Notes for ADAM BONE:

Adam Bone came to Indiana from Warren County, Ohio in 1846

From the Flora, Carroll County, Indiana Newspaper

Adam Bone was born near Lebanon, Warren County, Ohio, Oct. 21, 1815; died Aug. 26, 1886, aged 70 years, 10 months, and 5 days. He was married to Susan LeFever Feb. 22, 1838, who died Sept. 2, 1855. He was married again Dec. 24, 1857, to Elizabeth Wagoner, who survives him. He leaves eight children living, two having gone on before, seven grandchildren, two sisters and a great many relatives and friends to mourn their loss. Father Bone moved from Ohio to Indiana in 1846, living on the same farm until the 10th of last March when he moved to his home in Wheeling where he died. He professed religion and united with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Wheeling, under the ministrations of the Rev. S.T. Stewart, in 1853, and was ordained deacon in 1854, serving as such for ten years. He was one of the first trustees of the Church here and served faithfully in that capacity for thirty years. If Father Bone was absent from the Sunday School or Church service, it was evident that something serious was the cause. He was always in his place promptly ready for his work, which was to lead in the service of song. This he felt to be his special work and right faithfully did he perform his duty. He was very liberal in his support of the means of grace. No one loved his Church more dearly than he. To him the house of God was a sacred place and he was opposed to anything being done there that would desecrate it. He was an indulgent husband and father, a kind neighbor and friend, very firm and decided in his opinions, and highly esteemed by all who knew him. His funeral was preached by the writer, from 2 Tim. iv. 6-8, on Sunday, Aug. 29, at 11:00 a.m. to the largest congregation he ever saw assembled at this place. Kind hands laid him away to rest till God bids him arise to hail him in triumph ascending the skies. J.L. Hughey, Pastor

OBITUARY FROM THE FLORA PAPER

ISAAC NEWTON WAGONER, EARLY PIONEER, CALLED AWAY

Following an 8-weeks illness Isaac Wagoner, one of the early pioneer residents of Carrollton Township, died at his home just south of Wheeling school house at midnight Wednesday. He had been bedfast about a week and death was due to infirmities of old age. Funeral services will be held this (Saturday) morning at ten o'clock at the Wheeling Presbyterian church conducted by the pastor, Rev. A.R. Jones and Rev. Steen, of Ladoga. Interment will be made at the Deer Creek cemetery.

Isaac Newton Wagoner, one of twelve children of Martin and Rosanna Wagoner, was born in Carrollton township on September 15, 1834, making him at his demise 89 years, 10 months and 1 day of age. All his life had been spent in Carrollton township and for the almost 90 years he had witnessed marvelous transformations within its borders. He had seen the wild forests of the early days change into some of the most fertile fields in Indiana; he had witnessed the many improvements of the many years and had been instrumental in doing his part in making Carrollton township one of the leading agricultural spots of Carroll County. Although he was drafted during the Civil War he was unable to go but sent a substitute in his place. On September 22, 1864, he was united in marriage to Sarah C. Bone, who died 16 years ago last spring. To this union two children were born, both still living. They are Orien Wagoner, well known farmer of east of the city and Mrs. James Bridge, with whom he made his home. He also leaves two brothers, David Wagoner, of east of the city and William Wagoner of Indianapolis; seven grandchildren and a large legion of friends to mourn his departure. Since early manhood deceased had been a member of the Wheeling Presbyterian church.

Notes for ELIAS LEFEVRE BONE:

At the outbreak of the Civil War, in August, 1861, he enlisted in Co. K, 9th Indiana Infantry. He served until Sept. 23, 1864 when he was mustered out in Indianapolis.

From the Flora, Carroll Co., Indiana Newspaper

"FORMER CITIZEN DIES AT DAYTON"

Lying in peaceful repose as if in placid slumber, the dead body of Elias Bone, a deputy county clerk of Dayton, Ohio and brother of Lon Bone, Mrs. David Black and Mrs. Isaac Wagoner, near Wheeling, was found in bed at his sleeping apartment at an early hour Thursday morning of last week. He was afflicted with heart disease and it is supposed he was fatally attacked. Apparently the struggle was brief and death almost instantaneous.

Mr. Bone was an early riser and very precise in his habits and conduct. He was usually the first to reach the clerk's office at morning and when he failed to arrive at 7:00 that morning the officials realized something was wrong. An investigation was made and the startling discovery made when they entered his room. Dr. E.A. Stewart who resides next door was hurriedly summoned. Examination showed that the silent, pallid faced form had been dead several hours and was past all medical aid.

The news of the death of Bone quickly spread and was a great shock to his many friends and associates in the clerk's office. The desk occupied by the deceased and the vacant chair were draped in mourning and these mute evidences told in a manner the story of the death of the deputy.

Mr. Bone was 64 years of age and was well known all over Carroll County where he resided for about 20 years. He was never married. At the outbreak of the Civil War in August 1861 he enlisted in Co. K, 9th Indiana Inftry., the same company that many veterans of this vicinity belonged to. He participated in many battles and served until Sept. 23, 1864, when he was mustered out at Indianapolis. After the War he studied dentistry and graduated from dental school. He successfully practised his profession a number of years and was subsequently appointed a government gauger and was stationed at various distilleries while holding that office. He was a resident agent for a number of years and up to death of the Provident Life and Trust Co., of Philadelphia. He was an active memvber of the M.E. church, a member of the Y.M.C.A. an influential member of the Masonic order. He was a quiet gentleman and in his death a Christian character has departed for its reward.

ENTERED THE REALMS OF PERFECT HARMONY

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE TO THE LATE DR. ELIAS L. BONE, WHOSE SUDDEN SUMMONS SHOCKED THOSE WHO KNEW AND LOVED HIM...FUNERAL TODAY

Tender resolutions in memory of the late Dr. Elias L. Bone, were drafted and adopted by the official board of the Grace M.E. Church. Possessing many graces of soul and a sublime devotion to his church, which were prominent characteristics of the existence that terminated with his death on Wednesday evening, he departed from the midst of life and apparent health and physical activity into the presence of death. In accordance with the sentiment embodied in the hymn he had selected at the last church service he attended on the evening previous to his death, he has fallen asleep and death to him was not untimely. Following are the resolutions adopted:

On Wednesday, October 25, 1905, Dr. Elias L. Bone occupied his accustomed desk in the office of the county clerk and in the court room, which position he had occupied with characteristic fidelity to duty for something over five years last past.

On Wednesday evening as was his regular custom he was in his usual place at the prayer meeting of this church, as leader of the singing which position he had filled with marked regularity and faithfulness for many years. At the conclusion of the service, he went to his room and retired. On Thursday morning, after his accustomed time for rising had past, they missed him and they sought him but found him not, for he was not, for God had taken him. At some time during the night he had fallen into that sleep that knows no breaking on this side of the Great River. The departure of our brother is to all of us who remain, shocking in its suddenness--from the midst of life and apparent health and usual activity into the presence of death, yet to him we doubt not it was a peaceful falling asleep in Jesus.

"It little matters at what hour of the day

The righteous fall asleep. Death can not come

To him untimely, who has learned to die."

At that last prayer service, Dr. Jameson called for one stanza of a consecration hymn. Dr. Bone made the selection. At the conclusion of the singing of that stanza, Dr. Jameson said, "Dr. Bone, as he always does, has made a beautifully appropriate selection; let us sing the remaining stanzas". The opening and closing lines of the selection are:

"Take my heart, O Father, take it;

Make and keep it all thine own;

Holy Spirit take and seal me,

Guide me in the path to heaven."

In the life of our brother and in his death, the prayer breathed in that beautiful song has been answered, guided in the path to Heaven, the faithful servant has gone to the reward of the good and the faithful. The ardent lover of music has entered the realms of perfect harmony where the query of the poet can be answered:

"If music be so very sweet

While here we plod along,

What must it be when our tired feet

Shall tread the Shore of Song?"

There he setteth the solitary in families. There, loneliness and suffering and pain and sickness shall be no more, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away and songs and everlasting joy shall take their place.

We shall sadly miss our brother from his place among us, from his place in the church, from the counsels and deliberations of this official body. The welfare of the church was ever uppermost and foremost in his thoughts and conversation. He said very little about himself even to his most intimate associates. Though he suffered much of recent years from physical pain, he rarely spoke about it or complained.

He will be missed from the clerk's office and court room. It is said by those associated with him that there his steady, patient, faithful application to duty, his calm, quiet dignity, his pure, upright, noble moral character, had a refining, purifying, quieting influence throughout the office and among the younger men among whom, sometimes, there is a tendency to be rough or boisterous. That illustrates the exhortation of the Bible to be living epistles, known and read of all men, and to let your light shine before men. Thus in his life was the influence of the Sunday church service manifested throughout the six work days of the week, and thus was his life complete in what appears to be its most pronounced characteristic, faithfulness. He was faithful in that which was least, he was faithful also in much and he was faithful unto death.

It is therefore altogether fitting and proper that we, the members of this official board of which he was an efficient and devoted member and of this church which he served so well through so many years, hereby pay this, our tribute of respect to the memory of our departed brother. Yet we feel in harmony with the thought expressed in Lincoln's great Gettysburg speech, that in a larger sense we can add no honor to the memory of a well kept life record as he himself impressed it on our hearts by his life before us, but that it is rather for us, the living, in the spirit of that prayer service, which our brother attended on the last evening of his life, to hereby consecrate our lives to the cause which he loved, to the talk of taking up the work which he laid down when he passed to rest and to emulating that beautiful and blessed trait which so prominently characterized his life--faithfulness.

MRS. DAVID BLACK PASSES AWAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. David Black died at their home, East Main Street, Monday evening about four o'clock from cancer of the stomach, after an illness which elicited the deepest sympathy of her many friends. In the fall of 1913 the Blacks moved from their farm in Carrollton township to a nice little property in Flora where they expected to spend several years in happy retirement after a life of toil from which they had laid by enough of this world's goods to carry them comfortably through the evening of a happy life. Soon after coming to town Mrs. Black made known to her husband an ailment from which she had suffered in silence for some time, finally being compelled by its advances to make known the same. Mr. Black at once consulted eminent physicians who pronounced her case cancer and an operation was performed at Sr. Joseph Hospital, at Logansport last April and a cancer was removed from her left breast. Her friends hoped that the operations would stay the progress of this dread disease but the physicians gave no assurance of a cure, fearing that it would make its appearance again. Their fears became a reality. In a short time the cancer became an internal one and Mrs. Black went down steadily, until Monday, when surrounded by her family, she passed peacefully away. Her Spartan heroism during her affliction was remarkable and it is said there was never a complaint.

Belle Bone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bone, was born on a farm in Carrollton Township December 19, 1849. She was married on February 19, 1873 to David Black. Six years later the Blacks moved to Kansas where they resided five years, seeing much of the hardships of pioneer life in droughty Kansas. They returned to Indiana and had lived there ever since owning the farm on which she was born for many years. She was loved and respected as an ideal woman by all who knew her, and her death and the blasting of the family's hopes of many years of happy contentment is deeply felt by sympathizing friends. She was the mother of three children, one of which preceded her to the great beyond. The other two, Carlos of Chicago and Mrs. Will Wingard of Carrollton Township, were present to share the grief with Mr. Black. She is also survived by two brothers, Zuengus Bone of Texas and Lon Bone of Young America, also by two half-brothers, John Bone of near Deer Creek and Milt Bone of Flora, and one half sister, Mrs. Laura Armitage, of Portland, Oregon. The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church, with which she had held membership since her girlhood days, Wednesday at 10:30 by Rev. Milo N. Wood of Wheeling, her old pastor, assisted by Rev. C.C.Ford of the local M.E. Church. Interment was made in Maple Lawn cemetery.
