1, James F. Clinkscales, of Abbeville County, State aforesaid, having heretofore made my last will and testament on December 31st, 1912, do now make this codicil to be taken as a part of the same, and to be known as codicil number one:

1-I hereby ratify and confirm said will in every respect, save so far as any part of it is inconsistent with this codicil.

2- The provision made in my will for my wife is to be taken by her in lieu of dower, and in the event she should predecease me the personalty bequeathed to her is to be distributed in the same manner as my other personalty, and the real estate devised to her is to be likewise distributed in the same manner as my other real estate.

111-I will and direct that after my just debts and funeral expenses have been paid, and before any division of my estate is made, my executrix shall set aside the sum of five hundred dollars for the education of my son Marshall should he have not finished his college course at the time of my death; the sum of one thousand dollars for the education of my son John T. should he not have completed a college course at the time of my death and the sum of one thousand dollars for the education of my son Edward should he not have completed a college course at the time of my death. So much of these separate sums is to be expended by my executrix for these purposes as she finds necessary and thinks best, and as each of these sons complete his education or discontinues the same, my executrix is hereby directed to divide such as remains of the fund so provided for the education of such child among my wife and children in the same manner as is provided in my will for the division of the rest of my personal property. This provision for the education of these sons is not to be accounted for as an advancement.

4th-It is my will and I so direct that my plantation situate in Wilks County Georgia, near Washington, and known as the Roberts Tract, be sold at public or private sale by my executrix as soon after my death as is practicable, and that the proceeds arising from such sale be considered personalty in the division of my estate.

5th- Whereas, my son, J. Frank Clinkscales, has recently died and I have heretofore advanced to him the sum of fifty-one hundred: I will and devise to my wife, Ella Amanda Clinkscales, the personal property and real estate heretofore bequeathed and devised to my said son, upon the following Trust, however, to wit: to use the rents, income and profits for the support of my said deceased son's children, to be shared equally among them during their several minorities, but as each attains her majority her share of the corpus is to be delivered to her freed and discharged of all trusts, but should any of said children die before she attains her majority then her share by her surviving sister or sisters, and all three of said children die before attaining their majorities, then the trust herein named shall distribute this share of my estate among my other children, the child or children of any predeceased child to take the share intended for the parent. This Provision is made subject to said trustee's accounting for the fifty-one hundred dollars already advanced by me to my said son, and for any sums as may hereafter be advanced by me for the benefit of said children.

6th- I think it wise to now state that I have so far made the following advancements, for which I desire an accounting: To my son J. Frank Clinkscales fifty-one hundred dollars: To my daughter, Blanch Cason, two thousand dollars: To my daughter Verna Stokes, three hundred and sixty acres of land known as the John T. Clinkscales home tract (which I value at eight thousand dollars, and a horse and buggy (which I value at one hundred and fifty dollars for all of which she is to account as though I had given her eight thousand one hundred and fifty dollars in cash. I will keep a book of advancements which will show all advancements made from now on, and for which I desire an accounting. Although the insurance which I have provided for my wife is not strictly an advancement, it is to be taken by her as an advancement and accounted for as though I had given her this amount before my death.

7th- In distributing my property among my beneficiaries I desire my executrix and the appraisers to require each beneficiary to first account for those amounts, which I have herein required them to account, out of their shares of the personalty. In some instances it will be found that the amount to be accounted for by a beneficiary will exceed the share of personalty which the beneficiary is to receive; so I now direct my executrix and the appraisers to so divide my real estate among my beneficiaries that my wife will have received all told, counting the insurance money and other personalty and real estate, exactly one-half as much as all of my children and those representing them will have received all together in advancements, personalty and real estate, and I direct that the balance of my real estate be so divided among my children and those representing them that they will each receive, counting advancements, personalty and real, one-fourth as much as my wife will have received altogether. In this way some of my beneficiaries will possibly receive more real estate than the fractional part thereof provided for them in my will, and some less. The title which my beneficiaries are to have in such real estate as is allotted to them has heretofore been fixed.

8th- I will and direct as soon after my death as practicable the probate judge of Abbeville County select three competent men of said County to appraise my personal and real estate, and that these appraisers, together with my executrix, shall divide my estate, both real and personal, among my beneficiaries, according to the scheme of division, as shown by my will and this codicil. Said appraisers and my executrix are directed to call in a competent surveyor to survey and plat the several tracts of land to be allotted to my several beneficiaries, and I direct further that said appraisers and my executrix shall endorse on each plat to whom said tract was allotted, and that said plats be recorded by my executrix in the office of the Clerk of the Court for Abbeville County, and that the beneficiaries take such title in the land so allotted them as is provided in my will and this codicil. My executrix is authorized and empowered to make such sales of such personalty as she and the appraisers think will facilitate the division of my personal estate.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 12th day of July, 1916.
