

What do the Friends of the Oxon Hill Library do?

The Friends of the Oxon Hill Library supports and enhances the Library in many ways, including:

- Promoting the Library in the community;
- Stimulating support for the Library; and,
- Participating and sponsoring special programs and events for teens and youths.

Every dollar collected from membership dues, book sales, and charitable donations is given to the Oxon Hill Library.

Events and Programs

Some of the special events and programs that the Friends of Oxon Hill Library have funded and supported are:

- Summer Reading programs for children and teens
- Family Game Day
- Cherry Blossom Festival for Children
- Poetry Month Program
- Resume Builder Class
- Annual Silent Auction
- Home for the Holidays Event
- Hispanic Heritage Month
- Incentives for the adult computer program

What else do the Friends of the Oxon Hill Library do?

The Friends also have purchased supplies and materials for the library that the normal operating budget does not cover. We have provided a subscription to Book Page for customers to take for free. We hold two book and bake sales per year and sponsors the Home for the Holidays Jazz program, featuring pianist Al Davis. For the last three years (2010-2012), The Home for the Holidays Jazz program has been held in conjunction with our Silent Auction.

The Friends are currently raising funds to support the following:

- Summer Quest Reading programs for children and teens
- Sojourner Truth Programs
- Other needs of the Oxon Hill Library caused by budget cuts.
