

Carscallen, Alvin Detlor
Dr.
-1932

Alvin Detlor Carscallen was born in Fredericksburgh Township, Lennox & Addington County, educated locally, and in Napanee and Belleville High Schools, before moving with his family to Winnipeg in the early 1880s. He graduated from Manitoba Medical School in 1888 and began practice in Morris, Manitoba, where he also ran a drug store during his 6 years' residence. He served as Physician to the Northern Pacific Railway Company. From 1894-1911, he was on the medical staff of the Winnipeg General Hospital having charge of the infectious disease unit. In 1911, he became head of Mineral Springs Sanitarium, where he remained until his retirement in 1919. A period of travel and study abroad followed, whence he returned in 1925 to establish Sunnyside Clinic, specializing in the study of chronic diseases, including cancer. Dr. Carscallen died at Winnipeg on April 20, 1932, aged 72 years 10 months 23 days.

Carscallen, William
Ebenezer Dr.
-1957

William Ebenezer Carscallen was a graduate of Queen's Medical School in 1897; before receiving his Medical Doctor, he taught school in the Tamworth area. He spent the years 1898-1904, in the Yukon where he joined his brother who had gone to the Klondike with the gold rush. While there, Dr. Carscallen looked after the needs of the miners until he returned home in 1904 and again taught school. After retiring from that sphere in his life, he was a Druggist in Tamworth and had served the township as Clerk for several years. Dr. Carscallen practiced his profession very little. He lived most of his life in Tamworth and vicinity. He died at the Kingston General Hospital about May 10, 1957, aged 94 years 1 month.

Carson, George Alva Dr.
-1910

George Alva Carson was born in Prince Edward County. In his early days, he practiced in Belleville in association with Dr. Thomson, as a Botanic Physician. He first studied for the medical profession at the Central Medical College in Rochester where he graduated in 1852. He then attended McGill College and subsequently graduated from Victoria College in 1858. He settled in Whitby where in the 1870s he served as Coroner for Ontario County for more than 20 years. He was Surgeon to the Grand Trunk Railway and, in 1873, was appointed Collector of Customs for Whitby, a position he held for more than 20 years. He invented and manufactured patent medicines and it was claimed that his 'Liver Tonic and Blood Purifier' was one of the most widely known remedies on the continent. Dr. Carson died at Whitby on March 13, 1910, aged 88 years 1 month.

Carson, Robert James Dr.

Robert James Carson was born at Havelock, Ontario on May 17, 1899 son of Reverend Robert Carson and Edythe McDermott. He received his early schooling at Orillia and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1923. Subsequent to intern training he began work at the Central Islip State Hospital near New York City and later served at the Norwich State Hospital. In September of 1940 he returned to Canada and accepted an appointment with the Department of Health of Ontario at the Ontario Hospital in Whitby. In 1943 he was promoted to Assistant Superintendent at the Ontario Hospital, Toronto where he remained until his retirement in 1964. Dr. Carson was regarded as an astute diagnostician by his colleagues and his work in the public relations field resulted in a harmonious association between the hospital and the surrounding community. Survived by his wife, the former Evelyn Kelly, Dr. Robert James Carson died at Toronto on April 23, 1965 aged 65 years 11 months and 6 days.

Carter, Lucius Hart Dr.
1861-1894

Lucius Hart Carter was born at Picton on August 28, 1861, son of James Carter and Susan Ferguson. He was a graduate of the medical school at McGill University in 1888 and very quickly removed to California.

Dr. Carter practiced in Coulterville and Mariposa and was known to be skillful in his profession, and although reserved and somewhat eccentric in his temperament, he possessed many traits of character which won him friends. Adverse circumstances appeared to engulf him in their current and he became moody and despondent. He was a member of the Coulterville and Mariposa Masonic Lodges. Dr. Lucius Hart Cater died in Modesto, California, of an overdose of morphine, on April 1, 1894, aged 32 years, 7 months and 3 days.

Casgrain, Henry Raymond
Dr.
-1932

Henry Raymond Casgrain was a native of Sandwich, Ontario and of French Canadian heritage. He studied medicine at Trinity College where he graduated Medical Doctor in 1883. He established himself in Marmora where he remained only a short time before joining in the Riel Rebellion. Here he was Surgeon Major in charge of Field Hospital No.2, at Moose Jaw. He later practiced in Windsor with his father, Dr. Charles Casgrain. Dr. Henry Casgrain died at Windsor on June 16, 1932, aged 74 years 11 months 9 days.

Caskey, James Clarence
Dr.
1876-1920

James Clarence Caskey was born at Tweed on January 28, 1876, son of Robert Caskey and Margaret Jane Johnston, the father being at one time Reeve of Hungerford Township. He spent his early life at Hungerford and attended Albert College before entering Queen's Medical College, where he graduated in 1904. He began the practice of medicine in Ottawa after graduation and remained there for the duration. He was a bachelor. Dr. J. C. Caskey died of pneumonia at Ottawa on August 16, 1920, aged 44 years, 6 months and 18 days.

Caughey, Gordon Conley
Dr.

Gordon Conley Caughey was born at Mountain View, Ontario on May 20, 1913 son of Simon Caughey and Jennie Conley. He was educated locally and entered into the study of his life's work at Queen's University from which institution he graduated in medicine in 1937. Dr. Caughey was united in marriage to Edith Hussey in October 1939. During World War 11 he served as Squadron Leader with the Royal Canadian Air Force followed by establishing a general practice at Picton, Ontario. Dr. Gordon Conley Caughey died at Picton on August 2, 1996 aged 83 years 2 months 12 days.

Caughey, Manley Dufferin
Dr.
1876-1940

Manley Dufferin Caughey was born at the farm at Crofton, Prince Edward County, on Oct 8, 1876 son of William Caughey and Sarah Delong and uncle of Dr G C Caughey. After completing the curriculum of the public schools and the Picton high school he started his professional career as a teacher and later attended the medical department of the University of Nebraska. He was matriculated in the Michigan College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1905 and was united in marriage to Mary Herman on Sept 27, 1905. The first 2 years of his practice in Detroit were in association with Dr Edgar B Smith of Tyendinaga and in 1907 he engaged in individual practice as well as assisting in the University pathology department. Dr Manley Dufferin Caghey died at Detroit on June 12, 1940 aged 63 years 8 months 4 days.

Caverly, McLean Dr.
1855-1913

J. McLean Caverly was born in March 1855 at Stirling, Ontario, son of Jonas and Permillia Caverly. He was united in marriage to Mary Helen Row on December 19, 1883 and was a graduate of the Trinity Medical School in 1890. Dr. Caverly followed the practice of his profession at Belleville, Ontario Albion Village and Niagara Falls, New York before returning to Trenton where he remained for the duration. Having contracted pneumonia, Dr. Caverly died at Trenton on June 8, 1913 aged 58 years 3 months.

Chalmers, George Frederick Dr.
-1905

George Chalmers was born at Adolphustown, attained his medical degree and removed to Niles, California, where he followed his profession for the next 15 years. Dr. Chalmers was attacked with appendicitis and died four days post-operative, on December 26, 1905, aged 37 years 10 months 16 days.

Chamberlain, Jacob Bailey
Dr.
-1841

Jacob Bailey Chamberlain was a native of Newbury, Vermont. He was a Practitioner in Fredericksburgh at an early date, before 1792, and was probably the first to practice in the townships around the Bay of Quinte. He became a Licentiate of the Upper Canada Medical Board on May 14, 1827, as "having practiced before and during the War of 1812". Dr. Chamberlain was one of the oldest Magistrates of the district and one of the oldest of the United Empire Loyalists when he died on September 21, 1841, aged 78 years 4 months.

Chamberlain, Thomas Dr.
-1872

Thomas Chamberlain was a native of the Township of Fredericksburgh and appeared before the Medical Board on April 4, 1837, when he became a Licentiate of Upper Canada. He received his medical education at Fairfield College and at the Pennsylvania Hospital. He established himself at Napanee, where he was appointed as County Coroner and Surgeon to the 4th Hastings Regimental Militia. Dr. Chamberlain died at Napanee as the result of tuberculosis and diabetes on September 14, 1872, aged 62.

Chandler, Edmonds Dr.
1808-1879

Edmonds Chandler was native of England and an early physician and druggist in Belleville arriving about the mid 1830s. In the early days, Dr. Chandler occupied an apartment above the office and drug store that he operated on Front Street however, he later built a home at 223 William which was then considered a country or rural residence. At that time the space between Victoria Ave. and Dundas was a circus ground and the campus for soldiers to drill upon; villagers obtained their water supply from the village pump at the foot of Victoria Avenue. Dr. Chandler served as Lieutenant in the 1st Regiment of the Hastings Militia; he was united in marriage to Helen Burchell who died on Mar 9, 1864. Dr. Edmonds Chandler remained in Belleville where he died on Feb 11, 1879 aged 70.

Channonhouse, Thomas
Dr.
1837-1870

Thomas Channonhouse was born in Kingston in 1837, son of Robert Channonhouse and Mary Valliere. The father of our subject was Chief Constable of Kingston for over two decades, and, in 1866, was presented with a pocket watch by John A MacDonald; this watch is on display at the Agnes Etherington Arts Centre in Kingston. Thomas Channonhouse was a graduate of the medical school at Queen's University in 1860. He spent his entire professional career at Shannonville and died on June 27, 1870, aged 33 years.

Chant, Joseph Dr.
1879-1958

Joseph Chant was born at Chantry, Leeds County on November 12, 1879, son of Joel Chant and Margaret Ann Miller. He received his early education in his native village and then graduated from Perth High School. He entered Queen's University as a medical student and following graduation in 1905, took post-graduate courses in diseases of the ear, eye, nose and throat at Chicago. Dr. Chant married Georgina Walker on June 2, 1907. He entered practice at Picton, but later moved to Belleville, where for 45 years, he was a prominent member of the profession in this community. He was Physician to the students at the Ontario School for the Deaf for 30 years and took an active interest in work with the local crippled children. Dr. J. Chant died on August 23, 1958, aged 78 years, 9 months and 11 days.

Chapman, Reuben Jerald
Dr.
-1885

Reuben Jerald Chapman was a native of New Hampshire, United States of America and a medical health practitioner pioneer and chemist at Picton, Prince Edward County. Although not much is known about Dr. Chapman, he has left tangible reminders of his presence in Picton. An opalescent glass window dedicated to the memory of the Chapmans at the Glenwood Cemetery Chapel is described as "a masterpiece" of stained glass architecture. Also, the Reuben Chapman Stone Drive-shed at 48 Bowery Street, circa 1857, has been designated by council of historical value. Described as an outstanding example of a high quality outbuilding, it is of limestone construction, twin gable facade and intricate gable trim. Dr. Reuben Chapman died at Picton on July 19, 1885, aged 81.

Chesebro, Moncton Dr.
-1892

Moncton Chesebro received his early education at the common school in Stirling and, in 1875, the family moved to Detroit, Michigan. He graduated at Ann Arbor in Medicine in 1888 and established a practice in Detroit. In ill health, Dr. Chesebro returned to Stirling, where he died on December 30, 1892, aged 33.

Chesebro, Oramel Ozro
Dr.
-1889

Oramel Ozro Chesebro received his early education at Stirling and moved to Detroit in 1875. He graduated with his brother in 1888, however was taken ill with pneumonia, followed by consumption. Dr. Chesebro died in Detroit on May 10, 1889, aged 25 years 1 month 4 days.

Chisholm, Harvey Fowler
Dr.
-1863

Harvey Chisholm was a native of Belleville and one of the early graduates of Queen's University, completing the medical degree and graduating Medical Doctor in 1857. He soon established himself in his native Thurlow Township where he lived on the 2nd Concession. Dr. Chisholm died of consumption on July 9, 1863, aged 31 years 11 months 23 days.

Chisholm, Roderick Bruce
Dr.
-1955

Roderick Chisholm was born in Sidney Township, near Belleville and entered the study of his life's work at Trinity Medical College from which institution he graduated Medical Doctor in 1897. He first practiced in Chicago, Illinois, then Oxford Junction, then La Porte City, Iowa and finally in 1907, at Griswold, Cass County, Iowa where he followed his profession for 42 years. In those early days, he made his rounds over mud roads in a horse drawn carriage or sleigh, depending on the time of year. Dr. Chisholm then lived the retired life for 6 years and died at Griswold on April 5, 1955, aged 11 months 23 days years.

Chown, Henry Havelock
Dr.
1859-1944

Henry Havelock Chown was born at Kingston on February 16, 1859 son of Edwin Chown and Amelia Anning. He was educated at Victoria College and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1880. Dr. Chown soon established himself at Wellington, Ontario where he stayed but a short time before removing to Winnipeg, Manitoba. He did post graduate work in London, England and wed Katherine Farrell at Kingston on April 27, 1886. For 35 years he was connected to the Manitoba Medical College, first as a teacher of Anatomy, then of Surgery and lastly as Dean from 1901 to 1917. Dr. Chown served as President of the Canadian Medical Association in 1901 and in 1903, Queen's University granted him an honorary Doctorate of Laws. On retiring from active practice he became medical referee of the Great West Life Assurance Company and held that post until his death. He was a member of the first Board of Governors of the University of Manitoba and it would be difficult to exaggerate the contribution he made to the cause of medical education in the Canadian west. Dr. Henry Havelock Chown died on October 12, 1944 aged 85 years 7 months 26 days.

Christy, George Brewer
Dr.
1830-1909

George Brewer Christy was born on Jan 30, 1830 at Hallowell, Ontario son of Henry Christy and Maria Brewer; he was united in marriage at Peterborough to Diana Bowerman on Jan 5, 1854. He studied at Yale College and graduated at the "Old Western Reserve College" at Cleveland Ohio. Dr. Christy settled in Lee County, Illinois where he was in practice for a number of years before the outbreak of the Civil War. Dr. Christy won the confidence of Generals Grant and Sherman by his skill on the field of battle and in the hospitals and was promoted as Surgeon-in-Chief of the whole Army; he won the esteem and love of all, and by his skill as a surgeon gained the confidence and respect of those who were so unfortunate as to require his professional attention. At the close of the War, he practiced in Chicago but after a short time removed to Dunlap, Iowa. Dr. George Brewer Christy died at Dunlap on Feb 26, 1909 aged 79 years 26 days.

Clancy, Gordon Stuart Dr.
1884-1966

Gordon Stuart Clancy was born at Newburgh, Ontario on April 9, 1884, son of Cornelius Clancy and Matilda Paul. He was educated at the Newburgh High School and Queen's University where he received his Arts Degree and graduated with the Medical Class of 1914. He had gone west in his summer vacations to teach school in Saskatchewan and after graduation joined his brother, Dr. J. P. I. Clancy, in practice in Semans, Saskatchewan. In 1915, Dr. Clancy arranged his own passage to England to serve in the British forces, first with the 13th Battalion, King's Liverpool Regiment. He served most of the three years on the front line in France, attached as Medical Officer to Infantry Battalions in the trenches. He was recommended for mention in dispatches in 1917 for gallant and meritorious service in the field and later, this commendation was signed by Winston Churchill. In 1918, during a German attack, he was gassed, was invalided back to England and spent four months in hospital following which he returned to duty in France. After returning to Canada, Dr. Clancy took two years post-graduate work in Boston and New York hospitals, and in 1920, joined his brother in practice at Semans. He was united in marriage in 1928 to Alma Elvira McLellan. Dr. Gordon Stuart Clancy died on March 27, 1966, aged 81 years, 11 months and 18 days.

Clancy, James Paul Irvine
Dr.
1878-1925

James Paul Irvine Clancy was born at Newburgh on April 22, 1878, son of Cornelius Clancy and Matilda Paul; his great-grandfather came to Canada and was the first settler north of the Napanee River. He attended Queen's University, graduating with a Degree in Medicine in 1908. After graduation, he went immediately to Semans, Saskatchewan, and established a practice, being the pioneer doctor in the district. It was here that he married Edith Elizabeth Wiggins; the couple were in charge of the local pharmacy. Dr. Clancy was active in community affairs and served as a member on the School Board for 12 years. Dr. J. P. I. Clancy took a poisonous drug accidentally, instead of the medicine intended, which was placed immediately alongside, and died on May 2, 1925, aged 47 years and 10 days.

Clapham, Edward Dr.
-1879

Edward Clapham was an Oculist and Aurist practicing in Belleville in association with Dr. Dorland between 1872 and 1874; later he moved to Brooklyn, New York. He studied medicine at Edinburgh University, Scotland, L'Ecole de Medicin, Paris, France and Berlin University, Germany. He had been Assistant Medical Officer for some time in the Hospital for Women and Children at Yorkshire, England and Professor of Anatomy of Iowa University; he served as Staff Surgeon in the United States Army during the Civil War. He was a member of the Pharmaceutical Society's College, London, England and Corresponding Secretary of the Microscopic Society of America. He received his Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Kingston in 1868. During his brief tenure in Belleville, he also served as Professor of Physiology, Hygiene and Anatomy at Albert College. Dr. Clapham later practiced at Kalamazoo, Michigan; he returned to Canada where he died in 1879, aged 42 years 11 months 10 days.

Clapp, Robert Edwin Dr.
1855-1944

Robert Edwin Clapp was born at Marysburgh, Ontario on Feb 12, 1855 son of Philip Clapp and Nancy Kelly. He studied medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated with the class of 1879; Dr. Clapp was united in marriage with Zilla Davis on Apr 27, 1887. He established himself in Bruce County, Ontario where he was active in civic affairs, served as Registrar of the Surrogate and County Courts of Bruce and even contested the sherriffship of Bruce County; he represented the county in the Legislative Assembly of Ontario from 1905 to 1908 as a Conservative member. Dr. Robert Edwin Clapp died at Mildmay on May 2, 1944 aged 89 years 2 months 20 days.

Clare, Harvey Dr.
-1949

Harvey Clare was born in Tweed and attended Albert College before graduating from Trinity University Medical School in 1896 as the gold medallist. He returned to Tweed to practice, but later took a course in psychiatry and entered the employment of the Government as a Psychiatrist at Brockville. He later transferred to the Queen Street Hospital in Toronto and then served as Superintendent of Homewood Sanitariurn at Guelph for 17 years. Before his appointment to Guelph, he was an Inspector for the Government of jails and penitentiaries and was employed by the Legal Department of the Criminal Investigation Branch in many murder trials throughout the province, where mental illness was an issue. On his retirement in 1942, he continued as a Consultant to the Department of Justice in Ottawa. Dr. Clare died in Guelph of a heart ailment on August 5, 1949, aged 77 years 11 months 11 days.

Clark, Calvin Worchester Day Dr.
-1920

Calvin Worchester Clark was born in Odessa and was educated in the public schools of Odessa and the high schools in Sydenham and Napanee. He graduated from medical school at Queen's University in 1885, following which he spent two years in the hospitals of Glasgow, Edinburgh, Liverpool, Birmingham, Bristol and London. In 1887, he took an English Medical degree and practiced in Bristol as an assistant and partner. He returned to Canada in 1888, and entered into medical practice at Tamworth. He was an active member of the Independent Order of Foresters. Dr. Clark died at the Toronto General Hospital, following surgery, on July 14, 1920, aged 57 years 3 months 26 days.

Clark, Herbert Dr.
1844-1898

James Herbert Clark was born at Adolphustown, Ontario in 1844, son of James Clark and Miriam Thompson. A dual licentiate, Dr. Clark was a graduate in Medicine in 1875 and three year later a graduate in Dentistry. Choosing the latter profession he opened an office in Kingston where he practiced for two decades. Dr. James Herbert Clark died of the effects of a paralytic stroke at the homestead at Adolphustown, Ontario on March 25, 1898 aged 53.

Clark, James Farley Dr.
1842-1898

James Farley Clark was born at Bloomfield on February 15, 1842, son of Philip and Ellen Clark. He was a graduate of Victoria College medical school in 1867. Dr. Clark established himself at Bloomfield where he remained for about a decade. He finished his career as Physician at Rockwood Hospital in Portsmouth, Frontenac County. This institution was constructed initially to house the 'criminally insane' of the Kingston Penitentiary and was built by the convicts. In 1877, Rockwood became part of the Ontario provincial asylum system, housing non-criminal patients. Rockwood was a self sufficient community with most of its staff and patients living and working on one isolated site. Dr. James Farley Clark died at Rockwood on March 8, 1898, aged 56 years and 23 days.

Clark, John Robert Dr.
-1891

John Robert Clark was born at Cobourg where he received his early education and attended Victoria College, graduating Bachelor of Arts in 1872. He entered the study of medicine at Trinity College in Toronto, graduating as a Medical Doctor in 1875. He followed this with the study of obstetrics and surgery in the British Isles, obtaining the Diploma of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1882. On his return to Cobourg, he went into practice with his father where he remained until ill health required him to sell the practice to Dr. Ivey, in 1891. Dr. John Robert Clark died at Cobourg on August 15, 1891, aged 41.

Clark, Richard Hare Dr.
-1890

Dr. Richard Hare Clark Sr. was a native of this country and had established himself in the practice of medicine at Cobourg in the late 1830s. Dr. Richard Hare Clark died at Cobourg on February 18, 1890, aged 73 years 8 months 18 days.

Clark, Robert Barr Dr.
-1916

Robert Barr Clark was born at Adolphustown, graduated in medicine from Victoria College in 1866 and established himself in practice in Napanee. The following advertisement appeared in the February 1883 edition of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Journal. "Come One!! Come All!! From 10 to 20 per cent saved if you will buy your goods from R. B. Clark, Medical Doctor, Dealer in Drugs, Groceries, Fancy Goods etc., Napanee". Dr. Clark removed to San Diego, California where he practiced before moving to Tacoma, Washington where he died of pneumonia on February 9, 1916, aged 77 years 6 months 7 days.

Clarke, Harold Dr.
1891-1953

Harold Clarke was born at Toronto, Ontario on April 11, 1891, son of Isaac Nathan Clarke and Mary Ann Clarke. He was educated at Harbord Collegiate and the University of Toronto, graduating as a Physician in 1914. He enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps and achieved the rank of Captain; his brother, General F. W. Clarke was killed in action. Dr. Clarke was united in marriage on January 30, 1918, to Sarah Kathleen Liddle and established himself in his life's work at Brighton, Ontario, on February 9, 1920. He served as a Past-President of the Northumberland and Durham Medical Society, was a member of the Canadian Legion, Mason and Lions clubs. Dr. Harold Clarke died at Trenton on February 20, 1953, aged 61 years, 10 months and 9 days.

Claxton, William Dr.
-1907

William Claxton was a graduate of the medical school at Queen's University in 1874. He followed the practice of his profession at Verona and, as was typical of those days, was available and made calls to the surrounding district including Tamworth and Enterprise. He took an active interest in public affairs and was a supportive advocate of the temperance movement. Dr. Claxton died in Verona on May 29, 1907, aged 63 years 9 months 4 days.

Claxton, William Allen Dr.
1884-1936

William Allen Claxton was born at Verona, Ontario on Oct 3, 1884 son of Dr William Claxton and Edith Bond. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1909 and immigrated to Manhattan, N.Y. that year where he commenced his professional career. Dr Claxton enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps during W.W. 1 and attained the rank of Captain. Following his discharge he spent time at the Mowat Hospital in Kingston having contracted Tuberculosis. United in marriage to Myrtle Cunningham, Dr Claxton was at one time health officer of Morgan County, Florida, superintendent of the Oak Lawn Sanatorium in Jacksonville, a member of the state board of health of Florida and a member of the American Public Health Association. Dr William Allen Claxton died at the Oteen Veterans Administration Facility Hospital in Asheville, N.C. of pulmonary tuberculosis on May 21, 1936 aged 51 years 7 months 18 days.

Clegg, George Gilbert Dr.
1887-1960

George Gilbert Clegg was born at Trenton, Ontario, on April 6, 1887, son of George Irvine Willet Clegg and Deborah Simmons. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University in 1914 and was united in marriage to Mary Isabel MacLean on January 25, 1917. Dr. Clegg was Superintendent of the Victoria Hospital in London, Ontario for seven years, worked for the Department of Health and Welfare in Toronto and the Department of Veteran's Affairs. He served as a Medical Officer in both World War I and II and achieved the rank of Captain. He was a founder of the Ontario Crippled Children's Society and its second President. Dr. George Gilbert Clegg died at Kingston on December 2, 1960, aged 73 years, 7 months and 26 days.

Clement, Frederick Walter Dr.
1892-1979

Frederick Walter Clement was born at Deseronto, Ontario, on March 3, 1892, son of George Edmund Clement and Mary Jane Porter. He earned his Under-Graduate and his Medical Degrees from the University of Toronto graduating with the Class of 1915; he was united in marriage to Marion Lois Locke on June 25, 1919. Dr. Clement took post-graduate work and established himself at Toledo, Ohio in the mid 1920s. He was recognized for his work in Anaesthesiology, was a frequent lecturer worldwide and author of articles detailing techniques and advancements in Anaesthesiology. In 1939, he wrote a book detailing the use of Nitrous Oxide as an Anaesthetic and later did research into the use of Curare as a Muscle Relaxant in Medicine. He was an Associate in the McKesson Appliance Company which manufactured analgesic equipment for the dental and hospital market. During World War I, he served in the Medical Corps of both the British and Canadian Armed Forces and during World War II, he served on the United States Army Air Force Medical Staff as Captain. Dr. Frederick Walter Clement died in Naples, Florida on March 5, 1979, aged 87 years and 2 days.

Cleminson, James McDonald Dr.
-1900

James McDonald Cleminson was a native of Prince Edward County. He entered the study of medicine at Trinity College from which institution he graduated as Medical Doctor in 1886. He established himself in the practice of his profession at Warkworth where he built up a substantial clientele. Dr. Cleminson suffered an attack of appendicitis from which he never recovered and died at Warkworth on April 28, 1900, aged 35.

Clindinin, Sylvester Lawson Dr.
-1918

Sylvester Lawson Clindinin was a native of Brighton and took his medical training at McGill University from which institution he graduated Medical Doctor in 1897; he received his Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh and Glasgow. He established himself in the practice of his profession at Wawota, Saskatchewan, and then removed to Regina in 1912 where he was Physician to the Bureau of Public Health. Dr. Clindinin died of Bright's disease on March 18, 1918, aged 47 years 4 months.

Clinton, George Dr.
-1930

George Clinton was a native of Hillier, Prince Edward County and a graduate of Queen's University in 1878. He established himself at Mill Point moving to Belleville shortly after the opening of the Belleville General Hospital. He was, for a time, District Medical Officer of Health. Dr. Clinton remained in Belleville for the duration, was interred at Picton's Glenwood Cemetery, death occurring on April 4, 1930, aged 78 years 9 months 22 days.

Clune, Philip J. Dr.
1868-1954

Philip J. Clune was born at Warkworth on May 3, 1868, son of Bartholomew Clune and Ellen Kennedy. His earliest education was procured in the schools there; in the high schools at Trenton and St. Michael's College, Toronto, from which he graduated in 1886. Four years later, he completed his medical training at McGill University. Dr. Clune went into active practice in Wooler, Ontario and removed to Ottawa, Illinois in 1900. He married Mary Henry on June 1, 1911. He served as City Health Officer from 1907 until 1911, and was a member of the Elks, Knights of Columbus and the Ottawa, La Salle County, Illinois and American Medical Associations. He practiced medicine until 1928, when he founded the old People's Bank and Trust Company which closed in the fall of 1931 during the depression. Dr. Philip J. Clune died at Hammond, Indiana on April 18, 1954, aged 85 years, 11 months and 15 days.

Cochrane, Charles Edward
Dr.
1859-1895

Charles Edward Cochrane was born at Cramahe Township, Northumberland County on April 10, 1859, son of William Cochrane and Elizabeth Youlter. He was educated locally and graduated from the medical school at Victoria College, Cobourg in 1883 and was a Licentiate in Midwifery of the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh. He married Annie Norris on December 13, 1887. Dr. Cochrane established himself at Brighton after graduation and remained there a few years before moving to Omemee and then Rainy River. Dr. Charles Edward Cochrane died of epilepsy at Rainy River on July 11, 1895, aged 36 years, 3 months and 1 day..

Cole, Daniel U.E. Dr.
-1836

Daniel Cole was a native of New York State and an early pioneer settler in Adolphustown. Little is known of his education or qualifications to practice, but presumably he had some medical advice for the pioneering United Empire Loyalists. Dr. Cole died at Adolphustown on August 5, 1836, aged 105.

Coleman, Alfred Henry Dr.
-1923

Alfred Coleman was a native of Belleville and received his medical education at McGill University, graduating Medical Doctor in 1890. He moved to Tacoma, Washington where, in 1892, he was appointed a member of the medical staff of the Fannie O. Paddock Memorial Hospital. He took an active part in civic affairs in the community and in 1898 served as President of the Pierce County Medical Society. He was an ardent lover of nature, fond of poetry (Tennyson) and travel; the remains of the ancient, mysterious Aztec civilization of Mexico fascinated him. Dr. Coleman died in Tacoma on October 3, 1923, aged 61 years 11 months 3 days.

Coleman, Everett Hastings Dr.
-1907

Everett Coleman opened his office in November 1855 in a stone building he had just erected on Front Street, now known as the Belvedere Hotel. He was a Physician, Chemist and Druggist and operated a drugstore from his office. He, also, served as a Justice of the Peace. Dr. Coleman lived in Sidney Township for 40 years and, in his later years, lived a rather retired life. Dr. Coleman sustained a paralytic stroke and died on October 31, 1907, aged 75 years 7 months 16 days.

Collier, Robert Dennis Dr.
1888-1919

Robert Dennis Collier was born at Wellington, Ontario on March 9, 1888, son of Joseph Collier and Jane Donovan. He attended the local classrooms and was a Graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University with the Class of 1915. He was a veteran of World War I, served with the Canadian Over Seas Expeditionary Force and after his discharge he hung his shingle at Maynooth, Ontario. He was united in marriage on January 9, 1918 to Mary McGinnis and removed to the town of Midland, Ontario. Tragedy struck the young couple when he accidentally took an overdose of morphine. Dr. Robert Dennis Collier died on August 23, 1919, aged 31 years, 5 months and 14 days.

Collins, Cornelius Dr.
-1888

Cornelius Collins was a native of Hastings and a graduate of Queen's University Medical School in 1886. He established himself in Peterborough where he followed his profession. Dr. Collins had been suffering from a carbuncle on his neck which he lanced; blood poisoning set in and he died on September 18, 1888, aged 32.

Collip, James Bertrand Dr.
1892-1965

James Bertrand Collip was born at Belleville, Ontario on November 20, 1892, son of James Dennis Collip and Mahala Frances Vance. He was one of the great minds of Canadian Medicine. He was educated locally, graduated from Trinity College, Toronto at age 15 and completed his Doctorate in Biochemistry. He was united in marriage on December 28, 1915, to Ray Vivian Ralph and accepted a position as Lecturer at the University of Alberta where he commenced an outstanding career in Biochemical Research. Collip was on a travelling fellowship when he accepted the invitation of the University of Toronto to work with Banting and Best on the development of insulin. His efforts at purifying insulin from the bovine pancreas produced insulin in a form which permitted clinical use. He felt that he could make his best contribution to Medical Science as a Doctor of Medicine and in 1926, he graduated from the Medical School at the University of Alberta. Dr. Collip accepted the Chair of Biochemistry at McGill University where he launched into extensive studies of hormones. In 1941, he became Chairman of McGill's new Institute of Endocrinology and in 1947, became Dean of Medicine at the University of Western Ontario. During World War II, he served as a Colonel in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and was made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire for Notable Achievements in integrating Medical Research in Canada and the United States. Dr. James Bertrand Collip died on June 19, 1965, aged 72 years, 6 months and 29 days.

Colton, William Wallace
Dr.
-1888

William Wallace Colton was a native of Colborne. He entered Victoria College and studied his chosen profession, graduating as Medical Doctor in 1863. He followed the work of his profession at Consecon and Picton, building up a large and successful practice. Dr. Colton died at Picton the result of complications of diabetes, on April 8, 1888, aged 49.

Connolly, Bernard
Gervase Dr.
-1931

Bernard Connolly was born in Trenton. He graduated from the University of Toronto and taught public school in Ontario and, for four years, at the Institute for the Blind at Brantford. He graduated in medicine in 1896 from the same institution and practiced his profession in Renfrew. He was Medical Officer to the 42nd Regiment of Infantry and retired with the rank of Captain in 1913. He moved to Ottawa, where he was General Manager of the Capital Trust Corporation. Dr. Connolly died at Ottawa on January 11, 1931, aged 65 years 1 month 2 days.

Connor, Emma Dr.
1869-1936

Emma Connor was born on the 8th Concession of Sidney Township on February 19, 1869, daughter of William Fitzpatrick Connor and Matilda Jane Searles. In early life, she attended the school at Marsh Hill and then the Belleville High School. After some years teaching at the Marsh Hill School, she entered and graduated from the Medical School of the University of Toronto in 1902. Dr. Connor returned to Belleville, took over the practice of Dr. Elizabeth Embury, and devoted her life to the service of others, ministering to the sick and afflicted for over three decades. She worked from her office in her home, a Queen Anne style house on the corner of Campbell and Pinnacle Streets, which has recently been restored and is again serving as a doctor's office. Dr. E.

Connor died in Belleville on February 16, 1936, aged 66 years, 11 months and 27 days.

Cook, Albert Herman Dr.
1872-1956

Albert Herman Cook was born at Napanee on October 30, 1872, son of Dr. Herbert Levi Cook and Maria Baker. He was educated at Trinity Medical College in Toronto, graduating in 1903; he married Eva Paterson on June 9, 1904. Dr. Cook soon established himself at Dover Plains, New York; then Toronto, and in 1912 at Port Dover, Ontario, where he remained for the duration. He served as the Medical Officer of Health for many years and was active in community affairs being a member of the Odd Fellows, the Masonic Lodge and St. Paul's Anglican Church. Dr. A. H. Cook died at Port Dover on July 1, 1956, aged 83 years, 8 months and 1 day.

Cook, Edgar Mason Dr.
-1922

Edgar Cook was born in Belleville. He studied at the county schools and the Toronto Normal School and then taught for five years in Belleville. In 1881 he went to Cincinnati, Ohio and graduated as a homeopathic physician and surgeon from the Pulte University of Medicine in 1883. He was a fellow of the Hahnemannian Medical Society of Ohio and a Licentiate in Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery, New York. He then returned to Canada and attended Trinity Medical College where he graduated in 1884. He practiced in Belleville between 1884 and 1893 before removing to Toronto. He was associated with Dr. Quackenbush on the latter's arrival in 1893. Dr. Cook was one of the first physicians in Belleville to have an office telephone, which he installed in 1886. Dr. Cook died on July 29, 1922, aged 68 years 4 months 18 days.

Cook, Herman Levi Dr.
-1905

Herman Levi Cook was a graduate of McGill University in 1854. He practiced for some time in Brighton before removing to Napanee. Here, he was a leading physician and citizen, serving as Town Councilor and was Mayor for two terms. He constructed the Cook Block on Dundas Street, and built four brick homes on Bridge Street. His son, Dr. Albert Cook, was a physician in New York State. Dr. Cook moved to Toronto about 1890, where he died of pneumonia on November 16, 1905, aged 77 years 7 months 10 days.

Cooke, Kenneth Edgar Dr.
1887-1955

Kenneth Edgar Cooke was born at Baltimore, Ontario on November 26, 1887, son of Reverend Charles Henry Cooke and Annie Sarah Grey. He was a Graduate in Medicine from the University of Toronto in 1913, practised briefly in Brantford and in World War I served overseas with the rank of Captain; Dr. Cooke was awarded the Military Cross for outstanding bravery in the Battle of Somme. He was united in marriage on April 16, 1917, to Beatrice Sadie Baker and in 1920, established his Practice in Hamilton where he continued in military service as Officer in the Reserve Army with the 5th Field Ambulance. Dr. Cooke was Medical Superintendent at St. Peter's Infirmary for twenty-five years, Physician to the Hamilton Hydro Electric Commission, the Mercury-Chipman Mills and the Department of Veterans' Affairs. He was interested in athletics and acted as Doctor for the Tiger Football Club and as Health Officer for the Burlington Beach Commission. Dr. Kenneth Edgar Cooke died on March 1, 1955, aged 67 years, 3 months and 5 days.

Cooper, George Dr.
-1836

George Cooper was born in Strathaven, Lanarkshire, Scotland. He studied medicine at the University of Glasgow where he graduated in 1817. He practiced 2 years at Dollar in Fifeshire before coming to Canada. In Belleville he was not a very active Practitioner, but was a successful Chemist and Druggist. In 1826 he helped establish the Sunday School in Belleville and was one of its teachers. His house, which he built in 1830, was situated on the corner of Front and Bridge Streets. Dr. Cooper was an invalid for nine years, and died in 1836, aged 42.

Corrigall, John Wilbert Dr.
1877-1915
(Moir)

John Wilbert Corrigall was born at Moira on May 15, 1877, son of David Corrigall and Sarah Ann Emerson. He was educated locally and after some years in the teaching profession, he entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University, from which institution he graduated in 1909. Dr. Corrigall established himself in the practice of his profession at Limerick, Saskatchewan, where he was successful in building up a large clientele. He was active in community affairs and was a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters in Limerick. Dr. J. W. Corrigall contracted pneumonia and died at Weyburn, Saskatchewan on April 13, 1915, aged 37 years, 10 months and 28 days.

Cory, Benjamin Sayre Dr.
-1885

Benjamin Sayre Cory was born in Milton, Saratoga County, New York. He came to Canada as a boy with his parents, settling at Pleasant Bay, Prince Edward County, about 1820. He was educated at Fairfield Medical College in New York and started his medical practice in June 1826 in Smokeville, now Wellington. He passed the examination of the Medical Board of Upper Canada on July 6, 1830. He continued his practice until 1854 when he removed to Waukegan, Illinois. His brother David who passed the Upper Canada Medical Board examination in 1833, located in Waukegan and died on September 8, 1854, aged 45 years 4 months 20 days, of cholera. Dr. Cory visited Waukegan to look after his brother's affairs and decided to assume the practice. He remained there until 1880, when he returned to Canada and lived in Hamilton. Dr. Cory died on December 15, 1885, aged 80 years 4 months 2 days.

Couch, John Albert Dr.
1861-1933

John Albert Couch was born at Queensborough, Ontario on July 25, 1861, son of Edward and Hannah Couch. He was educated at the Lockwood Academy and Trinity College, Toronto, graduating in 1885. He practiced in Warsaw, Ontario for about 15 years; married Mabel Lynn on October 9, 1900; and removed to Toronto where he was in active work for thirty years. Dr. John Albert Couch died in Toronto on January 11, 1933, aged 71 years, 5 months and 16 days.

Coughlan, Richard M. Dr.
-1908

Richard M. Coughlan was born at Hastings, Ontario, educated locally and graduated from Queen's University, Kingston Medical School in 1881, at the age of 22. He soon established himself in his hometown where he followed his profession for the next 25 years. He was a successful physician and was considered a possible candidate for the Legislature for East Peterborough in the coming Provincial election. Dr. Coughlan died at Hastings on February 29, 1908, aged 48 years 2 months 11 days.

Coughlin, Charles Bernard
Dr.
-1928

Charles Coughlin was born in Norwood. He was educated at the Norwood Public School and Peterborough Collegiate and taught school for five years in Peterborough County. He graduated from Trinity Medical College in 1890 and took post-graduate work in New York and Chicago. He first practiced in Arthur County and then in 1902 in Peterborough. In 1906, he was appointed as Superintendent of the School for the Deaf in Belleville. He was an outstanding educationist and an authority on the training of deaf children. It was under his principalship that several buildings were constructed in 1921, 1922 and 1923 as additions to the building of 1870. Dr. Coughlin held this post for 22 years. In 1923 he had the honour of entertaining the Duke of Devonshire when he visited Belleville. Dr. Coughlin died in Belleville on December 10, 1928, aged 67 years 8 months 5 days.

Coulthard, Howard Henry
Gordon Dr.
1880-1950

Howard Henry Gordon Coulthard was born at Picton on October 8, 1880, son of Reverend Walter Coulthard and Isabella Kilgour. He received his education in Picton and Toronto and in 1905 graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto. He remained a bachelor. Dr. Coulthard became a Ship's Surgeon on the S.S. Empress of Japan and then established a practice at Rossland, British Columbia. At the outbreak of the First World War, he joined the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, transferred to the Imperial Army, and served overseas until 1918. Afterwards, he was appointed to the Ministry of Pensions in England and later resumed private practice in London for 26 years. He retired to Roehampton, England, and was a member of the Horticultural Society, Holy Trinity Church and the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity. Dr. H. H. G. Coulthard died at Toronto on October 24, 1950, aged 70 years and 16 days.

Coulthard, Walter Livingston Dr.
1872-1937

Walter Livingston Coulthard was born at Valleyfield, Quebec on September 26, 1872, son of Walter Coulthard and Isabella Kilgour. He removed with his family and spent his formative years at Picton, Ontario, from where he entered, and graduated in 1894, the medical school at the University of Toronto. Dr. Coulthard practiced for several years in Toronto and then went to the Kootenay district of British Columbia. He was united in marriage at Dubuque, Iowa on January 12, 1904 to Jean Robinson and entered Harvard University for post-graduate work and later went to the Polyclinic Hospital, New York. Dr. Walter Livingston Coulthard returned to Vancouver, B.C. in 1905, and was in active practice for the duration; he died there on June 6, 1937, aged 64 years, 8 months and 10 days.

Countryman, Claire
Joseph Dr.
1911-1952

Claire Joseph Countryman was born at Tweed, Ontario on September 3, 1911 son of George Countryman and Florence Bateman. He attended Belleville Collegiate and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1938. He established himself at Leaside, Ontario and was united in marriage to Alice Watson on June 21, 1941. During the War he was a member of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and served in Canadian hospitals. After the War he resumed practice at Leaside and did post graduate work as a surgeon in Edinburgh. Dr. Claire Joseph Countryman died post operatively at Selma, Alabama on February 29, 1952 aged 40 years 5 months 26 days.

Cowan, George Hoyle Dr.
-1929

George Hoyle Cowan was born in Princeton, Ontario and graduated in Medicine from the University of Toronto in 1871. He settled in Selby for two years and, in 1873, went to Napanee. In 1879, he went to England where he took a post-graduate course in London and obtained his Royal College of Surgeons Degree. He returned to Napanee to resume his practice and, for about 50 years, he ministered to the many who sought his help. He was, for many years, Medical Health Officer for Napanee and Coroner for the County of Lennox and Addington. Dr. Cowan died on January 16, 1929, aged 80 years 6 months 29 days.

Craft, Robert Anderson
Dr.
1862-1921

Robert Anderson Craft was born at Bloomfield on February 20, 1862, son of John Craft and Sarah Forshay. He went on to complete his medical studies at Queen's University and graduated in 1895. He spent some time at Plainfield, Ontario, where he married Lillian Beckwith on May 6, 1896, before establishing himself at Bellingham, Washington in 1900. The name of Bellingham is derived from the bay on which the city is situated. George Vancouver visited the area in 1792 and named the bay for Sir William Bellingham, the controller of the storekeeper's account of the Royal Navy. Dr. Robert Anderson Craft removed to Sumner, Washington in 1920, and died there on November 30, 1921, aged 59 years 9 months 10 days.

Craig, Hugh A. Dr.
1850-1894

Hugh A. Craig was born at Cobourg in 1850, son of John Craig and Sarah Ann Allen. He attended the local classrooms and went on to study medicine at Queen's University, from which institution he graduated in 1878. Dr. Craig soon established himself in the practice of medicine at Wellington, Prince Edward County, where he remained for over a decade. He married Charlotte Eyre on July 25, 1891. Dr. Hugh A. Craig removed to Saint Paul, Minnesota, where he followed the practice of his profession for about five years before he died on January 24, 1894, aged 44.

Crawford, Arthur
Hamilton Dr.
1875-1951

Arthur Hamilton Crawford was born at Toronto on July 24, 1875, son of Arthur Crawford and Esther Mosgrave. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School in 1901. Dr. Crawford established himself at Havelock, then, in 1912, removed to Marmora where he succeeded Dr. W. G. MacKechnie. He first married Helene Hay on May 25, 1911, she dying on May 21, 1919 of the flu; then Mary Maud Denike on August 18, 1923. Dr. Crawford served as the village Doctor for 35 years and was Physician to the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company. He was memorialized with the erection of the Dr. Hamilton Crawford Memorial Arena towards which the Company subscribed several thousand dollars. Dr. A. H. Crawford died in Marmora on September 11, 1951, aged 76 years, 1 month and 17 days.

Crews, James Walter Dr.
1872-1932

James Walter Crews was born at Trenton on September 6, 1872, son of John Crews and Margaret Wood. He attended the local High School and graduated from the Medical School of Queen's University in 1902. Dr. Crews married Eithna Florence Bailey on September 8, 1902. He established himself at Pittsford, New York, with offices there and at Rochester; he was appointed as Medical Officer of Health of the district and served as the school doctor. Dr. Crews was a member of the New York State Medical Society, the Rochester and Munroe County Medical Association, the Munroe County Tuberculosis Association and the New York State Sanitary Officers' Association. Dr. J. W. Crews died at Pittsford, New York, on September 20, 1932, aged 60 years, and 14 days.

Crichton, Alexander Dr.
-1935

Alexander Crichton was born at St. Catherines and graduated from the Toronto School of Medicine. He established himself at Castleton, Ontario where he applied himself to the task of being a country doctor. In 1903, he developed a patent medicine which he touted as a cure for pneumonia, known as "Grippe Medicine" it tastes terrible, but it works! Dr. Crichton died in Cobourg on February 2, 1935, aged 72 years 8 months 1 day.

Cronk, George Sampson
Dr.
1889-1974

George Sampson Cronk was born at Parham, Ontario on March 29, 1889, son of Manoah Cronk and Sarah Johnson. He worked in the mines of Northern Ontario before entering high school at the age of nineteen. After graduating in Medicine from Queen's University in 1915, he was commissioned to the Middle East where he served in hospital units as a Captain with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps; he was mentioned in dispatches for his competence and ability in organization during the typhus epidemic at Wei-Hai-Wei, China in 1918. In late 1918, he was assigned as Senior Officer to the Camp Mohawk Flying School at Deseronto and married Lillian Lenora Guthrie on November 7, 1918. After the War, he took further training at the New York Lying-In Hospital then entered Family Practice in Belleville. From 1921 to 1951, he was Belleville's Medical Officer of Health, and from 1930 to 1967, Coroner for the area. He served as President of the Medical Staff and as the Chief of Surgery for several years. In recognition of his service the Medical Library at the Belleville General Hospital was named in his honour. Dr. George Sampson Cronk died on March 18, 1974, aged 84 years, 11 months and 19 days.

Crosby, Robert Dr.
-1934

Robert Crosby was born in Campbellford and graduated from Toronto University in 1898. After practicing for four years at Byng Inlet, Ontario, he went to New York to pursue post-graduate studies, becoming House Surgeon at the Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital. He settled in Vancouver in 1903, practicing ophthalmology and otology. He was connected with the Vancouver General Hospital from 1915 his being one of the first appointments when the out-door clinics were opened. Dr. Crosby died of a heart attack on July 5, 1934, aged 64 years 3 months.

Crowe, Walter Brooks Dr.
-1957

Walter Brooks Crowe was born in Stockdale and received his early education in Trenton. He graduated from Trinity Medical College in 1896 and then took post-graduate courses at Edinburgh and Glasgow in Scotland and London, England, attaining the degrees Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons Edinburgh and Licentiate of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons, Glasgow. He practiced two years in Manitoba before returning to Trenton, pioneered by his family, in 1831. In 1914, Dr. Crowe served as Army Examining Officer with the rank of Major. He was Trenton's first Medical Officer of Health, an appointment he relinquished in 1940. He was also a Coroner for the County of Hastings. Dr. Crowe had practiced his profession for 60 years when he died following a brief illness, on March 20, 1957, aged 82 years 10 months 4 days.

Cryan, John H. Dr.
-1914

John H. Cryan was born in Northern Ireland, immigrated to Canada and attended Queen's Medical College whence he graduated as a licensed physician in 1888. Dr. Cryan followed the practice of his profession at Demorestville where he died on October 2, 1914, aged 70 years 5 months 1 day.

Cryan, Joseph Howard Dr.
1879-1957

Joseph Howard Cryan was born at Williamsburg, Ontario, on February 26, 1879, son of Dr. John Cryan and Ellen Merkley. He attended the local schools and entered into the study of his chosen profession and was a graduate of the Medical School of Queen's University, from which institution he graduated in 1903; he took post-graduate work in New York. Dr. Cryan's father had graduated from that same College in 1887. Dr. Cryan married Myra Pearl Garrison on January 7, 1911. He settled at Picton in 1940, where he served his growing clientele and was appointed as Medical Officer of Health, a position he held for 20 years. Dr. J. H. Cryan died at the Prince Edward County Hospital on January 20, 1957, aged 77 years, 10 months and 24 days.

Cullen, Ernest Keys Dr.
1878-1922

Ernest Keys Cullen was born at Belleville on May 14, 1878, son of Reverend Thomas Cullen and Mary Green. He studied medicine and graduated from the University of Toronto in 1903; he was House Surgeon at the Toronto General Hospital, and then went to Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where he spent eight years in post-graduate work, specializing in Abdominal Surgery and Gynaecology. In 1912, he settled in Detroit and soon became associated with the teaching staff of the Detroit Medical College. Dr. Cullen married Myrle Charlotte Macklem on April 28, 1920. He was a published author and was sought out as a lecturer to medical societies across the continent. Dr. E. K. Cullen died of gastric haemorrhage on July 5, 1922, aged 44 years, 1 month and 21 days.

Cullen, Thomas Stephen
Dr.
-1953

Thomas Stephen Cullen was born at Bridgewater, Ontario and moved with his family to Toronto in 1881; he graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1890, with the silver medal, ranked second in his class. He subsequently worked at the John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore where he established the gynecological pathology laboratory. He was the first doctor in the United States of America to examine tissues removed in the operating room, using the microscope to make diagnosis; thus he pioneered the field of gynecologic pathology in the United States. Dr. Cullen is remembered in medical literature for being the first to describe the "Umbilical Black Eye", the result of free blood in the abdomen leading to a bluish black appearance of the naval. Dr. Cullen died in the United States on March 4, 1953, aged 84 years 3 months 14 days.

Cummings, Benjamin Franklin Dr.
1871-1957

Benjamin Franklin Cummings was born on Aug 13, 1871 at Warkworth, Ontario son of John Cummings and Mary Boulter. In 1890 he followed his brother George to Montana to help set up and run a drug store at Kalispell. He soon entered into the study of medicine at Bellevue Hospital in New York and was a graduate from the Colorado University School of Medicine in 1895. Dr. Cummings established himself at Lake City, Colorado where for almost 40 years, he was the principal physician; here, he was united in marriage to Ida Beam on Dec 12, 1897 and resided at what is known as the Cummings Carriage House, a Greek Revival-style residence. Dr. Benjamin Franklin Cummings died at Lake City on Oct 22, 1957 aged 86 years 2 months 9 days.

Cummings, George David
Dr.
1859-1933

George David Cummings was born on Oct 26, 1859 at Warkworth, the older brother of the previously chronicled Benjamin Cummings. He graduated in medicine from the Bellevue Hospital in New York in 1888 and headed west to Lake City, Colorado where he was united in marriage to Jessie Gilmour on Jan 15, 1890. From there, he spent a short time at Kalispell, Montana before locating his practice in Denver, Colorado; driven by an interest in geology and mineral exploration, Dr. Cummings removed to Florence, Colorado where he could practice medicine and pursue his interest in the mineral activities of the area. Dr. George David Cummings died at Denver, Colorado on Nov 18, 1933 aged 74 years 22 days.

Cummins, James Anthony
Dr.
1902-1947

James Anthony Cummins was born at Belleville, Ontario on August 17, 1902 son of John Cummins and Marie Legault. He received his medical degree from Queen's University in 1930 and interned at the Hotel Dieu in Kingston and the Water Street Hospital in Ottawa. Dr. Cummins was united in marriage to Kathryn Millan on February 16, 1931. He then entered the Ontario Hospital service at Whitby before some post graduate work in psychiatry and in 1936 went to the Ontario Hospital at Hamilton; in 1944 he opened a private practice in Hamilton. He was widely known for his work in psychiatry and was the author of many articles published in both Canadian and American journals. While vacationing at Muskoka, Dr. James Anthony Cummins died on August 14, 1947 aged 44 years 11 months 27 days.

Curlett, James Ford Dr.
-1898

James Curlett was born at Green Point, Prince Edward County. He commenced the study of medicine in 1837 at Fairfield College, New York and graduated at Geneva, New York in 1842. On his return, he attended Dr. Rolph's School at Toronto for one year and commenced practice at Demorestville. Here he met with good success, however, removed to Belleville in 1869; he served as Surgeon to the 3rd Battalion, Prince Edward County. He was a member of the College of Physician and Surgeons of New York, the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, a Licentiate of the Medical Board of Upper Canada and a Licentiate of the Surgical Military Board for the examination of Surgeons for the United States Army; he was also associated for some time as Demonstrator of Anatomy in Geneva, New York. Dr. Curlett was probably the oldest practitioner in the district when he died on August 29, 1898, aged 86 years 3 months 1 day.

Currie, George Alexander
Wilson Dr.
1913-1959

George Alexander Wilson Currie was born at Picton, Ontario on November 20, 1913 son of Dr. Morley Currie and Clara Clark. He studied medicine at Queen's University, graduated in 1938 and interned at the Regina General Hospital. Dr. Currie served overseas with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in World War 11 and attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He then took a post graduate course in hospital administration and served as a hospital administrator in Colorado and Texas before taking up his appointment at the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto in 1957. Survived by his wife, the former Kathryn Hadden, Dr. George Alexander Wilson Currie drowned while swimming in Lake Ontario near Picton, death occurring on July 15, 1959 aged 45 years 7 months 25 days.

Currie, Morley Dr.
-1944

Morley Currie was a native of Picton. He was educated locally, graduated from Toronto University with his Bachelor of Arts in 1891, and completed his Medical Doctor degree in 1895. He was an outstanding athlete and held the University of Toronto track and field championship in 1888-1890. Three years were spent in New York in post-graduate work and he began practice in Picton where he continued in active work for the next 35 years; he was noted as a brilliant Surgeon. As a Liberal candidate he was elected to represent Prince Edward County in the Ontario Legislature for two terms, 1902 and 1905. In 1908, he was elected to the House of Commons, being defeated on the reciprocity issue in 1911. He introduced important health measures during his term in office. Dr. Currie died in Picton on July 11, 1944, aged 75 years 18 days.

Curry, Douglas Donnelly
Dr.
1899-1940

Douglas Donnelly Curry was born at the farmhouse near Trenton, Ontario on February 4, 1899 son of Henry Curry and Mary Donnelly. He graduated from the Trenton Collegiate High School, was a Veteran of World War 1, went overseas with the 52nd Battery, spent four years studying medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated in medicine from McGill in 1928. He was united in marriage to Helen Arnott at Montreal on September 17, 1927. After graduation, Dr. Curry spent one year in a surgical hospital in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, was then in the employ of the Dupont Company of Buffalo and in September 1930 removed to South Dayton, New York. In 1932 he was involved in a serious motor vehicle accident in which he suffered fractured ribs, a punctured lung and skull fractures. Dr. Douglas Donnelly Curry died at Cloverbank, New York, his death ruled a suicide by the medical examiner, death occurring on July 16, 1940 aged 41 years 5 months and 12 days.

Curry, Percy William Dr.
1889-1945

Percy William Curry was born at Trenton, Ontario on December 3, 1889, son of William Curry and Salina Isaacs. He matriculated from the local high school, spent a year teaching at Shannonville, and followed by three years working in Northern Ontario. He entered into the Study of Medicine with the Class of 1916 at the University of Toronto. He enlisted in the Royal Army Medical Corps during World War I and served in India as a Captain. Dr. Curry established himself at Cleveland, Ohio where he engaged in a Private Practice and served as Staff Physician at the Hawthornden Sanatorium at Macedonia Summit, Ohio. Dr. Percy William Curry died on November 20, 1945, aged 55 years, 11 months and 17 days.

Curtis, Chester Loomis.
Dr.
1839-1911

Chester Loomis Curtis was born in Ameliasburgh Township on October 30, 1839 son of Thomas Curtis and Catharine Savage. He was a Licentiate of the Homeopathic Medical Board in 1863, and followed the practice of his profession in Trenton, Ontario for several years, spent time in Saginaw and Ann Arbor, Michigan before settling in Kingston where he spent over thirty years. Dr. Curtis was married to Frances Theresa Horsey on March 15, 1894. He was active in city affairs and served on council in the 1890s and contested the mayoral seat in 1899. He was chairman of the civic parks committee for several years and it was under his direction that MacDonald Park was made what it is today. He served as surgeon for the 17th Regiment of Kingston, was an active yachtsman, an Orangeman and a Mason. Dr. Curtis died at Kingston on June 21, 1911 aged 71 years 7 months 21 days.

Dafoe, Allan Roy Dr.
1883-1943

Allan Roy Dafoe was born at Madoc on May 29, 1883, son of Dr. William Allan Dafoe and Essa Van Dusen. He was educated in the schools of his home town and the University of Toronto, from which he graduated in Medicine in 1907. He married Bertha Louise Morrison on September 16, 1914. He had the hard life of a rural practitioner at Callander, Ontario, until May 28, 1934, when he attended at the birth of the Dionne Quintuplets. With skill and zeal he ministered to the five babies whose combined weight was 13-1/2 pounds; he became famous. Dr. Dafoe had the honour of presenting his little patients to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth during their visit in 1939. He was given the Order of the British Empire. Dr. A. R. Dafoe died at North Bay on June 2, 1943, aged 60 years and 3 days.

Dafoe, Charlotte Savery
Dr.
1912-2011

Charlotte Savery Small was born at Chentu, China on November 10, 1912 daughter of Walter Small and Lottie Lawson. She was educated in China and England and at the University of British Columbia before entering into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto. Graduating in 1936, Dr. Small interned at St. John General Hospital in New Brunswick where she met her husband, Dr. Colin Scott Dafoe, who was also interning there; they were married in Toronto in April 1938. Qualified in anaesthesiology, Dr. Dafoe established herself at Belleville where she also practised obstetrics and gynaecology during World War 11. From there, after the War, the Dafoes were in England, Toronto and in 1950 removed to Edmonton, Alberta. She worked as director of the Handicap Registry as well as poison control for the Alberta Department of Health. Dr. Charlotte Savery Dafoe died at Edmonton on August 20, 2011 aged 98 years 9 months 10 days.

Dafoe, Colin Scott Dr.
1909-1969

Colin Scott Dafoe was born at Madoc, Ontario on November 20, 1909 son of Frank Dafoe and Eleanor Robinson. After graduating in medicine from Queen's University in 1936 he studied at the Karolinska Institute in Stockholm and then at the Leicester Royal Infirmary and the Groby Road Sanatorium in Leicester, England. During World War 11 Dr. Dafoe served as a Major in the Royal Army Medical Corps in the Middle East, North Africa and Yugoslavia; he was awarded the Order of Merit of the Yugoslav Partisan Army. On his return to civilian life, Dr. Dafoe studied surgery in the United Kingdom and Canada specializing in cardiovascular and thoracic surgery. He served as chief of that department at the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton and as president of the Alberta Thoracic Society. Dr. Colin Scott Dafoe died at Waterton Lakes National Park in Alberta on July 29, 1969 where he was holidaying; he was reported missing and his remains were found 3 years later; he was 59 years 8 months 9 days.

Dafoe, William Allan Dr.
-1929

William Allan Dafoe was a gold medallist, graduating from Trinity University in 1878. He established himself in the practice of his profession in Madoc and was prominent in medicine in Hastings County for 50 years. He retired in July 1928 and moved to Toronto. He was the father of the two physicians who delivered and cared for the Dionne quintuplets. Dr. Dafoe died in Toronto on October 28, 1929, aged 78 years 7 months 6 days.

Dafoe, William Allan Van Deusen Dr.
1894-1974

William Allan Van Deusen Dafoe was born at Madoc, Ontario on August 14, 1894 son of Dr. William Allan Dafoe and Essa Van Deusen. He taught school in Hastings County before enrolling in the University of Toronto's medical school in 1914. World War 1 interrupted his studies; he joined the Canadian Army as a private, and served with Lester B. Pearson at Salonika, Greece. Wounded, he returned home, continued his studies and graduated in 1920. He was captain of the university's hockey, lacrosse and soccer teams and during his final year had toured the United States with his teams. He spent five years of postgraduate studies in Toronto, Edinburgh and London, England and a senior fellowship at the University of Toronto in gynaecology and obstetrics. Dr. Dafoe was united in marriage to Helen Gibson on August 27, 1924. Over the years he delivered more than 5,000 babies without one maternal death but his name is most familiar in association with a delivery performed by his brother, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, who credits Dr. William with keeping the Dionne quintuplets alive after their birth in 1934 through his advice. Dr. William Allan Van Deusen Dafoe died at Toronto on November 5, 1974 aged 80 years 2 months and 21 days.

Dales, Merrill Garbutt Dr.
1894-1978

Merrill Garbutt Dales was born at Kingston, Ontario on July 13, 1894 son of John Dales and Helena Flath. He was a Veteran of World War 1, enlisted with the 76th Battery and served overseas with the 4th Battery. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto with the class of 1921. Dr. Dales was united in marriage, first to Ada Johnston on October 27, 1923 and after her death to Vivian Ellis. He practised for more than 31 years in Tweed, Ontario where he was also active in church work and community affairs. Dr. Merrill Garbutt Dales lived the retired life in Belleville where he died on October 15, 1978 aged 84 years 3 months and 2 days.

Daly, Joseph Dr.
1886-1964

Joseph Daly was born at Iona, Prince Edward Island on March 21, 1886, son of James and Mary Ann Daly. He attended Oxford University, England as a Rhodes Scholar and was a member of the first Team Canada hockey team. In 1909, a group of transplanted Canadian scholars created their own hockey team in response to being barred from representing Oxford. In 1910, Joseph Daly and his team mates won the first European Championship wearing a red maple leaf on their sweaters. He returned to Canada and graduated from the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1915. He spent the next few years in post-graduate work and hung his shingle at Belleville, where he stayed for two years before taking a position with the Mayo Clinic. He went on to work in London, England and Detroit, Michigan, before settling at Toronto, where his professional activities centered at St. Michael's Hospital. Dr. Joseph Daly died on December 12, 1964, aged 78 years, 8 months and 21 days.

Dame, Alexander
Anthony Dr.
-1915

Alexander Anthony Dame was born in Prince Edward County and was a graduate of Queen's Medical School in 1886. Military matters claimed Dr. Dame's warm attention, and his first duties in this connection was as a member of the Militia at Kingston during the time of the Fenian Raid. He was one of the original officers, being the Regimental Surgeon of the 48th Highlanders. Dr. Dame practiced first at Jordan and from there went to Toronto. After practicing here for about five years, he went to Europe and took up the study of eye, ear, nose and throat work in hospitals in London, Edinburgh, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. On his return in 1905, he went to Galt, but three years later moved to Toronto where he established a successful practice. Dr. Dame died while en route to a funeral, in Toronto on March 23, 1915, aged 68 years 8 months.

Danter, James Fleetwood
Dr.
-1897

James Danter, a native of England, was member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario 1860, and a graduate of the Homeopathic Medical College of New York 1866. Besides practicing homeopathic medicine he billed himself as being a "Medical Electrician". He established himself in Belleville in 1871 but stayed only a short time. Dr. Danter died in Toronto on September 24, 1897, aged 63.

Darling, Robert Ellwood
Dr.
-1949

Robert Ellwood Darling was born at Roseneath, Percy Township, educated at Campbellford High School and attended Trinity Medical College, graduating in 1893. He started practice at Roseneath and Goodwood before removing to Stouffville where he covered an extensive area as Coroner and Physician. He delivered thousands of babies and practiced his profession continuously for 56 years. Dr. Darling died at Stouffville on January 24, 1949, aged 79 years 5 months 20 days.

David, Alfred Dr.
-1915

Alfred David was born in Picton. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1873 and did post-graduate work at Paris, London and Berlin. He practiced for 19 years at Calumet, Michigan, for one year in New Zealand, and four years at Kenora. He then went to Prince Albert, Saskatchewan in 1904. Dr. David died in Saskatchewan on February 11, 1915, aged 71.

David, Egerton Clapp Dr.
-1916

Egerton Clapp David was born in North Marysburgh and received his education at the Picton schools and attended Queen's University. He graduated from the University of Ann Arbor, Michigan with the degree of Doctor of Medicine. He returned to Picton where he established himself and practiced his profession. He was cut off from a professional career by a mental disability that covered many years. Dr. David died at Rockwood Hospital on April 20, 1916, aged 67.

Davidson, Jackson
Graham Dr.
1836-1897

Jackson Graham Davidson was born at Ballymoney, Ireland on October 9, 1836, son of George Davidson and Mary Orr. He was a graduate of the medical school at Victoria College, Ontario in 1862, and "at a general meeting of the Fellows of the Royal College of Physicians of London, held on Saturday, December 13, 1862, having undergone the necessary examinations, and satisfied the College of his proficiency in the Science and Practice of Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery, he was duly admitted to practice Physic as a Licentiate of the College". Dr. J. G. Davidson established himself at Cobourg, Ontario where he was appointed Coroner for the county of Northumberland/Durham in addition to his medical practice. Dr. Jackson Graham Davidson removed to Woodstock, Ontario, where he died of a perforated ulcer on March 28, 1897, aged 60 years, 5 months and 19 days..

Davidson, Jackson
Graham Dr.
1862-1894

The son of the elder Doctor, and his namesake, was born at Cobourg on October 18, 1862, son of Dr. J. G. Davidson and Mary Williams. He was a graduate of the medical school at Trinity College, Toronto in 1882; and married Elizabeth Dowling in Brantford Township about 1885. He established himself in his life's work at Langford, Brant County, Ontario, where he worked for over a decade. His son, Jackson Graham Davidson III, was born in 1889. Dr. Jackson Graham Davidson died as the result of a railway accident on February 13, 1894, aged 31 years, 3 months and 25 days.

Davidson, Raymond
Glenn Dr.
1896-1969

Raymond Glenn Davidson was born at Brighton, Ontario on March 16, 1896 son of David Davidson and Ann Glenn. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1923 and was united in marriage to Agnes McLeod on September 7, 1927. He established himself at Kenora, Ontario where he served as a medical practitioner and surgeon until his retirement in 1962. Dr. Davidson was active in church work, served as president of the Rotary Club, president of the Lake of the Woods Club, was on the school board for 25 years and was the first chairman of the Lake of the Woods Museum Board in Kenora.; He was county coroner and was made a fellow of the Order of St. John by Her Majesty the Queen. Dr. Raymond Glenn Davidson died at Toronto on July 6, 1969 aged 73 years 3 months and 20 days.

Davis, George Wellington
Dr.
1906-1997

George Wellington Davis was born at Gananoque, Ontario on October 23, 1906 son of Wellington Davis and Annie Batten. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at Queen's University in 1933. Dr. Davis was soon established at Flinton, Ontario but after some time there in general practice he removed to Sydenham where he remained for the duration. Here he carried on a country practice and was active in the Amateur Radio Club of Canada. Predeceased by his wife Lillian, Dr. George Wellington Davis died in Kingston on July 17, 1997 aged 90 years 8 months 24 days.

Davison, John Lorenzo,
Dr.
1852-1917

John Lorenzo Davison was born at Newburgh, Ontario in November 1852 son of John Davison and Jane Swanson. He attended the local primary schools and the Toronto Normal School where he was awarded the McCabe Gold Medal. He was a teacher in the Provincial Model School, Toronto, for ten years during which time he graduated in Arts in 1880 at the University of Toronto. He then studied medicine at Trinity Medical College where he graduated in 1884, afterwards pursuing post-graduate studies in Edinburgh and London. He returned to Toronto in 1885 and was appointed Professor of Pathology in the Women's Medical College and in 1886, professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics at Trinity College. He served as editor of the Canada Lancet and was appointed as medical referee to the Imperial Life Assurance Company. He remained a lifetime bachelor. Dr. John Lorenzo Davison died at Napanee on April 19, 1917 aged 64 years 5 months.

Davison, Myers Dr.
1839-1891

Myers Davison was the elder brother of the previously chronicled J. L. Davison. His parents came to Canada about 1815 from County Antrim, Ireland and settled near Odessa, Ontario. Myers was born on September 16, 1839 at Newburgh and after graduating from the local schools he attended Queen's College and took his medical training, graduating in 1864. He originally started practicing in Dresden, Ontario, but soon moved to the small rural community of Florence. He married on February 16, 1870 to Eleanor Williams from Culloden, Ontario. He was active in civic affairs and served as Reeve of Euphemia Township and was President of the local Conservative party. He served on the school board as secretary-treasurer and was active in the local Methodist Church. Dr. Myers Davison died on February 10, 1891, aged 51 years, 4 months and 24 days.

Day, Henry Egerton Dr.
1877-1931

Henry Egerton Day was born at Kingston on August 26, 1877, son of Sidney Day and Adelaide Isabella Waggoner. He entered Queen's University and completed his Medical training, graduating as a Physician in 1902. He married Mary Simmerman on December 28, 1904. Dr. Day soon established himself in Odessa, where he followed the practice of his profession for 7 years, before returning to Kingston. He specialized in children's diseases and worked with the Victorian Order of Nurses and the Infants' Home. For two years, he represented Frontenac Ward on the Board of Education. Dr. H. E. Day died of a heart attack while on a call, on December 14, 1931, aged 54 years, 3 months and 18 days.

Day, Henry Wright Dr.
-1903

Henry Wright Day was born in the Township of Kingston. He received his medical education at Queen's University, where he graduated in 1859, and, shortly thereafter, moved to Trenton where he practiced until appointed Registrar of the County in 1888. In 1860, he was appointed Coroner for Hastings and Northumberland-Durham Counties. In 1869, he was elected a member of the Council of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario for the Quinte and Cataraqui District and was, in 1884, elected President of Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. He was, at one time, a Surgeon of a Battalion of Militia, and, in 1866, during the first Fenian raid, organized a battalion and was made Captain of a Company. He kept up his relations with the militia until 1872, when he retired. For 15 years, he was a member of the School Board of Trenton and in 1881, when Trenton was incorporated as a town, he was elected its first Mayor, and held that position in 1881, 1882 and 1887. He moved to Belleville in 1890, where he was Registrar of the County of Hastings. Dr. Day died in Belleville on January 11, 1903, aged 70 years 4 months 5 days.

De La Matter, Ira Dr.
1882-1939

Ira De La Matter was born at Pelham Township, Welland County, Ontario on June 16, 1882, son of Ira De La Matter and Emma Cornelia Hoshal. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University in 1911 and was united in marriage to Charlotte Ann Watson on November 20, 1915. Dr. De La Matter practised for some time at Hastings, Ontario and while there, saved two people from drowning in the Trent Canal; he was presented with a medal by the Royal Humane Society for this act of heroism on February 2, 1920. With the arrival of Dr. W. N. Campbell at Hastings, Dr. De La Matter removed to Long Branch, Ontario, where he remained for the duration. Dr. Ira De La Matter died on August 2, 1939, aged 57 years, 1 month and 16 days.

Dean, Keith Cornelius
Wesley Elwood Dr.
1889-1966

Keith Cornelius Wesley Elwood Dean was born at Brighton, Ontario on January 13, 1889, son of Dr. Noble Benjamin Hall Dean and Theresa Jane Montgomery. The father of our subject and his brother, Dr. Marshall Blanchard Dean, have been previously chronicled. The Dean line were early pioneers in Hamilton Township and were descendants of the Dean family from Taunton, Massachusetts. Our subject was a Graduate of the Medical School at the University of Manitoba in 1915 and entered into the service of his Country on January 31, 1915 with the Canadian Army Medical Corps and served as Captain in World War I. He was united in marriage on June 25, 1918 to Olive Idella Shourds. Dr. Dean hung his shingle and followed his professional activities at Caledonia, Ontario. Dr. Keith Cornelius Wesley Dean died on April 6, 1966, aged 77 years, 2 months and 23 days.

Dean, Marshall Blanchard
Dr.

Marshall Blanchard Dean was the son of Dr. Noble Dean and namesake of his uncle, Dr. Marshall M.P. Dean. He was a native of -1926

Brighton and a graduate of Trinity College in 1899. He established himself in the practice of his profession at the pioneer town of Fort William, Ontario. Here, he was the Past-Chairman of the medical staff of the McKellar Hospital and was President of the Thunder Bay Medical Society. He was active in politics and a member of many athletic societies in the city. Dr. Dean died at Fort William on December 8, 1926, ages 56 years 10 months 7 days.

Dean, Marshall Marsellus Pulaski Dr.

– 1881

Marshall Marsellus Pulaski Dean was a native of Hamilton Township and a graduate of the Victoria College Medical School, in 1867. He was brother to Dr. Noble Dean who attended to him at the end. Dr. Dean established himself at Keene, Ontario where he followed the practice of his profession and died there on May 7, 1881, aged 38.

Dean, Noble Benjamin Hall Dr.

-1912

Noble Benjamin Dean was born in the Township of Hamilton and graduated with honours in medicine from Victoria University in 1860. He first started a practice in Beaverton where he remained until the outbreak of the American War. During the war, he served as Surgeon in the American Army, holding the position of Assistant Surgeon at Lincoln Hospital and, later, that of Surgeon-in-Charge at Fort Strong. At the close of the war, Dr. Dean returned to Canada and entered the Kingston Military College where he obtained a first-class military certificate. On August 3, 1866, he again took up his profession and settled in Brighton. He was keenly interested in all that pertained to education and for 36 years was a school trustee. Dr. Dean died at Brighton on June 28, 1912, aged 72 years 4 months 29 days.

Deans, George R. Dr.
1832-1891

George R Deans was born in Innerleithen, Peebles, Scotland in 1832, son of William Deans and Elizabeth Glendinning. The family removed and settled in Trenton, Ontario, his father and brothers were all active as druggists in the early pioneer days. He was united in marriage to Mary Jane Cooley on December 15, 1859 and was a graduate of the Medical School at Queens in 1865. Dr. Deans followed the practice of his medical profession as well as Chemist and Druggist at Trenton, Ontario where he died aged 59.

Deans, William Carter Dr.
1837-1876

William Carter Deans was a native of New York. He took his medical training at Queen's College where he attained his medical degree in 1861. Dr. Deans followed the practice of his life's work at Galt, Ontario, Oshawa and Colborne. He was united in marriage to Alice Georgina Groves of Colborne on December 26, 1864. Dr. William Carter Deans died at Colborne of mesenteric tuberculosis on June 13, 1876, aged 39.

Demorest, Burnham
Gideon Grant Dr.
-1904

Burnham G. G. Demorest was born of American parents in Cramahe Township, but soon removed with his family to Demorestville, Prince Edward County; his father was a Wesleyan Methodist Minister. Here he received his primary education and entered the study of medicine, graduating from McGill College in 1852. He went on to practice his profession at Norham, Percy Township, Northumberland County, where he was also postmaster. By 1871, he was established in Stirling but later returned to his native county. Dr. B.G.G. Demorest died in Northumberland County on April 12, 1904, aged 79 years 1 month 11 days.

Demorest, Clara Jane Dr.
1862-1912

Clara Jane Demorest was born at the farmhouse at Empey Hill, 4th Concession of Richmond Township, Lennox and Addington County on Mar 7, 1862, daughter of George Demorest and Jane Scott. She was educated locally and began her professional career as a teacher of the Tyendinaga Mohawk students of the Bay of Quinte area. After she graduated from the Women's Medical College in 1890, Dr. Demorest established her medical practice at Napanee, Ontario where she remained until 1905 when she removed to Calgary, Alberta. Here, once again, she was a pioneer in the medical frontier. Dr. Demorest returned to Ontario some years later and was admitted to the Toronto Asylum. This facility was opened in 1850, was named the Provincial Lunatic Asylum and was the first permanent mental health facility in Upper Canada. Dr. Clara Jane Demorest died at Toronto of dementia on Jan 20, 1912 aged 49 years 10 months 13 days.

Demorest, John Sheldon
Dr.
1880-1962

John Sheldon Demorest was born at Foxboro, Ontario on May 4, 1880, son of Arthur Wilson Demorest and Mary Elizabeth Young. He was educated at the Foxboro Public School and the Belleville High School and then went to Albert College. He studied at Queen's University and the University of Virginia at Richmond and graduated from the Medical School at the University of Manitoba in 1914. He practised in the west, was a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Ontario and a member of the Medical Council of Great Britain. He was married to Helen Elizabeth Holden. In Ontario, Dr. Demorest practised for eleven years in Stirling and then twenty years at Foxboro where he had a wide clientele in the surrounding district. He was a member of the United Empire Loyalists, was an avid genealogical researcher and wrote many family histories. Dr. John Sheldon Demorest died on June 29, 1962, aged 82 years, 1 month and 25 days.

Dempsey, Ethel Agnes Dr.
1908-1995

Ethel Agnes Noble was born at Norval, Ontario on November 12, 1908 daughter of Alexander Noble and Phoebe Arnott. She was a graduate of the University of Toronto, faculty of medicine in 1933 and in 1936 she took over the practice of Dr. Emma Connor in Belleville. After 5 years she took post graduate work in anaesthesia at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal and was on staff of the Ottawa Civic and General Hospitals. Dr. Noble was united in marriage to Allan Dempsey on July 1, 1948 and carried on a general practice as well as serving on the anaesthetic staff of the Belleville and Trenton Hospitals. Dr. Dempsey served her community for 50 years and died on August 12, 1995 aged 86 years 9 months.

Denike, Andrew James Dr.
-1955

Dr. Andrew James Denike was a graduate of Albert College and studied medicine, a Graduate of Rush Medical School, Chicago and Grand Rapids Medical School. He was initially established at Whitehall, Michigan, removing to New York State about 1909. After the death of his brother, he took over the operation of the Denike Sanitarium, which employed the Gold Cure. Dr. A. J. Denike left Clinton about 1920 and did institutional work in Battle Creek, and he subsequently operated two sanitariums in Detroit. Dr. A. J. Denike died on February 16, 1955, aged 79 years 9 months 12 days.

Denike, George Henry Dr.
-1913

Dr. George Henry Denike was a native of Tyendinaga, a graduate of Albert College and Queen's Medical School in 1882. He removed to New York State, practicing at Watertown, Syracuse, Utica and then at Clinton, New York as the Physician for the Baker-Rose Sanitarium. In 1893, he established a sanitarium of his own, for the treatment of alcohol, narcotics and tobacco addiction, where he remained for 20 years. Dr. G. H. Denike died suddenly at his sanitarium, while endeavoring, unsuccessfully, to resuscitate a patient, on June 13, 1913, aged 57 years 12 days.

Denike, Isaac Dr.
-1926

Dr. Isaac Denike was a Graduate of Albert College and, on completion, entered into the Study of Medicine, graduating Medical Doctor, and immediately located for practice at Campbellford, Ontario. He was afterward on the road for about four years as Examiner for insurance companies. In 1898, he left with his family for Union, Michigan, where he engaged in his chosen profession. In order to still further himself, he pursued a course in 1909-1905 at the Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital of Chicago. He thereafter continued his professional labours at Union, Michigan. He was a member of Elkhart Medical Association, of Indiana, only 12 miles distant from his practice. Dr. Isaac Denike died at South Bend, Indiana, on April 8, 1926, aged 62 years 3 months 23 days.

Denyes, Gerald Foster Dr.
1895-1953

Gerald Foster Denyes was born at Odessa, Ontario on October 11, 1895, son of Sidney Denyes and Sarah Elizabeth Anderson. He was graduated from Queen's University in 1916, and was a veteran of World War I, where he served as Captain of the Canadian Over Seas Expeditionary Force in Egypt. Dr. Denyes practised at Shannonville and Tweed and on April 21, 1921, was united in marriage to Bessie Geraldine Walsh. In 1925, he removed to Perrysburg, Ohio, where he engaged in General Practice until enrolling in New York University in 1929, specializing in Ophthalmology (the study of the Eyes) and Otorhinolaryngology (the study of the Ear, Nose and Throat); he continued his studies in Budapest, Hungary. Dr. Denyes settled at Toledo, Ohio in 1931, where he remained in active practice for over two decades, retiring to Delray Beach, Florida due to ill health. Dr. Gerald Foster Denyes died on June 22, 1953, aged 57 years, 8 months and 11 days.

Deynard, Albert Britton
Dr.
-1935

Albert Britton Deynard was a native of Prince Edward County. He attended school in the Township of Athol and later graduated from Peterborough High School. He began the study of medicine in Philadelphia but graduated from Queen's University in 1876. In his early years, he attended the Royal Military College and qualified to command a battalion in a brigade. He took post-graduate work in the hospitals of Chicago, London, Paris, Rome and Vienna, commencing his practice in Chicago. He returned to Canada in 1882 and practiced at Williamsford, Chatsworth and Owen Sound. He went to New York City in 1888, where he was identified with microscopic work, and subsequently served on the staffs of Bellevue Hospital, Vanderbilt Clinic and the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital. Dr. Deynard also served as Surgeon during W.W.I. Dr. Deynard died in Owen Sound on March 21, 1935, aged 86 years 1 month 23 days.

Diamond, Frederick
Walter Dr.
1889-1945

Frederick Walter Diamond was born at Queensborough, Ontario on May 3, 1889, son of Franklin Orion Diamond and Emma Wiggins. He received his early education at Madoc and was a Graduate of Queen's University Medical School in 1915. He went overseas with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and saw service during World War I at Malta, Egypt and Palestine. Returning to Canada, he practised for several years at Cold Springs prior to moving to Port Hope. He was united in marriage on December 8, 1926 to Helen Irene Davidson. He was Physician for the Trinity College School and was on Staff at the Port Hope Hospital. Dr. Frederick Walter Diamond died on April 1, 1945, aged 55 years, 10 months and 28 days.

Dingman, James Alva Dr.
1848-1905

James Alva Dingman was born on June 22, 1848 at Picton, Ontario son of Jasper Dingman and Maria Post. He was educated at the Belleville Methodist College and graduated from the Eclectic Medical College in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1871; Dr. Dingman was united in marriage to Jeannette Beveridge in 1874. He entered into the practice of his life's work at Florence, N.Y. and after 3 years there he was house physician for the Dansville Sanatorium, a hydrotherapy spa established in 1854; after a year at the Sanatorium, Dr. Dingman removed to Spring Valley N.Y. where he remained for the duration. Dr. James Alva Dingman died at Spring Valley on Feb 25, 1905 aged 56 years 8 months 3 days.

Dingman, William Edward
Dr.
1851-1916

William Edward Dingman was born at Milford, Ontario on March 1, 1851, son of Garrett Dingman and Elizabeth Dulmage; his ancestors on both sides were United Empire Loyalists. Most of the family were buried in the Dingman Cemetery in Milford. The subject of our profile was educated locally and entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University, where he graduated with his degree in 1875. He practiced for a short time at Glen Allan, Wellington County before removing to Listowel, Perth County, Ontario where he remained for the duration. He was united in marriage to Helen Hopkins. Dr. William Edward Dingman died at Listowel, and is buried with his wife at Fairview Cemetery Listowel, on March 6, 1916, aged 65 years and 5 days.

Doig, Charles David Dr.
-1898
(Denbigh)

Charles David Doig was born in St. Cuthberts, Edinburgh, Scotland, educated at Edinburgh Academy and was a licensed physician from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh, 1851. He, thereafter, was the House Surgeon at the Leith Hospital, St. Thomas. Dr. Doig was reported to have lost his fiancé to his brother where upon he left Scotland, remaining a bachelor. Dr. Doig arrived in Quebec in 1865 and, by 1871, was a practicing physician in Denbigh, Lennox and Addington County. Dr. Doig died at Kingston on November 12, 1898, aged 68 years 6 months 15 days.

Dolan, James Francis Dr.
-1918

James Dolan was a native of Belleville and a graduate of Trinity Medical College in 1890. He soon established himself in Belleville where he followed his profession for the duration. He had a wide practice and his kind and sympathetic nature endowed him to all who sought his services. When he became ill, his condition suddenly became so grave that several physicians of the city were called in for consultation and, although, everything possible was done to prolong life, it proved unavailing. Dr. Dolan died on December 22, 1918, aged 50 years 2 days.

Donnelly, Francis Regis
Dr.
1909-1950

Francis Regis Donnelly was born at Stanleyville, Ontario on June 28, 1909 son of Philip Donnelly and Hattie Byrne. He received his early education at Perth and attended Queen's University, faculty of medicine, class of 1936. Dr. Donnelly interned at Hotel Dieu Hospital in Kingston, took post graduate work in New York and practised at Chesterville and Tweed, Ontario. He served with the Royal Canadian Medical Corps during the War, joined the Sudbury Clinic in 1942 and a year later removed to Massey, Ontario. Dr. Francis Regis Donnelly died at Massey on August 20, 1950 aged 41 years 1 month 22 days.

Donovan, Edward Ignatius
Dr.
1858-1938

Edward Ignatius Donovan was born at Campbellford, Ontario on January 21, 1858, son of Patrick Donovan and Ellen O'Connor. He attended the local primary schools and engaged in teaching for four years, before entering into the study of medicine at Queen's University, where he graduated in 1886. He was soon to enter into practice with his brother, Dr. P. C. Donovan, at Neche, North Dakota, but, in 1887, he removed to Langdon, North Dakota. He was married on November 25, 1890 to Mary McKenty at Kingston, Ontario. Here he served as President of the Citizens State Bank and had interests in banks in the towns of Wales, Calvin, Loma and Sarles. In 1902, he built the Donovan Block which housed the Donovan Drug and Jewellery Store and the local hardware store. In 1910, he founded the town of Mowbray, North Dakota and was the principal stockholder of the Linden Investment Company which owned the town sites of Hannah and Wales. He was active in civic affairs and donated the land for Calvary Cemetery. Of the lovely historic homes of Langdon, there is one that has an imprint from its owner; on a glass door facing the street is the name Dr. E. I. Donovan. Dr. Edward Ignatius Donovan died on October 6, 1938, aged 79 years, 9 months and 11 days.

Donovan, Patrick Charles
Dr.
1849-1939

Patrick Charles Donovan was born in Kingston, Ontario on December 18, 1849, an older brother to Dr. E. I. Donovan. The parents were natives of the Emerald Isle and came to Canada in 1837, where the father engaged in farming. Patrick Charles Donovan spent his formative years in Campbellford and attended Queen's University where he attained his medical degree in 1879. He removed to Neche, North Dakota where he followed his life's work; he married Alice Maude O'Hara at Neche in 1888. Dr. Patrick Charles Donovan lived the retired life in San Jose, California where he died on December 15, 1939, aged 89 years, 11 months and 27 days.

Dorland, Enoch George
Dr.
-1855

Enoch Dorland was a graduate of McGill College in 1850 and practiced in Belleville; as was the custom of the time, he gave gratuitous attention to the poor of Belleville every Monday. Dr. Dorland died in 1855, aged 31 years 7 months 15 days.

Dorland, James Dr.
-1916

James Dorland was born at Adolphustown and graduated in medicine from McGill University in 1875. He practiced in Milwaukee, Chicago and since 1905 in Adolphustown. Besides medicine, he was a successful farmer, and operated the best farm in the Township. Dr. Dorland died on December 10, 1916, aged 64 years 9 months 28 days.

Dorland, Peter Van Buren
Dr.
-1895

Peter Dorland was born in Adolphustown. He graduated from Victoria College in 1856 and was a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh. He was a graduate of the New York Eye and Ear Institute and of Philadelphia University. He practiced in Belleville in 1856, but then spent some time in Savannah, Georgia, where he practiced and studied cholera. He had a large practice in Belleville and was a skillful Physician. He erected several dwellings and a business block on Front Street near the upper bridge. He was active in municipal affairs and was a member of Town Council. Dr. Dorland suffered a breakdown during the depression of 1875 and lived the next 20 years an object of charity. He died in Kingston on May 9, 1895, aged 66 years 3 months 29 days.

Dorland, Solomon
Matthew Dr.
-1932

Solomon Mathew Dorland was born in Sophiasburgh. He started teaching school at the age of 18, continuing until 1873, when he entered the Provincial Normal School at Toronto. In 1875, he was appointed Headmaster of the new Central School in Cobourg, and, in 1876, Assistant Master in the Provincial Model School in Toronto. He graduated from Trinity Medical University in 1884 and went to Edinburgh where he received his Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians. Dr. Dorland practiced in Rodney, Ontario from 1885 and for more than 40 years was Medical Officer of Health for Aldborough Township. He was Chairman of the Rodney Board of Education for 10 years. Dr. Dorland died in Rodney on May 29, 1932, aged 83 years 6 months 19 days.

Dorland, Willet Casey Dr.
-1874

Willet Casey Dorland was a native of Prince Edward County. He entered the study of his chosen profession and returned to his home where he soon established himself and built up a successful practice. He was active in politics and was elected in the Reform Interests in 1859 to represent Prince Edward County in the sixth Parliament of Old Canada. He was appointed as County Coroner and served as Justice of the Peace. Dr. Dorland died on January 5, 1874, aged 68 years 5 months 4 days.

Dougall, William Dr.
-1834

William Dougall was born in Ireland and came to Canada, having been appointed as Surgeon to a surveying party assigned to the coast around the Bay of Fundy. After three years thus employed, he engaged in the mercantile business in Halifax. At the close of the War of 1776-1783, he established a medical practice in New Hampshire where he remained for a decade before coming to Ernestown for two years, Fredericksburgh for one year, Adolphustown for two years and, in 1799, to Hallowell. He served as Surgeon to the Militia in the War of 1812 and drew several hundred acres of land for his services. Dr. Dougall died on August 28, 1834, aged 89 years 8 months 5 days.

Dougall, William Robinson Dr.
1813-1904

William Robinson Dougall was born on May 18, 1813 at Picton, Ontario son of James Dougall and Jane Robinson, and grandson of the previously chronicled Dr. William Robert Dougall. Little is known of his education or of his professional life but he spent his career as a physician working for the betterment of the health of those in Prince Edward County. Buried in Glenwood Cemetery, there is confusion as to the dates on his marker and the dates used here are those from the 1901 Census and his death certificate. Dr. William Robinson Dougall died on Oct 5, 1904 aged 91 years 6 months 17 days.

Douglas, Henry Edwin Dr.
1868-1924

Henry Edwin Douglas was born at Napanee, Ontario on Feb 14, 1868 son of Henry and Elizabeth Douglas. He was a graduate of Queen's medical school in 1892 and immigrated to the United States that year. Dr. Douglas practiced his profession at Chicago, Illinois and Monona, Iowa and then during W.W. 1 joined the military service. He served for 23 months, was stationed at nine Camps and went overseas, remaining in France but 5 days when he was detailed to a transport carrying wounded Americans home; he attained the rank of Captain. He spent 10 years in Minnesota, first at Hutchinson, then Blackduck. Dr. Henry Edwin Douglas died at Blackduck, Mn. on June 14, 1924 aged 56 years 4 months.

Douglas, William John Dr.
-1906

William John Douglas was born in Norham, Ontario and received his education in the schools at that place and in Trinity College, from which institution he graduated as a doctor in 1876, taking the gold medal of that year. He practiced in Castleton about twelve years, after which he spent one year at Edinburgh. For the next 16 years, he practiced in Cobourg. He was a member of the Ontario Medical Council, an Examiner in Medicine of Trinity Medical School and a member of the Provincial Board of Health. He was in partnership in Cobourg with Dr. James Henderson and it was a sad and singular coincidence that death came suddenly to the two partners, while making sick calls, within one year. Dr. Douglas was driving on his way to make a call when he was pitched out of his buggy and died on March 29, 1906, aged 52 years 11 months 15 days.

Doyle, John D. Dr.
-1933

John D. Doyle was born in Belleville and there received his primary and secondary education. Here, he was a member of the old 15th Battalion Argyll Light Infantry and was active in the various sports of the city. He graduated from Queen's University obtaining his Medical Degree in 1899. He established himself in Brooklyn, New York, where he practiced his profession for 34 years. Dr. Doyle died at Brooklyn on November 2, 1933, aged 60.

Doyle, John Ferguson Dr.
1885-1951

John Ferguson Doyle was born on Garden Island, Ontario on August 9, 1885, son of Patrick Doyle and Ellen Ferguson. He was united in marriage to Harriett Anne McLaren on September 10, 1912, and graduated with the Class of 1915 from the Medical School at Queen's University. Dr. Doyle hung his shingle at Tweed, Ontario in 1918, where he followed his life's work for over three decades. He was an active member of the Holy Name Society (the primary object of the society is to beget reverence for the Holy Name of God and Jesus Christ) and the Knights of Columbus. Dr. Doyle lived the retired life in Kingston. Dr. John Ferguson Doyle died on September 20, 1951, aged 66 years, 1 month and 11 days.

Driscoll, Charles Alfred Dr.
1877-1960

Charles Alfred Driscoll was born at Trenton on April 17, 1877, son of Charles Albert Driscoll and Anna O'Connor. He was educated in the schools of his native town and went to Queen's University for his medical studies and graduated there in 1904. He remained a bachelor. His entire medical career was spent in general practice in Trenton and on his retirement in 1955, a gold-headed cane was presented to him by the Hastings and Prince Edward Medical Society in recognition of his 50 years as a Medical Practitioner in the area. He served as the Medical Officer of Health, was on the school board and was a life member of St. Peter's Council of the Knights of Columbus. Dr. C. A. Driscoll died at Trenton on February 23, 1960, aged 82 years, 10 months and 6 days.

Duff, Hew Ramsey Lt. Col.
Dr.
-1916

Hew Ramsey Duff was born at Kingston where he received his primary and secondary education, graduating from Queen's Medical College in 1884. He immediately established himself in practice at Newburgh where he remained until joining the Canadian Army Medical Service. From 1899-1901, he served with the Canadian contingent in the Boer War in South Africa, gaining the Queen's medal with four clasps; he also held the Canadian long service decoration. He was gazetted Lieutenant Colonel on July 27th 1904. He was President of the Army Medical Corps Board of Survey for Ottawa and District, and acted as Medical Officer of the Quebec Tercentenary Celebrations in 1908. At the outbreak of W.W.I, he volunteered for overseas service and in 1915 was appointed Second in Command of No.5 Stationary Hospital in Egypt. Dr. Duff died at Cairo on February 8, 1916, aged 58 years 4 months 18 days.

Duffett, William Ernest
Harold Vernon Dr.
1888-1974

William Ernest Harold Vernon Duffett was born at Ottawa, Ontario on September 25, 1888, son of William Sealey Duffett and Mary Adelaide Watson. He moved with his family to Adolphustown, where he received his early education, graduated from Napanee High School and received his Degree in Medicine from Queen's University in 1917.

He joined the Canadian Army Medical Corps with the rank of Captain and after World War I, he returned to Adolphustown. He was united in marriage on December 11, 1923 to Marguerite Couch; he practised there until 1928 when he removed to Napanee. He served as Medical Officer of Health in Adolphustown, Napanee, Bath and Deseronto and initiated the immunization program in the elementary schools in 1940. He was in active work until his retirement in 1972. Dr. William Ernest Harold Vernon Duffett died on August 20, 1974, aged 85 years, 10 months and 25 days.

Dumble, Thomas Henry
Davey Dr.
-1893

Thomas Henry Davey Dumble was a graduate of Queen's University in 1877. He came to Belleville in January of 1878 and formed a partnership with the then ailing Dr. Dorland. Their arrangement was for the latter to attend to chronic diseases while Dr. Dumble covered the general practice and night calls. He stayed for some years, marrying in Belleville in 1880, before moving to Gananoque. Dr. Dumble died of heart failure at Gananoque on March 10, 1893, aged 39.

Dumble, William Charles
Dr.
-1928

William Charles Dumble was a native of Cobourg and a graduate of Queen's University in 1870, the gold medallist in his class. He began by practicing in New York, moved to Owen Sound, and in 1886, to Toronto. His house here was constructed as a home office with half the ground floor given over to his medical practice. With the introduction of the streetcar and telephone, patients could be more efficiently cared for in the office setting as opposed to home visits. He was deeply interested in the mission work of the Methodist Church and gave freely of his services to the poor and needy. Dr. Dumble died in Toronto on November 20, 1928, aged 80 years 2 months 21 days.

Dunham, Darius Dr.
-1825

Darius Dunham was born in the United States and educated as a physician but laid this aside in 1788 and became a Methodist preacher. In 1792 he was sent to the Bay of Quinte and there found a little hamlet of a few shanties and perhaps a dozen persons, at the mouth of Meyer's Creek. Services were held from time to time in the homes of the settlers. (The first church in Belleville was erected in 1818). In 1800 he ceased to labour as a preacher and settled in Fredericksburgh where he resumed the practice of medicine, preaching only on Sundays. Dr. Dunham died near Napanee in 1825 aged 63.

Dunham, George Dr.
-1876

George Dunham was a native of Newboro, Ontario and presented his credentials to the Medical Board of Upper Canada on July 3, 1833. He immediately established himself in Belleville where he followed the practice of his profession for some years before removing to Brockville. Dr. Dunham died at Brockville on May 22, 1876, aged 64.

Dunning, Jesse Dr.
1862-1926

Jesse Dunning was born at Napanee, Ontario on Oct 14, 1862 son of George Dunning and Elizabeth Leitch. The father of our subject was an entrepreneur and introduced Wellington Boulter to the canning industry. They opened their first factory in 1882 and when Dunning ran into financial trouble in 1885, Boulter bought him out for $30 at auction. Jesse studied medicine at Queen's University, graduated in 1897 and immigrated to the United States that year. He followed the practice of his profession at Chicago and later at Crystal, Michigan. Dr. Jessie Dunning returned home and for about 2 years was invalided under the care of his sister at Wellington, death occurring on Dec 4, 1926 aged 64 years 1 month 20 days.

Dupuis, Dennis Rupert Dr.
1869-1933

Dennis Rupert Dupuis was born at Odessa, Ontario in July 1869 son of Dr. Thomas Robinson Dupuis and Elizabeth Lake. Dupuis became infamous and rich promoting Radol, a cancer cure, using the alias Dr. Rupert Wells. He advertised as being a Professor of Therapeutics at the Post Graduate College of Electro Therapeutics in St. Louis, Missouri. Radol was a mixture of quinine sulphate and alcohol, a combination that produced a bluish fluorescent glow which Wells claimed was due to (non-existent) radium. He claimed to cure cancer at home without pain, plaster or operation and the amount of business done in 1908 alone was about $70,000. Wells and his radium impregnated, radiotized fluid fraud was eventually put out of business by the Post Office when it denied him the use of the U.S. Mail. He was united in marriage with Agnes Crawford on Oct 4, 1919. Dr. Dennis Rupert Dupuis died at Los Angeles, California on July 21, 1933 aged 64 years.

Dupuis, Thomas Robinson
Dr.
-1893

Thomas Robinson Dupuis was born in Ernestown Township and received his medical education at Queen's College, graduating in 1860. He practiced for a short time at Harrowsmith and Odessa but, in 1872, removed to Kingston. In 1881, he went to England and became a member of the Royal College of Surgeons. He was well known in medical societies; was Vice-President of the Ontario Medical Association in 1882 and Vice-President of the Canadian Medical Association in 1886. He was a Professor of Anatomy and Clinical Surgery at Kingston. Dr. Dupuis died at Kingston on June 25, 1893, aged 60 years 1 month.

Dure, Franklin Mortimer
Dr.
1881-1954

Franklin Mortimer Dure was born at Uxbridge, Ontario on August 7, 1881, son of John Dure and Mary Jane Collins. Educated locally, he entered into the Study of Medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated in 1914; he was united in marriage to Elizabeth MacDonald on June 17, 1919. Dr. Dure established himself at Brighton, Ontario, where he carried on a successful practice, was Physician to the Canadian National Railway and a Coroner for thirty-seven years. He served as the first Chairman of the Northumberland and Durham Medical Association. During World War II, he was a Major in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps stationed at Ottawa and Kingston. In the week of his death, as Coroner, he was actively investigating the deaths of three residents of the town of Brighton. Dr. Franklin Mortimer Dure died on April 7, 1954, aged 72 years and 8 months.

Eagleson, Samuel Dr.
-1953

Samuel Eagleson graduated from Trinity Medical College as a gold and silver medallist in 1899. He opened his practice in Madoc in 1900 and, with the exception of a year's post-graduate work in Edinburgh and London, practiced there for half a century. He delivered 5, 156 babies and never lost a mother in childbirth. His career took him to farmhouses, villages and lonely bush camps spread over 2,500 square miles of Eastern Ontario. Dr. Eagleson died on August 3, 1953, aged 82 years 6 months 2 days.

Eakins, George Edwin Dr.
1881-1967

George Edwin Eakins was born in Belleville on July 15, 1881, son of Dr. James Edwin Eakins and Annetta Jane Warner. He attended the local schools including Albert College and was an honour graduate of the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Toronto in 1904. He married Janet Roberta MacFarlane on July 27, 1910. Dr. Eakins practiced in Sault Ste. Marie and Cobalt, before establishing a permanent practice in Port Arthur. He served as president of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario and of the Thunder Bay Medical Association, and was an Honorary Member of the Red Cross Society of Ontario. He served on City Council, the Board of Education, the Parks Board and the Board of Health. He was a former President of the Thunder Bay Historical Society. Dr. G. E. Eakins died at Port Arthur on March 11, 1967, aged 85 years, 7 months and 26 days.

Eakins, James Edwin Dr.
-1901

James Eakins was born in Newburgh and received his education at the Newburgh Academy where he passed with honours. He studied medicine, graduating from Toronto University in 1875 and then at Edinburgh, Scotland. He returned to Ontario and practiced successfully at Angus before coming to Belleville in 1878. In 1879 he was Assistant Surgeon to the 15th Battalion Argyle Light Infantry. He was Physician to the Deaf and Dumb Institute succeeding Dr. Murphy in that capacity. Ill health compelled him to relinquish this appointment and he was succeeded by Dr. P. D. Goldsmith. Dr. Eakins died of pernicious anaemia on February 14, 1901, aged 51 years 7 months 12 days.

Earle, William Marcus Dr.
1857-1928

William Marcus Earle was born on Jan 16, 1857 at Winchester, Ontario son of Rufus Earle and Catherine Redmond. He entered into the study of his life's work and Queen's University and graduated in medicine with the class of 1890. Dr. Earle soon established himself at Norwood and was united in marriage to Annie Elliott on June 6, 1894. He later removed to Avonmore where he had an extensive practice and conducted a drug store; his passing marked the loss of one of the foremost business and professional men of Avonmore. Dr. William Marcus Earle died at Avonmore on July 19, 1928 aged 71 years 6 months 3 days.

Edwards, George Washington Dr.
1825-1913

George Washington Edwards was born in Leeds County on January 27, 1825, son of Anthony Edwards and Margaret Barnes. He was a Certificat of the Eclectic Medical Board (Physic and Midwifery) in 1867 and was licensed to practise in Ontario on May 19, 1869. Dr. Edwards was in active practice at Addison, Leeds County for about a dozen years and also served as President of the Agricultural Society. He removed to Napanee where he remained for the duration. Dr. George Washington Edwards died at Napanee on August 8, 1913, aged 88 years, 6 months and 11 days.

Ellicott, Ernest Rae Dr.
1905-1979

Ernest Rae Ellicott was born at Hamilton, Ontario on May 8, 1905 son of George Ellicott and Arabelle Rae. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at Queen's University in 1931 and worked for a short time at London, Ontario, removing to Napanee in 1934 where he remained in active practice for 45 years. He served as medical officer for the Quinte Detention Centre and was county coronor. Survived by his wife, the former Esther Prack, Dr. Ernest Rae Ellicott died in Napanee on November 24, 1979 aged 74 years 6 months 16 days.

Elliott, Arthur Richard Dr.
1869-1960

Arthur Richard Elliott was born at Belleville, Ontario on June 2, 1869, son of Robert Elliott and Meribeth Ann Lazier. He was educated at the Belleville High School and Queen's University where he graduated in medicine in 1889. He soon established himself at Chicago, Illinois where he was Attending Physician at St. Luke's Hospital, and Professor of Medicine in the University of Illinois. He was Professor of Medicine at the Post-Graduate Medical School of Chicago and member of the Draft Exemption Board. On November 21, 1901 he married Hannah McNeish of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Dr. Arthur Richard Elliott died at Chicago on February 6, 1960, aged 90 years, 8 months and 4 days.

Elliott, Charles Schomberg
Dr.
1840-1919

Charles Schomberg Elliott was born at St. Mary's, Nova Scotia on April 7, 1840. He studied medicine first at Halifax and later at Harvard University where he graduated in 1860. He was the father of the previously chronicled Dr. H. C. S. Elliott of Cobourg. Dr. Elliott practiced for many years in the northern parts of Ontario, spent some time at Belleville before and after the turn of the century, and settled at Toronto where he made a specialty of nervous and mental disorders. He was described as a medical practitioner of the old school, a man of kindly disposition and sterling integrity. Dr. Charles Schomberg Elliott died at Toronto on October 24, 1919, aged 79 years, 6 months and 17 days.

Elliott, Henry Charles S.
O.B.E. Dr.
-1935

Henry Charles S. Elliott was born at Orillia and graduated from the University of Toronto in 1888 and obtained the degree of Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh in 1893. He commenced practice in Orillia, but after a short time went to Cobourg where, for many years, he was Medical Officer of the Cobourg Heavy Battery. He was one of the First Contingent, Canadian Expeditionary Force; was one of eight Canadians who received the Mons Star of 1914, and held the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. While in France, he was attached to No.2 Stationary Hospital and, in 1918, he took over command of the hospital at Hastings, England. After his return to Canada in 1919, he did not practice medicine. Dr. Elliott died in Toronto on July 1, 1935, aged 68 years 8 months 28 days.

Elliott, William Scotte Dr.
1907-1971

William Scotte Elliott was born at Tweed, Ontario on May 26, 1907 son of Samuel Elliott and Sarah Sherry. He received his medical education from Queen's University with the class of 1930; Dr. Elliott served 3 years at New York Polyclinic Hospital. He soon established himself at Byesville, Ohio and in 1939 removed to East Palestine, Ohio. During World War 11 he served with the United States Air Force Medical Corps and was a member of the American Legion. He was united in marriage to Jane Hall on May 25, 1949. Dr. Elliott served as a director of the First National Bank in East Palestine, was medical advisor for the board of health and an active Rotarian. Dr. William Scotte Elliott died at East Palestine on November 6, 1971 aged 64 years 5 months 10 days.

Elmer, William Wallace
Dr.
1828-1926

William Wallace Elmer was born at Madoc in December 1828, son of Asha Elmer and Sarah Ball. At the age of eighteen he began the study of medicine in the office of Dr. Dorland at Belleville, remaining with him for two years. He then entered Queen's College and graduated in 1858, and at once began the practice of his profession at Madoc, followed by a short time spent at Ameliasburgh. About 1874, he removed to Chicago, then Bay City Michigan, where he worked for fifteen years before moving to Spokane, Washington in 1889. Here, Dr. Elmer identified himself with the interests of the place and soon grew into a large practice with surgical cases and diseases of women and children as his specialty. He was twice married, first to Elizabeth Perrault in 1857 and Kate Fuller in 1880. He was invested in a large tract of land on the Columbia River in Walla Walla County which he improved with developing a fruit farm. He was in active practice for over sixty years when failing faculties obliged him to retire. He was described as an able physician, a fine citizen, a steadfast friend and a staunch supporter of law and order. Dr. William Wallace Elmer died at Medical Lake, Spokane County, Washington on December 7, 1926, aged 98.

Embury, Albert Edward
Dr.
1843-1913

Albert Edward Embury was born in Dec. 1843 at Thomasburg, Ontario son of John Embury and Martha Osborne. The graduate of an unknown Medical School, Dr. Embury was united in marriage to Catherine Williams, daughter of Dr. Daniel Williams, on Nov 27, 1870. He was a resident of Hillier, Prince Edward County until about 1888 when he immigrated to New York State. Dr. Embury practiced his profession at Rochester where he remained for the duration. In 1898 he was assaulted and knifed and in 1902 was not expected to live after falling down a flight of stairs. His passing was the result of a stroke of apoplexy and he died in the ambulance on the way to the Hospital. Dr. Albert Edward Embury died at Rochester on Mar 21, 1913 aged 69 years 3 months.

Embury, Alexander
Thomas Dr.
-1956

Alexander Embury was born at Selby. After graduating from Queen's University in 1896, he opened a practice in Bancroft. He was active in municipal affairs and served on Village Council, was elected Reeve and was County Warden. During W.W.I he joined the Royal Canadian Medical Corps and served with distinction overseas. He was, for 10 years, a Federal Member of Parliament for the Hastings-Peterborough area having been elected in 1925. Dr. Embury died on July 19, 1956, aged 82 years 6 months 7 days.

Embury, Elizabeth Dr.
-1945

Elizabeth Embury was a native of Napanee who started her career as a school teacher in Lennox & Addington County. As a student of medicine she excelled; in her third year she secured the Trout Scholarship and in the fourth year was appointed Demonstrator of Anatomy. She graduated from Queen's University in 1888 and took honours in obstetrics, surgery and medicine. When she established herself in Belleville in 1888, she was the only female doctor in this section of Ontario; her office was in the Harrison building just south of the old Intelligencer office. She remained in Belleville specializing in diseases of women and children until 1906, when she removed to Ottawa and followed her profession for another 37 years. In 1924, Dr. Embury was one of a group of women physicians who, while attending the Canadian Medical Association annual meeting, met to found the Federation of Medical Women of Canada. The Federation of Medical Women of Canada acted as a guardian for women physicians and medical students, giving loans and networking opportunities, mentoring, and acting as a powerful voice in dealing with issues that concern women physicians and women's health in society. Dr. Embury retired to Kingston; she had been a prominent Canadian physician for 55 years when she died on February 4, 1945, aged 78 years 6 months 9 days.

Empey, Howard Stanley Dr.
1884-1971

Howard Stanley Empey was born at Consecon, Prince Edward County, on September 10, 1884, son of Jacob Empey and Matilda Ann Orser. He was educated at the Trenton High School and the Picton Model School and entered into the Study of Pharmacology at the Ontario College of Pharmacy at Toronto. He graduated as a Druggist in 1908; and was united in marriage to Winnifred Phillips Walt. He went west where he was working as a Pharmacist at Edmonton, Alberta, but was soon to enter into the Study of Medicine at McGill University where he graduated with his Medical Degree in 1919. Dr. Empey settled in Vancouver, British Columbia. Dr. Howard Stanley Empey died on August 17, 1971, aged 86 years, 11 months and 7 days.

Empey, Reginald Lloyd Dr.
1904-1991

Reginald Lloyd Empey was born at Napanee, Ontario on March 12, 1904 son of Mitchell Empey and Louise Lloyd. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at Queen's University in 1932 and interned at St. Joseph's Hospital in Toronto and the Hamilton General Hospital. He soon established himself in family practice at Cochrane, Ontario where he remained for 13 years and then practised with the Hamilton Health Association where he worked for 23 years. Dr. Empey was united in marriage to Helen Tilley on September 4, 1936. He retired in 1972 and removed to Port Moody, B.C. in 1978. Dr. Reginald Lloyd Empey died on January 24, 1991 aged 86 years 10 months 12 days.

English, Timothy Farr Dr.
-1868

Timothy Farr English was a graduate of the medical school at McGill College in 1858. He soon established himself in the practice of his profession in Stirling, locating on the north side of Mill Street. Dr. English practiced until his death on October 7, 1868, aged 32 years 20 days.

Esmond, John Jackson Dr.
1852-1915

John Jackson Esmond was born at Belleville on June 29, 1852, son of James Esmond and Mary Smith. He graduated from the medical department of Toronto University in 1877, and went to Tracy, Platte County, Missouri in 1880; he was united in marriage to Annie Buckley at Platte City on May 16, 1883. Dr. Esmond opened a drug store at Tracy and served as postmaster there from 1881 to 1890. In 1896, he removed to Kansas City where he remained for the duration. Dr. John Jackson Esmond died at Kansas City of pneumonia on December 8, 1915, aged 63 years, 5 months and 9 days.

Evans, Henry Alford Dr.
1856-1888

Henry Alford Evans was born at Kingston in 1856, son of Dr. Henry Bentall Evans, chronicled previously. He removed with his family to Picton where he received his primary education and was a graduate of Queen's University in 1878; he was licensed to practice medicine in Ontario on May 21, 1878. He was married to Emma Laretta Carter of Picton on June 7, 1882. Dr. Henry Alford Evans was cut short of his life expectancy and died on January 22, 1888, aged 31.

Evans, Henry Bentall Dr.
-1898

Henry Bentall Evans was born in Brighton, England and received his Royal College of Surgeons Degree in 1842. He was in the service of the East India Company for many years. He came to Canada in 1857, and after practicing for a few years in Kingston, he removed to Picton where he followed his profession for the duration. He was active in politics and a staunch Conservative. He was the originator of the Red Rose League, a society founded to memorialize the Honourable Sir John A. MacDonald, who died on June 6, 1891. Dr. Evans wrote to Sir John's widow on October 8, 1891 to enquire as to his favourite flower and on learning that he favoured the rose, and often wore one, Dr. Evans proposed that all Canadians who cherished his memory should wear "A Rose on A Maple Leaf" each anniversary of the Prime Minister's death. This tradition has recently been revived at memorial services for Sir John. Dr. Evans died in Picton on September 8, 1898, aged 79.

Fairbanks, Charles
Stratton Burnham Dr.
-1914

Charles Stratton Burnham Fairbanks was a native of Cobourg, was educated at Trinity College School of Port Hope and his medical training was taken at Trinity Medical College, Toronto. However, he did not practice medicine. He awoke on his last day without complaining of ill health, laid down and breathed his last. Dr. Fairbanks died at home, of heart failure on January 19, 1914, aged 53 years 1 month 9 days.

Fairfield, James Dr.
-1840

James Fairfield was born in Bath and after the completion of his medical studies he settled in Sodom, now Demorestville. He became a Licentiate of the Medical Board of Upper Canada when he passed his examination on April 3, 1827. He was appointed surgeon to the 3rd Regiment of the Prince Edward Militia. Dr. Fairfield died in Hallowell after many years of painful illness on March 4, 1840, aged 33.

Fanning, Frederick Walter
Dr.
1841-1906

Frederick Walter Fanning was born at Belleville, Ontario on Oct 6, 1841 son of George Fanning and Sarah Ostrum. He was united in marriage at Belleville with Caroline Meyers on July 31, 1862 and was a graduate of the University of Michigan medical school in 1867. Dr. Fanning established himself at Butler, Indiana where he became one of the most prominent physicians in the county. He served as surgeon of the Lake Shore and Wabash Railway, was a member of the Auburn Board of pension examiners and was grand patron of the Order of the Eastern Star in 1890. Dr. Frederick Walter Fanning died at Butler on Oct 26, 1906 aged 65 years 20 days.

Farley, Frank Jones Dr.
-1930

Frank Jones Farley was born in Murray Township. He went to school at Brighton, took his degree in medicine at Queen's University in 1894, and went abroad to study in London and Edinburgh. He settled in Trenton in 1895, where he built up a large practice in both medicine and surgery. He filled many of the administrative offices with the Ontario Medical Association, becoming President in 1921. Dr. Farley served his community for 35 years before he succumbed to a heart attack on March 26, 1930, aged 58 years 9 months 18 days.

Farley, John Jay Dr.
-1930

John Farley was a native of Thurlow Township, Hastings County and a medical practitioner in Belleville for many years. He was educated in the public and secondary schools of Belleville, afterwards graduating from Albert College; he had a notable medical career having been made a member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons soon after his graduation from McGill University in 1873. For the next 18 months, he attended St. Thomas' Hospital, London, and in 1874, received his diploma as a member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, England. Returning to Canada and his native town, he established an extensive and long-term practice. For some 20 years, he was County Jail Physician and served as Coroner for the County of Hastings. For many years, he served as President of the Medical Society for Hastings and Prince Edward Counties. He was connected with the Canadian militia and was gazetted Assistant Surgeon in 1875, rising from the ranks, to command as Surgeon Major to the 49th Battalion Hastings Rifles from 1885-1905. Dr. Farley died on June 28, 1930, aged 78 years 8 months 26 days.

Farley, John William Dr.
1900-1987

John William Farley was born at Trenton, Ontario on September 2, 1900 son of Dr. Frank Farley and Ethel Porte. He was educated in the Trenton schools and was a graduate in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1923; he was united in marriage to Irene McCulloch on September 2, 1926. Dr. Farley was a medical practitioner in Trenton for over 55 years. He was a member of the Canadian Medical Association and a 60 year member of the Masonic Trent Lodge. Dr. John William Farley died at Trenton on March 21, 1987 aged 86 years 6 months and 19 days.

Farncomb, Thomas Stone
Dr.
-1947

Thomas Stone Farncomb was born at Newcastle, Ontario. He graduated at the age of 21 from Trinity Medical School in 1891, and opened his first practice in Rednersville, often riding his bicycle to make sick calls. He later went to Trenton, where he practiced until 1947, when he suffered a fractured hip. He was a life member of the Ontario Medical Association, as well as an honorary member of the Hastings and Prince Edward County Medical Societies, and a non-resident member of the Academy of Medicine in Toronto. In 1944, in recognition of the fact that for over 50 years he had been a physician in this district, Dr. Farncomb was honoured by the Hastings and Prince Edward Medical Society at the Belleville General Hospital with the presentation of a gold-headed cane. Dr. Farncomb was Trenton's oldest physician when he died on May 17, 1947, aged 77 years 11 months 22 days.

Farnsworth, John Franklin
Dr.
1902-1963

John Franklin Farnsworth was born at the Parsonage at Napanee, Ontario on March 13, 1902 son of Reverend Enos Farnsworth and Mabel Leavens. He took his preliminary education at Newburgh, graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1926 and took post graduate work at the John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland; he was united in marriage to Josephine Haines on August 2, 1933. Dr. Farnsworth practised medicine in Belleville for five years and at the Ontario Hospital in Whitby for three years. About 1937 he returned to practice in Belleville and later became an honorary member of the medical staff at the Belleville General Hospital. Dr. John Franklin Farnsworth died at Belleville on April 6, 1963 aged 61 years and 23 days.

Farrell, Andrew Richard
Dr.
1870-1930

Andrew Richard Farrell was born at Madoc on April 19, 1870, son of Richard Farrell and Ann Jane Holmes. He was educated there and at Albert College, graduating from Trinity College Medical School in 1900. Dr. Farrell married Catherine Mathieson on April 16, 1902. He started a medical practice in the United States but, when the South African War broke out, he returned to Canada to enlist as a trooper in the 3rd Canadian Mounted Rifles. On his return to Canada, he started a practice in Arthur, Ontario and later in Tweed. Again throwing up his practice when the World War broke out, he joined the 7th Artillery Brigade and received a Captain's commission. In England, he contracted rheumatism, was invalided back to Canada in 1916, and assumed medical army duties at Bracebridge, Toronto and Quebec until the end of the war. Dr. A. R. Farrell died at Toronto on March 25, 1930, aged 59 years, 11 months and 6 days.

Faulkner, Daniel Wilkinson Dr.

Daniel Wilkinson Faulkner was born in the 7th Concession of the Township of Sidney. In early life, he followed the profession of a school teacher and later graduated in medicine from McGill College in 1878. He immediately established himself in Foxboro where he had an extensive practice. He was active in municipal affairs and was a member of Hastings County Council, being Deputy Reeve and Reeve of Thurlow Township. Dr. Faulkner died from the effects of influenza on March 4, 1920, aged 67 years 6 months 17 days.

-1920

Faulkner, George Vermilyea Dr.

George Vermilyea Faulner was born at Foxboro, Ontario on June 15, 1908 son of Dr. Albert Faulkner and Helen Vermilyea. He received his early education in Belleville and graduated in medicine from McGill University in 1934. At the outbreak of World War 11, Dr. Faulkner enlisted in the British Army as a Private, subsequently was transferred to the Indian Army Medical Corps as Captain and was later awarded the Military Cross for his part as a member of a 1943 guerrilla force, Wingate's Raiders, which penetrated a thousand miles behind Japanese lines into occupied Burma. After a glider crash, on a flight to reinforce a raiding party, he walked 50 miles to reach Allied lines in India. He was united in marriage to Philippa Burrows on August 1, 1946 and lived at 'Glanmore House'. Dr. Faulkner spent the next 10 years in practice in Belleville and served as president of the medical staff at the Belleville General Hospital. Dr. George Vermilyea Faulkner died in Montreal on March 23, 1955 aged 46 years 9 months 8 days.

Faulkner, George
Washington Dr.
– 1924

George Washington Faulkner was born in a log house in the 7th Concession of Rawdon Township. He started his career as a teacher, first in Huntingdon Township, and later, in the Turner Settlement and at Foxboro. He graduated from McGill University in 1871 and first began medical practice in Iowa; after a few years he removed to Stirling, which continued to be his home until 1919, when he retired and moved to Belleville. In his early years, he practiced at Stirling in partnership with Dr. Youker. He was active in community affairs and was on the Village Council, was elected Reeve and then County Warden in 1886. He served on Public and High School Boards and became Chairman of the latter. He was a promoter of the establishment of a new high school in Stirling, which was accomplished in 1887. He was active in business and established a drug store, a dry goods store, a feed grain store and later, a private bank. Dr. Faulkner died in Belleville on March 8, 1924, aged 78 years 5 months 7 days.

Faulkner, James Albert
Dr.
1877-1944

James Albert Faulkner was born at Stirling on October 7, 1877, son of Dr. George Faulkner and Sarah Young. He received his early education in his native town, graduated in Arts from McMaster University in 1900, and in Medicine from McGill University in 1904; he interned at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. Dr. Faulkner married Helen Vermilyea on September 25, 1907. He engaged in practice in Foxboro from 1905 to 1918, when he moved to Belleville and served as Medical Officer of Health for Thurlow Township for 27 years. He was elected as M.P.P. (Member of Provincial Parliament) (June 19, 1934-August 25, 1937) and served as Minister of Health for Ontario and was active in the fight against cancer, mental disabilities and streptococcal infections. He held the office of Chairman of the Old Age Pension and Mothers' Allowance Board. Dr. J. A. Faulkner died at Toronto on April 27, 1944, aged 66 years, 6 months and 20 days.

Fee, Donald Lewis Dr.
1871-1943

Donald Lewis Fee was born at Camden East, Ontario on March 16, 1871, son of Robert Fee and Margaret Gill. He was educated in the local classrooms and graduated from the Medical School at Queen's University in 1910. He hung his shingle at Perth for a short time; married Eva Dora Dormer on June 26, 1912 and removed to Sharbot Lake, Ontario. In 1915, he entered the service of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, went overseas and was invalided home from England in 1917 as Captain. After a short time in Edmonton, Dr. Fee went to Alliston, Ontario where he was involved in civic affairs and followed the practice of his profession. Ill health, an asthmatic condition, forced him into retirement about 1938. Dr. Donald Lewis Fee died on January 2, 1943 aged 71 years, 9 months and 16 days.

Feeney, Michael William Cornelius Dr.
1901-1955

Michael William Cornelius Feeney was born at Madoc, Ontario on January 9, 1901 son of John Feeney and Elizabeth Gillen. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1931 as the gold medalist; he was united in marriage to Mary Auger on February 23, 1928. Dr. Feeney established himself at Elgin, Ontario until 1940 when he joined the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and served with the rank of Captain in Canada, England, North Africa and Italy; in World War 1 he served overseas as a Private. After his return to Canada in 1944 he served on the staff of the Westminster Hospital in London, Ontario. Dr. Michael William Cornelius Feeney died on February 13, 1955 aged 54 years 1 month 4 days.

Ferris, George Matthew
Dr.
1870-1939

George Matthew Ferris was born at Campbellford on November 28, 1870, son of James Ferris and Catharine Fralick. He attended the local classrooms and entered into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto from which institution he graduated in 1894. Dr. Ferris was twice married, first to Elizabeth McCallum on September 22, 1897, and after her death to Wreta Laura Blaby on September 8, 1926. Dr. Ferris followed the practice of his profession at Cobourg, Ontario where he was also appointed as Coroner for the County. Dr. George Matthew Ferris died at Cobourg on July 23, 1939, aged 68 years, 7 months and 25 days.

Fidlar, Edward Dr.
1883-1976

Edward Fidlar was born at Trenton, Ontario on Dec 23, 1883 son of Robert Fidlar and Annie Gilbert. He was a graduate from the University of Toronto with a B.A. in 1905 and his medical degree in 1907. Dr Fidlar worked at the University of Minnesota as Professor in pathology and bacteriology, spent a year with the Toronto Board of Health and then held a Professorship at his Alma Mater. He held similar positions in Hamilton before removing to London, Ontario where he was Professor of pathology and bacteriologist for the London Board of Health. When war broke out, Dr Fidlar served in the Royal Army Medical Corps and the Canadian Army Medical Corps military hospitals in England, France and India. He was united in marriage to Gladys East and after the war he took a position at the University of Toronto where he stayed until his retirement in 1953. Dr Edward Fidlar died on Nov 11, 1976 aged 92 years 10 months 18 days.

Field, Corelli Collard Dr.
1868-1922

Corelli Collard Field was born at Cobourg in August 1868 and was the name sake of his father and his mother was Mary Hopsack. He was educated at Trinity College, Toronto and graduated in 1894 and served as one of the house physicians at the Hospital for Sick Children. After pursuing studies in Edinburgh, Glasgow, London and Baltimore, he settled in Winnipeg, Manitoba, where he practiced and was a Professor of Paediatrics at the Manitoba Medical College. He was head of the children's department of the Winnipeg General Hospital. Dr. Corelli Collard Field died on January 29, 1922, aged 53 years and 5 months.

Field, George Henry Dr.
-1962

George Henry Field took his medical training at Trinity College in Toronto, graduating in 1894. He went overseas and took post-graduate courses in Edinburgh and, on completion, became a ship's Surgeon for three years. In 1897, he returned to Cobourg where he was in practice for 35 years before removing to Roseneath where he followed the practice of his profession for the next 30 years. Dr. Field died at Toronto on October 16, 1962, aged 91 years 6 months 6 days.

Fife, Amos Edward Dr.
1822-1885

Amos Edward Fife was born in Boston, Massachusetts on April 5, 1822, son of Amos Fife and Nancy Ward. He was educated locally and became a Licentiate of the Ontario Medical Board. Dr. Fife settled at Brighton, Ontario in February 1853 and was united in marriage to Sarah Burke on July 23, 1857. Initially he held his office at the Bettes' Temperance Hotel and in 1874 built his home at 200 Main Street, an Italianate style, 7,000 square foot house which still stands. Dr. Fife died on August 17, 1885 aged 63 years 4 months 12 days.

Fife, Joseph Alexander Dr.
-1902

Joseph Alexander Fife was a native of Peterborough County; he received his early education at the Peterborough Grammar School, studied medicine at the old Toronto School and was graduated from Victoria University in 1865. He subsequently took post-graduate courses at Bellevue Hospital, New York. During the American Civil War, he served for two years as Naval Surgeon with the Northern Forces and was present at the bombardment of Charleston, South Carolina. After returning to Canada, he practiced at Brampton, Hastings, where he served as Coroner, and finally in Peterborough. Dr. Fife died at Peterborough and was buried at the Fife Cemetery, 5th Concession, Otonabee Township; death coming on February 12, 1902, aged 64 years 16 days.

File, Albert John Dr.
-1931

Albert File was born at Napanee and was educated at the public and high schools in Napanee and Newburgh. He attended Queen's University where, in 1867, at the height of the Fenian uprising, he entered the Military School and qualified for an officer. He graduated in 1869 receiving his Medical Doctor and Licentiate of the Royal College of Surgeons. He began practice that same year in Ameliasburgh, succeeding Dr. Thwaites. He was Health Officer for the Township of Ameliasburgh for over forty years and Justice of the Peace for about the same time. Dr. File was one of the oldest practicing physicians in Canada and was the last of the 15 graduates in his class when he died on January 2, 1931, aged 88 years 7 months 13 days.

Filson, Ralph Marshall Dr.
1891-1986

Ralph Marshall Filson was born at Amherst Island, Ontario on November 20, 1891, son of Robert Filson and Mary Jane Allen; the father of our subject was the light-house keeper on the Island. He was graduated from Queen's Medical School in 1915 and, during World War I, served in the Canadian Army Medical Corps in England, France, Belgium and Germany and rose to the rank of Captain. After the War, he worked in the Department of Pathology and Bacteriology at Queen's and was united in marriage, on his birthday in 1916, to Mildred Alice MacGregor. In 1926, he became an Assistant Medical Director at the Travelers Insurance Company in Hartford, Connecticut. From 1937 to 1941, he directed the company's medical division of life, accident and group claim departments for the New York metropolitan area and he eventually became the Chief Medical Director of the company. Dr. Ralph Marshall Filson died on March 23, 1986, aged 94 years, 4 months and 3 days.

Fitzpatrick, Charles
Patrick Dr.
1895-1951

Charles Patrick Fitzpatrick was born at Napanee, Ontario on August 14, 1895 son of James Fitzpatrick and Mary Ellen McGraw. He was a student of medicine at the University of Toronto when he enlisted as a sub lieutenant in the Royal Navy and served for seven months in the North Sea with the Grand Fleet. He was wounded, returned home and graduated with the class of 1920. Dr. Fitzpatrick was a member of the American Medical Association and the American Psychiatric Association, a certified specialist in Psychiatry and Neurology. He served as the medical Superintendent of the Alberta Provincial Mental Institute, lecturer at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island and Simmons College, Boston, Massachusetts, clinical director at the Butler Hospital, Providence and Superintendent of the Rhode Island State Hospital for Mental Diseases. Dr. Charles Patrick Fitzpatrick died at Lynwood, California on September 1, 1951 aged 56 years and 17 days.

Flynn, Austin Richard Dr.
1897-1942

Austin Richard Flynn was born at Langdon, North Dakota on July 13, 1897 son of Thomas Flynn and Ellen Mahoney. He attended school in North Dakota and later went to Regiopolis College in Kingston. He studied medicine at Queen's University from which Institution he received his degree in 1923; Dr. Flynn was united in marriage to Ruby Craig on February 22, 1927. He soon established himself at Calabogie, Ontario where he practised before removing to Belleville about 1931. He served as president of both the Kiwanis Club and the Medical Association of Belleville and took a deep interest in the affairs of the Hospital. Dr. Austin Richard Flynn died at Belleville on October 8, 1942 aged 45 years 2 months and 25 days.

Ford, Samuel Payne Dr.
-1923

Samuel Payne Ford was a graduate of Buffalo in 1864 and the University of Toronto Medical School in 1869. In his earlier life he was Assistant Surgeon to the Federal Army during the American Civil War. He settled in Norwood, Ontario after graduation and practiced there for 49 years. He took an active interest in educational matters and had been Medical Health Officer of Norwood for several years. Dr. Ford died at Norwood on July 21, 1923, aged 83 years 3 months 4 days.

Ford, William Sutherland
Dr.
1875-1951

William Sutherland Ford was born in Belleville on September 28, 1875, son of Frederick Ford and Alberta Sutherland. He received his preparatory education at Trenton High School and put in his primary years in medicine at McGill University. He transferred to Toronto where he was well known as an athlete being a member of the Varsity Track team. As a sprinter, hurdler and weight putter he had few superiors in the province. He graduated as a Medical Doctor in 1904. Dr. Ford established himself in Snohomish, Washington, in 1905, where he remained for the duration; he married Eunice Leona Blackman on January 14, 1909. He followed the practice of his profession at Snohomish and was active in the Fraternal Order of Eagles. Dr. W. S. Ford died on May 18, 1951, aged 75 years, 7 months and 20 days.

Forin, Alexander Dr.
-1937

Alexander Forin was born in Belleville where a street name commemorates the family. He was a graduate of Queen's University Medical School in 1884. He spent some time in Nelson, British Columbia before establishing a medical practice in Edmonton, Alberta, in 1902. He was one of the early presidents of the Alberta Medical Association and was actively identified with the life in the city of Edmonton. Dr. Forin died in Edmonton on January 2, 1937, aged 79 years 7 months 8 days.

Forrester, James Harold
Dr.
1905-1982

James Harold Forrester was born at Gormley, Ontario on February 16, 1905 son of George Forrester and Ellen Wells. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1930 and specialised in ophthalmology and otolaryngology; following that he served on staff of the Toronto General Hospital and removed to Belleville in 1935. Dr. Forrester was united in marriage to Jane Parker on May 16, 1936. During World War 11 he served as squadron Leader with the Royal Canadian Air Force, most of that service was based at the Trenton Air Base. Dr. Forrester was on the Belleville Hospital staff for more than 3 decades, served as chief of staff and as a member of the board of governors. He served on city council immediately following the city hall terms of his wife who was Belleville's first woman Mayor. Although retired from active practice, his services were called on by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind for work in outpost regions of the country. Dr. James Harold Forrester died on October 16, 1982 aged 77 years 8 months.

Forster, Gerald Joseph Dr.
1885-1941

Gerald Joseph Forster was born at Doon, Ontario on August 28, 1885, son of Anthony Forster and Elenore Lacourse. He was raised in Kitchener and attended the University of Toronto Medical School where he graduated in 1910; he was united in marriage to Catherine Helena MacDonnell. Dr. Forster established himself in the practice of his profession at Belleville, where he served his community for over two decades. He was a clever and understanding Physician and Surgeon and he enjoyed a large practice until, owing to ill health, he was compelled to confine himself to office practice. Dr. Gerald Joseph Forster died on November 27, 1941, aged 56 years, 2 months and 29 days.

Fowler, Richard Victor Dr.
1864-1925

Richard Victor Fowler was born at Colborne, Ontario on May 24, 1864, son of George Fowler and Sarah Clark. He attained his Arts degree at Victoria College in 1885 and, for a few years, taught at the Perth Collegiate Institute. He entered into the study of medicine at Trinity College and graduated from that institution in 1892. He married Edith Hogg on April 25, 1894. Dr. Fowler followed the practice of his life's work at Perth, Ontario, where he lived in what was known as the 'Doctors House', a stone building of the classic revival style erected in 1840. He remained in active practice until 1926 when his son, Dr. Arthur Coulson Fowler, assumed his duties. Dr. Richard Victor Fowler died at the Ottawa General Hospital on November 1, 1925, aged 61 years, 5 months and 7 days.

Fowler, Robert Dr.
1823-1887

Robert Fowler was born in Chester, England in 1823 and was a Licentiate of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, 1844, a Licentiate of the Society of Apothecaries, London, 1844 and a graduate in medicine from Victoria College, Ontario in 1864. Dr. Fowler was also a Wesleyan Methodist Minister who was received on trial in 1854 at the Belleville Conference. Dr. Fowler had several charges throughout southern Ontario including Consecon, Keene, Frankford, Wallbridge, Colborne and Cobourg. He was united in marriage at Trenton with Huldah Austin on June 21, 1861. A clergyman and physician, he ministered to the needs of his community. Dr. Robert Fowler died in the 34th year of his ministry at London, Ontario on Mar 4 1887 aged 64 years.

Fraleigh, William Stuart
Dr.
-1904

William Stuart Fraleigh was born at Picton and was a graduate of McGill University in 1869. He practiced his profession at Selby, Enterprise, Napanee and Gananoque before removing to Toronto in the 1870s, where he engaged in the practice of his trade, also carrying on the drug business. He was active in municipal politics and served as an Alderman. Dr. Fraleigh died at Toronto on August 19, 1904, aged 58 years 8 months 21 days.

Fraleigh, Albert John Dr.
1876-1921

Albert John Fraleigh was born at Bloomfield, Ontario on June 6, 1876 son of John Fraleigh and Emma Williams and nephew of Dr William Stuart Fraleigh. He attained his education at the Pickering high school, Belleville, Victoria College and the University of Toronto with his medical degree in 1904. Dr Fraleigh was united in marriage to Frances Thompson on Aug 20, 1910. He took post graduate work at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Mn. and at the Oeschuer Clinic in Chicago. Dr Fraleigh served as an Officer in the Dominion Army during W.W. 1. He had a large practice in the Riverdale district of Toronto and was a member of the Masonic Order, the Knights Templar and the Mystic Shriners. Dr Albert Francis Fraleigh died at Toronto on Nov 26, 1921 aged 45 years 5 months 20 days.

Fralick, Ralph Simcoe Dr.
1876-1934

Ralph Simcoe Fralick was born on Feb 18, 1876 at Picton, Ontario son of John Fralick and Clarissa Richards and brother of the previously chronicled Wilfred Fralick. He was a graduate of the North Western University Medical School at Chicago, Illinois in 1899 and was united in marriage to Martha Stoddard in Manhattan, N.Y. on Sept 12, 1906.

He established himself in the practice of his profession in New York and, in conjunction with his brother, performed some major surgeries, such as a total gastrectomy, which made headlines across the Country. Dr. Ralph Simcoe Fralick died while on a visit to Evanston, Illinois on Dec 29, 1934 aged 58 years 10 months 11 days.

Fralick, Wilfred G. Dr.
-1931

Wilfred G. Fralick was a native of Picton and attended Queen's University. He located in New York and became one of the best-known medical men in that city, mainly because of the success he had in looking after champion boxers, such as Tunney, Dempsey, Sharkey and Schmeling. He operated on more than a hundred boxers' hands, hockey players' knees, shoulders, tendons and joints. He transposed and transplanted, as early as 1900, vital organs from one person to another. He was the first doctor to treat tuberculosis by intravenous infusion of germicide. He perfected the sterilization and purification techniques of water for the troops in the trenches and developed an antitoxin for the dread gas-bug in the trenches. Dr. Fralick died in New York on March 20, 1931, aged 67.

Frederick, Ernest Victor
Dr.
1880-1960

Ernest Victor Frederick was born at Campbellford on September 11, 1880, son of John Albert Frederick and Ada Ryall. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1903. Dr. Frederick took post-graduate studies in Europe and practiced in Peterborough, Ontario; and in Hollywood and Reno. When he returned to Toronto, he served as Surgeon on the staff of the Toronto General and East General Hospitals; for some time he lived at Centre Island and tended patients from Hanlan's Point to Ward's Island. In 1915, he joined the British Army Medical Corps, contracted malaria overseas, and was invalided home. He was the founder of Frederick's Fishing Tackle Works at Campbellford in 1933, makers of distinctive wooden plugs with a clear plastic lip. Dr. E. V. Frederick died at Toronto on July 12, 1960, aged 79 years, 10 months and 1 day.

Free, Edward John Dr.
-1930

Edward John Free was a native of Seymour Township, Northumberland County. He entered the medical school at Victoria University, graduating Medical Doctor in 1887 and soon established himself in Campbellford where he remained for the duration. Dr. Free died in Campbellford on November 16, 1930, aged 71 years 3 months 3 days.

Free, Fred de Furlong Dr.
1895-1957

Fred de Furlong Free was born at Warkworth, Ontario on April 24, 1895, son of Dr. Edward James Free and Olivia Jane Sanborn. He removed with his family and was raised at Campbellford and attended West's School and Campbellford Public and High Schools. He was an Honour Graduate of the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Toronto in 1919. He attained the Degree of Bachelor of Medicine and the right to use the initials A.O.A. (Alpha Omega Alpha) signifying that he was a member of the Honour Medical Society, a privilege extended only to those who secured honour standing throughout their entire university course. Following a short stay in Peterborough, he returned to practise in Campbellford in 1920; he was united in marriage to Mary Helen Dickson on October 6, 1920. Dr. Fred Free served as Medical Officer of Health and as Doctor to the Canadian National Railway employees. At the age of seven he developed polio which required him to wear a leg brace and in later years his work had been of necessity confined to his office practice. Dr. Fred De Furlong Free died on October 23, 1957, aged 62 years, 5 months and 29 days.

French, William Wilson
Dr.
1838-1900

William Wilson French was born at Cherry Valley, Prince Edward County on July 7, 1838, son of Gilbert and Elizabeth French. He was educated locally and attained his medical training at Victoria College and Bellevue Hospital Medical College in 1869. He soon hung his shingle at Hastings, Ontario, but was drawn to the state of Michigan where he followed his life's work. He first practiced at North Branch in Lapeer County and then went to St. Ignace in 1881 where he located for ten years. During that time, he took up 160 acres of land in Germfask Township, Schoolcraft County. He was also at Thompson, five miles from Manistique for some years. Dr. William Wilson French died at his farm near Germfask on March 30, 1900, aged 61 years, 8 months and 23 days.

Funnell, Ada Alfaretta Dr.
-1904

Ada Alferetta Funnell was born at Portsmouth, Ontario on Dec 4, 1864 daughter of Jesse Funnell and Jane Kemp. She matriculated in Arts at Queen's University in 1882; during her time at Queen's she was awarded scholarships every year. After graduation from the Women's Medical College in 1887 she went to New York for one year to pursue post graduate work and upon her return to Canada she went into practice in Hamilton, Ontario. Within two years she returned to establish herself at Trenton, served as physician to the Woodlawn Home and cared for her ailing parents. Her brother Jessie Jr. was a businessman and entrepreneur in Trenton, served as town councillor and was elected Mayor of Trenton by acclamation. Her father had operated a merchant tailoring business in Portsmouth until 1877 when he removed to the Trenton area. Dr. Ada Alfaretta Funnell died of pneumonia at Trenton, Ontario on Dec 21, 1904 aged 40 years 17 days.

Gage, Herbert Edwin Dr.
1867-1926

Herbert Edwin Gage was born at Bath, Ontario on Apr 24, 1867 son of Richard Gage and Jennifer Edwards. He was united in marriage to Ella Edwards on Aug 1, 1900 and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1902. At Kingston, he served as a general practitioner and surgeon, was president of the Christian Endeavor Union and about 1905 he removed to Paisley, Bruce County. Here he took an active interest in village affairs, was on the school board and the board of health; he was a leader in the Methodist Church, at times occupied the pulpit, was choir leader and participated in the town orchestra. Dr Herbert Edwin Gage died at Paisley on July 30, 1926 aged 59 years 3 months 6 days.

Galbraith, Thomas
Maxwell Dr.
1878-1952

Thomas Maxwell Galbraith was born at Thornbury, Ontario on January 19, 1878, son of Maxwell Galbraith and Elizabeth Somerville. He received his early education at Meaford and his Arts Degree at Queen's University and spent two years teaching science at Gananoque and Port Hope. He studied Medicine with the Class of 1910 at Queen's and was united in marriage to Mary Anne Gaskin on December 18, 1912. Dr. Galbraith took post-graduate work in New York City, hung his shingle first at Yarker, Ontario, then removed to Napanee in 1918. He served his community as Jail Surgeon, County Coroner and was Past-President of the Lennox and Addington County Medical Association and a member of the Council of the Ontario Medical Association. Dr. Thomas Maxwell Galbraith died on July 2, 1952, aged 74 years, 5 months and 13 days.

Gallagher, Morton Dr.
1863-1924

Morton Gallagher was born at Harlem, Ontario on May 19, 1863, son of William Gallagher and Elizabeth Hannah. He studied his medical courses at Queen's University from which he graduated in 1887. He was soon established at Campbellford, Ontario and, while there, married Emily Tucker on December 25, 1889. He removed to Bay City, Michigan where, in addition to his practice, he served as President of the Bay City Medical Society in 1905, was on the Board of Health, and for eighteen years was a member and Past President of the Board of Education. Dr. Morton Gallagher died there on February 14, 1924, aged 60 years, 8 months and 25 days.

Galway, Charles Frederick
Dr.
1908-1999

Charles Frederick Galway was born at Belleville, Ontario on March 4, 1908 son of Hugh Galway and Ellen Lavell. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1934. Dr. Galway was awarded the Governor Generals Medal for Bravery for attempting to rescue a companion who had fallen into the ice filled waters of the Camsell River that empties into Great Bear Lake. In 1935 he went to the mining community of Red Lake to establish a medical practice and was appointed as Postmaster at McKenzie Island; he arrived at Red Lake by dog team by way of the frozen river system. Dr. Galway was united in marriage to Dorothy Mahaffy on April 6, 1935. He remained there for 20 years, built the McKenzie Island Hospital and carried on his medical work and, as well, was involved in the mining and lumbering business. Later he completed his specialty training in anaesthesiology at the Mayo Clinic, obtained his PhD in cardiac physiology and served as head of the anaesthesiology department in Minneapolis and St. Paul. Dr. Charles Frederick Galway died on November 22, 1999 aged 91 years 8 months 18 days.

Gandier, Augustine Dr.
1865-1910

Augustine Gandier was born at Belleville, Ontario on Sept 17, 1865 son of Rev. Joseph Gandier and Helen Eastwood. The father of our subject was a graduate of Queen's Theological College in 1872 and when he died at Newburgh, Ontario in 1924 the headline read: Father of a Brilliant Family. Augustine was the 3rd of 10 children and he went on to graduate in medicine from Queen's in 1890. He established himself at Merrickville and was united in marriage in Montreal to Agnes Anna Williams in 1890. Dr. Gandier took post graduate work in England in 1896 and 1897 and followed the practice of his profession at Sherbrooke, Quebec where he died on Dec 15, 1910 aged 45 years 2 months 28 days.

Gardiner, Albert Edgar Dr.
-1903

Albert Edgar Gardiner was a native of Belleville, his father the head master of Queen Victoria School. He was educated locally and graduated from the Toronto School of Medicine in 1894. He moved to Vars, Russell County, Ontario, where he practiced his profession. Dr. Gardiner died of pneumonia on September 15, 1903, aged 38 years 10 months 3 days.

Gardiner, Charles Hagerman Dr.
1836-1901

Charles Hagerman Gardiner was born on Mar 21, 1836 at Perrytown, Ontario son of Edward Gardiner and Polly Hagerman. He was educated partly at Toronto, started his professional career as a teacher, and completed his course at Yale University, after which he practiced medicine in several of the cities of the United States, among others, San Francisco and New Orleans. Dr. Gardiner served as Field Surgeon during the American Civil War and went through many thrilling experiences during his 3 years of service. He was united in marriage first, to Jane McIlmoyle on Mar 24, 1859 and second, to Emily Brown on June 26, 1874. He served the communities of Stirling, South Marysburgh and Madoc and for over 20 years was at Bannockburn, Ontario. Dr. Charles Hagerman Gardiner died at Bannockburn on Nov 11, 1901 aged 65 years 7 months 20 days.

Gardiner, George Hamilton Dr.
1880-1944

George Hamilton Gardiner was born at the farm at Clifford, Ontario on Apr 18, 1880 son of Philip Gardiner and Mary Hamilton. He was a graduate of the Ottawa Normal School, taught school for a few years and after graduating in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1906 practiced for a time as a Railroad doctor in Northern Ontario.

Later he removed to Eldorado, near Madoc, home of the famous Hastings County gold rush of the 1860s. In 1914 he established himself at Toronto and was united in marriage to Edna MacDonald on Dec 12, 1917; he was a five term alderman, a member of the board of education, a coroner and president of the local Y.M.C.A. Dr George Hamilton Gardiner died on Oct 29, 1944 aged 64 years 6 months 11 days.

Garratt, Alton H. Dr.
-1914

Alton H. Garratt was born in the farming district of Prince Edward County, near Wellington. He pursued his medical education at Trinity University, graduating in 1888. He commenced practice in Queensborough, where he remained but one year. He removed to Toronto as he found the long drives and exposure injurious to his health. He was a Fellow of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, and was a member of staff at the Toronto General Hospital, St. Michael's Hospital and the Simcoe Dispensary. Dr. Garratt died in Toronto on December 21, 1914, aged 49 years 11 months 6 days.

Geddes, Robert Walter
Dr.
1876-1939

Robert Walter Geddes was born at Deseronto on February 22, 1876, son of Robert Geddes and Jane Fairburn. He was educated locally, obtained his Bachelor of Arts Degree at Queen's University and took up the study of medicine at McGill University, where he graduated in 1905. He married Catherine Mary Pecks on June 14, 1905. Dr. Geddes remained in Quebec where he followed the practice of his profession for the duration. Dr. R. W Geddes died at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal of a heart attack on May 7, 1939, aged 63 years, 2 months and 15 days.

Geddes, William James
Dr.
1873-1926

William James Geddes was born at Newburgh, Ontario on Mar 15, 1873 son of Robert Geddes and Jane Fairburn and brother of Dr Robert Walter Geddes. He started his professional career as a 'traveller', was united in marriage to Christina Robertson on Oct 26, 1895 and, a widower, to Eva Greatrix on July 4, 1900 at Belleville. As did his brother, he graduated in 1905 but he matriculated from Queen's University, his brother from McGill. Dr Geddes established himself at Verona where he followed the practice of his profession before removing to Toronto. Dr William James Geddes died on Oct 20, 1926, was buried at the Deseronto Town Cemetery, aged 53 years 7 months 5 days.

Genge, Thomas Symes Dr.
1870-1934

Thomas Symes Genge was born at the farm in Hinchinbrooke Township, Ontario on Oct 6, 1870 son of Thomas Genge and Ann Robinson. He received his early education at Oak Flats and the Sydenham high school following which he taught public school for several years. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1901 and for 30 years followed the practice of his profession at Parham and Verona, Ontario. Dr Genge was united in marriage to Jennie Bertrim on Sept 19, 1911 and later obtained the rank of Captain in the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He served on the Verona school board, was a member of the Anglican Church and the Odd Fellows Lodge; there is a Genge Street in Verona. Dr Thomas Symes Genge died on June 29, 1934 aged 63 years 8 months 23 days.

George, Morton Booth Dr.
1907-1992

Morton Booth George was born at Listowell, Ontario on March 1, 1907 son of Arthur George and Clementine Hemsworth. He entered into the study of his life's work at Queen's University from which institution he graduated in medicine in 1933. He soon established himself at Tweed, Ontario; he was united in marriage to Catherine McDowell on July 2, 1938. He was a Veteran of World War 11 and after the War he took specialty training in radiology. Dr. George removed to Waterloo, Ontario where he served as a diagnostic radiologist and radiation oncologist. Dr. Morton Booth George died on April 6, 1992 aged 85 years 22 days

Gerin, John E Dr.
1849-1931

John E Gerin was born at Cobourg on Dec 10, 1849, was schooled locally and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1872. In September 1880, Dr. Gerin located at Auburn, N.Y. where he carried on a successful medical practice, was a member and Officer of the Wheeler Rifles, served as health officer and alderman of Auburn and as president of the Cayuga County Medical Society. He was united in marriage to Alice Magee of Syracuse on Sept 13, 1884. He served as physician to the Auburn Prison and performed the autopsy on Leon Czolgosz who was the assassin of President William McKinley at Buffalo on Sept 6, 1901. Dr. John E Gerin died at Auburn on Feb 15, 1931 aged 81 years 2 months 5 days.

Gerow, Arthur M. Dr.
1845-1922

Arthur M. Gerow was born at Napanee, Ontario in March 1845, son of Peter and Mary Gerow. He attained his education in the local classrooms and the Toronto Normal School, and was a graduate of the Buffalo School of Medicine in 1868. He soon established himself at Cheboygan, Michigan where he remained for the duration. He was twice married, first to Josephine Bradley of Oxford County, Ontario on July 27, 1870 and Mary MacDonald of Cheboygan on December 17, 1874. Dr. Gerow was the first Doctor at Cheboygan and tried his hand at just about every different business venture imaginable. He was a prolific apple farmer and can be credited with starting the first commercial apple venture in the area and had planted fifty thousand trees, harvested up to one hundred and fifty thousand bushels of apples and employed as many as two hundred and seventy five workers. He helped establish the first Library and was the first President of the Library and was a co-owner of the first drug store in the village. Dr. Arthur M. Gerow died on May 20, 1922, aged 77 years and 2 months.

Gerow, George Harold Dr.
1902-1978

George Harold Gerow was born at the farmhouse near Warkworth on August 25, 1902 son of George Gerow and Mina Drinkwater. He was raised by his aunt at Colborne and was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto with the class of 1925. Dr. Gerow was a qualified psychiatrist and served as medical director and chief physician of the Westport Sanatorium in Connecticut. He was a United States Army Veteran of World War 11. At the time of his death, the family requested that flowers be omitted and contributions made to the University of Toronto Medical School. Dr. George Harold Gerow died at Saugatuck, Connecticut on July 14, 1978 aged 75 years 10 months and 19 days.

Gibson, James L. Dr.
1868-1937

James L. Gibson was born at Cherry Valley on June 19, 1868, son of John Gibson and Eldura Ackerman. He was a graduate of medicine from Queen's University in 1893; and was united in marriage to Amelia Bell on September 12, 1894. He spent a short time in practice at Cherry Valley, but established himself at Lynden, Wentworth County where he remained for the duration. Dr. James L. Gibson was in practice for 44 years and died at Lynden on June 10, 1937, aged 68 years, 11 months and 21 days.

Gibson, Robert Stirling Dr.
1901-1977

Robert Stirling Gibson was born at Kingston, Ontario on August 1, 1901 son of Dr. James Gibson and Sarah Sharpe. He studied medicine at Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1926; he was united in marriage to Vereen Kelusky on August 14, 1926. He came from a family of physicians, his father, son, two brothers and an uncle were all medical doctors. Dr. Gibson was an anaesthetist at the Belleville General Hospital, carried on a family practice and served as physician to the International Hardware Company of Canada. Dr. Robert Stirling Gibson died at Belleville on December 8, 1977 aged 76 years 4 months and 7 days.

Gibson, William John Dr.
-1920

Before entering the medical profession, William Gibson, for some time, engaged in the teaching profession and like his medical career was eminently successful. He was a graduate of Queen's University where he received his Bachelor of Arts in 1874, his Medical Doctor in 1881, and a Masters degree in 1882. He immediately established a practice in Belleville, where he was a leading Practitioner and clever Surgeon. He was an active member of both the Provincial and Dominion Medical Associations and served as President of the Ontario Medical Association in 1898-99. Dr. Gibson went to Rochester, Minnesota where he had surgery to relieve an obstruction of the common bile duct. He died post-operatively on October 7, 1920, aged 68 years 6 months 25 days.

Gilbert, Caleb B Dr.
1826-1892

Caleb Gilbert was born in the farm house on Jan 27, 1826 near Belleville, Ontario son of John Gilbert and Maria Yager. His early life was spent on the farm in the summer and the country school in the winter months and later as a salesman in a dry-goods store in Belleville. In 1849 he entered the Fally Seminary in Fulton, Oswego County, New York, attended lectures in Toronto and graduated from the Medical University in New York in 1855. Dr. Gilbert was united in marriage to Caroline Fowler on May 16, 1855 and soon established himself at Lyons, Michigan until 1858 when he removed to Windsor, Ontario. In April, 1865 he settled at Detroit where he remained for the duration. Dr. Gilbert was a professor at the Detroit Medical College, an attending physician at St. Mary's Hospital, the Woman's Hospital and Founding's Home. Dr. Caleb B Gilbert died at Detroit on Apr 17, 1892 aged 66 years 2 months 20 days.

Gilbert, Hobart Stinson
Dr.
1872-1902

Hobart Stinson Gilbert was born in Tyendinaga Township, Hastings County, on July 26, 1872, son of Nehemiah Gilbert and Deborah Cook. He removed with his parents to Picton in 1880, and passed through the High School there and entered Toronto University in 1893 as a Matriculant, taking an honour course in natural science. He graduated in Arts in 1897 and at once entered Toronto Medical College and obtained his degree in 1900. He married Edna Moore on July 28, 1900. Dr. Gilbert established himself at Angelica, New York, where he commenced the practice of his profession; his ability soon secured for him an extensive practice. He was a member of the Melrose Masonic Lodge in Angelica and the Genesee River Lodge. In July of 1902, he found his health failing and gave up his practice in hope that a rest would restore his health. Dr. H. S. Gilbert died at Brooklin, Ontario, of heart trouble on October 29, 1902, aged 30 years, 3 months and 3 days.

Gilbert, Wallace Leighton
Cameron Dr.
1879-1948

Wallace Leighton Cameron Gilbert was born in Tyendinaga Township, Hastings County, on August 6, 1879, son of Nehemiah Gilbert and Deborah Cook. He moved with his family to Picton and attended the local schools, then entered into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto, where he graduated in 1904. His athletic abilities resulted in being chosen for the Varsity rugby, baseball and hockey teams. He soon married Adda Irene Woodrow and was an early practitioner in Belleville; this marriage ended in divorce. He was married to Elsie Beaton in Montreal on October 22, 1921, but she died shortly thereafter. On November 23, 1925, he married Kathleen Martha Gerstier. Dr. W. L. C. Gilbert practiced his profession in Toronto for many years and died there on August 24, 1948, aged 69 years, and 18 days.

Gilchrist, Hiram Dr,
-1852

Hiram Gilchrist died at Port Hope on April 24, 1852, aged 40.

Gilchrist, James Aiken Dr.
-1871

James Aiken Gilchrist died at Cobourg on April 3, 1871, aged 61.

Gilchrist, John Dr.
-1859

A native of New Hampshire, John Gilchrist was the first of four brothers and a cousin to establish themselves at Cobourg. He received his medical training at Yale and on January 6, 1819 was the first Licentiate of the newly formed Upper Canada Medical Board. The population was sparse and in addition to his medical practice, he operated a tavern, the first of his outside enterprises. In 1825, he moved to a farm north of Rice Lake and founded a village by building a sawmill and gristmill and the first store in the area. He named the village 'Keene', after a place in his homeland. By 1830, he was back in Cobourg where he became one of the first Directors of the Harbour Company. He was an active participant in the Methodist undertaking of building the non-denominational Upper Canada Academy, later Victoria College. By 1835, he was responsible for selling shares in the Cobourg and Rice Lake Railroad Company. During the Rebellion of 1837, he was one of twelve men in the district to be arrested and jailed on charges of sympathizing with the rebels. In 1841, he was elected and represented the newly formed Colborne District until 1845. In 1846, he moved to Peterborough to practice and, in 1849, to Port Hope to replace his brother Samuel who was in partnership with brother, Hiram. The fourth brother, James, was practicing in Cobourg and cousin, Matthew, was at Colborne. Dr. John Gilchrist died at Port Hope on September 15, 1859, aged 67.

Gilchrist, Matthew Craig
Dr.
-1850

Matthew Craig Gilchrist died at Colborne on April 4, 1850, aged 54.

Gilchrist, Samuel Dr.
-1849

Samuel Gilchrist died at Port Hope on August 20, 1849, aged 51.

Gillen, Erastus Dr,
-1903

Erastus Gillen was born in Belleville and practiced the profession of an architect before he studied Medicine. Becoming enamored of the science of healing, he took the medical course at Queen's University, graduated in 1894 and began a medical practice in Mount Morris, New York. He was a prominent society man being a Royal Arch Mason, an Oddfellow and a Knight of the Maccabees. Dr. Gillen died in Belleville, Ontario on May 24, 1903, aged 42.

Gillespie, George Dr.
-1867

George Gillespie was born in James, Ontario the son of a baker by trade, who often changed his residence, living at different places in the Province and in New York State, settling in Picton in 1831. He graduated with his Medical Degree and located back in Picton. Dr. Gillespie established the Picton Times Newspaper, a successor to the Picton Sun, on May 30, 1854 and was editor for some time; the paper appeared regularly for well over a century. Dr. Gillespie died in Picton of consumption on March 5, 1867, aged 44.

Girvin, Alfred Weller Dr.
1880-1934

Alfred Weller Girvin was born at Stella, Amherst Island on May 18, 1880, son of Charles Girvin and Evangeline Louisa Weller. Here he received his early education, attended the High School in Napanee, and later he taught for several years in that district. He received his Degree in Medicine from Queen's University in 1905, and then followed a period of post-graduate work in London, England. Dr. Girvin established himself at Strathmore, Alberta, in 1908, and here married Nellie Melissa Morris in 1910. He took an active interest in educational and municipal affairs, serving on the town council and school board, besides having a wide practice. Dr. A. W. Girvin removed to Calgary in 1925, where he died on June 10, 1934, aged 54 years and 22 days.

Gleeson, Harold James Dr.
1892-1958

Harold James Gleeson was born at Napanee, Ontario on May 18, 1892 son of John Gleeson and Elizabeth Neville. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1923; Dr. Gleeson was united in marriage to Mary Dwyer on February 11, 1926. He soon established himself at Lindsay, Ontario where, in 1929, he served as president of the County Medical Association. His mother died of a skull fracture and cerebral haemorrhage on September 3, 1930 and the following appeared in the papers the next week: "Dr. H.J. Gleeson, who is unable to leave his bed at Lindsay, Ontario was served with a warrant on a charge of criminal negligence as driver of the car in which his mother was killed near Brooklin, Ontario". Dr. Harold James Gleeson died at Toronto on November 14, 1958 aged 66 years 5 months and 26 days.

Gleeson, Thomas Hugh
Dr.
1901-1972

Thomas Hugh Gleeson was born at Napanee, Ontario on February 21, 1901 son of Patrick Gleeson and Mary Whelan. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1928. He spent a short time thereafter at his home town but removed to the United States where he was a physician at the New York Post Graduate Hospital in New York City. Dr. Gleeson was united in marriage to May Blanche Croft. He was a Veteran of World War 11 and served in the United States Army with a rank of Colonel. As such, he was buried at the Long Island National Cemetery, the final resting place of American Veterans. Dr. Thomas Hugh Gleeson died at New York on February 8, 1972 aged 70 years 11 months and 17 days.

Goldsmith, Albert Asa Dr.
-1925

Albert Goldsmith was born in Belleville. For upwards of 40 years he resided in the United States where he practiced his profession as a physician. He returned to Belleville from Iowa where he was living and working, to visit relatives; ill health intervened while he was here. Dr. A. A. Goldsmith died in Belleville on March 11, 1925, aged 69 years 8 months.

Goldsmith, Perry David Dr.
-1909

Perry David Goldsmith was born in Huntington Township. He graduated with his medical degree from Victoria College in 1868 and was a member of the Royal College of Physicians and Apothecaries Hall, London, England, in 1888. He spent all his life in this area having practiced in Peterborough, Campbellford, and Stirling. In 1895, he located in Belleville, where he lived for 13 years. He worked in association with his son in Belleville and was for a short period, Physician to the Deaf and Dumb Institution, having been appointed by the Liberal Government. Dr. Goldsmith died of heart trouble on April 5, 1909, aged 64 years 1 month 9 days.

Goldsmith, Perry Gladstone O.B.E. Dr.
-1951

Perry Gladstone Goldsmith was born at Warkworth and graduated from Trinity Medical College in 1896. In Toronto he was Resident Surgeon at the Royal Victoria Hospital for Sick Children. He immediately established himself in Belleville where he too was Physician to the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb. Dr. Goldsmith served with distinction in W.W.I with the Canadian Army Medical Corps and in 1919 was presented with the Order of the British Empire. He held the rank of Colonel and took the first Field Ambulance into France. He was, for a time, in charge of the Military Hospital in Taplow, England. He was Professor of Ear, Nose and Throat on the staff of the University of Toronto and also head of the Ear, Nose and Throat department at Toronto General Hospital. In 1934, he was elected President of the American Ear, Nose and Throat Society. He was an ardent gardener and his rock garden was noted as one of the most outstanding in Canada. Dr. Goldsmith died on January 21, 1951, aged 76 years 6 months 27 days.

Goldstone, George Dr.
-1872

George Goldstone was born in Bath, England, studied medicine at Edinburgh, and following, served as Surgeon on board an East Indian merchantman. He came to Canada and appeared before the Medical Board of Upper Canada on October 31, 1834. Dr. Goldstone practiced at Cobourg and surrounding country side which, at times, required calls by horseback at some 60 miles distance. He was Surgeon to the Northumberland Militia during the Rebellion of 1837. The May 5, 1847 edition of the Cobourg Star reported his use of ether as an anaesthetic, the first such case in Upper Canada. Dr. Goldstone retired in 1862 to Quebec, where he had married 25 years earlier. He died there on December 26, 1872, aged 66 years 11 months 1 day.

Gonu, Andrew L Dr.
1836-1929

Andrew L Gonu was born at Napanee, Ontario in June 1836 son of Francis Gonu and Deborah Loyst. He studied medicine at the University of Michigan, was a graduate in the mid 1860s and secured his early training as house surgeon in the Bellevue Hospital, Brooklyn, New York. Dr. Gonu hung his shingle at Cornwall, Ontario and from there he went to Messina, N.Y. where he practiced for many years. It was about this time that his name changed to Gagnon and about 1888 he moved to Lockport, N.Y. where he also operated a drug store on Chapel Street and followed his profession for another 25 years. Dr. Andrew L Gagnon died at Lockport on Dec 13, 1929 aged 93 years 6 months.

Gordon, Herbert Andrew
Dr.
1868-1942

Herbert "Andrew" Gordon was born at the Parsonage in Tweed, Ontario on June 8, 1868 son of Rev. Andrew Gordon and Annie Copp. His early education was obtained at Albert College and Victoria College following which he went with his parents to Manitoba where he taught school for some time. He graduated from Wesley College, Winnipeg in 1895, was united in marriage to Annie Bowman on Sept 5, 1896 and completed his medical studies at the Manitoba Medical College in 1899. Dr. Gordon established a practice and operated a drug store at Carman, Manitoba but soon removed to Portage la Prairie where for many years he was Superintendent of the House for Incurables and served as medical officer of health. In the First World War, Dr. Gordon served with No. 3 Casualty Clearing Station and saw service in England, the Dardanelles and France attaining the rank of Major. Dr. Gordon was invalided to England to the Duchess of Connaught Hospital and returned to Canada as a Senior Medical Officer aboard the S.S. Carmania. Dr. Herbert Andrew Gordon followed the practice of his profession, served as president of the Manitoba Medical Association and died at Portage la Prairie on Mar 30, 1942 aged 73 years 9 months 22 days.

Gorssline, Raymond
Myers Dr.
1885-1968

Raymond Myers Gorssline was born at Bloomfield, Ontario on July 28, 1885, son of Rickerson Gorssline and Helena Catherine Myers. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1911 and was one of the successful candidates for a commission as Lieutenant in the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He received his Masters in Public Health from McGill University in 1921 and was united in marriage to Beatrice Marjorie Sparks on June 2, 1923. Brigadier Gorsslineserved as Director General of the Medical Services for the Royal Canadian Medical Corps. He saw the need for and the value of a training centre for training officers for the Medical Corps. As a result of his efforts, this Centre was established at Lansdowne Park in Ottawa in 1940 and was later moved to Camp Borden. In 1942, he was appointed as Inspector of Hospitals by the National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa. In 1952, he was appointed as a Knight to the Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem. Dr. Raymond Myers Gorssline died on June 30, 1968, aged 82 years, 11 months and 2 days.

Gould, Carmen Magnus
Dr.
-1890

Carmen Magnus Gould was a native of Cramahe Township and a graduate of medical school in 1853. He soon established himself in Castleton where he followed the practice of his profession. He was appointed as County Coroner in 1866, served as Reeve of Cramahe for several years and Warden of Northumberland and Durham in 1870. He was a practicing physician for the duration, although the condition of his health for the last few years interfered with his labors. Dr. Gould removed to Colborne about 1881 where he died on June 4, 1890, aged 62.

Gould, George Wilbur Dr.
1868-1895

George Wilbur Gould was born at Castleton, Ontario on August 11, 1868, son of Abraham Gould and Emma Nichols. He was educated in the local schools and received his medical training at the University of Toronto in 1892; he was the nephew of previously chronicled Dr. C. M. Gould. Dr. George Wilbur Gould was cut short in his life expectancy; he had his shingle hung at Stirling, Ontario where he died on January 13, 1895, aged 26 years, 5 months and 2 days.

Grange, James Dr.
-1906

James Grange was born in Napanee. He graduated from the medical department of Victoria College, Toronto in 1860, and was a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia College, New York. He practiced in Napanee after his graduation until about 1889 when, on account of his wife's health, he removed to Chattanooga. When he left Canada, he gave up on an established practice and did not actively engage in his profession thereafter. Dr. Grange died in Tennessee of heart failure, on August 3, 1906, aged 79 years 5 months 25 days.

Grange, John Thomas Dr.
-1924

John Thomas Grange was a native of Napanee and a licensed physician, probably a graduate from Victoria College Medical School in 1860. He was a doctor, druggist, businessman and political figure. Dr. Grange served on the Town Council and was Reeve of Napanee. He represented Lennox and Addington in the Legislative Assembly of Ontario as a Conservative member from 1871-1879. Dr. Grange died in Frontenac County on April 20, 1924, aged 87 years 2 months 20 days.

Grant, John Dr.
-1901

John Grant was born in Pittsburg Township, near Point Henry, Kingston. He taught school in his early days in Camden Township and afterwards studied medicine, graduating about 1854. He went to California in 1855 and remained seven years, afterwards going to Virginia City, Nevada for about the same length of time. Here he followed the practice of his profession as well as exploring the possible investment opportunities of the mining industry. He then removed to Napanee where he remained for 20 years. Dr. Grant died at Napanee, of heart failure, on June 17, 1901, aged 71.

Green, Samuel D. Dr.
1867-1911

Samuel D. Green was born at Pakenham, Ontario on February 11, 1867, son of John Green and Ellen Loney. He was a student of medicine at Queen's University where he graduated in 1891; he spent time working in Pakenham, Calabogie, Maynooth and Arnprior before moving to Nebraska, then Rawlins, Wyoming and in 1899, Saratoga, Wyoming. He built up a large practice in Saratoga and the surrounding country; he was affiliated with the Knights of Pythias, holding the position of Prelate in the local lodge and with the Fraternal Order of Eagles and was Physician to the Modern Woodmen of America. He was the examining doctor for the New York Life Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. Dr. Samuel D. Green died at Denver, Colorado on March 20, 1911, aged 44 years, 1 month and 9 days.

Greer, Thomas Newton
Dr.
-1924

Thomas Newton Greer was born at Millbrook, Ontario and received his medical training at Victoria College, graduating from medicine in 1880. He removed to Northumberland County where he was Coroner-in-Chief for many years; he followed the practice of his profession for over forty years. He was the first President of the Central Ontario Medical Association, later called the Peterborough Medical Association. He filled many important positions in the county, had been an active member of the Dominion and Provincial Medical Associations, and of the Ontario Health Officers Association. He served as Captain in the Canadian Army Medical Corps during W.W.I. Dr. Greer died at Gores Landing on July 24, 1924, aged 65 years 5 months 15 days.

Griffith, Robert Constantine Dr.
1869-1931

Robert Constantine Griffith was born at Brantford, Ontario on December 24, 1869, son of Thomas Griffith and Agnes Edmondson. He removed with his family to Picton, Ontario, which was his home at the time of his graduation from the medical school of the University of Toronto in 1891. He was married to Edna Barrett on November 1, 1899. He was a member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, England, was a member of the Grace Hospital staff and the Academy of Medicine. Dr. Griffith practiced medicine for thirty years in Toronto where he died on June 10, 1931, aged 61 years, 5 months and 16 days.

Gross, Pitkin Dr.
-1873

Pitkin Gross was born at Hartford, Vermont and graduated at Hanover, United States of America. He was one of the first candidates to successfully complete his examinations before the newly created (1818) Medical Examination Board of Upper Canada. He became a Licentiate on July 6, 1819 and settled in Brighton where he served as surgeon to the 2nd Regiment of the Prince Edward Militia. He practiced for 45 years covering an area of almost 50 square miles. Dr. Gross died on September 20, 1873, aged 81 years 1 month 18 days.

Gunsolus, Kenneth McKenzie Dr.
-1916

Kenneth McKenzie Gunsolus was a native of Napanee, was educated at Napanee Grammar School and went to Queen's University in Kingston at the age of 17. In 1869-1870, he was on the Order of Merit list for the primary examinations in the medical faculty. He obtained his Medical Doctor degree, graduating in 1871 at the age of 20. Dr. Gunsolus practiced in Napanee, but went to Detroit in 1891 where he practiced for 25 years; he died there on March 24, 1916, aged 65 years 10 months 21 days.

Haffner, Allan Boyd Dr.
1887-1945

Allan Boyd Haffner was born at Kingston, Ontario on September 20, 1887, son of Phillip Alfred Haffner and Catherine Boyd. He was a Graduate of Queen's University Medical School in 1919, a veteran of World War I, having enlisted as a medical student; he served with the Queen's Medical Corps Unit and re-entered Queen's after his discharge. He took post-graduate work at Manhattan College in New York City in Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Study. Dr. Haffner hung his shingle at Belleville and Ottawa, but health problems forced his early retirement. Dr. Allan Boyd Haffner died at the Veteran's Hospital in Kingston on August 5, 1945, aged 57 years, 10 months and 15 days.

Haig, Andrew A. Dr.
-1932

Andrew A. Haig was born in Seymour Township and was educated in Campbellford public and high schools; he was a graduate of Queen's University in 1891. He later became Superintendent of the Kingston General Hospital and also served on the Belleville Hospital Staff. During W.W.I he served with the Royal Canadian Medical Corps. He was, for many years, connected with the Board of Education in Campbellford; he was one of the best-known physicians in Northumberland County. Dr. Haig died on December 6, 1932, aged 67 years 6 months 4 days.

Haig, Karl James Dr.
1907-1958

Karl James Haig was born at Campbellford, Ontario on February 20, 1907 son of James Haig and Mary Gunning. He attended Queen's University and graduated in medicine in 1930; Dr. Haig took postgraduate training in orthopaedic surgery and in 1937 established a practice in Vancouver, British Columbia. During World War 11 he served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and was discharged in 1945; he served as chief of staff at St. Paul's Hospital in Burnaby. Dr. Karl James Haig died on June 7, 1958 aged 51 years 3 months 17 days.

Hall, Duane Robert Dr.
1897-1953

Duane Robert Hall was born at Brockville, Ontario on August 13, 1897 son of Duane Hall and Margaret Lackie. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1921, was on the teaching staff for a time and later removed to Napanee; he was united in married to Jessie Dibb on September 30, 1925. Active in public affairs, he served as chairman of the school board, mayor of Napanee for six years, chairman of the public utilities commission, president of the Lennox and Addington Medical Association and county coroner; he was a Veteran of World War 1. Dr. Duane Robert Hall died at Napanee on September 24, 1953 aged 56 years 1 month and 11 days.

Halliday, James Thomas Innes Dr.
1844-1920

James Thomas Innes Halliday was born in Grafton, Ontario on June 14, 1844 son of Thomas Halliday and Nancy Winters. He was a graduate with honours from the Medical School of McGill in 1865 and soon established himself at Vernonville north of Grafton, Northumberland County. Later Dr. Halliday removed to his hometown and in 1882 settled at Peterborough where he remained for the duration. Dr. Halliday was the recognized surgeon of the Midland district, a pioneer of this department for this region. Survived by his wife, the former Amelia Allen, Dr. Halliday died on July 4, 1920 aged 76 years 20 days.

Hambly, William Rellison
Dr.
1884-1965

William Rellison Hambly was born at Newburgh, Ontario on December 15, 1884, son of George Rellison Hambly and Ellen Jane Davy. He was educated at Napanee and at Queen's University Medical School where he graduated in 1911 and was united in marriage to Edna Christina McGill on September 7, 1912. After practising at Wingham, Ontario for seventeen years, he spent three years in post-graduate study of Abdominal Surgery in Europe. On his return he settled in London, Ontario, where he had a general Abdominal Surgical Practice until his retirement in 1956. Dr. William Rellison Hambly died on July 14, 1965, aged 80 years, 6 months and 29 days.

Hamilton, Charles Samuel
Dr.
-1925

Charles Hamilton was born in Thurlow Township and attended the medical school at McGill University where he graduated in 1868. He practiced in several locations; initially at Demorestville, then Lonsdale, Roslin, Belleville, Stirling, Burlington, Washington and lastly at Cold Springs, Ontario, where he carried on active work up to seven years before his death. Dr. Hamilton died at Cobourg on December 31, 1925, aged 83 years 3 months 5 days.

Hamilton, Benson Hillyard
Dr.
1871-1931

Benson Hillyard Hamilton was born at the farm at Colborne, Ontario on Dec 19, 1871 son of Thomas Hamilton and Jane McCann. He matriculated the Goderich Collegiate Institute , taught school for several years and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1903. Following 5 years of practice in Belgrave, Ontario, Dr Hamilton took post graduate training in London, England and Chicago and took up a new practice in Sault Ste Marie as an eye, ear nose and throat specialist; he was united in marriage to Ella Ross. He then accepted a placement as Indian agent and medical officer at Moose Factory; he ministered to the Indians, gave medical treatment, performed operations and travelled the coasts of James and Hudson Bays by canoe, a position he held for 3 years. Dr Benson Hillyard Hamilton died at Moose Factory on May 25, 1931 aged 59 years 5 months 6 days.

Hammett, John Edward
Dr.
1894-1968

John Edward Hammett was born at Tweed, Ontario on February 21, 1894, son of William Hammett and Edith Alexander. He attended the local schools, entered Queen's in 1913, served with the British Army in France and the Near East from 1915 to 1917, and graduated from Medicine at Queen's in 1919. Dr. Hammett was united in marriage to Lyla Mae Buse on September 22, 1921. He established himself at New York City, where he conducted his Practice in Surgery and was a Consulting Surgeon at St. Clare's Hospital, New York and the Brooklyn Memorial Hospital; he was Professor of Surgery and Attending Surgeon at the Polyclinic Hospital. Dr. Hammett was the author of a book on abdominal surgery in 1942 which was widely used in medical schools and by military authorities. He counted among his patients such personalities as Marilyn Monroe and New York Yankees great Joe DiMaggio. Death occurred as the result of a single car accident near Watertown, New York. Dr. John Edward Hammett died on July 27, 1968, aged 74 years, 5 months and 6 days.

Hardinge, John Romer Dr.
-1938

John Romer Hardinge was born in London, England. He attended private schools in London and enlisted in the Navy where he spent 4 years. He attended Guy's Medical College in London, graduating with honours. He came to Canada in 1867 and settled on a farm near Coe Hill where settlers were scarce and luxuries few. He took an active part in municipal affairs serving on Council and on the School Board for a number of years. He built the first telephone exchange in the community, making the switchboard from an old sewing machine stand. He was a homeopathic practitioner and was tireless in his efforts to alleviate human suffering. He often traveled miles through the woods on foot, spending the night on the trail and carried with him not only his remedies but supplies of food as well. Dr. Hardinge died in Coe Hill on September 12, 1938, aged 81 years 10 months 11 days.

Harper, William Sinclair
Dr.
-1953

William Sinclair Harper was born at Madoc and there received his early education. He graduated from Trinity Medical College in 1896 and later, in 1910, did post-graduate work in London, England and in Edinburgh, whence he returned to Madoc. He spent five years in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps during W.W. I. Dr. Harper practiced in Queensborough, Port Perry and Madoc where he was in the Village Council for ten years, being Reeve for six years. Dr. Harper moved to Toronto where he died on January 8, 1953, aged 80 years 1 month 4 days.

Harrington, Charles Freeman Dr.
-1900

Charles Freeman Harrington was a native of Prince Edward County and never studied medicine. "Dr." Harrington's clairvoyant powers first manifested themselves when he was a lad of seven. He went into trances in which he told various queer things; he was whipped, bled and punished to no avail. As an adult, having moved to Wisconsin, he was persuaded to attend to ill patients; he would go into a trance, prescribe a treatment of root extracts and describe where to locate such treatment. Success soon followed and he began the regular practice as a Clairvoyant Physician. He made house calls by rail car on occasion and was in demand by investors who had confidence in his clairvoyant abilities to locate mineral deposits. Prosperity followed and he accumulated considerable wealth. "Dr." Harrington died at San Diego, California on December 23, 1900, aged 52 years 4 months 3 days.

Harris, William Johnson
Dr.
1840-1901

William Johnson Harris was born at Frankford, Ontario on Dec 28, 1840, immigrated to the United States about 1860 and attended the medical School at the University of Michigan. Dr. Harris was united in marriage at Carlinville, Illinois to Louisa Braley on Oct 28, 1868, practiced in that State for 17 years and in 1885 removed to Beatrice, Nebraska in order to recuperate lost health. Here, he occupied a conspicuous place and exercised an important influence in society and business circles. He was a successful practitioner, a progressive physician and a good surgeon; he kept abreast of current practices via post graduate courses in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. Dr. William Johnson Harris died at Beatrice on Jan 26, 1901 aged 60 years 28 days.

Harris, William Johnston
Dr.
-1901

William Harris was born in Frankford. He received his academic education at Victoria University and his medical education partially at Ann Arbor, Michigan, but finally graduated at the Rush Medical College of Chicago, and later at Long Island College Hospital. He became a permanent resident of the United States in 1868 and entered upon the practice of medicine at Berlin, Illinois and afterwards practiced for one year at Piasa, Illinois. In 1884, he removed to Madona and, in 1885, to Beatrice, Nebraska. Dr. Harris died in Nebraska on January 26, 1901, aged 60 years 1 month.

Harris, Robert Burrows
Dr.
1880-1949

Robert Burrows Harris was born at Charlottetown, P.E.I. on Feb 27, 1880 son of Rev. John Harris and Elizabeth Heard. A graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1903, Dr Harris first hung his shingle at Campbellford, Ontario where he remained a year and then left to become camp doctor in a number of lumber camps near Blind River and then Magnetawan, Ontario. In 1911 he moved to Copper Cliff where he served the International Nickel Company Hospital and the Sudbury district for 35 years. Dr Harris served with the Royal Canadian Army Corps in England, France, Belgium and Germany in W.W. 1 administering to the wounded on the battlefronts of Europe. He remained a bachelor. Dr Robert Burrows Harris died in Toronto on Aug 14, 1949 aged 69 years 5 months 17 days.

Harrison, Edgar D. Dr.
-1917

Edgar D. Harrison was born near Glenora and graduated as a teacher from the Ottawa Normal School. He became Principal of the public school at Moira; however, three years later, he entered Queen's University as a student of medicine and graduated in 1891. Dr. Harrison at once went into practice at Madoc where he remained until his death on March 4, 1917, aged 51 years 10 months 4 days.

Harrison, William Thomas
Dr.
1846-1925

William Thomas Harrison was born at Morpeth, Kent County, Ontario on February 28, 1846, son of Edmund Brailsford Harrison and Mary Sailsbury; the father of our subject was born at sea on board the S.S. Brailsford off the Cape of Good Hope. He was a student of medicine at Victoria College from which he graduated in 1869. He was married to Jane Nixon on September 28, 1871. Dr. Harrison established himself at Keene, Ontario where he followed his life's work for over fifty years. Dr. William Thomas Harrison was the oldest living graduate of Victoria College at the time of his death on July 25, 1925, aged 79 years, 4 months and 27 days.

Hart, Vincent Orlando Dr.
1912-2008

Vincent Orlando Hart was born at Roblin, Ontario on April 21, 1912 son of Wilson Hart and Ada Bradshaw. He attended Queen's University and graduated in medicine in 1938. Dr. Hart spent some time in the practice of his profession at Napanee and was united in marriage to Anna Wilson on June 19, 1944. He removed to New Rochelle, New York where he was associated with the General Hospital and later, lived the retired life in Florida. Dr. Vincent Orlando Hart died at New Smyrna Beach, Volusia County, Florida on September 10, 2008 aged 96 years 4 months 19 days.

Harvie, Fred Herbert Dr.

Fred Herbert Harvie was born at Coldwater, Ontario on June 12, 1907 son of Dr. Robert Harvie and Edna Buchanan. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1930 and was established in Belleville, Ontario in general practice. He then took post graduate training in paediatrics and was certified by the American Board of Paediatrics in 1939. Dr. Harvie was the author of several medical texts and served on staff of the Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Harvie was united in marriage to Sascha Patterson on October 15, 1953. He established a fund to support a faculty member who had an impact on reducing tension between people of different faiths and cultural backgrounds. Dr. Fred Herbert Harvie died at Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania on August 22, 2006 aged 99 years 2 months 10 days.

Haskins, James Dr.
-1845

James Haskins was born in Dublin, Ireland and was a graduate of Trinity College, Dublin; Bachelor of Arts in 1824. He entered the study of medicine in 1833 at Dublin and obtained a degree in medicine. He appeared before the Medical Board of Upper Canada and received his license to practice on August 25, 1834. Initially at Belleville, Dr. Haskins removed to Yarker's Mills, Loughborough Township in 1837. He was a talented writer and wrote many poems, but the death of his wife in childbirth sent him into a downward spiral. He moved to Frankford, heartsick and health spent. He was acquainted with Susanna Moodie who related that he had fallen victim to that insidious enemy of souls, Canadian whisky. There is possibly truth to the story that he entered into an agreement with another dissipated physician to drink until they were both dead. (It is known that Dr. David Stewart Souter died at Frankford September 23, 1845). His poems, The Poetical Works of James Haskins was published posthumously. On learning of his death, Susanna Moody wrote: "Neglected son of genius; Thou has past in broken hearted loneliness away". Dr. Haskins died in Frankford on October 10, 1845, aged 40.

Hawley, Harold Heber Dr.
-1898

Harold Heber Hawley was born at Trenton and received his medical education and the degree of Medical Doctor from Trinity University in 1885. At the final examinations Hawley took the Trinity College Gold Medal and was considered one of the brightest of the young physicians. After graduating, Dr. Hawley practiced for some time in Colborne and Trenton. After about ten years, he went to Canoe Lake in Algonquin, where he acted as Surgeon to the Gilmour Company, who had large mills at that place. Dr. Hawley died of pneumonia at Algonquin Park on October 4, 1898, aged 36 years 6 months 15 days.

Hayden, Anson Dr.
-1842

Anson Hayden was a United Empire Loyalist who settled in Thurlow about 1798. He studied medicine in New York and located near Belleville where he was the only physician in the area until the arrival of Dr. Henry Smith in 1817. His house served as an office and also an inn and was the nucleus of the village of Hayden's Corners. The village was renamed Corbyville about 1882 when it was granted a post office. In 1819, he presented his credentials to the Medical Board of Upper Canada at York, to obtain a license to practice physic and surgery, however, he failed. He continued to practice and built up a large clientele. He was active in politics and held reform meetings in the early 1830s at Hayden's Inn. In 1837, Dr. Hayden and several other prominent citizens suspected of radical reform views were arrested by local militia, charged with treason and taken under armed guard to the Kingston jail. Soon after his release he fled the country. Dr. Hayden died in Savannah, Georgia on June 29, 1842, aged 51 years 6 months 25 days.

Hayden, William Edgar Dr.
-1950

William Edgar Hayden was born at Cobourg, educated in the town primary and secondary schools and at Victoria College; he took his medical training at McGill University graduating in 1897. He started practice in Roseneath where he organized the Roseneath Rural Telephone Company; he removed to Cobourg in 1910 and continued his extensive practice. He was the first local doctor to use insulin in the early 1920s; "Dr. Hayden's Stomach Medicine" was his secret remedy and was known world wide with an order even received from the Vatican. He had a fascination with the Roseneath Fair which he attended for 50 consecutive years; it was here that he caught a cold which exacerbated his failing health. Dr. Hayden died at Toronto on November 1, 1950, aged 77 years 11 months 28 days.

Heaslip, Andrew W. Dr.
-1951

Andrew W. Heaslip was a native of Welland, Ontario and graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1892. He immediately established himself in Hillsdale, Ontario and after eight years, removed to Picton. Here, he was active in civic affairs and, in 1911, served on Town Council representing the Citizen's League; in 1917, he was elected Mayor. He was involved in the planning of the Prince Edward County Hospital and served on the Hospital Board. On the occasion of his 50th year in practice, the Prince Edward Medical Association presented him with a gold-headed, ebony cane. Dr. Heaslip died in Picton on November 27, 1951, aged 91 years 11 months 8 days.

Helliwell, Paul Vaughan
Dr.
1887-1969

Paul Vaughan Helliwell was born at Toronto, Ontario on September 25, 1887, son of Grant Helliwell and Anna Maria Fitzsimmons. He received his Medical Degree at the University of Toronto in 1911 and spent ten years as a Medical Missionary with the Anglican Church in China. Dr. Helliwell was a veteran of both World Wars serving with the Canadian Artillery and rose to the rank of Captain. After his missionary work, he returned to Ontario and practised medicine at Consecon, Foxboro, Stirling, Springbrook, Arden, Verona, Sydenham and Hepworth, retiring to Burlington in 1965. Dr. Paul Vaughan Helliwell died on September 8, 1969, aged 81 years, 11 months and 13 days.

Henderson, Edward Guy
Dr.
-1877

Edward Henderson was a native of Belleville and in 1874, at the age of only 21, took the degree of Medicinae Doctorae, Chirurgiae Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery) at McGill College. He went to England and took his Member of Royal College of Surgeons Degree, England in 1875 and Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh. He then crossed the ocean as Surgeon of the steamship Thames. Afterwards he was appointed Surgeon on the Duke of Lancaster steamship to Bombay. Returning in 1877, he came to New York as Surgeon of the Egypt and returned to Liverpool on the same vessel. He, finally, returned to establish his profession in Belleville where he worked in association with Dr. Dorland. Dr. Henderson died in Belleville on July 3, 1877, aged 23 years 8 months 19 days.

Henderson, James Dr.
-1906

James Henderson was born near Warkworth and graduated from McGill University in 1892. He practiced at Grafton and removed to Cobourg where he worked in association, with Dr. Douglas for four years. Dr. Henderson died while on a sick call; driving over a railroad crossing his vehicle was struck by a train, killing him, instantly, on December 21, 1906, aged 40 years 2 months 28 days.

Henderson, Ernest Malan
Dr.
1883-1950

Ernest Malan Henderson was born at Cobourg, Ontario on Feb 23, 1883 son of Joseph Henderson and Annie Ewart and brother of Dr Velyien Henderson. He attended Upper Canada College, graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1907 and later did post graduate work in London. Dr Henderson was united in marriage to Mary Clarkson on Oct 6, 1909. Dr Henderson served on the board of governors of Upper Canada College, the York Club, the Toronto Hunt Club and he was president of the Toronto Academy of Medicine. He was for some time associated with the Confederation Life Insurance Company as medical director and assumed full time duties in 1945. Dr Ernest Malan Henderson died at Toronto on May 7, 1950 aged 67 years 2 months 14 days.

Henderson, Velyien Ewart
Dr.
1879-1945

Velyien Ewart Henderson was born at Cobourg, Ontario on June 27, 1879, a brother of the previously chronicled Dr E M Henderson. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1902 and took post graduate study in Pennsylvania and abroad. Dr Henderson became a professor and investigator of pharmacology with the University of Toronto. He was united in marriage to Edith Smissen on Dec 21, 1911 and went overseas during W.W. 1. Dr Henderson was president of the American Society of Experimental Biology and the Canadian Physiological Association and in 1944 he was awarded the Flavelle Medal by the Royal Society of Canada. The long list of publications from his department indicates the quality and interest of his work. Dr Velyien Ewart Henderson died at Go Home Bay, Ontario on Aug 6, 1945 aged 66 years 1 month 9 days.

Hendrick, Arthur Clinton
Dr.
1874-1940

Arthur Clinton Hendrick was born of United Empire Loyalist stock at Trenton, on September 11, 1874, son of Wilmot Allen Hendrick and Janet Gunn. He received his elementary education at Owen Sound and proceeded to the University of Toronto with a Blake Scholarship in General Proficiency. After his graduation in 1900, he took postgraduate work at King's College, London and at the University of Edinburgh. He was a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh in Scotland and the American College of Surgeons. For some time he was a Senator of the University of Toronto; he held a commission in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. Dr. Hendrick married Louise Stuart Housinger on August 22, 1917. He was interested in the subject of cancer and helped develop a colloidal suspension of metallic arsenic in the treatment of certain forms of this disease. Dr. A. C. Hendrick died at Toronto on August 1, 1940, aged 65 years, 10 months and 20 days.

Henry, Everett William Dr.
1895-1944

Everett William Henry was born at Warkworth, Ontario on October 5, 1895 son of William Henry and Alice Cummings. He served with the Canadian Army in Mesopotamia in the early part of World War 1 and later transferred to the Royal Naval Air Service as a flight instructor. Following the war, he studied medicine and was a graduate at Queen's University in 1923; he interned at Hamilton General Hospital, Lying-In Hospital, New York and Cook County Hospital, Chicago. He was united in marriage to Helen Thompson on November 13, 1926. Dr. Everett William Henry established himself at Niagara Falls, New York in 1925 where he remained until his death on March 30, 1944 aged 48 years 5 months and 25 days.

Henry, George Arnold Dr.
1908-1992

George Arnold Henry was born at Warkworth, Ontario on March 23, 1908 son of William Henry and Alice Cummings. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1931 and took post graduate work in Ear, Nose and Throat medicine. Dr. Henry was united in marriage to Olef Eulalie Woodcroft on February 11, 1937. He established himself in the practice of his profession at Ottawa and served as secretary and president of the Canadian Otolaryngological Society. Dr. George Arnold Henry died on June 9, 1992 aged 84 years 2 months 16 days.

Henry, Walter Dr.
-1860

Walter Henry was born in Donegal, Ireland. He received his education at Trinity College, Dublin and also studied at St. George's, Guy's and St. Thomas' Hospitals. In 1811, he entered the 66th Regiment of the British Army at the age of 20 with his Royal College of Surgeons Degree, England, as a hospital assistant and surgeon. He served in the Peninsular War under the Duke of Wellington and was also with the 66th while on duty at the Island of St. Helena, and was present at the post mortem upon Napoleon Bonaparte. While at St. Helena, he often met the Emperor who took a keen interest in his surgical learning and skill. While there, Dr. Henry performed one of the first tracheotomies ever attempted. Dr. Henry was stationed in Canada in 1827, and, in 1834, was attached to the small Kingston Army Corps. He worked with Dr. Geddes during the cholera outbreak of that year, the latter succumbing to the disease at the age of 59. Dr. Henry rose through the various grades of the services until he was appointed Staff Surgeon in 1839 and Deputy Inspector General of Hospitals for Canada in 1845 and Inspector General in 1852. Dr. Henry retired in 1856 at Belleville and died on June 27, 1860, aged 69 years 5 months 26 days.

Henry, Walter James Dr.
-1874

Walter James Henry was the eldest son of Dr. Walter Henry and a graduate of McGill College in 1856. He soon established himself in Belleville where, for a time, he worked in partnership with Dr. Lister. Dr. W. J. Henry removed to Ottawa where he died on Sept 2, 1874, aged 37.

Herrington, Anthony
Wood Dr.
-1881

Anthony Wood Herrington was a native of Ameliasburgh and a graduate of Queen's Medical School in 1881. He decided to go to Manitoba following graduation, to practice his profession; however, he was thrown from his horse on June 24, 1881. Dr. Herrington died at Carmen City, Manitoba on June 26, 1881, aged 25 years 3 days.

Herrington, Willet Jeremiah Dr.
-1920

Willet Jeremiah Herrington was born near Picton and received his primary education in the public schools of Belleville and at Albert College. He attended Queen's University and went to Michigan for his professional studies where he graduated in 1882 from the medical department of the University of Michigan. He began practice at Grindstone City, in Huron County and for 15 years this was home. In 1898, to accommodate a growing practice, Dr. Herrington moved to Bad Axe, Michigan. Dr. Herrington died there of pneumonia, following the flu, on February 10, 1920, aged 63 years 11 months 18 days.

Hershey, John Harold Dr.
1897-1949

John Harold Hershey was born at Owen Sound, Ontario on July 12, 1897 son of Dr. John Hershey and Annie Johnston. He attended the public school and Collegiate Institute there and served overseas with the Royal Canadian Artillery in the First World War. He was a graduate of the medical school at the University of Toronto with the class of 1924; Dr. Hershey was united in marriage to Louisa Smith on June 6, 1925. Dr. Hershey practised for some time at Roseneath, Ontario before moving to the United States. He was a fellow of the American College of Surgery, was on the faculty of the St. Louis University School of Medicine, on the staffs of St. Louis University Hospitals and Firmin Desloge Hospital, and served as professor of surgery at the University of Oregon. Dr. John Harold Hershey died at Roseburg, Oregon on March 6, 1949 aged 51 years 7 months and 24 days.

Hickey, Charles Erastus
Dr.
-1908

Charles Erastus Hickey was born in Williamsburg, Dundas County, Ontario. He graduated in Arts at Victoria University and in Medicine at McGill College in 1866; he was valedictorian of his class. He soon established himself in the practice of his profession in Belleville, setting up an office on Front Street. Later, he removed to Morrisburg and was Inspector of Common Schools of the Township of Winchester for two years and Examiner of Common School teachers for Dundas County for two years. Dr. Hickey was elected to the House of Commons in 1882 and reelected in 1887, where he sat as a member until the dissolution of the 6th Parliament in 1891. Afterwards, he was appointed Superintendent of the Williamsburg Canals which appointment he held until the change of Government in 1897. He, later, became Medical Superintendent of the Asylum for the Insane at Cobourg. Dr. Hickey died in Cobourg on September 19, 1908, aged 68 years 5 months 25 days.

Hicks, Everett Sayers Dr.
1875-1957

Everett Sayers Hicks was born at Wellington, Ontario on November 21, 1875, son of David Hicks and Mary Ann Sayers. He was a graduate in medicine of the University of Toronto in 1896 and did post-graduate work in England and the United States. He was united in marriage, first to Alice Allan on July 7, 1897 and also, on June 29, 1925, to Florence Irving. He spent a short time at Deseronto, Ontario, before establishing himself at Brantford. Dr. Hicks founded the Brantford Clinic in 1922 and practiced surgery at the Brantford General Hospital, the Willett Hospital in Paris, Ontario, the Norfolk General and Tilsonburg Memorial Hospitals. Dr. Everett Sayers Hicks died on October 28, 1957, aged 81 years 11 months and 7 days.

Hicks, Jacob Smith Dr.
1868-1932

Jacob Smith Hicks was born at Colborne, Ontario on Aug 3, 1868 son of Henry Hicks and Sarah Smith. He was a graduate of Trinity Medical College in 1891 and was united in marriage to Mary Ashton on July 1, 1893. Dr. Hicks established himself at Red Deer, Alberta where he remained for 5 years before removing to Allegany, N.Y. where he practiced for 35 years. In addition to his general practice, he operated a drug store, served as officer of health, kept up with post graduate work in New York City and was active in the Modern Woodmen of America. Dr. Jacob Smith Hicks retired in 1931 due to declining health and died at Allegany on Jan 26, 1932 aged 63 years 5 months 23 days.

Hicks, Merlin Willard Dr.
1912-1969

Merlin Willard Hicks was born at South Bay, Prince Edward County on March 16, 1912 son of George Hicks and Sarah Hudgin. He was educated in 'The County' and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1936; Dr. Hicks was united in marriage to Rita Walsh on May 9, 1940. He took post graduate work in urology and established himself in the practice of his profession at Sherbrooke, Quebec. Dr. Merlin Willard Hicks died at Sherbrooke on November 14, 1969 aged 57 years 7 months 28 days.

Higginbotham, Andrew
Dr.
-1880

Andrew Higginbotham was born at Cortubber, Cavan County, Ireland. He began his studies at an early age and, at 17, passed his examination at Apothecaries Hall, Dublin. In 1837, he moved to Hamilton, Ontario where he engaged in the drug trade, which he carried on for some time. In 1859, he entered Victoria College and three years later graduated at the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Kingston. He established himself at Bridgewater until 1876 when he removed to Belleville. Dr. Higginbotham developed a rupture, brought on by over exertion in stowing away a load of hay. A Kingston Surgeon, Dr. Sullivan, assisted by a corps of local physicians, operated without success; Dr. Higginbotham died post-operatively on February 22, 1880, aged 61 years 5 months 25 days.

Higginbotham, William
Dr.
-1914

William Higginbotham was a native of Ontario and son of Dr. Andrew Higginbotham. He was raised in Bridgewater (Actinolite), attended Queen's Medical School and graduated in 1871. He returned to Bridgewater, moving to Omemee, then Brantford, where he remained, except for a few years spent at Walkerton. He followed his profession, but was active in the pharmaceutical business of conducting a prosperous druggist business in Brantford. Dr. Higginbotham died in Brantford on December 15, 1914, aged 66 years 4 months.

Hill, Frederick William Dr.
1879-1936

Frederick William Hill was born at Bearbrook, Ontario on Feb 17, 1879 son of Alford Hill and Alice Walsh. He received his education at Vankleek Hill Collegiate and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1903. Dr Hill spent a few years as ships surgeon with the Booth Line, traveling on liners from England to South America before returning to Canada; he was united in marriage to Lulu White on Aug 26, 1907. Dr Hill set up practice at Burritts Rapids and then Roslin, Ontario for 12 years removing to Belleville where he was a well known member of the medical community. In 1931 he sold his practice to Dr R A Flynn due to health reasons and retired to Ottawa. Dr Frederick William Hill died on Feb 25, 1936 aged 57 years 8 days.

Hillier, Riel Dr.
1866-1938

Riel Hillier was born at Bath, Ontario on Nov 5, 1866 son of David Hillier and Elizabeth Rolton. He studied medicine at Victoria College, participated in the North West Rebellion in 1885 and graduated with the medical class of 1886. Dr. Hillier established himself at Wheatley, Ontario, was united in marriage to Cora Wigle on Jan 9, 1889 and removed to Leamington in 1892 where he remained for the duration. He was a member of the First Hussars, participated in the Coronation of King George V in 1911 and in 1915 enlisted for duty in W.W. 1 where he saw action on 3 fronts; he retired with the rank of Major. Dr. Riel Hillier died at Leamington on Jan 19, 1938 aged 71 years 2 months 14 days.

Hillier, Soloman
Cartwright Dr.
1843-1924

Soloman Cartwright Hillier was born at Odessa, Ontario on April 8, 1843, son of William Hillier and Martha Chatterson. He was a Graduate of Queen's University Medical School in 1869 and practiced in Enniskillen and Bowmanville, Ontario. He was married on April 28, 1873 to Margaret Young. Dr. Hillier served as Mayor of Bowmanville from 1913 to 1915. Here, he had a magnificent home on the corner of Lowe and Beech Streets, a distinctive edifice intended to be a great improvement to the area with modern heating and water facilities. Dr. Soloman Cartwright died as the oldest practitioner in Bowmanville on February 5, 1924, aged 80 years, 9 months and 26 days.

Hillier, William Dr.
1828-1871

William Hillier was the older brother of Dr. S. C. Hillier and was born at Odessa in 1828. He was a student at Trinity College in Toronto and was one of the earliest graduates in medicine at Queen's College where he attained his degree in 1855. He established himself at Enniskillen, where he was one of the earliest physicians. He practiced very successfully there and enjoyed a wide spread reputation. By his kindness, skill and attention, he had won for himself many warm friends among his patients, and was highly respected by his fellow practitioners. He was succeeded by his brother, who inherited the name and reputation of the older brother. Dr. William Hillier died in August 1871, aged 43 years.

Hobart, Matthew Thornton Dr.
1844-1871

Matthew Thornton Hobart was born on Sept 1, 1844 at Cobourg, Ontario son of Matthew Hobart and Helen Williams. The father of our subject was a native of New Hampshire and a cabinet maker by trade. Dr. Matthew Hobart took his degree in medicine from Harvard, Boston, Ma. in 1866 where his thesis was on the subject of Pneumonia. During the American Civil War he had served as Assistant Army Surgeon and saw duty in South Carolina and Georgia. After graduation, Dr. Hobart went to Oil City, Pennsylvania and thence to Cleveland, Ohio where he remained until his health required him to return to his native town in 1870; he was united in marriage to Jane Ough. Dr. Matthew Thornton Hobart died at Cobourg on Apr 21, 1871 aged 26 years 7 months 20 days.

Hobson, Walter Joseph
Dr.
1894-1970

Walter Joseph Hobson was born at Milford, Ontario on November 23, 1894 son of Norman Hobson and Josephine Delaney. He attended public school at Milford and was the gold medalist at Picton Collegiate High School. He graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1921 and was united in marriage to Anna Purtelle on June 30, 1924. He practised in Perth for 23 years then moved to Lanark and in 1948 set up practice in Calabogie where he remained for the duration. He was a true country doctor, having treated hundreds of patients without fee. Dr. Hobson was on the school board, served as president of the Lions Club and chairman of the school board. He was on staff of the Victoria Hospital in Calabogie and was still in practice after 49 years. Dr. Walter Joseph Hobson died at Calabogie on July 17, 1970 aged 75 years 7 months and 24 days.

Holdcroft, Donald James
Dr.
1898-1987

Donald James Holdcroft was born at Havelock, Ontario on August 15, 1898 son of Dr. Joseph Holdcroft and Beatrice Roe. He was a Veteran of World War 1 and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1924; Dr. Holdcroft was united in marriage to Hazel Adams on December 23, 1924. He interned at the Coney Island Hospital, Mineola Long Island Hospital, Greystone Park Mental Hospital and Columbus Hospital in New York. He then returned to Havelock to practice in association with his father. Still in active practice in 1984, he sold the house he was born in and from which he treated countless patients. Dr. Donald Joseph Holdcroft died at Peterborough on April 16, 1987 aged 88 years 8 months and 1 day.

Holdcroft, Joseph Dr.
-1949

Joseph Holdcroft was a graduate of the Royal Medical School, Kingston and later at Queen's University in 1889. He was a leader in appendectomies during the late 1890s, when the world was beginning to realize what they formerly called inflammation of the bowels was actually appendicitis. By 1898, when he went to Havelock, he had successfully performed 125 appendectomies. At Havelock he served for 50 years as family physician, surgeon and friend, often enduring hardships attending patients in the days of the horse and buggy. Dr. Holdcroft was an active outdoorsman and an avid fisherman. In the early 1900s, he started stocking every stream within 12 miles of Havelock with Government trout fingerlings. Additionally, he had his own private trout stream where he enjoyed family outings and caught trophy trout. Dr. Holdcroft died on January 9, 1949, aged 82 years 24 days.

Holdcroft, William
Thomas Dr.
-1899

William Thomas Holdcroft was a graduate in Arts and Medicine of Queen's University. He became a Medical Doctor in 1890, and after practicing for some years in Deseronto, he removed to Tweed. Dr. Holdcroft died in the Woodstock General Hospital as a result of accidentally falling off a train on December 11, 1899 a few miles from Woodstock. Death came on December 11, 1899, aged 34 years 11 months 16 days.

Holden, Donald Booth Dr.
-1928

Donald Booth Holden was born in Belleville. He was educated at McGill University from which institution he graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in 1889 and a Medicinae Doctorae, Chirurgiae Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery) in 1891. He settled in Victoria, British Columbia, where he followed the practice of his profession for the duration. Dr. Holden died as a result of a plane crash while en route to Seattle, on August 25, 1928, aged 60 years 10 months 12 days.

Holden, Rufus Dr.
-1876

Rufus Holden was born in Augusta Township, County of Grenville. He received his early education at Ogdensburg, New York. In 1835, he began Holden's Drug Store, the forerunner of the present Geen's Drug Store. He later pursued the study of medicine at the Pennsylvania College at Philadelphia, and received the degree of Medical Doctor in 1842. He then engaged in practice at Belleville, but subsequently took a post-graduate course at McGill University in 1844. He presented his credentials and became a Licentiate on June 8, 1844. Dr. Holden was on the Board of Visitors to Albert College during its initial year, 1857. He was a member of the Town Council for five years and Mayor of Belleville in 1864. Dr. Holden practiced medicine in Belleville for 34 years. He was active up to the time of his death; he became ill while making a house call some two weeks prior to his death. Dr. Holden died of inflammation of the lungs on March 30, 1876, aged 67 years 2 months 14 days.

Hope, William Dr.
-1894

William Hope was born near Belfast, County Antrim, Ireland; his family removed to Kingston in 1822. He graduated from Fairfield Medical College, New York, in 1838 having apprenticed with Dr. Anderson and Dr. Sampson of Kingston for more than 4 years. Upon graduation, he settled in Belleville and practiced his profession for 43 years. For several years, Dr. Hope was a member of the Board of Police and in 1846-47 was a member of the Village Council. He was appointed Surgeon to the 2nd Battalion of Hastings Militia in 1847. Following the incorporation of Belleville as a town in 1850, he again stood for public office and represented Samson Ward from 1856-59, becoming Mayor in 1860. Dr. Hope was interested in education and was a School Trustee for many years. He was instrumental in the introduction of the free school system into Belleville, the first municipality in which it was established in Upper Canada. He was appointed Surgeon to the County Jail; he served on the Board of Visitors of Albert College at its opening in 1857. Dr. Hope was Surgeon to the Ontario School for the Deaf at its opening in 1870 and continued so for a decade. He was President of the Belleville Medical Society from its inception in 1868 and was a member of the Board of Examiners of the Medical Council for 1871-72. In later years, he was appointed Sheriff of the County of Hastings which position he held from 1881 until his death. Dr. Hope died in Belleville on November 28, 1894, aged 79 years 10 months 20 days.

Horkins, Harold Albert Dr.
1902-1959

Harold Albert Horkins was born at Campbellford on July 27, 1902 son of Thomas Horkins and Johanna Mahoney. He was an athletic youth starring in lacrosse and hockey, graduated from Campbellford High School and from the University of Toronto in medicine in 1928; he was the younger brother of Dr. Richard Earl Horkins chronicled earlier. He specialized in surgery, was certified by the National Board of Medical Examiners and soon established himself at Grosse Point, Detroit, Michigan where he was associated with St. Mary's and Holy Cross Hospitals; in 1948 he was qualified as a coroner. Dr. Harold Albert Horkins died at Detroit on January 11, 1959 aged 56 years 5 months and 14 days.

Horkins, Richard Earl Dr.
1890-1916

Richard Earl Horkins was born at Campbellford, Ontario on December 9, 1890, son of Thomas Horkins and Joanna Mahoney. He was educated at the local classrooms and graduated from the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1912; he followed by being House Surgeon at St. Michael's Hospital and joined the Royal Army Medical Corps shortly after the outbreak of the War. Upon his arrival in England, he was attached to the Royal Irish Fusiliers and later attached as Medical Officer to the 77th Howitzer Brigade in France. He served in the Loos and Hill 60 Acres and through the Semme Campaign. Shortly after the capture of Combles, as he was passing through the town with two other men, a shell struck and killed all three. Captain Horkins was in the trenches ten months when he met his death. Dr. Richard Earl Horkins died on September 27, 1916, aged 25 years, 9 months and 18 days.

Horner, Charlotte Marion
Dr.
1913-1993

Charlotte Marion Horner was born at Toronto, Ontario on September 15, 1913 daughter of Herbert Horner and Violet Harvey. She was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1939 and subsequently took post graduate training in public health. Dr. Horner served with the Royal Canadian Air Force in Gander and Halifax during World War 11 and attained the rank of Flight Lieutenant. In 1945 she was appointed medical officer of health for Northumberland Durham Health Unit situated in Campbellford. She removed to Cobourg in 1952 and continued her work until her retirement in 1974; she was the first full time medical officer of health in Ontario. Dr. Horner maintained a farm Charbrook, north of Cobourg until 1989. Dr. Charlotte Marion Horner died at Cobourg on May 21, 1993 aged 79 years 8 months 6 days.

Horton, Elijah Maitland
Dr.
1882-1960

Elijah Maitland Horton was born at Wooler, Ontario on September 14, 1882, son of Reverend Gilbert Horton and Cassie Clarke. He attended the local classrooms, then Albert College and taught school for five years before entering into the Study of Medicine with the Class of 1910 at the University of Toronto. He took post-graduate work in New York, practised at Bracebridge, Thornton, Owen Sound and settled at Enterprise where he completed his service of five decades in practice. He was united in marriage on July 15, 1933 to Idelle Woodruff. Dr. Elijah Maitland Horton died on September 18, 1960, aged 78 years and 4 days.

Hoskin, Joseph Barzella
Dr.
1850-1906

Joseph Barzella Hoskin was born at Cobourg, Ontario on November 21, 1850 son of Henry and Elizabeth Hoskin. He received his early education in Cobourg and graduated with his medical degree from the University of Michigan in 1875 following which he took post graduate work in New York City. Dr. Hoskin was united in marriage to Elsie Dora Barclay on July 10, 1879 and established himself at Grand Rapids, Michigan where he remained for the duration. Dr. Joseph Barzella Hoskin died on July 10, 1906 aged 55 years 7 months 19 days.

Houston, David Henry Dr.
1880-1959

David Henry Houston was born at Belleville on November 28, 1880, son of John Gordon Houston and Sarah Jane Vivian. He received his early education at the old Albert College, going on to Queen's University to get his Degree in Medicine in 1903. As a young doctor, he relieved Dr. Hudson of Roslin when he went to Scotland for a year and, also, Dr. Mather of Tweed who went to New York for six months. Dr. Houston trained as an Obstetrician and practiced his profession at Seattle, Washington, from 1906, for over 50 years. He had served as President of the King County Medical and the Seattle Obstetrical Societies. He was a trustee of the Virginia Mason Hospital and Chief of Obstetrics at Virginia Mason and Harborview County Hospitals. He was a Past-President and Permanent Chairman of the American Medical Golfing Association. He was cited for his civilian work in the Second World War and was active in the Community Chest fund-raising campaigns. Dr. D. H. Houston died at Seattle on August 4, 1959, aged 78 years, 8 months and 6 days.

Houston, John Alexander
Dr.
1883-1967

John Alexander Houston was born at Belleville, Ontario on April 22, 1883, son of John Gordon Houston and Sarah Jane Vivian. He was a graduate of the 'old' Albert College, then located on College Street, and entered into the Study of Medicine with the Class of 1910 at Queen's University. He soon established himself at Vancouver, British Columbia and enlisted at the time of World War I with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. After his discharge, he was united in marriage to Maggie Pyper on June 20, 1919; returned to Vancouver and practised there for forty-five years. He died at the Shaughnessy Military Hospital, British Columbia. Dr. John Alexander Houston died on November 27, 1967, aged 84 years, 7 months and 5 days.

Houston, Major David Walker Dr.
1857-1935

David Walker Houston was born at Belleville, Ontario on August 14, 1857 son of David and Rhoda Houston. He attended the local schools and was a graduate of McGill Medical School in 1881; he was united in marriage to Mary Ann Roberts on June 14, 1883 at Shannonville. The couple removed to Cohoes, New York where he began his medical practice, served as police surgeon and was a member of the local board of health. Dr. Houston later established himself at Troy, New York where he was on staff of the Troy Hospital for 42 years. He was a former major in the 21st Separate Company, otherwise known as Tibbitts Cadets. Dr. David Walker Houston died on September 11, 1935 aged 78 years 27 days.

Howard, Frank Ernest Dr.
1870-1934

Frank Ernest Howard was born in Belleville on September 7, 1870, son of Reverend Erastus Howard and Almena Mallory. He received his early education in Clinton, Ontario and Belleville schools, and prepared for college at Albert College in Belleville. He later completed a course of study at Victoria University and studied medicine at Trinity Medical College, where he was a member of the class of 1894. Following graduation, he remained in Canada for two years and, in 1896, located at Lackawaxen, Pennsylvania. In 1898, he removed to Friendship, N.Y. and remained there for ten years, then Cuba, N.Y. for eleven years and finally to Olean N.Y. in 1919. Here he took an active interest in civic affairs and fraternal organizations and was a member of the staff at Higgins Memorial Hospital and a director of the Olean Times-Herald. Dr. Frank Ernest Howard died on July 3, 1934, aged 63 years, 9 months and 26 days.

Howell, George W. Dr.
-1899

George Howell of Brighton was a graduate of Queen's University in 1867. He first practiced in Tweed and later in his home town for several years before removing to Rochester, New York where he followed the practice of his profession for the duration. Dr. Howell died at Rochester on August 11, 1899, aged 70.

Howell, Harry B. Dr.
1864-1914

Harry B. Howell of Brighton was born in Tweed on January 24, 1864; and moved with his family to Rochester, New York. He was a graduate of the Buffalo Medical College and practiced his profession in Rochester. He was a member of the Monroe County Medical Society, and was active in the Foresters of America and the Masonic fraternity. During the summer months, he maintained a residence at Presqu ile. Dr. Howell died at Rochester on February 6, 1914, aged 50.

Hubbs, Henry Alva
McDonnell Dr.
1845-1887

Henry Alva McDonnell Hubbs was born at Picton in July 9, 1845, son of John Hubbs and Matilda McDonnell. He was educated locally and studied medicine at Queen's University where he received his degree in 1877. Dr. Henry Alva McDonnell Hubbs followed the practice of his profession at Brighton, Ontario, where he died of consumption on May 7, 1887, aged 41 years, 9 months and 28 days.

Hudson, Charles Henry
Dr.
1873-1937

Charles Henry Hudson was born on Aug 2, 1873 at Roslin, Ontario son of Charles Hudson and Mary Burleigh. He was a graduate of medicine from Queen's University in 1896, then immigrated to Laporte, Michigan and was united in marriage on Dec 22, 1897 to Mary Chamberlain. After several years there, Dr. Hudson removed to Saginaw, Mi.; in W.W. 1, he enlisted in the Canadian Over-Seas Expeditionary Force. On Oct 15, 1922 Dr. Hudson was arrested, in Saginaw, on a warrant charging illegal sales of narcotics. Dr. Charles Henry Hudson died at Hamilton, Ontario on Feb 2, 1937 aged 63 years 6 months.

Hudson, Samuel T. Dr.
-1920

Samuel T. Hudson was born in Roslin and was a graduate of medicine from Victoria College in 1871. He initially practiced at Melrose, Tweed and Shannonville, but settled in Roslin where he followed his profession for 41 years. Dr. Hudson died at Roslin on August 11, 1920, aged 77 years 26 days.

Huff, Reginald Grieve Dr.
1902-1951

Reginald Grieve Huff was born at Campbellford, Ontario on November 12, 1902 son of Edward Huff and Minto Grieve. He was a graduate of medicine at the University of Toronto with the class of 1926; he was united in marriage to Martha O'Brian on October 27, 1927. Dr. Huff was a member of the American Medical Association and became owner of the Wayne Clinic in Wayne, Michigan. The Nankin Hospital was built as the Wayne Clinic for Dr. Huff and opened in 1932. The building continued as a hospital until a circuit court judge ordered its 1973 owner to discontinue keeping overnight patients. Dr. Reginald Grieve Huff died in Lexington, Kentucky of a heart attack on June 28, 1951 aged 48 years 7 months and 16 days.

Huffman, Freeman Garrett Dr.
1873-1962

Freeman Garrett Huffman was born at Napanee, Ontario on January 1, 1873, son of Thomas Huffman and Mary Raymore. The father of our subject was a pharmacist at Napanee and was involved in the drug business there and in the United States. Freeman G. Huffman was a student of medicine at Queen's University where he attained his degree in 1897; in his final year he stood at the head of his class. He was married to Jennie Craig at Kingston on November 2, 1898. Dr. Huffman established himself at Fulton, New York, where he remained until 1905 when he removed to Wheatland, Wyoming, where he built up his practice and was proprietor of Pioneer Pharmacy, which was operated by his father. Dr. Freeman Garrett Huffman lived the retired life at Los Angeles, California, where he died on July 12, 1962, aged 89 years, 6 months and 11 days.

Huffman, Ralph Waldron
Dr.
1873-1926

Ralph Waldron Huffman was born at Bath, Ontario on September 27, 1873, son of Cyrus Huffman and Angeline Miller. He received his schooling at the Napanee Collegiate and attended Queen's University where he graduated with his Medical Degree in 1899. He married Georgina Jamieson on May 28, 1902. Dr. Ralph Huffman established himself in Minnesota, where he followed the practice of his profession at Georgetown (1900), Evansville (1911), Chatfield (1913), Stewartville (1915), and Elgin (1920); it was during his time at Stewartville that he served in World War I. He required surgery which was carried out at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, and from there he removed to Petaluma, California to recuperate, in 1924. He was able to resume seeing patients, but this was short lived. Dr. Ralph Waldron Huffman died at Petaluma, California on December 10, 1926, aged 53 years, 2 months and 13 days.

Hunt, George Gerard Dr.
1909-1991

George Gerard Hunt was born at Cloyne, Ontario on February 27, 1909 son of Joseph Hunt and Mary Murphy. He was educated at the Newburgh Academy and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1933; Dr. Hunt was united in marriage to Eileen Brownell on September 1, 1938. He established himself at Marlbank and served the community for more than 50 years; he was medical officer of health for both Hungerford and Sheffield Townships. Dr. George Gerard Hunt died on March 3, 1991 aged 82 years 6 days.

Hutchinson, James C. Dr.
-1929

James C. Hutchinson was born in Scotland, but came to the County of Huron with his parents about 1862. He was a graduate in medicine of Toronto University in 1895 and immediately established himself at Whitevale, Ontario. In 1903 he removed to Grafton to serve as Medical Health Officer; here he would visit the schools to attend to the local students. When his house burned, he built the "Doctor's House"; later doctors living in the village took up residence in this home. Dr. Hutchinson died at Grafton on January 21, 1929, aged 69 years 11 months.

Huxtable, Edward Walton
Dr.
1879-1956

Edward Walton Huxtable was born at Sunderland, Ontario on July 5, 1879, son of John Huxtable and Margaret Welsh. He studied his medical courses at the University of Toronto from which institution he graduated with his Medical Degree in 1910. He was united in marriage to Genevieve Taylor on June 1, 1921. After practising in Newington and Newburgh, he established himself at Odessa, where he remained for the duration, practising for forty-five years. Dr. Edmund Walton Huxtable died September 14, 1956, aged 77 years, 2 months and 9 days.

Huycke, Austin Harvey Short Dr.
1879-1956

Austin Harvey Short Huycke was born on the farm at Warkworth on February 12, 1879, son of James Kemp Huycke and Anna Stanbury. He supplemented his public school training by attendance at McGill University, from which he graduated as a Physician in 1907. For 18 months, he was connected with Bellevue Hospital in New York City and then practiced in British Columbia, until the outbreak of the World War. He joined the Medical Corps of the British Army and was with the 25th Division, attached to the Field Ambulance Corps, twice wounded while discharging his duties. He rose to the rank of Major and was decorated by King George at Buckingham Palace. While in France, he married Marcelle Manuel in 1919, a native of Versailles. In 1920, he established himself at Oregon City where he specialized in diseases of the throat. Dr. A. H. S. Huycke died in Oregon on July 17, 1956, aged 77 years, 5 months and 5 days.

Ingersoll, Isaac Frederick
Dr.
1839-1910

Isaac Frederick Ingersoll was born near Adolphustown, Fredericksburgh Township, Lennox and Addington County on July 22, 1839, son of Isaac Ingersoll and Mary Casey. He studied medicine at Queen's University with the Class of 1863; Dr. Ingersoll married Christina Price at Bath, Ontario on November 6, 1867. He practiced at Picton and Brighton, Ontario for some years, removed to Wyandotte, Mississippi and then to Regina, Saskatchewan in 1895, where he remained for the duration. Dr. Isaac Frederick Ingersoll died at the Grand Hotel at Regina on November 10, 1910, aged 71 years, 3 months and 18 days.

Insley, Nelson Stanley Dr.
1870-1920

Nelson Stanley Insley was born at Picton, Ontario on June 20, 1870, son of Willett Insley and Mahalla Dailey. He studied medicine at Trinity College, graduating in 1894 and soon thereafter located at Grayling, Michigan, where he remained for the duration. In 1912, he was involved in a serious accident when he slipped while waiting for the train, falling under the wheels. He was found as the 'Cannon Ball' pulled away with a fractured right elbow and such injuries to his lower legs that both feet had to be amputated; he sustained facial lacerations and a fractured skull. Dr. Nelson Stanley Insley recovered, but died on June 7, 1920, aged 49 years, 11 months and 17 days.

Ireland, George Irvine Dr.
1900-1942

George Irvine Ireland was born at Trenton, Ontario on November 13, 1900 son of George Ireland and Helena DeLong. He graduated from the University of Toronto in 1923 and later went to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania where, upon graduating in medicine, he practised his profession in Warren, Tyler and Penfield, Pa. He was united in marriage to Florence McLaren on August 9, 1930. Dr. George Irvine Ireland died at Penfield on February 8, 1942 aged 41 years 2 months and 25 days.

Ireland, Richard Alfred Dr.
1889-1917

Richard Alfred Ireland was born at Trenton, Ontario on January 13, 1889, son of William Ireland and Caroline Miller. He attended the local classrooms and studied Medicine at the University of Toronto with the Class of 1911. He spent some time in practice at St. John's Newfoundland and at the Homewood Sanatorium at Guelph, Ontario; at the outbreak of the War he offered his services. Captain Ireland joined the 76th Battalion of Niagara in England, was then attached to the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles and in a few weeks was in France where he witnessed some hard and bitter fighting at the battles of Somme and Vimy Ridge. Dr. Richard Alfred Ireland died on October 30, 1917, aged 28 years, 9 months and 17 days.

Ireland, William Musgrave Dr.
1868-1914

William Musgrave Ireland was born at Trenton, Ontario in 1868 son of William Ireland and Mary Jane Miller. He was schooled locally and entered into the study of Medicine at Trinity College where he failed his second year examinations. One of his class mates in Toronto was Henry Head Gray and their fates were destined to converge in the coming years. Gray graduated on April 11, 1890, removed to Hamilton, Montana and died on March 29, 1891 aged 26, the result of "an accidental cyanide poisoning", suicide. So within a year of graduation Gray is dead and his identity is later stolen by Ireland who takes his diploma and establishes himself in several states as Dr. H. H. Gray. Ireland was soon off to South Africa and entered the British Army as a surgeon just before the Matabele Rebellion and later accompanied Dr. Leander Jameson on the raid which precipitated the Boer War. On his return to the U.S. is when he practiced for a time at New Orleans now under the name of Gray, moved to Beaumont, Texas and later to Oklahoma City. There is speculation that he changed his identity to avoid being found by his wife in Toronto from whom he was separated but not divorced. Now remarried, Ireland moved to Kansas City where the façade began to unravel and he was found dead of an overdose of cyanide poisoning. His Monument Inscription at the Carrying Place Cemetery in Trenton identifies him as a physician, deceased on March 10, 1914 aged 45 years 4 months.

Irwin, John Robert Dr.
1878-1942

John Robert Irwin was born near Port Hope on December 8, 1878, son of Edwin Irwin and Jane Jones. He matriculated from the Port Hope High School in 1898 and then sought to acquire his medical education. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1902 and took post-graduate training in England, being a Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England 1905. He married Clara Jane Beer on April 14, 1907. Dr. Irwin practiced his profession in Cobourg and Rochester before retiring. He enlisted in the First World War in the Army Medical Corps, was promoted to Captain in August of 1916, and was awarded the Military Cross for distinguished service in the field. Dr. J. R. Irwin died at Cobourg on January 12, 1942, aged 63 years, 1 month and 4 days.

Ives, Elam Burr Dr.
-1848

Elam Burr Ives was born in Cheshire, New Haven County, Connecticut. From here, he removed to Oneida County, New York then to Haldimand Township, Ontario. He petitioned for a land grant and settled on Lot 23, Concession A, at Grafton. He was one of the first physicians practicing between Kingston and York. Dr. Ives, interred at Salem Cemetery, died in Haldimand Township on June 8, 1848, aged 69 years 6 months 15 days.

Ives, Lionel Mortimer Dr.
1903-1962

Lionel Mortimer Ives was born at Belleville, Ontario on November 25, 1903 son of James Ives and Bertha Lott. He was a graduate in medicine of the University of Toronto in 1929 and served his psychiatric residency at McLean Hospital, Waverly Massachusetts; he was united in marriage to Mary Stine on February 17, 1934. Dr. Ives was certified a member of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and practised in Westwood and Amherst, Ma. He was a Veteran of World War 11, a Lieutenant Colonel in the United States Air Force, served as chief of the Neuropsychiatric Hospital and director at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Dr. Lionel Mortimer Ives died at Springfield, Massachusetts on May 9, 1962 aged 58 years 5 months and 14 days.

Ives, Raymond Ellsworth
Dr.
1888-1981

Raymond Ellsworth Ives was born at Colborne, Ontario on November 5, 1888 son of George Ives and Emma Kemp, and great grandson of Dr. Elam Burr Ives. He began his professional career as a primary school teacher in a one room school house where, among his pupils, were two of his younger siblings. He was a Veteran of World War 1, fought in France and Holland and was a graduate in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1922; he was united in marriage to Ethel Bartlett on August 11, 1922. After a short stay at Barrie, Dr. Ives removed to Stayner where he followed the practice of his profession for 50 years. He served as president of the Ontario Horticultural Society and was a driving force behind the Province proclaiming the Trillium as Ontario's official flower. Dr. Raymond Ellsworth Ives died at Stayner on May 30, 1981 aged 92 years 6 months and 25 days.

Ivey, John Albert Dr.
-1948

John Albert Ivey was born in Jarvis, Ontario and moved to Cobourg at the age of 18 to attend Cobourg Collegiate and, subsequently, Victoria College. He graduated from the medical school of Toronto in 1889, practiced for two months in Woodstock, then returned to Cobourg; here, Dr. Ivey assumed the practices of both Dr. Richard and John Robert Clark. He was responsible for the first hospital accommodation in Cobourg by securing, in the early 1890s, some rooms in the Old People's Home for use as an emergency hospital. He was a family doctor of the horse and buggy style and was one of the first doctors in the area to use diphtheria antitoxin. He was the District Medical Officer of the Grand Trunk Railway Insurance and Provident Society. Dr. Ivey led a retired life after 1928 but retained a keen interest in medical developments. He died at Cobourg on September 28, 1948, aged 86 years 4 months 24 days.

Jack, George Gilfillan Dr.
1865-1938

George Gilfillan Jack was born at Belleville on April 10, 1865, son of Henry Jack and Mary Blair. He was educated in Belleville and graduated from the Medical School of Queen's University in 1886. For thirty years he resided in Chicago, Illinois, where he practiced his profession and also conducted a retail drug store; he remained a bachelor. Dr. George Gilfillan Jack was forced by ill health to return to Belleville, where he lived the retired life and died of tuberculosis on January 19, 1938, aged 72 years, 9 months and 9 days.

James, Ephraim Pearson
Dr.
1878-1912

Ephraim Pearson James was born at Campbellford on September 22, 1878, son of George James and Harriett Fraser. He matriculated from the Galt Collegiate High School in 1897; and entered into the study of his chosen profession at the University of Toronto, where he achieved his Medical Degree in 1902. He remained a bachelor. Initially, he served as Surgeon for four years on a transatlantic steamer and for the last six years he established himself in the practice of medicine at Galt where he died in his office on March 27, 1912, aged 33 years, 6 months and 5 days.

James, Michael Dr.
1861-1943

Michael James was born at Centreville, Ontario on September 12, 1861, son of Michael James and Margaret Tomlison. He attended the local classrooms and took his medical training at Queen's University where he graduated in 1887. He spent a short time in his native town, but soon relocated to Mattawa, Ontario, where he remained for the duration. He married Mary Ann O'Meara on May 26, 1897. Dr. Michael James followed the practice of his profession and died at Mattawa on April 27, 1943, aged 81 years, 7 months and 15 days.

Jamieson, Alison Dr.
-1947

Alison Jamieson was born in a farmhouse, a native of Wicklow, Northumberland County. She was educated locally and entered into the study of her life's work at Queen's University from which institution she graduated in 1892. She established herself in London, Ontario where in 1902, among her other accomplishments, on June 19, 1902 she delivered Guy Lombardo of dance-band fame. After some years in London she removed to the land of her birth where she continued to follow the practice of her profession. Dr. Jamieson died in Wicklow on May 2, 1947, aged 76 years 6 months 17 days.

Jamieson, William George
Dr.
1887-1931

William George Jamieson was born at Camborne, Ontario on August 9, 1887, son of William George Jamieson and Mary Robinson. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1916 and served overseas with the Canadian Army Medical Corps. After discharge and post-graduate work in Detroit, Dr. Jamieson established himself in the practice of his life's work at Cobourg, where for a few years he was associated with Dr. J. Ivey. He was united in marriage on June 23, 1927 to Linda Agnes Constance Hayden. Dr. William George Jamieson died on February 26, 1931, aged 43 years, 6 months and 17 days

Jaques, Clarke Whittier
Dr.
1845-1877

Clarke Whittier Jaques was born at Consecon, Ontario on Mar 12, 1845 son of James Jaques and Mary Ann Sherman and brother of the previously chronicled Dr. William Sherman Jaques. He was schooled locally and was a graduate in medicine from an American University, possibly the Eclectic Medical Institute of Cincinnati, as was his younger brother. What is known is that he was in practice in Cincinnati, Ohio however was invalided home to Consecon where he died on July 1, 1877 aged 32 years 3 months 19 days.

Jaques, William Sherman
Dr.
-1917

William Sherman Jaques was born in Consecon. He graduated in medicine from the Eclectic Institute of Cincinnati and, also, from the College of Physicians and Surgeons at St. Louis, where he practiced his profession for seventeen years. He was engaged in a number of successful business enterprises there and subsequently returned to Trenton. Here, he was president of the Board of Trade, a Director of the Central Ontario Railway, was a Magistrate and for six years he held the Mayoralty Chair. Dr. Jaques died on November 11, 1917, aged 70 years 1 month 21 days.

Jarman, Harry Love Dr.
1892-1917

Harry Love Jarman was born at Bancroft, Ontario on December 5, 1892 son of George Love Jarman and Betsy Spurr. He entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University with the class of 1915. He was given his degree just before the close of his final year in order that he might take advantage of the opportunity to give his services to his country. He went overseas in May, 1915 with the Queen's University Medical Corps and shortly after his arrival in England he was attached to the Royal Army Medical Corps as Captain. He spent six months in France and was then sent to Greece, attached to the Imperial Forces in Macedonia. Dr. Harry Love Jarman died on January 15, 1917 aged 24 years 1 month 10 days.

Jeffs, George Douglas Dr.
1893-1980

George Douglas Jeffs was born at Havelock, Ontario on November 25, 1893, son of Dr. William Henry Maines Jeffs and Minnie Brown. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1917. He was a veteran of World War I, served with the Canadian Army Medical Corps aboard the Hospital Ship Araguaya and rose to the rank of Major. Dr. Jeffs was united in marriage on October 4, 1919 to Eulalie Lillian Mary Jeffs. Following the War, he established himself in practice at Eglinton and later lived the retired life in Lake Worth, Florida. Dr. George Douglas Jeffs died on February 5, 1980, aged 86 years 2 months and 10 days.

Jeffs, Howard Brown Dr.
1891-1957

Howard Brown Jeffs was born at Havelock, Ontario on November 25, 1891, son of Dr. William Henry Maines Jeffs and Minnie Brown. He was a Toronto University Graduate with the Class of 1914 and was a Houseman at St. Michael's Hospital when War was declared. He was the first medical man at Toronto to sign up for overseas service and went to the front with Number 2 Field Ambulance Corps; he was wounded on September 6, 1916 in the arm, right leg and both hips. Dr. Jeffs was united in marriage on September 4, 1917 to Edith Margaret Partridge. Following the War, Captain Jeffs was Medical Officer in charge at the Disembarkation Station in Quebec and later at Portland, Maine. He later worked for the Department of Pensions and National Health, in Canada and London, England. Dr. Howard Brown Jeffs died at Ottawa on September 26, 1957, aged 65 years, 10 months and 1 day.

Jeffs, James Irwin Dr.
1906-1983

James Irwin Jeffs was born at St. Catharines, Ontario on December 28, 1906 son of Frank Jeffs and Thomasina Irwin. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1932 and took post graduate training in public health. Dr. Jeffs was united in marriage to Amy Willson and worked at the health unit in Toronto and in 1948 was appointed as assistant medical officer of health of the St. Catharines Health Unit. Later he served as medical officer at the Lennox and Addington Health Unit in Napanee. Dr. James Irwin Jeffs died in London, Ontario on May 24, 1983 aged 76 years 4 months 26 days.

Jeffs, Thomas William Dr.
-1923

Thomas William Jeffs was a native of Queensboro and a graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School in 1895. He practiced initially in Apsley, Ontario before moving west to Vancouver, British Columbia. He was active in fraternal organizations; in 1906 occupied a seat in the City Council as Alderman and was Police Commissioner in 1907. As a Coroner, he was distinguished for his outspoken manner and for his common sense instructions to juries. Dr. Jeffs died in Vancouver on October 6 1923, aged 65 years 2 months 29 days.

Jeffs, William Henry Maines Dr.
1864-1933

William Henry Maines Jeffs was born near Queensborough, Elzevir Township, Hastings County on October 23, 1864, son of James Jeffs and Sarah Maines. He was a graduate of the Medical School at Trinity College in 1888; and was united in marriage to Minnie Brown on December 25, 1890. He was a nephew to the previously chronicled Dr. Thomas William Jeffs and was followed in the medical field by his sons, Dr. Howard Brown Jeffs and Dr. George Douglas Jeffs. He followed the practice of his profession at Havelock, Ontario and removed to Toronto later in life. Dr. William Henry Maines Jeffs died at Toronto on November 14, 1933, aged 69 years and 21 days.

Jenkins, John Fletcher Dr.
1834-1906

John Fletcher Jenkins was born in Aug. 1834 in Richmond Township, Ontario son of Edward Jenkins and Elizabeth Embury. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School in 1866 and in 1868 wed Susan McQueen. Dr. Jenkins was an active and successful practitioner and was a member of the Michigan State and American Medical Associations, of the Tri-State Medical Society, a member and once Vice President of the Southern Michigan Medical Society and a member of the American Public Health Association. He was appointed delegate on the part of the United States to the International Conference for the Prevention of Venereal Disease held at Brussels in 1899. Dr. John Fletcher Jenkins died at Tecumseh, Mi. on Oct 12, 1906 aged 72 years 2 months.

Jenner, John Earle Dr.
1857-1940

John Earle Jenner was born in Kent County on March 18, 1857, son of John Jenner and Hannah Russell. He was a graduate of Trinity Medical College in 1883; took post graduate work in London where he received his degree as Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and was united in marriage to Ella Turner on June 1, 1887. Dr. Jenner practiced medicine in Ontario for more than half a century; he was well known in Chatham, Leamington, Picton and Kingsville where he had practiced. Dr. John Earle Jenner lived the retired life in Toronto where he died on October 28, 1940, aged 83 years, 7 months and 10 days.

Johnston, David Albert Dr.
1856-1883

David Albert Johnston was born at Bridgewater, County Hastings on December 16, 1856, son of John Johnston and Annis Wright. He was a Graduate of Queen's medical school in 1881 and settled at Bridgewater, Hastings County. Dr. David Albert Johnston was cut short in his life expectancy and died of typhoid fever at Bridgewater on September 22, 1883, aged 26 years, 9 months and 6 days.

Johnston, Douglas Butterworth Dr.
1898-1967

Douglas Butterworth Johnston was born at Athens, Ontario on November 14, 1898 son of William Johnston and Margaret Mills. He was a Veteran of World War 1, served as a Royal Flying Corps Pilot in 1918 and later entered McGill University graduating from the faculty of medicine in 1924; He was united in marriage to Edith Burchell on September 26, 1925. Dr. Johnston soon established himself at Campbellford, Ontario but practised in Quebec and went west to Saskatchewan to Earl Grey and then Kelliher where he was district coroner. Dr. Douglas Butterworth Johnston died in Toronto on October 18, 1967 aged 68 years 11 months and 4 days.

Johnston, James Gordon
Dr.
1913-1985

James Gordon Johnston was born at Trenton, Ontario on May 24, 1913 son of Dr. William Johnston and Alice Kinney. He was educated locally and was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1938. Dr. Johnston was united in marriage to Muriel Montgomery and established himself in general practice at Trenton where he worked until retirement in 1976. He was a Veteran of World War 11 and served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps with the rank of Flight Lieutenant. Dr. James Gordon Johnston died in Trenton on March 6, 1985 aged 71 years 9 months 12 days.

Johnston, Robert Dr.
1903-1940

Robert Johnston was born at Stirling, Scotland on February 28, 1903 son of James Johnston and Mary Henderson. He attended high school in his native land and was a graduate of medicine at Queen's University in 1933. Throughout his course he achieved the highest honours and was awarded the Robert Bruce Scholarship in 1928 and 1930, the Faculty scholarship in 1932, the Mundell scholarship prize in medicine, the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene scholarship in psychiatry, the professor's prize in pathology, surgery and medicine. Dr. Johnston interned at the Kingston General Hospital and soon established himself at Tamworth, Ontario where he took over the practice of Dr. F. D. O'Connor. Dr. Robert Johnston died at Tamworth on January 27, 1940 aged 36 years 10 months 29 days.

Johnston, William James
Dr.
1882-1950

William James Johnston was born at the farm at Wareham, Ontario on May 21, 1882 son of James Johnston and Jessie Morton and father of Dr James Gordon Johnston. He was educated at the Owen Sound Collegiate, spent 2 years in the teaching profession and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1907. Dr Johnston hung his shingle first at Dundalk, Ontario removing to Trenton in 1910; he was united in marriage to Alice Kinney on Oct 10, 1911. Dr Johnston followed the practice of his profession in his adopted home until forced into retirement by ill health which he suffered the last 6 years. Dr William James Johnston died at Belleville on Nov 22, 1950 aged 68 years 6 months 1 day.

Jones, Henry Mitchell Dr.
1844-1923

Henry Mitchell Jones was born in the Barbadoes on August 6, 1844, son of Reverend Henry Jones and Ellen Lainchbury. He immigrated to Canada about 1861 and studied his medical courses at Queen's University where he graduated in 1868. He spent his professional life at Marmora and took an active interest in the affairs of the village. He was married to Mary Wilkinson on June 3, 1886. Dr. Henry Mitchell Jones died on March 26, 1923 aged 78 years 7 months and 20 days.

Jones, Richard Dr.
-1917

Richard Jones was born in Clarke Township, Durham County and received his education in the Public Schools of the district and at Albert College; afterwards, he graduated from the University of Buffalo, taking post-graduate work in New York City. Dr. Jones began the practice of his profession at Madoc about a year before the discovery of gold, which resulted in such a keen interest being taken in that district and a consequent boom in population. After about three years, he removed to Port Perry. Over the course of the next 20 years, he carried on a large and successful practice, served as Reeve in 1882, was a member of Council, a Trustee of the High School Board and a member of the Library Board. In 1887, he moved to Toronto where he continued his practice until his removal to Cobourg in 1901. About 1912, on account of illness, Dr. Jones retired from practice and devoted himself to the cultivation of orchids and garden. Dr. Jones died of pneumonia on December 15, 1917, aged 83 years 11 months 6 days.

Jory, Joseph Morley Dr.
-1932

Joseph Morley Jory was born at Norwood and educated locally. He studied under Dr. Ford while at Norwood and graduated from Trinity Medical School in 1894. He established himself first at Bloomfield, later removing to St. Catharines, Ontario. Here, he was one of the best-known physicians in the Niagara district and had taken a prominent interest in public affairs. He served as an Alderman for years and as a member of the Board of Education. He served as Captain in the Canadian Army Medical Corps in the Boer War. Dr. Jory died at St. Catharines on March 20, 1932, aged 63 years 4 months 12 days.

Judge, Ray Harold Dr.

Ray Harold Judge was born at Godfrey, Ontario on July 28, 1900 son of John Judge and Maud Huffman. He was raised in Lennox and Addington County and spent his formative years at Camden East. He received his degree in medicine from Queen's University with the class of 1923 and took post graduate studies in obstetrics and psychiatry in New York; he was united in marriage to Louise Hurlburt on September 21, 1935. Dr. Judge had a general practice at Rosseau, Parry Sound, Bradford and then East York for 20 years; he was also associated with the Ontario Department of Health. He served as president of the Simcoe Medical Society and the Toronto East General Medical Association. Dr. Ray Harold Judge died at Toronto on May 23, 1969 aged 68 years 9 months and 25 days.

Karn, Charles Jacob
Wesley Dr.
-1933

Charles Jacob Wesley Karn was born in Woodstock and attended the medical school at Trinity College, graduating as a Medical Doctor in 1888. He soon established himself in the practice of his profession at Picton, where he worked for some years before removing to Woodstock and then, for 20 years, in London. Dr. Karn died from complications of diabetes on February 27, 1933, aged 70 years 25 days.

Kayler, William Benjamin
Dr.
1862-1919

William Benjamin Kayler was born at Morven, Ontario in 1862 son of Frederick Kayler and Mary Brooks. He began his professional career as a school teacher in Morven and was united in marriage to Charlotte Robinson on June 18, 1884. A widower, he entered into the study of his life's work at Queen's University, married again to Sarah Monck on Feb 21, 1894 and graduated in medicine with the class of 1896. Dr. Kayler's professional career was centered in Toronto and he was registered with the Ontario Medical Association on June 28, 1901 at Toronto Junction. Dr. William Benjamin Kayler followed the practice of his profession for 18 years and died in Toronto on Sept 19, 1919 aged 57 years.

Kelly, David Livingston Dr.
1833-1870

David Livingston Kelly was born at the farmhouse in Athol Township, Prince Edward County, on Nov 25, 1833 son of David Kelly and Mary Blair. He took his diploma in medicine with high honours at Queen's University in 1861. Dr. Kelly practiced first in Simcoe County and became a specialist in Consumption as a partner with Dr. Hunter. This promising physician was cut off in his prime becoming a victim of the fell disease to which he had devoted special study. Dr. Kelly repaired to California as a last resort, with a forlorn hope, and died at Mokelumme Hill on Dec 12, 1870 aged 37 years 17 days.

Kelly, Thomas Frederick
Dr.
1894-1961

Thomas Frederick Kelly was born at Norwood, Ontario on January 20, 1894 son of John Kelly and Emma Armstrong. He was a Veteran of World War 1 and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1931. Dr. Kelly soon established himself at Kirkland Lake where he maintained a general practice and was surgeon to local mines including the Lake Shore Gold Mine and the Toburn Gold Mine. Dr. Thomas Frederick Kelly died at Kirkland Lake on July 23, 1961 aged 67 years 6 months 3 days.

Kemp, Herbert Gross Dr.
-1929

Herbert Gross Kemp was a native of Brighton and grandson of Dr. Pitkin Gross. He attended the medical school at McGill University, graduating in 1896. He established himself at Toronto; he became a well-known Major Surgeon. In 1909, the heavy strain of his arduous duties over a lengthy period so seriously affected his health that a change from city practice, and life, became imperative. He directed his work to the Columbian mission on Texada Island, British Columbia, where the climatic conditions were favorable to his recovery. Here, he helped establish the mission hospital at Van Anda and was responsible for its continued success. He remained there for the better part of a year, benefiting in health, finding intense interest in his work. Dr. Kemp died at Toronto on April 9, 1929, aged 62 years 1 day.

Kennedy, Alexander Dr.
1854-1918

Alexander Kennedy was born at Bath, Ontario on June 28, 1854, son of Dr. Roderick Kennedy and Mary McTavish. He was a student at the local classroom and graduated from Queen's University in 1876, just thirteen years after his father. He was married to Ida Howard on January 1, 1878. Dr. Alexander Kennedy was physician at Stella on Amherst Island and died there on May 18, 1918, aged 63 years, 10 months and 20 days.

Kennedy, Edward Gordon Mathew Dr.

Edward Gordon Mathew Kennedy was born at Sarnia, Ontario on October 20, 1904 son of Joseph Kennedy and Eva Richardson. Dr. Kennedy was a graduate of medicine from the University of Western Ontario in 1932 and removed to Belleville where he assumed the practice of Dr. Bert Faulkner. During World War 11 Dr. Kennedy served with the Royal Canadian Medical Corps in England, North Africa, Italy and Sicily and then resumed his profession at Belleville; he was united in marriage to Ruth Wilson. He was a star football player at school and in later life was a lover of horses, particularly the hackney breed. Dr. Edward Gordon Mathew Kennedy died on June 5, 1961 aged 56 years 7 months 15 days.

Kennedy, Roderick L. Dr.
-1911

Roderick L. Kennedy was born at Cumberland House on the Saskatchewan River. He received his early education at Fort Garry on the Red River and studied medicine in Edinburgh, graduating with Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh in 1844. From here, he was appointed as Surgeon of the Hudson Bay Company at Moose Factory. With a Company of Voyageurs and on snowshoes, he arrived at Moose Factory in 1845 where he spent five years. Dr. Kennedy then removed to Bath, Ontario where he practiced his profession for more than half a century. He was, for several years, Professor of Anatomy at Kingston, a member of the Bath School Board and also of the Municipal and County Council. Dr. Kennedy died at Kingston on March 15, 1911, aged 89 years 8 months 7 days.

Kenwendeshon, Dr.
1855-1899

Kenwendeshon, also known as John C. Maracle, was born at Mill Point, Tyendinaga Township on April 8, 1855, son of Cornelius Maracle and Nancy Hill. He trained as a physician at the Eclectic Medical College of Pennsylvania and the American University of Philadelphia, graduating in 1878. Kenwendeshon established himself at Syracuse, New York but in 1879, at the request of Oronhyatekha, left his practice and helped to turn the tide of a smallpox epidemic at the Moravian Indian Mission at Moraviantown. Oronhyatekha wrote: "I have also employed a young physician who was formerly a student in my office and who himself has had the smallpox, to proceed to the Reserve and be in constant attendance and to personally supervise the disinfecting of the clothing and houses of those Indians who have had the smallpox". Kenwendeshon was united in marriage to Julia Hill Thompson on November 20, 1879. Dr. Kenwendeshon followed his life's work at Roscommon, Michigan and died at Beaverton, Mi. the result of an accidental overdose of poison, on September 22, 1899, aged 44 years 5 months 14 days.

Keogh, Patrick Samuel Dr.
1849-1924

Patrick Samuel Keogh was born in Feb. 1849 at Belleville, Ontario son of Patrick Keogh and Hannah Wilkinson. He studied medicine at the Bellevue Hospital Medical College and graduated with the class of 1885. Dr. Keogh served as the first Dean of the Creighton School of Medicine in Omaha, Nebraska from 1892 to 1896. It was during his tenure that the new Medical College expanded its course to four years, the first school west of the Mississippi to do so. In 1897 he established the Keogh Hospital in Utah which later became the Salt Lake Regional Hospital. He was first married to Margaret Honeyman on June 26, 1876 and later, on Oct 20, 1900 to Nellie Fulton. Dr. Patrick Samuel Keogh died at Salt Lake on Nov 5, 1924 aged 75 years 9 months.

Kidd, Edward Dr.
-1924

Edward Kidd was born in Beckwith Township, Lanark County and was a graduate of Queen's Medical School in 1871. He followed the practice of his profession at Manotick, North Gower where he was listed as both Physician and Druggist. He practiced for a number of years in Prince Edward County, including Wellington and Picton. Dr. Kidd located in Trenton from Kingston and was one of Trenton's leading medical doctors. He had the honour of being Trenton's Mayor in 1911 and re-elected in 1913. Dr. Kidd was succeeded in the profession at Trenton by his son. Dr. Kidd died in Ameliasburg Township on August 25, 1924, aged 74 years 10 months 13 days.

Kidd, George Claude Dr.
1884-1952

George Claude Kidd was born at Wellington, Ontario on August 4, 1884, son of Dr. Edward Kidd and Matilda Beaudry. He attended the Public and High Schools of Trenton and graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1910. He practised in Kingston and Picton, then took a position as Medical Superintendent of the Ontario Hospital at Penetanguishene and Cobourg. He lived the retired life from 1942 at Cobourg, Brighton and then at Trenton. Dr. George Claude Kidd died on September 7, 1952, aged 68 years, 1 month and 3 days.

Killoran, Vincent Ambrose
Dr.
1900-1958

Vincent Ambrose Killoran was born at Hastings, Ontario on January 2, 1900 son of Lawrence Killoran and Mary O'Malley. He was educated in Norwood and Peterborough and received his degree in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1928; he was united in marriage to Loraine Archambault on June 26, 1928. He served his internship at Hamilton General Hospital and did post graduate work at Buffalo General and Children's Hospitals. Dr. Killoran practised in Sandusky, Ohio and removed to Fort Lauderdale, Florida about 1948 due to ill health. Dr. Vincent Ambrose Killoran died while on vacation in Honolulu, Hawaii on July 27, 1958 aged 58 years 6 months and 25 days.

Kindred, Harold Christopher Dr.
1875-1928

Harold Christopher Kindred was born at Keene on September 27, 1875, son of John Robert Kindred and Sarah Howson. He received his public school education at Keene, afterwards attending Peterborough Collegiate, then a term serving as Principal of the Havelock Public School. In 1905, he graduated in Medicine from Toronto University and took post-graduate work in New York. He married Cora Weller on December 28, 1901. For a number of years he practiced at Havelock, Ontario, where he also served as Reeve and Warden of the County; about 1916, he removed to Tweed and served as Reeve there. He was an enthusiastic Mason and Oddfellow and, also, took great interest in church work, was leader of the choir and served as church elder. Dr. H. C. Kindred died at Tweed on February 10, 1928, aged 52 years, 4 months and 13 days.

King, William Henry Dr.
-1859

William Henry King was born in Sophiasburgh, Prince Edward County and attended normal school in Toronto. He taught for a while in Hamilton before going to Philadelphia to study medicine. He graduated with degrees from the Homeopathic Medical College, the Eclectic Medical College of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania Medical University. At the age of 23, he established himself at Brighton. Dr. King was convicted of the murder of his wife, by arsenic poisoning. He was hung at the Court House in Brighton with a crowd of 10,000 in attendance; he was the only criminal to be executed in Northumberland County. Dr. King died on June 9, 1859, aged 26 years 5 months 17 days.

Kingston, Charles Morgan
Dr.
-1948

Charles Morgan Kingston was a native of West Huntingdon and took his medical degree, graduating from Trinity College, in 1894. He took post-graduate work in 1894 in New York and spent some time in Stirling in association with Dr. Meiklejohn. He entered practice at Everett, Ontario, remained there for four years, then one year at Shoal Bay, British Columbia, then to Grand Forks in 1899. Here, he was also a Medical Health Officer and was Surgeon to the Granby Smelter Company. Dr. Kingston died in West Vancouver on February 1, 1948, aged 80 years 1 month 4 days.

Kingston, John James Dr.
1845-1915

John James Kingston was born at Cobourg on September 11, 1845, son of William Kingston and Maria Johnson. He was a Graduate of Medicine at Victoria College in 1869, and spent a short time at Campbellford, following which he carried on a successful practice at Vienna, Ontario for a number of years. About 1887, he removed to Aylmer where he remained for the duration. Dr. Kingston was united in marriage to Mary Saxton. Dr. John James Kingston died at Aylmer on March 12, 1915, aged 69 years, 6 months and 1 day.

Kittson, Edmund Graves
Dr.
1851-1904

Edmund Graves Kittson was born on Aug 6, 1851 at Cobourg, Ontario son of William Kittson and Harriett Meredith. He was a graduate in medicine at McGill University in 1873 where his thesis was Alcohol. Dr. Kittson became a Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, London in 1879 and after he returned from England he settled in Hamilton, Ontario where he remained for the duration. He was united in marriage on Jan 24, 1883 to Alice O'Reilly. On account of ill-health he had not been engaged in practice for the last 10 years. Dr. Edmund Graves Kittson died at Hamilton on Feb 4, 1904 aged 52 years 5 months 28 days.

Knight, James Dr.
-1908

James Knight was born in Frontenac County, near Kingston. He was a graduate of Keokuk, Iowa Medical School. He followed the practice of his profession first at Belleville, then Tamworth for 25 years, then Bloomfield, Plainfield and Cherry Valley. Dr. Knight moved to Jerry, Asotin County, Washington about 1893, where he died on December 26, 1908, aged 77.

Knight, John Hilliard Dr.
1857-1938

John Hilliard Knight was born in Wallaceburg, Ontario on August 2, 1857 son of Silas Knight and Abigail Burham. He began his professional career as a teacher, saved money to further his education and studied medicine at Queen's University with the class of 1880. He began practice at Wallaceburg where he served as Health Officer and wed Effie Jane Fraser there on July 28, 1886. He later spent time at Campbellford and at Ameliasburgh before removing to Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan where he died on August 7, 1938 aged 81 years 5 days.

Knight, Samuel Graham Dr.
1869-1954

Samuel Graham Knight was born at Tweed, Ontario on Dec 1, 1869 son of Horace Knight and Elizabeth Graham. His youth was spent in Bruce County, Ontario and when of age he traveled to Chicago where he spent 3 years in a wholesale house and then to Seattle to try the mining life. He attended the Toronto School of Medicine, graduated in 1907 and in 1912 located at Randall, Mn. Dr Knight was united in marriage to Mary Owens on Nov 5, 1913 and, a widower, to Mary Semple on July 12, 1949. At Randall, he operated a medical practice, made house calls using his horse and buggy and maintained a drug store as well. He was president of the Village Council, served on the school board and was president of the Randall State Bank. In 1960 the community of Randall dedicated its new school to Dr S G Knight. Dr Samuel Graham Knight died on Jan 5, 1954 at Little Falls, Mn. Aged 84 years 1 month 4 days.

Laidley, Wallace Gilmour Dr.
1876-1952

Wallace Gilmour Laidley was born at the farm at Ernestown, Ontario on Jan 23, 1876 son of William Laidley and Mary Gilmour. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1906 and after completing an internship in Chicago he settled in Pilot Mound, Iowa. Dr Laidley was united in marriage to Mae Mather on June 30, 1909 and, a widower, to Irene Hartquist on Sept 7, 1922. In 1923 he removed to Ogden, Iowa where he was active in all civic and community affairs, was a member of several Fraternal organizations and served as president of the Ogden Lions Club and the Boone County Medical Society. Dr Wallace Gilmour Laidley died on Sept 28, 1952 aged 76 years 8 months 5 days.

Lake, Samuel Knapp Dr.
1833-1925

Samuel Knapp Lake was born at Kingston on March 4, 1833, son of Christopher Lake and Christian Ann Knapp; he was united in marriage to Ann Miller in 1855. He was a Licentiate of the Eclectic Medical Board in 1868 and was licensed to practice medicine in Ontario on May 28, 1869. He first started his life's work at Bloomfield, Ontario, but spent more than a decade at Picton and then some time at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Besides having his degree in medicine, he had his Doctor of Divinity and was a preacher of the gospel as well as serving as coroner. He returned from the United States, settled at Battersea, Ontario and lived the retired life at Kingston, where he died on October 21, 1925, aged 92 years, 7 months and 17 days.

Lalande, Ruric Harold Dr.
1889-1918

Ruric Harold Lalande was born at Morrisburg, Ontario on February 2, 1889, son of Joseph Lalande and Alice King. He removed with his parents to Cobourg and attended the Medical School at Queen's University, where he graduated in 1918. Previous to going overseas, he served as Medical Officer at the Ontario Hospital and was united in marriage on June 27, 1918 to Mary Beatrice Collins. Dr. Lalande embarked from Kingston on September 23, 1918 and died at sea of Influenza on his way to England. After two days out, a plague of Spanish flu broke out and pneumonia set in; in all, three doctors, a nurse and forty men died of influenza. He was buried at sea. Dr. Ruric Harold Lalande died on October 6, 1918, aged 29 years, 8 months and 4 days.

Lanfear, Henry Osgoode
Dr.
1853-1923

Henry Osgoode Lanfear was born at Newburgh, Ontario on November 21, 1853, son of Emery Osgoode Lanfear and Elizabeth Ann Hennery; the father of our subject was a shoe and harness maker. He attended the local classrooms and studied medicine at Queen's University where he received his license in 1889. He remained a bachelor. Dr. Lanfear followed the practice of his life's work at Melrose, Ontario. Mental deterioration set in and Dr. Henry Osgoode Lanfear died at Rockwood Hospital, Kingston, as the result of pneumonia, on July 5, 1923, aged 69 years, 7 months and 14 days.

Lang, William Wallace Dr.
1844-1880

William Wallace Lang was born at the Mill near Keene, Ontario in 1844, son of William Lang and Jane Stewart. The father of our subject established himself on the Indian River and built a dam to power a carding and fulling mill; the limestone walls were 19 inches thick and the mill complimented the grist mill and saw mill already in use in the community, now known as the Village of Lang. Young William received his early education locally and was a Licentiate of the Ontario Medical College in 1871; he was united in marriage to Margaret Carr McIntyre on August 20 of that same year. Dr. Lang soon established himself at Keene and after a few years removed his practice to Toronto. Death occurred as the result of Typhoid Fever, complicated by Bronchitis. Buried in the Keene Cemetery, Dr. William Wallace Lang died on January 19, 1880 aged 36.

Lanigan, Albert Dr.
1862-1932

Albert G Lanigan was born at Stirling, Ontario on Dec 28, 1862 son of James Lanigan and Elizabeth McIninch. He taught school in early life, went to Manitoba in 1892 and graduated from the University of Manitoba in 1898. Dr. Lanigan practiced for a short time at Yorkton, N.W.T., now Saskatchewan and removed to Binscarth, Manitoba where he remained for the duration. Dr. Lanigan was active in the Red Cross and patriotic work during the War and was united in marriage to Clara Heap on Nov 18, 1914. Binscarth was incorporated as a Village on Nov 15, 1917 and Dr. Lanigan was the Mayor from 1918-1920. He was a Mason, served as Master of the local Lodge, owned and operated the local drug store and contested his constituency in the Conservative interest in 1920. Dr. Albert G Lanigan died at Binscarth on Mar 18, 1932 aged 69 years 2 months 20 days.

Lansing, John Wesley Dr.
1861-1905

John Wesley Lansing was born at the farmhouse on July 16, 1861 in Hungerford Township near Tweed, Ontario son of William Lansing and Minerva Hart; his family moved to Michigan when he was 16. He took undergraduate courses in the Keokuk Medical College, Cleveland Medical College and the University of Pennsylvania and secured his degree from the Iowa Medical Department in 1887. Dr. Lansing was married to Minnie Belknap on July 23, 1881 and, divorced, to Sarah Hamilton on Jan 18, 1905. Dr. Lansing practiced in several places in the east before removing to Washington where he settled at Falls City, then Castle Rock and in 1898 to Ritzville where he enjoyed a successful and lucrative practice and was elected to the office of Mayor in Dec 1904. Dr. John Wesley Lansing died at Ritzville on Oct 16, 1905 aged 44 years 3 months.

Lapp, Thomas Clark Dr.
-1933

Thomas Clark Lapp was a native of Haldimand Township and a graduate of the medical school of Trinity University in 1886. After graduation, he established himself at Roseneath where he followed the practice of his profession until about 1902 when he removed to Cobourg. Here he remained, working for the duration, until forced into retirement by declining health. Dr. Lapp died at Cobourg on August 20, 1933, aged 75 years 8 months 4 days.

Lapp, Victor Roy Dr.
1884-1961

Victor Roy Lapp was born at Cobourg, Ontario on September 23, 1884 son of Willis Lapp and Dorothy Watts. He was a Veteran of World War 1, graduated in medicine from McGill University in 1921 and served his internship at the Hamilton General Hospital; he then joined the MacGregor Clinic in Hamilton. Dr. Lapp was united in marriage to Edna Ward on October 13, 1922. In 1923 he went to the Mayo Clinic for a post graduate course and then returned to the Clinic where he practised until his retirement. Dr. Victor Roy Lapp died at Hamilton on September 21, 1961 aged 76 years 11 months and 28 days.

Latta, Ethelbert Elijah Dr.
1876-1945

Ethelbert Elijah Latta was born at Corbyville on November 15, 1876, son of Anson Latta and Mary Jane Brintnell. He was educated locally and attained his Medical Degree from the University of Toronto in 1902. He married Carrie Muirhead on January 21, 1904. Dr. Latta was a veteran of the South African War and the First Great War. He had established himself at Colborne, but after World War I, he removed to Kingston where he held the position of Chief Medical Officer for the Department of Veterans' Affairs. He was active in church work, the Masonic Order and the Rotary Club. Dr. E. E. Latta died at Kingston on August 17, 1945, aged 68 years, 9 months and 2 days.

Laughlen, George Franklin
Dr.
1888-1946

George Franklin Laughlen was born at Foxboro, Ontario on May 30, 1888, son of David Laughlen and Elizabeth Morton. He attended Albert College and entered into the Study of Medicine at Queen's University, interrupted his study to enlist for service in Egypt in World War I; completed his Degree in 1916 and took post-graduate work before joining the staff of the Toronto East General Hospital. He was united in marriage to Dr. Vivien Martin on January 31, 1926. He was a member of the Teaching Staff of the University of Toronto, was known for the rapid test for syphilis which bore his name, and while with the Department of Pathology at the Hospital for Sick Children, he published an article dealing with his work on pneumonia. He served as Chairman of the section of Pathology of the Academy of Medicine, served for some years on the Council of the Ontario Medical Association and was a Past President and active member of the Toronto East Medical Association. Dr. George Franklin Laughlen died on May 12, 1946, aged 57 years, 11 months and 12 days.

Laughlin, Edgerton Ross
Dr.
1892-1970

Edgerton Ross Laughlin was born at Marlbank, Ontario on June 23, 1892 son of David Laughlin and Elizabeth Morton. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1921, specializing in psychiatry; he was united in marriage to Dr. Mary Bowyer, also chronicled in this review, on July 13, 1922. Dr. Laughlin practised at St. Peter, Minnesota, and also at the Veterans' Hospital in Northampton, Massachusetts. He retired in 1961 to Catasauqua, Pennsylvania but had a summer home built at Marlbank on land purchased from the Hunt family. Both he and his wife were avid genealogists. Dr. Edgerton Ross Laughlin died at Catasauqua on January 7, 1970 aged 77 years 6 months and 14 days.

Layton, Basil Douglas Bailey Dr.
1907-1986

Basil Douglas Bailey Layton was born at Toronto, Ontario on August 8, 1907 son of David Layton and Mary Merrick. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at the University of Toronto in 1931 and was soon established in Belleville in general practice. During World War 11 Dr. Layton served with the Royal Canadian Medical Corps in Canada, the United Kingdom and North West Europe and retired with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Following the War he took post graduate studies at the Harvard School of Public Health. Dr. Layton worked at the department of national health and welfare and was a member of the Canadian delegations to many world health assemblies. He served as chairman of the executive board of the World Health Organization, was president of the World Health Assembly and was adviser to the Canadian International Development Agency. Dr. Basil Douglas Bailey Layton died on February 9, 1986 aged 78 years 6 months 1 day.

Lazier, David Brownlee
Dr.
1877-1931

David Brownlee Lazier was born in Belleville on October 4, 1877, son of Stephen Allen Lazier and Marion Brownlee. He was educated locally and entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University, from which institution he graduated in 1901. Dr. Lazier practiced in British Columbia for many years; in 1910, he left the Lower Mainland and made his way up to Soda Creek, between Williams Lake and Quesnel, caught the steamer to South Fort George, where he built a 3-bed hospital, called Lazier's Hospital. He married Jean Allen Mabee on September 1, 1913. About this time, there was a great deal of activity around the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Jasper to Prince Rupert. In 1916, he sold his practice and enlisted in the army, serving for 3 years at the rank of Captain. He, then, returned to the central interior and practiced in the Fort Fraser-Burns Lake area. Dr. Lazier with others staked a claim on a mining property, but allowed the claim to lapse and subsequently Endako Mines, the 2nd largest molybdenum (lead ore) mine in the world was established on this property. Dr. D. B. Lazier died at Fraser Lake, British Columbia on August 3, 1931, aged 53 years, 9 months and 29 days.

Leach, George Chauncey
Dr.
1868-1937

George Chauncey Leach was born at Roseneath on September 14, 1868, son of George Leach and Jane Nicholl. He attended Cobourg High School and later the University of Toronto, where he graduated in Arts. Afterwards, he attended Queen's University graduating in Medicine in 1904. Dr. Leach married Alice Tivey on July 5, 1907. Dr. Leach practiced for 4 years at Peterborough; Hamilton for 22 years and removed to Toronto about 1935. Dr. G. C. Leach died at Toronto on April 19, 1937, aged 68 years, 7 months and 5 days.

Lean, Thomas Dr.
1844-1891

Thomas Lean was born at Camborne, Ontario on September 16, 1844, son of Thomas Lean and Elizabeth Cullis. He was educated locally and graduated from the University of Toronto with his Medical Degree in 1872. He married Sarah Jane Gibb on October 9, 1870. After he attained his diploma, the couple settled at Cold Springs, Ontario, where he remained for over a decade. He removed to Roseneath where he remained for the duration. Dr. Thomas Lean died on December 26, 1891, aged 47 years, 3 months and 10 days.

Leavens, Charles Hudson
Dr.

Charles Hudson Leavens was a native of Belleville, born on February 2, 1905 son of Charles Leavens and Frances Hudson. He was educated at the Belleville Collegiate and Business Schools and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1935; he was united in marriage to Edith Box on January 1, 1936. Dr. Leavens was engaged in general practice in Picton until 1939 when he joined the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment on mobilization in August with the rank of Captain and proceeded overseas as the Regiment's medical officer. On his return Dr. Leavens was appointed medical officer of the Royal Canadian Artillery Training Centre at Petawawa and later was at Army Headquarters in Kingston with the rank of Major. He took post graduate training, qualified as a specialist in radiology and was appointed radiologist of the Recruiting Depot at Fort Frontenac in Kingston. Dr. Charles Hudson Leavens died at Port Hope on March 19, 1961 aged 56 years 1 month 17 days.

Leavitt, Arvin Stoddart Dr.
-1910

Alvin Leavitt was born in the County of Leeds and graduated from Queen's University in 1869. He first practiced his profession at L'Amable in Hastings County; he removed to Bancroft about 1903, where he continued his work. Dr. Leavitt died in Bancroft on November 25, 1910, aged 77 years 4 months 6 days.

Ledrew, Frederick Dr.

Frederick Ledrew was born in Newfoundland on October 23, 1891 son of Isaac Ledrew and Bertha Bennett. He received his degree of B.A. from Victoria College, Toronto in 1919, the degree of M.A. from the University of Toronto in 1920 and his medical degree from the same institution in 1926; he was united in marriage to Marjorie Silverthorn on October 22, 1927. After graduation he served for a year in the Toronto Hospital for Consumptives and for two years was on staff of the Ontario Hospital for Mental Diseases in Cobourg. Dr. Ledrew removed to the Boston State Hospital and was later in charge of the Venereal Clinic and taught students Syphilotherapy. Dr. Frederick Ledrew died at Sunnyvale, Santa Clara, California on July 1, 1977 aged 85 years 8 months and 8 days.

Lehinant, Volker Wilhelm Armand Dr.

Volker Wilhelm Armand Lehinant was born in the Sudetenland, Czechoslovakia on July 31, 1915. He was a graduate of the University of Karlova in 1939 and was drafted by the German Army during World War II. He was sent to the Russian front near Stalingrad where he was captured and imprisoned by the Russians. After he was freed he and his wife, the former Herta Wagner, immigrated to Canada in 1951 and he interned at the Peterborough Civic Hospital; his certificate of registration was issued on July 27, 1953 and he soon established himself at Bancroft, Ontario. He was on staff of the Red Cross and North Hastings Hospitals and was renowned for his surgical ability. Dr. Volker Wilhelm Armand Lehinant died on June 18, 1997 aged 81 years 10 months 17 days.

Leitch, Henry Dousin Dr.
-1919

Henry Dousin Leitch was born in Milton, Ontario, receiving his primary education at the common schools of Burlington. He qualified in Owen Sound as a teacher, and taught for two years in Grey and Hastings Counties. In 1881, he entered Trinity Medical School graduating with honours in 1885, and obtained the Fellowship Degree and Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario; licensed the same year. After practicing a short time in Hastings County, Dr. Leitch settled in Durham County, where he remained until 1890, then located in Victoria, British Columbia where he built up a large practice. He was a member of the Loyal Orange Association and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Dr. Leitch died in Vancouver on April 21, 1919, aged 60 years 1 month 5 days.

Lenk, Czeslaw Romuald
Dr.
1911-1998

Czeslaw Romuald Lenk was born in Poland on July 20, 1911 and was a graduate of Jagiellonian University in Cracow, Poland in 1939. Dr. Lenk was fluent in English, German and Polish and served in the Polish Army in the Middle East. He took post graduate training in public health medicine and was medical officer of health with the British Colonial Service in Northern Rhodesia. Dr. Lenk served as medical officer of health at Weyburn, Saskatchewan and removed to Belleville, Ontario in 1966 where he held that position for Hastings and Prince Edward Counties. Survived by his wife, the former Barbara Skowronska, Dr. Czeslaw Romuald Lenk died on February 17, 1998 aged 86 years 6 months 27 days.

Lent, Edwin James Dr.
1870-1938

Edwin James Lent was born at Picton, Ontario on Aug 17, 1870 son of James Lent and Mary Welbanks. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1892 and in October of that year he removed to Lakeville, Indiana in association with Dr. Harry F Mitchell, a Queen's graduate of 1889. Dr. Lent was united in marriage with Maud Van Liew on Dec 13, 1893 and in 1899 he went to New York to study diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. In the spring of 1900 he returned to South Bend, Indiana to follow the practice of his profession. Dr. Edwin James Lent died at Picton, Ontario on May 31, 1938 aged 67 years 9 months 14 days.

Leonard, Arthur Vincent
Dr.
1890-1918

Arthur Vincent Leonard was born at Warkworth, Ontario on October 29, 1890, son of Owen Leonard and Anne Daley. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1911. He worked at the Isolation and Sick Children's Hospitals in Toronto before his service in World War I. In August 1915, he was appointed to the Canadian Army Medical Corps and served for a month at Niagara Camp before going overseas. He crossed to France in November 1915, and was attached as Medical Officer to the 2nd Brigade, Canadian Field Artillery, later joining Number 2 Field Ambulance. Dr. Leonard took part in the battles of Somme, Vimy and Hill 7C. In November 1917, he returned to England and joined the staff at the Canadian General Hospital at Orpington. Later he was attached to the Hospital ships Àraguaya and Llandovery Castle. He was drowned at sea when this ship was sunk by an enemy torpedo; any survivors of the blast were machine gunned. Dr. Arthur Vincent Leonard died on June 27, 1918, aged 27 years, 7 months and 28 days.

Leonard, Raymond Alonzo Dr.
-1924

Raymond Alonzo Leonard was born in Westbrook and was a graduate of Queen's University in 1879. He immediately established himself in Napanee where he remained until his death. In 1900 he contested the County election, in the Liberal interest, losing a close decision. A few years later, he was appointed as Postmaster at Napanee. He was active in sports and was a former prominent cricketer, and later, a member of the curling, bowling and golf clubs. After an illness of three months' duration, Dr. Leonard died in Kingston General Hospital on April 29, 1924, aged 73 years 2 months 15 days.

Liddy, Francis James Dr.
1896-1964

Francis James Liddy was born at Keene, Ontario on November 9, 1896 son of Reverend James Liddy and Catherine Balmer. He was a Veteran of both World Wars and a graduate in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1924. He was married to Alyce Reed, born May 27, 1903 at Iowa City, Iowa. Dr. Liddy was on staff of the Mound Park Hospital at St Petersburg, Florida. Dr. Francis James Liddy died of pulmonary edema, heart failure and obstructive emphysema at St. Petersburg on July 9, 1964 aged 67 years and 8 months.

Lighthall, Donald Sherwood Dr.
1877-1951

Donald Sherwood Lighthall was born in Picton on December 6, 1877, son of Angus Lighthall and Mary Ann Bailey. He attended the local schools and began the study of his chosen profession at the University of Toronto, where he received his Medical Degree in 1901. After graduation, he practiced in Idaho for a number of years before returning to Picton in 1915. Dr. Lighthall married Helen Augusta Thorne on May 19, 1920. He served as Coroner for Prince Edward County and Medical Officer of Health for the Town of Picton for two periods; he was in charge of medical services for the County Old Peoples' Home. He was an authority on the geology of the county and was a collector of rare gems and Indian lore. Dr. D. S. Lighthall died at Picton on May 9, 1951, aged 73 years, 5 months and 3 days.

Lind, Jack Ronald Dr.
1904-1975

Jack Ronald Lind was born at Toronto, Ontario on July 25, 1904 son of William Lind and Mary Hobbs. He was a graduate in medicine of the University of Toronto in 1930 and worked as Missionary physician serving the United Church of Canada in Southern China. On his return to Canada Dr. Lind established himself at Belleville, Ontario but enlisted for service during World War 11 and attained the rank of Captain. Dr. Jack Ronald Lind died at Toronto on December 19, 1975 aged 71 years 4 months 24 days.

Lister, James Dr.
-1878

James Lister was born in London, England where he was educated, obtaining his medical degree in 1833. He was a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, and a Licentiate of Anglisses Midwifery Institution, Dublin. Dr. Lister commenced practice in Barnstable, Devonshire, England, residing there for six years. He, then, came to Canada in 1840, moving first to Shannonville and, shortly thereafter, to Belleville. He became a Licentiate of the Medical Board on June 17, 1841. Dr. Lister was commissioned Surgeon Major of the 1st Battalion of Hastings Militia on May 20, 1858 and on the formation of the 15th in 1862 was appointed Surgeon to the new Battalion. When the first Fenian raid took place in 1866 he accompanied the Battalion to the front, a credible action for a man of his age. The Lister home stood where the present Armouries building is situated and was frequently used as a meeting place by the unit in those early days. In 1931, his daughter presented to the Regiment the swords carried by Major James Lister and his son, Lieutenant James H. Lister. He was an outstanding Surgeon and was often called into consultation from as far away as Montreal and New York. Upon his death, the funeral procession made its way to the Belleville Cemetery by way of the steamer Prince Edward. He died on March 23, 1878, aged 66 years 8 months 23 days.

Lister, James H. Dr.
-1894

James H. Lister was a native of Belleville, where he received his primary education, and a graduate of McGill College in 1862. He soon established himself in the practice of his profession in Belleville. In 1863, he joined the 15th Battalion of the Hastings Militia and went to Niagara Falls and, in 1866, to Prescott, at the time of the Fenian Raid. He received the commission of Lieutenant on December 18, 1868. Dr. Lister removed to Brown City, Michigan, where he continued to practice medicine; he died there on June 29, 1894, aged 47.

Little, Homer Edward Robert Dr.
1860-1946

Homer Edward Robert Little was born at Trenton, Ontario in 1860. After attending the local schools he graduated from Bellevue Hospital Medical College in New York City in 1886. He wed first, Cornelia Clark on October 5, 1887 at Waterloo, New York and second, Mary Elizabeth Hennesey on May 7, 1890 at Trenton, Ontario. Dr. Little followed the practice of his profession in New York State for over four decades, including time in the Bronx and Long Island. Dr. Homer Edward Robert Little returned to Trenton where he died in 1946 aged 86.

Little, Neville Hall Dr.
1893-1918

Neville Hall Little was born at Trenton, Ontario on June 24, 1893, son of Lewis Little and Jennie Hall. He attended the local schools and graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1916. In October of that year, he was gazetted to the Canadian Army Medical Corps and went overseas in February 1917. Dr. Little was appointed to Number 11 Canadian General Hospital, Moore Barracks, Shorncliffe, being placed in charge of a new ward. He went to France with Number 13 Field Ambulance in July 1918 and served through the campaign of that summer. At Denain, shortly after the capture of that town, he was wounded in the thigh and later succumbed to his injuries. He was buried at Duisans, France. Dr. Neville Hall Little died on October 29, 1918, aged 25 years, 4 months and 5 days.

Little, Walter Reginald Dr.
1902-1952

Walter Reginald Little was born at Trenton, Ontario on January 16, 1902 son of Andrew Little and Alice Mabey. He graduated from the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Toronto in 1927, took post graduate work in England and received the degree of Doctor of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene; he was united in marriage to Mabel Code in August 1940. Prior to World War 11, Dr. Little engaged in private practice in Toronto, specializing in internal medicine. He served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in England during World War 11, holding the rank of Captain and was invalided home in 1944. Dr. Walter Reginald Little died at Toronto on March 19, 1952 aged 50 years 2 months and 3 days.

Lloyd, Frank Percival Dr.
1892-1964

Frank Percival Lloyd was born at Rothesay, New Brunswick on September 10, 1892 son of Bishop George Lloyd and his wife Marion. He attended Rothesay College and Trent College, England and then took a Master's degree in biochemistry at the University of Saskatchewan followed by his medical degree at the University of Toronto in 1920; he was united in marriage to Mary Oliver on May 25, 1916. He served with the 203rd Battalion and the Winnipeg Rifles in World War 1 and later commanded the 22nd Medium Battery of Cobourg and the 4th Field Artillery Brigade. Upon the outbreak of World War 11 he commanded the 4th Field Regiment in England until 1942 when he was promoted to the rank of Colonel and appointed to the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. He was awarded the Order of the British Empire, the Victorian Decoration and the Efficiency Decoration in recognition of his services. Between wars he practised medicine in Cobourg, his special interest being cardiology, surgery and radiology. Dr. Frank Percival Lloyd died at Cobourg on October 8, 1964 aged 72 years and 28 days.

Lloyd, Wilson Henry Dr.
1892-1962

Wilson Henry Lloyd was born at Plainfield, Ontario on February 5, 1892, son of John Lloyd and Sarah Martin. He graduated from Belleville High School in 1911, taught for two years at Combermere and Plainfield and entered into the Study of Medicine at Queen's University with the Class of 1918. He was united in marriage on February 14, 1916 to Olive Pearl Morton. Dr. Lloyd went overseas in World War I with the Canadian Expeditionary Force. After his return, he spent twenty-seven years in practice at Chesterville, Ontario, then ten years at Kingston. He lived the retired life in Belleville, was a member of the Masons, the Rotary and Shrine clubs. Dr. Wilson Henry Lloyd died on January 2, 1962, aged 69 years, 10 months and 27 days.

Lochead, James Harold
Dr.
1900-1961

James Harold Lochead was born at Centreville, Ontario on September 6, 1900 son of James Lochead and Amelia Milsap. He studied medicine at Queen's University with the class of 1923 and interned at the Kingston General Hospital and the Lying In Hospital in New York; he was united in marriage to Anna Shaw in 1931. He soon established himself in his medical practice at Lansdowne, Ontario where he remained for the duration. He was a true country doctor making house calls by sleigh if necessary. Dr. James Harold Lochead died at Lansdowne on December 28, 1961 aged 61 years 3 months and 22 days.

Locke, Arthur Claude Dr.
1897-1971

Arthur Claude Locke was born at Algonquin, Ontario on March 28, 1897 son of Dr. John Locke and Ida Walker. He took his early education at Cardinal, Ontario and was a graduate of the medical school at Queen's University in 1921; Dr. Locke was united in marriage to Ana Mather on June 9, 1923. He interned at London, England and the Lying In Hospital in New York City before setting up an office in Tweed where he practised for 10 years. He then took specialist studies in New York City and at the Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital and in 1937 set up practice as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist in Belleville. He was an accomplished violinist and served as director of the Belleville Community Concert Association. Dr. Arthur Claude Locke practised in Belleville for more than 30 years and died there on August 27, 1971 aged 74 years 4 months and 29 days.

Lockett, Warren Frederick
Dr.
1885-1962

Warren Frederick Lockett was born at Belleville, Ontario on December 22, 1885, son of Frederick Lockett and Charlotte Haines. He was a Graduate of Queen's University in 1912, interned in Quebec City and became a member of the Hamilton Academy of Medicine in 1914. He was united in marriage to Edna Mary Hardman on June 27, 1917. He remained in active work for almost fifty years and was a life member of the Hamilton Academy of Medicine. Dr. Warren Frederick Lockett died November 19, 1962, aged 76 years, 10 months and 27 days

- Lockhart, Alfred J. Dr.
-1935
- Alfred J. Lockhart was born in Sydenham and graduated from Queen's Medical School in 1892. He took medical training in London, England and obtained the diploma of Royal College of Surgeons, and on his return from England, he practiced at Harrowsmith, removing to Toronto about 1920. Dr. Lockhart died at Toronto on February 10, 1935, aged 68 years 4 months 19 days.
- Lockhart, George Douglas Dr.
-1941
- George Douglas Lockhart was a native of Sydenham, Ontario and a graduate of Queen's University in 1890. He took post-graduate work in London, England and in Vienna. After his return to Canada in 1900, he commenced practice in the village of King where he continued until his death. Dr. Lockhart died at King on May 17, 1941, aged 77 years 8 months 9 days.
- Longmore, Howard Bruce Dr.
1873-1952
- Howard Bruce Longmore was born at Camden East on April 14, 1873, son of Joseph Somerville Longmore and Anna Maria Aylesworth. He married Mary Isabella Fee on July 13, 1901 and graduated with his Medical Degree from Queen's University in 1907. Dr. Longmore established himself at Campbellford, where he was a successful physician for over 40 years. He was active in the community serving as the first President of the Rotary Club, a Mason and an Oddfellow. He was a driving force behind the establishment of the Northumberland-Durham Medical Association in 1919; an enthusiastic sportsman, he won the Trent Valley Lawn Tennis singles tournament at age 60. Throughout his career, he attended the leading medical centres of the world to advance his knowledge. Dr. H. B. Longmore died at Campbellford on May 10, 1952, aged 79 years and 26 days.
- Loomis, John Sandfield Dr.
-1889
- John Sandfield Loomis of McGill College opened his office in Madoc in 1866. He was active in local affairs and, when the village incorporated in 1878, he was elected to Town Council. Dr. Loomis suffered from an abscess in the groin and underwent an amputation in Kingston but, four hours later, he died on January 28, 1889, aged 58.
- Loucks, William Francis Dr.
-1943
- William Francis Loucks was born in Stirling and was a graduate of McGill University in 1887. In 1889, he established a practice in Campbellford where he followed his profession's work for half a century. He was for some years Medical Officer of Health. Dr. Loucks died in Peterborough on March 31, 1943, aged 81 years 5 months 25 days.
- Lowrey, Bertrand David Dr.
1889-1959
- Bertrand David Lowrey was born at Brantford, Ontario on September 1, 1889, son of David Lowrey and Mary Cathey. He was educated at the University of Toronto and graduated with his Medical Degree in 1914. Dr. Lowrey was united in marriage on April 26, 1916 to Gladys

Ross. After graduation, he practiced in Brighton and Colborne before returning to Toronto where he was associated with the Toronto Western Hospital. Dr. Bertrand David Lowrey died on March 12, 1959, aged 69 years, 6 months and 11 days.

Loynes, Bertha Geraldine
Dr.
1913-2005

Bertha Geraldine Loynes was born at Woodstock, Ontario on July 30, 1913 daughter of Gerald Loynes and Roselia Thompson; she was sister of Dr. James Loynes of Belleville. She was a graduate of the University of Western Ontario in 1937 and was united in marriage to Dr. Charles Bright, chronicled previously. Dr. Loynes established herself at Campbellford, Ontario where she carried on a general practice before removing to New York State in 1969. Here she worked at the St. Lawrence Psychiatric Centre in Ogdensburg where she was medical director of the mobile geriatric service removing in 1972 to the Harlem Valley Psychiatric Centre where she served as unit chief of the geriatric service. Dr. Bertha Geraldine (Betty) Loynes died at Belleville on November 19, 2005 aged 92 years 3 months 19 days.

Lucas, David Fletcher Dr.
1847-1924

David Fletcher Lucas was born at Camden East, Ontario on March 2, 1847 son of John Lucas and Mary Aylsworth. Lucas attended the Newburgh High School and the Ontario College of Pharmacy, was a graduate of Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York, a Licentiate in 1880. He practiced in Brooklyn, New York for 30 years and was on the visiting staff of the King's County Hospital and was long with the Brooklyn Central Dispensary. Dr. David F. Lucas died on June 16, 1924 aged 77 years 3 months 14 days.

Lucus, Thomas Darcy Dr.
1841-1877

Thomas Darcy Lucus was born in 1841 at Adolphustown, Ontario son of Joseph Lucus and Deborah Dorland. He attended the Medical School at McGill University and graduated with the class of 1869. He established himself in the practice of his profession at Stratford, Ontario and wed Martha Anne Salkeld on June 18, 1873. This was soon to be followed by his death, the result of Typhoid Fever, this occurring on September 28, 1877 aged 36.

Lumb, Stead Sutcliffe Dr.
1894-1970

Stead Sutcliffe Lumb was born at Fort Stewart, Ontario, a Scottish settlement in northern Hastings County on September 26, 1894 son of Eli Lumb and Janet Mather. He attended Stirling High School and entered Queen's University in 1912. In 1914 he went overseas with a cavalry division but returned to Queen's to complete his medical education; in 1916 he again proceeded overseas and was attached to various hospitals. He was repatriated and graduated in medicine with the class of 1920; he was united in marriage to Bertha Filkin on September 20, 1922. Dr. Lumb set up practice in Maynooth, then Eldorado and in 1926 in Bancroft where he continued in general practice until 1970. During his time in Bancroft he saw the development of the Red Cross Hospital and served as medical officer of health and as coroner. He served as reeve of the Village and warden of Hastings County. Dr. Stead Sutcliffe Lumb died at Peterborough on July 29, 1970 aged 75 years 10 months and 3 days.

Lynch, William Valentine
Dr.
-1897

William Valentine Lynch was a native of Belleville and studied in preparation for his life's work at St. Michael's College in Toronto. He entered the study of medicine at Trinity College from which institution he graduated as Medical Doctor in 1885. He soon established himself at Aux Sables Forks, New York a mining town in the Adirondacks. After two years, he removed to Lindsay, Ontario where he remained for the duration. Dr. Lynch died at Lindsay on February 26, 1897, aged 43.

Mabee, Curtis Oscar, Dr.
1857-1939

Curtis Oscar Mabee was born at Odessa on December 1, 1857, son of Thomas Jefferson Mabee and Amanda Tinlin, and brother of Dr. James Edmund Mabee chronicled previously. He attended the local classrooms and attained his Medical Diploma at Queen's University graduating in 1888. He married Nellie Wright on October 4, 1888 and emigrated to New Providence, Iowa where he remained for the duration. Dr. Curtis Oscar Mabee died on June 20, 1939, aged 81 years, 6 months and 19 days.

Mabee, Horace Carleton
Dr.
1880-1970

Horace Carleton Mabee was born at Odessa, Ontario on December 22, 1880, son of Dr. James Edmund Mabee and Emma Frances Storms; the father of our subject was a teacher at the time of his birth and didn't graduate as a Physician until 1887. Horace Carleton Mabee studied Medicine at Queen's University with the Class of 1910 and took two years of post-graduate work at Brooklyn, New York. He returned to Kingston where he established himself and was united in marriage on April 22, 1918 to Evelyn Claire Perrin. Dr. Mabee followed the practice of his profession at Kingston for over four decades. Dr. Horace Carleton Mabee died on June 29, 1970, aged 89 years, 6 months and 7 days.

Mabee, James Edmund
Dr.
-1940

James Edmund Mabee was born at Beamsville, Ontario; the family moving to Odessa in 1857. He was educated there, going on to Queen's University in the medical school from which he graduated in 1887. He returned to Odessa, bought out the practice of Dr. Thomas Beeman and remained there since. In his younger days, he took an active interest in the militia and was the Commanding Officer of the old 47th Regiment. In 1937 he was honoured for completing 50 years in practice and presented with a gold-headed cane. He was active in community organizations and was known throughout the countryside. During the W.W.I, he took a keen interest in the work of the Red Cross and played a leading part of the activities of the Red Cross in the Odessa district. Dr. Mabee died at Odessa on August 20, 1940, aged 89 years 2 months 28 days.

Macaulay, Alexander John
Dr.
-1919

Alexander John Macaulay was born in Sidney Township. He entered into the study of his life's work at Trinity College from which institution he graduated in 1888. He immediately established himself in his native Frankford, but removed to Brockville about 1895. Here he built up an extensive practice and served as Medical Officer of Health. He was President of the Ontario Medical Health Office in 1906. Dr. Macaulay died in Brockville on October 27, 1919, aged 56.

MacColl, Allan Evan Dr.
-1919

Allan Evan MacColl was born at Campbellford and was educated at the local high school and Queen's University where he graduated with his Masters Degree in 1882. He began his career as Mathematics Master at Belleville High School and returned to Queen's whence he graduated Medical Doctor in 1891. He soon established himself in Belleville as a colleague of Dr. Gibson; this partnership later being dissolved. Dr. MacColl was Surgeon Captain of the 15th Regiment, Argyle Light Infantry, and at the outbreak of the war offered his services to his country and was attached to the Canadian Army Medical Corps as Major. After the war, his health impaired, he retired and was confined to his home in a semi-invalid condition. Dr. MacColl died in Belleville on May 6, 1919, aged 57 years 4 months 20 days.

MacDonald, Albert Angus
Dr.
1851-1944

Albert Angus MacDonald was born at Cobourg, Ontario on February 7, 1851 son of Judge Archibald MacDonald and Jane Ann Wright. He attended school at Guelph, took his Medical Degree in Toronto with the class of 1888 and post graduate work in London and Edinburgh. He commenced practice in Guelph and was one of the first medical men in Canada to use the antiseptic methods developed by Lord Lister under whom MacDonald studied. Dr. MacDonald was president of the Ontario Medical Council in 1905 and was one of the founders of the Academy of Medicine and was president in 1910. He was one of the founders of the Toronto Western Hospital, was a member of the Board of Governors and a founder of the Aesculapian Club. Dr. MacDonald was professor of gynaecology at the University of Toronto and directed the medical services of the National Life Assurance Company of Canada. He was a member of the first Wimbledon rifle team from Ontario, a life member of Royal Canadian Yacht Club where he also served as Commodore. Dr. Albert Angus MacDonald died at Toronto on November 11, 1944 aged 93 years 9 months 4 days.

Macdonald, Alexander R
Dr.

Alexander R Macdonald was born at Kingston, Ontario on May 29, 1824 son of Alexander and Christina Macdonald. He studied medicine at Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1857. Dr. Macdonald served as Private during the 1866 Fenian Raids and later as a Company Commander in the Ontario Rifles during Wolseley's excursion to Fort Garry in 1870. He remained there over the winter to treat an outbreak of cholera amongst the local Cree Indians. Dr. Macdonald's medical license was registered in Ontario on May 10, 1875 and he followed the practice of his profession at Brighton, Ontario; he was united in his 2nd marriage to Mary Flindall on Jan 3, 1887. Captain Macdonald was present in Picton in 1900 at the distribution of the Fenian Raid Medals. Dr. Alexander R Macdonald died at Trenton on Dec 29, 1906 aged 82 years 7 months.

1824-1906

MacDonald, Davidson Dr.
-1905

Davidson MacDonald was born at Wellington and received his primary education in Picton. He attended Victoria College and was an ordained Methodist Minister in 1864. After performing ministerial duties at Newburgh and Gananoque, he studied medicine, graduating from Victoria College in 1873. Rev. Dr. MacDonald went to Japan as a Methodist Missionary, spending most of his life in that country. He traveled to Yokohama and moved his family to Shizuoka, where he accepted a position to teach English in a Japanese school, in addition to preaching and running a medical dispensary. He opened two Canadian Methodist Churches during his time in Japan and served as principal at the Anglo-Oriental College in Tokyo. He was also Associate Physician attached to the British Embassy. After more than 25 years there, Dr. MacDonald retired and returned to Toronto where he died on January 3, 1905, aged 67 years 5 months 12 days.

MacDonald, Walter S. Dr.
-1930

Walter S. MacDonald was born in Wellington and graduated in 1893 from Western University. Later he acted as Demonstrator in Practical Anatomy and Lecturer in Surgical Anatomy in his alma mater. Before moving to Winnipeg in 1904, he practiced in Demorestville and Picton. In Winnipeg, he was Medical Officer to the Dominion Department of Immigration until 1924, when he accepted a similar position with the Winnipeg Electric Company. Dr. MacDonald died on February 12, 1930, aged 60 years 9 months 11 days.

MacDonald, Archibald Dr.
1875-1966

Archibald MacDonald was born at Frankford, Ontario on July 5, 1875 son of James MacDonald and Mahala Phillips. He started his professional career as a teacher in Sidney Township and entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University where he graduated with the class of 1908. Dr MacDonald established himself in the practice of his profession at Marmora and was united in marriage to Effie Jane Stewart on Jan 12, 1909. After a short time he removed to Saskatchewan to serve the communities of Forward and Khedive where he was both physician and druggist. He took post graduate work in England where he traveled several times and in 1924 established a practice in Ceylon, Sk where he remained until his wife's health required a move to Regina. Dr Archibald MacDonald died on Feb 1, 1966 aged 90 years 6 months 26 days.

MacDonald, Robert Stevenson Dr.
1877-1939

Robert Stevenson MacDonald was born at Wellington, Ontario on Jan 23, 1877 son of William MacDonald and Margery Stevenson and brother of Dr Walter S MacDonald. He was a graduate in medicine from Cornell University in 1902, served his internship at Bellevue Hospital in New York City and received an appointment to the Clinton Prison State Hospital in Dannemora, N.Y. In 1910 Dr MacDonald removed to Plattsburgh where his ability as a surgeon, especially as a brain specialist, was soon recognized and he was consulted by patients from all sections of the State. Dr MacDonald was united in marriage to Mary Barber on Sept 25, 1918. An active sportsman, he was an ardent fisherman and hunter and made frequent trips to Canada to enjoy a few days outing. He died on such a fishing trip to St Alexis, Quebec when suddenly stricken with heart trouble. Dr Robert Stevenson MacDonald died on June 4, 1939 aged 62 years 4 months 11 days.

MacDowall, John Lazier
Dr.
1877-1942

John Lazier MacDowall was born at Demorestville, Ontario on Aug 29, 1877 son of Robert MacDowall and Elda Lazier. He received his medical training at Queen's University and after graduation in 1903 Dr MacDowall took post graduate work in N.Y. at the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital. In 1905 he removed to Perth Amboy, N.J. and became affiliated with the staff of the City Hospital as an Ophthalmologist. He was a Surgeon of the U.S. Naval Reserves and rendered valued assistance in the rescue of passengers from the ill-fated S.S. Moro Castle in Sept 1934. Dr MacDowall was a member of several fraternal organizations and enjoyed football and hockey; he remained a bachelor. Dr John Lazier MacDowall died on July 21, 1942 aged 64 years 10 months 22 days.

MacFarlane, Percy Blakely
Dr.
1885-1961

Percy Blakely MacFarlane was born at Cherry Valley on Jan 3, 1885 son of Rev. James MacFarlane and Caroline McNiece. He matriculated from Albert College in 1901, was a graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School in 1908 and did post graduate work in Pennsylvania and Vienna. Dr MacFarlane was united in marriage to Andrina Paterson on June 23, 1915. He was a specialist in ophthalmology and otolaryngology and in 1913 established himself in practice at Hamilton, Ontario. Dr MacFarlane was associated with the Ontario Provincial Board of Health, the Baltimore Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, the Hamilton Academy of Medicine and served as president of the Canadian Ophthalmology Society. He was a pioneer in his chosen specialty and served his community for almost a half century. Dr Percy Blakely MacFarlane died on May 19, 1961 aged 76 years 4 months 16 days.

MacGowan, George
Archer Dr.

George Archer MacGowan was born at Tweed, Ontario on July 21, 1900 son of John MacGowan and Kate Archer. He entered into the study of his life's work at the University of Toronto from which Institution he received his medical degree in 1925; he was united in marriage to Gladys Melhurst on September 7, 1927. Dr. MacGowan soon established himself at Espanola, Ontario where he remained but a few years before returning to set up practice in Toronto. Dr. George Archer MacGowan died at Don Mills, Ontario on February 8, 1990 aged 89 years 6 months and 17 days.

MacKechnie, William Graeme Dr.
-1945

William Graeme MacKechnie was born in Brighton and was a graduate of Trinity Medical College in 1895. After practicing in Marmora for some years, he went to Toronto where he engaged in private practice and served the staffs of the Toronto General Hospital and the Hospital for Sick Children. He was an ear, nose and throat specialist. In about 1943, after 25 years of practice in Port of Spain, Trinidad, he returned to Toronto to retire. Dr. MacKechnie died on December 9, 1945, aged 76 years 3 months 14 days.

MacKechnie, Ronald Stuart Dr.
1872-1946

Ronald Stuart MacKechnie was born at Brighton, Ontario on Sept 17, 1872 son of Charles MacKechnie and Elizabeth Traill and brother of Dr William Graeme MacKechnie. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1900 and soon established himself at Marmora in association with his brother. Dr MacKechnie took post graduate work in Baltimore where he devoted some time to the study of the eye, also taking a course in midwifery at the John Hopkin's Hospital. In 1908 he located at Hillsboro, Wisconsin and was united in marriage to Elizabeth Ketchum on June 15, 1909. For almost 4 decades he followed the practice of his profession at Hillsboro and was a leader in the religious, social and economic life of the community. Dr Ronald Stuart MacKechnie died on Aug 7, 1946 aged 73 years 10 months 20 days.

Mackie, David Henry Dr.
1862-1946

David Henry Mackie was born at Belleville, Ontario on February 3, 1862, son of James Mackie and Margaret French. He attended Albert College and was a Graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University in 1884, and established himself at Otego, New York then Manhattan, New York He was married to Maria Jodry in 1890. One of his most intriguing patients was the case of Mrs. Olive S. Day who had been the subject of charity. She transferred her power of attorney to Dr. Mackie and moved to reside with her physician. Dr. Mackie helped her regain control of valuable property owned by her late husband worth about two hundred thousand dollars. She had been swindled by her previous lawyer who committed suicide when the fraud was uncovered. Dr. David Henry Mackie died on July 13, 1946, aged 84 years, 5 months and 10 days.

Maclean, Alexander
Campbell Dr.
1854-1907

Alexander Campbell Maclean was born at the farmhouse near Campbellford, Ontario on June 22, 1854 son of Charles Maclean and Jane Jessie Campbell. He was the youngest of three brothers to take up the practice of medicine, all of whom followed their profession in the United States. The father of our subject lost his eyesight at the age of 16 however entered the University of Edinburgh and studied for the ministry. He passed his examinations but was refused a pastoral charge and removed to Seymour Township, Ontario in 1836 where he purchased a farm. Alexander was a graduate of the Medical School at the University of Michigan in 1877 and established himself at Leadville, Colorado before moving to Salt Lake City, Utah where he died on August 3, 1907 aged 53 years 1 month 11 days.

Maclean, Archibald Malcolm Dr.
1852-1921

Archibald Malcolm Maclean was the middle of three brothers to enter the medical profession. He was born on July 13, 1852, attained his primary education in the local schools as well as Belleville and Kingston, and entered into the study of medicine at the University of Michigan with the class of 1874. Dr. Maclean soon established himself in the position of the superintendent over the newly established hospital of the Iron Silver Mining Company's Hospital in Colorado. He later established a general practice in Leadville, Colorado and was wed to Nellie Condon on June 7, 1881. Dr. Maclean made and lost money in mining ventures and owned mining property throughout Park County. He had international fame as a shot in the '70s and won several marksmanship tournaments in New York State. Locally he competed under a handicap because of his reputation as a crack shot. In his last decade of life he became mentally incapacitated and although he was heir to the Clan Scottish Castle and Estate, he never realized the titular honour which he had attained. Dr. Archibald Malcolm Maclean died on April 20, 1921 aged 68 years 9 months 7 days.

Maclean, Donald Dr.
1839-1897

Donald Maclean was the oldest of three brothers, born on December 4, 1839. His early education was obtained in Edinburgh, Cobourg, Belleville and Kingston and he began his career as a teacher before returning to Edinburgh where he studied Medicine and was Licentiate of the Royal College on August 1, 1862. He returned to Canada and moved to the United States where he served as surgeon in the Civil War. In 1864 he accepted the Professorship of Clinical Surgery and Medicine at Queen's University, a position which he held for 8 years before removing to the University of Michigan where he was Professor of Surgery for 17 years. Dr. Maclean moved to Detroit in 1889 and for two decades served as Surgeon-in-Chief of the Michigan Central and of the Grand Trunk Railroads. He was a member of the Michigan State Medical Society, president in 1884, of the Detroit Medical Association, president in 1887 and of the American Medical Association, president in 1894. During the war with Spain he accepted a commission as Chief Surgeon with the rank of Major. Dr. Donald Maclean died on July 24, 1897 aged 57 years 7 months 20 days.

MacNaughton, Peter, Dr.
1859-1926

Peter MacNaughton was born at Peterborough, Ontario on March 13, 1859, son of Peter MacNaughton and Janet Robb. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at Trinity University in 1888; and was united in marriage to Janet Helen Blezard on November 10, 1892. Dr. MacNaughton was employed at the Ontario Hospitals for the Insane and worked across the province at the hospitals of London, Hamilton, Cobourg (1920-1924) and Brockville where he was Medical Superintendent. Dr. Peter MacNaughton died on March 7, 1926, aged 66 years, 11 months and 24 days.

MacNeill, Clifford Herbert
Dr.
1902-1959

Clifford Herbert MacNeill was born at Petitcodiac, New Brunswick on May 21, 1902 son of Reverend Norman MacNeill and Harriett Price. He studied medicine at Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1929; he was united in marriage to Ida Brown. Dr. MacNeill started to practice medicine in Campbellford, Ontario; at the outbreak of World War 11 he joined the Army and served overseas with the rank of Major. After the War, as a specialist in pulmonary diseases, Dr. MacNeill was on the staff of the Peterborough Military Hospital and then moved to the Kingston Military Hospital. In 1947 he transferred to the Christie Street Hospital in Toronto and then to Sunnybrook where he served on the Canadian Pension Commission. Dr. Clifford Herbert MacNeill died at Toronto on March 11, 1959 aged 56 years 9 months and 20 days.

Macoun, John M. Dr.
-1924

John M. Macoun was a native of Seymour Township and graduated from the University of Toronto in 1886. He practiced in Campbellford and was a well-known surgeon. He was an active militiaman and in spite of his advancing years, he went overseas where he served with the Canadian Army Medical Corps, in France. Dr. Macoun was the oldest physician in Campbellford when he died on May 11, 1924, aged 68 years 11 months 23 days.

Macrossie, Thomas
Donald Dr.

Thomas Donald Macrossie was born at Napanee, Ontario on June 10, 1872 son of Alexander Macrossie and Mary Downey. He was graduated from New York University Medical School in 1897, practiced in Brooklyn, N.Y. and was united in marriage to Emma Cartier in 1905. Dr. Macrossie, an ear, nose and throat specialist, was a W.W. 1 Veteran and served with the medical unit of the 26th (Yankee) Division of the American Expeditionary Force, attained the rank of Major and was gassed on Nov 11, 1918, the last day of the War. Dr. Thomas Donald Macrossie died at the Veteran's Hospital in the Bronx on Sept 1, 1943 aged 71 years 2 months 21 days.

1872-1943

Maitland, Kenneth Rae
Dr.
1893-1921

Kenneth Rae Maitland was born at Brighton, Ontario on September 19, 1893 son of John Maitland and Mary Peister. He was a Veteran of World War 1 having enlisted as a medical student. After he served overseas he completed his medical training at Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1921. He was soon appointed as an assistant physician at the Ontario Hospital in Kingston but was admitted to the Sir Oliver Mowat Memorial Hospital for treatment. This Institution was established in 1912 but was taken over by the Department of National Defence during the First World War for the treatment of military personnel who acquired Tuberculosis while overseas. Dr. Kenneth Rae Maitland died at Kingston on December 30, 1921 aged 28 years 3 months and 11 days.

Malloch, Edward Cruikshank Dr.
1841-1902

Edward Cruikshank Malloch was born at Ottawa on October 21, 1841, son of Edward Malloch and Margaret Hill. He was a Graduate of McGill College Medical School in 1863 and served as a Surgeon in the United States Civil War, U.S. Volunteers in 1864 and 1865. He returned to Canada and was united in marriage to Gertrude Barbara Coulter. He sought post graduate work overseas and was a Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh, in 1878. When he returned to Canada, he spent some time in Warkworth, Ontario. Dr. Edward Cruikshank Malloch died at Ottawa on June 13, 1902, aged 60 years, 7 months and 22 days.

Mallory, Albert Elhanon
Dr.
-1904

Albert Mallory was a native of Cobourg and a graduate of Albert College and McGill University in 1872; he received his Licenciante of the Royal College of Physician and Surgeons, Edinburgh in 1878. He practiced for a short time in Warkworth in 1889, before moving to Colbourne. He was active in politics and represented Northumberland in the Dominion Parliament. Dr. Mallory was an active member of the Board of Management of Albert College; he died of appendicitis on October 4, 1904, aged 56 years 8 months 3 days.

Malone, Herbert Vivian
Dr.
-1926

Herbert Vivian Malone, a graduate of Queen's University, Bachelor of Arts 1894, Medicinae Doctorae, Chirurgiae Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery) 1898, established himself in the practice of medicine in Frankford in 1900. He had taken post-graduate training in eye, ear, nose and throat at Queen's. He soon had a large and lucrative practice, but after some years removed to Girvin, Saskatchewan. Dr. Malone died at Girvin on October 22, 1926, aged 54 years 10 months 2 days.

Maracle, John C., Dr.
1855-1899

See Kenwendeshon

Marsh, Johnson W. Dr.
1814-1885

Johnson W Marsh was born on Mar 7, 1814 at Consecon, Ontario son of William Marsh and Sylvia Squier. He was united in marriage on May 9, 1843 to Lydia Bissell and removed with his family to Michigan in the early 1850s. His son, Webster Adolphus Marsh was born on July 1, 1844 and served as a Soldier in Company E, 8th Michigan Cavalry, during the American Civil War, was captured and died in 1864, a prisoner of War at Andersonville, Georgia. Dr. Johnson W Marsh followed the practice of his life's work at Orion, Michigan where he died on Oct 20, 1885 aged 71 years 7 months 13 days.

Marshall, William Porte Dr.
1900-1958

William Porte Marshall was born in Prince Edward County on June 22, 1900 son of Dr. Oliver Marshall and Nellie Porte. He was raised in Belleville and was a graduate of medicine at the University of Toronto in 1931; he was brother of Dr. Jack Marshall, D.D.S. Dr. Marshall took post graduate work at Hotel Dieu in Windsor and at the Toronto Western Hospital. He established himself in general practice at Colborne until 1940 when he enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps and went overseas until 1945. In 1946 he became associated with the department of health and welfare in London, England, a post he held until the time of his death. Survived by his wife, the former Marion Morgan, Dr. William Porte Marshall died on April 27, 1958 aged 57 years 10 months 5 days.

Marten, Henry Oake Dr.
1836-1901

Henry Oake Marten was born at Harbour Grace, Newfoundland on August 31, 1836, son of Thomas Marten and Emma Garland. He was a Licentiate of the Medical Board in 1864, and was registered to practice in Ontario on June 11, 1866. He spent a short time at Colborne, Ontario, before he removed to Essex County, where he was a well known practitioner at Sandwich and Leamington. He was united in marriage to Elise McKenzie on January 23, 1877. His son, on reading about the sinking of the Titanic, invented the compensating davit, designed to lower a lifeboat safely, without the swaying that affected the evacuation of the Titanic passengers. Dr. Henry Oake Marten died at Toronto on February 25, 1901, aged 64 years, 5 months and 24 days.

Martin, George Graydon
Dr.
1898-1980

George Graydon Martin was born at the farmhouse near Campbellford on December 7, 1898 son of George Martin and Sarah Hay. He studied medicine at the University of Toronto with the class of 1922 and was soon to remove to the United States. He was certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine and was appointed as assistant superintendent of the Buffalo City Hospital. He remained in practice in Erie County, New York State where he followed his life's work. Dr. George Graydon Martin died at Amherst, New York on March 4, 1980 aged 81 years 2 months and 27 days.

Martin, Robert Clarence
Dr.
1893-1953

Robert Clarence Martin was born at Camden East, Ontario on March 31, 1893 son of Robert Martin and Agnes Weese. He studied medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated with the class of 1921. Dr. Martin soon established himself at Niagara Falls, New York where he remained for the duration; he was in his office when he was stricken with a fatal coronary occlusion. Dr. Robert Clarence Martin died at Niagara Falls on August 28, 1953 aged 60 years 4 months and 27 days.

Martin, William Walker
Dr.
1897-1951

William Walker Martin was born at Arva, Ontario on November 6, 1897 son of William Martin and Clara Self. He was educated at the medical college of Western University and graduated in 1924; he was united in marriage to Margaret Callwood on April 19, 1927. He established his practice at Goderich, Ontario removed to Foleyet, then Hornepayne and finally to Grafton, Ontario. In poor health, Dr. William Walker Martin died within 6 months of setting up in Grafton, death occurring on June 18, 1951 aged 53 years 7 months and 12 days.

Massey, Alfred Yale Dr.
-1922

Alfred Yale Massey was a native of Belleville and was educated at Albert College, the University of Toronto and graduated from Trinity Medical School in 1898. After being engaged in medical work for a short time in Labrador, he went to Angola, South Africa, where he spent three years as a Medical Missionary and then entered into research work in tropical diseases. He collaborated with Dr. Koch in his work on tuberculosis and sleeping sickness. Later, he studied at University College Hospital, London, and took his diploma of Licenciante in Medicine and Surgery of the Society of Apothecaries, London in 1913. Dr. Massey made valuable investigations in different tropical diseases and was a contributor to the Royal Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene. He received the honour of Chevalier de l'Ordre Royal du Lion from the King of the Belgian Congo. Dr. Massey died at Irebu, Belgian Congo, on August 22, 1922, aged 51 years 10 days.

Massie, John Dr.
1833-1889

John Massie was born in Scotland, son of John Massie and Isabella Falconer. He was christened there on April 8, 1833 and came to Canada as a youth, with his parents. He attained his medical training at Queen's University, from which institution he graduated in 1865. United in marriage in 1866 to Adelaide Josephine Marvin, he followed the practice of his profession at Colborne, Campbellford and Norwood. Dr. John Massie died at Colborne on January 16, 1889, aged about 55 years, 9 months and 8 days.

Masson, Thomas Dr.
1851-1916

Thomas Masson was born at the farmhouse in Seymour Township, Northumberland County, Ontario in Mar 1851 son of Thomas W S Masson and Margaret Greig. He graduated from the medical department of Queen's University in 1875 and established himself at Cape Vincent, N.Y. Dr. Masson was united in marriage to Mary Selter on June 23, 1886 and became a naturalized citizen on Feb 14, 1888. He served as health officer, was president of the local board of education and two terms as Master of the Cape Vincent Masonic Lodge. Dr. Thomas Masson served his community for 41 years and died at Cape Vincent on Oct 26, 1916 aged 65 years 7 months.

Mather, John Franklin Dr.
-1916

John Franklin Mather was born in Thurlow and graduated from Queen's Medical College in 1898. He soon established himself in the practice of his profession in Belleville where he was successful and had a large clientele. He practiced here for 15 years but owing to ill health, Dr. Mather went to Long Beach California in the hope that his health might improve; that proved not to be the case. Dr. Mather died in California on June 30, 1916, aged 47 years 4 months 13 days.

Mather, William Milton
Dr.
-1937

William Milton Mather was born near Plainfield. After completing his studies at the little brick school house in Thurlow Township, he attended Albert College and entered Queen's College, from which institution he graduated in medicine in 1886. Soon after graduation, he took up the practice of his profession in Tweed and, for 50 years, he ministered to the sick. He was County Coroner for many years. On June 9, 1936, he was honored by his confreres with a banquet at Tweed, marking a half-century of medical work. Dr. Mather died at his residence on March 16, 1937, aged 78.

Matheson, Elizabeth
Beckett Scott Dr.
1866-1958
(updated)

Elizabeth Beckett Scott was born on January 6, 1866 in Burnbrae, Ontario, daughter of James Scott and Elizabeth Beckett. She went west with her family to live at Morris, Manitoba and at the age of 17 was teaching school near Poplar Point. It was then she decided to take up the study of medicine. After taking 2 years of her course at Queen's University she left to go to India as a Missionary; intolerant of that climate, she returned to Canada in 1891, took a post as a teacher in Kildonan, Manitoba and was united in marriage on December 8, 1891 to Rev. John Matheson. His work as an Anglican missionary to the Indians took them to Onion Lake, N.W.T. In 1895 she resumed her medical studies, matriculated the O.M.C.W. in 1898, and later took post graduate work at the Manitoba Medical College. Dr. Matheson coped with epidemics of smallpox and diphtheria among the Indians and the white settlers, there being no other Physician within 100 miles. Following her husband's death in 1916, she returned to Winnipeg where she spent another 25 years as Medical Inspector. Dr. Elizabeth Beckett Scott Matheson died on Jan 15, 1958 aged 92 years 9 days.

Mathieson, Lily Boyington
Dr.
1885-1966

Lily Falardeau Boyington was born at the farm in Camden Township, Kent County, Ontario in June 1885 daughter of Albert Boyington and Elizabeth Falardeau. She attended Loretto College in Toronto and Demille Ladies College at St Catharines before studying medicine at the University of Toronto whence she graduated in 1909. She was united in marriage to Dr William Mathieson D.D.S. on Aug 8, 1908. Dr Mathieson interned at John Hopkins Hospital and was on staff at the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto. After W.W. 1 Dr Mathieson headed up a team of anaesthetists at the Canadian Army base hospital in Canada and in recognition of her work received the C.B.E. She was an officer in the Canadian Home Land Development Company, a firm set up by her father dealing with land settlement in the Canadian West. Her husband was a native of Belleville and she established her practice here in the 1930s. Dr Lily B Mathieson was seriously hurt in an automobile accident in Foxboro and died in Kingston on Mar 7, 1966 aged 80 years 9 months.

Mavety, Alexander
Cromwell Dr.
1853-1930

Alexander Cromwell Mavety was born at Loughborough, Ontario on July 18, 1853, son of John and Laticia Mavety. He wed at North Fredericksburgh to Margaret Ann Hinch on February 15, 1877, and was a graduate of Queen's University Medical School in 1889. He spent some time after graduation at Odessa, Ontario, but removed to Erindale where he spent most of his professional life. Dr. Alexander C. Mavety died on November 4, 1930, aged 77 years, 3 months and 16 days.

Maxwell, John Dr.
1817-1904

John Maxwell was born at Keady, Armagh County, Ireland on September 5, 1817 son of William Maxwell and Elizabeth Toner. After immigrating to Canada he worked first as a farmer and later a teacher before becoming qualified as a physician. He wed first, Jane Gray on September 11, 1837 in Aubigny, Quebec and second, Susannah Lasher on December 6, 1886. Dr. John Maxwell served as a physician to the pioneers of Hastings County for over three decades and died at Lime Lake, Hastings County on December 7, 1904 aged 87 years 3 months 2 days.

May, Charles Robert Dr.
1900-1952

Charles Robert May was born at Castleton, Ontario on April 8, 1900 son of Charles May and Lottie Pettibone. He removed with his family at the age of 4 to Melfort, Saskatchewan and here took his preliminary education followed by a medical degree from the University of Toronto in 1925; he was united in marriage to Gwendolyn Snedder. Dr. May interned at Regina's General Hospital, served as president of the Regina Medical Association and was president and district governor of the Regina Kinsmen. Dr. Charles Robert May died at Regina on May 2, 1952 aged 52 years and 24 days.

Maybe, Millard William
Dr.
1856-1903

Millard William Maybee was born at Kingston, Ontario in February 1856, son of Benjamin Maybee and Sarah Jane David; the spelling of his surname is taken from his monument inscription. He spent his childhood years at Odessa and was engaged as a teacher prior to his medical career; he studied his medical courses at Queen's University and received his diploma in 1887; and was united in marriage to Addie Perrin on March 18, 1891. The couple emigrated to Riverside, California in 1896, where he remained for the duration. Dr. Millard William Maybee died of pneumonia, brought on by a cold contracted while visiting patients during an unusual rainstorm, on June 10, 1903, aged 47 years, 4 months.

McAvoy, James Ross Dr.
1897-1987

James Ross McAvoy was born at Napanee, Ontario on September 27, 1897 son of William McAvoy and Ellen Lawler. He attained his medical degree from Queen's University, graduating in 1921 and did post graduate training at Baltimore, Maryland; Dr. McAvoy was united in marriage to Carmel Cavanaugh on August 20, 1927. He soon established himself at Brockville, Ontario where he served the community as family physician and prominent area surgeon for 54 years. Dr. McAvoy was three-time chief of staff at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital and was on the school board for 25 years. During World War 11 he was an Army surgeon for the Officer Training Corps. Dr. James Ross McAvoy died at Brockville on December 26, 1987 aged 90 years 2 months and 29 days.

McCaffrey, Daniel Dr.
1879-1960

Daniel McCaffrey was born at Madoc on August 27, 1879, son of John McCaffrey and Eliza Jane Sinclair. He was educated at the Madoc High School and began the study of his life's work at the University of Toronto, from which institution he graduated with his Medical Degree in 1909. He was one of three brothers from Madoc, all of whom established themselves in British Columbia. He followed the practice of his profession at Princeton, British Columbia, where he was appointed as Coroner. In 1949, he removed to Nanoose Bay for the duration. Dr. D. McCaffrey died at the Island Home Hospital at Cobble Hill, British Columbia, on April 15, 1960, aged 80 years, 7 months and 18 days.

McCaffrey, Peter Sinclair
Dr.
1882-1944

Peter Sinclair McCaffrey was born at Madoc, Ontario on July 31, 1882, son of John McCaffrey and Elizabeth Jane Sinclair. He was the youngest of three medical brothers from Madoc; he graduated from the University of Toronto in 1911 and was House Surgeon at the Vancouver General Hospital, then settled at Agassiz, British Columbia, where for thirty-three years he ministered to the health of a wide community. He was united in marriage on April 22, 1913 to Whilamina MacPherson. Dr. McCaffrey was the Doctor for the Canadian Pacific Railway from Harrison Mills to North Bend, and, also, for the Indian department. In the early days, he traveled by hand car on the railway, on horseback over the trails, and on foot when no other means would serve, to bring aid and comfort to the sick. He was Doctor to the Harrison Hot Springs Hotel, took an active part in community affairs and was President of the Agassiz-Harrison Board of Trade. Dr. Peter Sinclair McCaffrey died on September 5, 1944, aged 62 years, 1 month and 4 days.

McCaffrey, Robert Dr.
1873-1960

Robert McCaffrey was born at Madoc on December 19, 1873, son of John McCaffrey and Eliza Jane Sinclair. He was educated at the Madoc High School and, after a course at Ottawa Normal School, he entered the teaching profession. Then followed study at the University of Toronto, where he received his Medical Degree in 1904. Dr. McCaffrey married Elsie Ray Chadsey on January 8, 1908 at Sumas, British Columbia. He followed the practice of his profession at Chilliwack, British Columbia, until his retirement. During the early years of his practice, he traveled on his calls by horseback and canoe. He pioneered the way for the first hospital in Chilliwack, completed in 1910. He served with the Imperial Medical Corps in Greece during World War I. Dr. R. McCaffrey died at Chilliwack on June 29, 1960, aged 86 years, 6 months and 10 days.

McCammon, James Dr.
-1884

James McCammon was a native of Kingston where he received his primary education. Initially he taught school, then studied medicine, graduating with honours at Queen's College in 1863. He established himself at Newburgh, building up a large practice. In 1871, he visited Europe where he obtained his diploma from the Royal College of Surgeons, England. On his return, he settled in Kingston where he was a Professor at Queen's and, in 1884, was elected Mayor. Dr. McCammon was unable to complete his term of office, dying on November 29, 1884, aged 51 years 3 months 6 days.

McCarter, James Moyston
Dr.
-1910

James McCarter was a graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School in 1896 and was House Surgeon at the Toronto Hospital for Incurables the following year. He followed the practice of his profession at the turn of the century at Verona, Ontario. Dr. McCarter was stricken with appendicitis and was operated on, but three days post-operative he died at the Kingston General Hospital on September 15, 1910, aged 37 years 28 days.

McCarty, Owen Eugene
Dr.
1869-1907

Owen Eugene McCarty was born at Belleville, Ontario on February 15, 1869, son of William and Alice McCarty. He attended the public schools of his native town until sixteen years of age, when he entered the Medical Department of Trinity College at Toronto and was graduated from there in 1890. He spent the following year in the Toronto General Hospitals in the capacity of House Surgeon and, in 1891, removed to Niagara Falls, New York, where he formed a partnership with Dr. Talbot; he married Margaret Talbot in 1897. Dr. McCarty served as President of the Niagara Falls Academy of Medicine. Dr. Owen Eugene McCarty died of tuberculosis on March 25, 1907, aged 38 years, 1 month and 10 days.

McCauley, William Anderson Dr.
1877-1937

William Anderson McCauley was born at Ameliasburgh on December 27, 1877, son of Reverend Samuel McCauley and Letta Maria Anderson. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1902 and was on staff of the Toronto General Hospital until 1905, when he went to Copper Cliff as the Company Surgeon. He remained a bachelor. Dr. McCauley was appointed Superintendent of the Copper Cliff Hospital in 1911, a post he held until his retirement on May 31, 1937. He was a pioneer in the development of modern methods, not only in the mining industry, but in the care of the settlers and sportsmen of the North. He pioneered the early days, gradually expanding INCO's (International Nickel Company) medical services to keep pace with the steadily growing company. Dr. W. A. McCauley died of accidental drowning at his summer camp at Lake Penage on July 7, 1937, aged 59 years, 6 months and 10 days.

McComb, Robert Avery
Dr.
1882-1955

Robert Avery McComb was born at Consecon on January 28, 1882, son of William McComb and Jennie Pettingill. He attended the local schools and graduated from the University of Toronto with his Medical Degree in 1904. Dr. McComb married Lena Maude Crowe on May 1, 1906. He carried on a general practice in both Millbank and South River, Ontario for 10 years; and then took further training at the Toronto General Hospital and, then, at the Brady Institute at Johns Hopkins Hospital. On his return to Canada, he was appointed to the staff of the Toronto General Hospital, where he operated for 30 years until 1951, when he retired to private practice. Dr. R. A. McComb died at Toronto on September 11, 1955, aged 73 years, 7 months and 13 days.

McCormick, William
James Dr.
1880-1968

William James McCormick was born at Belleville, Ontario on June 16, 1880 son of Robert McCormick and Jemima Gay. He was educated in the Belleville schools and graduated in medicine from Michigan State University in 1905. Dr McCormick interned in Chicago, worked at the Battle Creek Sanatorium and was united in marriage to Dr Florence De L'Horbe, also a graduate at Michigan. They removed to Toronto in 1906 where he established the High Park Sanatorium with its mineral baths and swimming pools; he also operated the Strathcona Hospital until 1926. A widower, Dr McCormick was wed to Kathleen Dolman on Sept 18, 1925. He was a Fellow of the American Academy of Applied Nutrition and conducted clinical research in the use of Vitamin B for the treatment of multiple sclerosis and of Vitamin C for the treatment of infectious diseases. He recognized the link between smoking and the occurrence of heart and lung disease and for 30 years was an advocate of reform in this area. Dr William James McCormick died on Jan 17, 1968 aged 87 years 7 months 1 day.

McCoy, Earl Dr.
1895-1951

Earl McCoy was born at Corbyville, Ontario on January 5, 1895, son of William McCoy and Anna Robinson. He was educated in the public school of Thurlow Township, attended the Belleville High School and studied Medicine at Queen's University with the Class of 1918. He was a veteran of World War I having served with the Canadian Over Seas Expeditionary Force. He established himself in New York State where for thirty years he carried on his medical practice. He was involved in a motorcar accident and succumbed to his injuries. Dr. Earl McCoy died on November 9, 1951, aged 56 years, 10 months and 4 days.

McCrae, James Nelson Dr.
-1891

James Nelson McCrea was a native of Merrickville, Grenville County. He was educated locally and entered the study of medicine at Victoria College, graduating in 1859. He followed the practice of his profession at Campbellford and later at Warkworth. Dr. McCrea died at Warkworth on April 26, 1891, aged 71 years 11 months 13 days.

McCrea, Amos Simpson
Dr.
1821-1886

Amos Simpson McCrea was born at Merrickville, Ontario on July 2, 1821 son of Edward McCrea and Mary Knapp. He spent his early life chiefly on the farm, commenced his medical training in 1846 and graduated with honours in 1851. He practiced in Stoney Creek, Norwood and Kitley, a short time in each before removing to Keene in May 1852 where he carried on a large practice. He married first, Martha Smith on November 14, 1847 and Agnes Reid on June 23, 1853. Dr. Amos Simpson McCrea died on October 15, 1886 aged 65 years 3 months 13 days.

McCreary, Samuel Russell
Dr.
1893-1938

Samuel Russell McCreary was born at Belleville, Ontario on June 18, 1893, son of Andrew McCreary and Ella Grace Ritchie. He attended the local classrooms and was a Graduate of McGill University Medical School in 1919. During World War I, he served in the 1st Depot Battalion of the 1st Quebec Regiment. He spent time at the Royal Victoria and the Montreal Maternity Hospitals and during the great influenza epidemic in 1918, he acted as Medical Superintendent of Montreal Western Hospital. Dr. McCreary returned to Belleville in 1919 and was united in marriage to Evelyn Bernice Mills on February 23, 1925. He had a large practice and was highly regarded by his patients. Dr. Samuel Russell McCreary died on January 28, 1938, aged 44 years, 7 months and 10 days.

McCue, Francis Joseph Dr.
1911-1979

Francis Joseph McCue was born at Formosa, Ontario on March 10, 1911 son of Peter McCue and Mary Pyne. He matriculated from Walkerton High School and was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1937. He established himself in general practice at Tweed and was united in marriage to Margaret Coyle. Tragedy struck on June 16, 1962 when Mrs. McCue was caught in a house fire and died of asphyxiation. Survived by his second wife, the former Genny Ferguson, Dr. Francis Joseph McCue died at Kingston on July 8, 1979 aged 68 years 3 months 28 days.

McCulloch, Charles
Douglas Dr.
1886-1927

Charles Douglas McCulloch was born at Enfield, Ontario on June 13, 1886, son of Alexander McCulloch and Alice Dobson. He was a Graduate of the Bowmanville High School and graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1912. He was united in marriage to Elmira Moore on September 18, 1915 and established his practice at Wellington in 1919. Dr. McCulloch served as County Coroner and was well known throughout the county, both as a physician and a sports enthusiast. His death was caused by a virulent form of meningitis; after an illness of only four days. Dr. Charles Douglas McCulloch died on June 4, 1927, aged 40 years, 11 months and 21 days.

McCulloch, Edward Allister Dr.
1878-1950

Edward Allister McCulloch was born at Keene on September 28, 1878, son of Reverend Robert McCulloch and Evelyn Hawkins. He received his early education at Bowmanville and Napanee; he graduated in Arts from Victoria College in 1901, and attained his Medical Degree in 1904 from the University of Toronto. He married Mercy Emma Powell on May 15, 1905. For a time, he practiced and later supervised the building of the London Sanatorium in Byron. He returned to Toronto in 1910, and established himself in practice. He was a member of the University of Toronto Medical Library and formerly was on the Senate of Victoria University. Dr. E. A. McCulloch died at Toronto on December 30, 1950, aged 72 years, 3 months and 2 days.

McCulloch, John Clement
Dr.
1914-2007

John Clement McCulloch was born at Belleville, Ontario on December 27, 1914 son of Dr. Robert McCulloch and Ethel Jones. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1939 and after a short term in family practice Dr. McCulloch specialized in ophthalmology at Columbia University's Presbyterian Hospital in New York. He was united in marriage to Nancy Roberts on December 12, 1942 and was a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force during World War 11. Dr. McCulloch served as chief of that department at Toronto Western and at the University of Toronto and was a founding member of the International Ophthalmic Microsurgical Study Group. He was author of a 175 page text on the history of ophthalmology in Canada from 1850 onward; he served as president of both the Canadian and American Ophthalmologic Societies. Dr. John Clement McCulloch died at Toronto on January 10, 2007 aged 92 years 13 days.

McCulloch, Robert John Percival Dr.
1882-1954

Robert John Percival McCulloch was born at Keene on February 9, 1882, son of Reverend Robert McCulloch and Evelyn Hawkins. He graduated in Medicine from the University of Toronto in 1904 as Gold Medalist. He married Ethel May Jones on May 18, 1910. After a few years of general practice in Orillia and Belleville, he decided to specialize in Ophthalmology and spent three years in London and Vienna in post-graduate study; on his return to Belleville, he established practice as a specialist. At the outbreak of World War I, he enlisted with the Royal Army Medical Corps and was posted to a base hospital at Calais. After the War, he set up practice in Toronto and became one of the city's leading eye specialists. He went to China and India to work in mission hospitals under the auspices of the United Church. Dr. R. J. P. McCulloch died at Toronto on December 26, 1954, aged 72 years, 10 months and 17 days.

McDonald, James L. Dr.
1845-1919

James L. McDonald was born at Picton, Ontario on May 18, 1845. He attended the local grammar school followed by study at Victoria College, Cobourg, and was a Graduate of Bennett Medical College, Chicago and a Licentiate of the Eclectic College of Medicine and Surgery in 1880. He was united in marriage to Carrie Wood at Picton, Ontario on September 25, 1867; following her death in 1896, he remarried in 1899 to Christine Weller.. He followed the practice of medicine at Atkinson, Nebraska and removed to Allen, Nebraska, where he remained for the duration. Dr. James L. McDonald died on January 24, 1919, aged 73 years, 8 months and 6 days.

McEvoy, John Vincent Dr.
1902-1992

John Vincent McEvoy was born at Campbellford, Ontario on June 4, 1902 son of Francis McEvoy and Catherine Sheridan. He attended St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish, Nova Scotia for his pre-medical courses and was a graduate of the medical faculty at McGill University in 1927; Dr. McEvoy was united in marriage to Juliette Voisard, a native of Rhode Island, on June 14, 1927 at Montreal, Quebec. Dr. McEvoy established himself in general practice in Montreal where he remained for the duration. Dr. John Vincent McEvoy died at Montreal on December 28, 1992 aged 90 years 6 months and 24 days.

McEvoy, Samuel John Dr.
1900-1949

Samuel John McEvoy was born at Ottawa, Ontario on November 9, 1900 son of Samuel McEvoy and Mary Blanchfield. He was educated in Ottawa, received his primary at St. Joseph's School and later attended Ottawa University and St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish, Nova Scotia. He received his medical degree from Queen's University in 1928; Dr. McEvoy was united in marriage to Margaret O'Brien on October 18, 1942. After graduation he immediately established himself at Lonsdale, Ontario removing later to Ottawa until 1939 when he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps with the rank of Captain. Dr. Samuel John McEvoy then moved to Wishart, Saskatchewan where he continued his life's work and died at Regina on December 26, 1949 aged 49 years 1 month and 17 days.

McFaul, John Henry Dr.
-1905

John Henry McFaul was born in Prince Edward County and received his medical training at Trinity University, graduating in 1888. He immediately established himself in Toronto where he spent his entire professional life. He was associated with the Toronto High School Board as Secretary for about 11 years, retiring from that position when the Public and High School Boards were amalgamated. He was active in fraternal organizations and was a prominent member of the Prince Edward Old Boys Association. Dr. McFaul died at Toronto on December 23, 1905, aged 66.

McGee, Andrew Russell
Dr.
1900-1995

Andrew Russell McGee was born at Norwood, Ontario on October 13, 1900 son of Samuel McGee and Mary Ellen Stinson. He attended the University of Toronto and graduated in medicine with the class of 1926; he was united in marriage to Blanche Walls on July 23, 1927. Dr. McGee took post graduate training in the field of diagnostic and therapeutic radiology and spent his career in Scarborough, Ontario; he served as president of the Canadian Association of Radiologists. He was interested in a cure for cancer and used the smallpox vaccine in experiments to produce a cancer vaccine. Dr. Andrew Russell McGee died at Scarborough on December 29, 1995 aged 95 years 2 months and 16 days.

McGee, Richard Barclay
Dr.
1909-1991

Richard Barclay McGee was born at Norwood, Ontario on March 10, 1909 son of Samuel McGee and Margaret Stinson; he was brother of Dr. Andrew McGee chronicled earlier. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at the University of Toronto in 1934 and was united in marriage to Jean Elizabeth Davison. Dr. McGee was soon established in general practice at Orangeville, Ontario where he remained for the duration. Dr. Richard Barclay McGee died on May 1, 1991 aged 82 years 1 month 21 days.

McGillivray, Donald
Edward Dr.
1872-1950

Donald Edward McGillivray was born on June 2, 1872 in Madoc Township son of Cornelius McGillivray and Mary Nicholson. He was a graduate in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1899 and in 1900 removed to Port Angeles, Washington where he practiced with eminent success, his ability growing, the result of his further study and broad experience. Dr. McGillivray was united in marriage on June 10, 1903 to Corrine Lane. He was responsible for the establishment of the local Hospital of which he was in sole ownership. Dr. McGillivray served as a Director and vice president of the Port Angeles Savings Bank; he served as county physician and was president of the board of education. Dr. Donald Edward McGillivray died at Port Angeles on Feb 6, 1950 aged 77 years 8 months 4 days.

McGonigle, Arthur
Cormac Robert Dr.
1908-1997

Arthur Cormac Robert McGonigle was born at Toronto, Ontario on June 2, 1908 son of Reverend Thomas McGonigle and Eileen Hillary. He was educated at Ridley College and was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1934; he was united in marriage to Margaret Fellman on October 29, 1938. During World War 11 Dr. McGonigle served in Europe in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and following his return to Canada he specialized in surgery. He established himself at Belleville, Ontario and later in Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia. Dr. McGonigle was active in the choir and maintained a life long interest in music, books and gardening. Dr. Arthur Cormac Robert McGonigle died at Ladysmith, British Columbia on June 23, 1997 aged 89 years 21 days.

McGrath, Edward Dr.
1863-1919

Edward McGrath was born on Oct 30, 1863 at Campbellford, Ontario son of John McGrath and Agnes Rutherford and brother of Dr. George McGrath. He entered into the study of his life's work and graduated in medicine at Queen's University in 1888. Dr. McGrath established himself at Peterborough and was associated in practice with Dr. John O'Sullivan, had his office in O'Sullivan's home and married his daughter, Minnie O'Sullivan, on Nov 29, 1911. He served as Superintendent of St Joseph's Hospital for a number of years and was an accomplished physician and surgeon. Dr. Edward McGrath died in St Joseph's Hospital on Mar 5, 1919 aged 55 years 4 months 5 days.

McGrath, George Dr.
1865-1939

George McGrath was born at Campbellford on December 24, 1865, son of John McGrath and Agnes Rutherford. He received his Medical Courses at Queen's University, where he graduated in 1893 and soon established himself at Hamilton, Montana, where he remained for the duration. He married Louise Huffman at Missoula, Montana,, a native of Peterborough, Ontario, on April 14, 1895 and became a naturalized American on October 21, 1895. He was involved in real estate and built the McGrath Block in 1909, a neo-classical revival building which was the location for doctors and dentists through the years. Dr. George McGrath died on June 19, 1939, aged 73 years, 5 months and 25 days.

McGreer, Charles Grange
Dr.
1878-1966

Charles Grange McGreer was born on the farm at Napanee on July 10, 1878, son of Gilbert McGreer and Hannah Grange. His paternal great-grandfather sailed his own ship to bring his family to Canada in 1819. Charles McGreer graduated in Arts and Medicine from Queen's University in 1903, and he then took post-graduate work in London, Dublin, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Vienna. He was one of Winnipeg's pioneer doctors beginning general practice in 1905, remaining there for the duration. He married Elizabeth Loughrin Bathgate in 1913. In his will, Dr. McGreer bequeathed funds to establish scholarships at Queen's University and at the Napanee High School, institutions he had attended. Dr. C. G. McGreer died at Winnipeg on February 21, 1966, aged 87 years, 7 months and 11 days.

McGuire, James Charles
Dr.
-1901

James Charles McGuire was a native of Trenton. He was educated locally and entered the study of medicine at McGill University, where he graduated as Medical Doctor in 1891. He established himself in Detroit, Michigan, where he followed the practice of medicine for the rest of the decade. Early in 1900, he removed to Kansas City, Missouri, where things began to unwind. Dr. McGuire sank into an extreme melancholia, which was super induced by several days of excessive drinking. Dr. McGuire died of morphine poisoning on November 2, 1901, aged 40.

McGurn, Joseph Smith Dr.
-c1886

Joseph Smith McGurn was a student at Kingston Medical College, graduating in 1881 as Medicinæ Doctorae, Chirurgiæ Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery) he was a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Kingston and removed to Belleville on completion of his studies. Here he was associated in practice with Dr. J.B. Murphy, but this partnership was soon dissolved and he removed to Alpena, Michigan. He acquired an excellent reputation as a skillful Practitioner with superior ability as a Physician. Dr. McGurn died in Alpena March 10, 1884 as a result of blood poisoning, contracted while engaged in dissecting, aged 29.

McKague, William Henry
Dr.
-1893

William William McKague was a native of Baltimore, Ontario and entered into the study of his life's work at Trinity College from which institution he graduated in 1886; he took post-graduate work in London where he received his Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians. He soon established a practice in Frankford where, in addition, he also filled the position of organist in the Methodist Church. Dr. McKague suffered an attack of the grippe, which turned into pneumonia, the result of a relapse, occasioned by carelessness when convalescent. He died on December 22, 1893, aged 35.

McKenty, Francis Edmund
Dr.
1880-1965

Francis Edmund McKenty was born at Bath on December 27, 1880, son of Edmund McKenty and Marion Trotter. He was educated there and in the Faculty of Medicine of McGill University, where he graduated in 1904. He interned at the Royal Victoria Hospital before post-graduate work in England, Germany, Paris, Vienna and the United States, before returning to Montreal to start practice in 1909. He married Margaret Beamish. In Montreal; he became a Clinical Assistant in Surgery at the Royal Victoria Hospital and was the first person to introduce spinal anaesthesia in the hospital. He became a Demonstrator in Anatomy at McGill, where for a five-year period, he lectured in Operative Surgery and Applied Anatomy. During the First World War, he served at a base hospital in France and was with the McGill Unit at Boulogne. In 1936, he was appointed Professor of Surgery at McGill and then Surgeon in Chief of the Royal Victoria Hospital. Dr. F. E. McKenty died at Montreal on December 8, 1965, aged 84 years, 11 months and 11 days.

McKenty, John Arthur Dr.
1882-1947

John Arthur McKenty was born at Bath, Ontario on September 1, 1882, son of Edmund McKenty and Marion Trotter. He removed with his family to Winnipeg, Manitoba and studied his Medical Courses at Chicago, where he graduated with his Medical Degree in 1915 and was a Graduate of the Dental School in 1918. He was a Physician and a Dentist, and established his practice at Winnipeg where he remained for the duration. Dr. John Arthur McKenty died on March 10, 1947, aged 64 years, 6 months and 9 days.

McKenzie, James
Thompson Dr.
1847-1918

James Thompson McKenzie was born at Belleville on February 18, 1847, son of John McKenzie and Nancy Thompson. He studied his Medical Courses at McGill University where he graduated in 1885, and was a Licentiate of the Royal College of Edinburgh and Glasgow in 1885. He was united in marriage to Norma Smith on June 26, 1889. Dr. McKenzie was licenced to practice medicine in Ontario on October 30, 1890, and spent a few years in Trenton before moving west to Rossland, British Columbia. He was the uncle of Dr. Robert Percival McKenzie of Plainfield, a Graduate of McGill College in 1904, and was present at his death of pneumonia at Rossland when he died on January 16, 1911 aged 34; Dr. J. T. McKenzie was Medical Officer of Health and Surgeon to the Spokane Falls and Northern Railroad. Dr. James Thompson McKenzie died at Vancouver on November 5, 1918, aged 71 years, 8 months and 17 days.

McKeown, Harry
Alexander Dr.
-1909

Harry Alexander McKeown graduated from the public and high schools of Belleville and from Queen's University Medical School, with honours, in 1895. He immediately established an office in Belleville and for 11 years he carried on a large practice. Ill health compelled him to seek rest and he was confined to Homewood Sanitarium in Guelph. Dr. McKeown died in Guelph on April 10, 1909, aged 35 years 4 months 28 days.

McLaren, Alexander Dr.
1842-1914

Alexander McLaren was born near Williamstown, Ontario on August 12, 1842, son of John McLaren and Catherine McDonnell. He was a Graduate of the Queen's University Medical School in 1865 and served some time as Surgeon to the wounded in the American Civil War. He was married to Maria Jane McArthur on November 21, 1866. He followed the practice of his profession with time spent in Riceville, Demorestville, Shannonville in 1874, removing to Lancaster in 1889, where he remained for the duration. Dr. Alexander McLaren died on July 22, 1914, aged 71 years, 11 months and 10 days.

McLaren, Arthur Francis
Dr.
1874-1930

Arthur Frank McLaren was born at Shannonville, Ontario on January 2, 1874, son of Dr. Alexander McLaren and Maria Jane McArthur. He earned his Medical Diploma at Queen's University where he graduated in 1897. He was then on his way to the gold fields of the Klondike and practiced there for a few years; when he returned, he was united in marriage to Marguerite Fitzgibbons on September 3, 1902. He was a veteran of World War I and attained the rank of Captain in the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He settled at Ottawa where he specialized in the practice of diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. He was remarried to Lila Clarke on October 18, 1924. Dr. Arthur Francis McLaren died on January 25, 1930, aged 56 years, 23 days.

McLaren, Thomas Orton
Steele Dr.
1879-1947

Thomas Orton Steele McLaren was born at Shannonville, Ontario on Sept 24, 1879 son of Dr Alexander McLaren and Maria McArthur and brother of Dr Arthur McLaren. He removed with his family to Glengarry County as a child and matriculated from the Williamstown Collegiate and then in medicine from Queen's University in 1902. Dr McLaren was united in marriage to Tassie McCuaig in Montreal on Sept 6, 1911. He established himself in the practice of his profession at Lancaster, Ontario taking over the medical practice of his father in 1914. Dr McLaren served as coroner in Glengarry County, was health officer for Lancaster Township and served the community for 45 years. He had been in poor health since being struck by an automobile in the summer of 1946. Dr Thomas Orton Steele McLaren died on Dec 2, 1947 aged 68 years 2 months 8 days.

McLellan, Charles Dr.
1844-1924

Charles McLellan was born at Greenock, Scotland in March 1844, son of Neil McLellan and Catharine Sillers. He was orphaned at the age of four at Greenock on the Clyde and immigrated to Canada in 1852. He studied at the University of Toronto and obtained his Medical Diploma in 1872; he married Augusta Clute on December 31, 1873. Dr. McLellan followed the practice of his profession at Trenton, Ontario, where he remained for about twenty years and served as Medical Officer of Health. In 1892, he removed to Chicago where he remained for the duration. His son, Charles Archibald McLellan born at Trenton, Ontario, was one of the most recognizable painter and cover illustrators of his time. Dr. Charles McLellan died at Townsville, Australia, while visiting his daughter, on April 19, 1924, aged 80 years, 1 month.

McManus, John Patrick Cantwell Dr.
1867-1938

John Patrick Cantwell McManus was born at Bath, Ontario on May 6, 1867 son of Patrick McManus and Joanna Cantwell and brother of the writer Emily Julian McManus. He was trained in medicine at Queen's University where he played football, graduating in 1897. He soon established himself in his professional work at Blackville, N.B. and here he was also associated with the Ancient Order of Hibernians. In 1907, Dr. McManus was united in marriage at Fordham, N.Y. to Mary Forde, a cousin of the parish priest at Blackville. In New Brunswick, he served on the County board of health but in 1912 he returned to Ontario and practiced in Prescott and Toronto following which he spent 15 years on staff of the Bellevue Hospital, N.Y. Dr. John Patrick Cantwell McManus died at Kingston on June 22, 1938 aged 71 years 1 month 16 days.

McMullen, David Dr.
1885-1967

David McMullen was born at Enniskillen Township near Petrolia, Ontario on March 15, 1885, son of William McMullen and Sarah Bennett. He graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1915 and was united in marriage to Jean Lennan on September 25, 1916. He first practised with the International Nickel Company at Copper Cliff and removed to Frankford about 1921. Here he served as Coroner and Medical Officer of Health for Sidney Township. Dr. McMullen practised medicine for over fifty years and was ready around the clock to serve a practice scattered about the countryside. Dr. David McMullen died on June 18, 1967, aged 82 years, 3 months and 3 days.

McNicholl, Eugene
Charles Dr.
-1920

Eugene Charles McNicholl was a native of Belmont, Ontario. He entered the study of his life's work at Queen's University from which institution he graduated in 1877. When he began practice, he acted as Superintendent of the Cobourg Hospital for the Insane. He was appointed as County Coroner in 1879; he left institutional work and established his practice, which he followed for 40 years. He took a keen interest in public questions and was a well-known public speaker. Dr. McNicholl died at Cobourg on May 30, 1920, aged 74 years 7 months 26 days.

McQuade, Ernest
Alexander Dr.
1887-1953

Ernest Alexander McQuade was born at Collingwood, Ontario on September 9, 1887, son of David McQuade and Alice Amanda Ovas. He graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1914, and started his medical practice at Wooler from 1915 to 1918, after which he moved to Trenton. He was united in marriage to Stella Elizabeth Aylesworth on June 12, 1918. Dr. McQuade was a member of the town council from 1921 to 1929 and served as President of the Ontario Medical Association for 1928-1929. He served as President of the Hastings County Medical Association and Chief of Staff of the Trenton Memorial Hospital. Dr. Ernest Alexander McQuade died on March 19, 1953, aged 65 years, 6 months and 10 days.

McQuade, George Drewry
Dr.

George Drewry McQuade was born at Baltimore, Ontario on September 27, 1913 son of Reverend George McQuade and Edna Drewry. As the son of a minister, he obtained his education and the different charges of his father which included Tweed and Napanee. He was a graduate of the Napanee Collegiate and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1939. During World War 11, Dr. McQuade served as an Army medical officer in England and Europe; after his discharge from military service he worked as an anaesthetist in Saint John, New Brunswick and Winnipeg, Manitoba. Dr. McQuade was united in marriage to Ruth Coulson on May 3, 1947 and in 1948 he was appointed chief of the Canadian Government medical office in Glasgow, Scotland and later was at the Canadian Embassy in London, England. In 1969 Dr. McQuade returned to serve as the overseas regional director for health and welfare in Ottawa. Dr. George Drewry McQuade died in Toronto on December 3, 2013 aged 100 years 2 months 6 days.

McQuade, Milton Ash Dr.
1877-1928

Milton Ash McQuade was born at Yarker, Ontario on Sept 23, 1877. He was abandoned at the Church doorstep as a baby and raised by the Rev. Henry McQuade and wife Mary Greer. His early training was in Albert College in Belleville from which he entered the employ of the Canadian Atlantic Railway. A graduate of the University of Toronto in 1904, Dr McQuade immigrated to Newburgh, N.Y. where he practiced as an ear nose and throat specialist. The Home for the Friendless in Newburgh was a little orphanage caring for 20 children and throughout the years, Dr McQuade supported the Home and provided free medical care to the children. In his will, Dr McQuade provided the Home about $500,000 enabling it to continue to provide services; in 1945 it was renamed the McQuade Children's Services. Dr Milton Ash McQuade died on Mar 12, 1928 aged 50 years 5 months 19 days.

McQueen, Kenneth Edward Dr.

Kenneth Edward McQueen was born at Kingston, Ontario on April 26, 1904 son of Edward McQueen and Sarah Rumbold. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1930 and was in general practice in Bloomfield and Picton, Prince Edward County; he was associated with the County Memorial Hospital for 54 years and at the time of his retirement in 1985 had served on its board for 34 years. Dr. McQueen made headlines in 1961 when he saved the life of a young hockey player whose carotid artery was severed by another player's skate blade. In 1980 he was awarded the Silver Syringe Trophy for his service to the community and in 1985 received the Glen Sawyer Award for service to the community and profession. Dr. Kenneth Edward McQueen died at Kingston on April 16, 1997 aged 92 years 11 months 20 days.

McShea, Royal Dr.
-1912

Royal McShea was born in Belleville; he was a graduate of the medical school at the University of Michigan. He practiced his profession in the United States for 45 years, first at Onvaneco, Illinois, and later in Chapman, Kansas. Dr. McShea died in Chapman on April 7, 1912, aged 74 years 24 days.

McTaggart, Myles
Franklin Dr.
1840-1905

Myles Franklin McTaggart was born at Belleville, Ontario on March 25, 1840, son of Samuel McTaggart and Delilah Fretz. He was united in marriage to Sarah Hedley on May 12, 1869; and graduated with the Class of 1869 from the Medical School at the University of Toronto, and was licensed to practice in Ontario on June 5, 1869. He spent some time in Belleville, where he followed his life's work, but removed to the United States where he worked in San Francisco and Sonoma, California and Reno, Nevada. "The doctor, during a successful practice of many years, extending over the larger portion of Ontario, has very justly won for himself a distinction in his professional calling obtained by few. His successful treatment of all kinds of dangerous chronic complaints has caused his name to become a familiar household word". This is how his advertising was worded. Dr. Myles Franklin McTaggart died at Reno on May 22, 1905, aged 65 years, 1 month, 27 days.

McVicker, Daniel Clarence
Dr.
1907-1985

Daniel Clarence McVicker was born at Deseronto, Ontario on August 3, 1907 son of James McVicker and Agnes Dubey. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Western Ontario in 1939. Dr. McVicker returned to his home town where he served as medical officer of health, initiated the first food bank for patients, served as Town Mayor and was a Liberal candidate for Hastings County in the 1958 Federal election. He made headlines in 1962 when he adopted a compulsory polio vaccination programme, the only municipality in Ontario to do so. Survived by his wife, the former Elizabeth Covert, Dr. Daniel Clarence McVicker died on April 14, 1985 aged 77 years 8 months 11 days.

McWilliam, Charles
Seymour Dr.
1901-1974

Charles Seymour McWilliam was born at Picton, Ontario on October 7, 1901 son of Hugh McWilliam and Agnes Morch. He graduated from the medical school at Queen's University in 1927 and did post graduate work at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh, New York and in New York City; Dr. McWilliam was united in marriage to Helen Amades on October 15, 1928. He established himself in general practice at Goshen, New York then took eye and ear specialist training in New York City and Brooklyn; Dr. McWilliam began practice in 1934 as an eye, ear and throat specialist in Newburgh, New York and was a consultant to area hospitals including the United States Military Academy at West Point. During World War 11 he served as eye consultant and secretary of the medical advisory board of the United States Selective Service. He served in the U.S. Army Medical Corps in France and Germany from 1942 to 1946 attaining the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Dr. Charles Seymour McWilliam died at Brockville, Ontario on September 28, 1974 aged 72 years 11 months and 21 days.

Meacham, Seth Dr.
-1815

Seth Meacham was a native of the New England States and studied medicine in New Hampshire. In 1801 he purchased a 100-acre lot in Sidney Township and built a farm, his home later becoming the kitchen wing of the Ponton House. He was a very busy physician tending to the medical needs of the growing population; his practice extended from Napanee to Colborne and north to Rawdon. During the War of 1812, he was Surgeon to the Hastings Militia. Dr. Meacham died, from the effects of a cold caused by exposure while on a sick call to Rawdon, October 22, 1815, aged 47.

Meacham, Walter William
Dr.
-1905

Walter Meacham was born in Colborne, the grandson of Dr. Seth Meacham. He was educated locally and would, after school days, work behind the counter for Honourable Billa Flint, at Bridgewater. Afterwards, he taught school for four years at Rednersville and in the county of Prince Edward. He studied for a doctor and graduated in 1869 from the Medical School of Victoria College. Dr. W. W. Meacham first settled at Strathallen, in the County of Oxford, where he resided until he removed to Odessa in 1872. In 1886, he was tendered the nomination of the party for the Ontario Legislature, being particularly selected as a representative of a higher moral sentiment in politics; he served for three terms. Dr. Meacham died at Warsaw, Ontario on July 27, 1905, aged 62 years 9 months 29 days.

Meade, John Singleton
Dr.
1840-1921

John Singleton Meade was born at Brighton, Ontario on June 15, 1840 son of Dr. Henry Meade and Elizabeth Singleton. The father of our subject was a native of Prince Edward County and received his License to practice medicine on July 6, 1831. He practiced his profession at Brighton, was a coroner, and was Principal of the grammar school located on the present-day Meade Street. His son received his medical degree in 1858 from the University of Toronto and began practicing medicine in Idaho Springs. In Oct 1861 Dr. Meade joined the Colorado Volunteer Infantry which assigned him first to the Hospital at Fort Craig in Socorro County, New Mexico Territory and then to the military hospital in Denver from Dec 1864 until 1868. Dr. John Meade again practiced in Idaho Springs for a short time after which he devoted himself full time to mining. He was united in marriage to Louisa Bonham on Jan 22, 1862. He owned mining property in Spring Gulch including the Niagara and Donaldson Lode and the Polaris Mine at Bald Mountain, Montana. He also owned and operated the Meade Hotel at Bannock, Montana from 1888-1898. Dr. John Singleton Meade took up residence at Belville Township, San Bernadino, California where he died on Jan 2, 1921 aged 80 years 6 months 17 days.

Meiklejohn, Henry John
Dr.
-1943

Henry John Meiklejohn was born in Hastings County and educated at Campbellford High School and Trinity Medical College, Toronto where he graduated in 1888. After post-graduate work in Edinburgh and London, he practiced for 12 years in Stirling. He went to Winnipeg in 1899 as provincial manager for the Federal Life Insurance Company, and later for the Sovereign Life Assurance Company. In 1910, he became Managing Director of the latter company and, in 1926, was appointed President, which office he held until his retirement in 1934. He took a keen interest in community affairs, especially in the work of Knox United Church. Dr. Meiklejohn died in Winnipeg on November 13, 1943, aged 84 years 4 months 18 days.

Mellow, Frank Ernest Dr.
1874-1963

Frank Ernest Mellow was born at Sillsville on November 24, 1874, son of Samuel Mellow and Mary Jane Yelland. He attended the Sillsville School and Napanee Collegiate followed by a Medical Degree at Queen's University in 1902, where he was the Gold Medalist in Medicine; he took post-graduate work in New York. Dr. Mellow married Daisy Carmichael on September 25, 1912. He practiced at Janetville, where he relieved Dr. Naysmith; was at Saintville, Ontario for 10 years and removed to Uxbridge in 1912, where he remained for the duration. He was a member of the Board of Education and of the Ontario County Medical Association. Dr. F. E. Mellow died at Uxbridge Cottage Hospital on April 17, 1963, aged 88 years, 4 months and 23 days.

Mellow, Gordon
Armstrong Dr.
1902-1994

Gordon Armstrong Mellow was born at Sillsville, Ontario on June 7, 1902 son of Felix Mellow and Sarah Armstrong. He studied medicine at Queen's University and graduated in 1929. He took post graduate training at the Psychiatric Hospital in Toronto and served at the Hamilton Ontario Hospital and the Guelph Reformatory. Dr. Gordon Armstrong Mellow died in Barrie, Ontario on March 11, 1994 aged 91 years 9 months and 4 days.

Mellow, Samuel James
Dr.
-1925

Samuel Mellow was born at Morven, near Napanee, educated locally and was initially a teacher at Sillsville, Ontario. He entered the study of medicine and graduated from Queen's Medical School in 1886. Dr. Mellow practiced at Bath for three years before moving to Bay City, Michigan. He was a resident doctor there for five years before moving to Port Perry, Ontario. He was active in the community as a Town Councilor, a Reeve and a member of the Board of Education for 20 years. He was involved with the Library Board and took a leading part in the building of a War Memorial Library. Dr. Mellow died on March 4, 1925, aged 65 years 5 months 15 days.

Membery, Giles Garnet
Dr.
1874-1928

Giles Garnet Membery was born on Nov 20, 1874 at Ernestown, Ontario son of Walter Membery and Ellen Dorland. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1897 and a Licentiate of the Royal College in London, England in 1900. Dr. Membery then enlisted in the Ashanti Field Force, became Assistant Colonial Surgeon for Africa and served 2 years with Sir James Willcocks during the Ashanti Rebellion. He was united in marriage to Louise Christie and settled at Innisfail, Alberta where he practiced medicine for 10 years and resumed military activities with the 15th Alberta Light Horse. The availability of good farmland in Adolphustown attracted him back to Ontario shortly before the War was declared and, impatient for action, he went overseas and enlisted in the Royal Navy. He was posted Medical Officer aboard H.M.C.S. Cochrane and was at the Battle of Jutland and the East Coast Raid; later Dr. Membery was appointed Fleet Surgeon aboard H.M.C.S. Hilderbrand. He returned to Canada in July 1917. Dr. Giles Garnet Membery died at Winter Haven, Florida on Feb 18, 1928 aged 53 years 2 months 28 days.

Meredith, William George
Dr.
1861-1938

William George Meredith was born in May 1861 at Vernonville, Northumberland County, Ontario son of William Meredith and Diantha Pettet. A graduate of the Cleveland College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1890, Dr. Meredith was united in marriage to Ida Plummer on Jan 31, 1894. He was for many years in practice at Cleveland, Ohio and was known as "The Doctor with the X-ray eyes"; he was the father of actor Burgess Meredith. Retired, Dr. Meredith removed to live with his daughter in New Jersey. Dr. William George Meredith died at Califon on July 10, 1938 aged 77 years 2 months.

Metcalf, William Francis
Dr.
1863-1935

William Francis Metcalf was born at Picton on December 27, 1863 son of Lawrence Metcalf and Eliza Thompson. His early professional life was spent as a teacher and he attained his medical training at the University of Michigan with the class of 1888. Dr. Metcalf took post graduate training in surgery in Chicago, New York, Dublin, London, Berlin and Paris; on his return to Detroit, he specialized in abdominal surgery and became a leading authority in his field. He wed Agnes Lovering on June 30, 1897 at Detroit. He invented several surgical instruments and appliances which became standard in the profession. Dr. Metcalf served as president of the Detroit Academy of Medicine in 1908 and was a founding father of the Detroit General Hospital. Dr. William Francis Metcalf died on October 17, 1935 aged 71 years 9 months 20 days.

Meyers, Donald Campbell
Dr.
1864-1927

Donald Campbell Meyers was born at Trenton, Ontario on March 15, 1864 son of Elijah Meyers and Sophia Birdsall. He attained his medical training at Trinity Medical College with his degree in 1888 and took four years post graduate training in nervous disease study at England, Scotland, France, Austria, Switzerland and Italy. Dr. Meyers returned to Toronto where he established a Hospital for nervous diseases, a first of its kind in Canada. He was united in marriage to Edith Alexandra Burson on March 24, 1900. Dr. Meyers served with the 10th Regiment, Royal Grenadiers with the rank of Major. He was well known in neurological and psychiatric circles, contributed much to the literature on mental disorders and for many years was in charge of the sanatorium which carried an exceptional reputation. Dr. Donald Campbell Meyers died on April 20, 1927 aged 63 years 1 month 5 days.

Middlemass, Joseph Gilbert Dr.
1880-1967

Joseph Gilbert Middlemass was born at Belleville on December 27, 1880, son of Joseph Middlemass and Eliza Jane Homans. He took his schooling at Belleville and his University medical training at Trinity College, where he graduated in 1905. Dr. Middlemass went to Wainwright, Alberta, in 1908 as a Railway Doctor with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. He married Tillie May Smith on November 20, 1911. He established a private practice in the pioneer days and ministered to the needs of the settlers in the far-flung community as well as to the urban residents of the town. He knew the rigors of the life of the pioneer and bore the brunt of cold and blizzard as he plied his profession in the trackless rural area. He served on the school board and as Town Mayor from 1935 to 1947. Under his administration, the town saw the setting up of the prisoner-of-war camp on the locale, which had previously served as a buffalo park. Dr. J. G. Middlemass died at Wainwright on October 29, 1967, aged 86 years, 10 months and 2 days.

Middleton, William Gavin
Dr.
-1881

William Middleton was born at Aberdeen, Scotland and came to Canada in his youth. He studied at McGill University and in 1849 became a Licentiate of the Medical Board of Canada West. He followed the practice of his profession in Elora and Pilkington, County Wellington, where he was Coroner and Physician for some years. He removed to Amherst Island where he resided until his death on October 24, 1881, aged 66 years 6 months 17 days.

Millar, Joseph Wilfred Dr.
1900-1961

Joseph Wilfred Millar was born at Castleton, Ontario on July 23, 1900 son of John Millar and Susan Petty. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto medical school in 1925; Dr. Millar was married first to Kathleen Trevor on August 14, 1926 and then to Lorna Maxwell on July 1, 1943. He established himself at Toronto and was physician to the United States Consulate General for 15 years; he was regarded as one of the best diagnosticians in Toronto. Dr. Joseph Wilfred Millar died at Toronto on April 19, 1961 aged 60 years 8 months and 26 days.

Miller, Borden
Chamberlain Dr.
1912-1978

Borden Chamberlain Miller was born at Consecon, Ontario on September 7, 1912 son of William Miller and Martha Carter. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1937 and served overseas during World War 11 as a Major in the Royal Canadian Medical Corps. Dr. Miller established himself at Gananoque, Ontario where he conducted a general practice and also operated the Gardens Motel at the Thousand Islands Parkway. He was active in community affairs, served on the school board, managed the local senior hockey team and served as president of the Rotary Club. Survived by his wife, the former Anne Grimason, Dr. Borden Chamberlain died at Gananoque on January 12, 1978 aged 65 years 4 months 5 days.

Miller, Thomas Menzies
Dr.
-1908

Thomas Menzies Miller was born at Peterborough, where he completed his preparatory studies and graduated from Trinity Medical College in Toronto in 1877. He went to Europe for further study and was a Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh in 1877. He, also, studied in London and Dublin and received another diploma from the Rotunda Hospital in the latter city. Dr. Miller returned to Canada and began practicing at Keene, Ontario, where, after three years, he removed to Jamaica, West Indies. In 1882, he moved to Chelsea, Wisconsin and, after another three years, to Medford, Wisconsin where he remained for the duration. He was interested in agriculture and stock breeding and had a farm adjacent to the city. He was one of the incorporators of the Medford Pea Canning Company and opened his farm up annually to hold the County Fair. Dr. Miller was one of the most senior physicians at Medford where he died on February 1, 1908, aged 57 years 5 months.

Minaker, William Dr.
1846-1902

William Minaker was born at Milford, Prince Edward County on April 22, 1846, son of Lewis Minaker and Mary Ann Adams. He attended the local classrooms and studied his medical courses at Trinity College where he graduated with High Honours in 1875. He wed Elizabeth Cooper on September 6, 1881. Dr. Minaker practiced at Meaford, Thorold and Winnipeg, but, in 1884, removed to establish himself at Chicago, where he remained for the duration. Dr. William Minaker died on July 25, 1902, aged 56 years, 3 months, 3 days.

Moffat, John Cuthbertson
Dr.
-1904

John Cuthbertson Moffat was a native of Scotland and came to Canada at 14 years of age. He attended Peterborough Collegiate, taught school and then entered Trinity Medical School, graduating in 1886. Dr. Moffat ran a flourishing drug store and stationery business in Norwood. He, also, had an agency for the selling of Dominion Express Money Orders and his store carried a complete line of fancy goods, books and periodicals. In 1895, his business was so successful that it required he establish a new store where he intended to have a large and strictly private office to meet his patients. Dr. Moffat died at Peterborough on June 4, 1904, aged 46 years 4 months 26 days.

Moher, Thomas James Dr.
-1914

Thomas James Moher was born in Peterborough. He graduated with his medical degree from Trinity College in 1889, and took post-graduate training in England, receiving his Royal College of Surgeons Degree. He went into practice at Trenton and removed to Peterborough about 1896. He next accepted a position at the Orillia Asylum and from there went to the Asylum at Brockville, where he was Medical Superintendent for six years. Subsequently he spent three years in a similar post at the Cobourg Hospital for the Insane. Dr. Moher died on February 24, 1914, aged 50 years 8 months 16 days.

Moore, Charles Caulfield
Dr.
1825-1882

Charles Caulfield Moore was born at Brimpsfield, Gloucestershire, England on February 11, 1825, son of Reverend William Moore and Sarah Worthington. He was a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England in 1849, and was a Licentiate of the Society of Apothecaries, London in 1850. He was married to Elizabeth Bonner, and initially hung his shingle at Chudleigh, Devonshire, England. He emigrated and was licensed to practice medicine in Ontario in 1863. Dr. Moore established himself at Cobourg, where for a number of years he followed his life's work, before removing to the Muskoka area of Ontario. Dr. Charles Caulfield Moore died near Huntsville on March 7, 1882, aged 57 years, 26 days

Moore, John Dr.
-1920

John Moore was born in Plainfield and attended local schools there and in Belleville. In early life he took a course, and graduated, as a Veterinary Surgeon, but later attended Queen's College Medical School graduating in 1891. For a few years, he practiced in Michigan, but in 1895 returned and practiced in Shannonville, succeeding Dr. Whiteman. He was for some years a Public School Trustee, Chairman of the Public Library Board of Shannonville and Superintendent of the Sunday School. While making a professional call, Dr. Moore's automobile was struck by the Grand Trunk Railway Express No.29 at the Canadian National Railway crossing about a half-mile west of the Thurlow station. Dr. Moore died on November 12, 1920, aged 64 years 2 months 19 days.

Moore, John Milton Dr.
1868-1958

John Milton Moore was born on Nov 11, 1868 at Belleville, Ontario son of Stephen Moore and Louisa Hearn. He entered into the study of his life's work and graduated in medicine at McGill University with the class of 1893. Dr. Moore established himself in a successful practice at Chicago, Illinois. Dr. Moore, aged 58, was united in marriage on Apr 24, 1927 to Marcia Elizabeth Graham however tragedy struck when Mrs Moore died on July 6, 1927 aged 28. Buried at Blue Island Cemetery in Illinois, Dr. John Milton Moore died on Feb 2, 1958 aged 89 years 2 months 21 days.

Moore, Maurice Roberts
Dr.
1900-1985

Maurice Roberts Moore was born at Latta, Ontario on October 20, 1900 son of Alex Moore and Gatrey Fanning. He was a graduate of the faculty of medicine at Queen's University in 1929 and later was certified by the American Board of Pathology. He married first Mary Louttit of Wellington on May 24, 1928 and then in 1941 Ingeborg Henningsen, his operating room assistant. Dr. Moore moved to the United States in 1930 to take the position of pathologist in Norwich, Connecticut and after 12 years, on his 42nd birthday, he reported for duty in the Army Air Force Medical Corps. He enlisted as a Major and was discharged in March 1946 as a Lieutenant Colonel returning to the practice of internal medicine in Norwich. Dr. Moore served as president of the Connecticut Association of Public Health and Clinical Laboratory Medicine and vice chairman of the board of trustees of the State Hospital. Dr. Maurice Roberts Moore died at Casselberry, Florida on May 23, 1985 aged 84 years 7 months and 3 days.

Moore, Thomas Dr.
-1900

Thomas Moore was a native of Picton and son of Dr. Thomas Moore. He followed in the career choice of his father and received his medical diploma from Geneva College, New York State. He was a Licentiate of the Medical Board of Lower Canada as of July 1844. Dr. Moore followed the practice of his profession until his death on March 24, 1900, aged 77 years 5 months 2 days.

Moore, Thomas Dr.
-1869

Thomas Moore was a University graduate from Scotland and received a license to practice medicine in Lower Canada in 1821. He was located and working his profession in Bath by 1822; he received his license to practice physic, surgery and midwifery in Upper Canada from Lieutenant Governor Maitland on January 3, 1827. He was active in community affairs and, in 1822, was a member of a committee established to erect the Presbyterian Church in Fredericksburgh. That same year, he was appointed Surgeon to the 1st Regiment of the Addington Militia. He later settled in Hallowell where he was appointed Surgeon of the 1st Prince Edward Regiment in 1828. In 1835, he was appointed Surgeon for the Jail at a salary of 5 pounds per year. Dr. Moore died in 1869, aged 72.

Moore, Robert Gilbert Dr.
1879-1946

Robert Gilbert Moore was born at Belleville, Ontario on Aug 17, 1879 son of Robert Moore and Deborah Jones. He entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University, graduated in 1902, interned at Bellevue Hospital in New York City, commenced his surgical practice at the Norwegian Lutheran Deaconess Hospital and in Oct 1903 accepted a position at the N.Y. Orthopaedic Dispensary and Hospital. Dr Moore was united in marriage to Margaret Coelln. In addition to his practice, he conducted a private Sanatorium at his home in Baldwin Harbour and later took charge of the Freeport Riverside Sanatorium. His wife died in 1929 and after more than 3 decades in Manhattan, Dr Moore removed to Matawan, N.J. and spent the last 6 years at Hazlet, N.J. Dr Robert Gilbert Moore died on Dec 17, 1946 at Long Branch, N.J. aged 67 years 4 months.

Moorhouse, Herbert
Clayton Dr.
1907-1989

Herbert Clayton Moorhouse was born at London, Ontario on February 18, 1907 son of Reverend John Moorhouse and Mina Boomer. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Western Ontario in 1931 and was united in marriage to Mary Thompson on October 4, 1928. Dr. Moorhouse served at various Ontario Hospitals throughout his career, including Brockville where he was established before the outbreak of World War 11; during the War he was Squadron Leader with the Royal Canadian Air Force. Subsequently he served at the Cobourg Ontario Hospital and in 1959 was superintendent of the Lakeshore Psychiatric Hospital in Toronto; he was a proponent of integration of the sexes at mental hospitals. Dr. Herbert Clayton Moorhouse died at Cobourg on September 24, 1989 aged 82 years 7 months 6 days.

Moran, John Byron Dr.
-1935

John Byron Moran was born on Big Island, Prince Edward County. He studied medicine at the University of Trinity College where he graduated in 1872. He started his practice at Roslin, but remained there only a short time before removing to Trenton; he was appointed as a Coroner for the County of Hastings. Dr. Moran was active in municipal affairs and, in 1883, was Mayor of the Town. He later moved to Toronto where he practiced but a short time before retiring. Dr. Moran returned to Trenton about 1930 and died there on January 19, 1935, aged 88 years 29 days.

Moran, Sheldon Arthur
McDonald Dr.
1878-1920

Sheldon Arthur McDonald Moran was born at Roslin on November 17, 1878, son of Dr. John Byron Moran and Samantha Amelia Osterhout. He removed with his parents to Trenton, where he attained his early education and entered into the study of his life's work at the University of Toronto, where he graduated in Medicine in 1905. Dr. Moran married Katherine Louise Sebert on June 5, 1907. He spent some time as a Practitioner at Rednersville, but established himself at Toronto, where he practiced his profession in the east end of the city. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and had retired 1 year prior to his death. Dr. S. A. M. Moran died on December 21, 1920, aged 42 years, 1 month and 4 days.

Morden, Fred W. Dr.
-1895

Fred W. Morden was born in Picton, the son of Dr. J. B. Morden. He graduated as a gold medallist from Queen's University in 1894. Dr. Morden established himself in Demorestville where he practiced his profession until his death on May 26, 1895, aged 25.

Morden, James Bentley
Dr.
-1900

James Bently Morden was born in Prince Edward County and graduated from Queen's University in 1865. He first practiced in Melrose, but after a few years he removed to Picton where he built up a substantial clientele. He was active in municipal affairs and in politics. Dr. Morden died as a result of a strangulated hernia on March 10, 1900, aged 67 years 10 months 28 days.

Morden, John Howell Dr.
1834-1879

John Howell Morden was born in Cramahe Township, Northumberland County, Ontario on Jan 29, 1834 son of Joseph Morden and Charlotte Benedict. He received his medical degree from Queen's University in May 1859 and settled into the practice of his life's work in June 1859 at Brockville; he was united in marriage to Victoria Crawford, daughter of Senator Crawford, on Nov 1, 1860. Dr. Morden began the active work of his profession in Brockville and speedily rose to be a leading physician and surgeon in that town. Dr.

John Howell Morden died on Aug 27, 1879 aged 45 years 6 months 28 days.

Morden, Marshall Roblin
Dr.
1844-1918

Marshall Roblin Morden was born at Ameliasburgh, Ontario on August 12, 1844 son of John Howell Morden and Mary Mason. A graduate of Albert College, he studied medicine at the University of Michigan and graduated in 1871; he wed Sarah Jane Terrill at Trenton, Ontario on July 21 of that same year. Dr. Morden set up his initial practice at Somerset, Michigan and about five years after removed to Adrian, Lenawee County, Mi. Here he paid special attention to diseases of the eye and ear and was the first in that county to treat astigmatism and other refractive disorders with glasses. Dr. Marshall Roblin Morden died on March 13, 1918 aged 73 years 7 month 1 day.

Morden, Charles Bowman
Brock Dr.
1879-1951

Charles Bowman Brock Morden was born at Ameliasburgh on Apr 15, 1879 son of John Morden and Harriet Young; he moved to Adrian, Michigan as a youngster with his parents. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1903 and was united in marriage to Jessie Strong on Oct 10, 1905. In 1903 Dr Morden commenced his practice of medicine at Pigeon, Mi. and removed to Bad Axe in 1907. He took post graduate work in Edinburgh, Scotland in 1913 and in 1919 was made chief of staff at the Hubbard Memorial Hospital, a position he held until 1946. Dr Morden was active in community affairs, was the first president of the Bad Axe Rotary Club and followed the practice of his profession for over 4 decades. Dr Charles Bowman Brock Morden died on Mar 5, 1951 aged 71 years 10 months 20 days.

Morgan, Walter Corneil
Dr.
1888-1953

Walter Corneil Morgan was born at Strathroy, Ontario on November 24, 1888, son of John Morgan and Dora Corneil. He united in marriage on May 17, 1911 to Sarah Christina Floselle Steele, graduated in Medicine from the University of Western Ontario in 1912 and took two years post-graduate training at the New York Polyclinic Hospital. Dr. Morgan practised in Arden, Ontario for one year before going to France in World War I as the Medical Officer of the 42nd Battalion; he was wounded in France and was awarded the Military Cross for Gallantry and Initiative when under heavy fire. On his return from overseas, he practised in Roslin for four years before establishing himself in Belleville. He served for many years as Medical Officer of the Argyll Light Infantry Regiment and during World War II, he served as Chief of a Hospital in St, John, New Brunswick. Dr. Walter Corneil Morgan died on September 15, 1953, aged 64 years, 9 months and 21 days.

Morin, Tuffield John Dr.
1906-1977

Tuffield John Morin was born at Lakefield, Ontario on December 2, 1906 son of steam boat Captain Tuffield Morin and Mary Young. He was a graduate of medicine at Queen's University in 1933 and was soon established in general practice at Roseneath, Ontario; later he removed to Ottawa where he remained for the duration. Survived by his wife the former Frances Michels, Dr. Tuffield John Morin died at Ottawa on July 29, 1977 aged 70 years 7 months 27 days.

Mott, Irvine Ketcheson
Dr.
1861-1920

Irvine Ketcheson Mott was born at Plainfield, Ontario on January 10, 1861, son of John Ketcheson Mott and Dorothy Cook. He acquired his preliminary education at the Belleville High School and Albert College in 1879, where he graduated with Honours and subsequently read medicine with Dr. Thomas Elijah Allen of Belleville; he pursued a professional course in the Pulte Medical College of Cincinnati where he graduated in 1883. Pulte Medical College, named after Dr. Joseph H. Pulte, was established in 1872 to train physicians in the art of Homeopathic Medicine. Dr. Mott began his career at Brooksport, New York, where he remained two years, then returned to Cincinnati. He married Jessie Benton Homer and specialized in diseases of the kidney achieving an international reputation in the treatment of Bright's disease. Dr. Irvine Ketcheson Mott died of paralysis of the throat at Covington, Kentucky on February 14 1920, ages 59 years, 1 month, 4 days.

Munro, John Matthew Dr.
1884-1946

John Matthew Munro was born at Rose Blanche, Newfoundland on November 12, 1884, son of William John Munro and Keziah Eastman. He was united in marriage on December 10, 1910 to Helen Elizabeth Reikie in Shanghai, China and was a Graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University in 1918. He soon established himself in his life's work at Odessa, Ontario, where he remained for the duration. He was the Coroner for the Township of Ernestown as well as the County of Frontenac and served on the Executive of the Lennox and Addington Medical Association; Dr. Munro was a veteran of both World Wars. Dr. John Matthew Munro died on June 5, 1946, aged 61 years, 6 months and 23 days.

Murdoff, Harry Morton
Dr.
1878-1944

Harry Morton Murdoff was born at Picton, Ontario in June 1878 son of Henry Murdoff and Margaret McGillivray. He received his early schooling in his home town, matriculated from the Winnipeg Collegiate Institute and taught school for 3 years. Afterwards he studied medicine at the Manitoba Medical College, graduated in 1905 and interned at the Winnipeg General Hospital; he took post graduate work in London and at John Hopkins University. Dr Murdoff was united in marriage to Mary Duncan on June 1, 1909. He followed the practice of his profession in Winnipeg, was a Fellow of the American College of Physicians, a demonstrator in clinical medicine at the University and served as chief of medicine at the Misericordia Hospital. Dr Harry Morton Murdoff died on Jan 1, 1944 aged 65 years 7 months.

Murphy, John Bernard Dr.
-1904

John Bernard Murphy was born in Asphodel Township, Peterborough County. He was educated at the Norwood Grammar School, St. Michael's College, Toronto and Queen's Medical College where he graduated Medical Doctor in 1876. He immediately established his practice in Belleville where he followed his profession for 15 years. He was appointed as Physician to the Deaf and Dumb Institute in 1881 and maintained that position until he left. In 1891, he became Superintendent of the Asylum for the Insane at Mimico and in 1894 was transferred to the asylum at Brockville. Dr. Murphy died at Brockville on January 17, 1904, aged 53 years 7 months 16 days.

Murray, Janet Dr.
1856-1940

Janet Murray was born at Peebles, Scotland on July 22, 1856, daughter of Ralph Murray and Isabelle Kerr. At the age of ten, she moved with her family to Ontario, her father being a mining engineer; the family followed his vocation in numerous small towns across the province. She had been in Rossmore, Ameliasburgh Township for at least a decade by the time she graduated from Queen's Medical School in 1891; she was one of the first women to enter the Medical School at Queen's. She immediately established herself in Schenectady, New York and was licensed in that state on August 31, 1891. She was truly a doctor of the horse and buggy era; there was no hospital there and this was before the advent of the X-Ray machine. She was in general practice for forty six years, was a prominent member of the Schenectady Business and Professional Women's Club, served as Vice-President of the Queen's University Alumni Association and was a member of the Board of Councillors of the Women's Medical Society of New York. Dr. Janet Murray was one of the oldest women doctors in New York State when she died on February 20, 1940, aged 83 years, 6 months, 28 days.

Murray, Joseph Matthew
Dr.
1885-1962

Joseph Matthew Murray was born at Marmora on June 8, 1885, son of John Murray and Mary O'Brien. He attended St. Michael's College in Toronto and then went to McGill University, where he graduated as a Medical Doctor in 1909. He practiced for a while in Edmonton before spending 10 years in New York, where he practiced as an Orthopaedic Surgeon. After extensive travel (London, Vienna, Portland Oregon), he settled in Ottawa in 1922; he married Priscilla Poulin on January 31, 1924. Dr. Murray was the first of Ottawa's bone doctors and he followed his profession there for 40 years. He was frequently summoned to the United States in difficult cases; on one occasion in Atlantic City, he restored a man's useless arm by a unique bone-extension operation. Dr. J. M. Murray died at Ottawa on October 15, 1962, aged 77 years, 4 months and 7 days.

Nash, Alfred Dr.
1828-1917

Alfred Nash was born at Amherst Island, Ontario on August 12, 1828 son of Thomas and Hannah Nash and older brother of Dr. Samuel Lemuel Nash chronicled previously. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School at Ann Arbor in 1856 and immediately established himself in his profession at Joliet, Illinois. During the American Civil War he enlisted on August 22, 1861 as a Commissioned Officer in Company S of the Michigan 1st Cavalry Regiment, was promoted to Full Surgeon on December 1, 1862 and mustered out on December 18, 1862. This was followed with enlisting as an Officer in Company S, North Carolina 2nd Infantry Regiment on December 24, 1862 and mustered out on December 12, 1864. Dr. Alfred Nash died at Joliet, Illinois where he practiced for thirty seven years and was at the time of his death, the oldest living graduate of the University of Michigan; death occurring on June 22, 1917 aged 88 years 10 months 10 days.

Nash, Joseph Platt Dr.
-1881

Joseph Platt Nash was born near Hamilton. He was a Licentiate of the Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario and a member of the National Medical Eclectic Association of the United States. He first located in Wroxeter, Ontario before establishing a practice in Marshall, Michigan. Failing health forced him to Brooklyn, New York and finally to Picton in 1867. In addition to his Picton office, he held office hours at the Holbrook Hotel in Belleville, where he could be consulted every Wednesday. He was Deputy Reeve of Picton in 1878 and was the first Mayor of Picton to die, while still in office. Dr. Platt Nash died in Picton on May 14, 1881, aged 42.

Nash, Samuel Lemuel Dr.
-1915

Samuel Nash was born at Milford and graduated from Victoria College in 1865. He first practiced at Roblin's Mills moving to Consecon in 1871, Belleville in 1881, Milford in 1894 and finally he established himself in Bath in 1906. Diseases of the throat and lungs were a specialty and medication inhalation therapy was a favored treatment. Dr. Nash died in Bath on July 7, 1915, aged 82 years 2 months 14 days.

Nash, Thomas Wesley Dr.
1905-1998

Thomas Wesley Nash was born at Wellington, Ontario on November 15, 1905 son of Thomas Nash and Mabel German. He was a graduate of medicine from the University of Western Ontario in 1931. Dr. Nash interned at St. Joseph's Hospital and conducted a family practice and worked at Industrial Medicine at Hamilton, Ontario. Survived by his wife the former Elva Gorman, Dr. Thomas Wesley Nash died at the Wellington Retirement Home in Hamilton on January 27, 1998 aged 92 years 2 months 12 days.

Naylor, Robert White Dr.
1889-1936

Robert White Naylor was born at Campbellford, Ontario on October 18, 1889, son of Thomas Naylor and Esther White. He received his preliminary education in the local classrooms and spent several years in the drug business, entered into the Study of Medicine in 1910 at the University of Toronto and graduated with his Medical Degree in 1915. He was united in marriage to Trixy Easton on June 24, 1916. He established himself at Toronto where he served as Physician to the Sun Life Assurance Company. Dr. Robert White Naylor died on April 16, 1936, aged 46 years, 5 months and 28 days.

Newton, John Dr.
-1918

John Newton was born in Kingston. In 1860 he took an active part in the volunteer movement and organized the Portsmouth Rifles, which afterwards became No.7 Company of the 14th Battalion. He was educated at Queen's College and received his degree in medicine in 1866. He initially practiced in Portsmouth where he was Physician to the prison hospital and Medical Superintendent of Rockwood. He removed to Mill Point, now Deseronto, in 1870. He was appointed Physician to the Mohawks in 1873, and, in 1890, elected Chairman of the Deseronto High School. He was Reeve of the village in 1885 and 1893 and was Medical Officer of Health; he was elected Mayor in 1903-1904 and again occupied that office from 1907-1912. Dr. Newton died at Deseronto on February 13, 1918, aged 75 years 7 months 25 days.

Nichol, Thomas Dr.
-1890

Thomas Nichol was a graduate of the Homeopathic Medical College of Pennsylvania and a Licentiate of the Homeopathic Medical Board of Canada. He established a practice in Belleville in 1857 where he continued for 15 years. He was particularly interested in diseases of the lungs, and children. He was Professor at Albert College in 1871. Dr. Nichol removed to Montreal where he practiced for 20 years and was succeeded in practice here by Dr. A. W. Sovereign. Dr. Nichol died on June 14, 1890, aged 59 years 1 month 18 days.

Nichol, Thomas Scott Dr.
1867-1925

Thomas Scott Nichol was born at Belleville, Ontario on Dec 27, 1867 son of Dr. Thomas Nichol and Hannah Grieve; the father of our subject has been chronicled previously. He was a graduate of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Quebec and of Edinburgh University. For some years, Dr. Nichol practiced in Chicago but about 1900 he returned to Montreal and resumed his practice; he was united in marriage to Arabella Potter in 1901. Dr. Thomas Scott Nichol was a well known medical practitioner of the homeopathic school, a well known Scottish historian and was for some years a member of the Royal Arcanum; he died at Verdun, Quebec on Sept 11, 1925 aged 57 years 8 months 14 days.

Nickle, Fred James Dr.
1891-1945

Fred James Nickle was born at San Francisco, California on December 22, 1891 son of William Nickle and Anna Presley. He received his early education at Madoc and graduated from high school there, studied at Dalhousie University in Halifax and later at Toronto University from which institution he received his degree in medicine in 1923; he was united in marriage to Grace Burnside on October 23, 1923. He commenced the practice of his profession at Merrickville, later removing to Eldorado and then Madoc. During the First Great War Dr. Nickle served in the Royal Navy and later served as the medical officer with the rank of Captain to the 2nd Reserve Battalion, Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment. Dr. Fred James Nickle died at Madoc on March 12, 1945 aged 53 years 2 months and 20 days.

Nickle, Millen Alexander Dr.
1881-1944

Millen Alexander Nickle was born at Madoc on December 31, 1881, son of John Nickle and Margaret Jane Quigg. He received his early education at Madoc and attended the University of Toronto, where he attained his Medical Degree in 1907, a classmate of Dr. Roy Dafoe. Dr. Nickle married Laura Holdcroft on January 10, 1912. He established himself in the practice of his profession at Weyburn, Saskatchewan, which is where he enlisted in the First World War, attaining the rank of Captain; he served with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces. He remained in Europe to do post-graduate work at Edinburgh, specializing in Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology. Dr. Nickle went to Clearwater, Florida, where he served as President of the Pinellas County Medical Society and served as an Examiner for the Florida State Welfare Board; he was a staff member of the Morton F. Plant Hospital in Clearwater. Dr. M. A. Nickle died on March 6, 1944, aged 62 years, 2 months and 5 days.

Nickle, William C Dr.
1875-1907

William C Nickle was born at Madoc, Ontario on Dec 21, 1875 son of John Nickle and Margaret Quigg and brother of Dr Millen A Nickle. He started his professional career as a teacher in his home town, entered into the study of his life's work at the University of Manitoba and graduated with the class of 1906. Dr Nickle soon established himself in general practice at Colorado Springs but after a short time returned home suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis. Dr William C Nickle died at Madoc on May 2, 1907 aged 31 years 4 months 11 days.

Nicolson, William John Dr.
1895-1957

William John Nicholson was born at Trenton, Ontario on January 4, 1895 son of John Nicolson and Melissa Bly. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1922 and was united in marriage to Jean Robertson on July 15, 1922. For the following two years he practised at West Monkton near Stratford, Ontario and then went to Langton where he practised for 33 years. He was active in educational circles and had served as chairman of the North Walsingham public school board and as Norfolk County coroner. Dr. William John Nicolson died in Tillsonburg on December 1, 1957 aged 62 years 10 months and 27 days.

Northmore, Harold Symes
Dr.
-1935

Harold Symes Northmore was a native of Cataraqui and a graduate of Queen's Medical School in 1889. He immediately established himself at Bath, Ontario purchasing the practice of Dr. Mellow. Here he built up a busy practice and was a well-known Practitioner throughout the county. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and its Worshipful Master in 1896, and District Grand Master in 1912. He was an active member of the Bath Board of Education for 41 years and Chairman of the Board for 25 years. Dr. Northmore died at Bath on March 25, 1935, aged 69 years 6 months 11 days.

Noxon, Allan Dr.
-1926

Allan Noxon was born in Bloomfield. He entered into the study of his life's work, receiving his degree in 1869. He initially established himself in Almonte, then Bloomfield in 1873 and removed to Toronto in 1884. Here, he remained for the duration. Dr. Noxon died in Toronto on January 24, 1926, aged 86 years 1 month.

O'Brien, Patrick William
Dr.
1877-1951

Patrick William O'Brien was born in Belleville, Ontario on Mar 28, 1877 son of Patrick O'Brien and Catherine Brophy. The father of our subject was a well known hotel keeper in Belleville and in 1883 moved his family to Toronto to take the position of superintendent of the Parliament Buildings. Young Patrick graduated from Jarvis Collegiate in 1896 and completed his medical training at the University of Toronto in 1900. Dr O'Brien interned at St Michael's Hospital and subsequently opened his office on McCaul Street, Toronto. He was united in marriage to Helena Graves on Oct 26, 1909; fraternally he was a member of the Knights of St John and the Knights of Columbus. Dr O'Brien remained in Toronto for the duration and is buried at Mount Hope Cemetery. Dr Patrick William O'Brien died on Mar 11, 1951 aged 73 years 11 months 13 days.

O'Connell, John Joseph
Dr.
1907-1984

John Joseph O'Connell was born at Madoc, Ontario on July 23, 1907 son of Hugh O'Connell and Mary Lahey. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1932, interned at the Ottawa Civic Hospital and established his practice at Cardinal, Ontario. During World War 11 Dr. O'Connell served with the Royal Canadian Air Force and was a pioneer in aviation medicine. He took post graduate work in psychiatry at Arlington, Virginia and Washington, D.C. and returned to Ottawa in private practice. In 1950 Dr. O'Connell went to Tallahassee, Florida where he was professor at Florida State University and in 1952 to Assumption University in Windsor, Ontario. In 1956 he removed to Brockville, Ontario where he was director of the Brockville Psychiatric Hospital. Dr. John Joseph O'Connell died on September 29, 1984 aged 77 years 2 months 6 days.

O'Connor, Frederick
James Dr.
1884-1946

Frederick James O'Connor was born at Campbellford on April 12, 1884, son of James O'Connor and Jane Campbell. He entered into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto, from which institution he graduated in 1909. He took post-graduate training in Otolaryngology in Vienna and established a specialist practice in Syracuse, New York. He married Laura May Porter on October 6, 1915. Dr. O'Connor served with the Canadian Forces during the First World War and returned to New York, where he served as Professor of Otolaryngology at the Syracuse University College of Medicine until his retirement in 1945. Dr. F. J. O'Connor died while on vacation at Southern Pines, North Carolina, on March 29, 1946, aged 61 years, 11 months and 17 days.

O'Gorman, Constantine William Dr.
1850-1910

Constantine William O'Gormann was born in Dublin, Ireland on July 23, 1850, son of Robert O'Gorman and Sarah Wilkinson. He studied medicine and was a Graduate of Trinity Medical School in 1879. He soon established himself at Hastings, Ontario and on June 6, 1883 married Eleanor McLean. He spent time at Hastings and Cobourg, but in 1906, was appointed as Physician of the Grand Trunk Railway Company with his headquarters at Depot Harbour, Ontario, about eight kilometres from Parry Sound. At its height, it was home to about 1,600 residents, but is now considered as the largest ghost town in Ontario. Dr. Constantine William O'Gorman died May 16, 1910, aged 59 years, 9 months, 23 days.

O'Hara, John Dr.
1830-1900

John O'Hara was born at the farmhouse on Sept 21, 1830 at Madoc, Ontario son of James O'Hara and Mary Healey. James and Mary O'Hara arrived in Madoc Township in 1823 and their property and buildings including the Sawmill, Carriage House and Homestead have been preserved as a local treasure and Conservation Area. John O'Hara was united in marriage to Frances Snyder on Sept 14, 1851 and, having learned the trade of baker in Belleville, removed to Fulton, New York where he established a bakery. In 1856 he removed to Galesburg, Illinois where he qualified as a Physician and entered into practice; in 1865 he moved to Carbondale, Illinois. Every Decoration Day, Dr. O'Hara would visit the grave of a Confederate Soldier whom he cared for near the end of the Civil War. He was a highly regarded physician because of his work during the smallpox outbreak in 1858 but the angered residents refused to sell Dr. O'Hara a coffin when the soldier died. Dr. O'Hara visited the sick, administered to the suffering and fed the poor, all without the hope of reward; he lived and died a poor man. Dr. John O'Hara died at Carbondale on Jan 12, 1900 aged 69 years 3 months 21 days.

O'Neil, Thomas Dr.
1864-1890

Thomas O'Neil was born at the 2nd concession of Thurlow in 1864, son of Luke and Ann O'Neil, natives of Ireland. He attended the local classrooms and studied Medicine at Queen's University and graduated with the Class of 1888. Dr. Thomas O'Neil established himself at Trenton, Ontario, but died on September 8, 1890, aged 26 years, 1 month.

O'Ray, Daniel James Dr.
1896-1928

Daniel James O'Ray was born at Chicago, Illinois on October 19, 1896 son of James O'Ray and Mary McKeown. He spent his youth at Camden East, Ontario, was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1926 and was united in marriage to Sarah Hartman on February 21, 1927. He interned at Hotel Dieu Hospital in Kingston and was practising in Peterborough, Ontario. Dr. Daniel James O'Ray died, the result of a motor vehicle accident, on September 9, 1928 aged 31 years 10 months and 20 days.

O'Reilly, James Joseph Dr.
1895-1973

James Joseph O'Reilly was born at Portage la Prairie, Manitoba on March 21, 1895 son of Edward O'Reilly and Frances O'Brien. After graduating from Queen's University in medicine in 1924 he spent a short time at Lonsdale, Ontario. He went on to post graduate training in ophthalmology and otorhinolaryngology in New York City, Vienna and Budapest. Dr. O'Reilly held fellowships in the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology. After discharge from the Royal Canadian Air Force with the rank of Squadron Leader at the end of World War 11, he practised in Leamington, Ontario then Kirkland Lake. Later he was chief of staff at St. Joseph's Hospital in Victoria, B.C. Survived by his wife, the former Marcelle Sickinger, Dr. James Joseph O'Reilly died at Victoria on June 27, 1973 aged 78 years 3 months and 6 days.

O'Shea, James Francis Dr.
1850-1886

James Francis O'Shea was born at Norwood, Asphodel Township in 1850, son of Thomas O'Shea and Mary Jane Doris. He studied medicine at Queen's University from which institution he graduated in 1881. He was married on February 26, 1884 to Mary Henry. Dr. O'Shea followed the practice of his profession at Peterborough and Campbellford. Dr. James Francis O'Shea was cut short on his life expectancy and died on December 5, 1886 aged 36 years.

O'Sullivan, John C Dr.
1842-1887

John C O'Sullivan was born at the farmhouse in 1842 at Seymour Township, Northumberland County, Ontario son of Michael O'Sullivan and Mary Hennessy. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1868 and soon established himself in his life's work in Peterborough. Dr. O'Sullivan was united in marriage to Margaret Flannigan on Sept 22, 1870. He served as President of the Irish National League Branch in Peterborough and was elected as M.P.P. for Peterborough, Jan 18-Aug 12, 1875. When that election was appealed, he won the by-election that followed and served from Sept 24, 1875-Apr 25, 1879. Dr. John C O'Sullivan died while attending one of his patients, is buried at St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, death occurring on Mar 4, 1887 aged 44 years.

Ogilvie, Robert C. Dr.
-1928

Robert C. Ogilvie was born in Campbellford. He received his early education in his native town and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1870. He then did post-graduate work at Bellevue Hospital in New York. He practiced in Port Hope for 25 years and then removed to Superior, Wisconsin, where he entered into the logging business, which he pursued for about 20 years. In 1917, he was elected a director of the United States National Bank and was a promoter of the Independent Telephone System in Superior. He, also, was a member of the waterway commission, investigating the feasibility of the St. Lawrence Waterway. Dr. Ogilvie died on July 31, 1928, aged 79 years 10 months.

Oldham, John Herbert Dr.
1867-1954

John Herbert Oldham was born at Marlbank, Greenwich, England on November 11, 1867, son of John Oldham and Jane Leech; he emigrated in 1870. He was a graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University in 1891; and on September 6, 1893 married Katie Benjamin. He established himself at Yarker, Ontario, where he followed the practice of his profession. He married a second time on November 6, 1922, to Maude Connelly. Dr. John Herbert Oldham died on April 17, 1954, aged 86 years, 5 months, 6 days.

Oronhyatekha, Acland
William Heywood Dr.
-1907

Acland William Heywood Oronhyatekha was the only surviving son of Honourable Dr. Oronhyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters. He was probably named after his father's tutor and friend, Sir Henry Acland, the Prince of Wales' Physician and Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford University. Dr. Oronhyatekha was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1892. He established himself at Deseronto and often accompanied his father on business trips abroad. Dr. A. W. H. Oronhyatekha died suddenly at his residence, "The Pines", west of Deseronto on July 7, 1907, aged 38.

Oronyatekha Dr.
-1907

Oronhyatekha, Burning Cloud, was a Mohawk Indian born on the Six Nations Grand River Reservation near Brantford. Early on he was apprenticed as a shoemaker, but later attended the Wesleyan College at Wilbraham, Massachusetts. After qualifying, he taught in his hometown and then entered into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto. In 1860, the chiefs at Brantford chose him to address the Prince of Wales on their behalf as he excelled in oratory. Both the Prince and Oronhyatekha were 19 years old; he so impressed the Prince that he was invited to Oxford to continue his medical studies with professor Henry Acland. On his return to Canada, he received his medical degree from University of Toronto in 1867, and established himself at Frankford where he practiced until 1871. He was elected Secretary of the Hastings County Medical Association, which he helped organize. In 1873, he removed to London where he eventually gave up medical practice and, in 1881, became Supreme Chief Ranger of the Order of Foresters, a life insurance co-operative. In 1871, he was a member of Canada's first Wimbledon Rifle Team and, in 1874, became president of the Grand Council of Canadian Chiefs. In Stratford, he entered politics and won Wallace Township. Later, he made his home at Forester's island off the mainland from Deseronto and established an orphanage to care for dependants of the Independent Order of Foresters. Dr. Oronhyatekha died as a consequence of diabetes, in Savannah, Georgia. He was interred in the Christ Church Cemetery on the Tyendinaga Indian Reserve, near Deseronto; it was rumoured that medical students sought the head of the chief for examination so extraordinary precautions were taken to seal the grave including a two-foot thick shell of cement. Dr. Oronhyatekha died on March 3, 1907, aged 65 years 6 months 23 days.

Ostrom, Sylvester Charles Jones Dr.
1844-1927

Sylvester Charles Jones Ostrom was born at Belleville, Ontario on Nov 4, 1844 son of Sylvester Ostrom and Margaret Friel. The brother of our subject, Gilbert Wellington Ostrom, was a lawyer and political figure who served as mayor of Trenton and M.P.P. for Hastings West. Sylvester studied medicine at the University of Michigan, graduated in 1867 and established himself at Saginaw, Michigan; he was united in marriage to Julia Little on Oct 1, 1879. He kept abreast of medical knowledge and the following appeared in the 1890 London newspaper: Dr. S C J Ostrom, a well known medico from the other side of the Atlantic, who has been sojourning for some time past on this side, has just left the Old Country for home. Dr. Ostrom holds a leading position in the medical profession and a brother of his occupies a prominent position in the Ontario Legislature. Dr. Sylvester Charles Jones Ostrom died at Saginaw on Aug 28, 1927 aged 82 years 9 months 24 days.

Outwater, Stewart
Wilson, Dr.
1868-1917

Stewart Wilson Outwater was born at Plainfield, Ontario on August 13, 1868 son of Charles Outwater and Sarah Sherry. He attended the Belleville high school and Albert College and entered into the study of medicine at the University of Bishop's College, Quebec and graduated with the class of 1892. He was united in marriage to Bertha Morrison on June 28, 1892 and set out his shingle at Philipsburg, Quebec where he remained for about two decades before removing to Saranac Lake, New York. He took ill there in 1917 and returned to Montreal. Dr. Stewart Wilson Outwater died on April 15, 1917 aged 48 years 8 months 2 days.

Ovens, Albert N. Dr.
1869-1936

Albert N. Ovens was born at Springbrook, Ontario on November 14, 1869, son of Thomas Ovens and Elizabeth Kurman. He received his early education in Hastings County, and taught school for a number of years in North Hastings and Peterborough and, later followed the same profession in the state of Illinois. He entered into the study of medicine at Kirksville, Missouri and received his Degree in Osteopathic Medicine. Kirksville was the location of the first United States school of Osteopathic Medicine, founded in 1892 by Dr. Andrew Taylor Still. Dr. Ovens practiced in Mason City, Illinois for ten years, moved to Springfield, Illinois, where he worked until he suffered a stroke in 1932, returning then to Springbrook. Dr. Albert N. Ovens died on January 20, 1936, aged 66 years, 2 months, 7 days.

Parker, Robert Dr.
-1902

Robert Parker was a graduate of medicine from Queen's University in 1861. He saw duty in the American Civil War and was with General Grant at Appotomax when General Lee surrendered. He returned to Stirling in 1866, and practiced medicine for 37 years. He was active in municipal affairs and held the offices of Reeve and Councillor for several years. He also managed a drug store and stationery business. Dr. Parker died on June 1, 1902, aged 67 years 7 months 13 days.

Pasmore, William Julius
Dr.
-1915

William Julius Pasmore was a native of Wellington County and was educated at the Rockwood Academy, graduated from the University of Toronto in 1866 and commenced practice at Rockwood. He then went to Conestogo, Ontario where he practiced for 23 years, to Toronto in 1891 and to Deseronto in 1899. He was an active worker in the field of temperance and was also prominent in political circles. Dr. Pasmore died at Toronto on March 18, 1915, aged 73 years 10 months 12 days.

Patterson, Arthur George
Dr.
1865-1919

Arthur George Patterson was born on Mar 15, 1865 at Grafton, Ontario son of Thomas Patterson and Mary Graham. He was united in marriage to Lillian Medbury on Apr 30, 1891 and, along with his brother Thomas, commenced to practice medicine at Lisbon, N.D. in 1897. They were typical old fashioned country doctors and when calls were received they went, no matter how far into the country or the weather. At one time they had their own rigs and driver and the Patterson Hospital was the only hospital in Lisbon until 1952. Dr.

Arthur George Patterson later removed to Chicago where he died on Oct 22, 1919 aged 54 years 7 months 7 days.

Patterson, James Benton
Dr.
1856-1929

James Benton Patterson was born on Oct 16, 1856 at Belleville, Ontario son of Robert Patterson and Amanda Benton. He was educated at Albert College, was a Licentiate of the Canadian College of Pharmacy, studied under the preceptorship of Dr. Arthur M Gerow and graduated from the Downstate College of Medicine in Brooklyn, N.Y. in 1877; this College revolutionized medical education in the U.S. as it was the first medical school founded within a hospital, making bedside training an integral part of student's education. Dr. Patterson was united in marriage on Oct 23, 1877 to Nannie Cornwall and, a widower, to Mary Manthei on Jan 27, 1883. He established himself at Rogers, Michigan, served as Surgeon to the Joplin Rail Road and Mining Company, was Judge of the Probate for Presque Isle County, Michigan, Town Clerk and Justice of the Peace. Dr. James Benton Patterson died at Detroit, Michigan on Jan 21, 1929 aged 72 years 3 months 5 days.

Patterson, James Wilson
Dr.
-1887

James Wilson Patterson was a native of Harrowsmith and a graduate of Toronto University in Arts (1879) and Medicine in 1884. During the last year of his course in the Toronto School of Medicine, he was a Resident Assistant in the Toronto General Hospital. After graduation, he returned to Harrowsmith, where he practiced for two years, moving back to Toronto in 1886, in failing health. Dr. Patterson died of Phthisis (Consumption or Tuberculosis) on February 20, 1887, aged 32.

Patterson, Thomas
Christopher Dr.
1864-1948

Thomas Christopher Patterson was born on Jan 9, 1864 at Grafton, Ontario son of Thomas Patterson and Mary Graham and brother of Dr. Arthur George Patterson. He and his brother were graduates in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1889 and they established themselves at Lisbon, North Dakota in 1897. He was married first to Frankie Dwight on Oct 5, 1893 and later to Lucy Cross on June 24, 1924. During W.W. 1, Dr. T C Patterson was Surgeon to the 1st N.D. Regiment of the National Guard and served with it on the Mexican border; later he was the Commandant of the Veteran's Home in Lisbon, N.D. A resident of Lisbon area for almost 6 decades, Dr. Thomas Christopher Patterson died there on Feb 22, 1948 aged 84 years 1 month 13 days.

Patterson, William Ray
Dr.
1844-1880

William Ray Patterson was born in 1844 in Scotland son of John Patterson and Isabella Millar. Dr. Patterson established himself in the practice of his life's work at Frankford, Ontario and was united in marriage on Nov 10, 1870 to Mary Embury. He removed to Stratford, Ontario for a short time however located at Norwood a few years later where he remained for the duration. Outlived by both parents, Dr. William Ray Patterson died at Norwood on Dec 10, 1880 aged 35 years.

Patterson, Wilmot Edwin
Dr.
1882-1939

Wilmot Edwin Patterson was born at Newburgh on October 22, 1882, son of John Henry Patterson and Marietta Potter. He received his early education at the local schools and entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University, where he attained his Medical Degree in 1906. Dr. Patterson established himself in the practice of his profession at Westbrook, Minnesota, where he served as President of the Southwestern Minnesota Medical Society. Dr. Patterson had over extended himself in the care of his patients, working at his profession longer than he should, and suffered severe haemolytic streptococcal septicaemia (strep throat gone bad); all efforts of the local physicians were of no avail. Dr. W. E. Patterson died at Slayton, Minnesota, on January 15, 1939, aged 56 years, 2 months and 23 days.

Paul, Henry Ernest Dr.
1875-1941

Henry Ernest Paul was born at Newburgh on December 27, 1875, son of Henry Paul and Ann McCready. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1901 and took post-graduate work in New York and Chicago; he established himself at Fort William in 1903; and married Edith Ruth Beeman on April 6, 1904. Dr. Paul went overseas in 1915 with the Canadian Army Medical Corps, attained the rank of Major, and was Commanding Officer of several hospitals in England; later he was stationed at base hospitals and clearing stations in France. On his return to Canada, he was stationed to the Army Medical Staff at Ottawa. After 1918, Dr. Paul was on staff of Christie Street and St. Joseph's Hospitals in Toronto; he was a member of the Academy of Medicine and the American Urological Association. Dr. H. E. Paul died on November 8, 1941, aged 65 years, 10 months and 10 days.

Paul, James Henry Dr.
1873-1936

James Henry Paul was born at Tyendinaga, Hastings County on May 26, 1873, son of Harvey Paul and Mary Dunlop. He was a Graduate of Queen's University in 1898 and established his practice at Jamesville, New York, where for forty years he was prominent in civic and political circles. He was united in marriage to Susie McDiarmid on June 23, 1903. Dr. Paul served as President of the Board of Education for about thirty years, was chairman of the Republican committee of the town of Dewitt, served as House Physician for the Onondaga County Penitentiary, Health Officer of the town of Dewitt, Quarry Physician for the Solvay Process Company and a member of the Crouse Irving Hospital. He served as President of the Jamesville Cemetery Association and was a member of the American Medical Association and the Woodmen of America.. Dr. James Henry Paul died on May 10, 1936, aged 62 years, 11 months, 14 days.

Paul, Robert Dorland Dr.
1884-1968

Robert Dorland Paul was born at Selby on February 18, 1884, son of Robert Wilde Paul and Hannah Redner. He was educated in the local schools and entered into the Faculty of Medicine at Queen's University, from which institution he graduated in 1907. He soon established himself in Chicago, where he was associated with the Illinois Central Hospital, having his office there and practicing for 50 years. He married Ethel Erickson on April 28, 1913. Dr. R. D. Paul died at the Illinois Central Hospital on January 28, 1968, aged 83 years, 11 months and 10 days.

Payne, Edward S. Dr.
1840-1924

Edward S Payne was born about Oct 28, 1840 in England son of James and Ann Payne. Dr. Payne was united in marriage to Jane Scott on Jan 8, 1864 and followed the practice of his profession in Haldimand and Simcoe Counties. He took post graduate work in Kingston, was a graduate of Queen's in 1874 and established himself at Marmora for several years before immigrating to Buffalo in 1883. Here, he left his wife, married Isabella Mary Hunt 30 years his junior, and removed to Salt Lake, Utah. At Salt Lake he was placed on trial for murder in connection with several criminal abortion cases but acquitted for lack of evidence. In 1908 however he was convicted of sending information pertaining to criminal abortions through the mail, was sentenced to 2 years hard labour at Leavenworth Prison and was the oldest prisoner confined to that institution. Dr. Edward S Payne subsequently moved to Kansas City, Missouri where he died on Feb 28, 1924 aged 83 years 4 months.

Peacock, George Wesley Dr.
1905-1976

George Wesley Peacock was born at Lindsay, Ontario on September 9, 1905 son of George Peacock and Violet Morley. He was a graduate in medicine at the University of Toronto with the class of 1932; Dr. Peacock was united in marriage to Marjorie Hamill on May 29, 1934. He established himself in general practice at Grafton, Ontario and after 14 years entered the Toronto School of Hygiene and received his diploma in Hospital Administration in 1948. Dr. Peacock served as the superintendent of the Kingston General Hospital until 1951 when he removed to Regina as medical health officer and in 1952 to Saskatoon where he served as registrar of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Saskatchewan until 1970. Dr. George Wesley Peacock died at Saskatoon on December 23, 1976 aged 71 years 3 months 14 days.

Peake, William Henry Thorpe Dr.
1874-1955

William Henry Thorpe Peake was born at Fenella, Northumberland County on Aug 10, 1874 son of Rev. William Peake and Almira Forward. He was educated at Albert College, graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1901 and wed Helena Lazier on Aug 21, 1901. Dr Peake practiced for 2 years in Alberta before settling in Manitoba and in 1910 established himself at Transcona. Here he was appointed medical officer for the Canadian National Railways shops and later became district medical officer for the C.N.R. For 40 years Dr Peake was medical health officer for Transcona and provincial coroner. Dr William Henry Thorpe Peake died on May 11, 1955 aged 80 years 9 months 1 day.

Pearson, Henry Clinton
Dr.
1871-1959

Henry Clinton Pearson was born at Newmarket, Ontario on July 26, 1871, son of Nathaniel Pearson and Ellen Lundy. He studied medicine at Trinity College, graduated in 1895 and established himself at Demorestville. He remained a few years, removed to Stayner then Toronto. He was a veteran of World War I, enlisting during the first month of the War and served in France for three years. He was a Medical Officer with a field ambulance in the western battlefront, sustaining wounds in the right arm on May 18, 1918; he attained the rank of Captain. Dr. Henry Clinton Pearson died on April 9, 1959, aged 87 years, 8 months, 13 days.

Pedley, William Hilton Dr.
1891-1967

William Hilton Pedley was born at New Southgate, England, near London, on February 16, 1891 son of Charles Pedley and Alice Robbins. He came to Canada in 1901 and attained his medical degree as an honour graduate from the University of Toronto in 1921; he was united in marriage to Helen Tennant on October 27, 1923. He was a veteran of both World Wars, serving as a Lance Sergeant with the 187th Battalion in W.W.1 Dr. Pedley practised in Admiral, Saskatchewan, Stirling, Ontario, the Niagara Peninsula and for the Department of Veterans Affairs in Ottawa before retiring to Brantford in 1957. Dr. William Hilton Pedley died at Brantford on November 1, 1967 aged 76 years 8 months and 15 days.

Pember, Francis Reginald
Dr.
1902-1994

Francis Reginald Pember was born at the town of St. Neots, England on April 29, 1902 the son of Francis Pember and Margaret Townsend. He studied medicine at the University of Toronto with the class of 1926; he was united in marriage to Marion Chapin. Dr. Pember established himself at Colborne, Ontario and carried on a family practice, delivering babies, making calls by horseback or cutter and collecting fees "in kind" when the Depression hit the townsfolk hard. During World War 11 he served in the Canadian Army as assistant director of Canadian Medical Services in England for 5½ years and rose to the rank of Major. Dr. Francis Reginald Pember died at Colborne on June 2, 1994 aged 92 years 1 month and 3 days.

Percy, Peter P. Dr.
-1882

Peter P. Percy was born at Napanee; he studied medicine with Dr. Moore of Picton and attended classes at McGill College. He commenced the practice of his profession at Brighton, where he remained until 1853, when ill health compelled his retirement. In 1863, he resumed practice at Delta from where he moved to Lansdowne in 1865. Dr. Percy died of consumption on June 30, 1882, aged 59 years 16 days.

Perry, Egerton Ryerson
Van Norman Dr.
1827-1863

Egerton Ryerson Van Norman Perry was born on Sept 12, 1827 at Cobourg, Ontario son of Senator Ebenezer Perry and Minerva Van Norman. He was united in marriage on July 26, 1849 to Annabella Phelps at Brooklyn, N.Y. Dr. Perry established himself at Peterborough, Ontario however left his wife and 5 children in 1857 and they never heard from him again. He settled into his new life in Colorado and served as an assistant surgeon with the 1st Regiment of Colorado Cavalry Volunteers. Dr. Egerton Perry died at Camp Collins, Colorado on April 17, 1863 aged 35 years 7 months 7 days.

Perry, William Henry Dr.
1868-1929

William Henry Perry was born at Cobourg, Ontario on February 18, 1868 son of Alpha Perry and Sarah Walker. He was a graduate of the common schools of Ontario and attained his medical training at the Chicago Homeopathic Medical College in 1897. He was united in marriage to Winnifred Hyman and had a license to practice in several states including Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Dr. William Henry Perry died at Cleveland, Ohio on October 31, 1929 aged 61 years 8 months 13 days.

Pettet, Jonathan Dr.
1845-1940

Jonathan Pettet was born on Oct 31, 1845 at Vernonville, Ontario son of Joseph Pettet and Amanda Wait. Educated at the Toronto Grammar School and Victoria College in Cobourg, he was a graduate of the Cleveland Homeopathic Hospital College in 1869 and also served as Apothecary in the U.S. Marine Hospital in Ohio. Dr. Pettet was united in marriage to Emma Guillet on Sept 26, 1871 and, a widower, to Delia Wolke on May 24, 1879. He was a Professor at both the Homeopathic Hospital and Woman's Medical College in Cleveland. Dr. Pettet investigated the cow pox vaccine, compounded a serum and established the National Union Vaccine Company to supply the serum to physicians all across the country. In 1881 he removed to Englewood, Illinois. Dr. Jonathan Pettet died at the home of his daughter in Manville, Wyoming on Sept 24, 1940 aged 94 years 10 months 23 days.

Pettigrew, George
Alexander Dr.
-1913

George Alexander Pettigrew was a native of Asphodel Township, educated locally, and obtained his Medical Degree, graduating from the Medical School at Toronto in 1870. He was one of the earliest doctors at Norwood where he practiced in association with Dr. Ford; he lived in the former residence of Dr. Sutton. Dr. Pettigrew died at Peterborough on March 5, 1913, aged 67 years 2 months 6 days.

Philp, Darby Percival Dr.
1897-1954

Darby Percival Philp was born at Colborne, Ontario on August 1, 1897 son of Percy Philp and Adeline Coxall. He served overseas with the Canadian Field Artillery and was wounded and gassed at Passchendaele in 1917. On his return to Canada he studied medicine at the University of Toronto, graduating in 1923. He took post graduate study in England and was united in marriage to Ella McQuillan. Dr. Philp practised in York Township, served on the staff of Christie Street Hospital and served as chairman of the York Township board of education. Dr. Darby Percival Philp died at Toronto on July 21, 1954 aged 56 years 11 months 20 days.

Philp, John Dr.
1838-1924

John Philp was born on Nov 24, 1838 at Cobourg, Ontario son of Rev Samuel Philp and Elizabeth Collins. He was educated at Cobourg's Victoria College and received his medical degree from that Institution in 1860. He soon established himself at Listowel, Ontario and was united in marriage to Mary Dain on May 23, 1861. During the American Civil War he took post graduate training at Bellevue Hospital Medical College in N.Y. and in 1875 became a Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh. During his visit to hospitals in Scotland and England, Dr. Philp greatly enlarged his store of knowledge in medical science and collateral branches. He served as Perth County Coroner and maintained a front rank practice. Dr. John Philp died at Listowel on May 4, 1924 aged 85 years 5 months 10 days.

Philp, Thomas Shannon
Dr.
-1945

Following graduation from the University of Toronto in 1887, Dr. Philp practiced at Consecon for seven years. He then went to England for post-graduate study, and on his return in 1895, he located in Picton. In 1937 on the occasion of his golden anniversary as a Medical Practitioner, he was honoured by his peers with the presentation of a gold-headed cane. In 1943, he completed 50 years as a member of the British Medical Association and was made an honorary life member of the Association. He helped plan the present Prince Edward County Hospital and was a generous supporter. When the Picton Gazette Publishing Company was organized, Dr. Philp was one of the shareholders for some years; he donated some property near his home to the town to be used as part of a proposed community centre. Dr. Philp was completing his 58th year in the medical profession when he died of a heart attack on November 23, 1945, aged 86 years 1 month.

Philp, Walter George Dr.
1894-1923

Walter George Philp was born at Colborne, Ontario on October 31, 1894 and was the older brother of Darby. He was a graduate of Parkdale Collegiate Institute, enlisted with the 25th Battery, Canadian Field Artillery and served overseas where he was wounded at Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917. He was invalided home and entered into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto with the class of 1923 in spite of his war disabilities. Walter George Philp was set to graduate, his name was included in the graduating class year book, but he became very ill with nephritis and died on February 7, 1923 aged 28 years 3 months 6 days.

Philp, William Dr.
-1932

William Philp was born in Cobourg and graduated in medicine from Victoria College in 1863. He first practiced in Durham, then Waterdown, and, finally, in Hamilton where he remained for the duration. In May 1931, he was awarded an honorary life membership in the Ontario Medical Association and later that year, he received, from Victoria University, the silver medal and diploma he won for obtaining the highest honours in his class when he graduated in 1863. The college was not able to afford the medal that year and, through an oversight, Dr. Philp did not receive it until 67 years later. Dr. Philp was the oldest medical practitioner in Ontario when he died on February 9, 1932, aged 94 years 10 months 24 days.

Pixley, George Stanley Dr.
1894-1979

George Stanley Pixley was born at Sydenham, Ontario on March 25, 1894 son of Edmund Pixley and Emma Quail. He was a Veteran of World War 1 which interrupted his medical training but he returned to Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1923. He took post graduate study at Ogdensburg State Hospital and at the New York University School of Medicine. Dr. Pixley established himself at Canastota, New York in 1927 and in November of that year married Phyllis Bradshaw. He served as president and treasurer of the Madison County Medical Society, two terms on the board of education and served as officer of health for nearly two decades. Dr. George Stanley Pixley was in active practice for half a century and died at the Oneida City Hospital on July 26, 1979 aged 85 years 4 months and 1 day.

Platt, Alfred T. Dr.
1861-1900

Alfred T. Platt was born at Picton in 1861, son of Gilbert Dorland Platt and Harriett Williams. His father was a cousin to Dr. John Milton Platt and both of these men started their career in the teaching profession, Gilbert serving as Inspector of the public schools in Prince Edward County. Alfred T. Platt spent some time teaching, before taking up his medical studies at McGill College. He was M.D., C.M., or Doctor of Medicine, Master of Surgery and took postgraduate work in Liverpool, England and Londonderry, Ireland. He remained a bachelor. Dr. Alfred T. Platt died of tuberculosis on September 7, 1900, aged 39.

Platt, Edward Orren Dr.
1872-1944

Edward Orren Platt was born in England on March 5, 1870 son of Alfred and Rebecca Platt. He came to Canada at an early age with his parents and lived at Plainfield; he married Edna Garrison on July 18, 1894. After teaching for some years, he enrolled at Queen's University where he obtained his Arts Degree and completed his first year in Medicine. He was a graduate from the Medical School of the University of Toronto in 1907, and took post-graduate studies in New York City. Dr. Platt practiced his profession in Belleville for 15 years; in 1913 he went to the old country accompanied by his wife, and spent time in medical studies at the hospitals there. In Belleville, he served on city council and was twice elected Mayor serving terms in 1918 and 1919. Dr. Platt moved to Toronto where he practiced for many years and also served as the Physician at the Sanatorium at Clifton Springs, New York for 2 years. Dr. E. O. Platt lived the retired life in Belleville after 1937 and died there on May 31, 1944, aged 73 years, 6 months and 26 days.

Platt, Garfield Arthur Dr.
1881-1962

Garfield Arthur Platt was born at Picton, Ontario on August 26, 1881, son of Dr. John Platt and Hilda Branscombe. He attended Queen's University and graduated from the Medical School in 1912, 43 years after his father graduated. He was a veteran of World War I, served in Egypt and France with the Royal Canadian Medical Corps and attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Dr. Platt was united in marriage to Mary Rowley Pauline Vipond, a Queen's Graduate as well, on April 19, 1927. He was employed as a Staff Physician at the Kingston Penitentiary where his father had previously been the Warden. Dr. Garfield Arthur Platt died on July 20, 1962, aged 80 years, 10 months and 24 days

Platt, John Milton Dr.
-1919

John Milton Platt was born in the Township of Athol. He attended the Fort Edward Institute, New York, the Toronto Normal School and graduated from the Victoria College School on Medicine in 1869. He was interested in education and was a Public School Inspector for a period of ten years. He graduated from the Military School at Toronto in 1866, and, in 1875, was appointed Surgeon to the 16th Battalion. He was, also, interested in journalism and was the first editor and publisher of the Picton New Nation, which afterwards merged into the Times. He was elected Member of Parliament for Prince Edward County from 1882-1891. In 1899, he was appointed as Warden of the Kingston Penitentiary, a post he held for over 15 years. Dr. Platt died in his native county on September 27, 1919, aged 79 years 5 months 9 days.

Plews, Thomas Vincent
Dr.

Thomas Vincent Plews was born at Cobourg, Ontario on November 13, 1887, son of Harold Hagerman Plews and Lillie Morrow. He graduated from Queen's College of Medicine in 1916, was a veteran of World War I, and was awarded the French Croix de Guerre for Bravery Under Fire when he remained at the front line field post attending the wounded, under heavy fire. Dr. Plews established himself at Petersburg, Menard County, Illinois. He served as a member of the Board of Education, President of the County Tuberculosis and Medical Associations and County Coroner. Dr. Plews was united in marriage to Margaret Luella Campbell on December 27, 1922 and on April 27, 1940 to Matilda Johnson. Dr. Thomas Vincent Plews died on April 6, 1962, aged 74 years, 4 months and 23 days.

1887-1962

Pomeroy, John Reynolds
Dr.
1853-1904

John Reynolds Pomeroy was born at Newburgh, Ontario in July 1853 son of Rev. Daniel Pomeroy and Jane Aylesworth; of the four sons of the Reverend, two were Methodist Ministers and two were physicians. J. Reynolds Pomeroy attended the various schools where his father served across southern Ontario and graduated in medicine from Trinity University in 1878. He hung his shingle at Dresden, Ontario, was united in marriage to Gertrude Burdette in 1889 and immigrated to the United States in 1890. Dr. John Reynolds Pomeroy followed the practice of his profession at St. Louis, Missouri; in the end he suffered a mastoid abscess with septicaemia, death occurring on Dec 30, 1904 aged 51 years 5 months.

Pomeroy, Luke Ernest
McLellan Dr.
-1938

Luke Ernest McLellan Pomeroy was born in Tweed. He took his Bachelor of Arts in 1883 at Buffalo and was a graduate of McGill University Medical School in 1886. He practiced for a time in Tweed, but relocated in Buffalo. Dr. Pomeroy died in Corfu, Genesee County, New York on September 27, 1938, aged 78.

Pomeroy, Timotheus
Ebenezer Dr.
-1896

Timotheus Ebenezer Pomeroy was born in Camden Township, Addington County, and was the first doctor to practice in Tweed; he located there in 1854. He was appointed Surgeon to the 4th Battalion of Hastings Militia in 1857. He enlisted in the United States Army in order to advance his surgical skill and was present at many of the major battles during the Civil War. He was a gold medallist and graduated from several schools including Matriculate Ecole de Medicine de Quebec, Castleton Medical College, Vermont in 1860, and University of Philadelphia in 1868. He was County Coroner for 22 years and operated a drug store in his "Pomeroy Hall" at the corner of Store and Spring Streets. In 1890, he divided his farm into lots and part of his land became the site for the S. H. Connor School. Pomeroy and McLellan Avenue are named for him and his wife. Dr. Pomeroy died in Tweed on January 5, 1896, aged 70.

Ponton, Mungo Dr.
-1849

Mungo Ponton was a native of Inverness, Scotland. He served as Surgeon to the Cameron Highlanders in the Irish Rebellion of 1798. In 1831, as a retired Scottish officer, he was awarded a military land grant of 800 acres in Seymour Township, near Campbellford. Dr. Ponton died at Belleville on March 16, 1849, aged 92.

Poole, Thomas Wesley
Dr.
1831-1905

Thomas Wesley Poole was born on Nov 7, 1831 at Carleton Place, Ontario son of William Poole and Martha Condle. He started his professional career as a teacher following which he attended the Rolfe Medical School in Toronto graduating in 1856; he was united in marriage in 1858 to Elizabeth Wilson. Dr. Poole entered into the practice of his chosen profession in Norwood where he lived about 8 years before removing to Peterborough. Here he became the editor of the Weekly Review and was author of A Sketch of the Early Settlement and Subsequent Progress of the Town of Peterborough. In 1868 he located at Lindsay, wrote many scholarly articles on medical subjects and served as Mayor in 1876 and 1877. Dr. Thomas Wesley Poole died at Lindsay on Aug 28, 1905 aged 73 years 9 months 21 days.

Poole, William Henry Dr.
1858-1924

William Henry Poole was born at Cobourg, Ontario on June 23, 1858 son of Reverend William Poole and Mary Ann Delong. He was schooled wherever his father's work took the family throughout southern Ontario and obtained his medical teaching at the Detroit Medical College in 1880. He wed Edith May Norton in 1882 and practiced at Detroit and Birmingham, Michigan. Dr. Poole removed to Ocala, Marion County, Florida at the end and died there on December 10, 1924 aged 66 years 5 months 17 days.

Pope, Edgerton Llewellyn
Dr.
1874-1949

Edgerton Llewellyn Pope was born in Belleville on August 17, 1874, son of George Pope and Clarissa Jane McMullen. He graduated from Queen's in 1895 with an Arts Degree and took his medical training at McGill, graduating in 1900. Following a period of postgraduate work in England, he became associated with the Winnipeg General Hospital and the Medical School there in 1907. He married Margaret Elizabeth McBride in 1916. He served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in World War I from 1916 to 1919 and was discharged with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. He was an Internist at Winnipeg from 1907 to 1923 and then became Professor of Medicine and Director of Medical Services at the University of Alberta, until his retirement in 1944. He was, then, appointed as Director of Cancer Diagnostic Clinics for the province of Alberta. Dr. E. L. Pope died at Edmonton on November 23, 1949, aged 75 years, 3 months and 6 days.

Post, Burton O. Dr.
1864-1933

Burton O. Post was the youngest of the three medical brothers, sons of Charles Post and Abigail Beech. He was born at Picton, Ontario on March 20, 1864. He attended the Medical College at Indiana, Indianapolis and graduated in 1882. He established himself at Sulphur Springs, Indiana where he followed the practice of his profession for the duration. There was no telephone service when he hung his shingle, but he arranged for the line to be extended to his office from Cadiz and he became the company's first stockholder in June 1903. He was prominent in community affairs and served as President of the Peoples Bank of Sulphur Springs. Dr. Burton O. Post died on September 1, 1933, aged 69 years, 5 months, 11 days.

Post, George Hazleton,
Dr.
1847-1921

George Hazleton Post was the eldest of the brothers, born on February 23, 1847; he studied his medical courses at the Eclectic Medical College of Cincinnati where he graduated in 1875. He established himself at Fithian, Illinois where, besides owning the drug store and operating a medical practice, he farmed three one hundred and sixty acre tracts. He had an office in the drug store and was physician to a huge number of rural clients in the surrounding countryside. Dr. George Hazleton Post died on March 10, 1921 aged 74 years 17 days.

Post, James Russell Dr.
1849-1909

James Russell Post was the middle brother, born on November 4, 1849. He was brought up on his father's farm and educated in the local schools, later attending the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, Philadelphia, from which he graduated in 1871. For a short time he pursued his medical studies in the office of Dr. Nash of Picton and then located in Florence, Oneida County, New York, where he practiced for thirteen years. In 1884, he went to Rome, New York, and worked there for twenty five years; he served as Physician at the Rome jail. His first wife was Josephine Davis of Florence and on December 25, 1906 at Kingston, Ontario he wed Blanche McLeod; he had no children. Dr. James Russell Post died on December 22, 1909, aged 60 years, 1 month, 18 days.

Potter, Richard Thomas
Dr.
1915-2009

Richard Thomas Potter was born at Belleville, Ontario on January 20, 1915 son of Francis Potter and Rosa George. He was educated locally and attended Queen's University from which institution he graduated in medicine in 1939; he was united in marriage to Enid Weaver on April 20, 1940. Dr. Potter enlisted as a medic in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and used his experience and expertise to treat soldiers injured in battle; he held the rank of Lieutenant Colonel at discharge. He returned to family practice in Belleville and in 1950 entered municipal politics, was elected as alderman and then in 1951, Mayor. Dr. Potter was elected as member of provincial Parliament in 1967 and served as minister of health and also of the correctional services. He represented the Quinte riding for 8 years following which he was appointed as regional coroner. Dr. Richard Thomas Potter died in Oakville on February 16, 2009 aged 94 years 26 days.

Potts, Charles B. Dr.
-1863

Charles B. Potts was practicing medicine in Shannonville and Tyendinaga before he removed to Tweed, to continue the work of his profession. Dr. Potts had been to Stoco on December 15, 1863, when he took to the ice on his way home. He fell and was partially stunned; his calls for help were heard by several people, but they thought it arose from boys skating. Dr. Potts was found on Stoco Lake on December 16, 1863, dying of exposure, aged 27.

Potts, George Jerald Dr.
-1915

George Jerald Potts was born in Ireland and settled in the Belleville area in 1847. As a young man he joined the Canadian Militia and later saw considerable active service with the British Imperial Forces. He was Surgeon to the British Consulate in Siam when the Indian Mutiny began; he was ordered to India where he served until the close of the troubles there. Then he went to China with the Anglo-French expedition and witnessed stirring scenes in that campaign. Having resigned from the British services, he joined the United States federal forces and served through the Civil War with the rank of Surgeon Major. Dr. Potts practiced in Picton, in Belleville from 1867-1879 and in Toronto. Here he was editor of the Toronto Daily Leader the organ of the Conservative Party in Ontario, at the time of the Sandfield MacDonald Ministry. Dr. Potts removed to Clinton, Ontario where he died on April 22, 1915, aged 79 years 11 months 8 days.

Potts, James
McCumming Dr.
-1931

James Potts was born in Stirling and took his early education in the Belleville Public Schools and Trinity College, Toronto. He graduated from McGill Medical College in 1888 at the age of nineteen, but was unable to secure a degree for practice until 21. He practiced for six years in Chicago and later in the Peace River Country. He practiced his profession for the next 29 years in Stirling. He was Medical Officer of Health for Stirling and Rawdon Township. He was active in community affairs and for years served as a member of the Board of Education. Dr. Potts died of heart disease on November 13, 1931, aged 62 years 11 months.

Powell, Newton Albert Dr.
-1935

Newton Albert Powell was born at Cobourg and, at the age of 16, left to participate in the suppression of the Fenian Raid. Later, he was Instructor in the Cobourg Battery, and, still later, in Kingston. He studied medicine at Victoria College, Cobourg, at Trinity Medical College, Toronto and at Bellevue Hospital in New York. He held the degrees of Medicinæ Baccalaureus (Bachelor of Medicine 1875), Medical Doctor (University of New York, 1875), and Medicinæ Doctorae, Chirurgiæ Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery)

(Trinity, 1888). He first practiced medicine at Edgar, Ontario and removed to Toronto in 1886. He was the first curator of the newly established medical library in Toronto, which became the Academy of Medicine and he maintained a life long interest in this institution. He was a Life-Fellow of the Academy, an Assistant Professor of Surgery at the University of Toronto, and was widely-known for his philanthropic activities. He was instrumental in the establishment of the Muskoka Cottage Sanitarium and the Shield's Emergency Wing of the Toronto General Hospital. He was a member of the Board of the Victorian Order of Nurses and a member of St. David's Society. Dr. Powell died in Toronto on April 7, 1935, aged 85 years 2 months 6 days.

Powell, Newton William
Dr.
1827-1890

Newton William Powell was born at Cobourg in 1827, his father having left Johnston, New York in 1821 and settled in Cobourg. He attended Victoria College, previously known as the Upper Canada Academy, the name change occurring in 1841. He studied his medical courses at McGill College where he graduated in 1852; and was a Licentiate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Lower Canada in 1852. He established himself at Cobourg where he served as Physician to the city jail in 1853 and 1856; he was Inspector of the Public Schools for thirteen years, served as Secretary of the Board of Education for 32 years, and was Director of the church choir. He was united in marriage to Annie Stephens. Dr. Powell was uncle to the previously chronicled Dr. N. A. Powell. Dr. Newton William Powell died on August 15, 1890, aged 63 years 6 months.

Power, James Dr.
-1868

James Power was a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, England, a Licentiate of Apothecary's Hall, Dublin and a Licentiate of the Medical Board of Upper Canada. Dr. Power established himself in the practice of his profession in Belleville in 1860 and continued his life's work until he died on November 11, 1868, aged 60.

Powers, Isadora Sharring
Dr.
1860-1940

Isadora Sharring was born on Sept 14, 1860 at Warkworth, Ontario daughter of John Sharring and Julia Nelson. After her father died in early childhood, the family removed to Sparta, Michigan; she was united in marriage to George Powers on Dec 11, 1879. Isadora attended a private school in Chicago and spent about 10 years in the study of anatomy, physics and physiology prior to entering the Homeopathic Department at the University of Michigan from which she graduated in medicine in 1894; Dr. Powers took post graduate training in Europe, New York and Chicago. Her husband was a Civil War Veteran, deputy sheriff and city detective who was shot and killed by a bandit in 1895. Dr. Powers established herself at Grand Rapids where she gave special attention to nervous diseases, was on staff at the United Benevolent Association Hospital and served as vice president of the Homeopathic Medical Society of Western Michigan. Dr. Isadora Sharring Powers served her community for 4 ½ decades and died at Grand Rapids on Nov 25, 1940 aged 80 years 2 months 11 days.

Powers, Jabez Proctor Dr.
-1886

Jabez Proctor Powers was born in Vermont. He graduated in Arts at Hanover University in 1826 and from Fairfield Medical College in 1828. He appeared before the Medical Board of Upper Canada on April 7, 1831; presented his credentials and was licensed to practice medicine. He settled at Demorestville in 1832 and, in 1846, removed to Colborne. Dr. Powers followed the practice of his profession at Colborne where he died on May 1, 1886, aged 82 years 2 months 14 days.

Pratt, Clarence Victor Dr.
1888-1943

Clarence Victor Pratt was born at Cobourg, Ontario on January 26, 1888 son of Jack Pratt and Elizabeth Henwood. He received his early education in his native town and graduated from the Ontario College of Pharmacy in 1911 and from the University of Toronto medical school in 1918. He was united in marriage on January 1, 1919 to Ethel Pearl Cinnamon. Dr. Pratt spent a brief time in Gatineau, Quebec before he established himself at Toronto, where he remained for the duration. He was a member of the staff of St. Joseph's Hospital since the inception of that institution as well as a member of the Academy of Medicine. Dr. Clarence Victor Pratt died on November 6, 1943 aged 55 years 9 months 10 days

Pratt, John Isaac Dr.
1873-1939

John Isaac Pratt was born at Aberdeen, Scotland on November 12, 1873, came to Canada in 1886 and graduated from the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1895. He practiced first at Cold Springs, Ontario, then went to England and obtained his Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1902. He spent a year as Ship's Surgeon on the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's boats between London and the Orient, and began practice in Port Arthur in 1904. He was united in marriage to Clara Isabel Burke in England on October 26, 1909. He was a charter member of the Thunder Bay Medical Society and for a number of years a Councillor of the Ontario Medical Society. He was a veteran of World War I and in 1926 founded the Port Arthur Clinic. Dr. John Isaac Pratt died on May 3, 1939, aged 65 years, 5 months, 21 days.

Pratt, Wallace Alexander Dr.
1883-1976

Wallace Alexander Pratt was born at Cobourg on September 28 1883, son of Alexander Pratt and Maria Ball. He received his medical training from the University of Toronto in 1908, and established himself at Washington in 1909 as Surgeon with the Milwaukee Railroad in Othello. The following year, he moved to Walla Walla, where he practiced as a Physician and Surgeon until his retirement in 1955. Dr. Pratt married Norma Whitelaw. He was a member of the American Medical Association, the Walla Walla Medical Association, served as the President of the Walla Walla School Board for 5 years and was a member of the Bonneville Advisory Council. Dr. W. A. Pratt died at Milwaukee, Oregon, on February 27, 1976, aged 92 years, 4 months and 29 days.

Preston, Harold Ewing Dr.
1891-1980

Harold Ewing Preston was born at Roslin, Ontario on August 3, 1891 son of Thomas Preston and Mary Ewing. He was a Veteran of World War 1 and resumed his medical studies after the War, graduating from Queen's University in 1920; he was united in marriage to Frances Montgomery on November 20, 1918. Dr. Preston served with the Department of Soldier's Civil Re-establishment, then had an office in London, Ontario and in 1923 did post graduate work in Toronto and New York City. He established himself at Brockville in 1925, served as president and secretary of the medical staff, served as chief of surgery and the obstetrical departments and lectured to the students at the school of nursing. Dr. Preston served as a medical officer in World War 11 as an instructor at the Officers' Training Centre in Brockville retiring to the Reserve with the rank of Major. He became a certified specialist in obstetrics and gynaecology in 1947, was county coroner for 23 years and served on city council. Dr. Harold Ewing Preston died at Brockville on February 5, 1980 aged 88 years 6 months and 2 days.

Preston, Henry Frederick Dr.
1888-1943

Henry Frederick Preston was born at Napanee, Ontario on June 16, 1888, son of David Hiram Preston and Janet Jarvis Templeton. He received his early education in local schools and graduated in Medicine in 1914 from Queen's University. After the outbreak of the War, he went overseas with the 29th Battalion and serve in the front lines in France; he was mentioned in dispatches and won the Military Cross following the Battle of Passchendaele, when he was one of two out of twenty officers to survive. After the War, Captain Preston practised in Toronto until 1931, when he was appointed to the Department of Pensions and National Health. He resumed private practice in 1939 and served as Coroner for York County. Dr. Henry Frederick Preston died on June 24, 1943, aged 55 years and 8 days.

Price, Norman Wellington Dr.
1868-1951

Norman Wellington Price was born at Newburgh, Ontario on October 15, 1868 son of Andrew Price and Adelaide DeMille. He attended the University of Michigan before graduating in Medicine in 1896 from the University of Toronto. In that same year he was licensed to practice in New York State and he set up outside Syracuse for a short time before moving to Niagara Falls, New York. Dr. Price married Ida Maude Foster on June 5, 1900. He specialized in eye, ear, nose and throat ailments and followed the practice of his profession for over 50 years. Dr. Price was an avid horticulturalist and was instrumental in bringing about the Niagara Rapids Boulevard and an organizer of the Garden Club. Dr. Norman Wellington Price died at Niagara Falls on April 18, 1951 aged 82 years 6 months 3 days.

Price, Robinson Britton
Dr.
-1907

Robinson Price was a native of Bath, Ontario and a graduate of Queen's University in 1866. He followed the practice of his profession at Bath, Kingston and Lonsdale before living the retired life at Kingston. Dr. Robinson died of pneumonia while on a trip to Chicago on January 2, 1907, aged 70 years 9 months 3 days.

Pringle, George Wesley
Dr.
1876-1950

George Wesley Pringle was born at Madoc, Ontario, son of Joseph Pringle and Emily Margaret Abbott. He attained his Arts degree from Queen's University and for several years was a teacher on the staff of public schools in Saskatchewan and Ontario, and served as Principal at Burk's Falls, Ontario. He returned to attend the Medical School at Queen's with the Class of 1911; he established himself in his life's work at Toronto where he carried on his practice, was an Examining Physician for the London Life Insurance Company and the Toronto Transit Commission. Dr. George Wesley Pringle died on September 1, 1950, aged 73 years, 11 months and 1 day.

Pringle, James Dr.
1799-1882

James Pringle was born at Berwick-on-Tweed, Scotland on September 6, 1799. He was a qualified physician and surgeon and between January 1, 1821 and December 1829 served with the Honourable East India Company before removing and settling at Cobourg, Ontario in 1832. He wed Eliza Buck on July 20, 1834. In Cobourg he carried on the business of druggist and apothecary. Dr. James Pringle died at Cobourg on January 17, 1882 aged 82 years 4 months 11 days.

Proctor, Arthur Douglas
Dr.
1880-1931

Arthur Douglas Proctor was born at New Edinburgh, Carleton County on July 13, 1880, son of Josiah Waldron Proctor and Sarah Emma White. He was a graduate of the Medical School of the University of Toronto in 1903. He married Flora Castellanos. Soon after graduation, he filled a post in Venezuela where he remained 1 year. Dr. Proctor was a figure in the social, medical, military and church life of Belleville; he served as a Practitioner in the city for many years and was an active yachtsman and a member of the Bay of Quinte Club. During World War I, he attained the rank of Captain and was in charge of the Freeport Sanatorium in Kitchener, where veterans were treated for lung conditions. He was active in municipal affairs; served on city council in 1926-27 and held other civic positions. Dr. A. D. Proctor died at Belleville on March 15, 1931, aged 50 years, 8 months and 2 days.

Pruyn, Abraham Van Vleck Dr.
-1856

Abraham Van Vleck Pruyn was born in Kinderhook, New York. He received his education at the town academy and his New York License to practice physic and surgery on September 6, 1829. He practiced for a while at Oswego, before settling at Hallowell, Prince Edward County in 1831. He appeared before the Medical Board of Upper Canada on May 20, 1831 and was a successful candidate and practiced for the duration. Dr. Van Vleck Pruyn died on July 11, 1856, aged 48 years 5 months 19 days.

Publow, Charles Albert
Dr.
1882-1972

Charles Albert Publow was born at Perth on July 24, 1882, son of George Publow and Elizabeth McLean. He graduated from the Kingston School of Mining and Agriculture, having previously been employed as a cheese maker for several years. In 1902, he worked as a Dairy Instructor and Milk Inspector at Prince Edward County and, each winter, attended classes at Queen's to earn his Medical Degree in 1906. He accepted a position as Associate Professor at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, where he remained for 3 years, wrote several books related to the science and practice of the cheese industry and returned to Picton in 1910. He married Muriel Barker on April 29, 1908. He retained his interest in the dairy industry and purchased the Cherry Valley and Cressy Cheese Factories. When war was declared in 1914, he became Medical Officer of the 155th Battalion and followed it overseas; he was a Surgeon at No. 9 Stationary Hospital and served with the hospital at Yarrow. He was on the medical board screening enlistments at the Picton Armouries Recruiting Depot during World War II. Dr. C. A. Publow died on March 1, 1972, aged 89 years, 7 months and 7 days.

Pugh, Frederick Dr.
1820-1879

Frederick Pugh was born in London, England in 1820, son of John Pugh. He was educated locally and attained his Medical Degree in 1844. He was soon to immigrate to Canada and was married at St. Phillip's Church, Weston, Ontario, to Britannia Jane Phillips on November 22, 1848; she was the daughter of Reverend Thomas Phillips, Doctor of Divinity, Rector at Etobicoke. He followed the practice of his profession in Cramahe Township and later in Cobourg where he remained for the duration. Dr. Frederick Pugh died at Cobourg on August 28, 1879, aged 59 years.

Purdy, Charles Wesley Dr.
-1901

Charles Wesley Purdy was born at Collins Bay. He received his Bachelor of Arts from Victoria College and his medical degree from Queen's University in 1869. He practiced for a while in the village of Hastings and went to Chicago in 1871. During the next 30 years, he devoted himself to the study of diseases of the kidney and his researches gained him the recognition as a leading authority on the subject. The degree of Doctor of Laws and a Fellowship were conferred on him by his alma mater in recognition of his scientific work. Dr. Purdy died in Chicago on January 21, 1901, aged 54 years 6 months.

Quackenbush, Allen Caver
Dr.
1861-1944

Allen Caver Quackenbush was born at the farmhouse on Nov 1, 1861 at Warkworth son of Israel Quackenbush and Susan Gerow. He started his professional career as a teacher, was united in marriage on Jan 6, 1886 to Jane Brown, entered into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated in 1892. Dr. Quackenbush followed the practice of his profession at Blenheim Morpeth and Exeter, Ontario and about 1916 removed to Hearst where he served the community and mining camps in Northern Ontario for the next 20 years. Dr. Allen Caver Quackenbush died at Morpeth, Ontario on July 19, 1944 aged 82 years 8 months 18 days.

Quackenbush, Arnley Dr.
1862-1920

Arnley Quackenbush was born at Mountain View, Ontario on October 23, 1862, son of William Quackenbush and Melissa Doolittle. He studied his Medical Courses at the Hahnemann Homeopathic College in Philadelphia and graduated with the Class of 1890. He wed Catherine Garrett on April 17, 1889. Dr. Quackenbush practiced at Buffalo, New York, Ameliasburgh and Belleville, Ontario, but on July 1, 1898 established himself at Ottawa, where he became a well known Homeopathic Physician and Diagnostician. He was a life member of the Masonic Lodge and member of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends. His chief diversions were hunting and fishing. Dr. Arnley Quackenbush drowned as the result of a canoe accident near Little Chaudiere on the French River about forty miles from North Bay, Ontario, on August 16, 1920, aged 57 years, 9 months, 23 days.

Quinn, Charles Dr.
1902-1981

Charles Quinn was born at Tweed, Ontario on July 24, 1902 son of James Quinn and Kate Collins. He studied medicine at Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1927; he was united in marriage to Ellen May on August 29, 1930. Dr. Quinn established himself in Phoenicia, New York where he remained in practice for the best part of half a century. He served as medical officer of health, was president of the Rotary Club, a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Phoenicia Realty Corporation. Dr. Charles Quinn died at Phoenicia on January 13, 1981 aged 78 years 5 months and 19 days.

Quinn, James Stafford Dr.
1886-1926

James Stafford Quinn was born at Tweed on April 6, 1886, son of James Quinn and Bridget Kinlin. He was educated at Tweed Separate School, Regiopolis College and Queen's University, where he attained his Medical Degree in 1909; he married Mae McIlroy on November 29, 1907. Dr. Quinn established himself at Preston, Ontario, in 1911 and remained there for the duration. He initially had his office in the Kleinstauber Block on King Street; however, in 1916, he purchased the home of the late Joseph Roth and carried on his professional duties from a home office. Dr. J. S. Quinn died on May 22, 1926, aged 40 years, 1 month and 16 days.

Quinn Harry John Dr.
1891-1937

Harry John Quinn was born at Colborne, Ontario on May 2, 1891 son of William Quinn and Mary Lynn. He was a Veteran of World War 1 and served overseas with the Imperial Navy Medical Officers, returned home and resumed his studies in medicine at the University of Toronto graduating with the class of 1920; he was united in marriage with Mary Rothwell on June 21, 1922. He soon established himself at Lynden, Ontario but removed to Mount Pleasant where he remained for the duration. Dr. Harry John Quinn died at Mount Pleasant on March 25, 1937 aged 45 years 10 months and 23 days.

Rankin, John Edward Dr.
-1878

John Edward Rankin was a native of Ireland where, presumably, he received his medical training. On his arrival in this country, he became a Licentiate of Lower Canada in 1828, and on removing to Ottawa, became an Upper Canada Licentiate on August 4, 1829. In 1845, he received the Royal College of Surgeons Degree, Edinburgh, St. Andrew's University. He was in the British Army services during the Crimean War. About 1854, Dr. Rankin removed to Picton where he followed the practice of his profession until his death on August 5, 1878, aged 79 years 11 months 28 days.

Ratz, John Henry Dr.
-1918

John Henry Ratz was born at Elmira, Ontario and, after attending the Galt High School, he entered the University of Toronto, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1892, and his medical degree three years later. He practiced in New Dundee, Elmira, and Trenton. In January 1915, he gave up his practice to join the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He was appointed Medical Officer of the 34th Infantry Battalion with which he served overseas for a year. He was then appointed to duty at Shorncliffe and West Sandling camps, and subsequently served on the Canadian Pension Board at Bath, England. On his return to Canada, he was attached to the Pension Board at Ottawa as Assistant Medical Advisor. Major Dr. Ratz died at Ottawa on February 11, 1918, aged 48 years 5 months 4 days.

Raynor, Melbourne Dr.
1879-1925

Melbourne Raynor was born in Rose Hall, Hillier, on November 11, 1879, son of George Raynor and Edna Garrett. He was educated at the Picton High School, then at Guelph, graduating in Science and Agriculture and receiving his Medical Degree from the University of Illinois in 1905. He married Leona Humphreys on June 21, 1906. He began practice in British Columbia as a Medical Missionary at Bella Bella and Clayoquot and then after 4 years there, became House

Surgeon at St. Joseph's Hospital in Victoria. He was greatly interested in public health work and was Chairman of the Health Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, President of the Victoria Anti-Narcotic League, a member of the National Council of the Young Men's Christian Association, and one of the founders of the Victoria West Brotherhood. He was a veteran of W.W. I, attaining the rank of Captain. Dr. M. Raynor died as the result of burns suffered from an explosion of a motorcar on November 28, 1925, aged 46 years, and 17 days.

Redden, Herbert Oswald
Dr.
1879-1926

Herbert Oswald Redden was born on the farm in Ernestown Township on March 20, 1879, son of John Abraham Redden and Anne Rayworth. He set about as a teacher in his youth; however, decided to go back to school and received his Medical Degree from Queen's University in 1906, and soon headed west. In 1908, he settled in Outlook, Saskatchewan, where he erected the first building and was the first citizen; he remained there for the duration. Dr. Redden married Marnie Olsen. Dr. Redden's office did not have a telephone, but Joe Chow's restaurant next door had one in a small meeting room in the back; urgent calls had to be relayed. He was well known for rowing a boat across the river when the ice was too thick for the ferry to run. He, also, drove across the rail bridge using special boards to go over the blocks that were supposed to stop vehicles. Dr. H. O. Redden died on May 21, 1926, aged 47 years, 2 months and 1 day.

Redmond, William Carleton Dr.
1875-1949

William Carleton Redmond was born at Bethel, near Picton, on October 1, 1875, son of Joseph Jackson Redmond and Rachel Boyd Gibson. He graduated from Queen's University in Medicine in 1901, and for a short time practiced in Westwood, Ontario, following which he settled at Edmonton, Alberta, in 1903. He married Evelyn Mae Coates on June 24, 1913. Dr. Redmond played an active part in medical and church work in Edmonton and was a member of the board of the Misericordia Hospital; he was a life member of the Masonic Lodge. Dr. Redmond, after 41 years of practice at Edmonton, died on January 3, 1949, aged 73 years, 3 months and 2 days.

Redner, Horace Putnam
Dr.
-1895

Horace Putnam Redner was a native of Belleville. He was educated locally and entered the study of his profession at McGill Medical College from which institution he graduated as a Medical Doctor in 1864. He soon established himself at Shannonville, but, about 1875, he removed to Lonsdale, Tyendinaga Township, where he continued the practice of his profession. Dr. Redner died of cancer of the stomach on July 14, 1895, aged 52 years 5 months.

Reed, Peter W. Dr.
1827-1898

Peter W. Reed was born at Belleville, Ontario on September 21, 1827 son of William Reed and Experience Boyce. Up to the age of 20 his entire time spent at school did not exceed 6 months. Inflammation of the eyes contracted at the age of 9 and continuing for 15 years seriously interfered with study. At the age of 16 he commenced an apprenticeship and after completing his term of service he worked as a journeyman in Canada and the United States. By chance, he bought a medical book at an auction and upon reading it acquired a love of medicine and found a cure for his inflamed eyes. Eventually after much study he went to Indiana near Terre Haute where he formed a medical co-partnership and after two years returned to Canada. Here he circulated a petition to Parliament for the passage of a law recognizing the Eclectic Practice. In 1861 he removed to Port Huron and in 1865 obtained his degree from the Eclectic Medical College of Cincinnati, Ohio. On July 22, 1868 he wed Caroline Strevel. Dr. Peter W. Reed died on May 9, 1898 aged 70 years 7 months 18 days.

Reeve-Newson, Thomas
Archer Dr.

Thomas Archer Reeve-Newson was born at Campbellford, Ontario on December 13, 1902 son of John Reeve-Newson and Rose Rendle. He graduated from the faculty of medicine at the University of Toronto in 1926 and in that year bought the practice of Dr. McCallum in Thornbury, Ontario; he was united in marriage, first to Pauline Goodrow on August 2, 1924 and then to Grace Ardiel on June 18, 1937. His specialty was anaesthesia and he was a member of the staff of the Owen Sound General and Marine Hospital and of the Meaford General Hospital. Dr. Reeve-Newson served as medical officer of health for Thornbury and the Townships of Euphrasia and Osprey. For 40 years he gave faithful service to his patients and to the community. Dr. Thomas Archer Reeve-Newson died at Owen Sound on September 15, 1966 aged 63 years 9 months and 2 days.

Regan, Kenneth Joseph
Dr.
1903-1980

Kenneth Joseph Regan was born at Frankford, Ontario on January 26, 1903 son of Thomas Regan and May McColl. He began his professional career as a school teacher in Northern Ontario having graduated from Peterborough Normal school in 1924. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1932, took post graduate work in surgery at Bellevue Hospital in New York City and served as chief resident in 1934 at Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston. Dr. Regan was united in marriage to Dorothy Barr in 1939. In addition to his practice in Kingston Dr. Regan operated farms at both Inverary and Frankford and for 20 years was a noted cattle breeder in the area. Dr. Kenneth Joseph Regan died at Kingston on July 28, 1980 aged 77 years 6 months 2 days.

Reid, Frederick Leonard
Dr.

Frederick Leonard Reid was born at Kingston, Ontario on September 29, 1892, son of Frederick Reid and Georgina Read. He was educated in Kingston where he graduated in Medicine in 1916. He was united in marriage to Louise Jones and established himself at Trenton ,Ontario where he conducted a general practice for twenty years. Dr. Reid was a veteran of both World Wars with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and from Trenton, he joined the Department of Veterans Affairs as Senior Medical Officer in Kingston where he retired about 1951. Dr. Frederick Leonard Reid died on March 9, 1966, aged 73 years, 5 months and 10 days.

1892-1966

Reid, George Morrison Dr.
1833-1865

George Morrison Reid was born in Elham, Kent County, England on September 28, 1833, son of Henry Reid and Jane Blair. He studied and graduated from an unknown college and followed the practice of medicine at Cobourg, Ontario. He was united in marriage to Katharine Wilmot on February 11, 1858 at Newcastle, Ontario. When the Prince of Wales visited Canada in 1860, the new bride wore her wedding dress to the gala held in his honour at Cobourg. Dr. George Morrison Reid died at Cobourg on January 26, 1865, aged 31 years, 3 months, 28 days.

Reynolds, Thomas Noble
Dr.
1843 -1885

Thomas Noble Reynolds was born at Picton, Ontario on February 2, 1843 son of James Reynolds and Sarah Wilkinson. He received his literary education in Meaford, Owen Sound and Toronto and in 1870 graduated from the Toronto School of Medicine with honours. He commenced practice at Orion, Michigan where he soon became known as one of the leading physicians of the State. In 1875 he retired from Practice and went to Europe where he made an extensive tour through England, Ireland, Scotland, Austria, Prussia, Italy, France and Spain devoting special attention to medical pursuits. In 1877 he returned and settled in Detroit until 1884. He was Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics and of Clinical Medicine in the Detroit Medical College and Physician to St. Mary's Hospital. His health however failed and he was compelled to give up his professional pursuits. While on a trip to San Antonio, Texas, Dr. Reynolds died of a severe haemorrhage from the lungs on March 14, 1885 aged 42 years 1 month 12 days.

Richards, Arnold Rankin
Dr.
1901-

Arnold Rankin Richards was born at Renfrew, Ontario on May 16, 1901 son of Henry Richards and Rachael Rankin. He entered into the study of his life's work at Queen's University from which institution he graduated in medicine in 1923; he was united in marriage first to Marion Fairfull on September 17, 1924. Dr. Rankin followed the practice of his profession at Whitby, in 1928, Pembroke and, in 1931, Cobourg; it was while he was at Cobourg that he served as president of the Canadian Association of Kinsmen Clubs and under his direction this organization planned to expand from coast to coast. Survived by his wife, the former Elizabeth Lawson, Dr. Arnold Rankin Richards died at Pickering, Ontario.

Richards, James Nelson
Dr.
1885-1926

James Nelson Richards was born at Warkworth on December 6, 1885, son of Dr. Nicholas Richards and Margaret McCrea. He was educated at the Warkworth Public School, Warkworth Continuation School, Ripley Collegiate and Upper Canada College; he took his medical training at the University of Toronto, where he graduated in 1909. He spent time in post-graduate work in Boston and Germany and joined his father in practice in Warkworth. He married Clara Jessie Wilson on March 29, 1911. Dr. Richards left his practice when war broke out in 1914; he was commissioned as a Captain of the Medical Corps and served in Britain and France. Dr. J. N. Richards died on June 11, 1926, aged 40 years, 6 months and 5 days.

Richards, Nicholas Dennis
Dr.
-1918

Nicholas Dennis Richards was born at Cramahe, Northumberland County, educated locally and was a graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School in 1877, with honours and the silver medal. His sisters operated a carpet factory at their home near Castleton, which helped finance his education. He joined his father-in-law, Dr. McCrea, in Warkworth and followed the practice of his profession there for 34 years. Dr. Richards then moved to Belleville where he practiced until his death on April 18, 1918, aged 65 years 10 months 25 days.

Richardson, James Henry
Dr.
-1910

James Henry Richardson was born at Presqu'île Point, Northumberland County, and when a child of three removed to Toronto with his father. He first studied medicine in 1841, with Dr. Rolph, in Rochester. He attended the first course of medical lectures given at the old "King's College" and was the first to receive his diploma there. He entered Guy's Hospital, London, England in 1841 and was present at the first demonstration of ether as an anaesthetic. In 1847, he returned home and commenced practice, becoming Professor of Anatomy in 1850 at the University of Toronto, a position, which he held for over 50 years; he was, for the same duration, Surgeon to the Toronto Jail. He was an ardent military enthusiast and was considered one of the best rifle shots in the city; he was Surgeon of the old "Merchants' Company" before that militia organization was merged with the Grenadiers in 1862. Dr. Richardson died at Toronto on January 16, 1910, aged 86 years 3 months.

Richardson, Elmer
Freeman Dr.
1879-1945

Elmer Freeman Richardson was born at the farm at Aurora, Ontario on Oct 31, 1879 son of Charles Richardson and Sarah Coates. He was educated at the local high school and Newmarket Normal, taught school for a few years and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1907. After spending a few years in practice in Alberta and then Parry Sound, Dr Richardson served in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in W.W. 1 with the rank of Captain; he was united in marriage to Irene Lord on Dec 28, 1918. Dr Richardson followed the practice of his profession at Campbellford, Ontario for 9 years then took post graduate training in the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Polyclinic in New York. He then settled in Oshawa, Ontario where he remained for the duration. Dr Elmer Freeman Richardson died on Aug 2, 1945 aged 65 years 9 months 1 day.

Richmond, Clifford Rowlands Dr.
1912-1983

Clifford Rowlands Richmond was born at Hamilton, Ontario on April 3, 1912 son of Richard Richmond and Onia Phillips. He studied medicine at Queen's University and graduated in 1937; he was united in marriage to Marion Lyons on June 24, 1939. Dr. Richmond established himself at Picton where he was on staff of the Memorial Hospital, specialized in geriatrics and served as county coroner; he admitted the first patient, former Mayor Nesbitt McKibbin, to the new Picton Hospital in 1959. Dr. Clifford Rowlands Richmond died at Picton on January 12, 1983 aged 70 years 9 months 9 days.

Riddell, George Dr.
1854-1905

George Riddell was born at Hamilton on April 6 1854, son of Walter Riddell and Mary Renwick. He graduated, attained his Medical Degree and was licensed to practice medicine in Ontario on May 21, 1878. He established himself at Cold Springs, Ontario, where he remained for over a decade. He was wed to Elizabeth Richard on December 31, 1880. Dr. Riddell removed to Crystal City, Manitoba in 1890, and lived there through all the hardships of early pioneer life and became well known throughout the province. He was a member of the Masons, Oddfellows, Sons of Scotland and the Knights of Pythias; he was active in politics, a staunch Liberal. Dr. Riddell died on September 27, 1905, aged 51 years, 5 months, 21 days.

Ridley, Charles Neville Dr.
-1892

Charles Neville Ridley, the eldest son of Dr. G. N. Ridley, was born in Belleville. He attained his credentials about 1850 and immediately established himself in Belleville. He was a physician of rare skill, particularly in the treatment of pulmonary illnesses and diseases of children; he had a remarkable faculty in diagnosis and was called into consultation by his confreres more frequently than any other physician in town. He was for a time Surgeon to the 19th Battalion. Dr. C. N. Ridley died in Belleville on September 13, 1892, aged 66 years 10 months 4 days.

Ridley, George Neville Dr.
-1857

George Neville Ridley was born in Kimbolton, Huntingdonshire, England. He studied at St. Thomas' and St. Guy's Hospitals and received his Royal College of Surgeons Degree, London. After practicing for a short while in St. Alban's, he came to Belleville in 1824, where he intended to farm. He bought a 140-acre farm near Belleville; his grandson later related he paid a dozen silver knives and forks for the land. In 1826, he was appointed Surgeon to the 1st Regiment of the Hastings Militia. He presented his credentials to the Medical Board of Upper Canada, receiving his license on October 30, 1827. In 1836, he was appointed to the Medical Board of Upper Canada by Sir Francis Bond Head and was, thus, an Examiner for all persons who wished to practice medicine. In 1840, he helped form a Board of Education for the District of Victoria. Dr. Ridley was one of the earliest and most esteemed residents of Belleville. He died of complications from diabetes on August 28, 1857, aged 63 years 6 months 6 days.

Ridley, Henry Thomas Dr.
-1896

Henry Thomas Ridley was the next son born to Dr. G. N. Ridley. He graduated from McGill College in 1852 and moved to Hamilton soon thereafter where he remained for the duration. He was the oldest practicing physician in Hamilton at the time of his death. Dr. Ridley went on vacation, the destination the Gulf Coast. He was on board the steamer Bonaventure when he suffered an attack of apoplexy. Dr. Ridley died at Cape North, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia on September 22, 1896, aged 69 years 1 month 1 day.

Riggs, Herbert Wilkinson Dr.
1872-1950

Herbert Wilkinson Riggs was born on June 17, 1872 at Wicklow, Ontario son of Robert Riggs and Ellen Greenwood. He was a graduate in medicine from the Manitoba Medical College in 1898 and took post graduate work in Edinburgh, Baltimore, Germany and Austria. Dr. Riggs established himself at Vancouver and was united in marriage to Anna Carss on Dec 25, 1902. Dr. Riggs is credited with bringing the first X-ray machine to British Columbia, served as president of the North Pacific Surgical Association and founded the AOTS (As One That Serves) Clubs, a men's service club affiliated with the United Church of Canada. Dr. Herbert Wilkinson Riggs died at Vancouver on June 4, 1950 aged 77 years 11 months 17 days.

Riggs, Lester David Dr.
1880-1963

Lester David Riggs was born at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin on Aug 11, 1880 son of William Riggs and Mary Nelson. He removed to Belleville, Ontario when an infant and received his primary education there; while in Belleville, he was a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union Band of Hope, played and excelled at a number of musical instruments. He attended medical classes at the University of Toronto for 3 years and completed his medical training at the University Medical College in Kansas City in 1904. Dr Riggs served as physician to the Hopi Indians on the Arizona Hopi Reservation and to the Truxton Canyon Indian School. He was married in 1912 to Bertha VanKirk and in 1918 was commissioned 1st Lieutenant of the U.S.

Medical Corps at Camp Kearney, Ca. Dr Riggs was elected a Fellow of the American College of Physicians in 1929 and was a Diplomat of the American Board of Internal Medicine. An Employee of the Veterans Administration in Fort Lyon, Colorado, Dr Riggs attended victims of Tuberculosis; he became totally disabled in 1931 and was a patient of the V.A. Hospital since 1941. Dr Lester David Riggs died on July 7, 1963 aged 82 years 10 months 26 days.

Roberts, Kenneth Alexander Dr.

Kenneth Alexander Roberts was born at Actinolite, Ontario on December 30, 1909 son of Joseph Roberts and Emma Kells. He received his medical degree from Queen's University in 1932 where he was the gold medalist of his class; he was united in marriage to Dorothy Kelley on September 28, 1935. Dr. Roberts was engaged in the practice of medicine at Toronto and was also active in mining; he was president of Dupel Mines and of Elder Mines in Noranda, Quebec. Later, he diversified its holdings into the broad field of investment, land development, housing and apartment construction, shopping centre development and the fast food industry. Dr. Kenneth Alexander Roberts died at Toronto on January 30, 1999 aged 89 years 1 month.

Robertson, Alexander
Carmichael Dr.
1869-1919

Alexander Carmichael Robertson was born at Madoc, Ontario on August 25, 1869, son of John Robertson and Sarah Dunn. He studied his medical courses at Queen's University and graduated with the Class of 1893. In the spring of 1907, he removed to Edmonton and was continuously engaged as a Physician and Surgeon until 1914. He was a veteran of World War I, enlisting with the Canadian Army Medical Corps and proceeded to France in 1915, where he served in the Battles of Saint Julien and Lengemark. He attained the rank of Major, but contracted rheumatism and suffered continuously after his discharge. Dr. Alexander Carmichael Robertson died on July 12, 1919, aged 49 years, 10 months, 17 days.

Robertson, Frederick Greystock Dr.
1909-2002

Frederick Greystock Robertson was born at Belleville, Ontario on March 7, 1909 son of William Robertson and Annie McGlennon. He studied medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated with the class of 1933. Dr. Robertson established himself at Cobourg but left his practice in 1948 to work in the canning industry, eventually owning and managing the Cobourg based Robertson Packers. Dr. Robertson was elected to Parliament for the Northumberland riding in the 1949 general election and served 8 years representing his constituency. Dr. Frederick Greystock Robertson died at Cobourg on September 17, 2002 aged 93 years 6 months 10 days.

Robertson, John Joseph
Dr.

John Joseph Robertson was born at Thorold, Ontario on May 16, 1880, son of Miles Robertson and Mary Prendergast. He attended Albert

1880-1948

College and upon graduation there, he entered upon an Arts course at Queen's, which he followed with a Degree in Medicine in 1903. He married Henrietta Sarah McDowall on July 27, 1903. After some post-graduate work, he commenced the practice of his profession in 1905 at Tweed and removed to Belleville in 1917, where he took over the practice and residence of the late Dr. Mather. During the First Great War, he enlisted with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. He enjoyed a large clientele and kept current with advances in the profession. Mrs. Robertson was killed at Gibson's Canadian Pacific Railway crossing near Belleville on March 28, 1920. The car was completely demolished and Dr. Robertson severely injured. Dr. J. J. Robertson died on January 31, 1948, aged 67 years, 8 months and 15 days.

Robertson, Ross Dr.
1902-1994

Robertson was born at London, Ontario on January 24, 1902 son of Adam Robertson and Ethel Ross. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1926 and soon established himself in general practice in Wellington, Ontario; he was united in marriage to Mary Higinbotham on February 1, 1928. In 1935 he began general and thoracic surgical training in Toronto, Edinburgh and London, England and in 1937 he joined the staff of the Muskoka Hospital in Gravenhurst as a thoracic surgeon and he remained there until he joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1941. In 1950 he co-reported the first esophageal replacement with a section of jejunum and was a member of the team that initiated open heart surgery in British Columbia in 1956. Dr. Ross Robertson died at West Vancouver on January 4, 1994 aged 91 years 11 months and 10 days.

Robinson, Robert Renwick Dr.
-1909

Robert Renwick Robinson was born in Consecon and graduated from Queen's University in 1892. He held a commission as captain in the Prince Edward County militia. Dr. Robinson went with the Canadians to the Boer War, enlisting as a trooper, but, afterwards, did field hospital duty. Returning to Africa a second time, he was chosen by Lord Kitchener as one of the 25 representative men from the Johannesburg Mounted Rifles to be sent to London for the Coronation ceremonies in 1902. He had fought in 38 engagements in South Africa. He, later, was Surgeon on the Canadian Pacific Railway boats to China and was one of the first to enter the Klondike region. Dr. Robinson died by an overdose of morphine at Port Moody on July 29, 1909, aged 41 years 4 months 6 days.

Robison, Thomas Weeks
Dr.
-1866

Thomas Weeks Robison was born at Napanee, educated at Kingston; then studied medicine in Dr. Sampson's office. He attended courses at New York Medical College, where he graduated, following which he studied in London, England. He passed the Upper Canada Medical Board on July 8, 1833. Dr. Robison commenced practice in Kingston where he remained throughout his career. He was Surgeon to the 3rd Frontenac Battalion, organized at the time of the Mackenzie Rebellion. He was Mayor in 1844-1845 and was appointed as Police Magistrate in 1847, which office he held for 19 years. He was, at one time, Medical Officer to the Penitentiary and had charge of the fever hospital and sheds during 1847, when "emigrant" fever raged. Dr. Robison died in Kingston on May 6, 1866, aged 55.

Rockwell, Albert Dr.
-1906

Albert Rockwell was a graduate of Queen's University in 1868. He was soon associated with Dr. Oronhyatekha in Frankford, however this partnership did not endure and he moved to establish himself in Shannonville. He returned to Frankford in February 1871, with Dr. Oronhyatekha's departure, where he remained for about a decade before removing to the United States where he continued to practice his profession. Dr. Rockwell died in Portland, Oregon on January 8, 1906, aged 63 years 7 months 1 day.

Rockwell, Ashbell Starr
Dr.
1843-1907

Ashbell Starr Rockwell was born at Ernestown, Ontario in Nov 1843 son of Asahel Rockwell and Hannah Fraser and brother of the previously chronicled Dr. Albert Rockwell. He was a graduate of medicine at Queen's University in 1872 and established himself at Rochester, N.Y. that same year. Dr. Rockwell was united in marriage to Caroline Booth on June 26, 1878 at Sydenham, Ontario and he became a naturalized citizen on Apr 8, 1879. Dr. Ashbell Starr Rockwell followed the practice of his profession at Rochester where he died on Nov 27, 1907 aged 64.

Rogers, Edmund James
Armstrong Dr.
1852-1922

Edmund James Armstrong Rogers was born at Grafton, Ontario on March 27, 1852, son of James Rogers and Maria Burnham, both parents being of United Empire descent. He studied Medicine at McGill College and graduated in 1881; and was a Licentiate of the Royal College of Edinburgh in 1881; he married Maria Georgina Burrell of Brighton, Ontario, on March 8, 1882. The couple removed that year to Denver, Colorado, where he remained for the duration. He served on the State Board of Health from 1897 to 1903, was Professor of Surgery at the University of Colorado, Surgeon at several hospitals, and Governor of the Colorado Society of Colonial Wars in 1900. He was President of the State Medical Association and was noted throughout the west as a Specialist in Psychotherapy. Dr. Edmund James Armstrong Rogers died July 3, 1922, aged 70 years, 3 months, 6 days.

Rogers, Frank Ernest Dr.
1870-1960

Frank Ernest Rogers was born at the farmhouse on Dec 25, 1870 at Brighton, Ontario son of James Rogers and Eleanor Burrell. He moved to Colorado as a boy, returned to Canada to attend McGill University and was a graduate in medicine in 1897. Dr. Rogers did post graduate work in Vienna, Berlin and Austria, established his practice at Littleton, Colorado and then Denver where he remained for the duration. He served as a Major in the Canadian Army during W.W. 1 serving as a Regimental Surgeon. Dr. Rogers was on staff of the Denver General, Colorado General and St. Luke's Hospitals, served as president of the American Goiter Society and as medical director of the Denver General Hospital. Dr. Frank Ernest Rogers died at Denver on Feb 27, 1960 aged 89 years 2 months 2 days.

Rogers, Homer Carl Dr.
1913-1986

Homer Carl Rogers was born at Odessa, Ontario on September 23, 1913 son of John Rogers and Maude Richmond. He was educated in medicine at Queen's University with the class of 1937 and spent a year at the Grey Nuns Hospital in Regina; he then attended the Royal Army Medical College in London, England. Dr. Rogers served in the Middle East with the 4th and 10th division of the Indian Army during World War 11. After spending a year in India he was sent with the Indian troops to Cairo, Egypt, served at Libya and in 1941 received hand grenade wounds in Kenya. Dr. Rogers achieved the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and established himself at Pender Island, British Columbia where he was the first resident physician on the Island. Predeceased by his first wife Frances McKeown and his second wife Jean Edwards, Dr. Homer Carl Rogers died at Victoria, B.C. on August 6, 1986 aged 72 years 10 months 13 days.

Rolls, James Fields Dr.
1839-1904

James Fields Rolls was born in Woodstock, Ontario on January 1, 1839, son of Dr. Charles Philip Rolls and Maria Fields. The father of our subject received his secondary education in France, a Medical Degree in England and was licensed in Ontario on April 10, 1834. James Rolls was a Graduate of Medicine in 1863 and hung his shingle at Brighton, Ontario, before moving to British Columbia about 1886. Like his father, he was a doctor and dispensed drugs, managing the Vancouver Drug Company before moving to the interior. He settled at Hedley, British Columbia, where in the early part of the twentieth century, the population was rising due to the gold mining industry. Dr. James Fields Rolls died on September 12, 1904, aged 65 years, 8 months, 11 days.

Rose, Alvin Benson Dr.
1815-1883

Alvin Benson Rose was born in Montaque Township, Lanark County on June 15, 1815, son of Ezekiel Rose and Mary McIntyre. He was a Certificat of the Eclectic Medical Board in 1869, and was soon established in Trenton, Ontario. He was a member of the British Order of Good Templars at Trenton. Dr. Alvin Benson Rose removed to Simcoe, Ontario, where he died on April 19, 1883, aged 67 years, 10 months and 4 days.

Ross, Alexander Milton
Dr.
-1897

Alexander Milton Ross was born in Belleville and became a man of diverse interests and accomplishments. Following the death of his father, Ross went to New York about 1850, where he studied medicine and was licensed in 1855. The next 10 years were dedicated to the abolition movement; posing as an Ornithologist, he held secret meetings with slaves in the southern states, providing information and supplies to enable them to reach Canada. He acted as a secret agent during the Civil War, reporting to President Lincoln on the activities of Confederates in Canada. After the war, he devoted special attention to the study of ornithology, ichthyology, botany and entomology of Canada. He made a large and valuable collection of Canadian flora and fauna and enriched the natural history museums of Paris, St. Petersburg, Vienna, Rome, Athens, Dresden, Lisbon, Teheran and Cairo. In 1875, he sold his Entomological collection and a stuffed specimen of every known Canadian bird to the Russian Government. It was not until 1875 that he was licensed to practice medicine in Ontario, and later in Manitoba and Quebec. In Montreal, he strongly advocated against small pox vaccinations and founded and became President of the Anti-Compulsory Vaccination League. In 1885, he urged the citizens in Montreal to resist vaccination in the face of an epidemic; 3, 163 Montrealers died during that epidemic. In 1877, Dr. Ross presented to Albert College a valuable scientific library of over two hundred volumes. Dr. Ross was knighted by the Emperor of Russia, Kings of Italy, Greece, Portugal, Saxony, and the Shah of Persia. He received the Decoration of Honour from Khedive of Egypt, and the Decoration of the Palm Leaf from the Government of France. Dr. Ross died in Detroit Michigan, on October 27, 1897, aged 64 years 10 months 14 days.

Ross, Francis Raymond
Dr.

Francis Raymond Ross was born at Belleville, Ontario on July 17, 1906 son of James Ross and Margaret Colden. He studied medicine at Queen's University, graduated with the class of 1936 and soon established himself in general practice at his home town; Dr. Ross was united in marriage to Aileen Allen on May 23, 1937. He served as president of the hospital medical staff and was a member of St. Michael's Church where he was active in parish affairs. Dr. Francis Raymond Ross died at Belleville on September 11, 1974 aged 68 years 1 month 24 days.

Ross, John Walter Dr.
1856-1929

John Walter Ross was born at Elizabethtown, Ontario on December 7, 1856, son of Robert Ross and Mary Dalton. He was a Graduate of Trinity College in 1887, and married Agnes Easton at Belleville on April 16, 1892. Dr. Ross was a Physician in Belleville around the turn of the century, but was appointed as Government Trade Commissioner to Shanghai to develop Oriental markets for Canadian goods. Upon his return he settled at Woodstock, New York. Dr. John Walter Ross died on July 8, 1929, aged 72 years, 7 months, 1 day.

Ross, Thomas Keith Dr.
-1902

Thomas Keith Ross was born in Mingan, Quebec. He graduated from Queen's College in 1863 and established a practice in Napanee where he remained for about 20 years. He removed to Webster City, Iowa, where he practiced for 20 years, except for a two-year hiatus, 1887-1889, in New York. Dr. Ross died after a lingering illness, from a complication of ailments, on January 7, 1902, aged 61 years 6 months 2 days.

Roy, Henry F Dr.
1857-1946

Henry Roy was born at the farmhouse near Picton, Ontario on Sept 12, 1857 son of Hugh Roy and Ann Shields. He started his professional career as a teacher and entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University, graduating in 1885. Dr. Roy married Elizabeth Collier on Oct 27 of that year and established himself in his life's work at Forester, Sanilac County, Michigan where he had his office at the back of the Lake View Hotel. He soon became the proprietor of the local drug store in preference to medical work and in later years owned the local grocery store. Dr. Henry F Roy died at Port Huron, Michigan on Mar 28, 1946 aged 88 years 6 months 16 days.

Rundle, Howard Cecil Pascoe Dr.
1876-1957

Howard Cecil Pascoe Rundle was born on the farm at Darlington, Ontario on March 21 1876, son of John Rundle and Janet Pollard. He was educated locally and entered into the study of his chosen profession at the University of Toronto, from which institution he graduated with his Degree in Medicine in 1901. He married Lulu Bongard on July 8, 1908. Dr. Rundle established himself at Brighton, where he built up a large practice over a 49-year career there. He was active in community affairs and was on the town council; was a Past Master of the Masonic Order of the United Lodge and a member of St. Andrew's Church. Dr. H. C. P. Rundle, who had been in active practice for a total of 55 years, died on May 10, 1957, aged 81 years, 1 month and 19 days.

Rundle, Louis Howard Bongard Dr.

Louis Howard Bongard Rundle was born at Brighton, Ontario on June 25, 1911 son of Dr. Howard Rundle and Lulu Bongard. He attended school in Brighton and the Trenton Collegiate and graduated in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1936. Dr. Rundle interned at Oshawa, established himself in general practice at Bowmanville on October 24, 1938 and was united in marriage to Evangeline Warren in June 1940. He was on staff of the Bowmanville Memorial Hospital, served as president of the Bowmanville Rotary Club and even played Santa Claus in the town parade. Dr. Louis Howard Bongard Rundle died on January 26, 1997 aged 85 years 7 months 1 day.

Running, Kenneth Hewitt
Dr.
1912-1964

Kenneth Hewitt Running was born at Smith Falls, Ontario on May 26, 1912 son of Richardson Running and Minnie Hewitt. He was a graduate of medicine at Queen's University in 1936 where he was also a distinguished athlete. Following World War 11 where he served with the Royal Canadian Air Force, Dr. Running established himself at Carleton Place but soon returned to his great interest in aviation medicine and served as medical officer in the Department of National Defence and spent time at the Trenton Air Force Base. While senior medical officer at Trenton Dr. Running was privileged to accompany the R.C.A.F. contingent to the Coronation ceremonies at London, England. He attained the rank of Wing Commander and retired from military service in 1963. Dr. Kenneth Hewitt Running died at Carleton Place on July 31, 1964 aged 52 years 2 months 5 days.

Rutherford, David Bell Dr.
-1897

David Bell Rutherford was a native of Belleville and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1882. He first accepted the position of Physician to the Canada Consolidated Gold Mining Company of Marmora, later moving to Morrisburg, Ontario. Ill health forced him to move to a milder climate and for five years, he lived in Riverside, California. Dr. Rutherford died of consumption, in California, on May 4, 1897, aged 40 years 4 months 12 days.

Rutledge, Samuel Herbert
Dr.
1878-1947

Samuel Herbert Rutledge was born at Thomasburg (Sherry's Bridge), Hastings County, on November 27, 1878, son of Samuel George Rutledge and Elizabeth Porter. His early schooling was received in Madoc and Belleville and he graduated from Queen's College Medical School in 1904. He interned in Chicago and then practiced in Iowa and Illinois. Dr. Rutledge married Anna Mae Wise in 1908. Dr. Rutledge settled in Rogers City, Michigan in 1928, after spending 15 years at Manistique, Michigan. He was the owner of the Rogers City Hospital; his main interest was surgery but he engaged in general medicine and had a wide practice. He was the first President of the local Kiwanis Club, was a Mason and member of the Rotary Club. Dr. S. H. Rutledge, a pioneer doctor in the horse and buggy days, died of Parkinson's Disease on December 29, 1947, aged 69 years, 1 month and 2 days.

Ruttan, Allan Dr.
-1898

Allan Ruttan was born in Adolphustown and received his early education in the common schools of the township and the Picton Grammar School. He graduated from McGill University in 1852 and immediately established himself in Newburgh. About 1860, he served as Medical Examiner in Anatomy and Surgery at the University of Toronto. He went to Picton in 1863 where, after less than two years, he removed to Napanee. He was appointed as Surgeon to the Jail in 1876 and was also the Medical Officer of Health at Napanee. He served as the Area Representative on the Ontario Medical Council from 1885. Dr. Ruttan died at Napanee, from the effects of a stroke, on August 12, 1898, aged 72 years 6 months 16 days.

Ruttan, Allan
Montgomery Dr.
-1930

Allan Montgomery Ruttan was born in Newburgh and graduated from McGill Medical College in 1880 and practiced for some time in Quebec. He then went to New York where he spent about 20 years as a chemist. Early in the 20th century, he went to Lloydminster, Saskatchewan and, in 1905, he settled in Provost, Alberta where he remained for the duration. His death marked the end of a family who were ranking high in scientific work in Canada. Dr. A. M. Ruttan died on November 18, 1930 aged 74.

Ruttan, Franklin Sheldon
Dr.
-1942

Franklin Sheldon Ruttan was born at Sydenham and was a graduate of Queen's Medical School in 1893. He practiced his profession in Middleville, Wolfe Island and Yarker before moving to Woodstock in 1906 where he was Medical Officer of Health. He had a lengthy service in the First Great War with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps going overseas in 1914, to France in 1915 on staff of the Second Field Ambulance and serving through the Battles of Festubert and Givenchy, as Medical Officer of the First Battalion. Later, he was attached to No.1 Canadian General Hospital at Etaples, coming home with the rank of Major. Dr. Ruttan died on January 12, 1942, aged 71 years 9 months 7 days.

Ruttan, Joseph Baillie Dr.
1841-1924

Joseph Baillie Ruttan was born at Adolphustown on December 8, 1841, son of John Ruttan and Sarah Baillie. He was a Graduate of Queen's University in 1863, and wed Adelaide Wycott of Picton on December 29, 1866. He went to Wellington, Ontario as a young man and practiced in the vicinity for over fifty years. He was a Surgeon in the American Civil War, where he served with distinction. He had a large country practice going out at all times to answer the call for healing. Ill health compelled him to retire from active practice towards the end. Dr. Joseph Baillie Ruttan died on December 20 1924, aged 83 years, 12 days.

Ruttan, Robert Fulford Dr.
– 1930

Robert Fulford Ruttan was educated at the University of Toronto where he received his Bachelor of Arts in 1881 & Doctor of Science in 1914, at McGill University, Medicinae Doctorae, Chirurgiae Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery) 1884, at Berlin University. In 1887, he was appointed Lecturer in Chemistry in the Medical Faculty of McGill, became Professor of Organic and Biological Chemistry in 1902, Director of the Department of Chemistry in 1912 and Dean of Graduate Studies in 1924. In 1896, he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and, in 1919, he was elected President of this society. He retired from teaching in 1928. Dr. R. F. Ruttan died in Montreal on February 19, 1930 aged 73 years 7 months 4 days.

Ryan, George Henry
Winters Dr.
1874-1914

George Henry Winters Ryan was born on Feb 11, 1874 at Milford, Ontario son of Rev. William Ryan and Margaret Scott. After graduating in medicine from McGill University in 1899, Dr. Ryan went into practice at Milbridge, Maine for a few years and was united in marriage on Apr 11, 1900 to Gertrude Duncan. In 1905 he removed to Vermillion, Alberta where he had a large practice, filled many public offices and at the time of his death was Mayor of Vermillion. Dr. George Henry Winters Ryan died on Feb 21, 1914 aged 40 years 10 days.

Ryan, John Francis Dr.
1892-1948

John Francis Ryan was born at Camden East, Ontario on October 1, 1892, son of Matthew Ryan and Mary McDonnell. He was a Graduate in Arts at Queen's University in 1915 and joined with the British Army during World War I, served in France and was promoted three times in the field. He returned to Canada, graduated with his Medical Degree in 1918 and re-enlisted with the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He was united in marriage on March 14, 1918 to Pauline Crane Savage and following the War, he practised in Rochester, New York and removed to Brooklyn, New York, where he was a member of the Staff of St. Peter's Hospital. Dr. Ryan was married again to Doris Burke Donahue on January 8, 1941. Dr. John Francis Ryan died on March 21, 1948, aged 55 years, 5 months and 20 days.

Salsbury, Carmen Russell
Dr.
1898-1979

Carmen Russell Salsbury was born at Camden East, Ontario on July 21, 1898 son of John Salsbury and Effa Edgar. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1924 and was united in marriage to Amy Malakowsky on August 6, 1927. He had a varied career: he took specialist training in Industrial Medicine, was professor of anatomy at the University of Oklahoma and Queen's University in Kingston, was a surgical Specialist with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in World War 11, was the author of medical texts and conducted a private practice at Victoria, British Columbia. Dr. Carmen Russell Salsbury died at Vancouver on September 19, 1979 aged 81 years 1 month and 28 days.

Samis, James Clifford Dr.
1908-1980

James Clifford Samis was born at Baltimore, Ontario on January 8, 1908 son of James Samis and Elizabeth Garland; he was the younger brother of Dr. Tweed Samis chronicled earlier. He was educated in medicine at Queen's University with the class of 1932 and was united in marriage to Minnie Wilson. Dr. Samis served with the department of Veterans Affairs and national defence medical centre in Ottawa, was a surgical staff member of the Ottawa General and Civic Hospitals and professor of surgery at the University of Ottawa. Dr. James Clifford Samis died at Ottawa on August 1, 1980 aged 72 years 6 months 23 days.

Samis, Thomas Tweed Dr.
1898-1989

Thomas Tweed Samis was born at the farmhouse near Baltimore, Ontario on March 22, 1898 son of James Samis and Elizabeth Garland. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at Queen's University in 1924 and spent two years in post graduate training in ophthalmology in Vienna and Austria; he was united in marriage to Kathleen Bibby on May 24, 1927. He soon established himself at Toronto where he spent 50 years providing care for his patients. Dr. Samis, determined to provide patients with specialized eye care, founded the Toronto Eye Hospital in 1950, one of the first private hospitals in Ontario. Dr. Thomas Tweed Samis died at Toronto on May 19, 1989 aged 91 years 1 month and 27 days.

Sanderson, James Herbert
Dr.
1860-1946

James Herbert Sanderson was born at Picton, Ontario on July 10, 1860 son of Reverend Robert Sanderson and Caroline Leavens. He attended classes at Ottawa and the University of Toronto, took top honours and commenced his professional career as a teacher in Illinois. He was united in marriage on December 19, 1883 to Addie Mabel Alvord of Whitby, Ontario. In 1887 he took up the study of medicine at the Michigan College of Medicine and Surgery in Detroit and graduated in 1890; his wife died that year and he wed Ida May Brooks on June 22, 1892. He soon established himself at Edmore, Michigan where he practiced for 6 years and served as a member of the United States board of pension examining surgeons and also as surgeon to the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad; he returned to Detroit in 1897. Dr. James Herbert Sanderson died on January 30, 1946 aged 85 years 6 months 20 days.

Sanford, Charles Marcus
Dr.
-1916

Charles Marcus Sanford was born in Brighton and graduated in medicine from Trinity College in 1886. He returned to Brighton and followed the practice of his profession in his native town for the next 30 years. He served as County Coroner and was Surgeon for the Grand Trunk Railway. Dr. Sanford died in Brighton on April 11, 1916, aged 53 years 11 months 6 days.

Sargent, Willis A. Dr.
-1918

Willis A. Sargent was born in Haldimand Township and graduated in medicine from Trinity University in 1890. He followed the practice of his profession at Springbrook for 17 years before moving to Colborne where he continued his work. Dr. Sargent died at Colborne on November 1, 1918, aged 53 years 11 days.

Sarles, Roy Dr.
1891-1952

Roy Sarles was born at Frankford, Ontario on July 31, 1891 son of Michael Sarles and Sarah Ketcheson. He started his professional career as a public school teacher and was a Veteran of World War 1 where he served in France as a private with the 3rd Battalion Infantry. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at the University of Toronto in 1928 and was united in marriage to Annie Ford on December 22, 1928. Dr. Sarles spent time as a physician and surgeon at the Moses Taylor Hospital in Lackawanna, New York but soon established himself at Wellington, Ontario where he engaged in a general practice and was active in the Masonic Lodge. Dr. Roy Sarles died at Wellington on February 9, 1952 aged 60 years 6 months and 8 days.

Saunders, Herbert James
Dr.
-1896

Herbert James Saunders was born in London, England and came to Canada about 1864. He graduated from Queen's Medical College in 1869 and, in 1871, established himself in Deseronto. Later, in the early 1880s, he removed to Kingston where he had an extensive practice. He was Professor of Clinical Medicine and Dermatology at Queen's University and was a member of the Board of Governors for the General Hospital. For 23 years he was Surgeon to the Kingston Field Battery and held the rank of Surgeon Major; he was also Surgeon to the Grand Trunk Railway. Dr. Saunders died from the effects of inhaling sewer gas, which caused edema of the larynx; he developed septic pharyngolaryngitis, complicated by pneumonia and heart failure, dying on February 19, 1896, aged 48 years 2 months 3 days.

Sawyer, James Holden Dr.
1838-1881

James Holden Sawyer was born and raised in Belleville, Ontario, on November 11, 1838, son of Merrick Sawyer and Esther Holden. The father of our subject was a druggist and operated the drug store founded by Dr. Rufus Holden, which eventually became Geen's Drug Store. James Sawyer attended the local classrooms and was a Graduate of the Medical School at McGill College in 1863. He established himself at Belleville where he remained for the duration. Dr. James Holden Sawyer died on May 4, 1881, aged 42 years, 5 months, 23 days.

Saylor, Parry Dorland Dr.
1878-1942

Parry Dorland Saylor was born at Bloomfield, Ontario on Oct 16, 1878 son of Dr David Saylor, V.S. and Annie Dorland. He removed with his family to New York, was a graduate of the Glens Falls Academy in 1896 and matriculated with his degree in medicine from the N.Y. Homeopathic Medical College in 1903; he was united in marriage to Anna Seabury in Aug 1907. Dr Saylor served as chair of pathology at the Flower Hospital, practiced his profession in N.Y. State and served with the Canadian Army overseas during W.W. 1 as a Major. Later he was in charge of the purchasing of supplies for the corps and after the war was put in charge of disposing of millions of dollars worth of Canadian Army supplies. After the War, Dr Saylor served in the executive posts of the U.S. Rubber Company and in 1922 bought the Canada Dry Ginger Ale Company for one million U.S. dollars. In 1926 he donated the costs involved in building the present day Wellington, Ontario Library as a tribute to his mother. He served as president and chairman of the board of the Canada Dry Company. Dr Parry Dorland Saylor died at Litchfield, Connecticut on Feb 20, 1942 aged 63 years 4 months 4 days.

Scott, Arthur S. Dr.
1864-1926

Arthur S. Scott was the youngest of three medical brothers born at Norwood, Ontario, sons of Robert Scott and Rebecca Hartley. Arthur was born in December 1864, was a Graduate of the Toronto Normal School and began his professional life as a teacher. He married Ida Hopgood of Essex County, Ontario on February 12, 1890. He then began the study of medicine and was a Graduate of the Wayne State University School of Medicine, Detroit, Michigan in 1894. He established himself first at Owosso, Michigan, and, in 1902, removed to Laingsburg; he was remarried to Elizabeth Smith on May 27, 1903. He was prominently identified with public affairs of the village and served on the Board of Education for six years. Dr. Arthur S. Scott died on May 17, 1926, aged 61 years, 5 months.

Scott, Joseph Stuart Dr.
1828-1876

Joseph Stuart Scott was born at Colborne, Ontario on July 31, 1828, son of Reuben Scott and Sarah Keeler. He initially operated as a druggist and was located at Shannonville, Tyendinaga Township, and entered into the study of medicine, graduating from Victoria College in 1867. He was united in marriage in April 1855 to Mary Irish. Subsequently, he established himself in his life's work at Gananoque, where he remained for the duration. Dr. Joseph Stuart Scott died on February 4, 1876, aged 47 years, 6 months, 3 days.

Scott, Stuart Dr.
1860-1933

Stuart Scott was born at Colborne, Ontario on February 26, 1860, son of Dr. Joseph Stuart Scott and Mary Irish. He was educated in the public and high schools of Gananoque and the Model school and, afterwards, engaged in teaching for three years. He studied for his Medical Degree at Trinity College and graduated in 1885. Dr. Scott hung his shingle at Brighton, married Lizzie Dunn on February 24, 1886, removed to Lloydtown; then, in 1889, to Newmarket. Here he was a member of the School Board for over thirty-five years; he served as County Coroner for decades and served as President of the York County Medical Society. Because he was so closely associated with education in the town, the local school was named in his honour. Dr. Stuart Scott died on January 4, 1933, aged 72 years, 10 months, 8 days.

Scott, Thomas Beckett Dr.
1861-1926

Thomas Beckett Scott was born on Oct 8, 1861 at Burnbrae, Ontario son of James Scott and Elizabeth Beckett and brother of Dr. Elizabeth Scott Matheson. He studied at Queen's University where he received his medical degree in 1892 and where he was ordained as a Congregational Minister. He married Dr. Mary Elizabeth MacCallum who, having studied at Queen's, completed her medical training in N.Y. From 1893 to 1913 she and her husband were joint Directors of the Green Memorial Hospital in Ceylon serving under the American Board of Foreign Missions. When his health failed, they returned to the U.S. in 1914 and took charge of the Walker Missionary Home in Auburndale, Ma. Dr. Thomas Beckett Scott died at Auburndale on May 18, 1926 aged 64 years 7 months 10 days.

Scott, Thomas Bennett Dr.
1858-1927

Thomas Bennett Scott was the eldest brother and physician son of Robert and Rebecca Scott, born in February 1858. He graduated from the Wayne State Medical School in 1894; he established himself at Vernon, Michigan after graduation, where he remained for eight years, before removing to Owosso in 1902; he wed Myra O'Dell at Bay City, Michigan on July 7, 1902 After practicing for eleven years at Owosso, he removed to Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, where he remained for the duration. Dr. Thomas Bennett Scott died on September 5, 1927, aged 69 years, 7 months.

Scott, William Woodhouse Dr.
1863-1941

William Woodhouse Scott was born in July 1863 in Napanee, Ontario son of Rev. John Scott and Annie Woodhouse. The father of our subject was a pioneer missionary and the family removed to Emerson, Manitoba in 1876. Following his graduation in medicine from the Manitoba Medical College in 1895, Dr. Scott established himself in Walhalla, North Dakota where he followed the practice of his profession for 2 decades; he was united in marriage to Bertha Lee in 1898. In 1916 he moved to Springfield, Manitoba where he practiced another 2 decades. Dr. William Woodhouse Scott died at Hazelridge, Manitoba on Mar 19, 1941 aged 77 years 8 months.

Scott Robert Henry Dr.
1859-1918

Robert Henry Scott was the middle son to enter medicine, born December 9, 1859, son of Robert and Rebecca Scott of Norwood. He graduated from the Wayne State University of Medicine in 1894; he established himself at Laingsburg, Michigan, where he had a reputation of being a Physician of unusual ability, and a man of great force of character, kind, sympathetic, generous and helpful. He was a Mason, a member of the Corunna Commandery, the Knights Templar and Moslem Shrine Temple at Detroit. He had contracted the influenza which proceeded to pneumonia. Dr. Robert Henry Scott died on October 15, 1918, aged 58 years, 10 months, 6 days.

Searles, Abraham W. Dr.
-1878

Abraham W. Searles was a native of Wellington and an early graduate of the medical school at Queen's University in 1864. Dr. Searles established himself at Milford where he practiced his profession, dying of inflammation of the lungs, on June 27, 1878, aged 34.

Service, Charles Winfield
Dr.
1872-1930

Charles Winfield Service was born on Jan 24, 1872 at Tamworth, Ontario son of Rev. William Service and Frances Osborne. He was educated at the Ottawa Collegiate, Albert College, Victoria College and in 1899, with his medical degree, graduated from the University of Toronto. Dr. Service was united in marriage on Aug 16, 1899 to Robina Morgan following which he engaged in work in the Indian Mission at Clayoquot, B.C. In 1902 he sailed to China where his work involved the building of the medical college in West China; he was an outstanding surgeon and Evangelist and believed that China's social, economic and political development was to be achieved through education and Evangelism. Dr. Charles Winfield Service died at Chengtu, China on Mar 10, 1930 aged 58 years 1 month 16 days.

Sexsmith, Edgar Lloyd Dr.
1895-1976

Edgar Lloyd Sexsmith was born at the Parsonage at Bridgewater, Ontario on June 14, 1895 son of Reverend Marcus Sexsmith and Sarah Wood. He received his schooling over most of Eastern Ontario, his father an ordained Methodist Minister, and he served overseas in the First World War with the 2nd Battalion and the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He was a graduate of medicine from the University of Toronto in 1924 and was united in marriage, the service conducted by his father, to Ruth Miller on June 22, 1928. Dr. Sexsmith spent his professional life in Toronto where he was affiliated with the Toronto Western Hospital. Dr. Edgar Lloyd Sexsmith died at Toronto on March 8, 1976 aged 80 years 8 months and 24 days.

Shannon, James Crawford
Dr.
-1926

James Crawford Shannon was born at Marmora and graduated from Ottawa Normal School and then taught for several years before moving west in 1882, to California, where he entered the University of California Medical School; he was the first intern in the old San Francisco County Hospital. He removed to Seattle in 1886, three years before the Great Seattle Fire. When the fire destroyed his office building, he and his brother put up a tent and continued the work of ministering to the residents of Seattle, then hardly more than a village. For the next 30 years, while the area developed into a thriving city, the two brothers maintained their practice together. He was a charter member of the King County Medical Society and, at the time of his death, was one of three charter members still living. Dr. Shannon died at Seattle on May 28, 1926, aged 67 years 1 month 22 days.

Shannon, William
Alexander Dr.
-1924

William Alexander Shannon was a native of Marmora, Ontario. He was educated locally and was a graduate of Trinity Medical College in 1887. He took post-graduate work at Yale and established himself at Seattle, Washington in 1889, the year of the big fire. During his residence at Seattle, he was President of the King County Medical Society, a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Washington, a member of the Seattle School Board, Vice-President of the Columbus Sanitarium and Surgeon General of the National Guard of Washington, was the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Dr. Shannon died at the Seattle Columbus Sanitarium on May 6, 1924, aged 66 years 10 months 18 days.

Sharp, Fletcher Bell Dr.
1894-1981

Fletcher Bell Sharp was born at Morven, Ontario on October 7, 1894, son of Lucas Sharp and Catherine Mary Bell. He was a resident of Napanee where he attended the local classrooms and entered into the Study of Medicine with the Class of 1918 at Queen's University. As a medical student, he enlisted in the Queen's Ambulance Corps, received a commission as Lieutenant and was assigned to duty at Camp Mohawk where trainees for the Royal Air Force were frequently coming to grief. After graduation, he enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps, was sent overseas and promoted to Captain. He was stationed at Kinmel Park Camp near Rhyl, Wales and there may be some truth to the story that he was at Kinmel Park when the infamous mutiny occurred in March 1919. That Camp was strained to overflowing with Canadian Troops waiting to go home; the influenza epidemic was raging and the men suffered a record cold with little heat. A shortage of ships and the inability of Canadian Railways to cope with the numbers caused a bottleneck; conditions in the Camp deteriorated and the men rioted. The authorities responded with munitions resulting in the death of over eighty Canadian soldiers. Dr. Sharp established himself in the Practice of Internal and Aviation Medicine at Toronto. He was an amateur botanist and naturalist and spent hours traversing the out-of-doors in the Don Valley Ravine. Dr. Fletcher Bell Sharp died on August 14, 1981, aged 86 years, 10 months and 7 days.

Shaver, Charles Herman
Dr.
1912-1977

Charles Herman Shaver was born at Owen Sound, Ontario August 4, 1912 son of Charles Shaver and Georgetta Lake; he was a younger brother of Dr. Murton Rene Shaver. Our subject spent his formative years at Picton, Ontario and graduated in medicine at Queen's University in 1936; he was united in marriage to Mary Long. Dr. Shaver established himself in general practice in Hawk Junction, Ontario north of Sault Ste. Marie. Dr. Charles Herman Shaver died on January 21, 1977 aged 64 years 5 months 17 days.

Shaver, Murton Rene Dr.
1907-1959

Murton Rene Shaver was born at Osnabruck, Ontario on September 23, 1907 son of Charles Shaver and Georgetta Lake. His father was a teacher and principal and was employed as principal at the Picton Collegiate when our subject was attending medical School at Queen's University. Dr. Shaver graduated with the class of 1930 and interned at the College of Medicine, University of Illinois; he was united in marriage to Elizabeth MacDonald in 1942. He was certified as a neurological surgeon, served as chief of neurology at the Veterans Administration Hospital and served on the faculty of the University of Cincinnati College Of Medicine. Dr. Murton Rene Shaver died at Topeka, Kansas on September 8, 1959 aged 51 years 11 months 15 days.

Shaw, George Dr.
1848-1901

George Shaw was born in England in 1848, was a Graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School in 1874, and was licensed to practice medicine in Ontario on May 19, 1874. He established himself in Toronto, followed by hanging his shingle at Bridgewater, Actinolite and then Queensborough, Elzevir Township, Hastings County; he was well known throughout the county. He was united in marriage to Annie Rachael Robinson. Dr. George Shaw died at Queensborough on January 23, 1901, aged 52.

Shaw, John Milton Dr.
1858-1926

John Milton Shaw was born at Cayuga, Haldimand County, Ontario son of John and Isabella Shaw. After receiving his primary education he entered into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto from which institution he graduated in 1880. Dr. Shaw was married to Mary Kate Dennis on September 5, 1882 at Weston, Ontario. Following post graduate work he became a Licentiate in the Province of Ontario on April 24, 1884 and established himself in his life's work at Keene, Ontario where he spent over a decade. From there he went westward and was licensed to practice in Saskatchewan, Alberta and in 1915 in British Columbia. Dr. John Milton Shaw died at Victoria, B.C. of cerebral thrombosis on March 25, 1926 aged 67 years 11 months 3 days.

Shea, John Thomas Dr.
1905-1975

John Thomas Shea was born at Stirling, Ontario on July 15, 1905 son of Michael Shea and Mary Fitzpatrick. He was a graduate of the medical faculty at Queen's University in 1929 following which he removed to Belchertown, Massachusetts. He was certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and served as staff psychiatrist and assistant superintendent of the Foxboro State Hospital; he was then appointed as assistant commissioner of mental health for retardation. In 1946 he founded the Dever School in Taunton, Ma. following which he was Superintendent at Foxboro until he retired in 1968. Dr. Shea served as president of the Northern New England Psychiatry Association and during World War 11 was chief examining psychiatrist at Boston. Survived by his wife, the former Pauline Christian, Dr. John Thomas Shea died on April 27, 1975 aged 69 years 9 months and 12 days.

Shepard, Arthur Edward
Dr.
1876-1919

Arthur Edward Shepard was born on May 20, 1876 at Belleville, Ontario son of William Shepard and Henrietta Cook. He was a graduate in medicine from the Harvey Medical College in Chicago in 1899; this Institution was an evening school, co-educational, four year course for the working men and women who desired to be Physicians. United in marriage to Charlotte Axworthy on July 6, 1894, Dr. Shepard established himself at the Sanatorium in Needles, Ca. and later at a similar institution at Denver; he served with the American Army during W.W. 1 and attained the rank of Captain. Dr. Arthur Edward Shepard died at Denver, Colorado on Oct 23, 1919 aged 43 years 5 months 3 days.

Shepard, Charles Angell
Dr.
1871-1958

Charles Angell Shepard was born on Oct 9, 1871 at Belleville, Ontario son of William Shepard and Henrietta Cook. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Buffalo, N.Y. in 1896 and in that year married Clara Childs in New York. Dr. Shepard was appointed as Director of the Sanatorium at Needles, Ca. and, a widower, married Zenana McCoskey on Sept 16, 1916. He enlisted in W.W. 1 with the U.S. Air Force, served in France and later was in charge of the army hospital at Fort Omaha and served as surgeon at the Fitzsimmons General Hospital in Denver. When his wife died under suspicious circumstances in 1929, Dr. Shepard was accused of her murder by administering poison; he was convicted but was later freed and retried. He was united in marriage to Alice Thompson on July 14, 1933. Dr. Charles Angell Shepard died at Denver, Colorado on Sept 16, 1958 aged 86 years 11 months 7 days.

Shibley, John Lucas Dr.
1855-1926

John Lucas Shibley was born at Yarker, Ontario on September 15, 1855 son of John Shibley and Catherine Sharp. He was a graduate of Victoria College receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1881 and attained his Medical Degree from McGill University in 1885. He soon established himself at Yuma, Arizona where he practiced for two years before removing to Colton, California then Banning, California before settling at Los Angeles where he remained for the duration. Dr. John Lucas Shibley died on October 18, 1926 aged 71 years 1 month 3 days

Shillabeer, John Campbell
Dr.
1883-1966

John Campbell Shillabeer was born at Roslin, Ontario on Oct 8, 1883 son of William Shillabeer and Margaret Campbell. In 1902 he passed the examinations that allowed him to teach and he taught in Northern Ontario for 3 years. After receiving his medical degree from Queen's University in 1909, Dr Shillabeer went to Alberta as medical supervisor for the contractors building the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway through the mountains to Edson. He traveled by pack train from camp to camp and often walked many miles leading his horse over difficult muskeg terrain. Primitive hospital tents offered the only suitable facility and in those the doctor treated the needs of hundreds of labourers. When the railway was completed he became mine doctor for the Yellow Head Coal Company until the mine was destroyed by fire in 1914. He then moved to Nordegg where he again served the needs of the coal miners and their families until the Brazeau mines closed in 1927. Dr Shillabeer was united in marriage to Charlotte Moore on June 26, 1918. He practiced in Wetaskiwin until 1945 when he removed to Vancouver where he continued in active practice until his retirement in 1960; he then returned to Wetaskiwin. Dr John Campbell Shillabeer died on Oct 26, 1966 aged 83 years 18 days.

Shirley, Thomas Dr.
-1887

Thomas Shirley was a native of Ireland and presumably received his medical training in his homeland. He established himself in the practice of his profession in Napanee in 1843, assuming the practice of Dr. James Allen. Dr. Shirley was a regularly licensed physician, but had not bothered to register with the Provincial Medical Licensing Board. In 1877, he was investigated when the authorities realized he was practicing medicine without being properly registered. Dr. Shirley died at Napanee on November 28, 1887, aged 72 years 6 months.

Shorey, Kenneth McKim
Dr.
1890-1973

Kenneth McKim Shorey was born at Napanee, Ontario on August 4, 1890, son of George Shorey and Jane McKim. He was a medical student at Queen's University when the War broke out and impatient to be part of the action, he abandoned his studies and enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps in 1915. He went overseas with Number 5 Stationary Hospital and served until the spring of 1916. Realizing that he could be more useful as a qualified physician he returned to Kingston and completed his Medical Certification in record time. In December 1916, he re-enlisted with the rank of Captain and served for the duration of the War in France and Egypt. Dr. Shorey took post-graduate training at Brockton Hospital, Brockton, Massachusetts where he met the Anaesthesia Nurse Supervisor, Gertrude Esther Bailey and married her on November 14, 1922. He established himself in his life's work at Toronto. Dr. Kenneth McKim Shorey died on September 14, 1973, aged 83 years, 1 month and 10 days.

Shortt, Charles Dawson
Dr.
1908-1991

Charles Dawson Shortt was born at Toronto, Ontario on June 4, 1908 son of Joseph Shortt and Florence Roberts. The father of our subject was an outstanding athlete and removed to Belleville in 1927 when he became general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Charles Shortt was also a gifted athlete, studied medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated with the class of 1931. Dr. Shortt was united in marriage to Winifred Worsnop on December 5, 1934 and soon was established in general practice at Hornpayne, Ontario. Later he was in Montreal, Quebec where he served as the Canadian National Railway senior medical officer. Dr. Charles Dawson Shortt died at Don Mills, Ontario on May 5, 1991 aged 82 years 11 months 1 day.

Shurie, Josiah Sinclair Dr.
-1954

Josiah Sinclair Shurie was born in Kirkwall and moved to Trenton in his youth. He was educated locally and was a graduate of Toronto and Queen's Universities and a graduate of Trinity Medical School in 1896. He practiced in Trenton, Ruthven, Essex County and later moved to Vancouver where he died on January 14, 1954, aged 87 years 26 days.

Sills, Clarence Ham Dr.
1870-1943

Clarence Ham Sills was born at Picton, Ontario on February 1, 1870, son of Wilbur McCorkindale Sills and Frances D'Hage. He attended the local classrooms and was a Graduate of the Medical School at Trinity College in 1896. He spent time following the practice of his profession at Ottawa, Wye, Kent County, England and Nanyu, Northern Shan States of Burma, now known as Myanmar. Dr. Sills wed Maud Edith Hannson on December 27, 1898 at Holborn, England. He was a veteran of World War I at the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and saw action with the Royal Army Medical Corps and the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force. He was invalided back to London, England where he remained for the duration. Dr. Clarence Ham Sills died on April 30, 1943, aged 73 years, 2 months, 29 days.

Sills, George Luther Dr.
1888-1918

George Luther Sills was born at Tweed, Ontario on March 14, 1888, son of Wilson Sills and Elizabeth Jane Clark. He was a Student of Medicine at Queen's University when the War was declared and enlisted as a private serving the Queen's Stationary Hospital; he was promoted through the ranks, returned to complete his studies and was graduated from Queen's in 1916. He left for overseas in March 1917, and was now Captain Sills with the Number 15 Canadian Field Ambulance. Death came when the ship he was aboard, the Llandovery Castle, was sunk. This was a Canadian Hospital ship which was torpedoed off southern Ireland despite the regulation Red Cross Lights. The "Llandovery Castle" became the rallying cry for the Canadian Troops during the last one hundred days offensive. Dr. George Luther Sills died on June 27, 1918, aged 30 years, 3 months and 13 days.

Simmons, John Ralph Dr.
1893-1943

John Ralph Simmons was born at Frankford, Ontario on May 10, 1893, son of Dr. John Uriah Simmons and Laura Arnott. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University in 1918. Dr. Simmons was a veteran of World War I and served in the Canadian Army Medical Corps on several hospital ships and in hospitals overseas; he rose to the rank of Captain. He spent a year in post-graduate work at Broad Street Hospital in New York City and hung his shingle at Springbrook, Ontario, removing to Elmira where he remained for the duration. Dr. Simmons was united in marriage to Constance Davis on June 16, 1926. He was favourably known throughout the area, with a high reputation as a Physician and served there as Medical Officer of Health. Dr. John Ralph Simmons died on May 29, 1943, aged 50 years and 19 days.

Simmons, John Uriah Dr.
-1923

John Uriah Simmons was born in Murray Township. He received his early education in the local schools and subsequently taught in Hastings for 5 years. He graduated from Trinity Medical College in 1885 and, then, established himself in Frankford. He was active in community affairs; was Secretary-Treasurer and Manager of the Sidney Township Agricultural Society; he organized and was Manager and Treasurer of the Frankford Brass Band and President of the Frankford Athletic Club. He served as Vice-President of the local gun club and Secretary-Treasurer of the school board. He was Medical Officer of Health for the Township and a member of the Sidney Township Council. He organized and managed the Frankford Cheese Manufacturing Company in 1895 and the Butter Manufacturing Company in 1898. Dr. Simmons had an extensive practice until ill health set in; his death occurring on August 9, 1923, aged 61 years 9 months 21 days.

Simpson, Thomas Walker
Dr.
-1922

Thomas Walker Simpson was a native of Garafraxa Township and a graduate from Victoria College in 1884. He took post-graduate training at Edinburgh where he received his Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons. He established himself at Napanee where he was active in municipal affairs, serving the town as Mayor and Councilor for several years. Dr. Simpson died of pneumonia at Napanee on March 15, 1922, aged 65 years 11 months 21 days.

Sinclair, James Alexander
Dr.
1852-1882

James Alexander Sinclair was born at Colborne, Ontario on October 14, 1852 son of John Sinclair and Jane Jordan. He received his primary education in the public and high schools of Colborne and his medical education was obtained at Trinity Medical College with the class of 1877. He at once settled in Hastings, Ontario where he rapidly built up a large practice in connection with which he also carried on a drug store. From the beginning of his practice, Dr. Sinclair's work was very arduous, his large country practice claiming his attention both day and night. He was united in marriage to Emma Kilborn on January 22, 1878. Dr. James Alexander Sinclair died on December 20, 1882 aged 30 years 2 months 6 days.

Sing, John Chadwick Dr.
1836- 1916

John Chadwick Sing was born in 1836 at Millbrook, Ontario son of Samuel and Lucretia Sing; he was baptized on Sept 4, 1836. He was educated at Victoria College, graduated with his degree in medicine in 1869 and established himself in Manvers Township, Durham County. Dr. Sing was of Irish heritage, was united in marriage to Elizabeth Gordanier, a native of Thurlow Township, on Mar 28, 1881 and followed the practice of his profession in Belleville, Ontario. About 1911, Dr. Sing met with a railway accident at the G.T.R. railway crossing on Cannifton Road when he was struck by a train. He enjoyed good health although his hearing was defective and his eyesight poor. Dr. John Chadwick Sing died at the Great St James railway crossing in Belleville, having been struck again by the G.T.R., on June 17, 1916 aged 80 years 6 months.

Slack, William Robert Ian Dr.
1910-1956

William Robert Ian Slack was born at Smith Falls, Ontario on March 25, 1910 son of William Slack and Margaret Church. He was a graduate of the local collegiate in 1928, studied medicine at Queen's University and graduated with the class of 1934. Dr. Slack was soon established in general practice at Harrowsmith, Ontario and during World War 11 served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. He was a member of the United Nations Peace Keeping Force in Korea where he served at the time of his death with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Dr. William Robert Ian Slack died in South Korea on February 4, 1956 aged 45 years 10 months 9 days.

Slaven, John Wallace Dr.
-1906

John Wallace Slaven was born near Picton, Prince Edward County, and taught school while fitting himself for his profession. He finished his medical course in an American College, taking out a Physician's Degree, but preferred going into business. He went to Orillia when the place was a small village and set up its first drug store. He took a deep interest in municipal and educational affairs, and held all the municipal offices including Town Council, Reeve and Mayor in 1889-1890. In 1892, he was elected Vice-President of the Ontario College of Pharmacy. He was Chairman of the Board of Separate School Trustees and, in 1894, was appointed to the Board of Trustees of the Orillia Collegiate Institute. As a graduate of Kingston Military College, he commanded No.7 Company, Simcoe Foresters for many years, and at the time of the Fenian invasion in 1866, he took the company to Thorold. Dr. Slaven died at Orillia on July 7, 1906, aged 71 years 10 months 21 days.

Slemon, Harold Virtue Dr.
1913-1998

Harold Virtue Slemon was born at Enniskillen, Ontario on May 22, 1913 son of Dr. Cyrus Slemon and Edith Virtue. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1937; during World War 11 Dr. Slemon was commander of the No. 4 Mobile Neurosurgical Unit and served in Sicily, Italy and North Africa. Afterwards he was on staff of the Toronto Western Hospital, served as professor at the University of Toronto and maintained a general surgical practice at Campbellford. Dr. Harold Virtue Slemon died on November 16, 1998 aged 85 years 5 months 18 days.

Smellie, Donald McKay
Dr.
1860-1890

Donald McKay Smellie was born on the farm in 1860 at Streetsville, Bruce County, Ontario son of James Smellie and Lillias McKay both natives of Glasgow, Scotland.. He was a graduate of the medical school at Queen's University with the class of 1888 and established himself at Madoc, Ontario after graduation. He was cut short on his life expectancy. Dr. Donald McKay Smellie died in 1890 aged 30 years.

Smith, Allen S. Dr.
1838-1892

Allen S. Smith was born at Fredericksburgh, Ontario on October 31, 1838, son on James and Miranda Smith. He was educated in the district schools and the Newburgh Academy, and taught school for a number of years. In 1861, he commenced the study of medicine with Dr. John A. Rowe of Frankford, with whom he continued for three years. He attended lectures at McGill College but graduated elsewhere about 1872; he was for some time a partner of his old preceptor and after practicing in various places in Hastings County, including Stirling, in 1875, he moved to Cape Vincent, New York, where he remained until 1886, when he went to Watertown. He took post graduate work at Buffalo as well as London and Edinburgh. Dr. Allen S. Smith died on January 31, 1892, aged 53 years, 3 months.

Smith, Arthur Grassett
Rev. Dr.
-1944

Arthur Grassett Smith was born at St. Catharines and received his early education at Windsor, Ontario. Entering the University of Western Ontario, he graduated in theology from Huron College and later in Medicine from Queen's University in 1898. He was a rector of a number of parishes and served as Medical Missionary on the Muncey Reserve, the Mohawk Reserve, Deseronto, and later at Carcross, Yukon. He had held charges at Teeswater, Palmerston, Grand Valley, Stewarton, Hornby and Norval and Byng, South Cayuga and Port Maitland. In 1927, after the church at Port Maitland was struck by lightning and burned, Dr. Smith designed the stone church, which replaced it and helped with the construction. Rev. Dr. Smith died in Toronto on July 12, 1944, having recently celebrated the 61st anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood, aged 86 years 1 month 26 days.

Smith, Austin Edward Dr.
1912-1993

Austin Edward Smith was born at Belleville, Ontario on November 25, 1912 son of Wilfred Smith and Keitha Crouter. He attended Queen's University, graduated in medicine in 1938 and studied pharmacology there getting his M.Sc. in 1940. Dr. Smith joined the American Medical Association where he became the organization's director of therapy and research. He was editor of the journal of the A.M.A., served as vice chairman of the Warner Lambert Company, president of Parke Davis and Co. and was the first president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association. Dr. Austin Edward Smith died at Fort Myers, Florida on October 9, 1993 aged 80 years 10 months 14 days.

Smith, Clifford Floyd Dr.
1898-1936

Clifford Floyd Smith was born at Odessa, Ontario on September 20, 1898 son of Nelson Smith and Amy Scott. He took his primary and secondary school work at Odessa, entered into the teaching profession where he spent 5 years before attending Queen's University. He was a graduate of the medical faculty in 1927 and was united in marriage to Florence Storey on May 23, 1927. Dr. Smith served his internship at the State Hospital in Travers City, Michigan and then conducted a successful practice in the same state before returning to practice in Odessa in 1935. Dr. Clifford Floyd Smith died at Kingston on August 31, 1936 aged 37 years 11 months and 11 days.

Smith, Edgar Byron Dr.
-1914

Edgar Byron Smith was born in Tyendinaga Township, Ontario on June 29, 1861 son of Charles Smith and Esther Moran. He was raised in Hastings County, attended Albert College in Belleville and commenced the study of Medicine in the Michigan College of Medicine in 1884 and continued his studies in the Detroit College of Medicine after the amalgamation of these institutions. Dr. Smith graduated in 1887 and at once located in Detroit, Michigan where he remained for the duration. He was twice married, first to Margaret Thompson of Prince Edward County on May 1, 1884 and second, to Daisy Josephine Swickard at Detroit on November 6, 1911. Dr. Smith was professor of surgery in the Michigan College of Medicine, lecturer in the department of Dental surgery in the Detroit College of Medicine and surgeon to the Detroit, Lima and Northern Railroad. Dr. Edgar Byron Smith died of septicaemia at Detroit on August 11, 1914 aged 53 years 1 month 12 days.

Smith, Frederick Brook
Dr.
1866-1930

Frederick Brook Smith was born at Stirling, Ontario in February 1866, son of Dr. Allen S. Smith and Anna Brook. He began the study of medicine with his father in 1882, and took his lectures at Queen's University, where he graduated with the Medical Class of 1886. He returned to Watertown, where he joined the County Medical Society on October 12, 1886. He took post graduate work at New York City and studied at Edinburgh, Scotland, specialized in Cardiology and became one of the outstanding physicians of northern New York. He was united in marriage to Mary Orton in September 1891 at Sioux City, Iowa. Dr. Smith followed his life's work for forty-four years, was Chief of Staff at the House of the Good Samaritan, and was a member of the State Hospital Board of Ogdensburg. Dr. Frederick Brook Smith died of pneumonia February 9, 1930, aged 64 years, 25 days.

Smith, Henry Dr.
-1867

Dr. Henry Smith was one of the earliest physicians to reside in the area; when he arrived in 1817 the only other doctor was Dr. Hayden in Corbyville. He resided in Belleville for half a century and was one of the oldest residents when he died. Dr. Smith died on August 10, 1867, aged 81.

Smith, John R. Dr.
-1884

John R. Smith was born at Ormiston, Scotland and, in his youth, came with his parents to Kingston. In 1863, he graduated from Queen's Medical College and immediately went to the United States and joined the army of the Republic as Assistant Surgeon of volunteers. Here, for a year and a half he obtained such surgical experience as only a war can afford. Upon his return to Canada, he settled in Harrowsmith, where he remained throughout his professional career. He was appointed Surgeon of the 47th Frontenac Battalion at its inception and retained that position until his death. Dr. Smith died at Harrowsmith on February 17, 1884, aged 52.

Smith, Morley Lyford Dr.
1898-1977

Morley Lyford Smith was born at Napanee, Ontario on July 11, 1898 son of John Smith and Emma Parks. He was a graduate in medicine from Queen's University in 1923 and interned at Nassau Hospital in Mineola, New York, Central Islip Hospital and Lying In Hospital in Manhattan, N.Y.; Dr. Smith was united in marriage to Phebe Underhill on July 30, 1932. He established himself in the practice of his life's work at Hicksville, New York where he remained in active work for 47 years, retiring due to ill health. Dr. Morley Lyford Smith died at Kingston, Ontario on August 25, 1977 aged 79 years 1 month and 14 days.

Smith, Rogers Stanley
Bennett Dr.
1870-1915

Rogers Stanley Bennett Smith was born at Brighton, Ontario on January 18, 1870, son of James Smith and Mary Bennett. He studied Medicine at McGill College where he graduated in 1896. He spent some time in Grand Forks, British Columbia, but removed to Auckland, New Zealand, where he was registered to practice on January 20, 1906. Here, he engaged in his medical practice until misadventure took its toll. Dr. Smith had been complaining of chest pains in the region of his heart for about a week. An inquest into his death found that he had died as a result of an accidental overdose of chloral on a weak heart. Dr. Rogers Stanley Bennett Smith died on June 23, 1915, aged 45 years, 5 months, 5 days.

Smith, Stanley Haydon Dr.
1882-1962

Stanley Haydon Smith was born at Napanee on September 5, 1882, son of John Jacob Smith and Cinderella Baker. He attended Queen's University and attained his Degree in Medicine in 1906. Dr. Smith married Florence Rebecca Allen on November 10, 1909. Dr. Smith established himself at Streetsville shortly after graduation and, for half a century, served the area as a family doctor; he retired in 1957. He was a Mason and served as a Past Master of the River Park Lodge. Dr. S. H. Smith died on November 6, 1962, aged 80 years, 2 months and 1 day.

Snider, Douglas Irvin Dr.
1900-1946

Douglas Irvin Snider was born at Smithfield, Ontario on September 1, 1900 son of Fred Snider and Maude Ireland. He received his primary education at Smithfield, attended high school in Windsor and was a graduate of the faculty of medicine at the University of Toronto in 1923; he was united in marriage to Jean Howie on May 19, 1924. Dr. Snider practised in Harrow for four years and then at Kingsville, Ontario where he served as medical officer of health, board member of the Victorian Order of Nurses and of the Leamington Hospital. Dr. Douglas Irvin Snider died on September 9, 1946 aged 46 years and 8 days.

Snider, Elias Thorpe Dr.
1860-1941

Elias Thorpe Snider was born at Odessa, Ontario on November 20, 1860, son of Charles Snider and Mary Ann Rose. He attended the local classrooms and entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University and graduated with the Class of 1889. He was united in marriage to Annie McFarlane on June 27, 1889. Dr. Snider followed the practice of his profession at Cataraqui, Frontenac County, the village of Port Dover, Norfolk County and Cayuga, Haldimand County. He later removed to Vancouver, British Columbia, where he remained for the duration. Dr. Elias Thorpe Snider died on June 30, 1941, aged 80 years, 7 months, 10 days.

Soden, John James Dr.
1859-1890

John James Soden was born in Bailieboro, Ontario in 1859 son of Thomas Soden and Mary Jane Ray, immigrants from Ireland in 1853. He was a graduate of Medicine from the University of Toronto in 1886 and soon established himself at Baltimore, Ontario. Dr. John James Soden died at Baltimore on February 5, 1890 aged 30 years 3 months.

Sovereign, Albert William
Dr.
-1916

Albert William Sovereign was a graduate of the Homeopathic Medical College of St. Louis, Missouri, and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. He succeeded Dr. Nichol in 1870 and practiced in Belleville for but two years. The following notice appeared in the New York Times February 7, 1886: "A Quack Arrested Pulling teeth free to the music of a brass band Reading, Pennsylvania. Feb 6. Prof A. W. Sovereign, the Metropolitan Rink tooth extractor, was arrested and had a hearing today on the charge of practicing medicine without being registered. He is the head of the Chau1-Moogra combination, consisting of the Professor, an expert and painless tooth puller, besides a full brass band, who daily parade the streets to drum up crowds to the rink, and a blonde young man who sings Dutch songs to amuse spectators. The concern has been at the Metropolitan Rink for over a month, attracting immense crowds. Teeth were pulled by the hundreds, as there was no charge. The dentists of the city were furious, and one of their number had Mr. Sovereign arrested". Dr. Albert William Sovereign died at Detroit, Michigan on May 21, 1916 aged 74 years 10 months 17 days.

Spafford, Herman
Whitman Dr.
1828-1877

Herman Whitman Spafford was born at Ernestown, Ontario on April 27, 1828 son of John Spafford and Sarah Carscallen. The establishment of a medical school at Queens University came about as a result of bigotry when students applying to Toronto were informed that they could not obtain the degree of doctor of medicine unless they conformed to religious tests which were distasteful to them. Spafford was one of a small group who petitioned to establish a medical college in Kingston which would be open to all on the same terms. As a result he graduated with his Medical Degree in 1855, the first class of physicians from Kingston. He was united in marriage to Mary Emily Peterson on November 24, 1857. He was established at Newburgh, Ontario before removing to Lake City, Minnesota. Dr. Herman Whitman Spafford died on November 28, 1877 aged 49 years 7 months 1 day.

Spareham, Thomas Dr.
-1813

Thomas Spareham was an United Empire Loyalist and by 1808 was practicing at Meyer's Creek, now Belleville. There were few settlers in the area at the time and they were located at the mouth of the Moira River. Those settlers were as follows: Dr. Spareham; Captain John McIntosh who kept a store; John Johnson, a saddler; John Thompson who was a soldier in the Kings Rangers; Peter Holmes a carpenter and also had been in the Rangers; Mrs. Margaret Simpson an inn keeper; Roswell Leavins a blacksmith; John Simmons; Mr. Ames a cooper; Hugh Cunningham a store keeper at the tavern; Simon McNabb who lived across the river; Mr. Ockerman a cooper; Benjamin Stone a sawyer; William Maybee and Abraham Stimers. The only road was along the river while footpaths led to the different dwellings. Dr. Spareham was soon to move to Waterloo, near Kingston, where he died in 1813, aged 88.

Sparham, Eric Benzel Dr.
-1894

Eric Benzel Sparham was a graduate of McGill College in 1852. He practiced in Picton for a while before removing to Brockville. It was here in 1874 where he was charged with a criminal attempt at abortion resulting in the death of a patient. He was found guilty and convicted of murder by use of an instrument to procure abortion. His death sentence was commuted to imprisonment and he was released after serving a few years. Dr. Sparham died in Brockville on July 27, 1894, aged 62

Spencer, Frank Everett Dr.
1885-1961

Frank Everett Spencer was born at Picton, Ontario on June 9, 1885 son of David Spencer and Jeanette Stinson. He matriculated from the Picton Collegiate in 1904 and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1908. Dr Spencer was united in marriage to Helen Wightman on Jan 21, 1914 and served as the psychiatrist to the Dannemora and Matteawan State Hospitals, asylums for criminally insane convicts, until 1915. That year he established a medical practice in Plattsburgh, N.Y. where he remained for the duration; he served the medical needs of his community for over 5 decades. Dr Spencer was a hobby farmer and in Oct 1956 suffered the loss of his barn in a $50,000 fire which also claimed his 2 prize bulls valued at $6,000 each. Dr Frank Everett Spencer died on Mar 7, 1961 aged 75 years 8 months 28 days.

Spooner, George Doolette
Dr.
-1871

George Spooner was a graduate of Queen's Medical College in 1860. He practiced for a short time in Warkworth, Ontario, and subsequently in Newtonville. In 1868, his health began to decline and in order to recover, he visited New York only to suffer a setback in his wellbeing. His health an issue, Dr. Spooner returned to Ontario where he died at his native place of Glenburnie on May 3, 1871, aged 32 years 3 months 14 days.

Sprague, James Sylvanus
Dr.
-1920

James Sylvanus Sprague was born in Demorestville. After receiving a public and high school education, at the age of 16, he taught school at what was known as Benson's School, near Odessa. From 1861-1864, he attended Albert College in Belleville and graduated in medicine from Victoria College, Cobourg. He then engaged in the teaching profession at Millersville, Pennsylvania, Ottamiva, Iowa and Montgomery, Illinois. He first practiced medicine in Humboldt County, Iowa and spent some time in Chicago. On returning to Canada, he practiced in Stirling for 34 years and Perth for four years. In 1890, the degree of Medicinae Doctorae, Chirurgiae Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery). was conferred upon him by Trinity University. From 1890-1894, he was Examiner at Trinity Medical College on Medical Jurisprudence, and, from 1903-1907, an Examiner for the Ontario College of Physicians. He was a member of the Iowa Medical Board of Examiners and, in 1909, was given an honorary membership in the Humboldt, Iowa Medical Society. He was a well-known writer on medical subjects including Medical Ethics and Cognate subjects. Dr. Sprague moved to Belleville in 1913 where he died on April 24, 1920, aged 75 years 4 months 27 days.

Sprague, William Edward
Dr.
-1908

William Edward Sprague was born in Thurlow Township and early in his career taught school in this county. After a few years of teaching, he entered Trinity College from which medical school he graduated in 1884; he was a Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh. Upon graduation, he immediately established himself in Belleville where he practiced for the duration. Dr. Sprague was the principal owner of the Bay Bridge and was in the City Solicitor's Office on the day of his death. He was in consultation with members of Council, Board of Trade and members of the Ameliasburgh Council in reference to the proposed bill asking for a new schedule of tolls over the bridge. Dr. Sprague was quoting some figures to ex-Mayor Graham when he suddenly succumbed to a heart attack. Dr. Sprague died on January 25, 1908, aged 58 years 5 months 25 days.

Sprague, William Giles Dr.
1866-1956

William Giles Sprague was born at Ameliasburgh, Ontario on Jan 13, 1866 son of John Sprague and Letta Giles. He received his medical education at Trinity College, Toronto in 1891 and practiced for a short time at Picton before removing to Rochester, N.Y. and in Mar 1894 to Barker, N.Y.; he was married to Dorothy Auger on Christmas Day, 1891. Dr. Sprague served as the first president of the Union Free School erected in 1911, the forerunner of the Barker Central School System. He served as the medical school examiner for many years and was health officer of the Town of Somerset more than 30 years. When the Somerset National Bank of Barker was organized, Dr. Sprague served as the vice president and a member of the board of directors. The Barker Telephone Company which he helped to organize later became part of the Bell Telephone System. He operated a thriving practice for 65 years, all but three were in the Barker area. He was keenly interested in agriculture, operating farms at various times. Dr. Sprague served his village and rural patients practically single handed through the great flu epidemic of W.W. 1 and again assumed extra duties when younger Doctors were called to the colours in W.W.II. Dr. William Giles Sprague died at Barker, N.Y. on Sept 28, 1956 aged 90 years 8 months 15 days.

St. Charles, William
Patrick Dr.
1873-1943

William Patrick St. Charles was born at Belleville, Ontario on May 9, 1873, son of James St. Charles and Margaret O'Brien. He attended the University of Toronto where he graduated in 1896 and soon established himself in practice in Toronto. The father of our subject was an early mining pioneer and had an interest in the Richardson Mine, Canada's first gold producer. Dr. St. Charles inherited the mining fever and became President of Lake Shore Gold Mines. He was also a member of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, the Granite Club, the Knights of Columbus, the Ontario Jockey Club and the Thornccliffe Racing Association. Dr. William Patrick St. Charles died on December 15, 1943, aged 70 years, 7 months, 6 days.

Staley, Austin Archibald
Dr.
1877-1963

Austin Archibald Staley was born at Wolfe Island on December 1, 1877, son of Archibald Staley and Sarah Ann McManus. He graduated from Queen's University in 1903 and was appointed in 1904 as House Surgeon at the Hahnemann Hospital in Rochester, New York. He then went to Enterprise as a General Practitioner, where he hung his shingle as a General Practitioner at his office on Main Street. He was of the horse and buggy era and was often seen on urgent calls to outlying homes with his brown horse galloping. After about 5 years there, he removed to Toronto. Dr. Staley married Loretta Lynch on February 12, 1919. He remained there in active practice on Broadview Avenue until a few years before his death, retiring after 55 years of service. Dr. A. A. Staley died on January 9, 1963, aged 85 years, 1 month and 8 days.

Stanbury, Ralph Gilmour
Dr.

Ralph Gilmour Stanbury was born at Campbellford, Ontario on November 4, 1904 son of William Stanbury and Mary Rowe. He was a graduate in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1928. Dr. Stanbury interned at the Buffalo City Hospital and spent 8 years in Buffalo before he established himself in general practice in Akron, New York where he remained until his retirement in 1971. He served with the United States Army in the European Theatre during World War 11 and was discharged at the rank of Major. Dr. Stanbury served on the board of managers of the Meyer Memorial Hospital and maintained a summer home on the banks of the Trent River near Campbellford. Survived by his wife, the former Marjory Beeman, Dr. Ralph Gilmour Stanbury died at Batavia, New York on November 30, 1988 aged 84 years and 26 days.

Steenburg, Wesley Benjamin Dr.
1862-1899

Wesley Benjamin Steenburg was born in Stockdale, Ontario on February 26, 1862, son of Benjamin Steenburg and Isabella Sills. He attended the local classrooms and entered into the Study of Medicine at the University Medical College of Kansas City, Missouri, graduating in 1889. He had special training in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat and began his medical career at the Free Dispensary Clinic in Kansas City. He removed to Chicago, Illinois, but became ill and returned to the home of his father living in Trenton, Ontario. Dr. Wesley Benjamin Steenburg died January 14, 1899, aged 36 years, 10 months, 18 days.

Steenburgh, Edmund
Arthur Dr.
1865-1946

Edmund Arthur Steenburgh was born at Stockdale, Ontario on March 9, 1865 son of Benjamin Steenburgh and Isabella Ann Sills and brother of Dr. Wesley Benjamin Steenburgh chronicled previously. He was a graduate of Rush Medical College of Chicago in 1887 and established himself at Aurora, Nebraska where he engaged in general practice and did considerable surgical work. Dr. Steenburgh was united in marriage to Minnie Susan Moore on June 20, 1889 at Aurora. He served as vice president of the First Trust Company of Aurora and as president of the Hamilton County Medical Society. Dr. Edmund Arthur Steenburgh died at Aurora on February 1, 1946 aged 80 years 10 months 22 days.

Stephen, Hugh Montrose
Dr.
1903-1985

Hugh Montrose Stephen was born at Toronto, Ontario on April 18, 1903 son of Reverend John Stephen and Helen Brown. He was a graduate of medicine from Queen's University in 1927 and was soon physician at Silver Centre, the site of silver prospecting in the Timiskaming District; by the time of his arrival however the ore had played out and it is now a ghost town. Dr. Stephen was later a Captain in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and was united in marriage to Grace Willets on May 21, 1936. He was stationed at Trenton, Ontario for some time, served overseas in World War 11 and rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Dr. Hugh Montrose Stephen died at Ottawa on July 23, 1985 aged 82 years 3 months and 5 days.

Stevenson, John
Alexander Dr.
-1918

John Alexander Stevenson was born in the Township of Asphodel, County Peterborough, received his education in the township schools and graduated from Victoria College in 1869. He took post-graduate work at Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York and established his first practice at Frankford. He removed to Trenton in 1885, where he continued to follow the work of his profession. Dr. Stevenson died at Trenton on January 12, 1918, aged 70 years 3 months 7 days.

Stevenson, Thomas
Beadle Dr.
1872-1948

Thomas Beadle Stevenson was born on the farm at Hastings on June 16, 1872, son of James Bell Stevenson and Susanna Beadle. He attended the public school of Hastings Village, the Campbellford High School and the Toronto Normal School and engaged in teaching before returning to Albert College and then Trinity Medical College in Toronto, from which he graduated in 1904. He took post-graduate work at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota and Chicago, Illinois. He practiced at Ponoka, Alberta, for 2 years and in 1907, removed to Wetaskiwin, where he remained for the duration. Dr. Stevenson married Ethel Florence Cobbledick in 1912. He served as Vice-President of the Alberta Medical Association and was the local Medical Officer of Health. Dr. T. B. Stevenson died on September 26, 1948, aged 76 years, 3 months and 10 days.

Stewart, James Douglas
Dr.
-1884

James Douglas Stewart was a native of Quebec. He was a graduate of Victoria College in 1861, and soon established himself in Belleville where he was a well-known Oculist and Aurist. He had been ill and was under treatment by electricity in an eastern city where his condition became much worse and he was brought home to Belleville, where a short time after his arrival he had a fatal attack. Dr. Stewart died on September 18, 1884, aged 49.

Stewart, Robert Dr.
-1888

Robert Stewart was born in Ulster County, Ireland, came to this country with his family as a boy and settled near Brockville. In 1832, he graduated in medicine at Toronto and began practice in Bath; he removed to Kingston where he resided for three years. In 1847, he was appointed as surgeon to the 1st Battalion of the Addington Militia and, in 1848, as Surgeon to the 2nd Regiment of same. He was active in business and had a large interest in the Kingston Water Works, which he later sold to the Corporation. His most profitable speculations were carried on when the Grand Trunk Railway was being built. Dr. Stewart lived in Belleville for his last 40 years but practiced little; he maintained his interest in medicine and was present at the opening ceremonies of the Belleville General Hospital. Dr. Stewart lived at the corner of Hotel (Victoria) and George Streets and died at his residence on February 18, 1888, aged 82.

Stickney, John Dr.
-c1830

Dr. John Stickney was the first physician to practice in the Township of Sophiasburgh. Stickney's Hill Cemetery is the final resting place for Dr. Stickney; this cemetery was probably originally an Indian burial site, located at Grassy point, Sophiasburgh Township. Dr. Stickney died about 1830, aged 57.

Stinson, Albert
Washington Dr.
-1918

Albert Washington Stinson was a native of Bloomfield and attended the University of Toronto where he graduated from the school of medicine in 1888. He practiced his profession in Brighton and later in Cobourg. Dr. Stinson was a victim of the great influenza epidemic, which he contracted while attending patients. On account of overwork, he was in a run-down condition and had not the strength to fight off the disease; he died on October 29, 1918, aged 60 years 3 months 22 days.

Stinson, Smith Bernard
Dr.
1886-1961

Smith Bernard Stinson was born at Codrington on November 14, 1886, son of Dr. Albert Washington Stinson and Minnie Orser. He was a graduate of the Medical School of the University of Toronto in 1907 and interned at St. Michael's Hospital. Dr. Stinson married Mary Gertrude Haley on November 9, 1907. He set about in his profession spending time at Welland and Cobourg before establishing himself at Brantford, where he was in active practice for 50 years. He was a member of the staff of the Brantford General Hospital, the Brant County Medical Association, and for many years a member of the Public Library Board. Dr. S. B. Stinson died on October 12, 1961, aged 74 years, 10 months and 28 days.

Stirling, James Alexander
Dr.
1855-1919

James Alexander Stirling was born at Peebles, Scotland on Oct 7, 1855 son of Robert Stirling and Euphemia Elder. The family came to Canada in 1878 and settled in rural North Marysburgh Township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. James gave up the farming life to join his younger brother in the study of medicine at Queen's University and graduated in 1885, one year after John Elder Stirling who removed to Michigan where he was also a Minister of the Gospel. Our subject was united in marriage to Jessie Bertram on Mar 1, 1888. Dr. James Alexander Stirling was a well known physician in Picton, St. Thomas, and Hamilton, Ontario but removed to Battleford, Saskatchewan, where he again took up farming. He returned to Picton about 1915 in active practice and endured the loss of his son Robert, who was born in Picton in 1890, at Passchendaele. Dr. James Alexander Stirling died at Picton on Apr 23, 1919 aged 63 years 6 months 16 days.

Stobie, George Herbert
Dr.
1892-1962

George Herbert Stobie was born at Bruce Mines, Ontario on October 14, 1892, son of James Stobie and Jean Cameron. The father of our subject was one of the best-known prospectors of the Sudbury district and was responsible for finding most of the major deposits in that area. Dr. Stobie was a Graduate of the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1916. He immediately entered the service of his country, joining the Royal Canadian Army Corps, served with distinction during World War I and followed with post-graduate training at the Mayo Clinic. He was united in marriage to Helen Mary Simpkins on June 15, 1920 and established himself at Belleville. He was known throughout the region as a skillful Surgeon and was a Fellow of the Royal College, the American College and the International College of Surgeons. He lived the retired life in Toronto after twenty-nine years service in Belleville. Dr. George Herbert Stobie died on January 21, 1962, aged 69 years, 3 months and 7 days.

Storms, Douglas Garaghty
Dr.
1857-1949

Douglas Garaghty Storms, of United Empire Loyalist stock, was born at Odessa, Ontario in July 1857, son of Anson Storms and Caroline Lemay. He attended Queen's University Medical School and graduated in 1886; he wed Catharine Hinch on October 13, 1886. Dr. Storms established himself at Hamilton, Ontario, and for fifty-two years served his community as an outstanding obstetrician. He served as Past President of the Hamilton Horticultural Society, a member of the Order of Foresters, the Scottish Rite Club and a Mason. Dr. Douglas Garaghty Storms died on May 22, 1949, aged 91 years, 10 months.

Stratton, Charles Milton
Dr.
1873-1946

Charles Milton Stratton was born in Richmond Township on October 11, 1873, son of Daniel Stratton and Catherine De Witt. He was a graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University in 1902. Dr. Stratton married Helen Blanche Collier on October 6, 1903; was remarried to Hester Ann Miller on November 21, 1908 and to Daisy Evelyn Tucker on February 7, 1921. Dr. Stratton served the town of Napanee and district for over 40 years. He was interested in municipal affairs and was on the town and county councils for 12 years. He was Medical Officer for C Company of the 80th Battalion while it was based in Napanee and during the First Great War, examined a large number of recruits enlisting for active service. He also had a great interest in astronomy. Dr. C. M. Stratton died on November 19, 1946, aged 73 years, 1 month and 8 days.

Stuart, Elmer Auburn Dr.
1905-1970

Elmer Auburn Stuart was born at Deer Island, New Brunswick December 13, 1905 son of James Stuart and Lillian Stuart. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1932 and soon set himself in general practice at Campbellford where he established a make shift hospital and was instrumental in the Town attaining a proper facility. He was active in community affairs and is remembered for saving a man from drowning in the Trent River. Dr. Stuart practiced from coast to coast, spending time at St. Andrew's by the Sea, New Brunswick before removing to Victoria, British Columbia. Survived by his wife, the former Alice Winthrop, Dr. Elmer Auburn Stuart died at Victoria, B.C. on August 25, 1970 aged 64 years 8 months 12 days.

Sullivan, Harry James Dr.
1875-1914

Harry James Sullivan was born at Picton on February 8, 1875, son of Daniel Sullivan and Margaret Goodwin. He graduated from the Picton High School in 1893, and spent some time in the teaching profession at Cornwall, Almonte and Alexandria. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1902, where he received his Medical Degree. Dr. Sullivan married Emma Evelyn Robert on October 19, 1908. He established himself at Chatham where he had been in practice for 8 years. Dr. H. J. Sullivan contracted pneumonia and died on March 18, 1914, aged 39 years, 1 month and 10 days.

Sutherland, Bruce Cunningham Dr.
1884-1950

Bruce Cunningham Sutherland was born at Belleville on November 19, 1884, son of William Sutherland and Emma Phippen. He took his Medical Course at Queen's University graduating in 1906, and took post-graduate work in New York. Dr. Sutherland married Bertha Georgina Decker on February 25, 1911. He was first in practice at Guelph, Ontario, and Edmonton, Alberta, before enlisting with the Canadian Army Medical Corps and serving overseas. Dr. B. C. Cunningham established himself in Hamilton, where he remained for the duration and died there on August 25, 1950, aged 65 years, 9 months and 6 days.

Sutherland, Eric McLeod
Dr.
1877-1954

Eric McLeod Sutherland was born in Belleville on December 31, 1877, son of William Sutherland and Emma Phippen. He was a graduate of Queen's University Medical School in 1906, and married Estella Beal on April 21, 1907. After graduation, he became a staff member of the Ontario Hospital in Brockville, later establishing a private practice at Freelon, Ontario, where he served the district for more than 30 years. Dr. E. M. Sutherland died on April 25, 1954, aged 76 years, 3 months and 24 days.

Sutton, Henry Hugh Dr.
-1921

Henry Hugh Sutton was born in St. Thomas and was a graduate of the University of Toronto Medical School in 1866. While a young man, he served on the medical staff of General Grant's army during the American Civil War. Upon graduation, he established himself in Madoc where he practiced successfully and served as County Coroner for many years. Dr. Sutton died as a result of burns suffered when his clothing somehow caught on fire on May 23, 1921, aged 83.

Sutton, Nelson Ford Dr.
1878-1937

Nelson Ford Sutton was born at Madoc on October 28, 1878, son of Dr. Henry Hugh Sutton and Loretta Forneri. His youth was spent in Madoc and there he received his public school education; he graduated from St. Thomas Collegiate Institute and proceeded to enter into the study of medicine with the class of 1902, but dropped out for a year and graduated from the University of Toronto in 1903. Dr. Sutton married Elizabeth Frances Weir. He originally went to work in Maynooth and removed to Norwood in 1912, where he remained for the duration. Dr. N. F. Sutton died on August 21, 1937, aged 58 years, 9 months and 23 days.

Switzer, Egerton Ryerson
Dr.
1837-1923.

Egerton Ryerson Switzer was born at Ernestown, Ontario on August 5, 1837 son of Martin Switzer and Margaret Neville. He was a graduate of the Medical School at McGill University with the class of 1865. He practiced for a time in Fort Wayne, Indiana but after a few years settled in Salina, Kansas. Here, he lived through the grasshopper invasion of the 70s, the tornadoes, he saw when saloons were in full blast, when members of the James Gang were in hiding over the local drug store, and gamblers played for large stakes. The early doctor went on horseback, sulky or buggy and even on occasion by the Union Pacific Train to see patients. He was united in marriage to Arminda Preston on November 4, 1873. He served as Assessor of Salinas, three terms as Coroner of Saline County, nine years as Surgeon to the Missouri Pacific Railroad and was on the Pension Board under President Cleveland. He pioneered the introduction of alfalfa in 1874 which would become a major crop in the State. Dr. Egerton Ryerson Switzer died on August 15, 1923 aged 86 years 10 days.

Switzer, Frank Leslie Dr.
-1917

Frank Leslie Switzer was born in Switzerville, near Napanee. In 1882, he took the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Victoria University and, afterwards, entered Queen's University as a student in medicine and graduated in medicine from Trinity College in 1891. In 1892, he began practice at Riceville and in 1904 at Ottawa. Dr. Switzer died in Ottawa of pleuro-pneumonia on December 22, 1917 aged 55 years 4 months.

Switzer, Wilson Irvine Dr.
-1877

Wilson Irvine Switzer entered the study of medicine at Queen's College from which institution he graduated as Medical Doctor in 1862. He established himself in the practice of his profession at Napanee where he built up his workload and administered to the sick. Dr. Switzer died at Odessa on June 7, 1877, aged 41.

Symington, Margaret
Purdie Dr.
-1909
(updated)

Margaret Purdie Symington was born at the farm at Brighton, Ontario on April 27, 1855 daughter of Thomas Symington and Jane Duncan, immigrants from Scotland. She graduated the Galt Collegiate in 1881 and began her professional career as a high school teacher in her home town of Brighton and taught for several years before matriculating the O.M.C.W. in 1895. Dr. Symington took post graduate work in Edinburgh, attained her Licentiate of the Royal College there and on June 1, 1896 established herself in the practice of medicine at Napanee where she specialized in diseases of women and children. Dr Margaret Purdie Symington died in Napanee on September 1, 1909 aged 54 years 4 months 4 days.

Synon, George Cassius Dr.
1847-1903

George Cassius Synon was born at the farmhouse in June 1847 in Belleville, Ontario son of Thomas Synon and Catherine Daley. He immigrated with his family to Wisconsin in 1859 and received his primary education at Fitchburg; later he attended the University of Wisconsin in Madison and was a graduate in medicine from the Rush Medical College in Chicago in 1880. Dr. Synon was united in marriage to Elizabeth Hayden on Jan 11, 1881 and, a widower, to Annie McCarthy on Sept 29, 1887. Dr. George Cassius Synon followed the practice of his profession at Chicago where he died on May 21, 1903 aged 55 years 11 months.

Synon, William Arthur Dr.
1850-1925

William Arthur Synon was born in 1850 at Belleville son of Thomas Synon and Catherine Daley and brother of George; after a short stay in Prince Edward County the family removed to Fitchburg, Wisconsin. He followed his brother at the University of Madison, Wisconsin and graduated in medicine from the Rush Medical College in 1882. Married, a widower, and divorced, he was remarried to Mae Coughlin on June 2, 1914. Dr. W. A. Synon followed the practice of his profession at Chicago, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Fitchburg and North Hudson. Dr. William Arthur Synon died at Platteville, Wisconsin from an attack of apoplexy on July 14, 1925 aged 75 years.

Taft, Reginald Earl Dr.
1909-1965

Reginald Earl Taft was born at Tweed, Ontario on November 22, 1909 son of John Taft and Minnie Rosebush; he was the younger brother of Victor Leland Taft chronicled earlier. He was a graduate in medicine at Queen's University in 1934 and he established himself in general practice at Marmora, Ontario; his address was 48 Forsyth Street and his telephone number was # 4. Dr. Reginald Earl Taft died at Kingston on August 30, 1965 aged 55 years 9 months 8 days.

Taft, Victor Leland, Dr.
1892-1945

Victor Leland Taft was born in Tweed, Ontario on November 27, 1892 son of John Taft and Minnie Rosebush. He was schooled in Tweed and Picton, enlisted for World War 1, and attained his medical degree from Queen's University in 1920. For a time he resided in St. John, New Brunswick and later moved to Ameliasburgh leaving there to become a member of the medical staff at the Toronto Western Hospital. He then returned to Ameliasburgh where he was engaged in a large practice; here he was united in marriage to Beatrice Mason in 1932. Dr. Victor Leland Taft died in Belleville, as the result of injuries sustained when he fell from a ladder, on May 25, 1945 aged 52 years 5 months and 28 days.

Taylor, Henry Dr.
-1890

Henry Taylor was born in Birmingham, England and commenced his medical career at Aylesham, England in 1819, continuing there until 1839, when he came to Canada. He practiced at Montreal for one year and then moved to Ernestown, Ontario in 1840 where he practiced for 26 years. He served as Master of the Portland Loyal Orange Lodge in Frontenac County for three years. In 1875 he moved to Ryerson Township, Parry Sound District and was the oldest practicing Medical Doctor in Canada. Dr. Henry Taylor died at Burk's Falls, Ontario on April 3, 1890, aged 100 years 3 months.

Telfer, Gordon William
Dr.
1905-1975

Gordon William Telfer was born at South Grimsby, Ontario on July 7, 1905 son of William Telfer and Emma Doan. He was educated at Smithville, attended medical classes at Queen's University and graduated in 1931; he took post graduate work and trained as a psychiatrist and served at the Kingston Ontario Hospital before the War. During World War 11 he served in the Canadian Army Medical Corps overseas from 1940 to 1945 and was with the officers' training corps at Petawawa. Dr. Telfer practiced medicine in Trenton from 1948 to 1968 but retired due to failing health. Predeceased by his wife, the former Elizabeth Davison, Dr. Gordon William Telfer died at Kingston on January 21, 1975 aged 69 years 6 months 14 days.

Templeman, Charles
Perry Dr.
1884-1929

Charles Perry Templeman was born at Napanee on July 10, 1884, son of William Templeman and Sarah Adeline Perry. He received his early and High School education in his native town and his Medical Degree at Queen's University, graduating in 1906; he spent a year in post-graduate work in New York City and proceeded to Brandon, Manitoba in 1907. Dr. Templeman married Alice Cumberland in 1909. At the outbreak of the War in 1914, he became a Major in No. 3 Canadian Field Ambulance and served at Valcartier, Salisbury Plains and then to France and Belgium. He was promoted to the rank of Colonel and was made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire and a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order. He was an ardent horseman up to the time of his death. After the War, he was deeply interested in returned soldiers' organizations. For years, he was an Instructor in First Aid to the nursing staff of both the General and Mental Hospitals. Dr. C. P. Templeman died on June 12, 1929, aged 44 years, 11 months and 2 days.

Tennent, Robert Werden
Dr.
1882-1957

Robert Werden Tennent was born in Belleville on July 31, 1882, son of William Tennent and Margaret Werden. He graduated from Queen's University with his Degree in Medicine in 1905, and returned to Belleville to practice. Dr. Tennent married Ella Frances Carrier on October 1, 1914. In 1915, he joined the Royal Army Medical Corps and served overseas with the Imperial Army, returning to Belleville in 1917, and remained there for the duration. He served as Staff Physician at the Ontario School for the Deaf, and the Canadian National Railways and was an Honorary Member of the Staff of the Belleville General Hospital. Dr. R. W. Tennent died on November 7, 1957, aged 75 years, 3 months and 6 days.

Third, James Dr.
-1925

James Third was born in Campbellford and graduated from the University of Toronto in 1891. He practiced for four years in Trenton, and then was the Medical Superintendent of the Kingston General Hospital. It was here that he was instrumental in having the first X-ray equipment in Canada installed. Later, he resumed private practice in Kingston where he was also Professor of Medicine at Queen's University. Dr. Third was recognized as a leader in his profession, in the front rank as a Practitioner and as a Teacher. In 1919, he retired owing to failing health and died in Kingston on December 17, 1925, aged 60 years 9 months 4 days.

Thompson, Arthur Septimus Dr.

Arthur Septimus Thompson was born at South Shields, County Durham, England in December 1858, son of Joseph Thompson and 1858-1944

Alice Snowden. He came with his family to Canada in 1866 and studied his medical courses at the University of Manitoba. Here, he was a prize student winning the Boyle and Isbister Scholarship Awards and the Lafferty Gold Medal; he graduated with the Class of 1887, and took post graduate work at Edinburgh and Gladgow. Dr. Thompson served with the B Division of the North-West Mounted Police and practiced for a time in the North West Territories; he wed Anna Simpson in April, 1904 at Innisfail, Alberta. He was a brother to Ernest Thompson Seton who became a successful writer, artist, naturalist and a co-founder of the Boy Scouts of America. Dr. Arthur Septimus Thompson was a Medical Practitioner for more than half a century, settled at Havelock, Ontario, where he died on March 6, 1944, aged 85 years, 3 months.

Thompson, Frederick
Gregg Dr.
1865-1952

Frederick Gregg Thompson was born at Queensborough, Elzevir Township on March 21, 1865, son of Frank Thompson and Annie West. As a youth, he worked in Belleville for a time at the Great North Western Telegraph Company. He studied for his Medical Degree at Trinity College and graduated in 1888. Dr. Thompson married Mary Dora McNeeley on September 17, 1895 at St. Joseph, Missouri, where he followed his life's work. He was a Baptist Minister, as well as a Medical Doctor, organized the Sunday school at the New Union Church; and had one of the first cars in the area to go more than eight miles per hour; this was the turn of the horse and buggy era. Dr. Frederick Gregg Thompson died on February 5, 1952, aged 86 years, 10 months, 14 days.

Thompson, Russell Arnold
Dr.
1895-1991

Russell Arnold Thompson was born at the farmhouse near Zephyr, Scott Township, Ontario County, on March 25, 1895 son of William Thompson and Abigail Arnold. He was a Veteran of World War 1 and after he was demobilized from the Canadian Army he attended Queen's University and graduated in medicine in 1924; he was united in marriage to Olga Volker on June 23, 1926. He was in the practice of his life's work at Wellington, Ontario for more than 60 years; at the age of 95, Dr. Thompson took the salute at the march-past of Veterans in the Village on Remembrance Day, 1990. He had witnessed the Battle of Vimy Ridge. Dr. Russell Arnold Thompson died at Wellington on September 27, 1991 aged 96 years 6 months and 12 days.

Thomson, James Crawford Dr.
1887-1913

James Crawford Thomson was born at Hastings, Ontario on Aug 10, 1887 son of Rev. David Thomson and Janet MacMillan. He was educated at the public schools in his native town and at the Norwood high school and graduated in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1908. Dr Thomson took post graduate work at the German Deaconess Hospital in Buffalo, this facility being established in 1895 and followed the model hospital and nurse training centre first instituted in Kaiserwerth, Germany. Dr Thomson soon established himself in the practice of his life's work in Winchester, Ontario and here was united in marriage to Henrietta Moore on July 3, 1912. He was compelled to return to Hastings where he died at the Manse of pulmonary tuberculosis. Dr James Crawford Thomson died on Apr 7, 1913 aged 25 years 7 months 27 days.

Thorburn, Richard Dr.
-1900

Richard Thorburn was born at Queenston, Ontario and graduated Medical Doctor from the University of Toronto in 1865. After spending some time in England, he commenced practice in Queenston, removing to Colborne in 1876. Here, he followed the practice of his profession until the time of his death. Dr. Thorburn died in Toronto on December 14, 1900, aged 58.

Thorn, William Frost Dr.
1877-1905

William Frost Thorn was born at Picton, Ontario on May 13, 1877 son of James Thorn and Augusta Herrington. This notice is from his school yearbook: "W Frost Thorn was born in the picturesque town of Picton on the Bay of Quinte and received his preliminary education at the Picton high school. Having experienced some valuable experience in the drug line, he desired to study Medicine and graduated from the medical school of Toronto University in 1904". Dr Thorn took post graduate work in Manhattan, New York where he died the following year, outlived by both parents; he is interred at Glenwood Cemetery in Picton. Dr William Frost Thorn died on Nov 16, 1905 aged 28 years 6 months 3 days.

Thorne, Stephen Huffman
Dr.
1865-1919

Stephen Huffman Thorne was born at the farmhouse on Oct 23, 1865 near Colborne son of John Thorne and Nancy Huffman. He entered the local public school, the grammar school at Brighton and subsequently attended Albert College in Belleville. He registered with the Royal College of Physicians, Kingston in 1883 and obtained his medical diploma from Queen's in 1887. Dr. Thorne took post graduate work at the N.Y. Polyclinic and Mount Sinai Hospital in N.Y. In December 1887 Dr. Thorne settled in Bobcaygeon and was united in marriage to Nellie Miller on June 23, 1890. Dr. Thorne served as Officer of Health for Bobcaygeon and was active in municipal affairs. For many years he treated the Indian people of Curve Lake free of charge. In 1894 Dr. Thorne turned his boathouse into a workshop making canoes and established the first yacht harbour in Bobcaygeon. Dr. Stephen Huffman Thorne died at Lindsay, Ontario on Dec 6, 1919 aged 54 years 1 month 13 days.

Thornton, Frederick Barton Dr.
1881-1950

Frederick Barton Thornton was born at Consecon on August 17, 1881, son of Dr. Thomas Henry Thornton and Sarah Elizabeth Ross. He graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1906. Dr.

Thornton married Lula Mae Sprung on November 18, 1911. After graduation, he returned to Consecon, where he joined in practice with his father. They were assisted in their home deliveries by Mrs. Ellen Sprung, a midwife, who served with the doctors for many years, and was the mother of the new doctor's wife. Dr. Thornton was active with the Masons and served as the Lodge Master for some time before removing to Toronto. Dr. F. B. Thornton died on January 11, 1950, aged 68 years, 4 months and 24 days.

Thornton, Thomas Henry
Dr.
-1911

Thomas Henry Thornton was a native of Clarke Township, Durham County. He graduated from the medical school at Queen's University in 1870 and established himself in Consecon, Prince Edward County, where he spent his entire professional career. He was appointed Coroner in 1872; he was one of the best-known physicians in the county. Dr. Thornton died there on November 24, 1911, aged 69 years 7 months 14 days.

Thrasher, Joseph Waller
Dr.
1847-1885

Joseph Waller Thrasher was born at the farmhouse in Thurlow, Township, Hastings County in 1847 son of William Thrasher and Abigail Quinn. He started his professional career as an Episcopal Methodist Minister and was married, while serving in Napanee, to Elizabeth Hazard on Jan 17, 1871. He entered into the study of medicine and graduated in 1880 from the St. Louis American Medical College. Dr. Thrasher followed the practice of his profession at St. Louis and Pacific, Missouri but removed to Fall River, Kansas in the summer of 1885 for the benefit of his wife's health; he was a successful physician and an active Mason. Dr. Joseph Waller Thrasher died at Fall River on Oct 23, 1885 aged 38.

Thwaites, James Dr.
-1869

James Thwaites was born in Appleby, England. He was the first doctor to locate in Ameliasburgh. He was a member of the Royal College of Surgeons and had practiced in Madoc in the early 1860s. Dr. Thwaites was succeeded by Dr. File after his death which occurred on May 19, 1869, aged 35.

Tice, James Winfred Dr.
1898-1973

James Winfred Tice was born at Madoc, Ontario on June 21, 1898 son of Thorpe Tice and Blanche Clinton. He graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1921 and established a practice in internal medicine and occupational health at Hamilton, Ontario; he was united in marriage to Jeanette Backus on May 2, 1925. Dr. Tice exhibited a keen interest in sports and he was an early student of aviation medicine; he was appointed in the mid-30s as senior medical officer to 118 Auxiliary Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force. He became Director of Medical Services (Air) in 1942 and served with distinction until the end of the War. He was responsible for the establishment of the Institute of Aviation Medicine. He retired in 1946 in the rank of Air Commodore and resumed his civilian medical practice in Hamilton. Dr. James Winfred Tice died at Hamilton on January 18, 1973 aged 74 years 6 months and 19 days.

Tickell, Alfred Havelock
Dr.
1864-1942

Alfred Havelock Tickell was born on Oct 5, 1864 at Belleville, Ontario son of George Tickell and Hannah Bettam. He immigrated to the U.S. in 1886 and was a graduate in medicine at Emory College in Atlanta, Georgia in 1891; he established himself at the mining community of Washington, California where he remained less than a year, removing to Nevada City, Ca. He was united in marriage to Belle Morton on Sept 1, 1897. Dr. Tickell served as County Health physician for almost 4 decades and answered calls for medical aid day and night, calls which often took him out to the surrounding towns. He took a deep interest in local mining properties and his investments therein were large. Dr. Alfred Havelock Tickell died at Nevada City, California on Jan 28, 1942 aged 77 years 3 months 23 days.

Tindle, Thomas John Clayton Dr.
1876-1934

Thomas John Clayton Tindle was born on the farm at Peterborough on July 19, 1876, son of George Black Tindle and Mary Ivison. He received his medical training at Trinity University in 1903 and soon established himself at Flinton. Dr. Tindle married Isabelle Stuart Bryden on July 4, 1906 and, after her death, Mary Jane Grant on September 2, 1927. He was a well-known physician throughout Hastings and Lennox and adjoining counties. He practiced at Flinton for 31 years; he was a strong supporter of the temperance cause. Dr. T. J. C. Tindle died at the Belleville General Hospital on May 21, 1934, aged 57 years, 10 months and 2 days.

Tisdale, John Cass Dr.
1839-1873

John Cass Tisdale was born at Port Hope, Ontario in 1839, son of George and Cassie Tisdale. He studied locally and entered into the Medical Class of 1864, graduated from the University of Toronto, and was licensed to practice in Ontario on May 30, 1866. He established himself at Cold Springs, where he remained a few years, before hanging his shingle at Cavanville, Ontario. He married Helen Fee on November 14, 1872. Dr. John Cass Tisdale was cut short on his life expectancy and died on October 26, 1873, less than a year after his marriage, aged 33.

Topliff, Earle Elijah Dr.
1885-1953

Earle Elijah Topliff was born at Bath, Ontario on November 22, 1885, son of William Topliff and Rosanna Amelia Smith. He attended the Napanee High School and after Matriculation he taught in Ontario and Alberta. He returned to study his Medical Courses at Queen's University where he graduated with his Degree in 1917. Dr. Topliff was a veteran of World War I and served overseas in the ranks of Number 7 Canadian General Hospital. He took his internship in the Surgical Division of the University of Vienna where he specialized in Obstetrics and Gynaecology. Dr. Topliff was united in marriage to Lucy Martha Liesemer, established himself in general practice in Sandon, British Columbia and removed to Rossland in 1928. Dr. Earle Elijah Topliff died on August 21, 1953, aged 67 years, 8 months and 29 days.

Totton, Charles R. Dr.
1881-1955

Charles R. Totton was born at Wellman's Corners on June 13, 1881, son of Robert Totton and Mary Ann Sharp. He graduated from the University of Toronto in Arts in 1907 and Medicine in 1909; he married Lena Mae Johnson on May 20, 1908. He soon established himself at Windsor, but when the First Great War broke out, he served with the Imperial Army in Europe. On his return to Canada in 1918, he settled in Verwood, Saskatchewan where he operated a private hospital. In 1928, he moved to Assiniboia and opened a private hospital there, removing to Regina about 1946. Here he joined the staff of the Provincial Department of Public Health serving as Administrator of the Northern Health District and as Supervisor of Hospitals. Dr. C. R. Totton died at Regina on April 19, 1955, aged 73 years, 10 months and 6 days.

Tovell, Ralph Moore Dr.
1901-1967

Ralph Moore Tovell was born at Sydenham, Ontario on December 31, 1901 son of Dr. Mathew Tovell and Ida Moore. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1926 and after postgraduate study in anaesthesiology in Toledo and New York he practised for a short period in Sydenham before joining the staff of the Mayo School of Medicine. During World War 11 he served with the Medical Forces of the United States Army and was awarded the Bronze Star for the development of a resuscitator and an ether vapourizer for use in the Eastern Theatre of Operations. He served as president of the American Society of Anaesthesiologists and editor of the journal Anaesthesiology. Dr. Ralph Moore Tovell died at Hartford, Connecticut on January 7, 1967 aged 65 years and 6 days.

Tower, James Livingstone Dr.
1891-1936

James Livingstone Tower was born in Montreal, Quebec on February 12, 1891, son of John Stirling Tower and Mary Janet McMillan. He spent his formative years in Belleville, Ontario; he was a brilliant student and graduated from the Medical Course at Queen's University in 1913. He was with the Canadian Army Medical Corps in World War I, served in France and Mesopotamia, and rose to the rank of Major. Dr. Tower took post-graduate training at the Good Shepherd Hospital in Syracuse, New York and was connected with the Sanatorium at White Plains, New York. He was established in the practice of his profession in Belleville for nine years, following which he served as a Psychiatrist for the New York State Commission for Mental Defectives and as Assistant Physician at Bloomington Hospital, New York. He then joined the Staff of the New York Mental Hygiene Commission, where he served as the Child Guidance Psychiatrist from 1927 to 1935. He went to England for further study in Psychiatry and returned to Albany, New York. Dr. James Livingstone Tower died on July 10, 1936, aged 45 years, 4 months and 28 days.

Tracy, Robert Dr.
-1912

Robert Tracy was born in Abergaveny, Wales and came to Canada in his boyhood. He graduated from the Royal Medical College at Kingston, now Queen's University, in 1862. He immediately established himself at Hastings, removed to Seaforth, and, about 1871, moved to Belleville. Dr. Tracy had a long association with the military having accompanied the Northwest Field Force to the west during the Riel rebellion, as Surgeon Lieutenant Colonel. Dr. Tracy died in Belleville on April 20, 1912, aged 76 years 2 months.

Trousdale, James Dowker
Dr.
1829-1868

James Dowker Trousdale was born in 1829 son of Mathias and Mary Trousdale of Newboro, Portland Township, Ontario. He attained his Medical Degree from the Kingston Medical College from which institution he graduated in 1860. He was united in marriage to Charlotte Blake on February 4, 1859. He spent some time in Tyendinaga Township where, in 1864, he was living on Lot 32, 3rd Concession. Buried at the Napanee Cemetery, Dr. James Dowker Trousdale died on November 28, 1868 aged 39.

Trumpour, Ryerson John
Dr.
1851-1913

Ryerson John Trumpour was born at Picton, Ontario on June 1, 1851 son of Samuel Trumpour and Harriet VanDusen. He began his professional career as a teacher and was united in marriage to Emma Augusta Miller on October 28, 1878. He left his principalship at the two room school on Lambton Avenue, Toronto to enter into the study of medicine at the University of Toronto and graduated with the class of 1899. Dr. Trumpour established himself at Unionville, Ontario where he practiced medicine, was a Mason, an Orangeman and a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. Dr. Ryerson John Trumpour died of the effects of a paralytic stroke on November 19, 1913 aged 62 years 5 months 18 days.

Trumpour, Roswell Henry
Dr.
1876-1930

Roswell Henry Trumpour was born at the farm at Salmon Point, Athol Township, Prince Edward County, Ontario on Apr 8, 1876 son of Samuel Trumpour and Harriet Van Dusen. He received his preliminary education in the Picton public and high schools and was united in marriage to Victoria Luno on May 24, 1897. A graduate of the St Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1901, Dr Trumpour practiced at Spring Bluff, Missouri for 9 years, then at St Louis for about 7 years and then at Kirkwood, Mo. for the last 13 years. Dr Trumpour held patents for his inventions including a better label for bottles and an improved handle for telephones. Dr Roswell Henry Trumpour died on Dec 12, 1930 aged 54 years 8 months 4 days.

Tucker, Milton Mallory
Dr.
1849-1931

Milton Mallory Tucker was born at Orono, Ontario on September 21, 1849, son of Joseph Tucker and Sabra Mallory. He graduated from the Medical School of Victoria College in 1870, and began his career at Brighton, Ontario. He was married first to Elva Jane Scott on August 5, 1874 and for a few years practiced his profession in Finlay, Michigan in partnership with his cousin, Dr. G. W. Jones. Upon the death of his wife he spent two years in study abroad in Berlin, Paris and London, and after a year in Detroit, he returned to Orono in 1878. He was married to his late wife's younger sister at Belleville on May 12, 1886. Dr. Milton Mallory Tucker died on July 20, 1931, aged 81 years, 9 months, 29 days

Turnbull, Agnes Maria Dr.
-1907

Agnes Turnbull was born at Melrose, Upper Canada and received her primary education locally. Her family moved to Quebec, where Agnes obtained a diploma from McGill Normal School and began teaching. She subsequently attended Women's Medical College, at Kingston graduating in 1892. Dr. Turnbull was intent on becoming a Medical Missionary and, in 1892, arrived in India where she combined evangelistic activities with medical work. India was struck by famine and plague at the turn of the century and by her "service in the advancement of the public interest in India", she was recognized by the Imperial Government with the Kaiser-i-Hind Medal. Dr. Agnes Turnbull died in Neemuch, India on January 5, 1907, aged 40 years 4 months 6 days.

Turney, Herbert William
Dr.
1890-1923

Herbert William Turney was born at Trenton, Ontario on March 19, 1890, son of George Fletcher Turney and Josephine Potter. He was educated in the local classrooms, attended the University of Toronto graduating in Arts and received his Medical Degree from McGill University in 1918. A veteran of World War I, he took post-graduate training in New York, practised for a short time in Montreal, Quebec and established himself at Grand Mere, Quebec about 1921. He was united in marriage to Muriel Black, a Graduate Nurse at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. In addition to his practice, he served as Physician to the Laurentide Health Service. Dr. Herbert William Turney died on February 21, 1923, aged 32 years, 11 months and 2 days.

Turski, Marian Dr.
1907-1990

Marian Turski was born at Poznan, Poland on January 1, 1907 son of Joseph and Anna Turski; he was a graduate at Akademia Medyczna, Poland, in 1935. During World War 11 he served with the Polish Army as a medical officer. Dr. Turski took post graduate work, trained as a psychiatrist and served at St. John's provincial hospital of psychiatry, then at St. Anne's hospital in Montreal from 1957 to 1972 when he then moved to Belleville. His interests included the environment and wildlife preservation; he was a member of the Quinte Polonia Club and the C.N.I.B. Survived by his wife, the former Doris Reid, Dr. Marian Turski died on March 21, 1990 aged 83 years 2 months 20 days.

Tuttle, Leslie Lucius Dr.
-1915

Leslie Lucius Tuttle was a native of Storrington, Frontenac County. He was educated locally and entered into the study of medicine, completing his studies and graduating Medical Doctor from Queen's University in 1875. He immediately established himself at Tweed where he followed the practice of his profession for the next 40 years. Dr. Tuttle died at Tweed on November 13, 1915, aged 67 years 6 days.

Twells, Charles Henry Dr.
1876-1941

Charles Henry Twells was born in Karachi, India on Oct 17, 1876 son of George Twells and Georgiana Duff. Following his service in the South African War he entered into the study of medicine and graduated from the Grant Medical College of Bombay in 1904. Dr Twells established himself in Madeley, Shropshire, England and was united in marriage to Edith Corfield in 1915. He was declared unfit for service in W.W. 1 because of tuberculosis and subsequently showed evidence of bipolar disease. In 1927 Dr Twells left England in order to establish a better life for his wife and children; he established one of the finest farms one mile west of Consecon, Ontario. On Jan 2, 1929 he murdered his 2 children and shot his brother in law through the head. Dr Twells was found not guilty by reason of insanity and ordered to spend the rest of his life in a mental hospital. Dr Charles Henry Twells died in Penetanguishene, Ontario on Mar 18, 1941 aged 64 years 5 months 1 day.

Tyner, William George Dr.
1877-1908

William George Tyner was born at Kingston on November 19, 1877, son of William Tyner and Anna Abbott. He was a graduate of Queen's University, where he attained his Arts Degree in 1898, and graduated with his Medical Degree in 1901; he took post-graduate work in Orthopaedics in New York. Dr. Tyner married Maria Hepburn on April 15, 1903. He immediately established himself in practice at Picton, where he drew a wide clientele. He suffered a motorcar accident between Picton and Belleville. He had left town in the evening in his motor runabout, bound for Belleville, where, on a dark spot of the road and with a deep ditch on either side, his auto ran off the narrow roadway and lurched into the ditch; he was probably thrown from his seat, struck his temple, with death being instantaneous. He was found in the morning by a passing farmer under the upturned car. Dr. W. G. Tyner died on October 14, 1908, aged 30 years, 10 months and 25 days.

Usher, William Claude Dr.
1885-1909

William Claude Usher was born at Codrington on May 10, 1885, son of William Usher and Ida Maria Barringer. William Usher, the father of our subject, was born in Northumberland, England in 1855 and was only two years old when his parents brought their young family to Canada and settled in Haldimand Township; he became a well-respected blacksmith in Codrington. Claude Usher attended Codrington schools and earned his Medical Degree at Harvard Medical School, where he graduated in 1908; he interned at the Boston Lying-in Hospital. Dr. W. C. Usher died of accidental drowning in the Charles River on August 10, 1909, aged 24 years and 3 months.

Valleau, Archibald John Dr.
1867-1938

Archibald John Valleau was born in Selby, Ontario on January 21, 1867, son of Andrew Zabriskie Valleau, and Mary Jane Andrews. The father of our subject was a harness maker, and he and Dr. George Zabriskie Valleau, previously chronicled, had a common great grandfather who originated from Hackensack, New Jersey, U.S.A.. Archibald studied Medicine at Queen's University where he graduated in 1891, and soon established himself at Napanee, where he practiced for but a few years, before removing to Wolcott, Vermont, where he spent several decades before settling at Morrisville, Vermont, U.S.A.. Dr. Archibald Valleau died on February 18, 1938, aged 71 years, 27 days.

Valleau, George Zabriskie Dr.
-1906

George Zabriskie Valleau was a graduate of the medical school at Queen's University in 1867. He, at one time, was a resident of Belleville but removed to Carson City, Michigan. Dr. Valleau died at Carson City on September 17, 1906, aged 64 years 10 months 16 days.

Van Dyck, Andrew Dr.
-1871

Andrew Van Dyck was born in Kinderhook, New York and graduated from the College of Physicians, New York on March 25, 1822, whereupon he commenced practice at Kinderhook, with his father. He moved to Canada in 1827, where he was licensed to practice physic, surgery and midwifery in Upper Canada by Lieutenant Governor Maitland; Dr. Van Dyck practiced in Belleville until 1838. He was a reformer and disliked the existing government and because of political trouble, he returned to Kinderhook and resumed practice with his father, Dr. Henry Van Dyck. In 1843, he removed to Oswego; in 1863, he was commissioned a member of the Voluntary Aids Corps of Surgeons by Governor Seymour. In 1865, he was appointed Collector of the Port of Oswego by Abraham Lincoln and renominated by Andrew Johnson. Dr. Van Dyck died in New York on August 31, 1871, aged 70 years 7 months 4 days.

Van Luven, Otto Dr.
1889-1965

Otto Van Luven was born at Brousseau, Quebec on February 19, 1889, son of Leonard Van Luven and Jane Teachout. He received his preliminary education at Battersea and Sydenham and graduated in Medicine from Queen's University in 1915. He went overseas with the Canadian Army Medical Corps and later helped establish training courses for the medical personnel back in Canada; he rose to the rank of Major. Dr. Van Luven was united in marriage to Lillian Ethel Toland on June 28, 1916. Following the War, he was first established in Hamilton, Ontario, removing to Consecon about 1927, where he established himself in his life's work; he later built a new home on the site of the tragic Dr. Bean fire. While at Consecon, there was a typhoid epidemic which was traced to the Weller's Bay Cheese factory. At the outbreak of World War II, he re-enlisted and was Commanding Officer of Military Hospitals in Newfoundland and at Petawawa, Terrace and Nanaimo, British Columbia. In 1946, he joined the Department of Veteran's Affairs, remaining there until his retirement in 1957. Dr. Otto Van Luven died on November 1, 1965, aged 76 years, 8 months and 12 days.

Van Vlack, Gilbert James
Dr.
1844-1883

Gilbert James Van Vlack was born at Marysburgh, Prince Edward County in 1844, son of Elias Van Vlack and Sarah Johnson. He studied his Medical Courses at Queen's University from which institution he graduated in 1868. He was united in marriage to Kate Severio on February 8 1871. Dr. Van Vlack established himself in his practice at San Francisco, where he "enjoyed one of the largest and most lucrative practices in the city, and was considered one of the ablest physicians on the Coast. He was of Scotch descent and was a prominent member of the Caledonian Club and St. Andrew's Society". Dr. Gilbert James Van Vlack died on January 26, 1883, aged 39.

Vandervoort, Elgin
Dorland Dr.
-1939

Elgin Dorland Vandervoort was born in the Township of Rawdon where he received his primary school education. As a youth, he attended Royal Military College and served with the militia during the Fenian raids. Prior to entering the medical profession he taught school for a time. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1881 and went to the village of Queensborough, in Hastings County, where he practiced until 1885, when he removed to Deseronto; here, he served as Reeve and was Physician for the Tyendinaga Reserve. He followed the practice of his profession in Hastings County for more than 60 years. Dr. Vandervoort died on March 6, 1939, aged 85 years 9 months 27 days.

Vankleeck, Peter Douglas
Dr.
1873-1929

Peter Douglas Vankleeck was born at the Allen Settlement near Madoc on Sept 23, 1873 son of Peter Vankleeck and Margaret Armstrong. He was of United Empire Loyalist stock, his ancestors having come to Ontario and settled at what is now known as Vankleeck Hill. He was a graduate in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1899 and settled at Armstrong, B.C., enjoyed a very large practice and was a consulting physician and surgeon for the whole North Okanagan Valley. Dr. VanKleeck was united in marriage to Florence Groves on Sept 9, 1914. He was prominent in the encouragement of local sport and in many fields of social activity and was the Liberal candidate for the Provincial House. Dr. Peter Douglas VanKleeck died at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Mn. on July 30, 1929 aged 55 years 10 months 7 days.

Vrooman, John Perry Dr.
-1923

John Perry Vrooman was born at Camden and graduated in medicine from Victoria University of Toronto in 1887. He practiced for 8 years in Yarker and removed to Napanee in 1896, where he continued the practice of his profession. He was active in community affairs and was elected the Liberal member of the Ontario Legislature, for Lennox, in June 1923. Dr. Vrooman never took his seat in the House; he died on August 20, 1923, aged 64 years 5 months 25 days.

Wade, George Harrison
Dr.
-1949

George Harrison Wade was a graduate of Trinity College in 1897 and immediately returned to Brighton where he assumed the practice of his cousin, Dr. R. J. Wade, who had left for Europe on his honeymoon. Dr. Wade later practiced in Cobourg and then, at Hanna, Alberta. He was appointed as Superintendent for the Independent Order of Foresters in Alberta and Saskatchewan in 1911, and in 1922, was elected Mayor of Hanna, a position he held for over a decade. Dr. Wade died in Ontario in 1949, aged 87 years 1 month 27 days.

Wade, John James Dr.
1881-1934

John James Wade was born at the Isle of Man on January 9, 1881, son of Joseph Wade and Margaret Kelly; they were married in the parish of Marown, Isle of Man, on November 16, 1878. He arrived in this country aboard the vessel Siberian at Halifax, Nova Scotia, on March 26, 1889. He received his university education at Queen's where he graduated with his Medical Degree in 1906. Dr. Wade married Christina Craig McIntyre at Balderson, Lanark County, on January 3, 1911. Dr. Wade established himself in Hastings Village, Northumberland County, soon after graduation and remained there for about 10 years before removing to Manitoulin Island, where he was Physician to the Mississaguas Indians of Alnwick for about 5 years. About 1922, he was at Balderson, Ontario, the hometown of his wife, and then at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, for several years before going to Coe Hill, Ontario, about three years before his death. Dr. J. J. Wade, apparently in his usual health, was found dead in his office on March 21, 1934, aged 53 years, 2 months and 12 days.

Wade, Robert James Dr.
-1928

Robert James Wade was a native of Brighton and took his medical training at Trinity Medical College, New York Polyclinic and Queen's University, obtaining his Medical Doctor degree in 1888. He took postgraduate work in London and then returned to Brighton where he practiced his profession for 38 years. He took an active part in public life and had the distinction of being the youngest man who ever became Warden of the United Counties of Northumberland. He was Medical Officer of Health and represented the district at the Department of Soldiers Civil Re-establishment, which enabled returning troops to reintegrate into civilian life. Dr. Wade died on February 24, 1928, aged 66 years 10 months 27 days.

Wade, William Dr.
1841-1879

William Wade was a native of England and a Graduate of the Medical School at Victoria College with the Class of 1864; he was licensed to practice medicine in Ontario on June 18, 1866. He established himself in his life's work at Cobourg where he remained for the duration. He was married to Cecelia. Dr. William Wade died at Cobourg of inflammation of the lungs on February 8, 1879, aged 38.

Wade, William Ryerson
Dr.
-1896

William Ryerson Wade was a native of Brighton and began his career as a teacher. He later graduated as a gold medallist from Queen's University in 1888. He established his practice in Dunchurch, Parry Sound District. He served as Reeve of Hagerman Township since its incorporation in 1890. He was active in politics and was the nominee of the Conservative Party for the approaching general election for the Dominion Parliament. Dr. Wade was a victim of a diphtheria epidemic that swept the region and died on February 5, 1896, aged 32.

Wade, William Wilson Dr.
1899-1974

William Wilson Wade was born at Brighton on March 13, 1899 son of Dr. Robert Wade and Lillie Webb. During World War 1 he served overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Force and was awarded the British War Medal and the Victory Medal. Following graduation in medicine from Queen's University in 1930 he took further training in New York City and at the Montreal General Hospital. During World War 11 he again served and attained the rank of Major. Dr. Wade established himself at Cobourg where he carried on a general practice and served on staff at the Cobourg District Hospital. He served as a director on the board of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children for 15 years. Dr. William Wilson Wade died at Cobourg on May 26, 1974 aged 75 years 2 months 13 days.

Wagar, Charles Melville
Dr.
1882-1907

Charles Melville Wagar was born at Camden East on January 16, 1882, son of Joel Wagar and Charlotte Denyes. He attained his Medical Degree at Queen's University where he graduated in 1905. Dr. C. M. Wagar accepted an interne position at the Hahnemann Hospital in Rochester, Minnesota, where he contracted spinal meningitis and died at that institution on January 12, 1907, aged 24 years, 11 months and 26 days.

Wagar, Ephraim Nelson
Dr.
1862-1934

Ephraim Nelson Wagar was born in South Fredericksburgh Township, Lennox and Addington County on July 8, 1862 son of Ephraim Wagar and Hannah Card. He taught for a few years, was united in marriage to Lovisa Lane on January 6, 1892 and entered into the study of medicine at Kingston where he graduated in 1896. He soon established himself at Hayburn, Ontario which is half way between Napanee and Adolphustown, before removing to Mead Village, Saunders County, Nebraska then America, Brule County, South Dakota, U.S.A. For three years, Dr. Ephraim Nelson Wagar lived the retired life and died at Sillsville, Ontario, the result of ulcers and an embolus, on February 20, 1934 aged 71 years 7 months 12 days.

Walker, Archibald Dunn
Dr.
-1914

Archibald Dunn Walker was a native of Belleville and a graduate of Queen's University in 1888. His first practice took him to Portland, Oregon. He returned to Belleville in the early 1890s to follow the practice of his profession but later, went to Southern California for 18 months, for the benefit of his health. In 1898, he was back in Belleville, but after some years he removed to California. Dr. Walker died in Riverside, California on August 9, 1914, aged 49 years 5 months 6 days.

Walker, Hugh Robert Dr.
-1912

Hugh Robert Walker was born in Belleville and graduated from Queen's University Medical School in 1897. He began the practice of his profession in North Dakota but, after a year, moved to Elsinmore, California. Dr. Walker died in California on July 13, 1912, aged 40 years 1 month.

Walkinshaw, William Dr.
1866-1948

William Walkinshaw was born in Campbellford, Ontario on September 18, 1866, son of George Walkinshaw and Eleanor Hall. He studied Medicine with the Class of 1893 at Queen's University; was united in marriage on January 18, 1893 to Anna Maude Copely, and together they removed to Stillwell, Indiana. He carried on a successful practice there and for a time served as County Coroner. He was a member of the LaPorte County, Indiana State and American Medical Associations. Dr. William Walkinshaw died on March 10, 1948, aged 81 years, 5 months, 22 days.

Wallace, Samuel J. Dr.
-1888

Samuel J. Wallace, a medical graduate from England, was one of the first doctors to establish a practice in Campbellford. He started his work in a small frame building, which later developed into the Wallace Block. He practiced for many years and operated a drug store; he was succeeded by Dr. F. W. Loucks. Dr. Wallace died of heart disease on June 22, 1888, aged 69 years 3 months 6 days.

Wallbridge, Cecil Talmedge Dr.

Cecil Talmedge Wallbridge was born at Rossmore, Ontario on March 4, 1890, son of William Lewis Wallbridge and Alberta Fox, both of 1890-1965

United Empire Loyalist stock. He received his preliminary education at Northport and Picton schools and earned his Medical Degree at Queen's University in 1914. He interned at Jeffrey Hale's Hospital in Quebec City, joined the Canadian Army Medical Corps and served in England, France and Germany. He was united in marriage to Margaret Henrietta McKay on June 1, 1917, practised in Halifax and Deseronto before establishing himself in his life's work at Killaloe, Ontario. Dr. Cecil Talmedge Wallbridge died December 16, 1965, aged 75 years, 9 months and 12 days.

Wallbridge, Francis George Dr.
-1937

Francis George Wallbridge was a native of Belleville and a graduate of Trinity Medical College in 1892. He practiced in Midland, Ontario for 22 years before returning to Belleville. Here he followed the practice of his profession and acted as Chief Coroner for the County of Hastings. In 1915, he went overseas as Medical Officer for the 157th Battalion, returning to his birthplace after the War. Dr. Wallbridge died on March 4, 1937, aged 65 years 8 months 17 days.

Walmsley, James Howard
Dr.
1890-1969

James Howard Walmsley was born at Milford, Ontario on October 1, 1890, son of James Walmsley and Florence Davis. He was educated in the county and at Queen's University with the Medical Class of 1914. He was a veteran of World War I and served overseas in France, England and Belgium; was wounded in action and later returned and established himself at Picton, Ontario, where he served his community for forty-nine years. Captain Walmsley was united in marriage on July 5, 1934 to Marian Edith Creeggan. He was well respected and was selected as the Recipient of the Centennial Medal for Athol Township in 1967. Dr. James Howard Walmsley died December 27, 1969, aged 79 years, 2 months and 26 days.

Walsh, Stanley Young Dr.
1890-1973

Stanley Young Walsh was born at Cavan Township, Ontario on March 28, 1890, son of Joseph Sharpe Walsh and Margaret Cruikshank. He graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1915, and then served overseas in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps with the rank of Captain. He hung his shingle at Keene, Ontario, where he followed his life's work for several years followed by two years post-graduate work in Edinburgh. On his return to Canada, he began a general practice at Peterborough, Ontario. He remained a bachelor. Dr. Stanley Young Walsh died on June 9, 1973, aged 83 years, 2 months and 11 days.

Walters, Charles Henry Austin Dr.
1906-1970

Charles Henry Austin Walters was born at Belleville, Ontario on August 1, 1906 son of Charles Walters and Henrietta Austin. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1930, took post graduate training at the Montreal General Hospital and in 1932 served for a year at Tufts College Medical School in Boston. He returned to Belleville where he conducted a surgical practice and was united in marriage to Dorothy Chant on May 22, 1937. During World War 11 he served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps attaining the rank of Major. Dr. Charles Henry Austin Walters died at Belleville on February 6, 1970 aged 63 years 6 months 5 days.

Walters, James Allan Dr.
1906-1986

James Allan Walters was born at Napanee, Ontario on July 21, 1906 son of Charles Walters and Stella Wagar. He studied medicine at the University of Toronto, graduated in 1933 and spent the next 10 years studying neurology and psychiatry in Canada and England. He served in World War 11 at the psychiatric hospital in Basingstoke, England and then served in Europe. In 1945 he returned to work at the neuropsychiatry clinic at Toronto General Hospital and Wellesley Hospital. He received a number of awards including the Queen Elizabeth Silver Jubilee Medal in 1977. He served as president of the Canadian Neurological Society, was proud of his United Empire Loyalist connection and an ardent philanthropist. Dr. James Allan Walters died at Toronto on February 26, 1986 aged 79 years 7 months 5 days.

Ward, Everett Franklin
Garfield Dr.
1891-1935

Everett Franklin Garfield Ward was born at Wallbridge, Ontario on May 17, 1891 son of Robert Ward and Harriet Sine. During World War 1 he saw considerable service overseas being at Mesopotamia, Salonika, Bagdad and France. He held the rank of Major in the Royal Army Medical Corps, 1914 to 1918. He was a graduate of medicine at Queen's University in 1920 and he was soon established in practice at Foxboro, Ontario. Dr. Ward served as medical officer of health for Thurlow Township and took an active interest in sports. Dr. Everett Franklin Garfield Ward died in Belleville on October 21, 1935 aged 44 years 5 months and 4 days.

Ward, George Collins
Tremaine Dr.
-1912

George Collins Tremaine Ward was born at Cataraqui, Ontario and attended Grammar School at Kingston and Bath. While there, he drove the mail from Kingston to Sandhurst and back daily. After a short span of teaching, he entered Queen's Medical School and, prior to graduation, received an appointment as Demonstrator of Anatomy. He attained his Medical Doctor degree in 1879 and immediately established himself at Napanee where he remained until his death. He represented the East Ward for many years in the Town Council and, in 1897, was elected Mayor; he also served on the Board of Electric Light Commission. Dr. Ward died on July 27, 1912, aged 56 years 6 months 9 days.

Ward, George Harold Dr.
1879-1939

George Harold Ward was born at Napanee on August 16, 1879, son of Dr. George Collins Tremaine Ward and Mary Elizabeth Robertson. He received his public and high school education at Napanee and entered into the study of medicine at Queen's University where he graduated in 1903. He had a splendid practice in New York City for several years and removed to Englewood, New Jersey. He was Chief of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Division of the Englewood, Holy Name and Teaneck Hospitals and Consultant to the Nyack and Rockland County Hospitals. He continued to visit his summer camp on the shores of the Bay of Quinte, not far from town. Dr. G. H. Ward died on May 30, 1939, aged 59 years, 9 months and 14 days.

Warner, Alfred Frederick
Dr.
1865-1939

Alfred Frederick Warner was born at Wilton, Ontario on August 20, 1865, son of Damon Warner and Georgina Walker. The father of our subject was a native of Wilton, Ernestown Township, was a successful businessman there and lived the retired life at Napanee. Alfred Warner was a Student of Medicine at Queen's Medical School where he graduated in 1887. He spent some time at Napanee following graduation, but removed to Toronto where he remained for the duration. Dr. Alfred Frederick Warner died on June 28, 1939, aged 73 years, 10 months, 8 days.

Wartman, Alvin Edmund
Medical Student
1891-1916

Alvin Edmund Wartman was born at Newburgh, Ontario on January 22, 1891, son of George Edmund Wartman and Sarah Ida Rook. He was educated at Queen's University where he was a Member of Arts 1912 and Science 1914 taking the combined course in Arts and Civil Engineering. In 1912, because of heart trouble he was compelled to abandon his science courses and enter medicine. When the War broke out, he was not to be deterred by illness and was eventually enlisted in the Medical Services of Number 5 Field Ambulance in Toronto. In 1916, for bravery and devotion to duty under circumstances of extreme difficulty during heavy fighting, he was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal. At the close of that engagement in France, he was severely wounded through the right lung by a fragment of shell. He died of his wounds in France. Sergeant Alvin Edmund Wartman, Medical Student, died on October 16, 1916, aged 25 years, 8 months and 24 days.

Waters, George Dr.
-1902

George Waters was a native of Scotland. He received his medical education at the Toronto School of Medicine and graduated Medical Doctor in 1868. He immediately established himself at Cobourg and remained there for the duration. He was a prominent member of the Liberal party in politics and was a candidate in the 1881 election for the Dominion Parliament. Dr. Waters died on August 2, 1902, aged 64 years 5 months 14 days.

Waterston, Douglas Dr.
1889-1916

Douglas Waterston was born at Belleville, Ontario on June 18, 1889, son of Thomas Waterston and Charlotte Isabel Thomson. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at McGill University in 1914 and was appointed as House Surgeon at the Montreal General Hospital. Dr. Waterston joined the Canadian Army Medical Corps in 1915 and was attached to the Montenegrin Camp at Three Rivers, Quebec; he left with the 9th Field Ambulance, Canadian Expeditionary Force. Captain Waterston was killed in action having been at the front only six weeks; he is buried at the Reningheist Military Cemetery at Reningheist, Belgium. Dr. Douglas Waterston died on May 22, 1916, aged 26 years, 11 months and 4 days.

Watson, Cornelius Dr.
1843-1886

Cornelius Watson was born on May 28, 1843 son of Thomas Watson and Clarissa White, York County, Ontario. He was brought up in Ontario and received his early education there and subsequently attended lectures and received his Medical Degree at the St. Louis Medical College, Missouri. His first practice was at Napanee, Ontario in 1870, followed by time in Wisconsin and he later settled at Saginaw, Michigan. Dr. Watson was united in marriage to Julia Seeley at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin in December 1870. Buried at Oakwood Cemetery, Saginaw, Michigan, Dr. Cornelius Watson died on July 13, 1886 aged 43 years 1 month 15 days.

Watson, George Robinson Dr.
1862-1915

George Robinson Watson was born in Nelson Township, Halton County, Ontario on Nov 6, 1862 son of William Watson and Mary Sherwood. He attended Victoria College from 1879-1883, attained his PhD from Syracuse University in 1886, was a Methodist Episcopal clergyman and pastor in Roanoke, Virginia and graduated with his medical degree from Victoria University in 1888. That year he established himself at Wellington, Ontario and was united in marriage to Isabel Willoughby. It is reported that while there, he speculated in grain and lost his home. Dr. Watson removed and practiced in Toronto and Listowel, where he was Coroner, and was licensed in New York State in 1893. Dr. Watson and family immigrated to Africa and took residence at Langebaan which is close to Saldanha on the West coast, north of Cape Town. Dr. George Robinson Watson died at Langebaan on Sept 23, 1915 aged 52 years 10 months 17 days.

Wattam, George Samuel Dr.
1856-1934

George Samuel Wattam was born on July 10, 1856 at Waupoos Island, Prince Edward County, Ontario son of William Wattam and Mary Grooms. He left the farm, studied at Albert College at Belleville and graduated in medicine from Victoria University in 1884. Dr. Wattam established himself at Warren, Minnesota where he was actively engaged in clinical work and served as county physician. He was united in marriage to Emily White on Dec 21, 1887. He was an advocate for the establishment of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Walker, was for 18 years on the Warren board of education, served as president of Northern Medical Society and director of the Minnesota Public Health Association. Dr. Warren was a charter member of the Marshall County Historical Society and wrote his personal memoirs of the early days of Warren. Dr. George Samuel Wattam died at Warren on Mar 17, 1934 aged 77 years 8 months 7 days.

Weadock, Thomas McMullin Dr.
1838-1905

Thomas McMullin Weadock was born at Melrose, Tyendinaga Township, Hastings County on Mar 16, 1838 son of James Weadock and Bridget Mullin. His early education was obtained in the Dominion and he taught school near the place of his birth for several years. He entered the medical department of the University of Michigan in 1870 graduating with the class of 1872. Dr. Weadock wed Catherine McGormley and began to practice at Lima, Ohio and followed out his life's work faithfully. He was physician to the jail and served his community until declining health forced him to retire in the Fall of 1904. Dr. Thomas McMullin Weadock was one of the oldest practitioners of medicine in Lima, Ohio where he died on Jan 20, 1905 aged 66 years 10 months 4 days.

Weagant, Clarence Alfred
Dr.
1855-1893

Clarence Alfred Weagant was born at Aultsville, Ontario on December 6, 1855, son of Samuel Weagant and Minerva McCracken. He was a Medical Student at McGill Medical School from which institution he graduated in 1879. He returned to Ontario, where he hung his shingle at Yarker and wed Annette Shibley on December 29, 1881. After a few years, there they removed to Colton, California, where he was registered to practice on April 4, 1888. Dr. Clarence Alfred Weagant died on March 17, 1893, aged 37 years, 3 months, 11 days.

Webb, Adam Lindsay
Wright Dr.
1879-1914

Adam Lindsay Wright Webb was born at Brighton on February 27, 1879, son of Major Adam Clarke ebb and Theresa Elizabeth Sanford. He attained his medical education from the University of Toronto, from which he graduated in 1903. He remained a bachelor. Dr. Webb established himself in Brighton soon after graduation and served as President of the Trent Valley Medical Association; he was Medical Officer of Health for the Township and Village of Brighton. Dr. A. L. W. Webb, having accidentally taken some toadstools under the impression that they were mushrooms, died on September 11, 1914, aged 35 years, 6 months and 14 days.

Weeks, Hiram Dr.
-1835

Hiram Weeks was born near Brockville and studied in New York. He established himself in Adolphustown about 1818 and was a successful candidate before the Medical Board of Upper Canada in July 1820. Dr. Weeks was active in the temperance society in Adolphustown serving as Vice-President in 1830. Dr. Weeks died on March 8, 1835, aged 39 years 6 months 14 days.

Weir, Thomas Patrick Dr.
1860-1902
(new)

Thomas Patrick Weir was born at the farm near Newburgh, Ontario on March 20, 1860, son of Peter Weir and Mary McCall. He received his primary education in the schools of his native community, graduated the Toronto Normal School in 1881 and matriculated in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1888. Dr. Weir served as one of the resident staff of the Toronto General Hospital for one year, was then a member of the medical staff of the Toronto Asylum for the Insane and in 1893 he commenced general practice in Toronto. On September 5, 1894, he was united in marriage to Alice Smith. In 1900, Dr. Weir was appointed as one of the surgeons for the Ontario and Rainy River Railway and was in charge of the hospital at Atikokan River where he practiced until he was seized with acute tuberculosis. Dr. Thomas Patrick Weir died on October 27, 1902, aged 42 years 7 months 7 days.

Wellman, Arnold Lorne
Dr.
1886-1971

Arnold Lorne Wellman was born at Harold, Hastings County, Ontario (1/2 way between Stirling and Marmora) on December 28, 1886, son of Arnold Wellman and Nancy Jane Woodward. He was a Graduate of the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1912 as the Silver Medalist. Dr. Wellman was united in marriage on June 5, 1914 to Evelyn De Grande Carrique. He hung his shingle at Springbrook and Mildmay, Ontario, removing to Waterloo in 1921, where he remained in active practice until his retirement in 1949. Dr. Arnold Lorne Wellman died on May 20, 1971, aged 84 years, 4 months and 22 days.

Wellman, Iona Victoria
Dr.
1907-1993

Iona Victoria Wellman was born at Harold, Ontario on November 9, 1907 daughter of Arnold Wellman and Nancy Woodward. She graduated in medicine at the University of Toronto in 1932 and took post graduate studies in Toronto and Chicago. Dr. Wellman worked most of her career as a psychiatrist in the Ontario Hospital service until her retirement at D'Arcy Place, Cobourg. She was recipient of the Centennial Medal, a life member of the Ontario psychiatric association and a member of the Order of the Eastern Star. Dr. Iona Victoria Wellman died at Cobourg on December 30, 1993 aged 86 years 1 month 21 days.

Wellman, Marvin Claire
Dr.
1904-1970

Marvin Claire Wellman was born at Harold, Ontario on December 15, 1904 son of Arnold Wellman and Nancy Woodward. He graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1931 and interned at the Oshawa General Hospital. During World War 11 Dr. Wellman served at the naval hospitals in Halifax, Newfoundland and Britain. He took post graduate work in psychiatry and was certified by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada in 1945. He served at the Ontario Hospital in Whitby and with the Royal Canadian Navy from 1941 to 1959 attaining the rank of Captain; from 1959 to the time of his death he was director of the Northeast Florida State Hospital. Dr. Marvin Claire Wellman died at MacClenny, Florida on May 22, 1970 aged 65 years 5 months 7 days.

Wells, Charles Russell Dr.
1844-1933

Charles Russell Wells was born at the farmhouse at Brighton, Ontario in Oct 1844 son of Jesse Wells and Azubah Hawley. He started his professional career as a school teacher following which he immigrated to the United States and entered into the study of medicine at the University of Michigan. One of the requirements for graduation was a Thesis and his was entitled : The Mutual Influence of the Mind and Body in Disease. Dr. Wells matriculated with the class of 1866 and he was united in marriage to Fanny Cary at Waukegan, Illinois on Mar 18, 1868. He followed the practice of his profession at Wauconda Village, Illinois where he served the community, was active in civic affairs and the local Masonic Lodge. Additionally, he operated a dairy farm and the old homestead is now a Victorian B. & B. Dr. Charles Russell Wells retired about 1911 and died on May 6, 1933 aged 88 years 7 months.

Welsh, Harold Edward Dr.
1896-1943

Harold Edward Welsh was born at Moira, Ontario on May 5, 1896 son of William Welsh and Caroline Outwater. He was educated at the University of Toronto in medicine and graduated with the class of 1924; he was united in marriage to Mabel Brown on August 27, 1924. Dr. Welsh worked as a country doctor, lived in Roslin, served as coroner for Hastings County and as medical officer of health for Huntingdon, Thurlow and Tyendinaga Townships. He was elected to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario representing Hastings East from 1936 to 1943. Dr. Harold Edward Welsh died in Office when he drowned accidentally while fishing in Algonquin Park, death occurring on May 20, 1943 aged 47 years and 15 days.

Welsh, Thomas George
Dr.
1839-1899

Thomas George Welsh was born at the farmhouse on Feb 2, 1839 at Picton, Ontario son of Thomas Welsh and Elizabeth Rutledge. He started his professional career as a teacher, saved enough to pay his expenses through college and graduated in medicine at Ann Arbor, Michigan in 1874. Dr. Welsh soon established himself in the practice of his profession at Lytle City, Iowa; he subsequently took post graduate work at the University of New York and was united in marriage to Bridget Boyle on June 5, 1882. After some time in the Dakotas he removed to Renton, Washington where he remained for the duration. He was a skilled physician with a keen sympathy for the poor and distressed. Dr. Thomas George Welsh died at Renton on Feb 4, 1899 aged 60 years 2 days.

White, Albert Napier Dr.
1863-1929

Albert Napier White was born at Warsaw, Ontario on Apr 9, 1863 son of John White and Christina Kidd. He was a graduate of medicine at Queen's University in 1885 and hung his shingle at Cazenovia, N.Y. where he remained for 5 years; he was united in marriage to Estella Buchanan about 1889. He then moved to Denver, Colorado and after 25 years in practice at Denver he relocated again to South Otselic, N.Y. where he served his community for another 7 years. Here, he was officer of health, a Mason and served as Master of the local Lodge. Dr. Albert Napier White died at Syracuse, N.Y. on July 10, 1929 aged 66 years 3 months 1 day.

White, Francis Clark Dr.
1907-1972

Francis Clark White was born at Centreton, Ontario on February 2, 1907 son of Reverend Francis White and Phoebe Clark. He spent his formative years at Plainfield and attended Queen's University and studied medicine with the class of 1931; Dr. White was united in marriage to Fredericka Halfyard on June 1, 1932. He took post graduate work at the Banting Institute and served on staff of the St. Lawrence State Hospital, the Newton Memorial Hospital in Cassadaga, N.Y. and the Thames State Hospital in Norwich, Connecticut. He joined the staff of the Ray Brook State Hospital for Tuberculosis in 1943 and served as its director from 1965 to 1970; he had been a patient at the hospital for 14 months beginning in 1934. Dr. Francis Clark White died at Victoria, B.C. on October 4, 1972 aged 65 years 8 months 2 days.

White, Gilbert James Dr.
1858-1931

Gilbert James White was born at Picton, Ontario on February 7, 1858 son of Alfred White and Lydia Morden. He started his professional career as a teacher, was a graduate of Medicine from Trinity University, married Jennie Rebecca Moran of Picton in 1883 and established himself at Chicago, Illinois in 1886. Dr. White served as the Medical Director of a Sanatorium in Chicago at the Auditorium Building which was once the tallest building in Chicago. Dr. Gilbert James White lived the retired life in Picton, Ontario having returned about 15 years prior, and died there on November 12, 1931 aged 73 years 9 months 5 days

White, Harry Dr.
-1852

Harry White studied under the tutelage of Sir Astley Cooper and Mr. Abernathy in the course of obtaining his Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, London; he practiced for 20 years in England before moving to Picton. His fee schedule was published in 1848 and serves at least to hint at the minimal acceptable fee of the day.

	Credit price	Cash price visits	1s 3d	1s 3d
powders	6d	4d
small box pills	6d	4d
6 pills	9d	6d
12 do	1s 3d	1s

24 do 2s 6d 1s
quinine mixture 8d 6d

Journeys during the day, 1s 3d per mile after sunset, 2s 6d.

Dr. White would also attend families for a fixed annual sum, which was regulated according to the number of family members and 'circumstances'. Dr. White died in Picton on September 4, 1852, aged 49.

White, John William Dr.
1854-1921

John William White was born at the farmhouse at Hillier, Prince Edward County, Ontario in Feb 1854 son of Alfred White and Lydia Morden, she of United Empire Loyalist stock; he was a brother of the previously chronicled Gilbert J White. United in marriage to Bertha Moran on Jan 4, 1888, he attained his medical education at the Bennett Medical College in Chicago and graduated with the class on 1892. This Eclectic School of Medicine was incorporated in 1868, destroyed by fire in 1871, was open to men and women on equal terms, and later became part of Loyola University. Dr. John William White followed the practice of his profession at Chicago, Indianapolis, Indiana and Dubuque, Iowa where he died on Dec 17, 1921 aged 67 years 10 months.

White, Thomas Esmonde Dr.
1819-1885

Dr. Thomas Esmonde White was born in County Wexford, Ireland on December 26, 1819. He was a Commissioned Officer in the Medical Service of the British Army and served in Her Majesty's Service in New Zealand as Surgeon in the 65th Regiment Garrison Guard for two decades. While in New Zealand, he had a liaison with the Maori Chief's daughter Otahinganui and fathered a daughter. He later wed Sophia Cuthiss on August 23, 1855. Later he settled at Cobourg, Ontario where he remained for the duration. Dr. Thomas Esmonde White died on July 2, 1885, aged 65 years, 6 months, 6 days.

Whiteford, James William Dr.
-1888

James William Whiteford was born in Brooklyn, New York and adopted at an early age by his uncle in Belleville. He attended McGill University Medical School from which institution he graduated in 1873. He took post-graduate work overseas and received high honours at Edinburgh in 1874. He followed the practice of his profession in Belleville, Ottawa and Winnipeg. Dr. Whiteford died of typhoid fever in Ottawa on January 8, 1888, aged 40 years 5 months 13 days.

Whiteman, George Augustus Dr.
-1948

George Augustus Whiteman was a graduate in medicine from Victoria College in 1889. He practiced in Shannonville before removing to Picton where he followed his profession for the duration. On the occasion of his 50th year in practice, he was honoured by the Medical Society of Hastings and Prince Edward Counties and presented with a gold-headed cane. He served as County Coroner for more than 25 years, and was one of the leaders in the planning and building of the County Hospital. Dr. Whiteman died following a hip fracture, on January 8, 1948, aged 83 years 5 months 11 days.

Whittier, Clarke Dr.
-1887

Clarke Whittier was a native of Consecon and, at one time, a merchant there. He migrated to the United States of America, became a physician, and settled in St. Louis, Missouri. In 1885, he started a colony on the banks of the Tuckaseigee River in North Carolina on strictly prohibition principles. He had 80,000 acres, a thriving town, railroad express, telegraph offices and stores. The bustling town of Whittier was established on temperance, prohibition and the Word of God. Dr. Whittier died in Whittier on May 27, 1887, aged 60 years 3 months 18 days.

Whittier, Smith Dr.
1828-1896

Smith Whittier was born in 1828 at Consecon, Prince Edward County, Ontario son of William Whittier and Hannah Sherman. He started his professional life as a farmer in his native land and was united in marriage to Christina Bailey. In the 1850s he left the County, qualified as a physician and soon established himself at St Louis, Missouri in association with his brother, the previously chronicled Dr. Clarke Whittier. After some time there he removed to Chicago, Illinois and, a widower, was married to Vienna Chamberlain on May 5, 1872. In Chicago he assumed the identity of Dr. James, a deceased physician of the Lock Hospital in New Orleans, and did a specialist business under that name for many years; he was also known as the "quack specialist Dr. A G Olin". He marketed Whittier's Liniment for Rheumatism, a popular therapeutic rub for horses, as a cure-all for a variety of human ailments including piles and pimples. He was later indicted for sending obscene matter through the mail. Dr. Smith Whittier died at Chicago on Oct 16, 1896 aged 68.

Whitty, Goldie Theodore
Dr.

Goldie Theodore Whitty was born at Harrowsmith, Ontario on May 31, 1900 son of Edward Whitty and Fannie Moore. He received his primary education at a country school, his secondary at the Sydenham High School and graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1924. He interned at the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Windsor, Ontario and remained there in general practice for the duration; he was united in marriage to Adeline Thompson on September 1, 1927. Dr. Whitty was a member of the staff of Grace and Hotel Dieu Hospitals and a life member of the Essex County Medical Society. Dr. Goldie Theodore Whitty died at Windsor on November 7, 1973 aged 73 years 5 months and 6 days.

Whytock, Arthur Beaton
Dr.
1891-1971

Arthur Beaton Whytock was born at Madoc, Ontario on February 25, 1891, son of James Whytock and Janet Beaton. He attended Queen's University and was graduated with the Medical Class of 1916. He served overseas as Staff Sergeant in Egypt and later as Captain in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in France. Afterwards he took post-graduate training in London, England and commenced practice in Niagara Falls, Ontario in 1924. Dr. Whytock did further training in Vienna and Edinburgh and in 1946, was certified as a Specialist in General Surgery. He served as President of the Ontario Medical Association, the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Canadian Club and the United Nations Society; he also served on the Board of the Greater Niagara General Hospital. In 1967, he was awarded the Confederation Medal. Dr. Arthur Beaton Whytock died on November 29, 1971, aged 80 years, 9 months and 4 days.

Whytock, Carl James Dr.
1899-1964

Carl James Whytock was born at Madoc, Ontario on March 11, 1899 son of Charles Whytock and Christiana Robinson. He entered into the study of his life's work at Queen's University from which institution he graduated in 1931. Dr. Whytock established himself at Sharbot Lake, Ontario and served as medical officer of health for North Frontenac County, Frontenac County coroner and physician for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Survived by his wife, the former Hazel Keller, Dr. Carl James Whytock died at Bowmanville on June 9, 1964 aged 65 years 2 months 28 days.

Whytock, Harry Wishart
Dr.
1892-1962

Harry Wishart Whytock was born at Madoc, Ontario on March 5, 1892, son of John Alexander Whytock and Margaret Blakley. He graduated from Queen's in Arts in 1913 and in Medicine in 1915 and interned at the Montreal General Hospital. During World War I, he served in France in Number 1 Canadian Field Ambulance with the rank of Major, was mentioned in dispatches and received the Military Cross. Dr. Whytock took post-graduate training in Otorhinolaryngology (the study of the Ear, Nose and Throat) at London and Edinburgh, following which he established himself at Hamilton, Ontario, in 1924. He was united in marriage in England in 1923 to Ida Marquerite Joslen. In World War II, he served in an administrative capacity and as a Consultant at Chorley Park Military Hospital in Toronto. Dr. Harry Wishart Whytock died on January 21, 1962, aged 69 years, 10 months and 16 days Wickett, Thomas Dr.

-1941

Thomas Wickett was born and raised in Belleville where he received his preliminary education. He subsequently went to Toronto, graduating from the School of Practical Science, Trinity College. before taking his Medical Doctor degree at Toronto University in 1894. He soon established himself in Hamilton where he became one of the best-known citizens and a highly-regarded physician. Dr. Wickett died at Hamilton on January 12, 1941, aged 77 years 1 month 25 days.

Wickware, Malcolm
Mackenzie Dr.
1870-1944

Malcolm Mackenzie Wickware was born in Belleville, Ontario on May 11, 1870 son of William Wickware and Ellen Eno. He removed with his parents at an early age to Cass City, Michigan where he received his primary education and became identified with the Cass City Enterprise, a daily newspaper of which he ultimately became owner and editor. In 1894, determined to devote his life to Medicine, he sold the paper and entered the Detroit College of Medicine and graduated in 1897. He subsequently took post-graduate work in New York, Boston, Chicago and the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota, specializing in diseases of the Eye, Ear Nose and Throat. After graduation, Dr. Wickware established himself at Cass City and married Rose Anderson on March 2, 1898. He established the Pleasant Home Hospital which he owned and was head physician and surgeon, enjoyed an extensive practice and served as medical examiner for the Ancient Order of Gleaners. His duties in connection with the Order took him to Detroit in 1917 where he remained for the duration. Dr. Malcolm Mackenzie Wickware died on December 9, 1944 aged 74 years 6 months 28 days.

Williams, Daniel Young
Dr.
-1901

Daniel Young Williams was born in Bloomfield. He studied medicine in New York in 1855. He settled in Hillier and for many years he practiced medicine with very good success. He traveled widely as a Physician and Chemist with large quantities of patent and proprietary medicines. He was Justice of the Peace and filled numerous positions of public trust. In later years, he retired to his 200-acre farm where his orchard boasted seventy varieties of fruit trees. Dr. Williams died on January 6, 1901, aged 79 years 9 months 2 days.

Williams, Herbert Sangster Dr.
1862-1900

Herbert Sangster Williams was born in Hillier Township, Prince Edward County on November 28, 1862 son of Archelaus Williams and Jane German. He was a graduate of the Medical School at Kingston in 1884 and was united in marriage to Anna Baumeister on October 27, 1891. Dr. Williams established himself at Douglas, Wyoming where he remained for the duration. His death notice reads as follows: "About 1 O'clock last Thursday afternoon Dr. Williams appeared at the front window of his rooms in the second story of the Maveric Block and waving his arms wildly called for help. Several passers-by ran up the stairs and found him pacing the floor and complaining violently of pains in his chest. While a fire was being built for him he fell to the floor unconscious and within an hour thereafter, he died. There was no physician in the town, Dr. Jesurun having gone to Lusk, and nothing could be done for him. Williams came here about three months ago, since which time he has been practicing medicine in a way, although the fact that he was a stranger and the further fact that it was apparent that he was a morphine fiend had limited his practice to a few calls, usually during the absence of Dr. Jesurun from the city. He had been unwell the past few days preceding his death during which time he had slept in his office without other covering than a thin cotton blanket and a half-dozen gunnysacks- presumably stupefied with morphine or cocaine. Whether his death was the result of exposure, coupled with illness due to excessive use of opiates, or whether it was a case of suicide or accidental poisoning through an overdose of some drug, will never be known." Dr. Herbert Sangster Williams died on January 25, 1900 aged 37 years 1 month 27 days.

Williams, John Davis Rose
Dr.
1833-1919

John Davis Rose Williams was born at Matilda, Ontario on Apr 18, 1833 son of Rev William Henry Williams, a Methodist Episcopal Minister and Phoebe Rose. He was schooled at the various charges of his father which included Stirling and Camden East, was a graduate of the Rolph School of Medicine in Toronto and received his provincial license in 1854. Dr. Williams was united in marriage to Anna Bailey on Feb 19, 1858 and practiced medicine in Cardinal, Ontario for over forty years. During the historical times of the Confederation he took an active part in political life, reporting the proceedings of the first Provincial Parliament in Ontario. In addition to his practice, Dr. Williams served as Reeve of Iroquois, collector of canal tolls and as a mining speculator. A widower, he was married again in 1876 to Elizabeth Wiggins, a native of Marmora and for some years he followed the practice of his profession at Marmora, Ontario. Dr. John Davis Rose Williams died at Cardinal on Aug 2, 1919 aged 86 years 3 months 14 days.

Williams, Moses Hilton
Dr.
1836-1901

Moses Hilton Williams was born at Ameliasburgh, Ontario on February 6, 1836 son of Isaac Williams and Charlotte Herrington. He entered into the study of Medicine in Toronto and graduated with the class of 1867. He was followed in the medical profession by his brother James Albert Williams who was born at the farmhouse at Ameliasburgh on January 26, 1843. His brother attended lectures at the Ohio Medical College of Cincinnati and graduated in 1875, and in 1878, removed to Grand Rapids, Michigan; he was united in marriage to Mary Minogue on February 8, 1875 at Kalamazoo, Michigan.. As well, the son of Moses, Frederick Shelley Williams who was born in 1860 at Ameliasburgh was also a physician and he established himself at Tacoma, Washington. These three physicians were distantly related to Herbert Sangster Williams chronicled earlier. Dr. Moses Hilton Williams was married first to Sarah Wallbridge and second to Harriet Matilda Scott, this marriage occurring on September 4, 1870 at Chicago, Illinois. Dr. Moses Hilton Williams established himself at Los Angeles, California but died at Puyallup, Pierce County, Washington and is buried at Long Beach, California, death occurring on December, 23, 1901 aged 65 years 10 months 17 days.

Williams, Richard Watson
Dr.
1841-1909

Richard Watson Williams was born on January 5, 1841, son of John Williams and Elizabeth Robinson. He graduated from the Medical School at the University of Toronto in 1866 and hung his shingle at Trenton, Ontario. He wed Sophia Bain at Oshawa on July 1, 1868; he remained in Trenton for over fifteen years, removed to Clinton, Huron County, then Brampton, Peel County and settled at Allenford, Bruce County. Dr. Richard Watson Williams died on December 16, 1909, aged 68 years, 11 months, 11 days.

Williams, W. S. Dr.
-1864

Dr. W. S. Williams was from the West Indies and was practicing his profession in Belleville from 1862 until his death. He was an advocate of the Reform Practice of Medicine; he was particularly interested and successful in the treatment of typhoid fever, consumption and chronic diseases. Dr. Williams died in Belleville on June 7, 1864, aged 34.

Williamson, Alexander
Johnston Dr.
-1870

Alexander Johnston Williamson was educated as a physician, but became better known as a journalist and poet. He founded and was editor of Belleville's oldest newspaper, the Anglo-Canadian, in 1831, in association with W. A. Welles who, in 1830, had been editor at Picton of the Hallowell Free Press. In his later years, he was a Clerk in the Education Office in Toronto. He was author of Original Poems on Various Subjects in 1836, There is a God, in 1839, and Devotional Poems in 1840. Dr. Williamson died in Toronto on October 13, 1870, aged 74.

Williamson, George M.
Dr.
-1950

George M. Williamson was born in Picton. He removed to Winnipeg and, in 1895, he graduated as a Medical Doctor from the University of Manitoba Medical School. He established his practice at Ardock, North Dakota until 1906, when he went to Edinburgh, Scotland for further study. He then went to London and took special courses in surgery at Guy's and Middlesex Hospitals and in diseases of children at the Hospital for Sick Children at Great Ormonde Street. From London, he went to Dublin, Ireland for special study in gynecology and obstetrics at the Rotunda Hospital. He, then, removed to Grand Forks, North Dakota in 1908, where he practiced for 35 years. Dr. Williamson died at Grand Forks, North Dakota on December 11, 1950, aged 83 years 6 months 20 days.

Williamson, George McCullough Dr.
1867-1950

George McCullough Williamson was born at the farmhouse on May 21, 1867 near Picton, Ontario son of Robert Williamson and Ann Carr. He received his primary education at Picton, taught school for 5 years and graduated in medicine from the Manitoba Medical College in 1895. Dr. Williamson was united in marriage to Emma Hallstrom on Nov 2, 1898 and established himself at Ardoch, North Dakota until 1906. He then took post graduate training in Edinburgh, Glasgow and London achieving the 'triple qualification' and returned to the U.S. where he followed the practice of his profession at Grand Forks, North Dakota. He served as surgeon to the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railways. Dr. George McCullough Williamson died at Grand Forks on Dec 12, 1950 aged 83 years 6 months 21 days.

Williamson, Thomas Manley Dr.
1865-1929

Thomas Manley Williamson was born at Picton, Ontario on Aug 26, 1865 son of Thomas Williamson and Ann Aiken. He attended the Picton schools, spent two years in a seminary before taking up his medical studies at Trinity University and graduated in 1892. He located at Saginaw, Michigan where he followed the practice of his profession for 37 years; Dr. Williamson was united in marriage to Leona Knapp on June 30, 1903. During the War he was a member of the medical advisory board, named by the Federal Government and served as Commandant of the local Red Cross Detachment. He was on staff of the Woman's and St Mary's Hospitals and the Saginaw General Hospital; he served as president of the County medical association in 1918 and 1919. Dr. Thomas Manley Williamson died at Saginaw on Aug 30, 1929 aged 64 years 4 days.

Willoughby, John Bradley
Dr.
1887-1956

John Bradley Willoughby was a native of Leeds County, born on November 30, 1887, son of John Willoughby and Harriett Bradley. He graduated from the Medical School at Queen's University in 1916 and served overseas with the Royal Canadian Medical Corps during World War I. He was united in marriage to Florence Elizabeth May McCallum on October 8, 1919 and practised at Napanee until the outbreak of World War II, when he served as a Medical Officer for Military District Number 3 at Kingston, and later as Head of the Kingston Military Hospital. He joined the Canadian Department of Veterans' Affairs in 1946 and served at Ottawa with the Department of Immigration in England and Germany. In 1948 he served as Physician to the Reserve at Deseronto with the Department of Indian Affairs. Dr. John Bradley Willoughby died on August 14, 1956, aged 68 years, 8 months and 14 days

Willoughby, John Henry
Charles Dr.
1861-1940

John Henry Charles Willoughby was born at Cobourg, Ontario on July 3, 1861 son of Rev. Nicholas Willoughby and Amelia Burke. He took his medical courses at Toronto University, was graduated in 1883 and located at Saskatoon, Saskatchewan where, as a pioneer doctor, his skill was offered in many a lonely cabin. During the Rebellion of 1885 he served as deputy Purveyor General in the field hospital corps and was present at the battles of Fish Creek and Batoche. He cared for the wounded in a makeshift Hospital in Saskatoon and later appeared as a witness at the Riel trial. After the hostilities, Dr. Willoughby spent 18 months pursuing post graduate work in Europe and on his return opened an office in Regina. He was active in municipal and civic affairs and served as Mayor of Regina in 1893; he was united in marriage to Helen Hilliard in 1894 in New York. Dr. Willoughby returned to Saskatoon in 1897, was engaged in farming, ranching and a variety of business and real estate ventures. Dr. John Henry Charles Willoughby died at Saskatoon on May 20, 1940 aged 78 years 10 months 17 days.

Willoughby, William Armson Dr.
-1908

William Armson Willoughby graduated Medical Doctor from Victoria University in 1867, and at once commenced practice in Grafton, West Northumberland County. He removed to Colborne, seven miles east, in 1873. He took great interest in military matters, and was Surgeon Lieutenant Colonel of the 40th Battalion of Infantry. He was a member of the Colborne Municipal Council for eight years, Reeve for seven years, member of the School Board for twelve years, and Warden of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham in 1884. He was, first, elected to the Ontario Legislature as member for East Northumberland in 1886, was defeated in February 1888, re-elected later that same year, defeated in 1898, then re-elected in 1902, and held the seat until the time of his death. He was a popular member of the Legislature and, for many years, Whip for the Conservative Party. Dr. Willoughby died on April 28, 1908, aged 64 years 2 months.

Wills, Alfred Ernest Dr.
-1930

Alfred Ernest Wills was born in Belleville where he received his public and high school education. He was a graduate of Trinity College Medical School in 1889 and took post-graduate study at London and Middlesex Hospitals. He practiced in Madoc, but became Surgeon to the North West Mounted Police in Dawson City, Yukon, before and during the gold rush of 1898. After he retired from the police services, he became interested in mining claims in the Yukon District, until 1910. He owned the Gold Run Creek Hotel in 1900. When he returned from the Klondike, he became associated in mining ventures in Manitoba and Northern Ontario. Dr. Wills died in Vancouver, British Columbia, on October 24, 1930, aged 62 years 10 months 1 day.

Willson. Benjamin
Seymour Dr.
-1892

Benjamin Seymour Willson was born in South Fredericksburg, six miles from Bath; when about 13, his parents moved to the Township of Thurlow. He studied for his profession at McGill University and was licensed to practice in Lower Canada in 1855. While training, he was the House Apothecary in the Montreal General Hospital. He immediately established a practice in Roslin, (previously known as Willson's Corners) where he remained for some years before removing to Stirling for six years, then about 1873 to Belleville. He was active in municipal affairs and was elected Mayor of Belleville in 1888; he served as a council member and was County Coroner for several years. Dr. Willson died of pleuropneumonia, as a result of a sick call, on January 13, 1892, aged 58 years 8 months 5 days.

Wilson, Archibald
Cameron Dr.

Archibald Cameron Wilson was born Norwood, Ontario on July 19, 1908 son of Dr. Frank Wilson and Mary Smith. He was raised in Napanee and studied medicine at the University of Toronto with the class of 1934. Soon after graduating he removed to West Hartford, Connecticut; Dr. Wilson was united in marriage to Elizabeth Hara on August 24, 1940. When he retired in 1972, Dr. Wilson was vice president and senior medical director of Connecticut General Life Insurance. Dr. Archibald Cameron Wilson died at Bloomfield, Ct on October 20, 2004 aged 96 years 3 months 1 day.

Wilson, Arthur Donald Ferguson Dr.

Arthur Donald Ferguson Wilson was born at Enterprise, Ontario on November 8, 1903 son of James Wilson and Mary Alexander. He received his education there and at the high school in Tamworth; he was a graduate of medicine at Queen's University in 1930 and while at the university he won the Dean Fowler scholarship for the highest marks in the 4th year medical examinations. Dr. Wilson served his internship at the hospitals in Kingston, Middleton, Connecticut and the Lying-In Hospital in New York City. He hung his shingle in Hemlock, New York where he remained for 3 years, was united in marriage to Dorothy Day in 1933 and removed to Mission, Texas where he built up a large medical and surgical practice. Dr. Arthur Donald Ferguson Wilson died at the McAllen Mission Texas Hospital on April 17, 1942 aged 38 years 5 months 9 days.

Wilson, Charles Edwin Dr.
1878-1928

Charles Edwin Wilson was born at Napanee on December 1, 1878, son of Uriah Wilson and Mary Moyle; Uriah Wilson was the ex-Member of Parliament for Napanee. Charles Wilson was educated at the University of Toronto, where he received his Medical Degree in 1907. He married Evelyn Maud Hadden on April 14, 1907. Dr. Wilson established himself at Toronto, where he returned after the First World War. During that conflict, he contracted asthma and was practically an invalid ever since. He was well known in military circles in Toronto having been President of the Great War Veterans' Association; he was a Mason and a member of the Order of Foresters. Dr. C. E. Wilson died on December 28, 1928, aged 50 years and 27 days.

Wilson, Frank Cameron
Searles Dr.
1882-1962

Frank Cameron Searles Wilson was born at Picton on November 6, 1882, son of Reverend James Peter Wilson and Hannah Elizabeth Roberts. As his father was posted around the province, his education was obtained piece meal in various towns in Ontario, wherever the Reverend was stationed. He was a graduate from Trinity Medical College in 1904. He married Mary Eleanor Smith on November 27, 1906. He practiced briefly in Norwood and Lindsay and removed to Napanee in 1910. He served in the Royal Canadian Army Corps during the First World War. For many years, he confined his practice to the field of Ophthalmology, and he was in active work until shortly before his death. Dr. F. C. S. Wilson died on November 30, 1962, aged 80 years and 24 days.

Wilson, Gerald Eric Dr.

Gerald Eric Wilson was born at Castleton, Ontario on March 22, 1906 son of Charles Wilson and Mary Thompson. He spent his formative years at Campbellford and was a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1932. Dr. Wilson took post graduate work, trained as a psychiatrist, and was united in marriage to Marion Young on November 9, 1935. During World War 11 he served with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps and later served as consultant at the Cornwall General Hospital and the Kingston Hotel Dieu Hospital; he served as assistant superintendent of the Kingston Ontario Hospital. Dr. Gerald Eric Wilson died at Amherstview, Ontario on November 12, 1995 aged 89 years 7 months 20 days.

Wilson, Herbert Charles
Dr.
-1909

Herbert Charles Wilson was born in Picton, Prince Edward County and graduated from Trinity University in 1882. Shortly, after graduation he went to the North West Territories where he followed the practice of his profession. Here, he was the first Speaker of the first North West Territories Assembly in 1888 and Mayor of Edmonton from 1895-1896. Dr. Wilson died in Edmonton on December 17, 1909, aged 50 years 10 days.

Wilson, Herbert William
Dr.
-1920

Herbert William Wilson was a graduate of the Medical School at Toronto in 1889. He soon established a medical practice at Tamworth where he remained but a few years. He removed to Toronto where he died on April 24, 1920, aged 59 years 5 months 25 days.

Wilson, Karl Miller Dr.
1885-1971

Karl Miller Wilson was born at Madoc, Ontario on Sept 27, 1885 son of Charles Wilson and Annie Miller. He received his medical degree from McGill University in 1908 and did post graduate work at the Montreal General and John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore. From 1913 to 1923 Dr Wilson was engaged in private practice in Baltimore following which he became professor and chairman of the department of obstetrics and gynaecology at the newly established Rochester

School of Medicine. He was united in marriage to Mildred Bentley on June 1, 1915. Dr Wilson engaged in important research in embryology, was skilled both in the care of patients and of teaching medical students, and was awarded the coveted Kaiser Award in 1961. Dr Karl Miller Wilson died on Feb 12, 1971 aged 85 years 4 months 15 days.

Wishart, David James
Gibb Dr.
-1934

David James Gibb Wishart was born in Madoc. He graduated in medicine from McGill University in 1885 and was a Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, London. He was, also, a graduate of Trinity Medical College in 1887 and a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons in 1913. Dr. Wishart came to Belleville in the early 1890s, where he conducted an office at the Kyle House, for diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. He was Chief of the Ear, Nose and Throat Service at the Hospital for Sick Children from 1900-1907, on staff at the Toronto General Hospital from 1890-1922 and Chief of Ear, Nose and Throat from 1914-1922. Similar appointments were held in the Simcoe Street Dispensary and in St. Michael's Hospital; he was a teacher on staff of the Women's Medical College from 1886- 1905 and in Trinity Medical College from 1889-1903. He was Treasurer of the Academy of Medicine from 1907-1910 and President in 1917-1918. During the War he served with distinction with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, as a Consultant in ear, nose and throat. Dr. Wishart died in Toronto on December 5, 1934, aged 74 years 6 months 16 days.

Wood, Casey Albert Dr.
-1941

Casey Albert Wood was born in Wellington. He received his medical degree from Bishop's College, Montreal, in 1877. He was one of the earliest pupils of Sir William Osler, Medicinæ Doctorae, Chirurgiæ Magister (Medical Doctor, Master of Surgery), and remained his life long friend. After graduation, he practiced at Montreal in 1886, being Professor successively of Pathology and Chemistry at Bishop's and attending Physician to the Western Hospital. He became interested in diseases of the eye and took post-graduate training in France, Germany and England. In 1890, he settled in Chicago where he became one of the leading Ophthalmologists of the Middle West, and was Professor of Ophthalmology at Northwestern University in 1900, and at the University of Illinois, 1904-1925. When the United States became involved in the War in 1917, he served with distinction at Camp Sherman and in the Surgeon-General's Office at Washington. After the war he made his home in California, but traveled and lived for years in South America, Australia, the South Seas, India and Ceylon. He was interested in comparative ophthalmology and was a leading authority on the eyes of birds. McGill granted him its Medical Doctor degree in 1905 and its Doctor of Laws in 1922. Dr. Wood died at La Jolla, California, on January 26, 1941, aged 85 years 2 months 5 days.

Wood, Orrin Cottier Dr.
-1884

Orrin Cottier Wood was born in Jefferson, New York; educated principally in Toronto where he completed his medical training and received his license from the Medical Board in 1853. He followed the practice of his profession at Wellington, Bloomfield, Dundas County, Ottawa and California. His son, Dr. Casey Albert Wood is mentioned elsewhere. Dr. Wood died at Riverside, California in 1884, aged 59.

Wood, William Field Dr.
1867-1908

William Field Wood was born at Madoc, Ontario on June 3, 1867 son of Alpheus Wood and Elizabeth Ross. He attended Upper Canada College at Toronto following which he entered the medical faculty of the University of McGill where he studied for one year. Going abroad, he studied three semesters under the direction of the Conjoint Examination Board of Great Britain and the Royal University at Berlin. He was in Germany during the 90 day reign of the late Emperor Frederick and therefore saw the throne occupied by three emperors. Upon his return home he married in 1890 to Mina McKinnon, finished his studies at Queen's University and graduated in 1891. Dr. Wood removed to Mishawaka, Indiana in the pursuit of his life's work. A widower, he married a second time to Mary Radomska on Aug 29, 1895. Dr. William Field Wood died on Oct 29, 1908 aged 41 years 4 months 26 days.

Worth, Richard Floyd Dr.
1864-1917

Richard Floyd Worth was born in Devonshire, England on May 1, 1864, son of William Henry Worth and Mary Ann Floyd. He came with his family as a youth to Belleville, where he attended the local high school and graduated from the Chicago Homeopathic Medical School in 1888. He was united in marriage to Sarah Simpson on September 10, 1890 at Belleville. He followed the practice of his profession at Chicago and LaGrange Illinois, St. Paul and Nebraska City, Nebraska and then San Benito Texas. The doctor was described as "skilful, competent and thoroughly reliable in his profession, an honourable citizen and Christian gentleman". Dr. Richard Floyd Worth died on July 22, 1917, aged 53 years, 2 months, 21 days.

Wright, Adam Henry Dr.
1846-1930

Adam Henry Wright was born at Georgetown, Ontario on April 6, 1846, son of Henry Wright and Sarah Jane Webb. His career started as a teacher at Trenton, Ontario, where he was Principal of the High School following which he attained his Medical Degree at the University of Toronto in 1873. He was united in marriage at Trenton to Flora Cumming on January 6, 1874, and hung his shingle at Colborne, the place of birth of his mother. Dr. Wright took post graduate work at England, where he was a Licentiate of the Royal College of Surgeons, London in 1877 and, on returning to Canada, he joined the staff of the Toronto School of Medicine. He was Professor of Histology, Obstetrics and Paediatrics, served as President of the American Association of Obstetrics, as well as that of the Ontario and Canadian Medical Associations, Chairman of the Provincial Board of Health, was a charter member of the Toronto Medical Society and of the Academy of Medicine. He was the author of textbooks on obstetrics and was a veteran editor of several medical journals. Dr. Adam Henry Wright died on August 20, 1930, aged 84 years, 4 months, 14 days.

Wright, Edward William
Dr.
1860-1931

Edward William Wright was born at Bath, Ontario on September 4, 1860 son of Edward Wright and Harriet Williams. He was a graduate of the Medical School at Queen's University with the class of 1886 and carried on his Ophthalmologic practice at Brooklyn, New York where he was on staff at the Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital. He was a prominent Mason and was a past master of the Commonwealth Lodge in the borough of Brooklyn. Dr. Edward William Wright, having retired 10 years previously, died at St. Petersburg, Florida on March 9, 1931 aged 70 years 6 months 5 days.

Wright, Harold Hover Dr.
-1899

Harold Hover Wright was born in Prince Edward County. He derived most of his preliminary education from the common schools that existed at that time, and from his father who was one of the pioneering ministers of Upper Canada. He commenced the study of medicine in York (Toronto) under Dr. Rolph, in 1832, and remained with him until the troublesome times of 1837, when Dr. Rolph was compelled to leave the country on account of his connection with the Mackenzie Rebellion. Young Wright shortly followed and remained with Rolph in Rochester more than a year, after which he returned to Canada and received his license to practice from the Medical Board of Upper Canada on January 28, 1839. Dr. Wright practiced for a short time in Dundas and then went to Markham where he was engaged in general practice until 1853, when he went to Toronto and became a Lecturer in Rolph's School. Apart from his work in the lecture room, he did much to raise the general standard of the profession in the province. He took an active part in the establishment of the Ontario Medical Council and for a time was its President. Dr. Wright died from the effects of influenza on March 7, 1899, aged 82.

Wright, Hiram Dr.
1889-1955

Hiram Wright was born at Cobden, Ontario on August 8, 1889 son of William Wright and Mary Sykes. After serving with the Medical Corps in the First World War he graduated from the medical faculty at McGill University in 1923; he was united in marriage to Christina Ross on October 14, 1925. Dr. Wright practised for a short time at Hanover, then Churchill and in 1928 he went to Keene, Ontario where he was in practice for 20 years. He then joined the Federal Government's immigration department, examining prospective immigrants to Canada in England, Germany and Sweden. On his return to Canada in 1949 he was appointed medical officer for the Keene board of education where he remained until his retirement in 1952. Dr. Hiram Wright died at Keene on August 23, 1955 aged 66 years and 15 days.

Wright, John Wellington
Dr.
-1912

John Wellington Wright was a native of Marysburgh Township. He was educated locally and received his Bachelor of Arts from Albert College, Belleville, in 1875. He graduated in medicine from McGill University in 1878 and received his Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, London, in 1879. Dr. Wright established himself in Picton, where he was Medical Officer of Health, and followed the practice of his profession for the duration. Dr. Wright died in Picton of pneumonia on February 29, 1912, aged 56 years 2 months 15 days.

Yeoman, Amelia Dr.
-1913

Dr. Amelia Yeomans and her daughter Lilian were the first women physicians in Manitoba. Born in Quebec, Amelia married Dr. Augustus Asa Yeomans of Belleville in 1860. He was a physician who later became an Army Surgeon for the Northern Army during the Civil War. After his death on May 19, 1880 aged 44 years 6 months 9 days, she entered the medical profession herself. In 1879, the year Lilian began studies, no Canadian Medical School admitted women so she enrolled in the University of Michigan's School of Medicine at Ann Arbor; Amelia joined her there the following year. When Lilian graduated she set up practice in Winnipeg and on her graduation in 1883, Amelia joined her. Both doctors specialized in midwifery and diseases of women and children. During the 1880s and 1890s, Yeomans were active in social and political reform. Amelia was a brilliant public speaker and was deeply interested in all questions pertaining to the welfare of women. She led the early crusades both for temperance and women's suffrage. In 1905, Amelia retired to Calgary, along with her daughters; she died there on April 22, 1913, aged 71 years 23 days.

Yeomans, Augustus Asa
Dr.
-1880

Yeomans, David Prentice
Dr.
1812-1860

David Prentice Yeomans was born at Stamford, New York on January 25, 1812, son of Moses Yeomans and Lucinda Prentice. He was a Graduate of Williams College, Massachusetts in 1837, and from 1841 to 1845, he was Principal of the Academic Department and Professor of Chemistry at Lafayette College, Pennsylvania. He was united in marriage to Nancy Guess on July 22, 1839. In 1846, he went to Canada to study medicine at McGill College, following which he settled at Odessa, where he remained in the successful practice of medicine until his death. He served for a time as Superintendent of Public Instruction for the Province. Dr. David Prentice Yeomans died on August 13, 1860, aged 48 years, 6 months 18 days.

Yeomans, Horace
Augustus Dr.
-1921

Horace Augustus Yeomans was born in Belleville and attended the local public and high schools. He graduated from the University of Toronto and Queen's in 1889. He initially practiced in Deseronto for six years before moving to Belleville. In early life, Dr. Yeomans took an active part in sports and was especially fond of lacrosse; he was a member of the Oka lacrosse team of Belleville, which had an enviable reputation. For a number of years, he filled the position of Medical Health Officer and was also a County Coroner. He took an active part in Y.M.C.A.(Young Men's Christian Association) work and was ex-President of the local Association and a member of the executive. Dr. Yeomans died in Belleville on October 31, 1921, aged 55 years 11 months 29 days.

Yeomans, Horace Dr.
-1854

Horace Yeomans was born at Colchester, Connecticut. He came to Canada in 1805 and taught school for 3 years while studying medicine at a New York College. He went to Waterloo, now Cataraqui, and established a practice ranging from Napanee on the west, and from Bath, north to Sydenham. He was licensed to practice by the Medical Board of Upper Canada on January 7, 1823. He was appointed as both Justice of the Peace for the Midland District and to the Waterloo Board of Health, in 1835. That same year, he was a member of a committee formed to pursue the idea of a Kingston to Napanee road, which when built, was the first macadamized road in Upper Canada. He was active in securing a village post office in 1847. Dr. Yeomans died in 1854, aged 65.

Yeomans, Horace Philip
Dr.
-1889

Horace Philip Yeomans was born in Odessa, educated locally and was a graduate in Arts and Medicine of the University of Queen's College in 1863. He practiced initially in his hometown, removing to Mount Forest, where he was appointed Coroner for the County of Wellington in 1877. He was a member of the Provincial Board of Health since its formation. Dr. Yeomans died at Mount Forest on December 23, 1889, aged 49.

Yeomans, Lilian Barbara
Dr.
-1942

Lilian Barbara Yeomans was in active practice herself surrounded with the problems of the poor and unemployed. She served prostitutes, visited prisons, worked with alcoholics, and dealt with the social breakdown of people in distress. She became addicted to narcotics. Dr. Yeomans turned to the Bible for solace. Where medical intervention failed, she found peace in God. She gave up her medical practice and became a Missionary among the Cree Indians. Later, she held evangelistic meetings throughout the United States and Canada. She led thousands of people to believe in God for their healing and salvation. Now, living in California, people would come to her home to receive prayer for healing. Dr. Lilian Yeomans died on December 9, 1942, aged 81 years 5 months 16 days.

Yerex, David V. Dr.
1845-1906

David V. Yerex was born at Picton, Ontario on April 21, 1845 son of William Yerex and Phoebe Ann Herrington. In 1864 he went to Toronto where he attended the normal training school for a year, entered the Medical School at the University of Toronto for a year and went to Bellevue Hospital in New York City where he graduated at the end of a year. In 1869 he went to Imlay City, Lapeer County, Michigan where he remained for the duration. He followed the practice of his profession at Imlay, served as Superintendent of the County Poor House, was Village President, served as moderator of the School Board and was a Notary Public. He wed Minnie Burghart on February 25, 1885. Dr. David V. Yerex died post operatively at Harper Hospital in Detroit, Michigan, the oldest practitioner in his township, on August 27, 1906 aged 61 years 4 months 6 days.

Youker, William Dr.
-1899

William Youker was a native of Thurlow Township, Hastings County. He graduated from McGill University in 1870. He first practiced in Shannonville, then in the village of Stirling where he was in association with Dr. Faulkner. He removed to Belleville where he followed the work of his profession for the last 15 years of his life. Dr. Youker died in Belleville, following an operation for appendicitis, on January 11, 1899, aged 52 years 2 months.

Youmans, Milton Dr.
-1898

Milton Youmans was born in Prince Edward County and received his medical degree from Victoria University in 1866. After practicing for a time in Hagersville and Welland, he removed to Picton about 1873. From there, he returned to the Niagara District and settled at St. Catharines. Dr. Youmans died, after a piece of glass lodged in his throat causing severe lacerations, on November 3, 1898, aged 61.

Young, Claude Remell Dr.
1899-1980

Claude Remell Young was born at the farmhouse at Sandhurst, Ontario, just east of Adolphustown, on February 11, 1899 son of Amos Young and Susannah Charingbold. He was a graduate of the faculty of medicine at Queen's University in 1922. Dr. Young was certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and removed to practice medicine in Broome County, New York State. He was united in marriage to Suzanne Conant in August 1940. Dr. Young served as superintendent of the Binghamton State Hospital and in 1944 was appointed as medical inspector of the State Department of Mental Hygiene. Dr. Claude Remell Young died at Binghamton on July 31, 1980 aged 81 years 5 months and 20 days.

Young, Daniel Dr.
-1909

Daniel Young was born in Perth and graduated from Queen's Medical College in 1862. He practiced in Bath, Conway and then for many years in Adolphustown. He moved to Toronto about two years before his death. His will directed that his "heart and arteries be filled with resin" which would serve to demonstrate the anatomical structures of the heart and vessels. His will, also, directed some legacies to the Anglican, Presbyterian and Methodist Churches and the Canadian College of Music. Dr. Young died at Toronto on February 22, 1909 aged 77 years 11 months 4 days.

Young, Frederick Homer
Dr.
1829-1916

Frederick Homer Young was born at Picton, Ontario on Dec 15, 1829 son of John Young and Esther Ingell. He entered into the study of medicine at the University of Michigan where his 1861 graduation Thesis was entitled: The Relation of Temperature to Health and Disease. Dr. Young was appointed as coroner for Prince Edward County and became a well known physician in the County, Oshawa, Ontario and at Cedar Springs, Kent County, Michigan, serving the communities through the 'horse and buggy days'. Dr. Frederick Homer Young was found in the woods near Ameliasburgh, having died of exposure, death occurring on Mar 15, 1916 aged 86 years 3 months.

Young, Ward Dr.
1872-1949

Ward Young was born at Hawley, near Odessa, Ontario in 1872, son of Henry Young and Harriett Hannah Williams. He attended the local classrooms and graduated from the medical school at Queen's University in 1898. He hung his shingle at Odessa, Ontario before removing to Bovina, New York, then Gouverneur, New York. Here, he was the Medical Officer of Health and served as a General Practitioner from 1911 to 1922. He then went to Massachusetts, took post graduate work in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat and returned to Gouverneur as a Specialist; he was an Honour Diploma of the American Board of Otolaryngology. Dr. Young was twice married, first to Annie Cotton on March 7, 1903 and then to Mae Papineau on October 22, 1940. Dr. Ward Young died on January 26, 1949, aged 77.

Young, William Allen Dr.
1869-1939

William Allen Young was born on Feb 22, 1869 at Fredericksburg, Ontario son of Henry Young and Harriet Williams and brother of the previously documented Dr. Ward Young. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1894, located at Westfield, Vermont, and was united in marriage to Ruth Wright on Dec 31, 1900. A widower, he was married in New York to Marie Connor on Jan 2, 1906. Dr. Young represented the Town of Westfield in the Vermont Legislature in 1910 and served as a director of the Valley Savings Bank and Trust Company of North Troy. In 1916 he removed to Lowell, Vermont where he continued his profession, his practice taking in several of the surrounding towns, his professional service extending over 45 years.

Dr. William Allen Young died at Burlington, Vermont on Sept 8, 1939 aged 70 years 6 months 16 days.

Yourex, Edmund Lambert
Dr.
1863-1930.

Edmund Lambert Yourex was born at Belleville in October 1863, son of Elijah Yourex and Patience Cook. He was educated locally, attended Queen's University in 1887 and studied Medicine at the Hahnemann College in Philadelphia, where he graduated in 1892. Dr. Yourex was employed in the Teaching Corps of the Homeopathic School, teaching the subjects of toxicology, pharmacy and obstetrics. He commenced his practice at Baltimore, Maryland where he remained for the duration. He married Almedia Banks at Chicago on August 10, 1893. Dr. Edmund Yourex was a cousin of the previously chronicled Dr. John McGill Yourex, Dr. Edmund Lambert Yourex died on June 24, 1930, aged 66 years, 8 months.

Yourex, John McGill Dr.
-1929

John McGill Yourex was a native of Lonsdale, Tyendinaga Township, Hastings County. He studied medicine and graduated from Queen's University in 1876. He soon located in Zephyr, Ontario where he remained for about ten years. He was a man of eccentric proclivities, which assumed a form of quarrelling with his patients, one of whom squared his account by throwing a cord of wood through a window into his parlour. In 1907, he was located in Wellington, Ontario. Dr. Yourex died at Camden East on June 13, 1929, aged 81 years 9 months.

Zwick, Frank Dr.
- 1931

Frank Zwick was born on the 3rd Concession, Sidney Township. He was of United Empire Loyalist stock; his father owned a large tract of land in Belleville and Zwick's Island is named after the family. After attending the public and high schools in Belleville, he finished Normal School in Ottawa and taught school. He graduated from Toronto University in medicine in 1890 and took a post-graduate course in New York. He commenced a practice in Stirling in 1891. He took an active interest in municipal affairs and was a member of the Stirling Council at the time of his death. Dr. Zwick was one of the oldest practicing physicians in Hastings County when he died on December 6, 1931, aged 71 years 5 months 26 days.

Zwick, Frank Fraser Dr.
1894-1947

Frank Fraser Zwick was born at Stirling, Ontario on June 10, 1894 son of Dr. Frank Zwick and Agnes Hunter. He served overseas from 1914 to 1917 in the First World War with the medical corps and remained keenly interested in Veterans' welfare. He graduated from the faculty of medicine at the University of Toronto in 1921 and interned at St. Michael's Hospital; he was united in marriage to Florence Brown on September 3, 1919. Dr. Zwick soon established himself at Waterloo, Ontario where he remained for the duration. He served on the Waterloo public school board and took an active interest in the children and the community in general. Dr. Frank Fraser Zwick died at Waterloo on November 23, 1947 aged 53 years 5 months and 13 days.