

Journal Gazette, The (Fort Wayne, IN) - May 25, 2006

FRED A. MILLER, 68, of Decatur, died Tuesday, May 23, 2006, 12:40 a.m., at Hospice Home, Fort Wayne. Born Jan. 17, 1938, in Adams County, he was the son of the late Robert W. Miller and Margaret (Myers) Miller. He married Agnes J. Barlett on July 23, 1960. He was a member of American Legion Post 43, Decatur. He served his country in the United States Army Rerserves. He was the fourth generation on their farm. He also worked 34 1/2 years at the General Electric Plant, Decatur as an electrician and was one of the last five people to close the General Electric plant. He attended DeVry Institute of Technology, Chicago. Surviving are his wife, Agnes J. Miller of Decatur; son, Alan Miller of Decatur; daughter, Colleen (Andy) Fuller of Linden; son, Robert (Page) Miller of Zionsville; two granddaughters; one grandson; and one stepgranddaughter.

Graveside service is 11 a.m. Saturday at Decatur Cemetery, with the Rev. Fuhrman Miller officiating. No visitation. Preferred memorials to Hospice Home, Fort Wayne or United Methodist Women's Missions. For complete obituary information and to sign the online guestbook, visit www.zwickjahn.com