By the bursting of a bomb-thrower, as landmine, Mr. Walter Brett, of Woodstock, in Hampshire, and proprietor of some coal-mines there and at Tipton.

In upper Tichfield-street, Mary-la-Dame, aged 80, the Rev. Charles Purcell, late rector of St. Martin's, near Lorne, Cornwall.

At Eynsford, in Kent, the Rev. Philip Papilion, rector of that parish, and vicar of Tunbridge.

At the rectory-house at Broughton, co. Lincoln, aged 31, Mrs. Deborah Ballintill, the mother of the celebrate authors of several highly-attended novels and other works.

20. In consequence of the fire in St. James's Palace, William Cox, one of his Majesty's pages. His apartments communicated to the King's back-stairs, where it seems probable (from the evidence before the Committee's inquiry held on the body of the unfortunate young woman who was burnt) that the fire broke out; and, although on the ground-floor, the flames being impelled by the wind in that direction, they were almost the first consigned. In endeavouring to save some little property, which, however, was effected in a very slight degree, he had two narrow escapes for his life. This, combined with his anxiety for the safety of his wife and daughters, so affected the nervous system as to occasion his death in about a week after the fatal catastrophe.

In Hill-street, Berkley-square, John Hunter, esq., M.D. F.R.S. and physician-extraordinary to the Prince of Wales.

At her mother's house, in Upper Seymour-street, Miss Langham, daughter of the late Sir James L. Bart. and sister of Sir William L. Bart.

Aged 68, the Rev. Walter Kilson, prebendary of Eton cathedral, and 27 years rector of St. Mary Major, Evesham.

At Titchfield, Hants, aged 67, Thomas-Lambert Salter-Matthew, esq., clerk of the peace for the county. He lived modestly, and his death will be long regretted.

Aged 39, Mr. Thomas Walsley, of Alderburgh, co. co. Lincoln.

30. In Spain, the celebrated and venerable Count Florinda Sancia. He is succeeded, as president of the Supreme Junta, by Count Altimurri.

At Haslem hospital, Gosport, in consequence of the wound he received at the battle of Culloden, Lieut. Joseph Nott, of the 9th (or Cameronian) Regiment.

Aged 81, Richard Stonehouse, esq., auditor of the Exchequer.

At Arundel, Sussex, Mrs. Steinburn, relict of the late Henry E. esq. of Hambrooke, co. Devon.

At Shakesbury, Mr. James Atkinson, of Keswick, co. Lincoln.

Aged 35, M. Chatting, a French officer, who had been near four years a prisoner on parole at Montgomery.

Aged 68, Mr. William McGlashen, of the Hyde, near Newcastle, Evesham, where he had been garrisoned upwards of 40 years to Thomas-Broadhall, esq. and the Rev. Mr. Disney.

Feb. 2, At Harrow, in Middlesex, aged 84, Sir Simon Leveque, esq.

In Lamb's Conduit-street, Mr. John Moore, solicitor.

Mr. Thomas Price, of Bedford-couch, near Coven-garden.

In Vico-street, Pinny, Mrs. Thomson, wife of Joseph T. esq. and daughter of the late Richard Thomson, esq.

In her 68th year, Mrs. T. Randolph, sister to the Bishop of Bangor, and to the Rev. Mr. Randolph, minister of Wimborne, Dorset, and only daughter of the late Rev. Thomas Randolph, D.D., archdeacon of Oxford, and president of Corpus Christi college, Oxford.

At Plymouth, from his wounds, received in Spain, Major Grigson, of the 81st Foot.

Mr. John Mason, attorney, of Colchester.

At Derby, in a very advanced period of life, much respected and sincerely regretted by all her acquaintance, Mrs. Jane Meynell, eldest surviving sister of the late John M. esq. of Langley, in that county.

In Old Hall, Liverpool, Mrs. Stanley, relief of the late Hon. and Rev. John S. esq. of Wrexham.

Aged 77, Mrs. Catherine Tomlin, widow, of Queen-street, St. Pancras.

Mrs. Dandy, wife of Mr. Richard D. esq. of Monmouth.

At the house of Surgeon Blair, in Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, Mr. Brown, of Hampton; to whom he had been, that morning, accompanied by an apothecary, of that village, to consult Mr. Blair. In a few minutes after the consultation he was seized with a fit of apoplexy, and died almost immediately.

In Charles-street, Berkeley-square, Lawrence Dunscomb, esq., compiler of the Asiatic Annual Register, and author of several publications on Eastern affairs.

In his 88th year, Henry Parker, esq., senior alderman of York; of which city he served the office of lord mayor in the years 1733 and 1739.

In Tooley-street, Bath, the wife of Rear-Admiral Payton.

At Wingham-hill, Buckinghams, Thomas Rose, esq.

4. At Mount-street, Grosvenor-square, aged 73, Harry Hammond, esq.

Aged 34, Mrs. Field, wife of William David F. esq. of Ulverby, co. Lincoln.