INTRODUCTION

This book provides names of c270 Grahams and c1180 of other surnames, ancestors and descendants (including partners and spouses) of a branch of the Graham family, from Penrith area, Cumbria, England, who settled at Eyre WA ("Eyre's Sand Patch") in 1877 and some lived near Narrogin from c1897. Names are not available for a further c160 children, listed in the family tree. Possibly an additional c400 persons are missing from the family tree, notably Burnett, Ryan and Annear. If you have any information to contribute, contact me by mail or email. Some details are provided of relations in USA and South Australia.

Introduction

Eyre (now a bird observatory) is located c1220 km ESE of Perth, c280km WSW of Eucla, c100km SW of Madura Roadhouse/Motel, c50km SE of Cocklebidy Roadhouse/Motel.

Narrogin is located c180km SE of Perth.

Included in the book are persons who lived as family members with Grahams and Graham descendants, including partners and children from previous relationships.

This book is based on family tree data, originally compiled by Bill Graham and updated at the annual Graham reunions. Computer versions of the family tree are held by Keith Stewart and myself. A version of the family tree is on the Internet at <http://freepages.genealogy.rootsweb.com/~gregheberle/Excel/otherft/Grahamft.xls> .

Surnames have been listed before other names, to facilitate compilation of the index.

Despite extensive checking, this book will contain errors, including spelling errors, for which I apologize. It is based on data from many sources, including interviews with relations; books, newspapers, Internet. Much of the information was collected by telephone call and spelling of many names is uncertain. Marital status was sometimes not certain and surnames of some children not known. Unfortunately some surnames will be incorrect. Peoples memories can be incomplete. Sources, written and verbal can vary.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

William (Bill) Theodor Graham, paid for family tree research in England and drew up the original family tree, which was displayed at the annual Graham family reunions at Perry Lakes. The first reunion was inspired by Lynette Graham and Doris Graham and held c1985. The assistance is acknowledged of Graham and Margaret Bowden, who have cared for boxes of Bill Graham's family history data, since he left WA. Thanks are due to those who provided family information and/or photos and to Keith and Wendy Stewart, who have maintained the family tree, in recent years.

Family data was provided by numerous persons, including:

ORIGIN OF THE NAME

There are a number of opinions as to the origin of the surname Graham.

- Graham may be derived from an English place name "graegham" which meant either "gravelly homestead" or "grey home."
- Graham could derived from the Anglo Saxon grim; Dutch, grim; German, grimm; Welsh, grem; Gaelic, gruaim; surly, sullen, dark, having a fierce and stern look, courageous.
- Some Graham may be descended from a Graeme, who lived in Roman times, c100 AD.
- Some Graham may be descendents of a Graeme/Gramus who lived in c400 AD.
- Graham were found in both England and Scotland, but were associated mainly with the region between Cumberland and Dumfriesshire. During the border raids of Tudor times, the Graham were a troublesome family. Following the union of England and Scotland in the 1600s many troublesome border country Graham were transported to Ireland and were forbidden to return.

Introduction

- William de Grantham (probably born in Normandy) was the youngest son of William de Tancarville of Danish descent, and Matilda d'Arques, direct descendent of the Anglo-Saxon and Danish kings. The father was a baron of Normandy, and went to England with William the Conqueror in 1066, and for his services received a barony in Lincolnshire called Grantham. He also had properties in Normandy. From this family, descended the Marquis of Montrose (Lowry, 2000).
- William de Grantham became business manager for his father at the Barony of Grantham in Lincolnshire, England. His name was soon shortened to William de Graham (sometimes written Graeme). He settled in Scotland in the 1120s and obtained Abercom and Dalkeith.
- Graham was sometimes spelt Grahame.

NUMBERS OF GRAHAM

Graham is a common surname in the English-speaking world. The following is based on Google Internet searches.

- In England and Wales it was the 101st most common surname in c1990.
- In Scotland it was the 30th most common surname in c1990.
- In Ireland it was the 82nd most common surname in 1890.
- In USA it was the 104th most common surname in 1990, with c204,000 USA Graham.

Graham is less common in mainland Europe.

- In France, it was the c35,500th most common surname in c2005, with c300 persons.
- In Germany, it was the c15,150th most common surname in c2005, with c500 persons.

Graham is a common name in West Australia. A quick check of the Perth 2005/06 telephone directory, suggested that Graham was the 82nd most common surname and that there were some 480 distinct Graham telephone numbers in Perth. Other WA directories contained some 100 Graham, in the remainder of the State. The State electoral roll contained some 1360 Graham (18 years +) in June 2004. There were probably at least 2000 persons using the surname Graham in WA as at 1.1.2007, of which c9% = 180 belong to this branch.

The 2006/07 telephone directory for Adelaide has c300 Graham telephone numbers. SA country directories contain a further 100 Graham telephone numbers. Probably at least 1300 Graham lived in SA as at 1.1.2007. Possibly 5% = 60 belong to this branch.

Graham are known to have lived in Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Belize, Brazil, Canada, Colombia, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, El Salvador, France, Germany, Iceland, India, Ireland, Luxembourg, Malta, Mauritius, Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, St Helena, South Africa, Spain, Sri Lanka, Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom, USA, Uruguay, Venezuela, West Indies, Zaire.

It seems likely that there were at least 400,000 persons using the surname Graham in the world as at 1.1.2007.

SUB BRANCHES of PENRITH BRANCH IN WA

ANNUAL GRAHAM REUNION WA

William (Bill) Theodor Graham, paid for family tree research in United Kingdom and drew up the original family tree. An updated version of the family tree is displayed at the annual Graham family reunions at Perry Lakes. The first reunion was inspired by Lynette Graham and Doris Graham and held c1985. Initially, only members of the William Le Fevre Graham sub branch attended. Members of other sub branches have attended. It is held on the first Sunday of December, in the NW section of Perry Lakes, typically from about 1100 to 1600 hours. From Oceanic Drive, Floreat suburb, turn S on Perry Lakes Drive. After 300m, take first turn left and 2nd turn right (at hockey club rooms & toilets). Graham relations typically gather on the grass on the left, c200m down this road. Bring chairs.

RELATIONS IN ENGLAND

This branch of Graham came from the Penrith area in Cumbria/Cumberland county in England. At the time of the 1841 census there were c75 Graham recorded in Penrith. The sons of John Graham (b 1781 Greystoke, 6km W of Penrith) and Jane Proud (b 1783 Knarsdale d 1832 Penrith) had left Penrith by 1841, but John Graham (who migrated to Australia) and family was in Newcastle on Tyne. Graham were recorded in Penrith in the 1841, 1851, 1861, 1871, 1881, 1891 and 1901 censuses, which are available on the Ancestry.com Internet site. Possibly c200 Graham live in Penrith in 2007 (there are 55 in the telephone directory). Penrith had a population of 6500 in 1841, 9200 in 1901 and 14700 in 2001.

Other Graham from the Penrith area came to Australia. William Graham (b 1830) and 2 brothers were poaching near Penrith in 1856 when involved in a fracas with a gamekeeper, who died. He was sentenced to transportation as a convict and arrived in Fremantle WA in 1858 (Erickson & O'Mara, 1994). He was given ticket of leave in 1861 and worked as a lime burner near Fremantle and then kangaroo hunter and small farmer near Dandaragan. He died near Dandaragan in 1891.

Family trees for English Graham from Penrith are on the Internet at:

<http://freepages.genealogy.rootsweb.com/~gregheberle/Excel/otherft/Grahamft-Penrith-Cumbria.xls> .

RELATIONS IN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

John Graham (b 1809 Penrith) migrated to South Australia c1845, possibly via New Zealand. According to USA relatives, he apparently lived in USA for a period, c1842-. His brothers George (b 1804 Penrith), Arthur (b 1811 Penrith), William (b 1817 Penrith) and Edward (b 1819 Penrith), Thomas (b 1824 Penrith) and sister Ann (b 1820 Penrith) all migrated to USA, c1832-40. Descendants were in California 1930 (Los Angeles), Colorado 1914-20 (Colorado Springs, Delta City, Eaton, Paonia), Iowa 1862-1932 (Beaver, Des Moines, Fairmont, Jasper, Keokuk, Mitchellville, Prairie City), Idaho 1901 (Payette), Kansas 1928-30 (Dodge City), Minnesota 1930 (St Paul), Missouri 1889-1930 (Burris Fork, Dickerson, Highland, High Point, Round Grove, St Louis, Tuscumbia, Warren), Oregon 1885-2007 (Baker City, Bay City, Brogan, La Grande, Lakeview, Lebanon, Molalla, Portland, Redmond, Scappoose, Tillamook, Vale), Pennsylvania 1830-1891 (Bellefonte, Girard, Snow Shoe, Spring, Lewistown), Washington 1949-1984 (Spokane, Toppenish, Vancouver, Walla Walla). They would have lived in numerous other places, as the family tree is far from complete, particularly for since 1930.

Graham, William b 28.3.1842 Newcastle on Tyne, England, d 4.8.1912 Narrogin, m Trott, Emily 10.10.1862 Adelaide. Emily b 2.7.1841 Adelaide d 25.5.1916 Narrogin. Agent Kadina 1866-73. School master Green Plains, near Kadina 1875-76. Telegraph clerk Kadina 1876. Arrived in WA from SA 1877. Arrived at Eyre in April 1877. Wife and family did not arrive until some 9 months later. Worked on construction of the telegraph line, with a gang, including convicts. Telegraph Master Eyre WA 17.7.1877-1903. William Graham was known as "Iron-Man Graham". He is reputed to have ridden a bicycle along the over land telegraph track from Israelite Bay to Eyre, a distance of about 320 km through sand and scrub and to have regularly visited supply ships riding at anchor and then swum a kilometre or so back to shore. A ship arrived about every 3 months and anchored about a kilometre off shore. Everything was ferried ashore by rowboat and carried about 600m over the sand dunes to the house. If the ship was late, it was too bad and they had to do without. Evidently they ran out of supplies one Christmas and dined on kangaroo and crow. William bred and raced horses. His family were fluent in the language of the Mirning, the local Aboriginal group and some of the family spoke other Aboriginal languages. William was appointed Protector of Aboriginals, under the relevant legislation. He later purchased Madura station and the children helped in construction of the homestead.

Edward John Eyre and his expedition passed within 20 km of present day Caiguna, in 1841. On 29 April 1841 John Baxter was murdered (allegedly) by 2 South Australian Aboriginal members of the expedition. Nearly 40 years later, William Graham organised a search party to discover Baxter's remains. They found the remains and sent the bones to Perth. According to Slee & Shaw (1979), Baxter's remains were forwarded to Eyre, then Governor of Jamaica. The spot was later marked by a cairn. Eyre's expedition was forced to recuperate at "Eyre's Sandpatch", site of the present day Eyre Bird Observatory. At the time they were suffering from starvation, and were low on water. Luckily they found water at a depth of over 2 m. Eyre's party then camped at the "Sandpatch" for 29 days.

By 1877 Australia's Telegraph network had been constructed, and Eyre's Sandpatch was renamed Eyre Telegraph Station. At the time Eyre Telegraph Station was a major repeater link in a chain of stations that connected Sydney to Perth. Eyre Telegraph Station continued to operate until 1927. The site was then abandoned for about 50 years. The Eyre Telegraph Station was restored in c1979 by Birds Australia and the Post Office Historical Society. The original corrugated iron buildings were built c1877. In 1897 the new stone buildings were erected 250m away, along the back of a sand dune.

At least 4 of William's daughters married telegraph men, including George Stevens, Telegraph Master at Eucla 1886-1895, who married Anne; Michael Ryan, who succeeded Stevens, married Clara; telegraphist John Farrant married Emily and Eliza married telegraphist Charles Annear.

William and Emily farmed at Torbling, accessible via Williams Rd, located 4km west of Narrogin turning south into Cooramining Rd and at about 1.5km south. A cairn is at the one time entrance to Torbling, there is no building there now. He established an orchard there c1903. One of those responsible for having the old Anglican church built in Narrogin. Rector's warden for some years. William was a farmer near Narrogin 1903-12, with wife Emily. Son William LF settled in Narrogin in 1897. William senior's 3 youngest children (Edmund E, Jessie J and George G) are thought to have moved to Narrogin c1903. The older daughters had married by then and left the family home at Eyre before 1903. Sons Charles E and John W are thought to have stayed in the Eyre-Norseman area.

William and Emily's children: Anne E b 1863, Emily K b 1864, Clara O b 1866, Elizabeth M b 1868, Olive M b 1870, John W b 1873, William LF b 1876, Charles E b 1879, Edmund E b 1882, Jessie J b 1883, George G b 1887.

Aboriginal people sometimes adopted the surname of their employer. Graham, Jimmy from South Australia adopted the name after being treated with kindness by the Eyre Grahams (Gifford, 2002). It is not known if he has descendants.

FAMILY of WILLIAM and EMILY (nee Trott) GRAHAM

Graham, Ann Elizabeth b 8.6.1863 Kadina SA d 16.9.1938 Perth (Claremont). Educated Hardwick College, Adelaide. Married Stevens, George Philip 23.12.1884. He b 24.6.1861 Keynsham, England, d 20.11.1941 Perth (Claremont). George was educated in Toodyay, where his family arrived in 1868. George entered telegraph service in 1874, at age 13 in Toodyay. After 3 years, he was transferred to Esperance, as Assistant-Telegraphist. In 1878 he was transferred to Bremer Bay, where he stayed until 1882. He was then transferred to Israelite Bay. This brought him into direct contact with the telegraph station at Eyre, some 250km E, where William Graham and family lived. Telegraphists could hold conversations with each other by morse code. William Graham's daughters had learnt morse code and often stood-in as telegraph operators. Eldest daughter Ann and George Stevens conversed by telegraph. They conducted their courtship over the telegraph and did not meet until after George proposed marriage. Ann did not agree until after they met at Eyre. They married in Adelaide in 1884 and set up house in Israelite Bay, where their first child Ernest was born in 1885. George was Telegraph Master at Eucla 1886-95. Initially, they shared house with assistant telegraph operator Charles Annear, who was later to become their brother in law. During this period, they built their own house and moved into it in 1887. Eucla and the telegraph station became busy during the gold rushes of the early 1890s. Ann had 4 children at Eucla. George was promoted to be Superintendent of the telegraph department in Perth in 1896. He carried out radio-telegraphy experiments. After transfer of the Graham, Emily Kadina b 13.9.1864 Kadina SA, d 13.4.1943 Gooseberry Hill, Perth, Educated Hardwick College, Adelaide. Her sister Elizabeth opened the first school at Gooseberry Hill, a 2 roomed cottage in 1893. Married Farrant, John 27.2.1883 Unley, Adelaide SA. He b 4.2.1846 Sudbury England, d 10.5.1927. His father was William Farrant and mother Emily Cox Lascelles. John worked as a clerk for the Telegraph Cable Service in the Persian Gulf 1868-75. After contracting malaria, he returned to London and then migrated to Australia, arriving in Melbourne 1877. He spent time in the Victorian gold fields and became a telegraph operator. He was station master at Eucla Telegraph Station 1882-86, during which time he married Emily Graham. The family moved to Esperance and then Albany, where John was Inspector of Lines. Later they moved to Perth, living in Beaufort Street. In 1890, John secured 200ha of farmland at Gooseberry Hill, S of the Zig Zag railway line (Slee & Shaw, 1979). He started an estate agency in Perth, with an office in St Georges Terrace, where Zimpels Arcade was later built. He had a cottage built on the Gooseberry Hill property and employed a manager to live there. A second larger house was completed c1897 and the family moved in. The managers house was often rented out until 1935, when son John and wife Lilian moved in. With William Mead, formed the Vine and Fruit Growers Association in c1895. He was a member of the Upper Darling Range Railway League, formed 1902, to promote the government taking over the railway from the timber company. First businessman in the district to regularly commute by train to the city. One of the first large subdivisions in the Gooseberry Hill area (20ha in 1904), involved part of his farm. Eventually, the whole farm was sold and subdivided. Numerous place names in the area were named after family members, including Farrant St named after John Farrant. Tella St named after Clara Lascelles Farrant, always known as "Tella". Jessie St named after Jessie Lascelles Farrant. Kadina St and Kadina Brook named after Emily Kadina Graham, known as "Deanie", a derivation of Kadina. John St named after John Lascelles Farrant. Arthur St named after Arthur Lascelles Farrant. After John Farrant died in 1927, wife Emily kept the farm going until c1937, when she moved to Davies Crescent, Gooseberry Hill, with daughter Clara (Tella). Erma Ernestine was the eldest of the 6 children of James Gregory and Frances Elizabeth Hancock. Educated in Northam. Moved with her parents to Narrogin in 1904. Erma's sister, Mary m Edmund Graham, brother of Gordon. Gordon and Erma lived on "Torbling" farm, in a house they named "Ermavilla". This property, which was 5km from Narrogin, had been established by Gordon's parents. "Torbling" was a mixed farm, including dairying and an orchard planted by George's father from trees brought from South Australia. Erma and Gordon sold their fruit and dairy produce in Narrogin. The farm was subject to fires each summer, largely because of its close proximity to the Collie-Narrogin railway line and its coal-burning engines. Due to financial difficulties, the farm had to be sold and the family moved to Williams. Gordon took a position as a machinery salesman and was often away from home. Eventually he and Erma separated. Erma was religious woman, who sang in the church choir. Her hobbies included crochet work and embroidery on the sewing machine and painting with water colours. Gordon had billiard saloons in Perth at one time.

Val was a good pianist and played at dances, choirs and in concerts. She was active in community activities, including cubs, guides, brownies, school committies, church committees, Repertory, Legacy and Rotary. She married George Perry, who joined the air force at the start of WWII but died in Singapore in 1941.

William Le Fevre Graham sub branch

Child: Janet H Perry.

Bill served in World War II. Major in Royal Australian Engineers in Palestine, Syria and New Guinea. He worked on the Harvey irrigation scheme, coal mines in Morwell/Yallourn area Vic for 27 years, for Geelong Harbour Trust, for coal mines at Collie WA. Lived in Harvey WA area, Yallourn Vic, Swanston St Geelong Vic, Collie WA, Bunbury WA, Perth (The Esplanade, Scarborough), Melbourne Vic. He often visited Eyre, where his grandfather was Station Master at the telegraph station 1877. The original telegraph station is gone but its replacement, built 1897, is a limestone building, which houses the Eyre Bird Observatory. Bill led an expedition there in c1977 to repair the building. The building is threatened by large mobile sand dunes. Bill spent many days there in the 1980s covering the dunes with old fishing nets, in which he planted Spinifex seeds, mulched with seaweed, collected from the beach. Bill wrote a paper in 1990 about Edward John Eyre's trip from South Australia to Albany in 1841. He helped organise and participated (at the age of 81) in a re-enactment of 1500km of Eyre's trek, which started on 25.2.1991, 150 years after the original journey commenced. The re-enactment was planned through the Royal WA Historical Society, on his suggestion. Due to lack of sponsors, he spent over $10,000 of his own funds, organising the event. Three persons walked the entire distance, which took 5 months. They were joined by others, on various sections. About 200 people walked the final leg and were officially welcomed by WA Governor Sir Francis Burt, at the Albany Town Hall.

Bill was a leading participant in the annual Graham re-union at Perry Lakes, until he returned to Victoria. It is held on the first Sunday of December, in the NW section of Perry Lakes, typically from about 1100 to 1600 hours. Bill was a member of Rotary. He was a long distance runner. Child: Anne P.
