

Hill, Andrew (mainly from Linked In)

The University of Western Australia Bachelor of Science, 1st Year 1982. Bachelor of Science, Forestry Australian National University 1983 –85.

Assistant District Manager (Pemberton) Department of CALM December 1985 – March 1989. Assistant District Manager (Dwellingup) Department of Conservation and Land Management March 1989 – November 1990. Regional Planning Officer (Midwest) Department of CALM November 1990 – January 1996. Regional Manager (Midwest) Department of CALM December 1991 – August 1992. Environment Manager Rottneest Island Authority January 1996 – July 1998. Section Leader (Marine Reserves Implementation) Department of CALM July 1998 – September 2005. Coordinated the statewide program for establishing a marine conservation reserve system in Western Australia. and acted as Branch Manager. Director Range to Reef Environmental October 2009 – Perth. Chair of the Shark Bay World Heritage Advisory Committee January 2012 –. Program Manager, Environment Branch Department of Fisheries Western Australia September 2005 – August 2009 (4 years)Perth Area, Australia

Notre Dame University Doctor of Natural Resource Management (underway), Marine Parks Establishment 2003 – 2013 Title "Factors that lead to the successful establishment of marine protected areas in Western Australia"

Owns and operates an environmental consultancy company in Perth, Western Australia. We are available for local and international projects and have two major business streams; business sustainability and planning for conservation. Has more than 27 years experience in consulting and government roles undertaking environmental planning and management projects in terrestrial, coastal and marine settings.