PREFACE

This publication is one of a series published by The Genealogical Society of Okaloosa County to provide sources for researchers to use in their searches for information on their ancestors.

The first funeral parlor in Okaloosa County was the Fisher-Pou of Pensacola. In 1922 they opened an establishment in Crestview and taught local resident Lawrence Edward McLaughlin the business of undertaking. Not long afterward they closed the funeral parlor and took their records to Pensacola where they were later destroyed by the 1928 flood. About 1927 Lawrence E. McLaughlin decided to open his own funeral parlor and this is where the records begin. These records have been copied from data between 1927 and 1984 except for the years 1973 and 1974 for which the records have not been found.

Another early funeral parlor in Okaloosa County was that of Dan Moore of Laurel Hill. He started a funeral parlor probably in the late teens or early 1920s in Laurel Hill and later moved to Crestview. He continued his business until his death about 1942. His principal business was casket making rather than conducting funerals.

The entries in this book were copied from hand written records of the McLaughlin Funeral Home. They were proofread, checked against cemetery records previously published by the Genealogical Society, corrected when necessary, and entered into a database. The 11,000 plus entries include the names of the deceased and, when given, the names of their parents.

The Genealogical Society of Okaloosa County is pleased to acknowledge the gracious services of the McLaughlin Funeral Home in Crestview, Florida, in providing their records. Also, the Society recognizes the inspiration of Wiley Benjamin Hill, Jr., a charter member, who, on one occasion while visiting with the McLaughlin Funeral Home personnel, interceded when some of the original entries were about to be discarded. Although there was a main register containing most of the information on the individual sheets, Mr. Hill was anxious to preserve every scrap of that record and asked if he could take possession of the material about to be discarded.

A few years ago these records were gathered by his daughter, Margaret Harris, at Mr. Hill's request, and turned over to the Genealogical Society. Society member Jean Grave not only volunteered to help prepare these records for publication, but envisioned a larger effort. She began acting as liaison and point of contact for the immense project of gathering the last 57 years' worth of the McLaughlin Funeral Home records. With member Fran Roberts diligently entering the information into a data base and assisting with the physical gathering of these records, they spent the better part of three years copying and proofreading and editing to complete the task this past year, 1999.

Notes: No funeral records, other than those from the McLaughlin Funeral Home, have been included in this database.

The researcher should obtain a copy of the death certificate for verification of dates.

The symbol (C) on a record stands for Colored. This designation was made by the funeral home and carried forward on these entries.
