

Randolph County Genealogical Society
Newsletter
April, May and June, 2018

I hope everyone will have a great summer and if you get a chance during your break/vacation perhaps you can come by RCGS and check out the new materials we have acquired.

Our membership is still growing. If there are any changes in your address, please let us know.

We will soon have several computers with Ancestry on them for the public to use. This project has been underway for several months. I hope many of you will take advantage of this. RCGS also plans to participate in the Illinois Bicentennial celebration with an open house this fall. Refreshments, a welcome packet, research help and drawings are being planned.

It has been very busy the last three months at RCGS. We have two non-members who volunteer every week. We appreciate them very much as well as the members who volunteer. There are usually 7 volunteers on Monday and 3 on Tuesday, depending on schedules.

Volunteering here at RCGS has been very rewarding for me. I'm still learning about all the responsibilities and duties there are but the rest of our staff has been so great and kind in guiding me in the right direction. I thank them so much for their expertise. Now we still have plenty of projects to complete or even get started, so if anyone is interested in joining our staff, we would welcome you with open arms. And hopefully in the process, you will find information you are looking for as well.

My wish for each of you is safe travels and good health during the summertime. Don't forget to put RCGS on your traveling list.

Sincerely,

Naomi Owens
Naomi Owens, President
Randolph County Genealogical Society