

Forster, Peter (from The Consultancy Bureau website)

Master of Business Administration, Bachelor of Science (Forestry) ANU 1969, Diploma of Agriculture.

Director of the Consultancy Bureau has extensive experience advising senior executives and leading major consultancy assignments in public and private sector organisations.

Typical assignments include strategic and business planning, governance systems, performance review and improvement, comprehensive organisation change programs and executive development. Significant consultancy projects include contributions to World Expo '88, the Fitzgerald Inquiry and subsequent reforms, reviews of Queensland's Child Protection and Health Services, and contribution to strategy development for the Brisbane City Council. He also assists smaller organisations in regional and rural Australia.

He is a member of the Institute of Company Directors, Australian Institute of Management, Institute of Public Administration Australia and the Institute of Foresters of Australia.