

A historical map of Monterey, California, showing the town's layout and various landmarks. The map is oriented with the coast at the bottom. A central street, likely Main Street, runs north-south. To the west, a street runs east-west, and to the east, another street runs east-west. Buildings are represented by simple rectangular shapes, some with crosses indicating churches. Mills are labeled along the coast. The map includes the names of several prominent residents and businesses. A scale of 20 rods to the inch is provided. The title 'MONTEREY' is prominently displayed in the lower-left quadrant, with 'TOWN OF MONTEREY' and the scale below it.
