

JOHN REGINALD GENN (1943 – 2014) Brother of David Genn.

JRG - 01	Totem sculpture.
JRG - 02	Salad bowl.
JRG - 03	Sculpture.
JRG - 04	Sculpture. “Lady Che Gevara”.
JRG - 05	Totem pole, redwood, 9.5 foot, carved in California.
JRG - 06	I got the Heddon cane fly rod at the Victoria flea market. John provided the R.W. Young reel and line.
JRG - 07	This Thomas Leadbetter flintlock pistol (vintage, approx. 1890) was given to John by our neighbor, George Powell who had found it in a garden in England. It was deemed to need registering, John being too young, it got registered to me. I had a hammer made by Joyce Schnaitter, of Beloit, Wisconsin. It was ultimately rolled over into the new system and, due to the short barrel, it was classed as prohibited. As it is an antique, it does not now need to be registered but through this convoluted process, I became the legal registered owner of a prohibited.
JRG - 08	A delightful sculpture by John, now adorning my garden.
JRG - 09	Another delightful sculpture, probably his best.
