

Lamar W. Altman

Lamar W. Altman, 66, of Loganville, passed away Friday, Jan. 14, 2011. Funeral services were Jan. 18 at Loganville First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Jerry Meredith, Dr. Gary Whetstone and the Rev. Ken Stephens officiating. Interment followed at Georgia National Cemetery in Canton.

Mr. Altman was a native of Hoboken and retired from ATT Technologies. He was a retired Vietnam veteran of the U.S. Army and a member of New Hope United Methodist Church. He was preceded in death by parents, Harvey and Endeka Altman; brothers, J.H. Altman, Aubrey Altman and Carrol Altman. He is survived by the Rev. Dr. Loretta Johns Altman, wife of 45 years, of Loganville; son and daughter-in-law, Jason and Holly Altman, of Loganville; son, Trent Altman, of Atlanta; brothers, Ellis and Virdie Altman and Kennon and Kathern Altman, all of Hoboken.; sister, Mary Louise Dowling, of Hazelhurst; sister-in-law, Linda Altman, of Chula; as well as many nieces and nephews.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to New Hope United Methodist Church Building Fund, 2085 New Hope Church Road, Monroe, GA 30655. Tim Stewart Funeral Home Loganville, was in charge of the arrangements. Please sign online guest registry at www.stewartfh.com.

The Walton Tribune
January 19, 2011 A 5