

There are 133 known cemeteries in Tippecanoe County but some of these would hardly be recognizable, if at all, as a place were people have been laid to rest. As Indiana's rural and suburban areas continue to undergo development of one kind or another, advocates for preserving cemeteries have become more vocal, and lawmakers have heard them. Below is a plotted map of our county's cemeteries.

