DEDICATION

These Volumes are dedicated to the Memory of George Green. He was a tireless worker in surveying cemeteries for Volume III and part of Volume II and entering data into the computer.

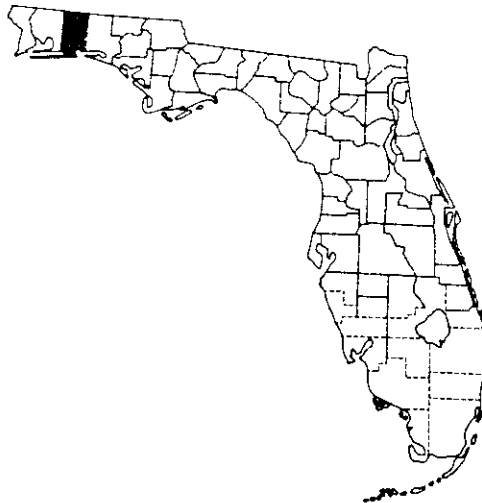

OKALOOSA COUNTY

Okaloosa County officially became Florida's 52nd county, by an act of the Florida State Legislature, on June 13, 1915 and said act was ratified by the first general Election held in 1916.

The county was formed from Ranges 22 and 23 from the western side of Walton County and Ranges 24 and 25 from the eastern side of Santa Rosa County.

The county is approximately 24 miles wide and extends from the Gulf of Mexico, on the South, to the Alabama state line on the North.

Prior to the formation of Santa Rosa County, Escambia County extended into what is now Okaloosa County.

INTRODUCTION

The cemeteries in Okaloosa County were surveyed between 1981 and 1984 by the Genealogical Society of Okaloosa County. The cemetery committee consulted former listings compiled by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and by the Okaloosa-Walton Historical Society. Inscriptions from former lists no longer in evidence were added to the new survey. On occasion a death date has been added after 1984 when the tombstone was already in place. These dates were obtained through personal knowledge or newspapers.

The cemetery listings are published in three volumes. Volume I consists of cemeteries found in the area north of the Shoal River and east of the Yellow River. Volume II contains those cemetery listings in the area north of the Shoal River and west of the Yellow River. Volume III consists of listings of all the cemeteries south of the Shoal River.

Every effort has been made to copy these inscriptions accurately; however, since the transcribers are human, there may be errors. Often old inscriptions are difficult to read. When an educated guess was made, a question mark follows. Occasionally names are misspelled, and sometimes the dates may be incorrect since tombstones are often ordered long after the event. Memory of the survivors may be faulty, thus causing wrong information to be inscribed on the tombstone.

There are many errors in figuring ages on the tombstones. However, these ages are included as inscribed on the stone. In some cases dates are in the books but not on the tombstones. These dates were given by relatives.

Since the tombstones were read in the early 80s, interments since the readings are not included except on occasion when the date of death was known by proofreaders. The surveys were conducted by different persons. Some listed concrete slabs and unmarked graves, while others did not.

However, in spite of drawbacks, these listings are an additional source, we hope a valuable one, in the search for our ancestry.

We thank all of those who have worked on the cemetery books, either in the copying of inscriptions or in the publication of the book.

CEDAR GROVE - Mt ZION (BLACK)

Location: Cedar Grove is located about three miles west of Laurel Hill on County Road 85A (New Ebenezer Road). It is on private property so the roads leading to it are in very poor condition. On the County map it is called Mt. Zion Cemetery for a church located about 1/2 mile West of Laurel Hill. It would be best to find someone familiar with the area to take you to cemetery.

HART CEMETERY

CEMETERY RECORDS of OKALOOSA COUNTY

*NOTES: Mrs. Annie L. Campbell on Jan. 7, 1982, gave the following history of the cemetery.

The Magnolia Cemetery, formerly known as the Sam Clary Cemetery is situated approximately 6 1/2 miles southwest of Laurel Hill, Fla.

This cemetery was originally a burial ground for the black race only. Late in the 19th or early in the 20th century, the white race took over the cemetery and the black race discontinued using it. This writer remembers when there were more graves of black people than of whites. These graves located in the southwest section of the cemetery are no longer visible except for two. One of these are clearly marked, Annie Mae (Minnie May) Colquit, daughter of Howard and Pinkey Colquit. The other is marked, but it is badly damaged and the information is dim. The words "Buford 1884-45 years of age" is all that can be read.

I remember Howard and Pinkey Colquit. They lived near New Travelers' Rest Church west of Laurel Hill and Howard worked a sawmill and grist-mill owned by my husband's uncle, the late Daniel Campbell.

I also remember some of the Buford people. They had a good name and lived in the Community of Campton, Fla. Some of them worked at a turpentine still owned by the late Davis Clary, who is buried in the cemetery.

Mrs. Marguerite Clary and Mrs. Campbell supplied the information for the unmarked graves that are located in the cemetery. There are many more graves that have been lost because of no markers.

MAGNOLIA - "THE GRAVES"

Location: Within a few yards of the site of the original Magnolia Baptist Church building, in the Magnolia Community, lies a small cemetery. It has only seven graves, all members of the HOWARD family, and the family always referred to it as "The Graves". It was never named. The original church building was a log structure, also used for school. In 1912, the present church building was erected a half-mile away. Surveyed by Martha Rogers and Annie L. Campbell, January 7, 1982

Graves information by Marguerite CLARY & Annie L. CAMPBELL

NOTE: Historical info provided by Annie L. CAMPBELL. Elizabeth (Bess) HOWARD was the first person to be buried here. As a child, Bess enjoyed playing under a large haw tree with her playmates, and often told them and her parents that she wanted to be buried under that tree. Later Bess married Daniel R. MOORE, a Laurel Hill merchant, and shortly after the birth of their child, Bess died and her request was granted. While her parents lived, her grave was lovingly and carefully tended. As time passed, her parent, both of her sisters, a brother-in-law and her infant great-nephew were buried there.

In 1912, when the present church building was erected, the little cemetery became isolated and overgrown with trees and underbrush. In 1982, plans were being made by the church to restore it and open a road to it.
