LOEB AND LEOPOLD BEGIN ELEVENTH YEAR IN PRISON

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 13 – Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, “thrill slayers” of Bobby Franks, Monday began their eleventh year of imprisonment. They have abandoned hope of ever being freed, according to Benjamin Bachrach, who assisted Clarence Darrow in representing them at their trial. Loeb, now 29 years old, conducts a prison correspondence school, assisted by Leopold, 30, who is clerk in the prison Library.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Schwartz made a business trip to Warsaw and Mentone, Indiana, today.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Schrock and family, Mrs. Katie Schrock and daughter Esther, spent Sunday at Apple Creek, Ohio, visiting with Mr. Schrock’s father, Noah Schrock, Sr.

SURPRISE JR. WINTEREGG

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Winteregg entertained with a surprise party Sunday afternoon, in honor of their son, Elmer Jr., whose birthday occurs Tuesday. Mrs. Winteregg was assisted by Miss Mildred Neuenschwander.

Herman Neuenschwander and Lewis Habegger took Junior for a ride, during which time his friends gathered at his home. When the boys returned from the ride shouts of "Happy Birthday" greeted him.

Games and contests were played, Herman Neuenschwander being winner of a prize. Music was also enjoyed and pictures were taken.

Junior was the recipient of some useful gifts.

A delicious luncheon consisting of hamburger sandwiches, pickles, waldorf salad topped with jello, ice cream and wafers were served to those present.

Those who helped Junior celebrate were Arnold Flueckiger, Jerome Steiner, Clinton Liechty, Lester Habegger, Lewis Habegger, Chester Beitler, Edward Stucky, Herman Neuenschwander, Robert Dro, Paul Stahly, Miss Mildred Neuenschwander and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Winteregg and daughters Christeen and Mary Elizabeth.
