

Quill, David

Eumeralla Pty Ltd is a forestry consulting company specialising in plantation forestry management with a particular emphasis on the practical application of forestry science in plantations and of more recent times, the provision of independent expert advice for public reports and expert witness statements. The Principal, David Quill, holds a Bachelor of Science in Forestry and has over 39 years experience in the plantation forestry industry, working as an independent consultant since leaving the position of Resources Manager, CSR Timber Products in 1998. A significant component of this consulting time has been dedicated to plantation activities in remote tropical areas, both in Australia as well as Papua New Guinea and Laos. Mr Quill is a Registered Professional Forester, a member of the Association of Consulting Foresters of Australia and the Institute of Foresters of Australia.
