

Hopkins, Eric Roy, Dr (based mainly on Roger Underwood (2006) "Old Growth Foresters. The lives and times of West Australian Foresters")

Graduated from Australian Forestry School in 1951. Worked in Research Branch for many years. Made significant contributions in the areas of tree breeding (Pinus pinaster) research. Dick Perry and Alex Malajczuk worked for him. Did PhD at University of Melbourne. Thesis "Water availability in mixed species eucalypt forest". Doctor of Philosophy, University of Melbourne, 1964. Appointed Chief of Division Research 1974/75. In early 1980s appointed Chief of Division Planning. Chief Liaison Officer, Crawley in late 1980s. Retired 27.1.1989, at age 59, then worked as a voluntary research scientist for several years.