How are you coming along with your genealogical research? I am quite sure that you know by now that success in genealogy depends on organized hard work, with a lucky strike here and there to keep the enthusiasm high.

To organize our research, we must first organize the material that we have at home.

Gathering the records, certificates, letters, photographs etc. that are scattered in various places in the house into one location, should be the first step. The second step would be to file whatever you have gathered into folders or binders according to a system that will make them readily accessible and will preserve them too.
You should adopt whatever system works best for you. A word of advice: Keep it simple.

It takes time to organize records - weeks-months - but in the long run it will save you a lot of time.

From our members:

From Ardiena Stegen, a list of microfilms for RONSE, Oost-Vlaanderen.
Film 637 514, History of Renaix or Ronse, written in French?
Film 106 802 Item 1, microfilm of V. 1, pt. 9 of BEKOUW, J.H. 's"
Refugees of Ronse or Renaix, and their residences during the Spanish Occupation" written in Flemish ?
Film 585 489 Items 1-2 seems to be same as 106 802 with one additional item.

From Clement DeRoo

In answer to Pierre Inghels' questions that were published in the November issue of Belgian Laces, Clement states that he doesn't speak, read or write any foreign language, but that with the help of dictionaries is able to understand the necessary vital statistics found in the LDSA records. He has 2 documents that could be of interest to some members, one is a typewritten brochure on the city of Lembeke, E.F. which he picked up during his visit to Belgium. It's "Toeristisch Lembeke" 37 p. written in Dutch, it tells about the city, from early days to present. If anyone wishes to borrow the document, Clement will be happy to send it. Better yet, he says, if anyone who reads Dutch would care to extract and translate any genealogical information contained in the brochure, it could be made available through BELGIAN LACES.

Clement DeRoo, Con't.

The other document that he has is a detailed map, (scale 1/25,000) of the consolidated community of ASSENEDE, F.F. This community is a consolidation of the towns of ASSENEDE, BASSEVELDE, BOEKHOUTE and OOSTERKLO. All streets within and between the towns are shown and indexed as well as the "Polder" districts. It also includes an inset showing the center of Assenede. "I will be happy to work with anyone having an interest in specific localities in these towns" says Clement. Clement found an inventory of property and debts of his 2Ggrandfather, Petrus De Paepe, who died in Zomergem, F.F. in 1774. Not only were the property and debts listed but all relatives who were living at the time, from his wife to grandchildren, together with relationships, were included in the document.

Mr. & Mrs. DeRoo will be attending the World Conference on Records in Salt Lake this summer.

Because we have ancestors from the village, Mr. Abraham of Saive sent Ardiena and me the book that he has written about the village of Saive "Promenades Historiques a Saive". The author who knows Saive inside out, describes Saive in details and takes you street by street noting the history of every old street name. Also very interesting pictures of Saive and maps of the area.

The last Prince-Bishop of Liege, Francois de Mean was born in Saive, and so Pierre Pirquet, field-zeugmeister of the Austrian Army and counselor to the Austrian Emperor.

From Luana M. Bauer

She sent us a list of Belgians who immigrated from Belgium to Rice County, Minnesota. The women are listed (when possible) with their maiden names and married names. Many came as children. The first wave of immigrants came in 1857-1858. Next we have some young men coming in the 1878-1880 era. Luana hopes to add to this list when she can work more on the "Letters of Intent" file in the Rice Co. file, also she says that she needs to search more in the Rice County census and vital statistics records.

Luana also sent some very interesting military papers on a J. Peter HUMER, who enlisted as a private on Oct. 28, 1861 at Napoleon, Ohio, was appointed 1st. Sergeant on Dec. 1, 1861, in Co. A. 68 Reg't. Ohio Infantry, he became ill and died Sept. 5, 1862. His wife filed for a Army pension. Among the military papers there is a declaration stating that John P. Humer was born in Esch, Belgium, (actually Grand-Duchy) son of Peter Humer and Mary Dewsey, his wife Mary Adelaide Harris was the daughter of John B. Harris and Emma Ross of Napoleon, Ohio. The marriage certificate shows that her name was Mary Ailid Harras dau. of John Harras and Emma Ross (or Ross) They were married on the 18th of November 1861 at St. Mary Church in Detroit, Mich. by Rev. Francis Van Emstede, the witnesses were Charles Rabaut (or Rabant) and Judith Aspenslager of Detroit.

From Charlotte Rogers: "All these people were born in Belgium, I didn't copy all the passengers by any means, I just did some from Penna. and Green Bay, There is no guarantee that this is the right spelling of the names. The date is the day of arrival in the Port of New York. Hope this helps some one."

From Margot Hykes:

Margot is almost as fluent in French as she is in English. She has a book on Belgian genealogy "La Descendance d'Augustin de la Saulx de Gulchen (1734-1905) Dernier Wuaatmaitre du Duché de Limbourg" by Georges Gerard; because she uses that book very often she cannot lend or rent it but for a SAS Margot is willing to look for information in it for other members.

From Denise Thibault:

Also in answer to Pierre, Denise is willing to lend her "Parchemins" but wishes to know what the guidelines would be. This little map shows where each State Archives Center is located in Belgium, there are 16 of them for the 9 provinces. The main ones are located in the capitals.

From Audrey DuPuis:

A note that shows that perseverance pays off. Audrey had been searching for the birth/baptismal and marriage records of her ancestor Jean Joseph Dumoulin from Seraing, Liege without any success. She had all the birth records of his children and knew that his wife was Marie Anne Grignet. To complicate matters there were many Jean Joseph Dumoulin born around the same time as her ancestor would have been, but none had married a Marie Anne Grignet. A correction to the birth record of one child "Dieudonné" recorded as a boy, but who actually was a girl "Dieudonnée", showed that the father was named Bernard Joseph, following that lead she was able to determine that Jean Joseph Dumoulin had been baptized and married as Bernard Joseph Dumoulin, but had used the name Jean Joseph from that time on. She later received official

From Gems of Genealogy, the publication of the Bay Area Genealogical Society, we are informed that Mrs. Dorothy Heinrich, Curator of the Area Research Center at the University of Wisconsin, Green Bay, Wi. 54302 is collecting pedigree charts of those with Belgian Ancestry and would like to learn about the other Belgian settlements that exist or existed in the U.S. and Canada. A card file is being made of the names on the charts with the purpose of determining the migration patterns of Belgians in this country. So, dear members of The Belgian Researchers, please send your pedigree charts to Mrs. Heinrich or to Mary Ann Defnet, 832, S. Quincy, Green Bay, Wi. 54301 and your comments about what you know concerning Belgian settlements. DON'T FORGET TO UPDATE YOUR PEDIGREE CHARTS THAT WE HAVE HERE !

GEOGRAPHICALLY SPEAKING -Dictionnaire Geographique du Hainaut by Philippe Vander Maelen. (1831)

ROUX, "Commune of the county and of the district and located 1 mile North of Charleroi, and at 8 1/3 miles of the province capital. It's bordered N. by Courcelles, E. by Jumet, S. by Marchiennes-au-Pont and W. by Joncret.

The town has 4 villages: Brassée, Hube, Wilbouroux and Zaizelies. The waterway Pieton goes through the commune from S. to N. The Clairfontaine waters the castle's 2 ponds which serve as a reservoir for 2 mills. The Pieton also moves a mill.

SOIL: The land is uneven. The fields are slightly inclined; there are a few steep hills. The best soil is made of soft friable argil, fawn colored on top of solid clay. The depth of the top soil is of 8 to 9 inches.

Agriculture: Main crops are wheat, rye, winter barley, German wheat, oat, horse beans, hay, clover and potatoes. Most of the pasture is close to the Pieton. Garden and orchard are close to the living area. Thickets of timber trees are made of oak, birch, elm, hazelnut and alder trees. Their harvesting is done every 18 years. The number of horses reared is barely enough to keep up with the needs of farming works.

Population: 2193 inhabitants.

Housing: Most of the houses are well made, there is a church, a grade school, a very old country house owned by Mrs. de Tiebault.

Commerce and Industry: Most of the people works in farming, but many families earn their living by working in near by coal mines and by making nails. There are 2 breweries, 4 distilleries and 3 grist mills.

Roads and Ways: This commune located 1/2 mile away from the main road Charleroi-Namur, has 2 secondary roads which are well kept but still not passable during winter and rainy days.

GEOGRAPHICALLY SPEAKING, Dictionnaire Geographique de la Province de Luxembourg by Philippe Vander Maelen, 1831

HACHY, commune of the county and at 1 mile E.N.E. from Etalle, from the district and at 4 1/3 miles S.S.E. of Neufchateau, at 2 miles W. of Arlon and at 6 miles West of Luxembourg.

ITS village are: Bellevue, Boisrond, Fouches, Hachy, La Folie, Sampont. Coming from the S. the river Semois waters the territory.

Soil: mostly argileous; sandy and marshy in some areas.

Agriculture: Crops are wheat, rye, barley, oats, buckwheat and potatoes.

Farm animals: 180 horses, 80 colts, 300 cattle heads, 120 calves and 280 pigs.

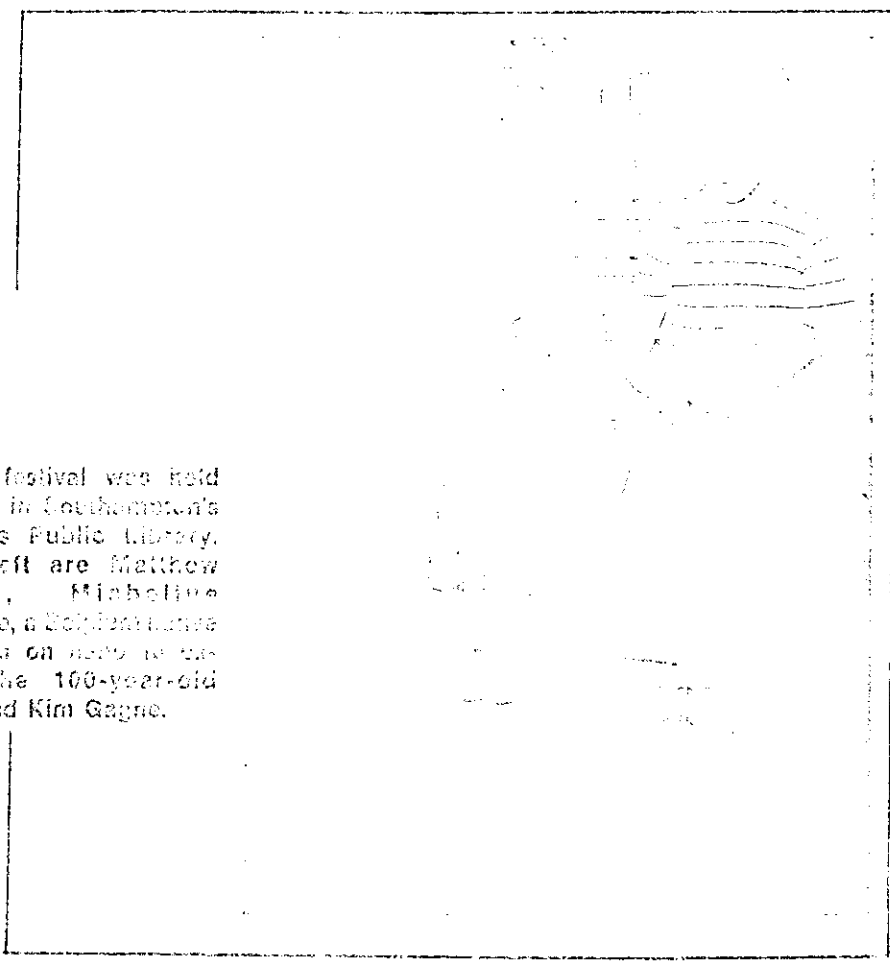

Population: 1.655 inhabitants. Habitations: 318 houses, one farm, 3 churches and 2 schools.

Commerce and industry: 1 oil mill and 1 grist mill.

Roads and Ways: The main road Namur-Luxembourg via Arlon goes thru the commune.

below, Mrs. Frary and Mrs. Freebourn receiving the 1979 Massachusetts Library of the Year Award.

I must say that I was very impressed when I visited that library earlier that year.

Carol Freebourn has ancestors by the names of Grenling, Reding, Vagener, Lucas, Hornack who came from Hachy, Luxembourg and settled in Seneca Co. Ohio.
