BACKGROUND

This index includes all variations, of all names, on all grave markers. If two people have the same name, the one who was born first, is listed first. If the same person appears twice, an occurrence with no date is listed before one which has a date.

Each name is listed as "Surname, Given name(s)"; or, if the surname is not known, as "Given name(s)" only. Notice is given, where variant spellings of surnames occur in the same context.

In 1975-1976, Ralph worked in the Rainy River District of Ontario, Canada. At that time, I had some experience helping record grave-marker inscriptions in southern Ontario.

So, mostly in the fall of 1975, I spent my spare time in locating 20 [most?] rural cemeteries in the Rainy River District, and transcribing all grave marker inscriptions. By now, some of these will be weathered away beyond recognition, their memorials to the people who lived, suffered and died there, otherwise lost.

Cemetery locations are given as grid references on 1:50000 topographic maps. For each cemetery, grave markers are numbered in whatever seemed the most natural order.

In Christ,

Ralph and Gene Ann Wood

This program is a research resource for genealogists and local historians interested in the Rainy River District of Ontario, Canada.

From September 14 to November 2, 1975, and again on April 5, 1976, the memorial inscriptions on some 1,653 grave markers (including some unmarked graves) were transcribed. These transcriptions were recorded in 1977, then published in electronic book format in 1998, and now have been recorded in HTML in 1999.

This is a great advantage to researchers! Why is 1975-1976 information so valuable so many years later? Because many of the grave markers were simple wooden crosses, or stone markers with almost illegible inscriptions. Years of sun, frost and weather will have made some of this information unrecognizable by now. And more of it will disappear every year. So this historical snapshot is our way of declaring, "These people are going to be remembered!"

Our Study Engine enables you to search through the transcription database directly, or to use indexes (including duplicates) which list 2,451 names, 93 place names, and 146 entries pertaining to military service. Even if you live at a distance, you may be able to find grave locations of relatives you knew about, or discover new relatives you didn't know of before.

And, gain a new appreciation of the Rainy River District and its history, and increased admiration and respect for the people who live there.

PSALM 90:12 (KJV) says, "So teach [us] to number our days, that we may apply [our] hearts unto wisdom." A Bible study of PSALM 90:12 brings this program to a fitting conclusion-- reflecting on what God has to say to us in the context of studying these transcriptions, and the story they tell.

(a) Short Forms Used In Transcriptions

All of our transcriptions are recorded literally as they are written on the grave markers. However, we have used these short forms to represent a number of standardized words or phrases which are actually written out in full on the markers. [Words enclosed in square brackets are Ralph's remarks/observations.]

b ... born bc/o ... beloved child/children of bd/o ... beloved daughter of bh/o ... beloved husband of bs/o ... beloved son of bw/o ... beloved wife of c/o ... child/children of children/o ... children of d ... died
d/o ... daughter of [Eul] ... [Eulogy]
[Foot:] ... [foot marker]
h/w ... his wife
ilm ... in loving memory
ilmo ... in loving memory of im ... in memory/memoriam
imo ... in memory of m ... married [nfi] ... [not filled in] s/o ... son of wdtl ... who departed this life
w/o ... wife of

(b) Short Forms Used In Index Of Names

The Index Of Names includes all variations, of all names, on all grave markers. If two people have the same name, the one who was born first, is listed first. If the same person appears twice, an occurrence with no date is listed before one which has a date.

Short Forms

_____ ... The information written on the grave marker is illegible.

[] ... Ralph Wood's comments and remarks.

[Also, Study Engine Circle-links and Menu-links (see note in section 4, below).]

nfi ... The grave marker has a space for this information, but the information is "not filled in" on the grave marker.

? ... Either: (i) information only partially legible; or (ii) a name not actually written, but deduced from its context.

--- ... No grave marker is actually visible, but the information was available from other sources.
