

CHARLES L. SCOTT

CLOTHING and SHOES

This reliable, well known and long-established store carries an extensive stock of men's, boys and childrens' clothing, men's furnishing goods, hats, caps, trunks and suit cases, as well as a full stock of Footwear for everybody—men, women and children.

In April of 1883, the store was purchased by Mr. A. W. Scott, who sold it in December, 1894, to his brother, D. C. Scott, who in turn sold in October, 1897, to his son, Charles L.

In the early years, the leading feature of the store was the making of suits to measure, but owing to the truly wonderful improvements in the manufacture of ready-to-wear clothing, for some years past the store has aggressively pushed the sale of ready-to-wear clothing, and shoes.

Clothcraft Clothing forms the bulk of the suit and overcoat stock—this is one of the leading specialty lines in the country, and their makers the first among clothing manufacturers to adopt a guaranteed strictly all wool trade mark. Dutchess Trousers are here, also, and "No Name M'fg Co.'s" hats, Monarch and Progress shirts, as well as the celebrated Arrow brand collars, are also well stocked.

Turning to the shoe stock, Men's Walkover shoes attract our notice, as also the Selby Shoe Co.'s line for ladies—wonderful growth these two factories have made—twenty years ago small affairs—today among the largest in the world, the former having a capacity of thirty-three thousand pairs a day, and the latter ten thousand pairs.

Reliable merchandise, the rule of this store—steadily and persistently keeping the quality up for a period of more than twenty-five years, has built up an extensive patronage, which it is the aim to hold continually loyal by fair, courteous, and prompt service and a just appreciation of the favors of a generous public.

MRS. A. B. HINES

Leading Milliner

The subject of this sketch started the millinery business in Cadiz in 1892, in a small way, and on the site of her present commodious store. A clever adaptability to the wants of customers, a correct taste, and a tireless energy soon attracted the best trade of the city and county. The small store was inadequate and ten years ago she erected the three story brick structure, "The Hines Block," on Market street, opposite the Court House. The whole first floor is now occupied by Mrs. Hines as office, sales and workrooms, while the second floor is used for offices and the third as a hall by the order of Odd Fellows.

Mrs. Hines keeps up with the latest and nobbiest creations in the millinery line. She twice annually visits New York and Pittsburg in order to secure the very latest and most fetching designs, and she is sure to show the best in taste, style, quality and finish the season offers.
