

ANNOUNCING TO WARREN COUNTY THE PUBLICATION IVEY-POOL (PETTYPOOL) and MAY-KITCHENS FAMILY HISTORY 2002

By Allen, Elizabeth and Steve Ivey

This new genealogical volume of nearly 900 pages of family histories of the ancestors of these families, most of whom came from England, some as early as 1604, including native American Indian relatives, making some lines in this country for nearly 400 years. This wealth of information will be published around December 2002. This is an extensive genealogical work covering over 11,000 people of over 1,700 surnames with most major lines traced back to England. Some prominent surnames include: Abbott, Acton, Adkins, Aldred, Ansley, Avent, Cannon, Cason, Claiborne, Colpepper, Dauley, English, Gooch, Hart, Hattaway, Hobbs, Hyman, Ivey/Ivie/Ivy, Johnson, Kitchens, Lingo, May, Newsome, Norris, Pate, Pettypool, Pool, Snipes, Stafford, Tapley and Wilson to name only a few of the 1,700 surnames, most in Warren County.

This volume includes accounts of the most recent family members, a transcript of a secret navy war diary from World War II, census records, tax records, and land records. It tells stories of generations that have fought in every war from the American Revolution, War of 1812, and American-Indian War, World War II up through those serving in peace time. Service records and stories of those that died and survived these Wars are included and includes the story of one family that gave up several sons in the Civil War and tells of families fighting on both sides.

These ancestors immigrated in the early 1600s to Virginia, North and South Carolina and into eastern Georgia where these families were the first settlers of the Parishes (County) of Georgia before it was the USA. Over 2000 individuals in eastern Georgia and especially Warren, Washington, Glascock, McDuffie, and Wilkes Counties are listed with information and dates of births, marriages, children, deaths, wills and burials and/or stories.

Includes information on occupations from Preachers, Prohibitionists, Railroad Workers, Farmers, Merchants and Millwrights. These founding fathers of eastern Georgia were the early settlers that donated the land for the churches, built the churches, and preached in them. Pictures of relatives born in the 1800's are included along with copies of wills and other documents.

This is the first volume of this depth of information to be printed on many family members.
